THE

CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE

OF THE

STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

AMENDMENTS OF 1917.

§ 67a. Judges in counties of first class. Appointment of two additional judges. Election. Salary. In counties of the first class there shall be twenty judges of the superior court, any one or more of whom may hold court, and there may be as many sessions of said court at the same time as there are judges thereof. The said judges shall choose from their own number a presiding judge, who may at any time be removed as presiding judge and another judge chosen in his place by a vote of any twelve of them. The presiding judge shall distribute the business of the court among the judges thereof, and prescribe the order of business and perform such other duties as the judges of the said court may by rule provide. The judgments, orders and proceedings of any session of the superior court held by any one or more of the judges of said court shall be equally as effective as if all the said judges of said court presided at such session. Within thirty days after this act goes into effect, the governor shall appoint two additional judges of the superior court in counties of the first class in addition to the eighteen superior court judges already provided by law in and for the said counties of the first class who shall hold office until the first Monday after the first day of January, 1919. At the next general election to be held in November, A. D. 1918, two additional judges of the superior court shall be elected in counties of the first class, who shall be successors of the judges appointed hereunder, to hold office for the term prescribed by the constitution and by law. The salaries of said additional judges shall be the same in amount and be paid in the same manner and at the same time as the salaries of the other judges of the said counties of the first class now authorized by law. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 247.]

§ 86. Justices' clerk. Bond. Appointees. Duties. The supervisors of such city and county shall appoint a justices' clerk on the written nomination and recommendation of said justices or a majority of them, who shall hold office during good behavior, and who shall receive a salary of three thousand dollars a year. Said justices' clerk shall take the constitutional oath of office and give bond in the sum of ten thousand dollars for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office and in the same manner as is or may be required of officers of such city and county. A new or additional bond may be required by the supervisors of such city and county and in such amount as may be fixed by said supervisors whenever they may deem it necessary. The said clerk may appoint a chief deputy at a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars a year, a cashier at a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars a year, and three deputy clerks and one messenger each at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars a year. Said justices' clerk and each of said appointees shall have authority to administer oaths, take and certify affidavits, and issue and sign writs, summons, and all other processes in any action, suit or proceeding in said justices' court, and generally to do all the acts specified in sections 102 and 102a of this code. They shall be at their respective offices for the dispatch of official business daily, except Sundays, holidays and Saturday afternoons, from the hour of nine o'clock A. M. until five o'clock P. M. The salaries of said justices' clerk and his appointees shall be paid out of the treasury of said city and county in the same manner that salaries of officers of such city and county are paid, and shall be in lieu of all fees collected by them. All persons who have been appointed to such positions and who have served a period of six months in their respective positions, and all persons who may be appointed to such positions shall, after they have served a period of six months in their respective positions, be entitled to all the benefits of the civil service laws of this state.

§ 2. Repealed. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed. [Amendment approved April 16, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 121.]

§ 103. Justices' courts. Number of justices in cities. Jurisdiction. Eligibility. Salaries. There shall be at least one justice's court in each of the townships of the state, for which one justice of the peace must be elected by the qualified electors of the township, at the general state election next preceding the expiration of the term of office of his predecessor.

In any county where, in the opinion of the board of supervisors, the public convenience requires it, the said board may, by order, provide that two justices' courts may be established in any township, designating the same in such order; and in such case, one justice of the peace must be elected in the manner herein provided for each of said courts. In every city of the first and one-half class there must be five justices of the peace, and in every city of the second class there must be two justices of the peace, and in every city of the second and one-half class there must be one justice of the peace, and in every city of the third and fourth classes there must be one justice of the peace, to be elected in like manner by the electors of such cities or town, respectively; and such justices of the peace of cities shall have the same jurisdiction, civil and criminal, as justices of the peace of townships and township justice's courts. Said justices of the peace of cities and justice's courts of cities shall also have jurisdiction of all proceedings for the violation of any ordinance of any city in which courts are established, both civil and criminal, and of all actions for the collection of any license required by any ordinance of any such city, and generally exercise all powers, duties and jurisdiction, civil and criminal, of police judges, judges of police courts, recorder's court or mayor's courts, within such city. No person is eligible to the office of justice of the peace in any city of the first, first and one-half, second, second and one-half or third class, who has not been admitted to practice law in this state; and no justice of the peace shall be permitted to practice law before another justice of the peace in the city, town or county in which he resides, or to have a partner engaged in the practice of law in any justice's court in such city, town or county. Every city justice of the peace in any city of the first and one-half class shall receive a salary of four thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and every city justice of the peace in any city of the second class shall receive a salary of three thousand six hundred dollars per annum, and every city justice of the peace in any city of the second and one-half class shall receive a salary of three thousand dollars per annum, and every city justice of the peace in any city of the third class shall receive a salary of two thousand dollars per annum, and every city justice of the peace in any city of the fourth class shall receive a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; and each justice of the peace shall be provided by the city authorities, or by the board of supervisors in counties where the salary of the city justice of the peace is paid by the county, with a suitable office in which to hold his court. The compensation of the justice of the peace of any city shall be paid by warrants drawn each month upon the salary fund, or if there be no salary fund, then upon the general fund of such city or county, as the case may be, such warrants to be audited and paid as salaries of any other city or county officials. All fees which are chargeable by law for services rendered by such city justice of the peace in cities aforesaid shall be by them respectively collected, and on the first Monday of each month every such city justice, or his clerk shall make a report, under oath, to the city or county treasurer, as the case may be, of the amount of fees so by him collected and pay the amount so collected into the city or county treasury, as the case may be, to the credit of the general fund thereof. Said salaries shall be the sole compensation of said city justices. [Amendment approved April 2, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 34.]

§ 103c. Justices' clerks, counties of third class. Authority. Fees. Monthly report. In counties of the third class in townships having a population of more than seventy-five thousand there shall be one justice's clerk, and one deputy justice's clerk, who shall be appointed by the justice of the peace or justices, if more than one. Said clerk and deputy shall be appointed immediately on this act taking effect, and shall take the oath of office prescribed for county officers, and give a bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of the office, which bond shall be approved and filed in the same manner as are bonds of county officers.

Such justice's clerk and deputy clerk shall be authorized to administer oaths, take and certify affidavits and shall be authorized to issue and sign writs, summons and all other process in any action or proceeding in the justice's court of the township for which they are appointed or pending before any justice of the peace of said township in the name of the justice before whom the same is pending or out of whose court the same is issued, which shall be in substantially the following form:

Justice of the peace.

——— ———,
Clerk.

By ——— ———,
Deputy clerk.

All legal papers of every kind in actions or proceedings in such justice's court shall be issued by the said justice's clerk in the manner and form hereinabove set out. The said justice's clerk shall issue, sign and certify to any and all papers, transcripts or records which are required to be issued, signed or certified by the said justice of the peace. All complaints, answers and other pleadings and papers required to be filed in said justice's court shall be filed with such justice's clerk who shall keep a permanent record of all such actions and proceedings in the justice's docket, now provided by law to be kept by the justice. The said clerk shall keep a record of the proceedings of said court and shall have the custody of all records and papers of the same.

All fees for the issuance of all process, or other fees, which are by law allowed for any official service of the justice of the peace shall be exacted and paid in advance into the hands of the justice's clerk, which, together with all fees, fines, forfeitures or penalties received in said justice's court shall be paid into the county treasury.

Said justice's clerk shall render each month to the county auditor and county treasurer, an exact account under oath of all fines, forfeitures, penalties and fees received by him or collected by said court. Said justice's clerk shall receive a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per year and said deputy clerk shall receive a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per year, which shall be payable in like manner and out of the same funds and at like times as county officers are paid. The board of supervisors shall provide in a convenient locality a suitable office for the justice's clerk. The said justice's clerk shall be in attendance at his respective office in the discharge of official business daily from nine A. M. until five P. M. [New section added May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1394.]

§ 190. Jury defined. A jury is a body of persons temporarily selected from the citizens of a particular district and invested with power to present or indict a person for a public offense, or to try a question of fact. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1282.]

§ 192. Grand jury defined. A grand jury is a body of persons, nineteen in number, returned in pursuance of law, from the citizens of a county, or a city and county, before a court of competent jurisdiction, and sworn to inquire of public offense committed or triable within the county or city and county. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1282.]

§ 193. Trial jury. A trial jury is a body of persons returned from the citizens of a particular district before a court or officer of competent jurisdiction, and sworn to try and determine by verdict, a question of fact. [Amendment approved May 27, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1283.]

§ 194. Number on trial jury. A trial jury shall consist of twelve persons; provided, that in civil actions and cases of misdemeanor, it may consist of twelve or any number less than twelve, upon which the parties may agree in open court. [Amendment approved May 27, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1283.]

§ 201. When juror excused. A juror shall not be excused by a court for slight or trivial causes, or for hardship, or for inconvenience to said juror's business, but only when material injury or destruction to said juror's property or of property entrusted to said juror is threatened, or when said juror's health, or when the health or proper care of said juror's own family, or when the sickness or death of a member of said juror's family make it necessary for said juror to be excused. [Amendment approved May 27, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1283.]

§ 204. Jury lists. In the month of January in each year it shall be the duty of the superior court in each of the counties of this state to make an order designating the estimated number of grand jurors and also the number of trial jurors, that will, in the opinion of said court, be required for the transaction of the business of the court, and the trial of causes therein, during the ensuing year; and immediately after said order designating the estimated number of grand jurors shall be made, the court shall select and list the grand jurors required by said order to serve as grand jurors in said superior court during the ensuing year, or until new lists of jurors shall be provided, and said selections and listings shall be made of men and women suitable and competent to serve as jurors, as set forth and required in sections two hundred five and two hundred six of this code, which list of persons so selected shall at once be placed in the possession of the county clerk; and immediately after said order designating the estimated number of trial jurors shall be made, the board of supervisors shall select, as provided in sections two hundred five and two hundred six of this code, a list of men and women to serve as trial jurors in the superior court of said county during the ensuing year, or until a new list of jurors shall be provided.

In counties and cities and counties having a population of one hundred thousand inhabitants or over, such selection shall be made by a majority of the judges of the superior court. [Amendment approved May 27, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1283.]

§ 204a. Jury commissioner may be appointed. Salary. In any county or city and county in which, as provided by the preceding section, the selection of persons to serve as trial jurors is made by a majority of the judges of the superior court, a majority of the judges of such court, to assist the judges thereof in making selections of trial jurors and grand jurors, and whenever in their opinion the business of the court requires it, may, in their discretion, appoint a jury commissioner for such county or city and county, who shall receive a salary of three hundred dollars per month, not exceeding, however, one thousand five hundred dollars in any one fiscal year, and shall hold office at the pleasure of a majority of the judges of such court. Said salary shall be audited, allowed and paid out of the general fund of such county or city and county. [New section added May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1169.]

§ 204b. To furnish list of persons qualified for jurors. Annually, and pursuant to written rules or instructions adopted by a majority of the judges of such court, the jury commissioner shall furnish the judges of the court a list of persons qualified to serve as trial jurors or grand jurors during the ensuing year, or until a new list of jurors shall be required. A majority of the judges of the court may, from time to time, adopt such rules and instructions as may be necessary for the guidance of the jury commissioner, who shall at all times be under the supervision and control of the judges of the court. [New section added May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1169.]

§ 204c. Duties. It shall be the duty of the jury commissioner diligently to inquire and inform himself in respect to the qualifications of persons resident in his county or city and county who may be liable under the provisions of the laws of this state to be summoned for jury duty. He may require any person to answer, under oath to be administered by him, all such questions as he may address to such person, touching his name, age, residence, occupation and qualifications as a juror, and also all questions as to similar matters concerning other persons of whose qualifications for jury duty he has knowledge. The commissioner shall have power to administer oaths. He shall be allowed his actual traveling expenses incurred in the performance of his duties while visiting the respective townships in the county, such traveling expenses to be audited, allowed and paid out of the general fund of the county. [New section added May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1169.]

§ 204d. Jurors selected by majority of judges. Pursuant to the rules and instructions adopted by a majority of the judges of the court, the jury commissioner shall return to the judges the lists of persons recommended by him for jury duty. The judges of said superior court shall examine the jury lists so returned and from such lists a majority of said judges may select, to serve as trial jurors and grand jurors, respectively, in the superior court of said county or city and county during the ensuing year, or until a new list of jurors is required, such persons as, in their opinion, should be selected for such jury duties; provided, however, that the persons so selected shall, in the opinion of the judges selecting the same, be persons suitable and competent to serve as jurors, as set forth and required in this code. The judges, however, shall not be bound to select any names from said lists, but may, if in their judgment the due administration of justice requires, make all or any selections from among the body of persons in the county or city and county suitable and competent to serve as jurors regardless of the lists returned by the jury commissioner. [New section added May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1170.]

§ 204e. Secretary of superior judges as jury commissioner. In any county or city and county where there is a secretary of the superior judges of such county or city and county, a majority of the superior judges may in their discretion require such secretary to perform the duties of jury commissioner in addition to his regular duties as secretary. In such case the salary of the secretary of the superior judges shall be three hundred fifty dollars a month. [New section added May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1170.]

§ 226. Order for jurors to appear forthwith. Whenever jurors are not drawn or summoned to attend any court of record or session thereof, or a sufficient number of jurors fail to appear, such court may order a sufficient number to be forthwith drawn and summoned to attend the court, or it may, by an order entered in its minutes, direct the sheriff, or an elisor chosen by the court forthwith to summon so many good and lawful persons of the county, or city and county, to serve as jurors, as may be required, and in either case such jurors must be summoned in the manner provided in the preceding section. [Amendment approved May 27, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1284.]

§ 246. Excuses. Names deposited in box. At the opening of court on the day trial jurors have been summoned to appear, the clerk shall call the names of those summoned, and the court may then hear the excuses of jurors summoned; provided, that it may be left to the discretion of the court to accept an affidavit of excuse under section two hundred two of this code without a personal appearance in court of the juror summoned. The clerk shall then write the names of the jurors present and not excused upon separate slips or ballots of paper, and fold such slips so that the names are concealed, and there, in the presence of the court deposit the slips or ballots in a box, which must be kept sealed or locked until ordered by the court to be opened. [Amendment approved May 27, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1284.]

§ 276. Examination for admission as attorney. Every applicant for admission as an attorney and counselor must produce satisfactory testimonials of a good moral character, and satisfactory proof of having studied law for a period of at least two years, and undergo in open court a strict examination, a part of which must be in writing, as to his qualifications by the justices of one of the district courts of appeal. This section shall not take effect until January first, one thousand nine hundred eighteen. [Amendment approved May 23, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 906.]

§ 280b. Graduates of law schools admitted to practice. [Repealed May 23, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 831.]

§ 337. Actions commenced within four years. Within four years. 1. An action upon any contract, obligation or liability found upon an instrument in writing.

2. An action to recover (1) upon a book account whether consisting of one or more entries; (2) upon an account stated;

(3) a balance due upon a mutual, open and current account; provided, however, that where an account stated is based upon an account of one item, the time shall begin to run from the date of said item, and where an account stated is based upon an account of more than one item, the time shall begin to run from the date of the last item. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 299.]

§ 339. Actions commenced within two years. Within two years. 1. An action upon a contract, obligation or liability not founded upon an instrument of writing, other than that mentioned in subdivision two of section three hundred thirty-seven of this code; or an action founded upon a contract, obligation or liability, evidenced by a certificate, or abstract or guaranty of title of real property, or by a policy of title insurance; provided, that the cause of action upon a contract, obligation or liability evidenced by a certificate, or abstract or guaranty of title of real property or policy of title insurance shall not be deemed to have accrued until the discovery of the loss or damage suffered by the aggrieved party thereunder.

2. An action against a sheriff, coroner, or constable upon a liability incurred by the doing of an act in his official capacity and in virtue of his office, or by the omission of an official duty including the nonpayment of money collected upon an execution. But this subdivision does not apply to an action for an escape. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 299.]

§ 341. Actions to be commenced within six months. Within six months:

An action against an officer, or officer de facto:

1. To recover any goods, wares, merchandise, or other property, seized by any such officer in his official capacity as tax collector, or to recover the price or value of any goods, wares, merchandise, or other personal property so seized, or for damages for the seizure, detention, sale of, or injury to any goods, wares, merchandise, or other personal property seized, or for damages done to any person or property in making any such seizure.

2. To recover stock sold for a delinquent assessment, as provided in section three hundred forty-seven of the Civil Code.

3. To set aside or invalidate any action taken or performed by a majority of the trustees of any corporation heretofore or hereafter dissolved by operation of law, including the revivor of any such corporation. [Amendment approved May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 381.]

§ 348. No limitation to certain actions. Not applicable to banks, etc. To actions brought to recover money or other property deposited with any bank, banker, trust company, building and loan association, or savings and loan society there is no limitation.

This section shall not apply to banks, bankers, trust companies, building and loan associations, and savings and loan societies which have become insolvent and are in process of liquidation and in such cases the statute of limitations shall be deemed to have commenced to run from the beginning of the process of liquidation; provided, however, nothing herein contained shall be construed so as to relieve any stockholder of any banking corporation or trust company from stockholder's liability as shall at any time, be provided by law. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1573.]

§ 473. Pleading may be amended. Time for application. Action to recover personal property. The court may in furtherance of justice, and on such terms as may be proper, allow a party to amend any pleading or proceeding by adding or striking out the name of any party, or by correcting a mistake in the name of a party, or a mistake in any other respect; and may, upon like terms, enlarge the time for answer or demurrer. The court may likewise, in its discretion, after notice to the adverse party, allow, upon such terms as may be just, an amendment to any pleading or proceeding in other particulars; and may upon like terms allow an answer to be made after the time limited by this code; and may, also, upon such terms as may be just, relieve a party or his legal representative from a judgment, order, or other proceeding taken against him through his mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect; provided, that application therefor be made within a reasonable time, but in no case exceeding six months after such judgment, order, or proceeding was taken; and provided, further, that said application must be accompanied with a copy of the answer, or other pleading proposed to be filed therein, otherwise said application shall not be granted. When from any cause the summons in an action has not been personally served on the defendant, the court may allow, on such terms as may be just, such defendant or his legal representative, at any time within one year after the rendition of any judgment in such action, to answer to the merits of the original action.

When, in an action to recover the possession of personal property, the person making any affidavit did not truly state the value of the property, and the officer taking the property, or the sureties on any bond or undertaking is sued for taking the same, the officer or sureties may in their answer set up the true value of the property, and that the person in whose behalf said affidavit was made was entitled to the possession of the same when said affidavit was made, or that the value in the affidavit stated was inserted by mistake, the court shall disregard the value as stated in the affidavit, and give judgment according to the right of possession of said property at the time the affidavit was made. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 242.]

§ 534. Actions concerning water rights. Defendant's answer. Plaintiff's reply. Appropriation and damages fixed. Appeal. No injunction, when. Jury trial. In any action brought by a riparian owner to enjoin the diversion of water appropriated or proposed to be appropriated, or the use thereof, against any person or persons appropriating or proposing to appropriate such waters, the defendant may set up in his answer that the water diverted or proposed to be diverted is for the irrigation of land or other public use, and, in such case, he shall also in such answer set forth the quantity of water desired to be taken and necessary to such irrigation of land or the public use, the nature of such use, the place where the same is used or proposed to be used, the duration and extent of the diversion or the proposed diversion, including the stages of the flow of the stream at and during the time in which the water is to be diverted, and that the same may be diverted without interfering with the actual and necessary beneficial uses of the plaintiff, and that such defendant so answering desires that the court shall ascertain and fix the damages, if any, that will result to the plaintiff or to his riparian lands from the appropriation of the water so appropriated or intended to be appropriated by defendant.

The plaintiff may serve and file a reply to the defendant's answer stating plaintiff's rights to the water and the damage plaintiff will suffer by the defendant's taking of the water, and plaintiff may implead as parties to the action all persons necessary to a full determination of the rights of plaintiff to the water and the damages plaintiff will suffer by the proposed taking by defendant, and the court shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine all the rights to water of the plaintiff and other parties to the action, and said parties shall have a right to state and prove their rights, and shall be bound by the judgment rendered the same as though made parties plaintiff at the commencement of the action.

Upon the trial of the case the court shall receive and hear evidence on behalf of the respective parties, and if the court finds that the allegations of such answer are true as to the aforesaid matters, and that the appropriation and diversion of such waters is for irrigation of land or other public use and that, after allowing sufficient water for the actual and necessary beneficial uses of the plaintiff and other parties, there is water available to be beneficially appropriated by such defendant so answering, the court shall fix the time and manner and extent of such appropriation and the actual damages, if any, resulting to the plaintiff or other parties on account of the same, and in fixing such damages the court shall be guided by paragraph four of section one thousand two hundred forty-eight of this code, and if, upon the ascertainment and fixing of such damages the defendant, within the time allowed in section one thousand two hundred fifty-one of this code for the payment of damages in proceedings in eminent domain, shall pay into court the amount of damages fixed and the costs adjudged to be paid by such defendant, or give a good and sufficient bond to pay the same upon the final settlement of the case, the injunction prayed for by the plaintiff shall be denied to the extent of the amount the defendant is permitted to appropriate, as aforesaid, and the temporary injunction, if any has been granted, shall be vacated to the extent aforesaid; provided, that any of the parties may appeal from such judgment as in other cases; and provided, further, that if such judgment is in favor of the defendant and if he upon and pending such appeal shall keep on deposit with the clerk of said court the amount of such damages and costs, or the bond, if it be given, so awarded to be paid to the plaintiff or other parties in the event such judgment shall be affirmed, no injunction against the appropriation of the amount the defendant is permitted to appropriate as aforesaid shall be granted or enforced pending such appeal, and, upon the acceptance by the plaintiff or other parties of such amount so awarded or upon the affirmation of such decision on appeal so that such judgment shall become final, the defendant shall have the right to divert and appropriate from such stream, against such plaintiff or other parties and his successors in interest, the quantity of water therein adjudged and allowed. Upon the filing of such answer as is herein provided for, the parties plaintiff or other parties and defendant shall be entitled to a jury trial upon the issues as to damages so raised, as provided in title seven, part three of this code, applying to actions in eminent domain. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 744.]

§ 540. Writ of attachment. If more than one defendant. The writ must be directed to the sheriff of any county in which property of such defendant may be, and must require him to attach and safely keep all the property of such defendant within his county not exempt from execution, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy the plaintiff's demand against such defendant, the amount of which must be stated in conformity with the complaint, unless such defendant give him security by the undertaking of at least two sufficient sureties in an amount sufficient to satisfy such demand against such defendant, besides costs, or in an amount equal to the value of the property of such defendant which has been or is about to be attached; in which case to take such undertaking.

In the event that the action is against more than one defendant, any defendant whose property has been or is about to be attached in such action may give the sheriff such undertaking, and the sheriff shall take the same, and such undertaking shall not subject such defendant to or be answerable for any demand against any other defendant, nor shall the sheriff thereby be prevented from attaching or be obliged to release from attachment, any property of any other defendant; provided, however, that such defendant, at the time of giving such undertaking to the sheriff, shall file with the sheriff, a statement, duly verified under oath, wherein such defendant shall aver and declare that the other defendant or defendants in the action in which said undertaking was given has or have not any interest or claim of any nature whatsoever in or to said property. Such statement must further contain the character of such defendant's title and the manner in which he acquired title to such attached property; provided, further, that before said attachment shall be released, the undertaking required by this section must be approved by the judge of the court issuing same or if said writ of attachment is from another county, then by a judge of a court of similar jurisdiction in the county where the levy shall have been made.

Several writs may be issued at the same time to the sheriffs of different counties. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 938.]

§ 554. Proceedings to release attachments. Whenever any defendant has appeared in the action, such defendant may upon reasonable notice to the plaintiff, apply to the court in which the action is pending, or to the judge thereof, for an order to discharge the attachment wholly, or in part; and upon the execution of the undertaking mentioned in the next section, an order may be made releasing from the operation of the attachment, any or all of the property of such defendant attached; and all of the property so released and all of the proceeds of the sales thereof, must be delivered to such defendant upon the justification of the sureties on the undertaking, if required by the plaintiff. Such justification must take place within five days after the notice of the filing of such undertaking. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 939.]

§ 555. Requirements by court for release from attachment. Before making such order, the court or judge must require an undertaking on behalf of such defendant, by at least two sureties, residents and freeholders, or householders in the state to the effect that in case the plaintiff recovers judgment in the action against the defendant, by whom, or in whose behalf such undertaking shall be given, such defendant will, on demand, redeliver the attached property so released to the proper officer, to be applied to the payment of any judgment in such action against said defendant, or in default thereof, that such defendant and sureties will, on demand, pay to the plaintiff the full value of the property released not exceeding the amount of such judgment against such defendant. The court or judge making such order may fix the sum for which the undertaking must be executed, and if necessary in fixing such sum to know the value of the property released, the same may be appraised by one or more disinterested persons, to be appointed for that purpose. The sureties may be required to justify before the court or judge and the property attached cannot be released from the attachment without their justification if the same is required. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 939.]

owner of any unclaimed funds, the last known place of residence or postoffice address of such owner and the amount of such unclaimed funds. Any funds remaining in his hands unclaimed for thirty days after the date of the last publication of such notice, shall be reported to the court, and upon order of the court, all such funds must be paid into the state treasury accompanied with a copy of the order, which must set forth the facts required in the notice herein provided. Such funds shall be paid out by the state treasurer to the owner thereof or his order in such manner and upon such terms as are now or may hereafter be provided by law.

All costs and expenses connected with such advertising shall be paid out of the funds the whereabouts of whose owners are unknown. [Amendment approved April 25, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 203.]

§ 660. Time of hearing motion for new trial. New trial hearing has precedence. The motion for a new trial must be heard at the earliest practicable time after the filing of affidavits and counteraffidavits, in case the motion is made on affidavits, in other cases after the filing of the notice. On such hearing reference may be had in all cases to the pleadings and orders of the court on file, and when the motion is made on the minutes, reference may also be had to any depositions and documentary evidence offered at the trial and to the report of the proceedings on the trial taken by the phonographic reporter, or to any certified transcript of such report, or if there be no such report or certified transcipt, to such proceedings occurring at the trial as are within the recollection of the judge; when the proceedings at the trial have been phonographically reported, but the reporter's notes have not been transcribed, the reporter must, upon request of the court, or either party, attend the hearing of the motion, and shall read his notes, or such parts thereof as the court, or either party, may require. The hearing and disposition of the motion for a new trial shall have precedence over all other matters except criminal cases, probate matters and cases actually on trial, and it shall be the duty of the court to determine the same at the earliest possible moment. The power of the court to pass on motion for new trial shall expire within three months after the verdict of the jury or service on the moving party of notice of the entry of the judgment. If such motion is not determined within said three months, the effect shall be a denial of the motion without further order of the court. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 240.]

§ 671. Judgment liens. Continues five years. Immediately after filing the judgment-roll, the clerk must make the proper entries of the judgment under appropriate heads, in the docket kept by him, noting thereon the hour and minute of the day of such entry; and from the time the judgment is docketed it becomes a lien upon all the real property of the judgment debtor not exempt from execution in the county, owned by him at the time, or which he may afterward acquire, until the lien ceases. The lien continues for five years unless the enforcement of the judgment be stayed on appeal by the execution of a sufficient undertaking as provided in this code, in which case the lien of the judgment and any lien by virtue of an attachment that has been issued and levied in the action ceases. [Amendment approved April 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 141.]

§ 671a. Filing judgments of United States courts. Transcripts of judgments and copies of judgments rendered in the district or other courts of the United States within the state of California, when certified by the clerk of said courts under the seal thereof, may be filed and recorded in the office of the county clerk of any county in this state, and when so filed the clerk shall immediately enter the same in the judgment docket in the same manner as judgments rendered in the superior court are entered and such transcripts of judgments and copies of judgments, when so certified, may be filed for record in the office of any county recorder of this state and when so filed for record the county recorder shall record and index the same in the same manner as transcripts of judgments and copies of judgments of the courts of this state are recorded and indexed; and from such recording the judgment becomes a lien upon all the real property of the judgment debtor not exempt from execution in such county, owned by him at the time, or which he may afterward, and before the lien expires, acquire. [New section approved April 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 142.]

§ 850. Notice of hearing in justices' courts. Docket entries. When all the parties served with process shall have appeared, or some of them have appeared, and the remaining defendants have made default, the justice must fix the day for the trial of said cause, whether the issue is one of law or fact, and give notice thereof to the parties to the action who have appeared, but in case any of the parties are represented by an attorney, then to such attorney; provided, however, that where a party has appeared in person, such party shall leave with the justice or justice's clerk, and the same shall be entered upon the register in the action, an address where service of the notice of hearing of such matter may be made; provided, further, that such notice shall be personally served on said person if he can be found at said address, but in case said person cannot, after due diligence, be found at said address and such fact appears by affidavit to the satisfaction of the court or a judge thereof, then the service of such notice may be by registered mail and in the manner hereinafter provided for service of notice by mail. Such notice shall be in writing, signed by the justice, and substantially in the following form, filling blanks according to the facts:

In the justice court, —— township (or city, or city and county), county, or city and county of ——, State of California.

To —— plaintiff, or —— attorney for plaintiff, and to defendant, or —— attorney for defendant.

You and each of you will please take notice that the undersigned justice of the peace before whom the above-entitled cause is pending, has set for hearing the demurrer of ——, filed in said cause (or has set the said cause for trial, as the case may be), before me at my office in said township (or city, or city and county), at — o'clock — m., on the —— day of ——, 19—.

Dated this —— day of ——, 19—.

(Signed) —— ——,
Justice of the peace.

Said notice shall be served by mail or personally. When served by mail the justice of the peace shall deposit copies thereof in a sealed envelope in the postoffice at least ten days before the trial or hearing addressed to each of the persons on whom it is to be served at their place of residence and the postage prepaid thereon; provided, that such notice shall be served by mail only when the person on whom service is to be made resides out of the county in which said justice's court is situated, or is absent therefrom or has appeared in person. When personally served said notice shall be served at least five days before the trial or hearing on the persons on whom it is to be served by any person competent and qualified to serve a summons in a justice's court, and when personally served it shall be served, returned and filed in like manner as a summons. When a party has appeared by attorney the notice may be served in the manner prescribed by subdivision one of section one thousand eleven of this code. The justice shall enter on his docket the date of trial or hearing; and when such notice shall have been served by mail the justice shall enter on his docket the date of mailing such notice of trial or hearing and such entry shall be prima facie evidence of the fact of such service. The parties are entitled to one hour in which to appear after the time fixed in said notice, but are not bound to remain longer than that time unless both parties have appeared and the justice being present is engaged in the trial of another cause. [Amendment approved April 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 190.]

§ 868. Attachment by sheriff or constable. Keeper. If more than one defendant. Service out of county. The writ may be directed to the sheriff or any constable of the county in which such justice court is situate and must require him to attach and safely keep all of the property of the defendant within his county not exempt from execution, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy the plaintiff's demand against the defendant, the amount of which must be stated in conformity with the complaint, unless the defendant, whose property has been or is about to be attached, give him security by the undertaking of two sufficient sureties, in an amount sufficient to satisfy such demand against such defendant besides costs; in which case to take such undertaking; provided, however, that whenever a levy shall be made upon personal property, other than money, belonging to a going concern, then the sheriff must, if the defendant consents, place a keeper in charge of said attached property at plaintiff's expense for at least two days or more, and said keeper's fees must be prepaid by the attaching creditor. After the expiration of said two days, the sheriff shall take said property into his immediate custody, unless other disposition is made by the court or parties.

In the event that the action is against more than one defendant, any defendant whose property has been or is about to be attached in such action may give the sheriff such undertaking, and the sheriff shall take the same, and such undertaking shall not subject such defendant to or be answerable for any demand against any other defendant, nor shall the sheriff thereby be prevented from attaching or be obliged to release from attachment, any property of any other defendant; provided, however, that such defendant, at the time of giving such undertaking to the sheriff, shall file with the sheriff a statement duly verified under oath, wherein such defendant shall aver and declare that the other defendant or defendants in the action in which said undertaking was given has or have not any interest or claim of any nature whatsoever in or to said property. Such statement must further contain the character of such defendant's title and the manner in which he acquired title to such attached property.

Several writs may be issued at the same time to the sheriffs or constables of different counties; provided, that where a writ of attachment issued by a justice of the peace is to be served out of the county in which it was issued, the writ of attachment shall have attached to it a certificate under seal by the county clerk of such county, to the effect that the person issuing the same was an acting justice of the peace of said county at the date of the writ. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 939.]

§ 963. Cases in which an appeal may be taken. An appeal may be taken from a superior court in the following cases:

1. From a final judgment entered in an action, or special proceeding, commenced in a superior court, or brought into a superior court from another court;

2. From an order granting a new trial in an action or proceeding tried by a jury where such trial by jury is a matter of right, or granting or dissolving an injunction, or refusing to grant or dissolve an injunction, or appointing a receiver, or dissolving or refusing to dissolve an attachment, or changing or refusing to change a place of trial, from any special order made after final judgment, from any interlocutory judgment, order, or decree, hereafter made or entered in actions to redeem real or personal property from a mortgage thereof, or lien thereon, determining such right to redeem and directing an accounting; and from such interlocutory judgment in actions for partition as determines the rights and interests of the respective parties and directs partition to be made, and interlocutory decrees of divorce.

3. From a judgment or order granting or refusing to grant, revoking or refusing to revoke, letters testamentary, or of administration, or of guardianship; or admitting or refusing to admit a will to probate, or against or in favor of the validity of a will, or revoking or refusing to revoke the probate thereof; or against or in favor of setting apart property, or making an allowance for a widow or child; or against or in favor of directing the partition, sale or conveyance of real property, or settling an account of an executor, administrator or guardian, or refusing, allowing or directing the distribution or partition of an estate, or any part thereof, or the payment of a debt, claim, or legacy, or distributive share; or confirming or refusing to confirm a report of an appraiser or appraisers setting apart a homestead; from an order, judgment or decree fixing inheritance tax or determining that no inheritance tax is due. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 624.]

§ 1238. Right of eminent domain. Subject to the provisions of this title, the right of eminent domain may be exercised in behalf of the following public uses:

1. Uses of United States. Fortifications, magazines, arsenals, navy yards, navy and army stations, lighthouses, range and beacon lights, coast surveys, and all other public uses authorized by the government of the United States.

2. Uses of state. Public buildings and grounds for the use of the state, or any state institution, and all other public uses authorized by the legislature of the state.

3. Public utilities, counties, cities, etc. Any public utility, and public buildings and grounds, for the use of any county, incorporated city, or city and county, village, town or school districts, ponds, lakes, canals, aqueducts, reservoirs, tunnels, flumes, ditches or pipes, lands, water system plants, buildings, rights of any nature in water, and any other character of property necessary for conducting or storing or distributing water for the use of any county, incorporated city, or city and county, village or town or municipal water district, or the inhabitants thereof, or any state institution, or necessary for the proper development and control of such use of said water, either at the time of the taking of said property, or for the future proper development and control thereof, or for draining any county, incorporated city, or city and county, village or town; raising the banks of streams, removing obstructions therefrom, and widening and deepening or straightening their channels; roads, highways, boulevards, streets and alleys; public mooring places for water craft; public parks, including parks and other places covered by water, and all other public uses for the benefit of any county, incorporated city, or city and county, village or town, or the inhabitants thereof, which may be authorized by the legislature; but the mode of apportioning and collecting the costs of such improvements shall be such as may be provided in the statutes by which the same may be authorized.

4. Wharves, ferries, bridges, etc. Wharves, docks, piers, warehouses, chutes, booms, ferries, bridges, tollroads, byroads, plank and turnpike roads; paths and roads either on the surface, elevated, or depressed, for the use of bicycles, tricycles, motorcycles and other horseless vehicles, steam, electric, and horse railroads, canals, ditches, dams, poundings, flumes, aqueducts and pipes for irrigation, public transportation, supplying mines and farming neighborhoods with water, and draining and reclaiming lands, and for floating logs and lumber on streams not navigable, and water, water rights, canals, ditches, dams, poundings, flumes, aqueducts and pipes for irrigation of lands furnished with water by corporations supplying water to the lands of the stockholders thereof only, and lands with all wells and water therein adjacent to the lands of any municipality or of any corporation, or person supplying water to the public or to any neighborhood or community for domestic use or irrigation.

5. Roads, flumes, etc., for mines. Roads, tunnels, ditches, flumes, pipes and dumping places for working mines; also outlets, natural or otherwise for the flow, deposit or conduct of tailings or refuse matter from mines; also an occupancy in common by the owners or possessors of different mines of any place for the flow, deposit, or conduct of tailings or refuse matter from their several mines.

6. Byroads. Byroads leading from highways to residences, farms, mines, mills, factories and buildings for operating machinery, or necessary to reach any property used for public purposes.

7. Telegraph. Telegraph and telephone lines, systems and plants.

8. Sewerage. Sewerage of any incorporated city, city and county, or of any village or town, whether incorporated or unincorporated, or of any settlement consisting of not less than ten families, or of any buildings belonging to the state, or to any college or university, also the connection of private residences and other buildings, through other property, with the mains of an established sewer system in any such city, city and county, town or village.

9. Roads. Roads for transportation by traction engines or road locomotives.

10. Pipe-lines. Oil pipe-lines.

11. Lumbering. Railroads, roads and flumes for quarrying, logging or lumbering purposes.

12. Canals, reservoirs, dams, etc. Canals, reservoirs, dams, ditches, flumes, aqueducts and pipes and outlets natural or otherwise for supplying, storing, and discharging water for the operation of machinery for the purpose of generating and transmitting electricity for the supply of mines, quarries, railroads, tramways, mills, and factories with electric power; and also for the applying of electricity to light or heat mines, quarries, mills, factories, incorporated cities and counties, villages or towns; and also for furnishing electricity for lighting, heating or power purposes to individuals or corporations; together with lands, buildings and all other improvements in or upon which to erect, install, place, use or operate machinery for the purpose of generating and transmitting electricity for any of the purposes or uses above set forth.

13. Power lines. Electric power lines, electric heat lines, electric light lines, electric light, heat and power lines, and works or plants, lands, buildings or rights of any character in water, or any other character of property necessary for the generation, transmission or distribution of electricity for the purpose of furnishing or supplying electric light, heat or power to any county, city and county or incorporated city or town, or the inhabitants thereof, or necessary for the proper development and control of such use of such electricity, either at the time of the taking of said property, or for the future proper development and control thereof.

14. Cemeteries. Cemeteries for the burial of the deed, and enlarging and adding to the same and the grounds thereof.

15. Public records. The plants, or any part thereof or any record therein of all persons, firms or corporations heretofore, now or hereafter engaged in the business of searching public records, or publishing public records or insuring or guaranteeing titles to real property, including all copies of, and all abstracts or memoranda taken from, public records, which are owned by, or in the possession of such persons, firms or corporations, or which are used by them in their respective businesses; provided, however, that the right of eminent domain in behalf of the public uses mentioned in this subdivision may be exercised only for the purposes of restoring or replacing, in whole or in part, public records, or the substance of public records, of any city, city and county, county or other municipality, which records have been, or may hereafter be, lost or destroyed by conflagration or other public calamity; and provided, further, that such right shall be exercised only by the city, city and county, county or municipality, whose records, or part of whose records, have been, or may be, so lost or destroyed.

16. Fairs. Expositions or fairs in aid of which the granting of public moneys or other things of value has been authorized by the constitution.

17. Gasworks, etc. Works or plants for supplying gas, heat, refrigeration or power to any county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, or the inhabitants thereof, together with lands, buildings, and all other improvements in or upon which to erect, install, place, maintain, use or operate machinery, appliances, works and plants for the purpose of generating, transmitting and distributing the same and rights of any nature in water, or property of any character necessary for the purpose of generating, transmitting and distributing the same, or necessary for the proper development and control of such use of such gas, heat, refrigeration, or power, either at the time of the taking of said property, or for the future proper development and control thereof.

18. Trees along highways. Standing trees and ground necessary for the support and maintenance thereof, along the course of any highway, within a maximum distance of three hundred feet on each side of the center thereof; and ground for the culture and growth of trees along the course of any highway, within a maximum distance of three hundred feet on each side of the center thereof. [Amendment approved April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 59.]

§ 1269. Action on behalf of state. Description of property. Order to appear. If proceedings for administration have been instituted. State treasurer to hold property. At any time after two years after the death of any decedent, leaving property to which the state is entitled by reason of its having escheated to the state, the attorney general shall commence a proceeding on behalf of the state in the superior court for Sacramento county to have it adjudged that the state is so entitled. Such action shall be commenced by filing a petition, which shall be treated as the information elsewhere referred to in this title. There shall be set forth in such petition a description of the property, the name of the person last possessed thereof, the name of the person, if any, claiming such property, or any portion thereof, and the facts and circumstances by virtue of which it is claimed the property has escheated. Upon the filing of such petition, the court must make an order requiring all persons interested in the estate to appear and show cause, if any they have, within sixty days from the date of the order, why such estate should not vest in the state. Such order must be published at least once a week for four successive weeks in a newspaper published in said county of Sacramento, the last publication to be at least ten days prior to the date set for the hearing. Upon the completion of the publication of such order the court shall have full and complete jurisdiction over the state, the property, and the person of everyone having or claiming any interest in the said property, and shall have full and complete jurisdiction to hear and determine the issues therein, and render the appropriate judgment thereon. If proceedings for the administration of such estate have been instituted, a copy of such order must be filed with the papers in such estate in the office of the county clerk where such proceedings were had. If proceedings for the administration of any estate of any such decedent have been instituted and none of the persons entitled to succeed thereto have appeared and made claim to such property, or any portion thereof, before the decree of final distribution therein is made, or before the commencement of such proceeding by the attorney general, or if the court shall find that such persons as have appeared are not entitled to the property of such estate, or of any portion thereof, the court shall, upon final settlement of the proceedings for the administration of such estate, after the payment of all debts and expenses of administration, distribute all moneys and other property remaining to the state of California. The property so distributed shall be held by the state treasurer for a period of five years from the date of the decree making such distribution within which time the same may be claimed in the manner in this title hereafter provided, but a nonresident foreigner claiming succession in any case must appear and claim within five years from the death of the decedent, and any person who does not appear and claim as herein required shall be forever barred, and such property, or so much thereof as is not so claimed, shall vest absolutely in the state. In any proceeding brought by the attorney general under this title any two or more parties and any two or more causes of action may be joined in the same proceeding and in the same petition without being separately stated, and it shall be sufficient to allege in the petition that the decedent left no heirs to take the estate and the failure of heirs to appear and set up their claims in any such proceeding, or in any proceedings for the administration of such estate, shall be sufficient proof upon which to base the judgment in any such proceeding or such decree of distribution. Where proceedings for the administration of any estate have not been commenced within six months from the death of any decedent the attorney general may direct the public administrator to commence the same forthwith. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 253.]

§ 1272a. Petition showing claim to estate deposited with state treasurer. Claim for less than $300. When the estate, or any portion thereof, of any decedent has been deposited with the state treasurer under the provisions of this code, any person entitled to succeed and not a party or privy to any proceeding had under any of the foregoing sections of this title, and who has not appeared in the proceedings for the administration of such estate, may, within five years after the date of the decree of final distribution, unless otherwise barred, file a petition in the superior court for Sacramento county against the state of California showing his claim or right to the property, or the proceeds thereof, or to any portion thereof. Said petition shall be verified, and, among other things, must state the facts required to be stated in a petition filed under section one thousand two hundred and seventy-two of this code, and upon the filing thereof the same proceedings shall be had as are therein required. Whenever the amount claimed by any such person is less than three hundred dollars any such claimant may, in lieu of filing such petition, present his claim to the state board of control, showing the same facts required to be stated in such petition and said board may, upon recommendation of the attorney general, allow and order paid such claim, provided that no such claim shall be so allowed or paid until at least five years after the death of the decedent and then, only, in the event that no other claim is made to such property. When payment has been made under this title to any claimant no suit shall thereafter be maintained by any other claimant against the state, or any officer thereof, for or on account of such property. [New section added May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 254.]

in said estate (including the state controller), whether as heir, devisee, or legatee, or the attorney for such heir, devisee, or legatee, may serve upon the executor or administrator (or upon the attorney for the executor or administrator) and file with the clerk of the court wherein administration of such estate is pending, a written request, stating that he desires special notice of any or all of the following mentioned matters, steps or proceedings in the administration of said estate, to wit:

1. Filing of petitions for sales, leases or mortgages of any property of the estate.
2. Filing of accounts.
3. Filing of petitions for distribution.
4. Filing of petitions for partition of any property of the estate.

Such request shall state the postoffice address of such heir, devisee, or legatee, state controller, or his attorney, and thereafter a brief notice of the filing of any of such petitions or accounts, except petitions for sale of perishable property or other personal property, which will incur expense or loss by keeping, shall be addressed to such heir, devisee, or legatee, state controller, or his attorney, at his stated postoffice address, and deposited in the United States postoffice with the postage thereon prepaid, within two days after the filing of such petition or account; or personal service of such notices may be made on such heir, devisee, or legatee, state controller, or his attorney, within said two days and such personal service shall be equivalent to such deposit in the postoffice, and proof of mailing or of personal service must be filed with the clerk before the hearing of such petition or account. If upon the hearing it shall appear to the satisfaction of the court that the said notice has been regularly given, the court shall so find in its order or judgment and such judgment shall be final and conclusive upon all persons. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 276.]

§ 1415. Duties of special administrators. The special administrator must collect and preserve for the executor or administrator, all the goods, chattels, debts, and effects of the decedent, all incomes, rents, issues and profits, claims, and demands of the estate; must take the charge and management of, enter upon, and preserve from damage, waste and injury, the real estate, and for any such and all necessary purposes may commence and maintain or defend suits and other legal proceedings as an administrator; he may sell such perishable property as the court may order to be sold, and exercise such other powers as are conferred upon him by his appointment, but in no case is he liable to an action by any creditor on a claim against the decedent. The special administrator may commence and maintain all proceedings, do all acts, and apply for and obtain all orders and decrees, authorized or provided for, in or by article five of chapter seven of title eleven of this code, in the same manner and with like effect as an executor or administrator. [Amendment approved April 6, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 81.]

§ 1418. Payment of secured debts by special administrators. If it shall appear by the verified petition of any special administrator, or other person interested in any estate in the charge of any special administrator, that any of the property of said estate is subject to any mortgage, lien or deed of trust, to secure the payment of money, and that any amount so secured, either principal or interest, is past due and unpaid; that the holder of the security threatens or is about to enforce or foreclose the same and that the said property exceeds in value the amount of the entire obligation thereon, and an order is asked directing or permitting said special administrator to pay all or any part of the amount so secured, the court or a judge thereof shall fix a time for the hearing of said petition and shall direct notice of not less than ten days to be given by posting in three public places and by personal service on all parties who have appeared or their attorneys. At the time so appointed, if the allegations of such petition shall be proven to the satisfaction of the court and it shall appear to be for the best interests of said estate, the court may order the special administrator to pay interest or other portions or the whole of the secured debt, and, in its discretion, may direct the special administrator to take proceedings under article five of chapter seven of title eleven of this code to secure funds for such purpose. Any such order for payment of interest may also direct that interest not yet accrued be paid as it becomes due and such order shall remain in effect and cover such future interest until and unless thereafter for good cause set aside or modified by the court upon similar petition and notice to that hereinabove provided. [New section added April 6, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 82.]

of the inheritance tax appraisers provided for by law (any two of whom may act, provided that one of them be the inheritance tax appraiser); provided, that the court may, in its discretion, appoint said inheritance tax appraiser as sole appraiser to appraise said estate. Each of said appraisers is entitled to receive, from each estate he appraises, as compensation for his services, not to exceed five dollars per day (together with his actual and necessary expenses), to be allowed by the court or judge. The appraisers or appraiser must, with the inventory, file a verified account of their or his services and disbursements. If any part of the estate is in any other county than that in which letters issued, an appraiser or appraisers thereof may in the same manner as above provided, be appointed, either by the court or judge having the jurisdiction of the estate, or by the court or judge of such other county, on request of the court or judge having jurisdiction. No clerk or deputy, nor any person related by consanguinity or affinity to or connected by marriage with, or being a partner or employee of the judge of the court, shall be appointed or shall be competent to act as appraiser in any estate, or matter or proceeding pending before said judge or in said court. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 329.]

§ 1455. Who may collect balances due deceased or insane annuitants from teachers' retirement salary fund. Claim payable by salary fund board on receipt of affidavit. The surviving husband or wife, or the guardian of the estate of any insane or incompetent husband or wife, of any deceased person who had been the recipient of an annuity from the public school teachers' retirement salary fund, or if no husband or wife is living, then the children or the guardian of the estates of any minor or insane or incompetent children of said deceased, or, if no children are living, then the father or mother or the guardian of the estate of any insane or incompetent father or mother of such decedent, and if neither the father nor mother is living, then the brothers and sisters or the guardian of the estates of any minor or insane or incompetent brothers and sisters of such decedent, may, without procuring letters of administration, collect from the public school teachers' retirement salary fund, in the state treasury, any balance of retirement salary accrued to the credit of said deceased annuitant remaining unpaid at the time of death. The public school teachers' retirement salary fund board, upon receiving an affidavit stating that said annuitant is dead, and that affiant is the surviving husband or wife or the guardian of the estate of an insane or incompetent husband or wife, as the case may be, of said decedent, or stating that decedent left no husband or wife, and that affiant is the child, or that affiants are the children, or the guardians of the estates of the minor, insane or incompetent children, as the case may be, of said decedent, or stating that decedent left neither husband, wife nor children, and that affiant is the father or mother, or the guardian of the estate of the insane or incompetent father or mother, as the case may be, of said decedent, or stating that the decedent left neither husband, wife, children, father nor mother, and that the affiants are the brothers and sisters, or the guardians of the estates of the minor, insane or incompetent brothers and sisters, as the case may be, of said decedent, shall, at the next quarterly meeting of said board, when claims for retirement salaries are certified, include and certify a claim in favor of said affiant or affiants for the balance due said decedent, and the controller shall draw his warrant in favor of the affiant or affiants in the same manner as warrants are drawn for the payment of retirement salaries, and the indorsement of such affiant or affiants upon such warrant is sufficient acquittance therefor. [New section added April 6, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 78.]

§ 1469. Administration of estates not exceeding $1,500 in value. If a deceased person leave a widow or minor child or minor children and upon the return of the inventory of the estate of such deceased person it shall appear to the court or a judge thereof by the verified petition of the personal representative of such deceased person or of his widow or of the guardian of his minor children or of any of them that the net value of the whole estate of said deceased over and above all liens or encumbrances of record at the date of the death of said deceased does not exceed the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars, the court, or a judge thereof, shall, by order, require all persons interested to appear on a day fixed to show cause why the whole of said estate should not be assigned for the use and support of the family of the deceased. Notice thereof shall be given and proceedings had in the same manner as provided in section one thousand four hundred sixty-five a of this code. If upon the hearing, the court finds that the net value of the estate over and above all liens or encumbrances of record at the date of the death of said deceased does not exceed the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars, it shall, by decree for that purpose, assign to the widow of the deceased, if there be a widow, or if there be no widow, then to the minor children of the deceased, if there be minor children, the whole of the estate, subject to whatever mortgages, liens, or encumbrances there may be upon said estate at the time of the death of said deceased, after the payment of the expenses of the last illness of the deceased, funeral charges, and expenses of administration, and the title thereof shall vest absolutely in such widow, if there is a widow, or if there is no widow, in the minor children or child, subject to whatever mortgages, liens or encumbrances there may be upon said estate at the time of the death of the deceased, and there must be no further proceedings in the administration, unless further estate be discovered. [Amendment approved April 25, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 195.]

§ 1475. Setting off of recorded homestead. If the homestead selected and recorded prior to the death of the decedent be returned in the inventory appraised at not exceeding five thousand dollars in value, or was previously appraised as provided in the Civil Code, and such appraised value did not exceed that sum, the superior court must, by order, set it off to the persons in whom title is vested by the preceding section. If there be subsisting liens or encumbrances on the homestead, the claims secured thereby must be presented and allowed as other claims against the estate. If the funds of the estate be adequate to pay all claims against the estate, the claims so secured must be paid out of such funds. If the funds of the estate be not sufficient for that purpose, the claims so secured shall be paid proportionately with other claims allowed, and the liens or encumbrances on the homestead shall only be enforced against the homestead for any deficiency remaining after such payment; provided, that it shall be the duty of any executor or administrator, within sixty days after the first publication of notice to creditors, to notify in writing the record holder of any such lien or encumbrance upon real property subject to a declaration of homestead of the death of the testator or intestate, and unless so notified, the rights of the holder of such lien or encumbrance shall not be affected by his failure to present such claim as hereinabove required. [Amendment approved May 21, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 783.]

§ 1663. Partial distribution of estates of deceased persons. Costs. Where the time for filing or presenting claims has expired, and all claims that have been allowed have been paid, or are secured by a mortgage upon real estate sufficient to pay them, and the estate is not in a condition to be finally closed and distributed, the executor or administrator, or co-executor or coadministrator, may present his petition to the court for ratable payment of the legacies, or ratable distribution of the estate to all the heirs, legatees, devisees, or their assignees, grantees or successors in interest. Notice of such application must be given to all persons interested in the estate, in the same manner that notice is required to be given of the settlement of the account of an executor or administrator. Any person interested in the estate may appear at the time named and resist the application. If, at the hearing, it appears that the allegations in the petition of said executor, administrator, coexecutor, or coadministrator, are true, and the court is satisfied that no injury can result to the estate by granting the petition, the court must make an order directing the executor or executors, administrator or administrators, as the case may be, to deliver to the heirs, legatees, devisees, or to their assigns, grantees or successors in interest, the whole portion of the estate to which they may be entitled, or only a part thereof, designating it.

If, in the execution of the order, a partition is necessary between two or more of the parties interested, it must be made in the manner hereinafter prescribed. The costs of the proceedings under this section must be paid by the estate, excepting that in case a partition is necessary, the costs of such partition must be apportioned amongst the parties interested in such partition. [New section added May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 575.]

§ 1714. Motion for new trial in probate proceedings. The provisions of part two of this code, relative to new trials and appeals, except in so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of this title, apply to the proceedings mentioned in this title; provided, that hereafter a motion for a new trial in probate proceedings can be made only in cases of contests of wills, either before or after probate, in proceedings under section one thousand six hundred sixty-four of this code and in those cases where the issues of fact, of which a new trial is sought, were tried by a jury or were of such character as to entitle the parties to have them tried by a jury whether or not they were so tried. [Amendment approved April 13, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 117.]

§ 1723. Persons dying who owned life estate or homesteads. Interested persons may petition. Decree of court. Inheritance tax. If any person has died or shall hereafter die who at the time of his death was the owner of a life estate which terminates by reason of the death of such person; or if such person at the time of his death was one of two or more persons holding land in joint tenancy, which land by reason of his death vests absolutely in the surviving joint tenant or tenants; or if such person at the time of his death was the spouse of a person owning land upon which either spouse had declared a homestead, the homestead interest of which deceased person absolutely terminated by reason of his death; any person interested in the land, or in the title thereto, in which such estate or interest was held, may file in the superior court of the county in which the land or any part thereof is situated, his verified petition setting forth such facts, and thereupon and after such notice by publication or otherwise as the court may order; provided, that notice shall be given in each county where any part of said land is situated in the same manner as in the county where said petition is filed, the court shall hear such petition and the evidence offered in support thereof, and if upon such hearing it shall appear that such estate or interest so terminated or vested, the court shall make a decree to that effect, and thereupon a certified copy of such decree shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of each county in which any part of said land is situated, and thereafter shall have the same effect as a decree of final distribution so recorded; provided, that if such estate or interest was a joint tenancy, any inheritance tax which is due and payable by reason of the death of such deceased person, must be fully paid before such decree is made; and the amount of said inheritance tax shall be fixed, and said tax shall be paid, in the same manner as in the case of an administration upon the estate of a decedent. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1397.]

§ 1764a. Appointment as guardian. In awarding letters of guardianship of the person and estate, or person or estate, of an insane or incompetent person, the court shall appoint as guardian such person as may have been designated pursuant to section two hundred forty-two of the Civil Code, in which cases such persons shall be appointed unless good cause to the contrary be shown. [New section added May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 644.]

§ 1881. Cases in which witnesses may not be examined. There are particular relations in which it is the policy of the law to encourage confidence and to preserve it inviolate; therefore, a person cannot be examined as a witness in the following cases:

1. Husband and wife. A husband cannot be examined for or against his wife without her consent; nor a wife for or against her husband, without his consent; nor can either, during the marriage or afterward, be, without the consent of the other, examined as to any communication made by one to the other during the marriage; but this exception does not apply to a civil action or proceeding by one against the other, nor to a criminal action or proceeding for a crime committed by one against the other; or in an action brought by husband or wife against another person for the alienation of the affections of either husband or wife or in an action for damages against another person for adultery committed by either husband or wife.

2. Attorney and client. An attorney cannot, without the consent of his client, be examined as to any communication made by the client to him, or his advice given thereon in the course of professional employment; nor can an attorney's secretary, stenographer, or clerk be examined, without the consent of his employer, concerning any fact the knowledge of which has been acquired in such capacity.

3. Confessor and confessant. A clergyman or priest cannot, without the consent of the person making the confession, be examined as to any confession made to him in his professional character in the course of discipline enjoined by the church to which he belongs.

4. Physician and patient. A licensed physician or surgeon cannot, without the consent of his patient, be examined in a civil action as to any information acquired in attending the patient, which was necessary to enable him to prescribe or act for the patient; provided, however, that after the death of the patient, the executor of his will, or the administrator of his estate, or the surviving spouse of the deceased, or, if there be no surviving spouse, the children, of the deceased personally, or, if minors, by their guardian, may give such consent, in any action or proceeding brought to recover damages on account of the death of the patient; provided, further, that where any person brings an action to recover damages for personal injuries, such action shall be deemed to constitute a consent by the person bringing such action that any physician who has prescribed for or treated said person and whose testimony is material in said action shall testify; and provided, further, that the bringing of an action, to recover for the death of a patient, by the executor of his will, or by the administrator of his estate, or by the surviving spouse of the deceased, or if there be no surviving spouse, by the children personally, or, if minors, by their guardian, shall constitute a consent by such executor, administrator, surviving spouse, or children or guardian, to the testimony of any physician who attended said deceased.

5. Public officer. A public officer cannot be examined as to communications made to him in official confidence, when the public interest would suffer by the disclosure. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 954.]

§ 2024. Deposition of witnesses out of state, how taken. The deposition of a witness out of this state may be taken upon a commission issued from the court under the seal of the court, upon an order of the court, or a judge or a justice thereof, on the application of either party, upon five days' previous notice to the other. If the court is a justices' court, the commission must have attached to it a certificate of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which such justices' court is held, under the seal of such superior court, to the effect that the person issuing the same was an acting justice of the peace at the date of the commission. If issued to any place within the United States, it may be directed to a person agreed upon by the parties, or if they do not agree, to any notary public, judge or justice of the peace or commissioner selected by the court or judge or justice issuing it. If issued to any country out of the United States, it may be directed to a minister, ambassador, consul, vice-consul, or consular agent of the United States, or judge of a court of record in such country, or to any person agreed upon by the parties. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 280.]

§ 2055. Examination of adverse party. A party to the record of any civil action or proceeding or a person for whose immediate benefit such action or proceeding is prosecuted or defended, or the directors, officers, superintendent or managing agent of any corporation which is a party to the record, may be examined by the adverse party as if under cross-examination, subject to the rules applicable to the examination of other witnesses. The party calling such adverse witness shall not be bound by his testimony, and the testimony given by such witness may be rebuttel by the party calling him for such examination by other evidence. Such witness, when so called, may be examined by his own counsel, but only as to the matters testified to on such examination. [New section added April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 58.]

THE

OF THE

AMENDMENTS OF 1917.

§ 137. Action for permanent support of wife. When an action for divorce is pending, the court may, in its discretion, require the husband to pay as alimony any money necessary to enable the wife to support herself and her children, or to prosecute or defend the action. When the husband willfully deserts the wife or when the husband willfully fails to provide for the wife or when the wife has any cause of action for divorce as provided in section ninety-two of this code, she may, without applying for divorce, maintain in the superior court an action against him for permanent support and maintenance of herself or of herself and children. During the pendency of such action the court may, in its discretion, require the husband to pay as alimony any money necessary for the prosecution of the action and for support and maintenance, and execution may issue therefor in the discretion of the court. The court, in granting the wife permanent support and maintenance of herself, or of herself and children, in any such action, shall make the same disposition of the community property and of the homestead, if any, as would have been made if the marriage had been dissolved by the decree of a court of competent jurisdiction. The final judgment in such action may be enforced by the court by such order or orders as in its discretion it may from time to time deem necessary, and such order or orders may be varied, altered, or revoked at the discretion of the court. [Amendment approved April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 35.]

§ 164. What is community property. All other property acquired after marriage by either husband or wife, or both, including real property situated in this state, and personal property wherever situated, acquired while domiciled elsewhere, which would not have been the separate property of either if acquired while domiciled in this state, is community property; but wherever any property is conveyed to a married woman by an instrument in writing, the presumption is that the title is thereby vested in her as her separate property. And in case the conveyance is to such married woman and to her husband, or to her and any other person, the presumption is that the married woman takes the part conveyed to her, as tenant in common, unless a different intention is expressed in the instrument, and the presumption in this section mentioned is conclusive in favor of a purchaser or encumbrancer in good faith and for a valuable consideration. And in cases where married women have conveyed, or shall hereafter convey, real property which they acquired prior to May nineteenth, one thousand eight hundred eighty-nine, the husband, or their heirs or assigns, of such married women, shall be barred from commencing or maintaining any action to show that said real property was community property, or to recover said real property, as follows: As to conveyances heretofore made, from and after one year from the date of the taking effect of this act; and as to conveyances hereafter made, from and after one year from the filing for record in the recorder's office of such conveyances, respectively. [Amendment approved May 23, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 827.]

§ 172. Management of community personal property. The husband has the management and control of the community personal property, with like absolute power of disposition, other than testamentary, as he has of his separate estate; provided, however, that he cannot make a gift of such community personal property, or dispose of the same without a valuable consideration, or sell, convey, or encumber the furniture, furnishings, or fittings of the home, or the clothing or wearing apparel of the wife or minor children that is community, without the written consent of the wife. [Amendment approved May 23, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 829.]

§ 172a. Management of community real property. The husband has the management and control of the community real property, but the wife must join with him in executing any instrument by which such community real property or any interest therein is leased for a longer period than one year, or is sold, conveyed, or encumbered; provided, however, that the sole lease, contract, mortgage or deed of the husband, holding the record title to community real property, to a lessee, purchaser or encumbrancer, in good faith without knowledge of the marriage relation shall be presumed to be valid; but no action to avoid such instrument shall be commenced after the expiration of one year from the filing for record of such instrument in the recorder's office in the county in which the land is situate. [New section added May 23, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 829.]

§ 224. Consent to adoption of children. Father or mother deprived of control of child. Father or mother declared insane. Deserted child. Child relinquished for purpose of adoption. Child in orphan asylum. A legitimate child cannot be adopted without the consent of its parents if living, nor an illegitimate child without the consent of its mother if living, except that consent is not necessary in the following cases, to wit:

1. From a father or mother if deprived of civil rights.

2. From a father or mother adjudged guilty of adultery or cruelty and for either cause divorced.

3. From a father or mother who has been judicially deprived of the custody and control of such child on the ground of abandonment, cruelty, neglect or habitual intemperance, either by order of the juvenile court declaring said child to be free from the custody and control of its parents as provided in the juvenile court law of the state of California, approved June 5, 1915, and any act or acts superseding or amending same, or by order of the juvenile court of the county, where such child was left in the care and custody of another by its parent or parents, without any provisions for its support, for the period of one year, determining such child to be an abandoned child as defined in said juvenile court law; provided, however, that said juvenile court shall never make such order of abandonment without first giving notice of said abandonment proceeding by personal service of citation or other court process on the parent or parents or person having the custody of such child residing within the state, if their residence is known, and also such other or further notice to said parent or parents or person having the custody of such child, or other person or persons as the court may require, or by order of any other court of competent jurisdiction.

4. From a father or mother who has been declared either feeble-minded or insane by the state commission in lunacy or by three competent persons appointed by said commission; provided, that if so declared insane, said father or mother shall have subsequently been determined to be incurably insane by the superior court of the county where he or she resides.

From a father or mother of any child deserted by its parents without provision for their identification.

From a father or mother of any child relinquished by its parent or parents for the purpose of adoption expressed in writing signed and acknowledged by such parent or parents before an officer authorized to take acknowledgments, or signed by such parent or parents before two subscribing witnesses and acknowledged by such parent or parents before the secretary of any organization or society engaged in the work of placing dependent or deserted children into homes in this state, which organization or society has obtained a permit therefor, duly executed in writing, from the state board of charities and corrections, and when a copy of this relinquishment shall have been filed with the state board of charities and corrections prior to the commencement of any adoption proceedings affecting such child.

Any child, the consent of whose parents is not necessary for its adoption within the meaning of this section maintained by or in the custody of any orphan asylum within this state, any charitable organization or society receiving state aid or receiving commitments from the juvenile court, may be adopted with the consent of the president of such orphan asylum, charitable organization or society, or with the consent of such officer as may be authorized by the directors or managers of such asylum, organization or society to consent to adoption in such cases. Any orphan child for whose support no provision has been made by any person for a period of one year, but who has been maintained during said year, by or in the custody of any orphan asylum within this state, any charitable organization or society receiving state aid or receiving commitments from the juvenile court may be adopted with the consent of the president of such orphan asylum, charitable organization or society or with the consent of such officer as may be authorized by the directors or managers of such asylum, organization or society to consent to adoption in such cases. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 770.]

§ 242. Appointment by will or deed of guardian. A guardian of the person or estate, or of both, of an insane or incompetent person may be appointed by will or deed, to take effect upon the death of the person appointing:

1. If the insane or incompetent person be unmarried, or be a person whose marriage has been annulled or dissolved by death or divorce, by the father, with the written consent of the mother, or by either parent if the other be dead or incapable of consent.

2. If the insane or incompetent person be married and a person whose marriage has not been annulled or dissolved by divorce, then by the spouse. [New section added May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 645.]

§ 290a. Certificate of approval of superintendent of banks. Before any corporation, authorized in its articles of incorporation to conduct the business of acting as executor, administrator, guardian of estates, assignee, receiver, depositary, or trustee under appointment of any court or by authority of any law of this state, or as trustee for any purpose permitted by law, or to engage in the business of banking, or of receiving the money of others on deposit, may file with the secretary of state a certified copy of its articles of incorporation, or of a certificate of extension of its term of existence, or of a certificate increasing or decreasing the number of its directors, or of a certificate increasing or decreasing its capital stock, or of its amended articles of incorporation, or of its articles of incorporation and consolidation, there must be attached thereto the certificate of approval of the superintendent of banks; provided, that this section shall not apply to any corporation authorized to engage in the business of receiving and holding in escrow money or its equivalent, pending investment in real estate or securities for or on account of its principal, or to act as trustee under deeds of trust given solely for the purpose of securing obligations for the repayment of money other than corporation bonds, nor shall such corporations be subject to the supervision of the superintendent of banks. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 621.]

§ 309. Limitations on directors of corporations. Liability. Pending rights not affected. Sec. 1. Unless they shall have been first permitted or authorized so to do by the commissioner of corporations, directors of corporations must not make dividends except from the surplus profits arising from the business thereof; nor must they create any debts beyond their subscribed capital stock; nor must they divide, withdraw, or pay to the stockholders, or any of them, any part of the capital stock, except as hereinafter provided, nor reduce or increase the capital stock, except as provided in section three hundred fifty-nine of this code. For a violation of the provisions of this section, the directors under whose administration the same may have happened (except those who may have caused their dissent therefrom to be entered at large on the minutes of the directors at the time, or were not present when the same did happen) are, in their individual or private capacity, jointly and severally liable to the corporation, and to the creditors thereof, to the full amount of the capital stock so divided, withdrawn, paid out, or reduced or debt contracted. Nothing herein prohibits a division and distribution of the capital stock of any corporation which remains after the payment of all its debts, upon its dissolution, or the expiration of its term of existence.

Sec. 2. No right, cause of action, or liability now existing or any action or proceeding now pending, shall be affected by this act and such right, cause of action or liability may be enforced and such action or proceeding may be prosecuted in the same manner and with the same effect as if this act had not been passed; excepting only the liability of a director of a corporation heretofore incurred shall not exist in any case where all of the debts and liabilities of the corporation to creditors having been paid, the capital stock divided, withdrawn, or paid out constituted all of the capital stock of the corporation and the same was paid out, withdrawn, or divided with the consent of all of the stockholders to or among themselves. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 657.]

§ 321a. Change of principal place of business. Procedure. Every corporation that has been or may be created under the general laws of this state may change its principal place of business from one place to another in the same county, or from one city or county to another city or county within this state. Before such change is made, the consent in writing, of the holders of two-thirds of the capital stock of the corporation must be obtained and filed in its office; or if the corporation has no capital stock, then the consent in writing of two-thirds of the members thereof, must be obtained and filed in its office. When such consent is obtained and filed, notice of the intended removal or change must be published, at least once a week, for three successive weeks, in some newspaper published in the county, wherein said principal place of business is situated, if there is one published therein; if not, in a newspaper of an adjoining county, giving the name of the county or city where it is situated and that to which it is intended to remove it. Whenever any such change is made, a copy of the resolution or action of the board of directors authorizing the same together with a copy of an affidavit of the publication above required, all duly certified by the president and secretary of the corporation with the corporate seal affixed shall be filed in each office where the original articles of incorporation are, or any copy thereof is required to be filed. This section shall not be construed to require such consent, notice or publication in the case of any such removal from one location to another in the same city, town or village. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 252.]

§ 322. Liability of stockholders in corporations. Stockholders of corporations shall be liable for the payment of corporate debts and liabilities as follows:

1. Corporations not limited. Each stockholder of a corporation, other than a corporation hereafter organized under the laws of this state which shall adopt and use as the last word of its corporate name the word "Limited," or its abbreviation, "Ltd.," is individually and personally liable for such proportion of all its debts and liabilities contracted or incurred during the time he was a stockholder as the amount of stock or shares owned by him at the time the debt or liability was incurred bears to the whole of the subscribed capital stock or shares of the corporation; and such liability is not released by any subsequent transfer of stock. If any stockholder pays his proportion of any debt due from the corporation, incurred while he was such stockholder, he is relieved from any further personal liability for such debt; and if an action has been brought against him upon such debt, it must be dismissed as to him upon his paying the costs or such proportion thereof as may be properly chargeable against him.

2. Corporation without capital stock. In a corporation having no capital stock, each member is individually and personally liable for an equal share of its debts and liabilities.

3. "Limited" corporation. In a corporation hereafter organized under the laws of this state, having a capital stock, and which shall adopt and use as the last word of its corporate name, the word "Limited," or its abbreviation, "Ltd.," if its subscribed and issued shares have not been fully paid, in money paid, labor done, or property actually received by the corporation, and the capital paid in shall be insufficient to satisfy its debts and obligations, each stockholder shall be liable to the creditors of the corporation for an amount equal to that not paid up on the shares held by him, or such proportion of that sum as shall be required to satisfy such debts and obligations; provided, that no judgment upon such liability shall be satisfied out of the property of such stockholder until judgment upon the debt or obligation upon which such liability is founded shall have been first entered against the corporation, and an execution thereon shall have been returned unsatisfied in whole or in part; and the enforcement of any judgment against the stockholder, and of any execution levied thereunder, shall be stayed until such return shall have been made. Any stockholder in such corporation who shall pay any debt or obligation for which he is made liable by the provisions of this subdivision of this section, may recover the amount so paid in an action against the corporation, in which action only the property of the corporation shall be taken in satisfaction of any judgment obtained therein, and not the property of any stockholder. Any amount so paid by such stockholder, and not repaid to him by the corporation or recovered in such action, shall be considered as having been paid on his shares.

4. Foreign corporation. Joint or several actions by creditor. Application of "stockholder" and "member." Trust funds. The liability of each stockholder of a corporation formed under the laws of any other state or territory of the United States, or of any foreign country, and doing business within this state, is the same as the liability of a stockholder of a corporation created under the constitution and laws of this state.

Any creditor of a corporation may commence joint or several actions against any of its stockholders or members for the amount or proportion of his claim payable by each; and in such action the court must ascertain the amount or the proportion of the claim or debt for which each defendant is liable, and a several judgment must be rendered against each, in conformity therewith. The terms "stockholder" and "member," as used in this section, applies not only to such persons as appear by the books of the corporation to be such, but also to every equitable owner of stock or of a membership, although the same appears on the books in the name of another; and also to every person who has advanced the installments or purchase money of stock or a membership in the name of a minor, so long as the latter remains a minor; and also to every guardian, or other trustee, who voluntarily invests any trust funds in the stock or membership. Trust funds in the hands of a guardian, or trustee, are not liable under the provisions of this section by reason of any such investment; nor must the person for whose benefit the investment is made be responsible in respect to the stock until he becomes competent and able to control the same; but the responsibility of the guardian or trustee making the investment continues until that period. Stock held as collateral security, or by a trustee, or in any other representative capacity, does not make the holder thereof a stockholder within the meaning of this section, except in the cases above mentioned, so as to charge him with any proportion of the debts or liabilities of the corporation; but the pledgor, or person or estate represented, is to be deemed the stockholder, as respects such liability.

The act amending § 322 of the Civil Code also contained the following provision.

§ 2. In effect when. This act shall take effect and be in force upon the approval and ratification by the people of an amendment to section three of article twelve of the constitution of this state submitted by the forty-second session of the legislature to the people; and if such amendment so submitted shall not be so approved and ratified, this act shall thereafter be void. [Amendment approved May 21, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 786.]

§ 361. Changing number of directors of corporations. Any corporation or association may increase or diminish the number of its directors or trustees by the vote or written assent of stockholders representing a majority of its subscribed capital stock, or, if it has no capital stock, by the vote or written assent of a majority of the members. A certificate over the corporate seal, setting forth the action taken by the stockholders, or members, and stating the new number of directors, shall be signed by the president and secretary of such corporation or association, and filed in the office of the county clerk of the county where its original articles of incorporation were filed, and a copy of said certificate, certified by such county clerk, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, whereupon the number of directors or trustees shall be changed as stated in said certificate. This section shall apply to all corporations existing under the laws of the state of California, whether organized and incorporated prior to the enactment of this code, or subsequent thereto. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 327.]

§ 377. Records required to be kept by corporations. All corporations for profit are required to keep a record of all their business transactions; a journal of all meetings of their directors, members, or stockholders, with the time and place of holding the same, whether regular or special, and if special, its object, how authorized, and the notice thereof given. The record must embrace every act done or ordered to be done; who were present, and who absent; and, if requested by any director, member, or stockholder, the time shall be noted when he entered the meeting or obtained leave of absence therefrom. On a similar request, the ayes and noes must be taken on any proposition, and a record thereof made. On similar request, the protest of any director, member, or stockholder, to any action or proposed action, must be entered in full. Such records shall be open to the inspection of any legislative committee, board, commission, or officer of the state of California whose duty it is to inspect or examine the same, and of any director, member, or bona fide stockholder thereof; provided, however, the board of directors may, by unanimous vote, deny such examination or inspection to a stockholder who demands the same with intent to use to the injury of the corporation the information to be acquired thereby, and a satisfactory showing of such intent shall be a complete defense to any action or proceeding brought by any such person to compel the officers of any such corporation to submit any of such records for his inspection or examination. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1407.]

§ 378. Stock and transfer books. In addition to the records required to be kept by the preceding section, corporations for profit must keep a book, to be known as the "stock and transfer book," in which must be kept a record of all stock; the names of the stockholders or members, alphabetically arranged; installments paid or unpaid; assessments levied and paid or unpaid; a statement of every alienation, sale, or transfer of stock made, the date thereof, and by and to whom; and all such other records as the by-laws prescribe. Corporations for religious and benevolent purposes must provide in their by-laws for such records to be kept as may be necessary. Such stock and transfer book shall be open to the inspection of any officer, bona fide stockholder, member, or creditor of the corporation. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1407.]

§ 400. Directors of corporation are trustees of creditors. Unless other persons are appointed by the court, the directors or managers of the affairs of a corporation at the time of its dissolution are trustees of the creditors and stockholders or members of the corporation dissolved, and have full powers to settle the affairs of the corporation, collect and pay outstanding debts, sell the assets thereof in such manner as the court shall direct, and distribute the proceeds of such sales and all other assets to the stockholders. Such trustees shall have authority to sue for and recover the debts and property of the corporation, and shall be jointly and severally personally liable to its creditors and stockholders or members, to the extent of its property and effects that shall come into their hands. Death, resignation or failure or inability to act shall constitute a vacancy in the position of trustee, which vacancy shall be filled by appointment by the superior court upon petition of any person or creditor interested in the property of such corporation. Such trustees may be sued in any court in this state by any person having a claim against such corporation or its property. Trustees of corporations heretofore dissolved or whose charters have heretofore been forfeited by law shall have and discharge in the same manner and under the same obligations, all the powers and duties herein prescribed. Vacancies in the office of trustees of such corporations shall be filled as hereinbefore provided. [Amendment approved May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 380.]

§ 405. Designation of person upon whom process may be served. Service on secretary of state, when valid. [Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 381.]

§ 406. Foreign corporations, statute of limitations in favor of. Proof of corporate existence. Change of designation. [Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 381.]

§ 408. Foreign corporations to file certified copies of articles of incorporation. [Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 381.]

§ 409. Foreign corporations, fees to be paid by on filing certified copies of articles of incorporation. [Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 381.]

§ 410. Foreign corporations failing to comply with law. [Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 381.]

§ 421. Legal investments of insurance companies. Corporations organized under the laws of this state for the transaction of any kind of insurance business authorized by such laws may invest their capital, surplus and accumulations in the purchase of, or loans upon any of the securities specified in subdivisions one to five inclusive of this section.

1. U. S. bonds. Bonds or interest-bearing notes or obligations of the United States or those for which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged for the payment of principal and interest.

2. State bonds. Bonds of this state or those for which the faith and credit of the state of California are pledged for the payment of principal and interest and bonds of any other state in the United States that has not, within five years next preceding such investment by such insurance company, defaulted in payment of any part of either principal or interest due upon any legally authorized bond issue.

3. County, etc., bonds. Bonds or interest-bearing notes or obligations issued under authority of law by any county, municipality or school district in this state, or in any other state or territory of the United States; provided, that said county, municipality or school district or the state or territory in which it is located has not, within two years next preceding such investment by such insurance company, defaulted in payment of any part of either principal or interest due upon any legally authorized bond issue.

4. Road division, etc., bonds. Bonds of any permanent road division in this state, and any irrigation district bonds which the law may now or hereafter authorize as legal investments for insurance companies; provided, that the total amount of bonds issued by any such irrigation district does not exceed sixty per centum of the aggregate market value of the lands within such district, and of the water, water rights, canals, reservoirs, reservoir sites and irrigation works owned or to be acquired or constructed with the proceeds of any such bonds, by such district, such facts in reference to bonds of irrigation districts to be determined by a commission now or hereafter authorized by law to ascertain and report upon such facts.

5. First mortgage notes. (a) Notes or bonds secured by first mortgage or deed of trust or other first lien upon real estate, improved or unimproved; provided, that the principal so loaned or the entire note or bond issue so secured shall not exceed sixty per centum of the market value of such real estate, or of such real estate with improvements taken as security at the date of investment; provided, also, in case said loan is made, or said note or bond issue created for a building loan on real estate, that at no time shall the principal so loaned or the entire outstanding note or bond issue exceed sixty per centum of the market value of the real estate and the actual cost of the improvements thereon taken as security; or

(b) Notes guaranteed by policy of mortgage insurance. Notes or bonds secured by mortgage or deed of trust, payment of which is guaranteed by a policy of mortgage insurance, and mortgage participation certificates, issued by a mortgage insurance company in accordance with the provisions of chapter eight of title two of part four of division first of the Civil Code; provided, that no insurance corporation shall make any investment in any of the securities specified in subdivisions one, two, three, four and five of this section in an amount exceeding the market value of such security, at the date of such investment.

6. Investment of balance of capital. Record of investment. Corporations organized for and engaged in the business of fire, life or marine insurance, may, after the investment of two hundred thousand dollars, and corporations organized for and engaged in the business of transacting any other kind of insurance authorized by law, except mortgage insurance, may also, after the investment of one hundred thousand dollars in any of the securities specified in subdivisions one, two, three, four and five of this section, invest the balance of their capital, surplus and any accumulations in the purchase of or loans upon the stock of any corporation (except a mining corporation) organized and carrying on business under the laws of this state, or the laws of the United States, which stocks have, at the date of such investment, a market value of not less than their paid-in value, or in the purchase of, or loans upon, interest-bearing bonds issued by a corporation organized under the laws of any state or territory in the United States, which corporation has not, within five years next preceding the date of such investment, defaulted in payment of any part of either principal or interest of any bond of the issue of which the bonds which comprise such investment form a part, and which stocks or bonds must, in each case, be rated as first-class securities; provided, that any investment made, under the provisions of this subdivision of this section shall be approved by vote of two-thirds of all the directors of the investing corporation. Such approval shall be entered upon the records or minutes of such corporation. Such entry must show the fact of making such investment, the amount thereof, the name of each director voting to approve the same, the amount, character and value of the security purchased or taken as collateral, and if the investment be a loan, the name of the borrower, the rate of interest thereon, and the date when the loan will become due or payable. It shall be the duty of the secretary of any such investing corporation to report in writing during the months of January and July of each year to the insurance commissioner, the data above set forth respecting each such investment, and the insurance commissioner may, if any such investment is not approved by him, require the corporation to sell or dispose of the same.

7. Policy loans. Life insurance companies may also loan upon their own policies; provided, that the amount so loaned upon each policy shall not exceed the reserve against said policy at the time said loan is made; provided, further, that no policy loans whatever shall ever be used as security which may be deposited with the insurance commissioner under section six hundred thirty-four of the Political Code; and provided, further, that whenever any such loan in any amount is made on a policy registered with the insurance commissioner under said section six hundred thirty-four of the Political Code, such registration shall be forthwith canceled.

8. Securities issued in foreign country. Any insurance company of this state doing business in any foreign country may invest so much of its funds as are required to meet its obligation incurred in such foreign country and in conformity to the laws thereof, in the same kind of securities issued in such foreign country that such company is by law allowed to invest in this state, and subject to the limitations imposed by law in this state. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 976.]

§ 453e. Corporations for insurance on assessment plan. Investment in bonds. Certificate of insurance commissioner. Corporations may be formed to carry on the business of mutual insurance upon the assessment plan, and are subject only to the provisions of this chapter. No such corporation may issue contracts of insurance until at least five hundred persons have applied, in writing, to the insurance commissioner, for membership or insurance therein, and have paid to the treasurer of such corporation the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars. This sum must be invested in bonds or securities, approved by the insurance commissioner of this state, or deposited in some bank in this state where it will earn interest. Said bonds or securities, or evidence of such deposit, must be placed, through the insurance commissioner of this state, with the state treasurer, and the principal sum must be held in trust for the contract holders of such corporation, with the right in the corporation to exchange said bonds, securities, or evidence of bank deposit for others of like value. Such corporation must also, as a condition precedent to issuing any contracts of insurance, obtain the written certificate of the insurance commissioner that it has complied with the requirements of this chapter; and that the name of the corporation is not the same as that of any other corporation of this or other states, as indicated by the insurance department reports in his office; nor must the commissioner approve any name or title so closely resembling another as to mislead the public. No corporation formed hereunder has legal existence after one year from the date of its articles, unless its organization has been completed and business commenced; nor shall any corporation or individual solicit, or cause to be solicited, any business, until such corporation has complied with the provisions of section six hundred thirty-three of the Political Code. Nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed to exempt any corporation from the provisions of sections two hundred ninety-six and two hundred ninety-nine of this code. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 955.]

§ 594. Incorporation of associations having no fixed place of business. Any association of this state mentioned in title twelve of part four of division first of the Civil Code made up of constituent or member clubs, or other subordinate bodies, having a common periodical or occasional convention or other general assemblage whether of members or delegates, and operating on the federation plan, whether state, district or otherwise, or having no fixed meeting place for such assemblages, or having no fixed office or principal place of business in any one county or city and county or for the meetings of its agencies or committees or officers, and which association determines such place or places from time to time through its agencies and according to its rules and customs, may incorporate under the provisions of said title for purposes other than profit and without capital stock. The articles of incorporation upon there being therein stated any of the matters hereinabove mentioned inconsistent with any part or parts of section two hundred ninety of the Civil Code need not make, as to such inconsistent matters, the statements required by said section; but such articles shall be governed otherwise by said section and the rules of section six hundred three of said code as it now stands, except that the same officers who acted as such at the meeting authorizing the incorporation shall be the ones to execute the articles and that the word incorporation is to be deemed substituted for the word authority where the latter is used in said section; and provided, further, that it shall be immaterial whether such authorization is made after or before this section goes into effect if the proceedings show it to have been made in view thereof; and, further, that such articles of incorporation, shall set forth a means whereby its office and constitutional principal place of business, which must be in this state, as it exists from time to time, may be ascertained; or must state that same shall be provided by constitution or by-law; and, until such provision is otherwise made, said place shall be the place of business, or if none such the residence, from time to time, in this state of the chief executive officer of the corporation. [New section added May 23, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 830.]

§ 604a. Formation of religious corporations. Directors. Attesting of certificate of incorporation. Powers. For the administration of the temporalities, and for the management of the property and estate of any church, diocese, synod, or district or other organization of such church, or for the administration of the temporalities, and for the management of the property and estate of any religious society or order, community, or other organization of said religious society or order, any church, diocese, synod or other organization of such church, or any community or other council, or other organization of any such religious society or order, or of any community or other organization of such religious society or order, may elect directors and become an incorporation in the manner prescribed in this title, and with all the powers and duties and for the uses and purposes in this title provided for benevolent or religious incorporations, and subject to all the limitations and provisions in said title prescribed, except as otherwise provided in this section; provided, that directors of any such incorporation may be elected and by-laws for its government may be made and amended in accordance with the constitution, by-laws, discipline, rules and regulations of such church, diocese, synod, or district or other organization of such church, or in accordance with the constitution, by-laws, discipline, rules and regulations of such religious society or order, or of any community, or other organization of such religious society or order, at any meeting; and provided, the certificate of incorporation and of the election of directors to be filed shall be sufficiently attested by the signatures of the presiding officer, president, or other head, and acting secretary of such church, diocese, synod, or other organization of such church, or of the community or other council or other organization of such society or order, and that the limitations of section five hundred ninety-five shall not apply to such corporations heretofore organized or formed, or hereafter organized under this section when land is held or used for churches, hospitals, schools, colleges, asylums, or parsonages. Every such corporation heretofore organized or formed, or hereafter organized pursuant to the provisions of this section shall have power to contract in the same manner and to the same extent as a natural person, and may sue and be sued, and may defend in all courts and places in all matters and proceedings whatsoever and shall have authority to borrow money, give promissory notes therefor, and secure the payment thereof by mortgage or other lien upon property real or personal, and may buy, sell, lease, mortgage and deal in real and personal property in the same manner that a natural person may, subject, however, to the provisions of section five hundred ninety-eight of this code; and may receive bequests and devises for its own use, or upon trusts, to the same extent as a natural person, subject, however, to the provisions of section one thousand three hundred thirteen of the Civil Code of the State of California and may appoint attorneys in fact. [Amendment approved May 21, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 784.]

§ 638. Security for loans. Interest. For every loan made a note or obligation, expressing and setting forth the exact rate of interest, must be executed by the borrower, secured by a first mortgage or deed of trust upon unencumbered real estate having an appraised value of not less than twenty-five per cent in excess of the face of the loan, except such loans as may be made upon the security of bonds specified in section six hundred forty-seven; or in lieu of a mortgage or deed of trust, loans to the extent of not exceeding ninety per cent of the then withdrawable value, may be made upon the pledge of free shares or certificates as security for their repayment. The board of directors may from time to time fix the rate of interest to be charged on loans. A borrower may at any time repay his loan together with interest or arrears due thereon and upon the surrender of the shares, or certificate pledged as security therefor. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 780.]

§ 715. Restraints upon alienation. Except in the single case mentioned in section seven hundred seventy-two, the absolute power of alienation cannot be suspended, by any limitation or condition whatever, for a longer period than as follows:

1. During the continuance of the lives of persons in being at the creation of the limitation or condition; or

2. For a period not to exceed twenty-five years from the time of the creation of the suspension. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 699.]

§ 718. Period of lease of city lots. Property of minor or incompetent. Tide-lands. Purposes for which tide-lands may be leased. No lease or grant of any town or city lot for a longer period than ninety-nine years, in which shall be reserved any rent or service of any kind, shall be valid; provided, that the property of any municipality, or any minor or incompetent person, shall not be leased for a longer period than ten years, excepting that the sewer farm of a municipality and all waters and sewage used or discharged thereon may be leased for a period not exceeding twenty-five years; and excepting that the tide-lands and submerged lands granted to any city by the state, or any lands belonging to such city adjacent to such tide-lands and submerged lands, may be leased for a period not exceeding forty years if the grant from the state of California of the use of said tide-lands and submerged lands does not provide specifically for a term of years for which said lands may be leased. Said tide-lands and submerged lands and lands adjacent thereto can only be leased for industrial uses, the purpose of improvement and development of the harbor of said city, and the construction and maintenance of wharves, docks, piers or bulkhead piers or for other public uses and purposes consistent with the requirements of commerce or navigation at said harbor. [Amendment approved May 21, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 798.]

§ 1313. Restrictions on devises or bequests for charitable uses. Bequests to state excepted. No estate, real or personal, shall be bequeathed or devised to any charitable or benevolent society or corporation, or to any person or persons in trust for charitable uses, except the same be done by will duly executed at least thirty days before the decease of the testator; and if so made at least thirty days prior to such death, such devise or legacy and each of them shall be valid; provided, that no such devise or bequest shall collectively exceed one-third of the estate of the testator, leaving legal heirs, and in such case a pro rata deduction from such devises or bequests shall be made so as to reduce the aggregate thereof to one-third of such estate; and all dispositions of property made contrary hereto shall be void, and go to the residuary legatee or devisee, next of kin, or heirs, according to law; and provided, further, that bequests and devises to the state, or to any state institution, or for the use or benefit of the state or any state institution, are excepted from the restrictions of this section. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 272.]

§ 1405. Escheat property. Recovery. Whenever any person dies leaving any property in this state not disposed of by will, and there are no persons entitled to succeed thereto under the laws of this state, the same shall escheat to the state as of the date of the death of the decedent. The property or proceeds of any estate deposited in the state treasury after final decree of distribution or judgment of the superior court by reason of the failure of heirs to make claim thereto may be recovered upon judgment of the superior court or order of the state board of control as provided in the Code of Civil Procedure. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 255.]

§ 1861a. Liens of keepers of furnished apartment houses. Keepers of furnished apartment houses shall have a lien upon the baggage and other property of value belonging to their tenants or guests, which may be in such furnished apartment house, for the proper charges due from such tenants or guests, for their accommodation, rent, services, meals, and such extras as are furnished at their request, and for all moneys expended for them, at their request, and for the costs of enforcing such lien, with the right to the possession of such baggage and other property of value until such charges are paid, and such moneys are repaid; and unless such charges shall be paid and unless such moneys shall be repaid within sixty days from the time when such charges and moneys, respectively, become due, said keeper of a furnished apartment house may sell said baggage and property, at public auction to the highest bidder, after giving notice of such sale by publication of a notice containing the name of the debtor, the amount due, a brief description of the property to be sold, and the time and place of such sale, once every week, for four successive weeks, prior to the date of sale, in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which said furnished apartment house is situated, and also by mailing, at least fifteen days prior to the date of sale, a copy of such notice addressed to such tenant or guest at his postoffice address, if known, and if not known, such notice shall be addressed to such tenant or guest at the place where such furnished apartment house is situated; and, after satisfying such lien out of the proceeds of such sale, together with any reasonable costs that may have been incurred in enforcing said lien, the residue of said proceeds of sale, if any, shall, upon demand made within six months after such sale, be paid by said keeper of a furnished apartment house to such tenant or guest; and if not demanded within six months from the date of such sale, said residue, if any, shall be paid into the treasury of the county in which such sale took place; and if the same be not claimed by the owner thereof, or his legal representative, within one year thereafter, it shall be paid into the general fund of the county; and such sale shall be a perpetual bar to any action against said keeper of a furnished apartment house for the recovery of such baggage or property, or of the value thereof, or for any damages growing out of the failure of such tenant or guest to receive such baggage or property. [New section added June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1662.]

§ 2767. Disposition by beneficiary of interest in installment. The beneficiary under a policy of life insurance, providing for the payment of the proceeds thereof in periodical installments, may be restrained from disposing of or encumbering his interest in any such installment, prior to the date when it shall become due and payable by the insurer, by a condition or stipulation in the policy. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1314.]

§ 2924. Transfer, when mortgage, when pledge. Power of sale to be exercised when. Every transfer of an interest in property, other than in trust, made only as a security for the performance of another act, is to be deemed a mortgage, except when in the case of personal property it is accompanied by actual change of possession, in which case it is to be deemed a pledge.

Where, by a mortgage hereafter created, of any estate in real property, other than an estate at will or for years, less than two, or in any transfer in trust hereafter made of a like estate to secure the performance of an obligation, a power of sale is conferred upon the mortgagee, trustee, or any other person, to be exercised after a breach of the obligation for which such mortgage or transfer is a security, such power shall not be exercised (except where such mortgage or transfer is made pursuant to an order, judgment, or decree of a court of record, or to secure the payment of bonds or other evidences of indebtedness authorized or permitted to be issued by the commissioner of corporations, or is made by a public utility subject to the provisions of the public utilities act), until, (a) the mortgagee or beneficiary shall first record, in the office of the recorder of the county wherein the mortgaged or trust property or some part thereof is situated, a notice of such breach and of his election to sell or cause to be sold such property to satisfy the obligation; (b) not less than three months shall thereafter elapse; and (c) the mortgagee, trustee or other person authorized to make the sale shall give notice of the time and place thereof, in the manner and for a time not less than that required by law for sales of real property upon execution. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 300.]

VIII. Discharge of Negotiable Instruments, §§ 3200–3206.

ARTICLE I.

Form and Interpretation.

§ 3082. Form of negotiable instrument.
§ 3083. Certainty as to sum; what constitutes.
§ 3084. When promise is unconditional.
§ 3085. Determinable future time, what constitutes.
§ 3086. Additional provisions not affecting negotiability.
§ 3087. Omissions; seal; particular money.
§ 3088. When payable on demand.
§ 3089. When payable to order.
§ 3090. When payable to bearer.
§ 3091. Terms when sufficient.
§ 3092. Date, presumption as to.
§ 3093. Antedated and postdated.
§ 3094. When date may be inserted.
§ 3095. Blanks; when may be filled.
§ 3096. Incomplete instrument not delivered.
§ 3097. Delivery; where effectual; when presumed.
§ 3098. Construction where instrument is ambiguous.
§ 3099. Liability of person signing in trade or assumed name.
§ 3100. Signature by agent; authority; how shown.
§ 3101. Liability of person signing as agent, etc.
§ 3102. Signature by procuration; effect of.
§ 3103. Effect of indorsement by infant or corporation.
§ 3104. Forged signature; effect of.

§ 3082. Requirements for negotiable instrument. An instrument to be negotiable must conform to the following requirements:

(1) It must be in writing and signed by the maker or drawer;

(2) Must contain an unconditional promise or order to pay a sum certain in money;

(3) Must be payable on demand, or at a fixed or determinable future time;

(4) Must be payable to order or to bearer; and

(5) Where the instrument is addressed to a drawee, he must be named or otherwise indicated therein with reasonable certainty.

NOTE.—All of Title XV of Part IV of Division Third of the Civil Code, containing Sections 3086 to 3262, inclusive, and relating to negotiable instruments, was repealed by an act approved June 1, 1917 (Stats. 1917, p. 1533), and a new Title XV was adopted in its place. The new title adopted is what is known as the Uniform Negotiable Instruments Law. Crawford, in his work on the Annotated Negotiable Instruments Law, treats this law fully.

§ 3083. Sum payable certain. The sum payable is a sum certain within the meaning of this act, although it is to be paid—

(1) With interest; or

(2) By stated installments; or

(3) By stated installments, with a provision that upon default in payment of any installment or of interest, the whole shall become due; or

(4) With exchange, whether at a fixed rate or at the current rate; or

(5) With costs of collection or an attorney's fee, in case payment shall not be made at maturity.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3084. Unqualified promise unconditional. An unqualified order or promise to pay is unconditional within the meaning of this act, though coupled with—

(1) An indication of a particular fund out of which reimbursement is to be made, or a particular account to be debited with the amount; or

(2) A statement of the transaction which gives rise to the instrument. But an order or promise to pay out of a particular fund is not unconditional.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3085. Time for payment. An instrument is payable at a determinable future time, within the meaning of this act, which is expressed to be payable—

(1) At a fixed period after date or sight; or

(2) On or before a fixed or determinable future time specified therein; or

(3) On or at a fixed period after the occurrence of a specified event, which is certain to happen, though the time of happening be uncertain.

An instrument payable upon a contingency is not negotiable, and the happening of the event does not cure the defect.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3086. Non-negotiable instrument. An instrument which contains an order or promise to do any act in addition to the payment of money is not negotiable. But the negotiable character of an instrument otherwise negotiable is not affected by a provision which—

(1) Authorizes the sale of collateral securities in case the instrument be not paid at maturity; or

(2) Authorizes a confession of judgment if the instrument be not paid at maturity; or

(3) Waives the benefit of any law intended for the advantage or protection of the obligor; or

(4) Gives the holder an election to require something to be done in lieu of payment of money.

But nothing in this section shall validate any provision or stipulation otherwise illegal.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3087. Negotiability not affected. The validity and negotiable character of an instrument are not affected by the fact that—

(1) It is not dated; or

(2) Does not specify the value given, or that any value has been given therefor; or

(3) Does not specify the place where it is drawn or the place where it is payable; or

(4) Bears a seal; or

(5) Designates a particular kind of current money in which payment is to be made.

But nothing in this section shall alter or repeal any statute requiring in certain cases the nature of the consideration to be stated in the instrument.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3088. Payable on demand. An instrument is payable on demand—

(1) Where it is expressed to be payable on demand, or at sight, or on presentation; or

(2) In which no time for payment is expressed.

Where an instrument is issued, accepted, or indorsed when overdue, it is, as regards the person so issuing, accepting, or indorsing it, payable on demand.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3089. Payable to order. The instrument is payable to order where it is drawn payable to the order of a specified person or to him or his order. It may be drawn payable to the order of—

(1) A payee who is not maker, drawer, or drawee; or
(2) The drawer or maker; or
(3) The drawee; or
(4) Two or more payees jointly; or
(5) One or some of several payees; or
(6) The holder of an office for the time being.

Where the instrument is payable to order the payee must be named or otherwise indicated therein with reasonable certainty.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3090. Payable to bearer. The instrument is payable to bearer—

(1) When it is expressed to be so payable; or
(2) When it is payable to a person named therein or bearer; or
(3) When it is payable to the order of a fictitious or nonexisting person, and such fact was known to the person making it so payable; or
(4) When the name of the payee does not purport to be the name of any person; or
(5) When the only or last indorsement is an indorsement in blank.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3091. Language of instrument. The instrument need not follow the language of this act, but any terms are sufficient which clearly indicate an intention to conform to the requirements hereof.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3092. True date. Where the instrument or an acceptance of any indorsement thereon is dated, such date is deemed prima facie to be the true date of the making, drawing, acceptance, or indorsement as the case may be.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3093. Ante or post dating. The instrument is not invalid for the reason only that it is antedated or postdated, provided this is not done for an illegal or fraudulent purpose. The person to whom an instrument so dated is delivered acquires the title thereto as of the date of delivery.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3094. Instrument undated. Where an instrument expressed to be payable at a fixed period after date is issued undated, or where the acceptance of an instrument payable at a fixed period after sight is undated, any holder may insert therein the true date or issue or acceptance, and the instrument shall be payable accordingly. The insertion of a wrong date does not avoid the instrument in the hands of a subsequent holder in due course; but as to him, the date so inserted is to be regarded as the true date.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3095. Filling up blanks. Where the instrument is wanting in any material particular, the person in possession thereof has a prima facie authority to complete it by filling up the blanks therein. And a signature on a blank paper delivered by the person making the signature in order that the paper may be converted into a negotiable instrument operates as a prima facie authority to fill it up as such for any amount. In order, however, that any such instrument when completed may be enforced against any person who became a party thereto prior to its completion, it must be filled up strictly in accordance with the authority given and within a reasonable time. But if any such instrument, after completion, is negotiated to a holder in due course, it is valid and effectual for all purposes in his hands, and he may enforce it as if it had been filled up strictly in accordance with the authority given and within a reasonable time.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3096. Incomplete instrument not delivered. Where an incomplete instrument has not been delivered it will not, if completed and negotiated, without authority, be a valid contract in the hands of any holder, as against any person whose signature was placed thereon before delivery.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3097. Delivery necessary. Every contract on a negotiable instrument is incomplete and revocable until delivery of the instrument for the purpose of giving effect thereto. As between immediate parties, and as regards a remote party other than a holder in due course, the delivery, in order to be effectual, must be made either by or under the authority of the party making, drawing, accepting or indorsing, as the case may be; and in such case the delivery may be shown to have been conditional, or for a special purpose only, and not for the purpose of transferring the property in the instrument. But where the instrument is in the hands of a holder in due course, a valid delivery thereof by all parties prior to him so as to make them liable to him is conclusively presumed. And where the instrument is no longer in the possession of a party whose signature appears thereon, a valid and intentional delivery by him is presumed until the contrary is proved.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3098. Rules of construction. Where the language of the instrument is ambiguous or there are omissions therein, the following rules of construction apply:

(1) Where the sum payable is expressed in words and also in figures and there is a discrepancy between the two, the sum denoted by the words is the sum payable; but if the words are ambiguous or uncertain, reference may be had to the figures to fix the amount;

(2) Where the instrument provides for the payment of interest, without specifying the date from which interest is to run, the interest runs from the date of the instrument, and if the instrument is undated, from the issue thereof;

(3) Where the instrument is not dated, it will be considered to be dated as of the time it was issued;

(4) Where there is a conflict between the written and printed provisions of the instrument, the written provisions prevail;

(5) Where the instrument is so ambiguous that there is doubt whether it is a bill or note, the holder may treat it as either at his election;

(6) Where a signature is so placed upon the instrument that it is not clear in what capacity the person making the same intended to sign, he is to be deemed an indorser;

(7) Where an instrument containing the words "I promise to pay" is signed by two or more persons, they are deemed to be jointly and severally liable thereon.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3099. Liability on instrument. No person is liable on the instrument whose signature does not appear thereon, except as herein otherwise expressly provided. But one who signs in a trade or assumed name will be liable to the same extent as if he had signed in his own name.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3100. Signature by agent. The signature of any party may be made by a duly authorized agent. No particular form of appointment is necessary for this purpose; and the authority of the agent may be established as in other cases of agency.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3101. Liability of agent. Where the instrument contains or a person adds to his signature words indicating that he signs for or on behalf of a principal, or in a representative capacity, he is not liable on the instrument if he was duly authorized; but the mere addition of words describing him as an agent, or as filling a representative character, without disclosing his principal, does not exempt him from personal liability.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3102. Signature by "procuration." A signature by "procuration" operates as notice that the agent has but a limited authority to sign, and the principal is bound only in case the agent in so signing acted within the actual limits of his authority.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3103. Indorsement by corporation or infant. The indorsement or assignment of the instrument by a corporation or by an infant passes the property therein, notwithstanding that from want of capacity the corporation or infant may incur no liability thereon.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3104. Forged signature. When a signature is forged or made without the authority of the person whose signature it purports to be, it is wholly inoperative, and no right to retain the instrument, or to give a discharge therefor, or to enforce payment thereof against any party thereto, can be acquired through or under such signature, unless the party, against whom it is sought to enforce such right, is precluded from setting up the forgery or want of authority.

See note to § 3082.

ARTICLE II.

Consideration.

§ 3105. Presumption of consideration.
§ 3106. Consideration, what constitutes.
§ 3107. What constitutes holder for value.
§ 3108. When lien on instrument constitutes holder for value.
§ 3109. Effect of want of consideration.
§ 3110. Liability of accommodation party.

§ 3105. Presumption of consideration. Every negotiable instrument is deemed prima facie to have been issued for a valuable consideration; and every person whose signature appears thereon to have become a party thereto for value.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3106. Consideration, what constitutes. Value is any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract. An antecedent or pre-existing debt constitutes value; and is deemed such whether the instrument is payable on demand or at a future time.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3107. Holder for value. Where value has at any time been given for the instrument, the holder is deemed a holder for value in respect to all parties who become such prior to that time.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3108. Lien on instrument. Where the holder has a lien on the instrument, arising either from contract or by implication of law, he is deemed a holder for value to the extent of his lien.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3109. Effect of want of consideration. Absence or failure of consideration is matter of defense as against any person not a holder in due course; and partial failure of consideration is a defense pro tanto, whether the failure is an ascertained and liquidated amount or otherwise.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3110. Liability of accommodation party. An accommodation party is one who has signed the instrument as maker, drawer, acceptor, or indorser, without receiving value therefor, and for the purpose of lending his name to some other person. Such a person is liable on the instrument to a holder for value, notwithstanding such holder at the time of taking the instrument knew him to be only an accommodation party.

See note to § 3082.

ARTICLE III.

Negotiation.

§ 3111. What constitutes negotiation.
§ 3112. Indorsement; how made.
§ 3113. Indorsement must be of entire instrument.
§ 3114. Kinds of indorsement.
§ 3115. Special indorsement.
§ 3116. Blank indorsement; how changed to special indorsement.
§ 3117. When indorsement restrictive.
§ 3118. Effect of restricting indorsement; rights of indorsee.
§ 3119. Qualified indorsement.
§ 3120. Conditional indorsement.
§ 3121. Indorsement of instrument payable to bearer.
§ 3122. Indorsement where payable to two or more persons.
§ 3123. Effect of instrument drawn or indorsed to a person as cashier.
§ 3124. Indorsement where name is misspelled, etc.
§ 3125. Indorsement in representative capacity.
§ 3126. Time of indorsement; presumption.
§ 3127. Place of indorsement; presumption.
§ 3128. Continuation of negotiable character.
§ 3129. Striking out indorsement.
§ 3130. Transfer without indorsement; effect of.
§ 3131. When prior party may negotiate instrument.

§ 3111. Negotiation. An instrument is negotiated when it is transferred from one person to another in such manner as to constitute the transferee the holder thereof. If payable to bearer it is negotiated by delivery; if payable to order it is negotiated by the indorsement of the holder completed by delivery.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3112. Indorsement. The indorsement must be written on the instrument itself or upon a paper attached thereto. The signature of the indorser, without additional words, is a sufficient indorsement.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3113. Indorsement of entire instrument. The indorsement must be an indorsement of the entire instrument. An indorsement which purports to transfer to the indorsee a part only of the amount payable, or which purports to transfer the instrument to two or more indorsees severally, does not operate as a negotiation of the instrument. But where the instrument has been paid in part, it may be indorsed as to the residue.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3114. Kinds of indorsement. An indorsement may be either special or in blank; and it may also be either restrictive or qualified, or conditional.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3115. Special indorsement. A special indorsement specifies the person to whom, or to whose order, the instrument is to be payable; and the indorsement of such indorsee is necessary to the further negotiation of the instrument. An indorsement in blank specifies no indorsee, and an instrument so indorsed is payable to bearer, and may be negotiated by delivery.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3116. Blank indorsement, how changed to special indorsement. The holder may convert a blank indorsement into a special indorsement by writing over the signature of the indorser in blank any contract consistent with the character of the indorsement.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3117. Indorsement restrictive. An indorsement is restrictive, which either—

(1) Prohibits the further negotiation of the instrument; or

(2) Constitutes the indorsee the agent of the indorser; or

(3) Vests the title in the indorsee in trust for or to the use of some other person.

But the mere absence of words implying power to negotiate does not make an indorsement restrictive.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3118. Rights conferred. A restrictive indorsement confers upon the indorsee the right—

(1) To receive payment of the instrument;

(2) To bring any action thereon that the indorser could bring;

(3) To transfer his rights as such indorsee, where the form of the indorsement authorizes him to do so.

But all subsequent indorsees acquire only the title of the first indorsee under the restrictive indorsement.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3119. Qualified indorsement. A qualified indorsement constitutes the indorser a mere assignor of the title to the instrument. It may be made by adding to the indorser's signature the words "without recourse" or any words of similar import. Such an indorsement does not impair the negotiable character of the instrument.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3120. Conditional indorsement. Where an indorsement is conditional, a party required to pay the instrument may disregard the condition, and make payment to the indorsee or his transferee, whether the condition has been fulfilled or not. But any person to whom an instrument so indorsed is negotiated, will hold the same, or the proceeds thereof, subject to the rights of the person indorsing conditionally.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3121. Payable to bearer. Where an instrument, payable to bearer, is indorsed specially it may nevertheless be further negotiated by delivery; but the person indorsing specially is liable as indorser to only such holders as make title through his indorsement.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3122. Payable to two or more persons. Where an instrument is payable to the order of two or more payees or indorsees who are not partners, all must indorse, unless the one indorsing has authority to indorse for the others.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3123. Indorsed to person as "cashier." Where an instrument is drawn or indorsed to person as "cashier" or other fiscal officer of a bank or corporation, it is deemed prima facie to be payable to the bank or corporation of which he is such officer; and may be negotiated by either the indorsement of the bank or corporation, or the indorsement of the officer.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3124. Name misspelled. Where the name of a payee or indorsee is wrongly designated or misspelled, he may indorse the instrument as therein described, adding, if he think fit, his proper signature.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3125. In representative capacity. Where any person is under obligation to indorse in a representative capacity, he may indorse in such terms as to negative personal liability.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3126. Time of indorsement. Except where an indorsement bears date after the maturity of the instrument, every negotiation is deemed prima facie to have been effected before the instrument was overdue.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3127. Place of indorsement. Except where the contrary appears, every indorsement is presumed prima facie to have been made at the place where the instrument is dated.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3128. Continuation. An instrument negotiable in its origin continues to be negotiable until it has been restrictively indorsed or discharged by payment or otherwise.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3129. Striking out indorsement. The holder may at any time strike out any indorsement which is not necessary to his title. The indorser whose indorsement is struck out, and all indorsers subsequent to him, are thereby relieved from liability on the instrument.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3130. Transfer without indorsement. Where the holder of an instrument payable to his order transfers it for value without indorsing it, the transfer vests in the transferee such title as the transferrer had therein, and the transferee acquires, in addition, the right to have the indorsement of the transferrer. But for the purpose of determining whether the transferee is a holder in due course, the negotiation takes effect as of the time when the indorsement is actually made.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3131. Prior party may negotiate. Where an instrument is negotiated back to a prior party such party may, subject to the provisions of this title, reissue and further negotiate the same. But he is not entitled to enforce payment thereof against any intervening party to whom he was personally liable.

See note to § 3082.

ARTICLE IV.

Rights of the Holder.

§ 3132. Right of holder to sue; payment.
§ 3133. What constitutes a holder in due course.
§ 3134. When person not deemed holder in due course.
§ 3135. Notice before full amount paid.
§ 3136. When title defective.
§ 3137. What constitutes notice of defect.
§ 3138. Rights of holder in due course.
§ 3139. When subject to original defenses.
§ 3140. Who deemed holder in due course.

§ 3132. Right to sue. The holder of a negotiable instrument may sue thereon in his own name and payment to him in due course discharges the instrument.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3133. Holder in due course. A holder in due course is a holder who has taken the instrument under the following conditions:

(1) That it is complete and regular upon its face;

(2) That he became the holder of it before it was overdue, and without notice that it had been previously dishonored, if such was the fact;

(3) That he took it in good faith and for value;

(4) That at the time it was negotiated to him he had no notice of any infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating it.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3134. Not holder in due course. Where an instrument payable on demand is negotiated an unreasonable length of time after its issue, the holder is not deemed a holder in due course.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3135. Notice before full amount paid. Where the transferee receives notice of any infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating the same before he has paid the full amount agreed to be paid therefor, he will be deemed a holder in due course only to the extent of the amount theretofore paid by him.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3136. When title defective. The title of a person who negotiates an instrument is defective within the meaning of this title when he obtained the instrument, or any signature thereto, by fraud, duress, or force and fear, or other unlawful means, or for an illegal consideration, or when he negotiates it in breach of faith, or under such circumstances as amount to a fraud.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3137. Notice of defect. To constitute notice of an infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating the same, the person to whom it is negotiated must have had actual knowledge of the infirmity or defect, or knowledge of such facts that his action in taking the instrument amounted to bad faith.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3138. Rights of holder in due course. A holder in due course holds the instrument free from any defect of title of prior parties, and free from defenses available to prior parties among themselves, and may enforce payment of the instrument for the full amount thereof against all parties liable thereon.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3139. When subject to original. In the hands of any holder other than a holder in due course, a negotiable instrument is subject to the same defenses as if it were non-negotiable. But a holder who derives his title through a holder in due course, and who is not himself a party to any fraud or illegality affecting the instrument, has all the rights of such former holder in respect of all parties prior to the latter.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3140. Who deemed holder in due course. Every holder is deemed prima facie to be a holder in due course; but when it is shown that the title of any person who has negotiated the instrument was defective, the burden is on the holder to prove that he or some person under whom he claims acquired the title as holder in due course. But the last-mentioned rule does not apply in favor of a party who became bound on the instrument prior to the acquisition of such defective title.

See note to § 3082.

ARTICLE V.

Liabilities of Parties.

§ 3141. Liability of maker.
§ 3142. Liability of drawer.
§ 3143. Liability of acceptor.
§ 3144. When person deemed indorser.
§ 3145. Liability of irregular indorser.
§ 3146. Warranty where negotiation by delivery, etc.
§ 3147. Liability of general indorser.
§ 3148. Liability of indorser where paper negotiable by delivery.
§ 3149. Order in which indorsers are liable.
§ 3150. Liability of an agent or broker.

§ 3141. Liability of maker. The maker of a negotiable instrument by making it engages that he will pay it according to its tenor, and admits the existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3142. Liability of drawer. The drawer by drawing the instrument admits the existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse; and engages that on due presentment the instrument will be accepted or paid, or both, according to its tenor, and that if it be dishonored, and the necessary proceedings on dishonor be duly taken, he will pay the amount thereof to the holder, or to any subsequent indorser who may be compelled to pay it. But the drawer may insert in the instrument an express stipulation negativing or limiting his own liability to the holder.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3143. Liability of acceptor. The acceptor by accepting the instrument engages that he will pay it according to the tenor of his acceptance; and admits—

(1) The existence of the drawer, the genuineness of his signature, and his capacity and authority to draw the instrument; and

(2) The existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3144. Person deemed indorser. A person placing his signature upon an instrument otherwise than as maker, drawer, or acceptor, is deemed to be an indorser, unless he clearly indicates by appropriate words his intention to be bound in some other capacity.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3145. Liability of irregular indorser. Where a person, not otherwise a party to an instrument, places thereon his signature in blank before delivery he is liable as indorser, in accordance with the following rules:

(1) If the instrument is payable to the order of a third person, he is liable to the payee and to all subsequent parties.

(2) If the instrument is payable to the order of the maker or drawer, or is payable to bearer, he is liable to all parties subsequent to the maker or drawer.

(3) If he signs for the accommodation of the payee, he is liable to all parties subsequent to the payee.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3146. Warranty when negotiation by delivery, etc. Every person negotiating an instrument by delivery or by a qualified indorsement, warrants—

(1) That the instrument is genuine and in all respects what it purports to be;

(2) That he has a good title to it;

(3) That all prior parties had capacity to contract;

(4) That he has no knowledge of any fact which would impair the validity of the instrument or render it valueless.

But when the negotiation is by delivery only, the warranty extends in favor of no holder other than the immediate transferee.

The provisions of subdivision three of this section do not apply to persons negotiating public or corporation securities, other than bills and notes.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3147. Liability of general indorser. Every indorser who indorses without qualification, warrants to all subsequent holders in due course—

(1) The matters and things mentioned in subdivision one, two and three of the next preceding section; and

(2) That the instrument is at the time of his indorsement valid and subsisting.

And, in addition, he engages that on due presentment, it shall be accepted or paid, or both, as the case may be, according to its tenor, and that if it be dishonored, and the necessary proceedings on dishonor be duly taken, he will pay the amount thereof to the holder, or to any subsequent indorser who may be compelled to pay it.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3148. When negotiable by delivery. Where a person places his indorsement on an instrument negotiable by delivery he incurs all the liabilities of an indorser.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3149. Order in which indorsers liable. As respects one another indorsers are liable prima facie in the order in which they indorse; but evidence is admissible to show that as between or among themselves they have agreed otherwise. Joint payees or joint indorsers who indorse are deemed to indorse jointly and severally.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3150. Liability of broker or agent. Where a broker or other agent negotiates an instrument without indorsement he incurs all the liabilities prescribed by section three thousand one hundred forty-seven, unless he discloses the name of his principal, and the fact that he is acting only as agent.

See note to § 3082.

ARTICLE VI.

Presentment for Payment.

§ 3151. Effect of want of demand on principal debtor.
§ 3152. Presentment where instrument is not payable on demand and where payable on demand.
§ 3153. What constitutes a sufficient presentment.
§ 3154. Place of presentment.
§ 3155. Instrument must be exhibited.
§ 3156. Presentment where instrument payable at bank.
§ 3157. Presentment where principal debtor is dead.
§ 3158. Presentment to persons liable as partners.
§ 3159. Presentment to joint debtors.
§ 3160. When presentment not required to charge the drawer.
§ 3161. When presentment not required to charge the indorser.
§ 3162. When delay in making presentment is excused.
§ 3163. When presentment may be dispensed with.
§ 3164. When instrument dishonored by nonpayment.
§ 3165. Liability of person secondarily liable, when instrument dishonored.
§ 3166. Time of maturity.
§ 3167. Time; how computed.
§ 3168. Rule where instrument payable at bank.
§ 3169. What constitutes payment in due course.

§ 3151. Presentment for payment. Presentment for payment is not necessary in order to charge the person primarily liable on the instrument; but if the instrument is, by its terms, payable at a special place, and he is able and willing to pay it there at maturity, such ability and willingness are equivalent to a tender of payment upon his part. But except as herein otherwise provided, presentment for payment is necessary in order to charge the drawer and indorsers.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3152. Presentment for payment. Where the instrument is not payable on demand, presentment must be made on the day it falls due. Where it is payable on demand, presentment must be made within a reasonable time after its issue, except that in the case of a bill of exchange, presentment for payment will be sufficient if made within a reasonable time after the last negotiation thereof.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3153. What constitutes sufficient presentment. Presentment for payment, to be sufficient, must be made—

(1) By the holder, or by some person authorized to receive payment on his behalf;

(2) At a reasonable hour on a business day;

(3) At a proper place as herein defined;

(4) To the person primarily liable on the instrument or if he is absent or inaccessible, to any person found at the place where the presentment is made.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3154. Place of presentment. Presentment for payment is made at the proper place—

(1) Where a place of payment is specified in the instrument and it is there presented;

(2) Where no place of payment is specified, but the address of the person to make payment is given in the instrument and it is there presented;

(3) Where no place of payment is specified and no address is given and the instrument is presented at the usual place of business or residence of the person to make payment;

(4) In any other case if presented to the person to make payment wherever he can be found, or if presented at his last known place of business or residence.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3155. Must be exhibited. The instrument must be exhibited to the person from whom payment is demanded, and when it is paid must be delivered up to the party paying it.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3156. Where payable at bank. Where the instrument is payable at a bank, presentment for payment must be made during banking hours, unless the person to make payment has no funds there to meet it at any time during the day, in which case presentment at any hour before the bank is closed on that day is sufficient.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3157. Where principal debtor dead. Where a person primarily liable on the instrument is dead, and no place of payment is specified, presentment for payment must be made to his personal representative if such there be, and if, with the exercise of reasonable diligence, he can be found.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3158. Persons liable as partners. Where the persons primarily liable on the instrument are liable as partners, and no place of payment is specified, presentment for payment may be made to any one of them, even though there has been a dissolution of the firm.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3159. Joint debts. Where there are several persons, not partners, primarily liable on the instrument, and no place of payment is specified, presentment must be made to them all.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3160. Presentment for payment not required when. Presentment for payment is not required in order to charge the drawer where he has no right to expect or require that the drawee or acceptor will pay the instrument.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3161. Presentment for payment not required when. Presentment for payment is not required in order to charge an indorser where the instrument was made or accepted for his accommodation and he has no reason to expect that the instrument will be paid if presented.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3162. Delay excused. Delay in making presentment for payment is excused when the delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder, and not imputable to his default, misconduct or negligence. When the cause of delay ceases to operate, presentment must be made with reasonable diligence.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3163. When dispensed with. Presentment for payment is dispensed with—

(1) Where after the exercise of reasonable diligence presentment as required by this title cannot be made;

(2) Where the drawee is a fictitious person;

(3) By waiver of presentment, express or implied.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3164. When dishonored by nonpayment. The instrument is dishonored by nonpayment when—

(1) It is duly presented for payment and payment is refused or cannot be obtained; or

(2) Presentment is excused and the instrument is overdue and unpaid.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3165. Liability of person secondarily liable. Subject to the provisions of this title, when the instrument is dishonored by nonpayment, an immediate right of recourse to all parties secondarily liable thereon accrues to the holder.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3166. Time of maturity. Every negotiable instrument is payable at the time fixed therein without grace. When the day of maturity falls upon Sunday, or a holiday, the instrument is payable on the next succeeding business day. Instruments falling due or becoming payable on Saturday are to be presented for payment on the next succeeding business day, except that instruments payable on demand may, at the option of the holder, be presented for payment before twelve o'clock noon on Saturday when that entire day is not a holiday.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3167. Determination of time. Where the instrument is payable at a fixed period after date, after sight, or after the happening of a specified event, the time of payment is determined by excluding the day from which the time is to begin to run, and by including the date of payment.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3168. Where payable at bank. Where the instrument is made payable at a bank it is equivalent to an order to the bank to pay the same for the account of the principal debtor thereon.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3169. Payment in due course. Payment is made in due course when it is made at or after the maturity of the instrument to the holder thereof in good faith and without notice that his title is defective.

See note to § 3082.

ARTICLE VII.

Notice of Dishonor.

§ 3170. To whom notice of dishonor must be given.
§ 3171. By whom given.
§ 3172. Notice given by agent.
§ 3173. Effect of notice given on behalf of holder.
§ 3174. Effect where notice is given by party entitled thereto.
§ 3175. When agent may give notice.
§ 3176. When notice sufficient.
§ 3177. Form of notice.
§ 3178. To whom notice may be given.
§ 3179. Notice where party is dead.
§ 3180. Notice to partners.
§ 3181. Notice to persons jointly liable.
§ 3182. Notice to bankrupt.
§ 3183. Time within which notice must be given.
§ 3184. Where parties reside in same place.
§ 3185. Where parties reside in different places.
§ 3186. When sender deemed to have given due notice.
§ 3187. Deposit in postoffice; what constitutes.
§ 3188. Notice to subsequent party.
§ 3189. Where notice must be sent.
§ 3190. Waiver of notice.
§ 3191. Whom affected by waiver.
§ 3192. Waiver of protest.
§ 3193. When notice is dispensed with.
§ 3194. Delay in giving notice; how excused.
§ 3195. When notice need not be given to drawer.
§ 3196. When notice need not be given to indorser.
§ 3197. Notice of nonpayment where acceptance refused.
§ 3198. Effect of omission to give notice of nonacceptance.

§ 3170. Notice of dishonor. Except as herein otherwise provided, when a negotiable instrument has been dishonored by nonacceptance or nonpayment, notice of dishonor must be given to the drawer and to each indorser, and any drawer or indorser to whom such notice is not given is discharged.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3171. By whom given. The notice may be given by or on behalf of the holder, or by or on behalf of any party to the instrument who might be compelled to pay it to the holder, and who upon taking it up would have a right to reimbursement from the party to whom the notice is given.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3172. Notice given by agent. Notice of dishonor may be given by an agent either in his own name or in the name of any party entitled to give notice, whether that party be his principal or not.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3173. Effect of notice. Where notice is given by or on behalf of the holder, it inures for the benefit of all subsequent holders and all prior parties who have a right of recourse against the party to whom it is given.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3174. Effect where notice is given by party entitled thereto. Where notice is given by or on behalf of a party entitled to give notice, it inures for the benefit of the holder and all parties subsequent to the party to whom notice is given.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3175. When agent may give notice. Where the instrument has been dishonored in the hands of an agent, he may either himself give notice to the parties liable thereon, or he may give notice to his principal. If he give notice to his principal, he must do so within the same time as if he were the holder, and the principal upon the receipt of such notice has himself the same time for giving notice as if the agent had been an independent holder.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3176. When notice sufficient. A written notice need not be signed, and an insufficient written notice may be supplemented and validated by verbal communication. A misdescription of the instrument does not vitiate the notice unless the party to whom the notice is given is in fact misled thereby.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3177. Form of notice. The notice may be in writing or merely oral and may be given in any terms which sufficiently identify the instrument, and indicate that it has been dishonored by nonacceptance or nonpayment. It may in all cases be given by delivering it personally or through the mails.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3178. To whom notice given. Notice of dishonor may be given either to the party himself or to his agent in that behalf.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3179. Notice where party is dead. When any party is dead, and his death is known to the party giving notice, the notice must be given to a personal representative, if there be one, and if with reasonable diligence he can be found. If there be no personal representative, notice may be sent to the last residence or last place of business of the deceased.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3180. Notice to partners. Where the parties to be notified are partners, notice to any one partner is notice to the firm even though there has been a dissolution.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3181. Notice to persons jointly liable. Notice to joint parties who are not partners must be given to each of them, unless one of them has authority to receive such notice for the others.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3182. Notice to bankrupt. Where a party has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent, or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, notice may be given either to the party himself or to his trustee or assignee.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3183. Time within which notice must be given. Notice may be given as soon as the instrument is dishonored; and unless delay is excused as hereinafter provided, must be given within the times fixed by this title.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3184. Notice where parties reside in same place. Where the person giving and the person to receive notice reside in the same place, notice must be given within the following times:

(1) If given at the place of business of the person to receive notice, it must be given before the close of business hours on the day following;

(2) If given at his residence, it must be given before the usual hours of rest on the day following;

(3) If sent by mail, it must be deposited in the postoffice in time to reach him in usual course on the day following.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3185. Notice where parties reside in different places. Where the person giving and the person to receive notice reside in different places, the notice must be given within the following times:

(1) If sent by mail, it must be deposited in the postoffice in time to go by mail the day following the day of dishonor, or if there be no mail at a convenient hour on that day, by the next mail thereafter;

(2) If given otherwise than through the postoffice, then within the time that notice would have been received in due course of mail, if it had been deposited in the postoffice within the time specified in the last subdivision.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3186. Notice deemed given. Where notice of dishonor is duly addressed and deposited in the postoffice, the sender is deemed to have given due notice, notwithstanding any miscarriage in the mails.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3187. Deposit in postoffice. Notice is deemed to have been deposited in postoffice when deposited in any branch postoffice or in any letter-box under the control of the postoffice department.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3188. Notice to subsequent party. Where a party receives notice of dishonor, he has, after the receipt of such notice, the same time for giving notice to antecedent parties that the holder has after the dishonor.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3189. Where notice may be sent. Where a party has added an address to his signature, notice of dishonor must be sent to that address; but if he has not given such address, then the notice must be sent as follows:

(1) Either to the postoffice nearest to his place of residence, or to the postoffice where he is accustomed to receive his letters; or

(2) If he live in one place, and have his place of business in another, notice may be sent to either place; or

(3) If he is sojourning in another place, notice may be sent to the place where he is sojourning.

But where the notice is actually received by the party within the time specified in this title, it will be sufficient, though not sent in accordance with the requirements of this section.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3190. Waiver of notice. Notice of dishonor may be waived, either before the time of giving notice has arrived, or after the omission to give due notice, and the waiver may be express or implied.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3191. Who is affected by waiver. Where the waiver is embodied in the instrument itself, it is binding upon all parties; but where it is written above the signature of an indorser, it binds him only.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3192. Waiver of protest. A waiver of protest, whether in the case of a foreign bill of exchange or other negotiable instrument, is deemed to be a waiver not only of formal protest, but also of presentment and notice of dishonor.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3193. Notice dispensed with. Notice of dishonor is dispensed with when, after the exercise of reasonable diligence, it cannot be given to or does not reach the parties sought to be charged.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3194. Delay excused. Delay in giving notice of dishonor is excused when the delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder, and not imputable to his default, misconduct or negligence. When the cause of delay ceases to operate, notice must be given with reasonable diligence.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3195. When not required to be given to drawer. Notice of dishonor is not required to be given to the drawer in either of the following cases:

(1) Where the drawer and drawee are the same person;

(2) When the drawee is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract;

(3) When the drawer is a person to whom the instrument is presented for payment;

(4) Where the drawer has no right to expect or require that the drawee or acceptor will honor the instrument;

(5) Where the drawer has countermanded payment.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3196. When not required to be given indorser. Notice of dishonor is not required to be given to an indorser in either of the following cases:

(1) Where the drawee is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract, and the indorser was aware of the fact at the time he indorsed the instrument;

(2) Where the indorser is the person to whom the instrument is presented for payment;

(3) Where the instrument was made or accepted for his accommodation.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3197. Notice of nonpayment where acceptance refused. Where due notice of dishonor by nonacceptance has been given notice of a subsequent dishonor by nonpayment is not necessary, unless in the meantime the instrument has been accepted.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3198. Effect of omission. An omission to give notice of dishonor by nonacceptance does not prejudice the rights of a holder in due course subsequent to the omission.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3199. Protest. Where any negotiable instrument has been dishonored it may be protested for nonacceptance or nonpayment, as the case may be; but protest is not required except in the case of foreign bills of exchange.

See note to § 3082.

ARTICLE VIII.

Discharge of Negotiable Instruments.

§ 3200. Instrument; how discharged.
§ 3201. When persons secondarily liable on, discharged.
§ 3202. Right of party who discharged instrument.
§ 3203. Renunciation by holder.
§ 3204. Cancellation; unintentional; burden of proof.
§ 3205. Alteration of instrument; effect of.
§ 3206. What constitutes a material alteration.

§ 3200. How discharged. A negotiable instrument is discharged—

(1) By payment in due course by or on behalf of the principal debtor;

(2) By payment in due course by the party accommodated, where the instrument is made or accepted for accommodation;

(3) By the intentional cancellation thereof by the holder;

(4) By any other act which will discharge a simple contract for the payment of money;

(5) When the principal debtor becomes the holder of the instrument at or after maturity in his own right.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3201. Persons secondarily liable discharged. A person secondarily liable on the instrument is discharged—

(1) By any act which discharges the instrument;

(2) By the intentional cancellation of his signature by the holder;

(3) By the discharge of a prior party;

(4) By a valid tender of payment made by a prior party;

(5) By a release of the principal debtor, unless the holder's right of recourse against the party secondarily liable is expressly reserved;

(6) By any agreement binding upon the holder to extend the time of payment, or to postpone the holder's right to enforce the instrument, unless made with the assent of the party secondarily liable, or unless the right of recourse against such party is expressly reserved.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3202. Right of party who discharged. Where the instrument is paid by a party secondarily liable thereon, it is not discharged; but the party so paying it is remitted to his former rights as regards all prior parties, and he may strike out his own and all subsequent indorsements, and again negotiate the instrument, except—

(1) Where it is payable to the order of a third person, and has been paid by the drawer; and

(2) Where it was made or accepted for accommodation, and has been paid by the party accommodated.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3203. Renunciation by holder. The holder may expressly renounce his rights against any party to the instrument, before, at or after its maturity. An absolute and unconditional renunciation of his rights against the principal debtor made at or after the maturity of the instrument discharges the instrument. But a renunciation does not affect the rights of a holder in due course without notice. A renunciation must be in writing, unless the instrument is delivered up to the person primarily liable thereon.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3204. Cancellation. A cancellation made unintentionally, or under a mistake or without the authority of the holder, is inoperative; but where an instrument or any signature thereon appears to have been canceled the burden of proof lies on the party who alleges that the cancellation was made unintentionally, or under a mistake or without authority.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3205. Alteration. Where a negotiable instrument is materially altered without the assent of all parties liable thereon, it is avoided, except as against a party who has himself made, authorized or assented to the alteration, and subsequent indorsers.

But when an instrument has been materially altered and is in the hands of a holder in due course, not a party to the alteration, he may enforce payment thereof according to its original tenor.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3206. Material alteration. Any alteration which changes—

(1) The date;

(2) The sum payable, either for principal or interest;

(3) The time or place of payment;

(4) The number or the relations of the parties;

(5) The medium or currency in which payment is to be made;

Or which adds a place of payment where no place of payment is specified, or any other change or addition which alters the effect of the instrument in any respect, is a material alteration.

See note to § 3082.

CHAPTER II.

Bills of Exchange.

Article I. Form and Interpretation, §§ 3207–3212.
II. Acceptance, §§ 3213–3223.
III. Presentment for Acceptance, §§ 3224–3232.
IV. Protest, §§ 3233–3241.
V. Acceptance for Honor, §§ 3242–3251.
VI. Payment for Honor, §§ 3252–3258.
VII. Bills in a Set, §§ 3259–3264.

ARTICLE I.

Form and Interpretation.

§ 3207. Bill of exchange defined.
§ 3208. Bill not an assignment of funds in hands of drawee.
§ 3209. Bill addressed to more than one drawee.
§ 3210. Inland and foreign bills of exchange.
§ 3211. When bill may be treated as promissory note.
§ 3212. Referee in case of need.

§ 3207. Bill of exchange defined. A bill of exchange is an unconditional order in writing addressed by one person to another, signed by the person giving it, requiring the person to whom it is addressed to pay on demand or at a fixed or determinable future time a sum certain in money to order or to bearer.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3208. Not an assignment of funds. A bill of itself does not operate as an assignment of the funds in the hands of the drawee available for the payment thereof, and the drawee is not liable on the bill unless and until he accepts the same.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3209. Addressed to more than one drawee. A bill may be addressed to two or more drawees jointly, whether they are partners or not; but not to two or more drawees in the alternative or in succession.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3210. Inland and foreign bills. An inland bill of exchange is a bill which is, or on its face purports to be, both drawn and payable within this state. Any other bill is a foreign bill. Unless the contrary appears on the face of the bill, the holder may treat it as an inland bill.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3211. Bill treated as promissory note. Where in a bill drawer and drawee are the same person, or where the drawee is a fictitious person, or a person not having capacity to contract, the holder may treat the instrument, at his option, either as a bill of exchange or a promissory note.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3212. Referee in case of need. The drawer of a bill and any indorser may insert thereon the name of a person to whom the holder may resort in case of need, that is to say in case the bill is dishonored by nonacceptance or nonpayment. Such person is called the referee in case of need. It is in the option of the holder to resort to the referee in case of need or not as he may see fit.

See note to § 3082.

ARTICLE II.

Acceptance.

§ 3213. Acceptance; how made, etc.
§ 3214. Holder entitled to acceptance on face of bill.
§ 3215. Acceptance by separate instrument.
§ 3216. Promise to accept; when equivalent to acceptance.
§ 3217. Time allowed drawee to accept.
§ 3218. Liability of drawee retaining or destroying bill.
§ 3219. Acceptance of incomplete bill.
§ 3220. Kinds of acceptances.
§ 3221. What constitutes a general acceptance.
§ 3222. Qualified acceptance.
§ 3223. Rights of parties as to qualified acceptance.

§ 3213. Acceptance. The acceptance of a bill is the signification by the drawee of his assent to the order of the drawer. The acceptance must be in writing and signed by the drawee. It must not express that the drawee will perform his promise by any other means than the payment of money.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3214. Holder entitled to acceptance on face of bill. The holder of a bill presenting the same for acceptance may require that the acceptance be written on the bill and, if such request is refused, may treat the bill as dishonored.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3215. Acceptance by separate instrument. Where an acceptance is written on a paper other than the bill itself, it does not bind the acceptor except in favor of a person to whom it is shown and who, on the faith thereof, receives the bill for value.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3216. Promise to accept. An unconditional promise in writing to accept a bill before it is drawn is deemed an actual acceptance in favor of every person who, upon the faith thereof, receives the bill for value.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3217. Time allowed drawee to accept. The drawee is allowed twenty-four hours after presentment, in which to decide whether or not he will accept the bill; but the acceptance, if given, dates as of the day of presentation.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3218. Liability of drawee retaining or destroying bill. Where a drawee to whom a bill is delivered for acceptance destroys the same, or refuses within twenty-four hours after such delivery, or within such other period as the holder may allow, to return the bill accepted or nonaccepted to the holder, he will be deemed to have accepted the same.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3219. Acceptance of incomplete bill. A bill may be accepted before it has been signed by the drawer, or while otherwise incomplete, or when it is overdue, or after it has been dishonored by a previous refusal to accept, or by nonpayment. But when a bill payable after sight is dishonored by nonacceptance and the drawee subsequently accepts it, the holder in the absence of any different agreement, is entitled to have the bill accepted as of the date of the first presentment.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3220. Kinds of acceptance. An acceptance is either general or qualified. A general acceptance assents without qualification to the order of the drawer. A qualified acceptance in express terms varies the effect of the bill as drawn.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3221. Kinds of acceptance. An acceptance to pay at a particular place is a general acceptance, unless it expressly states that the bill is to be paid there only and not elsewhere.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3222. Qualified acceptance. An acceptance is qualified, which is—

(1) Conditional, that is to say, which makes payment by the acceptor dependent on the fulfillment of a condition therein stated;

(2) Partial, that is to say, an acceptance to pay part only of the amount for which the bill is drawn;

(3) Local, that is to say, an acceptance to pay only at a particular place;

(4) Qualified as to time;

(5) The acceptance of some one or more of the drawees, but not of all.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3223. Rights of parties as to qualified acceptances. The holder may refuse to take a qualified acceptance, and if he does not obtain an unqualified acceptance, he may treat the bill as dishonored by nonacceptance. Where a qualified acceptance is taken the drawer and indorsers are discharged from liability on the bill, unless they have expressly or impliedly authorized the holder to take a qualified acceptance, or subsequently assent thereto. When the drawer or an indorser receives notice of a qualified acceptance, he must, within a reasonable time, express his dissent to the holder, or he will be deemed to have assented thereto.

See note to § 3082.

ARTICLE III.

Presentment for Acceptance.

§ 3224. When presentment for acceptance must be made.
§ 3225. When failure to present releases drawer and indorser.
§ 3226. Presentment; how made.
§ 3227. On what days presentment may be made.
§ 3228. Presentment where time is insufficient.
§ 3229. Where presentment is excused.
§ 3230. When dishonored by nonacceptance.
§ 3231. Duty of holder where bill not accepted.
§ 3232. Rights of holder where bill not accepted.

§ 3224. When presentment for acceptance must be made. Presentment for acceptance must be made—

(1) Where the bill is payable after sight, or in any other case, where presentment for acceptance is necessary in order to fix the maturity of the instrument; or

(2) Where the bill expressly stipulates that it shall be presented for acceptance; or

(3) Where the bill is drawn payable elsewhere than at the residence or place of business of the drawee.

In no other case is presentment for acceptance necessary in order to render any party to the bill liable.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3225. Time for presentment. Except as herein otherwise provided, the holder of a bill which is required by the next preceding section to be presented for acceptance must either present it for acceptance or negotiate it within a reasonable time. If he fails to do so, the drawer and all indorsers are discharged.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3226. To whom presentment for acceptance must be made. Presentment for acceptance must be made by or on behalf of the holder at a reasonable hour, on a business day and before the bill is overdue, to the drawee or some person, authorized to accept or refuse acceptance on his behalf; and—

(1) Where a bill is addressed to two or more drawees who are not partners, presentment must be made to them all, unless one has authority to accept or refuse acceptance for all, in which case presentment may be made to him only;

(2) Where the drawee is dead, presentment may be made to his personal representative;

(3) Where the drawee has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, presentment may be made to him or to his trustee or assignee.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3227. On what days presentment may be made. A bill may be presented for acceptance on any day on which negotiable instruments may be presented for payment under the provisions of sections three thousand one hundred fifty-four and three thousand one hundred sixty-seven. When Saturday is not otherwise a holiday, presentment for acceptance may be made before twelve o'clock, noon, on that day.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3228. Presentment where time is insufficient. Where the holder of a bill drawn payable elsewhere than at the place of business or the residence of the drawee has not time with the exercise of reasonable diligence to present the bill for acceptance before presenting it for payment on the day that it falls due, the delay caused by presenting the bill for acceptance before presenting it for payment is excused and does not discharge the drawers and indorsers.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3229. When presentment is excused. Presentment for acceptance is excused and a bill may be treated as dishonored by nonacceptance, in either of the following cases:

(1) Where the drawee is dead, or has absconded, or is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract by bill;

(2) Where, after the exercise of reasonable diligence, presentment cannot be made;

(3) Where, although presentment has been irregular, acceptance has been refused on some other ground.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3230. Bill dishonored by nonacceptance. A bill is dishonored by nonacceptance—

(1) When it is duly presented for acceptance and such an acceptance as is prescribed by this title is refused or cannot be obtained; or

(2) When presentment for acceptance is excused and the bill is not accepted.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3231. Duty of holder where not accepted. Where a bill is duly presented for acceptance and is not accepted within the prescribed time the person presenting it must treat the bill as dishonored by nonacceptance or he loses the right of recourse against the drawer and indorsers.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3232. Rights of holder where bill not accepted. When a bill is dishonored by nonacceptance, an immediate right of recourse against the drawers and indorsers accrues to the holder and no presentment for payment is necessary.

See note to § 3082.

ARTICLE IV.

Protest.

§ 3233. In what cases protest necessary.
§ 3234. Protest; how made.
§ 3235. Protest; by whom made.
§ 3236. Protest; when to be made.
§ 3237. Protest; where made.
§ 3238. Protest both for nonacceptance and nonpayment.
§ 3239. Protest before maturity where acceptor insolvent.
§ 3240. When protest dispensed with.
§ 3241. Protest where bill is lost, etc.

§ 3233. In what cases protest necessary. Where a foreign bill appearing on its face to be such is dishonored by nonacceptance, it must be duly protested for nonacceptance, and where such a bill which has not previously been dishonored by nonacceptance is dishonored by nonpayment, it must be duly protested for nonpayment. If it is not so protested, the drawer and indorsers are discharged. Where a bill does not appear on its face to be a foreign bill, protest thereof in case of dishonor is unnecessary.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3234. How made. The protest must be annexed to the bill, or must contain a copy thereof and must be under the hand and seal of the notary making it, and must specify—

(1) The time and place of presentment;

(2) The fact that presentment was made and the manner thereof;

(3) The cause or reason for protesting the bill;

(4) The demand made and the answer given, if any, or the fact that the drawee or acceptor could not be found.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3235. By whom made. Protest may be made by—

(1) A notary public; or

(2) By any respectable resident of the place where the bill is dishonored, in the presence of two or more credible witnesses.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3236. When made. When a bill is protested, such protest must be made on the day of its dishonor, unless delay is excused as herein provided. When a bill has been duly noted, the protest may be subsequently extended as of the date of the noting.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3237. Where made. A bill must be protested at the place where it is dishonored, except that when a bill drawn payable at the place of business, or residence of some person other than the drawee, has been dishonored by nonacceptance, it must be protested for nonpayment at the place where it is expressed to be payable, and no further presentment for payment to, or demand on, the drawee is necessary.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3238. Protest both for nonacceptance and nonpayment. A bill which has been protested for nonacceptance may be subsequently protested for nonpayment.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3239. Protest before maturity. Where the acceptor has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent, or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, before the bill matures, the holder may cause the bill to be protested for better security against the drawer and indorsers.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3240. When dispensed with. Protest is dispensed with by any circumstances which would dispense with notice of dishonor. Delay in noting or protesting is excused when delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder and not imputable to his default, misconduct or negligence. When the cause of delay ceases to operate, the bill must be noted or protested with reasonable diligence.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3241. When bill lost, etc. When a bill is lost or destroyed or is wrongly detained from the person entitled to hold it, protest may be made on a copy or written particulars thereof.

See note to § 3082.

ARTICLE V.

Acceptance for Honor.

§ 3242. When bill may be accepted for honor.
§ 3243. Acceptance for honor; how made.
§ 3244. When deemed to be an acceptance for honor of the drawer.
§ 3245. Liability of the acceptor for honor.
§ 3246. Agreement of acceptor for honor.
§ 3247. Maturity of bill payable after sight; accepted for honor, etc.
§ 3248. Protest of bill accepted for honor, etc.
§ 3249. Presentment for payment to acceptor for honor; how made.
§ 3250. When delay in making presentment is excused.
§ 3251. Dishonor of bill by acceptor for honor.

§ 3242. Acceptance for honor. Where a bill of exchange has been protested for dishonor by nonacceptance or protested for better security, and is not overdue, any person not being a party already liable thereon may, with the consent of the holder, intervene and accept the bill supra protest for the honor of any party liable thereon, or for the honor of the person for whose account the bill is drawn. The acceptance for honor may be for the part only of the sum for which the bill is drawn; and where there has been an acceptance for honor for one party, there may be a further acceptance by a different person for the honor of another party.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3243. How made. An acceptance for honor supra protest must be in writing, and indicate that it is an acceptance for honor, and must be signed by the acceptor for honor.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3244. What deemed to be an acceptance for honor of the drawer. Where an acceptance for honor does not expressly state for whose honor it is made, it is deemed to be an acceptance for the honor of the drawer.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3245. Liability of acceptor. The acceptor for honor is liable to the holder and to all parties to the bill subsequent to the party for whose honor he has accepted.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3246. Agreement of acceptor for honor. The acceptor for honor, by such acceptance engages that he will on due presentment pay the bill according to the terms of his acceptance; provided, it shall not have been paid by the drawee; and provided, also, that it shall have been duly presented for payment and protested for nonpayment and notice of dishonor given him.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3247. Bill payable after sight. Where a bill payable after sight is accepted for honor, its maturity is calculated from the date of the noting for nonacceptance and not from the date of the acceptance for honor.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3248. Protest. Where a dishonored bill has been accepted for honor supra protest or contains a reference in case of need, it must be protested for nonpayment before it is presented for payment to the acceptor for honor or referee in case of need.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3249. Presentment to acceptor. Presentment for payment to the acceptor for honor must be made as follows:

(1) If it is to be presented in the place where the protest for nonpayment was made, it must be presented not later than the day following its maturity.

(2) If it is to be presented in some other place than the place where it was protested, then it must be forwarded within the time specified in section three thousand one hundred eighty-six.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3250. When delay in making presentment is excused. The provisions of section three thousand one hundred sixty-three apply where there is delay in making presentment to the acceptor for honor or referee in case of need.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3251. Dishonor of bill by acceptor for honor. When the bill is dishonored by the acceptor for honor it must be protested for nonpayment by him.

See note to § 3082.

ARTICLE VI.

Payment for Honor.

§ 3252. Who may make payment for honor.
§ 3253. Payment for honor; how made.
§ 3254. Declaration before payment for honor.
§ 3255. Preference of parties offering to pay for honor.
§ 3256. Effect on subsequent parties where bill is paid for honor.
§ 3257. Where holder refuses to receive payment supra protest.
§ 3258. Rights of payer for honor.

§ 3252. Payment for honor. Where a bill has been protested for nonpayment, any person may intervene and pay it supra protest for the honor of any person liable thereon or for the honor of the person for whose account it was drawn.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3253. Payment for honor, how made. The payment for honor supra protest in order to operate as such and not as a mere voluntary payment must be attested by a notarial act of honor which may be appended to the protest or form an extension to it.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3254. Declaration. The notarial act of honor must be founded on a declaration made by the payer for honor or by his agent in that behalf declaring his intention to pay the bill for honor and for whose honor he pays.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3255. Preference of parties. Where two or more persons offer to pay a bill for the honor of different parties, the person whose payment will discharge most parties to the bill is to be given the preference.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3256. Subsequent parties discharged. Where a bill has been paid for honor, all parties subsequent to the party for whose honor it is paid are discharged, but the payer for honor is subrogated for, and succeeds to, both the rights and duties of the holder as regards the party for whose honor he pays and all parties liable to the latter.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3257. Right of recourse lost. Where the holder of a bill refuses to receive payment supra protest, he loses his right of recourse against any party who would have been discharged by such payment.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3258. Right of payer for honor. The payer for honor, on paying to the holder the amount of the bill and the notarial expenses incidental to its dishonor, is entitled to receive both the bill itself and the protest.

See note to § 3082.

ARTICLE VII.

Bills in a Set.

§ 3259. Bills in sets constitute one bill.
§ 3260. Right of holders where different parts are negotiated.
§ 3261. Liability of holder who indorses two or more parts of a set to different persons.
§ 3262. Acceptance of bills drawn in sets.
§ 3263. Payment by acceptor of bills drawn in sets.
§ 3264. Effect of discharging one of a set.

§ 3259. Bills in sets one bill. Where a bill is drawn in a set, each part of the set being numbered and containing a reference to the other parts, the whole of the parts constitutes one bill.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3260. Where different parts are negotiated. Where two or more parts of a set are negotiated to different holders in due course, the holder whose title first accrues is as between such holders the true owner of the bill. But nothing in this section affects the rights of a person who in due course accepts or pays the part first presented to him.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3261. Liability of holder. Where the holder of a set indorses two or more parts to different persons he is liable on every such part, and every indorser subsequent to him is liable on the part he has himself indorsed, as if such parts were separate bills.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3262. Acceptance. The acceptance may be written on any part and it must be written on one part only. If the drawee accepts more than one part, and such accepted parts are negotiated to different holders in due course, he is liable on every such part as if it were a separate bill.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3263. Payment by acceptor. When the acceptor of a bill drawn in a set pays it without requiring the part being his acceptance to be delivered up to him, and that part at maturity is outstanding in the hands of a holder in due course, he is liable to the holder thereon.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3264. Whole bill discharged. Except as herein otherwise provided where any one part of a bill drawn in a set is discharged by payment or otherwise the whole bill is discharged.

See note to § 3082.

CHAPTER III.

Promissory Notes and Checks.

ARTICLE I.

§ 3265. Promissory note defined.
§ 3265a. Check defined.
§ 3265b. Within what time a check must be presented.
§ 3265c. Certification of check; effect of.
§ 3265d. Effect where the holder of check procures it to be certified.
§ 3265e. When check operates as an assignment.

§ 3265. Promissory note defined. A negotiable promissory note within the meaning of this title is an unconditional promise in writing made by one person to another signed by the maker engaging to pay on demand, or at a fixed or determinable future time, a sum certain in money to order or to bearer. Where a note is drawn to the maker's own order, it is not complete until indorsed by him.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3265a. Check defined. A check is a bill of exchange drawn on a bank payable on demand. Except as herein otherwise provided, the provisions of this title applicable to a bill of exchange payable on demand apply to a check.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3265b. Time for presenting check. A check must be presented for payment within a reasonable time after its issue or the drawer will be discharged from liability thereon to the extent of the loss caused by the delay.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3265c. Certified check. Where a check is certified by the bank on which it is drawn, the certification is equivalent to an acceptance.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3265d. Effect of acceptance or certification. Where the holder of a check procures it to be accepted or certified the drawer and all indorsers are discharged from liability thereon.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3265e. When check operates as assignment. A check of itself does not operate as an assignment of any part of the funds to the credit of the drawer with the bank, and the bank is not liable to the holder, unless and until it accepts or certifies the check.

See note to § 3082.

CHAPTER IV.

General Provisions.

ARTICLE I.

§ 3266. Definitions and meaning of terms.
§ 3266a. Person primarily liable on instrument.
§ 3266b. Reasonable time, what constitutes.
§ 3266c. Time, how computed, when last day falls on holiday.
§ 3266d. Application of act.

§ 3266. Definitions. In this title, unless the context otherwise requires—

"Acceptance" means an acceptance completed by delivery or notification.

"Action" includes counterclaim and setoff.

"Bank" includes any person or association of persons carrying on the business of banking, whether incorporated or not.

"Bearer" means the person in possession of a bill or note which is payable to bearer.

"Bill" means bill of exchange, and "note" means negotiable promissory note.

"Delivery" means transfer of possession, actual or constructive, from one person to another.

"Holder" means the payee or indorsee of a bill or note, who is in possession of it; or the bearer thereof.

"Indorsement" means an indorsement completed by delivery.

"Instrument" means negotiable instrument.

"Issue" means the first delivery of the instrument complete in form, to a person who takes it as a holder.

"Person" includes a body of persons, whether incorporated or not.

"Value" means valuable consideration.

"Written" includes printed, and "writing" includes print.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3266a. Person primarily liable on instrument. The person "primarily" liable on an instrument is the person who by the terms of the instrument is absolutely required to pay the same. All other parties are "secondarily" liable.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3266b. Reasonable time, what constitutes. In determining what is a "reasonable time" or an "unreasonable time," regard is to be had to the nature of the instrument, the usage of trade or business (if any) with respect to such instruments, and the facts of the particular case.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3266c. Time, how computed when last day falls on holiday. Where the day, or the last day, for doing any act herein required or permitted to be done falls on Sunday or on a holiday, the act may be done on the next succeeding secular or business day.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3266d. Application of act. The provisions of this title do not apply to negotiable instruments made and delivered prior to the taking effect hereof. In any case not provided for in this title the rules of law and equity including the law-merchant shall govern.

See note to § 3082.

§ 3320. Liability for nonpayment of check. No bank shall be liable to a depositor because of the nonpayment through mistake or error, and without malice, of a check which should have been paid unless the depositor shall allege and prove actual damage by reason of such nonpayment and in such event the liability shall not exceed the amount of damage so proved. [New section added May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 622.]

§ 3440. Transfers presumed fraudulent. Exceptions. Recording of notice of sale. Sales at public auction. Transfers under order of court. Every transfer of personal property, other than a thing in action, or a ship or cargo at sea or in a foreign port, and every lien thereon, other than a mortgage, when allowed by law, and a contract of bottomry or respondentia, is conclusively presumed if made by a person having at the time the possession or control of the property, and not accompanied by an immediate delivery, and followed by an actual and continued change of possession of the things transferred, to be fraudulent, and therefore void, against those who are his creditors while he remains in possession, and the successors in interest of such creditors, and against any persons on whom his estate devolves in trust for the benefit of others than himself, and against purchasers or encumbrancers in good faith subsequent to the transfer; provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to the transfer of wines in the wineries or wine cellars of the makers or owners thereof, or other persons having possession, care, and control of the same, and the pipes, casks, and tanks in which the said wines are contained, which transfers shall be made in writing, and certified and verified in the same form as provided for chattel mortgages, and which shall be recorded in the book of miscellaneous records in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the same are situated; provided, also, that the sale, transfer, or assignment of a stock in trade (or of such a quantity of a stock in trade as to be substantially a whole) in bulk, or in any manner otherwise than in the ordinary course of trade and in the regular and usual practice and method of business of the vendor, transferrer, or assignor, and the sale, transfer, assignment or mortgage of the fixtures or store equipment of a merchant, will be conclusively presumed to be fraudulent and void as against the existing creditors of the vendor, transferrer, assignor or mortgagor, unless at least seven days before the consummation of such sale, transfer, assignment or mortgage the vendor, transferrer, assignor or mortgagor, or the intended vendee, transferee, assignee, or mortgagee, shall record in the office of the county recorder in the county or counties in which the said stock in trade, fixtures or equipment are situated a notice of said intended sale, transfer, assignment or mortgage, stating the name and address of the intended vendor, transferrer, assignor or mortgagor, and the name and address of the intended vendee, transferee, assignee or mortgagee, and a general statement of the character of the merchandise or property intended to be sold, assigned, transferred or mortgaged, and the date when and the place where the purchase price or consideration, if any there be, is to be paid; provided, nevertheless, that if such intended sale is to be at public auction the notice above required to be recorded shall state that fact, the time, terms, and place of said sale, the names and addresses of the vendor and auctioneer, and a general statement of the character of the merchandise or property intended to be sold; but such sale shall in no event occur within seven days of the date of recordation of said notice; provided, further, that the provisions of this section shall not apply or extend to any sale, transfer, assignment or mortgage made under the direction or order of a court of competent jurisdiction or by any executor, administrator, guardian, receiver, or other officer or person acting in the regular and proper discharge of official duty, or in the discharge of any trust imposed upon him by law, nor to any transfer or assignment, statutory or otherwise, made for the benefit of creditors generally, nor to any sale, transfer, assignment or mortgage of any property exempt from execution. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 255.]

[Amendment approved April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 43.]

§ 331. Gambling in houses owned or rented. Every person who knowingly permits any of the games mentioned in section three hundred thirty and section three hundred thirty a of this code to be played, conducted, or dealt in any house owned or rented by such person, in whole or in part, is punishable as provided in the preceding sections. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1662.]

§ 351a. Falsely representing goods for sale. Written consent. Any person who sells, attempts to sell, offers for sale or assists in the sale of any goods, product or output, and who willfully and falsely represents such goods, product or output to be the goods, product or output of any dealer, manufacturer or producer, other than the true dealer, manufacturer or producer, or any member of a firm or any officer of a corporation, who knowingly permits any employee of such firm or corporation to sell, offer for sale or assist in the sale of any goods, product or output or to falsely represent such goods, product or output to be the goods, product or output of any dealer, manufacturer or producer, other than the true dealer, manufacturer or producer, is guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine of not less than fifty dollars or more than three hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than twenty or more than ninety days, or both; provided, however, that this section shall not apply to any person who sells or offers for sale under his own name or brand the product or output of another manufacturer or producer with the written consent of such manufacturer or producer. [New section added May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 570.]

§ 373. Establishing or keeping pesthouses within cities, towns or villages. [Enacted February 14, 1872. Repealed by act approved April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 40.]

§ 439. Effecting insurance on account of foreign companies that have not complied with the laws of this state. [Repealed as far as inconsistent with § 596 of the Political Code by act approved April 20, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 150. See Political Code, § 596.]

§ 464. Burglary with explosives. 1. Any person who, with intent to commit crime, breaks and enters, either by day or by night, any building, whether inhabited or not, and opens or attempts to open any vault, safe or other secure place by use of nitroglycerine, dynamite, gunpowder or any other explosive, shall be deemed guilty of burglary with explosives.

2. Penalty. Any person duly convicted of burglary with explosives shall be punished by imprisonment for a term of not less than twenty-five nor more than forty years. [New section added May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 273.]

§ 483. Selling ticket, etc., to person not entitled to use. Any person, firm, corporation, partnership, or association that shall sell to another any ticket, pass, scrip, mileage or commutation book, coupon, or other instrument for passage on a common carrier, for the use of any person not entitled to use the same according to the terms thereof. or of the book or portion thereof from which it was detached, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [New section added May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1401.]

§ 499a. Stealing electricity misdemeanor. Every person who shall willfully, and knowingly with intent to injure or defraud, make or cause to be made any connection in any manner whatsoever with any electric wire or electric appliance of any character whatsoever operated by any person, persons or corporation authorized to generate, transmit and sell electric current, or who shall so willfully and knowingly with intent to injure or defraud, use or cause to be used any such connection in such manner as to supply any electric current for heat or light or power to any electric lamp, or apparatus or device, by or at which electric current for heat or light or power is consumed or otherwise used or wasted, without passing through a meter for the measuring and registering of the quantity passing through such electric wire or apparatus, or who shall, knowingly and with like intent injure, alter or procure to be injured or altered any electric meter, or obstruct its working, or procure the same to be tampered with or injured, or use or cause to be used any electric meter, or appliance so tampered with or injured, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. [Amendment approved April 20, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 150.]

§ 504a. Fraudulent removal of leased property embezzlement. Every person who shall fraudulently remove, conceal or dispose of any goods, chattels or effects, leased or let to him by any instrument in writing, or any personal property or effects of another in his possession, under a contract of purchase not yet fulfilled, and any person in possession of such goods, chattels, or effects knowing them to be subject to such lease or contract of purchase who shall so remove, conceal or dispose of the same with intent to injure or defraud the lessor or owner thereof, is guilty of embezzlement. [New section added May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 273.]

§ 506a. Collector defined. Any person who, acting as collector, or acting in any capacity in or about a business conducted for the collection of accounts or debts owing by another person, and who violates the provisions of section five hundred six of the Penal Code, shall be deemed to be an agent or person as defined in said section five hundred six of the Penal Code, and subject for a violation of the provisions of said section five hundred six of the Penal Code, to be prosecuted, tried, and punished in accordance therewith and with law; and the word collector herein set forth shall also include and be held to mean every such person who collects, or who has in his possession or under his control property or money for the use of any other person, whether in his own name and mixed with his own property or money, or otherwise, or whether he has any interest, direct or indirect, in or to such property or money, or any portion thereof, and who fraudulently appropriates to his own use, or the use of any person other than the true owner, or person entitled thereto, or secretes such property or money, or any portion thereof, or interest therein not his own, with a fraudulent intent to appropriate it to any use or purpose not in the due and lawful execution of his trust. [New section added May 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 931.]

§ 537d. Removing automobile subject to lien misdemeanor. Any person who surreptitiously or by false pretenses obtains or removes from any garage or repair shop any automobile or other personal property upon which the proprietor or manager thereof would be entitled to a lien, pursuant to the provisions of section three thousand fifty-one of the Civil Code, is guilty of a misdemeanor. [New section added May 7, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 291.]

§ 561. Frauds by bank officers, etc. An officer, director, agent, teller, clerk or employee of any bank, who, either,

1. Knowingly overdraws his account with such bank and thereby obtains the money, notes or funds of any such bank; or

2. Asks for, receives, or consents or agrees to receive, any commission, emolument, gratuity or reward, or any promise of any commission, emolument, gratuity or reward, or any money, property or thing of value or of personal advantage for procuring or endeavoring to procure for any person, firm or corporation, any loan from, or the purchase or discount of any paper, note, draft, check or bill of exchange by any such bank, or for permitting any person, firm or corporation to withdraw any account with such bank, is guilty of a felony. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 579.]

§ 561a. Any officer, director, trustee, employee or agent of any bank in this state, who abstracts or willfully misapplies any of the money, funds or property of such bank, or willfully misapplies its credit, is guilty of a felony. Nothing in this section shall be deemed or construed to repeal, amend or impair any existing provision of law prescribing a punishment for any such offense. [New section added May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 579.]

§ 561b. Frauds by director of bank. Every director of a bank in this state who

1. In case of the fraudulent insolvency of such bank, shall have participated in such fraud; or

2. Willfully does any act as such director which is expressly forbidden by law or willfully omits to perform any duty imposed upon him as such director by law, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

The insolvency of a bank is deemed fraudulent unless its affairs appear upon investigation to have been administered clearly, legally and with the same care and diligence that agents receiving a compensation for their services are bound, by law, to observe. [New section added May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 579.]

§ 561c. Guaranty in sum beyond legal amount. An officer or agent of any bank in this state, who makes or delivers any guaranty or indorsement on behalf of such bank, whereby it may become liable upon any of its discounted notes, bills or obligations, in a sum beyond the amount of loans and discounts which such bank may legally make, is guilty of a misdemeanor. [New section added May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 580.]

§ 561d. Loan to director. Deposit with corporation to make loan. Concealing accounts or loans. A director of a bank, organized under the laws of this state, who concurs in any vote or act of the directors of such corporation, or any of them, by which it is intended to make a loan or discount to any director of such corporation, or upon paper upon which any such director is liable or responsible to an amount exceeding the amount allowed by the statutes; or

Any director, trustee, officer or employee of any such bank who makes or maintains, or attempts to make or maintain, a deposit of such bank's funds with any other corporation on condition, or with the understanding, express or implied, that the corporation receiving such deposit make a loan or advance, directly or indirectly, to any director, trustee, officer or employee of the corporation so making or maintaining or attempting to make or maintain such deposit; or Any officer or employee of any such bank who intentionally conceals from the directors or trustees of such bank any discounts or loans made by it between the regular meetings of its board of directors or trustees, or the purchase of any securities or the sale of its securities during the same period, or knowingly fails to report to the board of directors or trustees when required to do so by law, all discounts or loans made by it and all securities purchased or sold by it between the regular meetings of its board of directors or trustees, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Nothing in this section shall render any loan made by the directors of any bank, in violation thereof, invalid. [New section added May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 580.]

§ 563a. False entry. Any officer, director, trustee, employee or agent of any bank organized under the laws of this state, who makes a false or untrue entry in any book or any report, tag or statement, of the business, affairs or condition, in whole or in part, of such corporation, with intent to deceive any officer, director or trustee thereof, or any agent or examiner, private or official, employed or lawfully appointed to examine into its condition or into any of its affairs, or any public officer, office or board to which such bank is required by law to report, or which has authority by law to examine into its affairs or into any of its affairs, or who, with like intent, willfully omits to make a new entry of any matter particularly pertaining to the business, property, affairs, assets or accounts of such bank in any book, report, statement, or tag of such bank made, written or kept, or required to be made, written or kept by him or under his direction, is guilty of a felony. [New section added May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 579.]

§ 563b. Circulating false rumors regarding bank. Any person who willfully and knowingly makes, circulates or transmits to another or others any statement or rumor, written, printed or by word of mouth, which is untrue in facts and is directly or by inference derogatory to the financial condition or affects the solvency or financial standing of any bank, doing business in this state, or who knowingly counsels, aids, procures or induces another to start, transmit or circulate any such statement or rumor, is guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. [New section added April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 92.]

§ 599f. Penalty for killing elk. Every person who willfully kills any elk, is guilty of a felony, and is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for a term not exceeding two years and the possession of any elk meat shall be prima facie evidence of a violation of this act. [Amendment approved April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 39.]

§ 602. Malicious injury to real property. Every person who willfully commits any trespass by either:

(a) Cutting down, destroying, or injuring any kind of wood or timber standing or growing upon the lands of another;

(b) Carrying away any kind of wood or timber lying on such lands;

(c) Maliciously injuring or severing from the freehold of another anything attached thereto, or the produce thereof;

(d) Digging, taking, or carrying away from any lot situated within the limits of any incorporated city, without the license of the owner or legal occupant thereof, any earth, soil, or stone;

(e) Digging, taking, or carrying away from land in any city or town, laid down on the map or plan of such city, or otherwise recognized or established as a street, alley, avenue, or park, without the license of the proper authorities, any earth, soil or stone;

(f) Maliciously tearing down, damaging, mutilating or destroying any sign, signboard or notice placed upon, or affixed to, any property belonging to the state, or to any city, county, city and county, town or village, by the state or by an automobile association, which sign, signboard or notice is intended to indicate or designate a road or roads, or a highway or highways, or is intended to direct travelers from one point to another; or putting up, affixing, fastening, printing, or painting upon any property belonging to the state, or to any city, county, town, or village, or dedicated to the public, or upon any property of any person, without license from the owner, any notice, advertisement, or designation of, or any name for any commodity, whether for sale or otherwise, or any picture, sign, or device intended to call attention thereto;

(g) Entering upon any lands owned by any other person whereon oysters or other shellfish are planted or growing; or injuring, gathering, or carrying away any oysters or other shellfish planted, growing, or being on any such lands, whether covered by water or not, without the license of the owner or legal occupant thereof; or destroying or removing, or causing to be removed or destroyed, any stakes, marks, fences, or signs intended to designate the boundaries and limits of any such lands;

(h) Willfully opening, tearing down, or otherwise destroying any fence on the inclosed land of another, or opening any gate, bar, or fence of another and willfully leaving it open without the permission of the owner, or maliciously tearing down, mutilating, or destroying any sign, signboard, or other notice forbidding shooting on private property; or

(i) Entering any inclosure belonging to, or occupied by another, for the purpose of hunting, shooting, killing, or destroying any kind of game within such inclosure, without having first obtained permission from the owner of such inclosure;

Is guilty of a misdemeanor. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 319.]

§ 626. Protection of ducks, geese, crane, etc. Valley quail. Rabbit. Mountain quail. Grouse. Sagehen. Every person who, in fish and game district number twenty-six, takes, catches, kills, or has in possession any fish is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Every person found guilty of a violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be punishable by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail in the county in which conviction shall be had, not less than fifty days nor more than one hundred fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. All fines and forfeitures collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund. Nothing in this act shall prohibit the fish and game commission or persons authorized by them, from taking at all times and in any manner such fish or game as they may deem necessary for scientific purposes, or purposes of propagation. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1042.]

affidavit must immediately be filed with the fish and game commission in San Francisco, a copy attached to the carcass of the deer shipped and a copy left on file with the notary public or justice of the peace before whom the affidavit is made. After such deer is received in the district in which the season is closed, if it is desired to distribute it to two or more persons, the receiver must at once file with the fish and game commission a list of the persons receiving any part of the said deer.

Every person failing to comply with the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and is punishable by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail, in the county in which the conviction shall be had. of not less than twenty-five days, nor more than one hundred and fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and all fines and forfeitures imposed or collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be paid into the state treasury, to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 655.]

§ 627a. Transportation of game out of state misdemeanor. Every railroad company, express company, transportation company, or other common carrier, its officers, agents, and servants, and every other person who transports, carries or takes out of this state, or who receives for the purpose of transporting from this state, any deer, deerskin, or part of deerskin, or any quail, partridge, pheasant, grouse, or sagehen or prairie-chicken, dove, wild pigeon, or any wild duck, wild goose, rail, snipe, ibis, curley, plover, or other shore-birds (Limicolae), except for the purpose of propagation or scientific purposes, under a permit, in writing, first obtained from the board of fish and game commissioners of the State of California, or who transports, carries or takes from the state, or receives for the purpose of transportation from the state, the carcass of any such animal or any such bird, or any part of the carcass of any such animal or bird, is guilty of a misdemeanor. [Amendment approved April 6, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 77.]

day; or any person who ships or offers for shipment or transportation during any one calendar day, more than the bag limit of wild birds or wild animals or fish allowed to be taken, caught, killed or possessed during any one calendar day, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Every common carrier, its officers, agents or servants, who receives for shipment or transportation, or who ships or transports for any one person, between sunrise of one Sunday and sunrise of the following Sunday; or any person who ships or offers for shipment or transportation between sunrise of one Sunday and sunrise of the following Sunday, more than the bag limit of wild birds or wild animals or fish allowed to be taken, caught, killed or possessed between sunrise of one Sunday and sunrise of the following Sunday, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Every common carrier, its officers, agents or servants, who receives for shipment or transportation, or who ships or transports for any one person during any one season; or any person who ships or offers for shipment or transportation during any one season, more than the seasonal bag limit of wild birds or wild animals or fish allowed to be taken, caught, killed or possessed during any one season, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Every common carrier, its officers, agents or servants, who receives for shipment or transportation, or who ships or transports, or any person who ships or offers for shipment or transportation any wild birds or wild animals or fish, unless the same are at all times in open view, labeled with the name and residence of the shipper and the name and residence of the actual consignee and the exact contents as to kind and species of wild birds or wild animals or fish contained in the package offered for shipment or transportation; or any person who ships any of the wild birds or wild animals or fish by parcel post is guilty of a misdemeanor.

All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 651.]

§ 628. Protection of shrimp. Spiny lobster. Crab. Caught below Mexican boundary. Every person who, at any time offers for shipment or ships, or who receives for shipment or transportation from the state of California to any place in any other state, territory or foreign country, or who has in his possession, for any purpose any dried shrimp or shrimp shells of shrimp caught or taken in the waters of this state, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; and be it provided, that the possession of such dried shrimp or shrimp shells for any purpose shall be prima facie evidence that such dried shells are of shrimp which were caught or taken in the waters of this state. Every person who, between the first day of March and the fourteenth day of October inclusive of any year, takes, catches, kills, has in possession, buys, sells or offers for sale any spiny lobster (Panulirus interruptus), or who at any time takes, catches, kills, has in possession, buys, sells, or offers for sale any spiny lobster (Panulirus interruptus), of less than ten and one-half inches or more than sixteen inches in length, measured from one extremity to the other and exclusive of legs, claws or feelers, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person who, at any time takes, catches, kills, has in his possession, buys, sells, or offers for sale any crab (Cancer magister), of less than seven inches in breadth measured straight across the back from point to point, or any female crab (Cancer magister), or who, between the thirty-first day of July and the fourteenth day of November, inclusive, of any year, takes, catches, kills, has in possession, buys, sells or offers for sale any crab (Cancer magister), shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Any person who shall at any time, pickle, can or otherwise preserve any spiny lobster (Panulirus interruptus) or crab (Cancer magister) or who shall at any time, sell any spiny lobster (Panulirus interruptus) or crab (Cancer magister), meat not in the shell of any such spiny lobster (Panulirus interruptus) or crab (Cancer magister) or who shall bring to shore any part or portion of any spiny lobster (Panulirus interruptus) or crab (Cancer magister) without the remaining portions of such spiny lobster (Panulirus interruptus) or crab (Cancer magister) in such condition that the size of such spiny lobster (Panulirus interruptus) or crab (Cancer magister) can not be measured shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Every person who ships or offers for shipment or transportation any species of crab taken in fish and game districts five, six, seven, seven A, eight and nine, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

None of the provisions of this act shall apply to spiny lobster caught or taken without the waters of this state, when said spiny lobsters are not caught in waters lying south for a distance of ten miles from the international boundary line between the United States and Mexico, extended westerly in the Pacific ocean, and bearing after inspection such evidence of having been so caught or taken as may be hereafter prescribed by the fish and game commission; and be it provided, that all the expense of such inspection shall be borne by the importer of such spiny lobster; and be it provided, further, that all spiny lobster imported into this state shall be of the size prescribed in this action. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1062.]

§ 628a. Protection of bass. Shad. Limit. Every person, who at any time, buys, sells, offers for sale or has in his possession any striped bass of less than three pounds in weight, or who, except with hook and line and in the manner commonly known as angling, takes, catches, kills or has in his possession any striped bass or shad between the twenty-fifth day of September and the fourteenth day of November inclusive of any year or between the sixth day of June and the thirty-first day of July, both dates inclusive, of any year, or who, between the twenty-fifth day of September and the fourteenth day of November, inclusive, or between the sixth day of June and the thirty-first day of July, inclusive, of any year, takes, catches, kills or has in his possession more than five striped bass or shad, or who between the twenty-fifth day of September and the fourteenth day of November, inclusive, or between the sixth day of June and the thirty-first day of July, inclusive, of any year, buys, sells, offers for sale, ships or offers for shipment or receives for shipment or transportation any striped bass, or who at any time, offers for shipment, ships or receives for shipment or transportation from the State of California to any place in any other state, territory or foreign country any striped bass is guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person who takes any striped bass or shad in a net, any of the meshes of which are, when drawn closely together and measured inside the knots, less than five and one-half inches in length, is guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person who shall cast, extend or draw, or assist in casting, extending or drawing any net or seine, for the purpose of taking or catching any shad or striped bass in any of the waters of this state at any time between sunrise of each Saturday and sunset of the following Sunday is guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall prohibit any person from having in his possession in any one calendar day, not more than five striped bass of less than three pounds each in weight, caught with hook and line, but such fish shall not be bought, sold or offered for sale, or shipped or offered for shipment. Every person who violates any of the provisions of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 668.]

§ 628b. Protection of black bass, perch, sunfish, etc. Exception. Protection of catfish. Exception. Every person who at any time, except with hook and line and in the manner commonly known as angling, takes, catches or kills any black bass, Sacramento perch, crappie, calico bass or any variety of sunfish, or has in his possession more than twenty-five black bass, Sacramento perch, crappie, calico bass or any variety of sunfish, during one calendar day, or who takes, catches, kills or has in his possession any black bass less than seven inches in length, or who buys, sells, offers or exposes for sale any black bass, Sacramento perch, crappie, calico bass or any variety of sunfish; every person who in any fish and game district, between the first day of December and the thirtieth day of April of the year following, both dates inclusive, takes, catches, kills or has in his possession any black bass, Sacramento perch, crappie, calico bass or any variety of sunfish, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Nothing in this section shall prohibit the taking of black bass at any time in any lake exceeding seventy-five square miles in area within the boundaries of fish and game district number two, or prohibit the possession within the boundaries of fish and game district number two, of black bass taken in such lake or lakes.

Every person who, at any time, has in his possession for sale, or sells, or offers for sale, any catfish, between the fifteenth day of May and the fourteenth day of August, inclusive, of any year, or who at any time has in his possession for sale, or sells, or offers for sale, any dressed catfish, which shall measure less than seven inches in length, exclusive of any part of the head, or who at any time has in his possession for sale, or sells, or offers for sale, any undressed catfish less than nine inches in length, or who retains any catfish in live cars or boats that do not measure nine inches in length, or who at any time within a period of five years, kills or has in his possession any sturgeon, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Nothing in this section, or elsewhere in this code, shall prohibit the state fish and game commission, or persons authorized by it, from taking at all times such fish as they may deem necessary for scientific purposes, or for purposes of propagation. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 664.]

§ 628e. Protection of whiting. Yellow-fin or spot-fin croaker. Barracuda. Every person who in fish and game district number nineteen at any time except with hook and line, takes, catches or kills any California whiting (Menticirrhus undulatus), also known as surf fish, or any yellow-fin or any spot-fin croaker; every person who, at any time within the period of three years, buys, sells, offers, or exposes for sale any California whiting (Menticirrhus undulatus), also known as surf fish, or any yellow-fin or any spot-fin croaker; every person who, at any time buys, sells, offers or exposes for sale any southern, bastard or chicken halibut (Paralichthys californicus) of less than four pounds in weight, or any barracuda less than three pounds in weight, or any albicore weighing less than six pounds, is guilty of a misdemeanor. And all fines collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the "fish commission fund." [Amendment approved April 20, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 153.]

§ 628f. Protection of abalone. Pismo clams. Cockles. Razor clams. Penalty. Every person who, between the first day of February and the last day of February of the same year, both dates inclusive, takes, catches, kills, or has in his possession any red abalone (Haliotis rufescens), or who, between the first day of February and the thirtieth day of April of the same year, both dates inclusive, takes, catches, kills or has in his possession any pink abalone (Haliotis corrugata), or any black abalone (Haliotis crackerodie), or any green abalone (Haliotis fulgens) is guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person who at any time, takes, catches, kills or has in his possession any red abalone (Haliotis rufescens) the shell of which is less than seven inches in greatest diameter, or any green abalone (Haliotis fulgens) the shell of which is less than six and one-half inches in greatest diameter, or any pink abalone (Haliotis corrugata) the shell of which is less than six inches in greatest diameter, or any black abalone (Haliotis crackerodie) the shell of which is less than five inches in greatest diameter, or who by any means whatsoever, takes, or catches any abalone (Haliotis) and does not bring the same naturally attached to the shell and alive, to the shore above high-water mark, or who takes, catches or kills any abalone (Haliotis) for other than food purposes, or who, at any time, dries any abalones (Haliotis), or who offers for shipment, or ships, or receives for shipment or transportation from the State of California to any place in any other state, territory or foreign country any abalone meat or abalone shells, excepting articles manufactured from abalone shells; or who takes, catches, kills or has in his possession any abalone (Haliotis) taken, caught or killed with a spear shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person who, in fish and game districts seventeen, nineteen and twenty of this state, uses or assists in using any diving apparatus of any character for the taking or catching of any abalone (Haliotis), or who, in fish and game districts four or nineteen, takes, catches or kills or has in possession during any one calendar day more than ten abalone (Haliotis); or who, in fish and game district seventeen takes, catches, kills or has in possession more than twenty abalone in any one calendar week shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

None of the provisions of this act shall apply to abalone caught or taken without the waters of this state and bearing after inspection such evidence of having been so caught or taken as may be hereinafter prescribed by the fish and game commission; and, be it provided, that the expense of such inspection shall be borne by the importer of such abalone (Haliotis).

Every person who gathers or takes in any manner or has in his possession any clam known as the Pismo clam (Tivela stultorum) which shall measure less than four and three-quarters inches across its shell in the greatest breadth, or who, during any one calendar day, takes, gathers in any manner or has in his possession more than fifty of said clams, or who, between the first day of May and the thirty-first day of August, both dates inclusive, of any year, takes, catches or gathers any clams in fish and game district seventeen is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Every person who takes, gathers in any manner or has in his possession, or who ships, offers for shipment, sells or offers for sale any cockles or little-neck clams (Tapes staminea) measuring less than one and one-half inches in its greatest breadth; every person who takes, catches or gathers in any manner any razor clam (Siliqua patula), except during a period of forty-eight hours beginning at the first low tide after the first high tide (large water) of the full moon of each month and for a period of forty-eight hours beginning at the first mean low tide after the first high tide (large water) of the new moon of each month, or who takes, catches or gathers in any way more than fifty of said razor clams (Siliqua patula) during any one calendar day is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Every person who takes, catches or kills or has in possession any clam or clams taken from fish and game districts eight or nine, between the first day of May and the thirty-first day of August of any year, both dates inclusive; or who at any time ships or offers for shipment or receives for shipment or transportation, to any place outside the limits of fish and game district one, any clam or clams of any species taken in fish and game district seven, eight or nine, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Every person violating any of the provisions of this section upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail in the county in which the conviction shall be had not less than ten days nor more than six months or by both such fine and imprisonment; and all fines and forfeitures imposed or collected for any violation of the provisions of this section must be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 669.]

§ 628j. Catching salt water eels. Penalty. Every person, who in fish and game district three, in the state of California, takes, catches, kills or has in his possession, any salt water eel (Blenniidoe), measuring less than twelve inches in length, or who takes, catches, kills or has in his possession more than fifteen salt water eels (Blenniidoe), during any one calendar day, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Every person found violating any of the provisions of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor and must be fined in a sum not less than twenty dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail in the county in which the conviction shall be had, not less than ten days, nor more than one hundred fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and all fines and forfeitures imposed or collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be paid into the state treasury, to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund. [New section approved April 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 192.]

§ 629. Fish screens over ditch inlets. It shall be the duty of the state board of fish and game commissioners to examine from time to time all mill races, irrigating ditches, pipes, flumes and canals taking or receiving water from any

river, creek, stream or lake in this state. Whenever in the opinion of the state fish and game commission it shall be necessary to screen any such mill race, irrigating ditch, pipe, flume or canal in order to prevent fish from passing through or into such mill race, irrigating ditch, pipe, flume or canal and away from any river, creek, stream or lake in which fish have been planted or may exist, the state fish and game commission shall order the person, company or corporation owning, leasing, controlling or having in charge any such mill race, irrigating ditch, pipe, flume or canal to install and maintain a screen on such mill race, irrigating ditch, pipe, flume or canal. Said order shall be in writing and shall specify the size, mesh, material and location of such screen and the time within which said screen must be installed.

After making an order to place and maintain such screen, the board of fish and game commissioners shall, when requested by said owners, lessees or operators, or the person in charge of such mill race, irrigating ditch, pipe, flume or canal, fix a time and place in the county in which the intake of such mill race, irrigating ditch, pipe, flume or canal is situated, for the taking of evidence upon the question of the necessity of placing and maintaining such screen and cause a notice in writing of the time and place of hearing to be served upon such owner, lessee or operator or person in charge of such mill race, irrigating ditch, pipe, flume or canal, at least ten days before the date of such hearing. At such time and place designated in said notice testimony, under oath, shall be taken on the part of the state board of fish and game commissioners, and the owners, lessees or operators or persons in charge of such mill race, irrigating ditch, pipe, flume or canal.

If said request for a hearing upon the order herein specified is not made within ten days after the service upon said owners, lessees, or operators, or the person in charge, of said mill race, irrigating ditch, pipe, flume or canal, such order shall become final.

If it appears from the evidence upon such hearing that fish exist or have been planted in the river, stream, creek or lake from which said mill race, irrigating ditch, pipe, flume or canal takes its waters, said board of fish and game commissioners shall make an order in writing, and cause the same to be served on such owner, lessee, operator or person in charge of said mill race, irrigating ditch, pipe, flume or canal; said order shall designate the point on said mill race, irrigating ditch, pipe, flume or canal at which said screen shall be located, and the size, mesh and materials of said screen and the time within which said screen must be installed. Said time shall be not less than thirty days, nor more than six months, from the date of service of said order upon said owner, lessee, operator or person in charge of said mill race, irrigating ditch, pipe, flume or canal.

The evidence in any investigation, inquiry or hearing, provided by this section, may be taken by any of the members of the board of fish and game commissioners, or such deputy fish and game commissioner, or employee, as the board may designate to take such evidence, and each member of the board and any of its deputies or employees designated to take evidence at the hearing provided hereby shall have the power to administer oaths, take affidavits and issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses at such hearings. Each witness, legally subpoenaed, attending at a hearing, shall receive for his attendance the same fees and mileage allowed by law to a witness in civil cases, which amount shall be paid by the party at whose request such witness is subpoenaed.

The superior court in and for the county, or city and county, in which any inquiry, investigation, hearing or proceeding may be held under authority of this section shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of testimony and the production of papers, as required by any subpoena issued under authority of this section. The commission, or representative of the commission, before whom the testimony is to be given or produced, in case of the refusal of any witness to attend or testify or produce any papers required by such subpoena, may report to the superior court in and for the county, or city and county, in which the proceeding is pending, by petition, setting forth that due notice has been given of the time and place of attendance of said witness, or the production of said papers, and that the witness has been summoned in the manner prescribed in this act, and that the witness has failed and refused to attend or produce the papers required by the subpoena, before the commission or its representative, in the cause or proceeding named in the notice and subpoena, or has refused to answer questions propounded to him in the course of such proceeding, and ask an order of said court, compelling the witness to attend and testify or produce said papers before the commission or its representative. The court, upon the petition of the commission or its representative, shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court, at a time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, the time to be not more than ten days from the date of the order, and there show cause why he has not attended and testified or produced said papers before the commission or its representative. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpoena was regularly issued by the commission or its representative, the court shall thereupon enter an order that said witness appear before the commission or its representative at the time and place fixed in said order, and testify or produce the required papers, and upon failure to obey said order, said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court.

The commission or its representative, or any party, may, in any investigation or hearing before the commission or its representative, cause the deposition of witnesses residing within or without the state to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil actions in the superior courts of this state and to that end may compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents and papers.

Any person, company or corporation, neglecting or refusing to put up or maintain the screen ordered by the state board of fish and game commissioners, after the order shall have become final, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail of the county in which the conviction shall be had of not less than ten days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, any fines collected over and above the costs of the proceedings to be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund; and provided, that the continuance from day to day of the neglect or refusal to install and maintain such screen after the same is finally ordered shall constitute a separate offense for each day. [Amendment approved April 20, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 155.]

§ 631d. License to raise domesticated game birds or mammals. 1. Any person desiring to engage in the business of raising and selling domesticated game birds or mammals of any species in a wholly inclosed preserve or entire island of which he is the owner or lessee, may make application in writing to the state board of fish and game commissioners for a license so to do. The said state board of fish and game commissioners, when it shall appear that the said application is made in good faith, shall, upon the payment of a fee of two dollars and fifty cents, issue to such applicant a breeder's license permitting such applicant to breed and raise domesticated game on such preserve or entire island and to sell the same alive at any time for breeding and stocking purposes, to kill and transport same and sell the carcasses thereof for food, as hereinafter provided. Such license shall be posted or displayed in a conspicuous place on such preserve or entire island and shall expire on the last day of December in each year at midnight.

2. Game for sale tagged. Report of game killed. No domesticated game killed as aforesaid and intended for sale shall be shipped, transported, sold or offered for sale unless each quarter and each loin of each carcass of each deer and the carcass of each bird or small mammal shall have been tagged, under the supervision of the state board of fish and game commissioners, with a tag or seal which shall be supplied by said commissioners, and all domesticated game excepting deer sold under the provisions of this act must be killed otherwise than by shooting. The quarters and loins of the carcasses of such deer, and the carcass of such small game birds or mammals when tagged as aforesaid may be possessed, sold or offered for sale at any time. Every regular assistant or person designated by whom such deer or small game bird or mammal shall have been tagged, shall, within five days thereafter, make and file with the state board of fish and game commissioners a written report thereof, which shall contain a statement of the name of the person by whom such game was bred or raised and killed, the number of each species so killed and the name of the person or persons to whom such game were sold or to whom they were transported.

3. Tag on package. Common carriers may receive and transport at any time the carcasses or parts thereof of said domesticated game tagged as aforesaid, but to every package containing such carcass or parts thereof shall be affixed a tag or label upon which shall be plainly printed or written the name of the person to whom such license was issued and by whom such game was killed, the name or names of the person or persons to whom such game is to be transported, the name of the regular assistant or other person by whom such game was tagged, the number of carcasses or portions thereof contained therein and that the game was killed and tagged in accordance with the provisions of this section.

4. License. Sale to customer. No person shall sell or offer for sale any game killed and tagged as aforesaid, without first obtaining a license so to do from the state board of fish and game commissioners, upon such terms and conditions as the said commissioners may prescribe, and any such license may be revoked for sufficient cause at the pleasure of the said commission. The said tags or seals shall remain affixed, as aforesaid, until the quarters or loins of each deer or the carcasses of such small game birds or mammals shall have been wholly consumed and the sale of a quarter or loin or any larger portion of such deer or the carcass of any such small game bird or mammal which shall not at the time have affixed thereto the tag or seal aforesaid, shall constitute a violation of this section; provided, however, that the keeper of a hotel or restaurant, boarding-house or retail dealer in meat or a club may sell portions of a quarter or loin of any such deer, or the carcass of any such small game bird or mammal, to a patron or customer for actual consumption and no license shall be required of such person or club.

5. Annual report of game killed. On or before the first day of January of each year every person to whom a license shall have been issued, as aforesaid, shall make a report to the state board of fish and game commissioners, which said report shall state the total number of game birds or mammals killed, sold or transported, as permitted by the provisions of this section during the year preceding. Such report shall set forth the name of the person to whom such game birds or mammals were sold or transported, the name of the regular assistant or person designated in whose presence such game birds or mammals were tagged and shall also give a complete list of the game birds or mammals held in his possession at the time the report is made. Such report shall be verified by the affidavit of the person to whom such license was issued, or if the license was issued to a corporation, then by an officer thereof.

6. Live game may be shipped. Any person to whom such license shall have been issued may sell and ship alive within the state such game birds and mammals and all common carriers and transportation companies may receive and carry within the state such live game birds and mammals upon such terms and conditions as the said commissioners may prescribe.

7. Trapping game by commission. For the purpose of this act, it shall be lawful for the fish and game commission to trap and take alive any of the game birds or mammals and dispose of them to any person engaged in the domestication and sale of such game birds or mammals in this state at a price to be fixed by the fish and game commission.

8. Disposition of moneys. All moneys received from the sale of any game birds or mammals, or tags provided for in this act and all fines and forfeitures imposed and collected for any violation of the provisions of this act shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

9. Fence about deer preserve. A preserve used for the breeding of any species of deer, pursuant to this section, shall be surrounded by a fence of wire or other material of a pattern to be approved by the state board of fish and game commissioners and of a height of not less than seven feet.

10. License revoked. If any person to whom such license shall have been issued shall be convicted of a violation of any of the fish and game laws of the state, the state board of fish and game commissioners may revoke the license of such person and thereafter no similar license shall be issued to such person.

11. Fees. The state board of fish and game commissioners shall be entitled to receive and collect for each tag or seal affixed to the carcass of any game bird or mammal, as hereinbefore provided, the sum of three cents.

12. Penalty. Laws not applicable. Any person who violates or fails to perform any duty imposed by any of the provisions of this act is guilty of a misdemeanor and is liable to a penalty of one hundred dollars and to an additional penalty of twenty dollars for each game bird or mammal, or part of each game bird or mammal bought, sold or offered for sale, taken, possessed, transported or has in possession for transportation in violation thereof.

The provisions of any law relating to the protection or possession of game in its wild state shall not apply to game raised or possessed under the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1620.]

§ 631e. Revocation of licenses. Every person to whom a hunting, angler's, market fisherman's, or wholesale dealer's license has been issued, upon the third conviction for a violation of any of the laws enacted for the protection of fish or game shall, in addition to the penalty prescribed therefor, surrender his license to the judge or justice of the peace before whom such conviction is had; and such judge or justice of the peace shall revoke the hunting license of any person convicted of violating any law enacted for the protection of game, or the angler's license of any person convicted of violating any law enacted for the protection of game fish, or the market fisherman's license of any person convicted for violating any law enacted for the protection of fish, or the wholesale dealer's license of any person convicted for violating any law enacted for the protection of fish or game, and no new license shall be issued to such person for the remainder of the year for which it was issued. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1640.]

§ 632. Protection of trout. Limit. Domesticated trout. Scientific purpose. Penalty. Every person who, at any time, takes, catches or kills any trout except with hook and line and in the manner commonly known as angling is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Every person who, in fish and game districts numbers two, two A, three, three A, three B, three C, three D, ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, eighteen, and nineteen, between the first day of March and the thirty-first day of March, of the same year, both dates inclusive; or who, between the first day of November and the fourteenth day of December, of the same year, both dates inclusive, takes, catches, kills, buys, sells, offers or exposes for sale, barter or trade, or has in his possession, any variety of trout is guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, that nothing in this section shall apply to Dolly Varden trout (Salvelinus malma or Salvelinus parkei) when taken in a legal manner and in open season for other trout in the same district; provided, further, that nothing in this section shall prohibit the taking of steelhead trout by means of nets in fish and game districts five, six, and seven A in such quantities and at such times and in such manner as is provided for the taking of salmon in those districts; nor the sale of such trout within the state, when the same shall be offered for sale according to regulations to be prescribed by the fish and game commission.

Every person who, in fish and game districts numbers one, one A, one B, one C, one D, one E, one F, one G, one H, one I, one J, one K, one L, five, six, seven, seven A, eight and nine, between the first day of November and the thirty-first day of March of the year following, both dates inclusive, takes, catches, kills, sells, offers or exposes for sale, barter or trade, or has in his possession, any variety of trout is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Every person who, in fish and game districts four, four A, four B, four C, four D, four E, and twenty-one, between the first day of December and the thirtieth day of April of the year following, both dates inclusive, takes, catches, kills, buys, sells, offers or exposes for sale, barter or trade, or has in his possession any variety of trout, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Every person who, in fish and game districts numbers twenty-three, twenty-four and twenty-five, between the first day of November and the twenty-ninth day of May of the year following, both dates inclusive, takes, catches, kills, buys, sells, offers or exposes for sale, barter or trade, or has in his possession, any variety of trout or white fish; every person who, in fish and game district number twenty-three, between the first day of November and the thirty-first day of July of the year following, both dates inclusive, takes, catches, or kills any trout or white fish in any stream flowing into any lake within two miles extending from its mouth toward its source, or who buys, sells, offers or exposes for sale, barter or trade, or has in his possession, any trout or white fish so taken in such stream, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Every person who, between the first day of November and the thirty-first day of July of the year following, both dates inclusive, takes, catches or kills any trout in any lake within three hundred feet of the mouth of any stream flowing into any lake, or who has in his possession or buys, sells, offers or exposes for sale, barter or trade any such trout, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Every person who takes, catches, kills or has in his possession during one calendar day more than fifty trout, or ten pounds of trout, and one trout, or one trout weighing ten pounds and over, is guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, that every person who, in fish and game districts two, two A, three, three A, three B, three C, three D, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, eighteen and nineteen, between the fifteenth day of December and the last day of February of the following year, both dates inclusive, takes, catches, kills or has in his possession during one calendar day more than five trout, regardless of weight, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Nothing in this section shall apply to trout raised under the provisions of the act authorizing and regulating the raising and selling of domesticated trout.

Nothing in this section shall prohibit the fish and game commission of this state, or persons authorized by them, from taking at all times such trout as they deem necessary for the purposes of propagation, or for scientific purposes.

Every person found guilty of a violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be punishable by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars, or more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail of the county in which the conviction shall be had not less than ten or more than one hundred fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. All fines and forfeitures imposed and collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1247.]

§ 632c. Sale of trout a misdemeanor. In effect, when. Every person who buys, sells, offers or exposes for sale, barter or trade, any species of trout, except domestically reared trout, in the state of California, is guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person violating any of the provisions of this section is punishable by a fine of not less than twenty dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail of the county in which the conviction shall be had for not less than ten days, nor more than one hundred fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. All fines and forfeitures imposed and collected for violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund. The provisions of this section shall not take effect until the thirty-first day of October, one thousand nine hundred seventeen. [New section added April 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 140.]

§ 633. Protection of golden trout. Every person who, at any time between the first day of October and the thirtieth day of June of the succeeding year, takes, catches, kills, destroys or has in his possession, any variety of golden trout; or who, at any time, takes, catches, kills, or destroys, any variety of golden trout, other than with hook and line; or who, at any time, takes, catches, kills, or destroys, or has in his possession, during one calendar day, more than twenty golden trout or has in his possession any variety of golden trout of less than five inches in length, is guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person found guilty of any violation of any of the provisions of this section must be fined in a sum not less than twenty dollars or be imprisoned in the county jail, in the county in which the conviction shall be had, not less than ten days, or be punished by both such fine and imprisonment, and all fines collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this section must be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish commission fund. Nothing in this section shall prohibit the fish commission of this state from taking at all times such golden trout as they deem necessary for the purpose of propagation or for scientific purposes. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 665.]

§ 634. Protection of salmon. 1. Every person who shall cast, extend or draw or assist in casting, extending or drawing, any net or seine for the purpose of taking or catching any salmon at any time during the closed seasons, as provided in this act, or at any time between sunrise of Saturday and sunset of the following Sunday, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

2. In districts one, two, three and four. Every person who, in fish and game districts numbers one and two, except with spear and hook and line, said hook and line to be used in the manner commonly known as angling, takes, catches or kills any salmon; every person who, in fish and game districts numbers three and four, except with hook and line, said hook and line to be used in the manner commonly known as angling, takes, catches or kills any salmon; every person who, in fish and game districts one, two, three and four, between the sixth day of June and the thirty-first day of July of the same year, both dates inclusive, or between the twenty-fifth day of September and the fourteenth day of November of the same year, both dates inclusive, takes, catches, kills or has in his possession more than three fresh salmon during any one calendar day, or who buys, sells, offers or exposes for sale any fresh salmon, is guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, that nothing in this act shall prohibit the possession or sale at any time of any salmon from without the state, or the possession or sale at any time of any salmon lawfully taken in any fish and game district, other than fish and game districts numbers one, two, three and four, when such salmon are inspected and tagged according to regulations to be prescribed by the fish and game commission. The cost of such inspection and tagging must be paid by the person or persons submitting such salmon for said inspection and tagging.

3. In district five. Every person who, in fish and game district five, between the first day of December and the thirty-first day of August of the year following, both dates inclusive, takes, catches or kills any salmon, except with spear or hook and line, said hook and line to be used in the manner commonly known as "angling," or takes, catches, kills or has in his possession more than three fresh salmon in any one calendar day, or buys, sells, offers or exposes for sale, any fresh salmon, or who, at any times, takes, catches or kills any salmon with any net, any of the meshes of which are, when drawn closely together and measured inside the knots, less than five and one-half inches in length, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

4. In district six. Every person who, in fish and game district six, between the first day of December and the fourteenth day of April of the year following, both dates inclusive, or betweeen the first day of June and the thirtieth day of June of the same year, both dates inclusive, or between the sixth day of September and the nineteenth day of September of the same year, both dates inclusive, except with spear or hook and line, said hook and line to be used in the manner commonly known as "angling," takes, catches or kills any salmon, or takes, catches or kills or has in his possession more than three fresh salmon in any one calendar day, or buys, sells, offers or exposes for sale any fresh salmon, or who, at any time, takes, catches or kills any salmon with any net, any of the meshes of which are, when drawn closely together and measured inside the knots, less than six and one-half inches in length, or who uses any net for the purpose of catching salmon in the daytime between the hours of 6 A. M. and seven P. M. between the first day of August and the fifth day of September of the same year, both dates inclusive, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

5. In district seven. Every person who, in fish and game district seven, between the first day of December and the thirty-first day of July of the year following, both dates inclusive, except with spear or hook and line, said hook and line to be used in the manner commonly known as "angling," takes, catches or kills any salmon, or takes, catches, kills or has in possession more than three fresh salmon in any one calendar day, or buys, sells, offers or exposes for sale any fresh salmon, or who at any time takes, catches, or kills any salmon with any net, any of the meshes of which are, when drawn closely together and measured inside the knots, less than six and one-half inches in length, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

6. In district seven A. Every person who, in fish and game district seven A, between the eighth day of December and the seventh day of October of the year following, both dates inclusive, takes, catches, kills or has in possession more than three fresh salmon in any one calendar day, or buys, sells, offers or exposes for sale any fresh salmon, or who at any time takes, catches or kills any salmon with any net, any of the meshes of which are, when drawn closely together and measured inside the knots, less than six and one-half inches in length is guilty of a misdemeanor.

7. In districts eight and nine. Every person, who, in fish and game districts eight and nine, between the first day of December and the thirtieth day of September of the year following, both dates inclusive, except with spear or hook and line, said hook and line to be used in the manner commonly known as "angling," takes, catches or kills any salmon, or takes, catches, kills or has in possession more than three fresh salmon in any one calendar day, or buys, sells, offers or exposes for sale any fresh salmon, or who, at any time, takes, catches, or kills any salmon with any net any of the meshes of which are, when drawn closely together and measured inside the knots, less than six and one-half inches in length, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

8. In districts ten, eleven, twelve, etc. Every person who, in fish and game districts ten, eleven, twelve, twelve B and thirteen, between the sixth day of June and the thirty-first day of July of the same year, both dates inclusive, or, between the twenty-fifth day of September and the fourteenth day of November of the same year, both dates inclusive, except with spear or hook and line, said hook and line to be used in the manner commonly known as "angling," takes, catches or kills any salmon, or takes, catches, kills or has in his possession more than three fresh salmon in one calendar day, or buys, sells, offers or exposes for sale any fresh salmon, or who, at any time, takes, catches or kills any salmon with any net, any of the meshes of which are when drawn closely together and measured inside the knots, less than five and one-half inches in length, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

10. In district fifteen. Every person who, in fish and game district fifteen, from the first day of September to the fourteenth day of April of the year following, both dates inclusive, takes, catches or kills any salmon, or who, at any time takes, catches or kills any salmon in any net is guilty of a misdemeanor.

11. In districts sixteen, etc. Every person who, in fish and game districts sixteen, seventeen, eighteen and nineteen, between the twenty-fifth day of September and the fourteenth day of November of the same year, both dates inclusive, has in his possession more than three fresh salmon in any one calendar day, or who, at any time, takes, catches or kills any salmon with any net, any of the meshes of which are, when drawn closely together and measured inside the knots, less than five and one-half inches in length, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

12. Salmon defined. For the purpose of this act and all acts relating thereto, only such fish as belong to the genus Oncorhynchus shall be considered salmon.

13. For propagation. Nothing in this act shall prevent the fish and game commission of this state, or persons authorized by them, from taking, at all times, and in any manner, such salmon as they may deem necessary for the purpose of propagation, or for scientific purposes.

14. Penalty. Any violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be punishable by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail of the county in which the conviction shall be had of not less than fifty days, nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and all fines and forfeitures imposed and collected for violation of the provisions of this act shall be paid into the state treasury, to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1035.]

§ 636. Protection of fish. Use of nets. Every person who shall use or operate, or who shall assist in using or operating any net, trap, line or other appliance for the purpose of taking or catching fish, mollusks or crustaceans in the state of California at any time, or in any manner, except as hereinafter provided, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Use of gill-nets in certain districts. It shall be lawful to use drift gill-nets in fish and game districts five, six, seven, seven A, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, twelve A, twelve B, thirteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, eighteen, nineteen and twenty-two, and to use set gill-nets in fish and game districts seventeen, eighteen and nineteen; provided, that in fish and game districts eleven, twelve, twelve A, twelve B, and thirteen the cork line of any gill-net shall not be submerged more than twelve feet below the surface of the water, and that the lines attaching the buoys or floats to the cork line of such submerged nets be not more than twelve feet in length and that the points of attachment of said lines on the cork line be not more than ten fathoms apart; and provided, further, that in fish and game districts eleven, twelve, twelve A, twelve B, and thirteen the meshes of the gill-nets shall be approximately the same size and shall not vary in length more than one inch; and provided, that gill-nets are not to be used in fish and game districts twelve A or twelve B between September twenty-fifth and November fourteenth of any year, both dates inclusive, or between June sixth and July thirty-first of any year, both dates inclusive, and any gill-net found in any fishing boat in fish and game district twelve A or twelve B during said closed season shall be prima facie evidence that the owner of such net was using same in said fish and game districts; and provided, further, that no gill-nets are to be used or operated in fish and game district twelve between the first day of March and the thirty-first day of July of any year, both dates inclusive, the meshes of which measure between five and five-eighths inches and seven and one-half inches in length. Any lines used on gill-nets which shall tend to cause the webbing of such gill-nets to bag or hang slack shall cause such net to lose its identity as a drift gill-net and become a trammel-net.

Trammel-nets. It shall be lawful to use trammel-nets (also known as two mesh and three mesh nets) in fish and game districts ten, eighteen, and nineteen, the minimum meshes of which shall measure not less than eight inches in length.

Purse and round haul nets. It shall be lawful to use purse-nets and round haul-nets (also known as circle seines or lampara-nets) in fish and game districts five, six, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, twelve B, thirteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty A, twenty-one and twenty-two; provided, that in fish and game district six, purse or round haul nets are not to be used for taking salmon or steelhead; and provided, further, that in fish and game district fifteen, purse or round haul nets shall be used only for the purpose of taking fish for bait, and that in fish and game district sixteen purse-nets or round haul-nets shall be used only for the purpose of taking squids, anchovies, and sardines; and provided, further, that round haul bait-nets or blanket bait-nets may be used in fish and game district twenty A for the purpose of taking anchovies or sardines for bait only; and provided, further, that it shall be unlawful for any boat to have in possession any net within district twenty A, other than round haul bait-nets or blanket bait-nets.

Beach-nets. It shall be lawful to use beach-nets (also known as beach-seines or haul seines) in fish and game districts five, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, twelve A, twelve B, thirteen, eighteen, nineteen and twenty-two; provided, that in fish and game districts five, twelve, twelve A and twelve B the meshes of any beach-nets shall measure not less than five and one-half inches in length, and that in fish and game districts ten, eighteen and nineteen the meshes of the beach-nets shall measure not less than one and one-half inches in length; and beach-nets shall only be used in fish and game district nineteen between the first day of September and the thirty-first day of January of the year following, both dates inclusive, and for the purpose of taking smelt only.

For the purpose of this act, any net hauled from the water to the beach or shore for the purpose of taking fish, shall be known as a beach-net.

Fyke-nets. It shall be lawful to use fyke-nets in fish and game district twelve B for the purpose of catching catfish, carp, pike, hard-heads and suckers between the fifteenth day of August and the fourteenth day of May of the year following, both dates inclusive; provided, that the smallest meshes of any fyke-net so used shall measure not less than two and one-half inches in length.

Trawl-nets. It shall be lawful to use trawl-nets (also known as paranzella nets, beam trawls or shrimp trawls), in fish and game districts five, six, seven, thirteen and eighteen; provided, that the use of any trawl-net in fish and game district thirteen shall be for the purpose of taking shrimp only.

Crab-nets. It shall be lawful to use crab-nets in fish and game districts five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen, seventeen, eighteen and nineteen, and lobster-traps in fish and game districts seventeen, eighteen and nineteen.

Shrimp-nets. It shall be lawful to use shrimp-nets (also known as Chinese shrimp or bag nets) in fish and game district thirteen for the purpose of taking shrimp only; provided, that any fish, mollusks or crustaceans other than marketable shrimp that may be taken in such shrimp-nets shall be immediately returned to the water.

Dip-nets. It shall be lawful to use dip-nets for the purpose of taking fish to be used as bait only, in any fish and game district, excepting fish and game district fourteen; provided, that in fish and game districts one, two, three and four such dip-net shall not be baited; and provided, further, that any dip-net in fish and game districts one, two, three, four, nineteen, twenty and twenty A shall not measure more than six feet in its greatest breadth.

Troll lines. It shall be lawful to use troll lines or hand lines in any fish and game district, except fish and game district fourteen, and to use trawl lines in fish and game districts five, six, seven, ten, seventeen, eighteen and nineteen. It shall also be lawful to use trawl lines (also known as set lines) in any lake in fish and game district two, having a surface area of not less than seventy-five square miles, for the purpose of catching catfish only; provided, that it shall be unlawful to use minnows or any species of young fish on hooks attached to such trawl lines.

Spade, shovel, etc. It shall be lawful to use any spade, shovel, hoe, rake or other appliance operated by hand for the purpose of taking mollusks in fish and game districts five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, eighteen, nineteen and twenty-one.

Set-nets and lines. Any net or line shall be considered a set-net or set-line that is made fast to the bank or ground or that shall be made fast in any way and shall not be free to drift with the tide or current; provided, that fyke-nets, shrimp-nets or crab-nets shall not be considered set-nets, nor trawl lines be considered set lines. The length of the meshes of any net shall be determined by taking at least four meshes and measuring them between the knots while they are simultaneously drawn closely together.

Recovering fish from overflowed areas. Nothing in this section shall prevent the fish and game commission, or persons authorized by them, from using any net or other appliance in any fish and game district for the purpose of recovering fish from overflowed areas or landlocked sloughs or ponds where they have been left isolated by receding streams or flood waters.

Scientific investigation. Condemned nets. Nothing in this section shall prohibit the fish and game commission, or anyone authorized by them, from using such nets, traps or other appliances in the waters of the state as they may deem necessary for carrying on scientific investigation or for the propagation of fish, mollusks or crustaceans. Be it provided, that any net, duly condemned in accordance with the provisions of section six hundred thirty-six a of the Penal Code, shall be destroyed or sold by order of the fish and game commission, and when sold all proceeds collected for the sale of such net or nets shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

Penalty. Every person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail of the county in which conviction shall be had not less than fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and all fines and forfeitures imposed and collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be paid into the state treasury, to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1043.]

§ 637. Fishways provided over or around dams. To be kept free from obstructions. Hatchery constructed when fishway impracticable. Planting of fish. Right of access.

Sale of young fish. Hearing on necessity for ladders. Orders of commission. 1. It shall be the duty of the state board of fish and game commissioners to examine, from time to time, all dams and artificial obstructions in all rivers and streams in this state naturally frequented by salmon, trout, shad and other fish; and if, in its opinion, there is not free passage for fish over and around any dam or artificial obstruction, to order in writing the owners or occupants thereof to provide the same, within a specified time, with a durable and efficient fishway, of such form and capacity, and in such location as shall be determined by the state board of fish and game commissioners, or persons authorized by them, and such fishway must be completed by the owners or occupants of such dam or artificial obstruction to the satisfaction of said commissioners, within the time specified; and it shall be incumbent upon the owners or occupants of all dams or artificial obstructions, where the state board of fish and game commissioners require such fishways to be provided, to keep the same in repair and open and free from obstructions to the passage of fish at all times; and no person shall willfully destroy, injure, or obstruct any such fishway; provided, that the owners or occupants of any dam or artificial obstruction shall allow sufficient water at all times to pass through such fishway to keep in good condition any fish that may be planted or exist below said dam or obstruction; provided, further, that during the minimum flow of water in any river or stream permission may be granted by the state board of fish and game commissioners to allow the owners or occupants of any dam or artificial obstruction to allow sufficient water to pass through a culvert, waste gate, or over or around the dam, to keep in good condition any fish that may be planted or exist below said dam or artificial obstruction, when in the judgment of the state board of fish and game commissioners it is impracticable to pass the water through the fishway to the detriment of the owner or occupant thereof.

Whenever in the opinion of the state fish and game commission it shall be impracticable, because of the height of any dam or other artificial obstruction, or other conditions, to construct a fishway over or around said dam or other artificial obstruction, the fish and game commission may order in lieu of said fishway the owners or occupants of said dam or other artificial obstruction to completely equip, within a specified time, on a site to be selected by said fish and game commission, a hatchery, together with dwellings for help, traps for the taking of fish, and all other equipment necessary to operate a hatchery station, according to plans and specifications furnished by the fish and game commission, who shall thereafter operate said hatchery without further expense to said owner or occupant of said dam or other artificial obstruction. The aforesaid hatchery, traps and other equipment necessary to operate a hatchery station shall not be of a size greater than necessary to supply the said stream or river with a reasonable number of such fish. The said owners or occupants of said dam or other artificial obstruction shall permit said fish and game commission to locate the aforesaid hatchery, dwellings, traps and other equipment upon any of the land of the owners or occupants of said dam or other artificial obstruction upon a site or sites to be mutually agreed upon by the fish and game commission and the said owners or occupants of said dam or other artificial obstruction.

If the said owners or occupants of said dam or other artificial obstruction shall generate electricity at said place of said dam or other artificial obstruction, then and in that case said owners or occupants shall furnish sufficient light, without expense, for the use of said hatchery when located and established.

Said owners or occupants shall also permit the use of water, without expense, to operate said proposed hatchery; provided, however, that the fish and game commission may, in lieu of said fishway, hatchery, dwellings, traps and other equipment necessary to operate a hatchery station as aforesaid, order the owners or occupants of said dam or other artificial obstruction to plant, under the supervision of the fish and game commission, the young of such fish as naturally frequent the waters of said stream or river, at such times, in such places and in such numbers as the fish and game commission may order; provided, further, that said owners or occupants of said dam or other artificial obstruction shall accord to the public, for the purpose of fishing, the right of access to the waters impounded by said dam or other artificial obstruction, during the open season for the taking of fish in such stream or river, subject to the rules and regulations of said fish and game commission.

The said owners or occupants of said dam or other artificial obstruction shall not be liable in damages to any person exercising the right of access to the waters impounded by said dam or other artificial obstruction, as aforesaid, who shall suffer injury through coming in contact with, or meddling with, any of the property of said owners or occupants.

The fish and game commission may sell, at cost to it, to such owners or occupants of such dam or other artificial obstruction the young of fish ordered to be planted in such stream or river.

Every person found guilty of any of the provisions of this act must be fined in a sum of not less than one hundred fifty dollars or imprisonment in the county jail of the county in which the conviction shall be had, not less than one hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and all fines and forfeitures imposed and collected for any violation of this act shall be paid into the state treasury, to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

After making any order to place and maintain such ladder, or to equip and convey such hatchery and site, or to plant such fish the state board of fish and game commissioners shall, when requested by the owners or parties in charge, fix a time and place, in the county in which the dam or other artificial obstruction is situated, for the taking of evidence upon the question of the necessity of placing and maintaining such ladder or of equipping and conveying such hatchery and site, or of planting such fish and cause notices in writing of such time and place where such hearing is to be held to be served upon the owners or persons in charge of such dam or other artificial obstruction, at least ten days before the day set for the hearing. If said request for a hearing upon the order to place and maintain such ladder or to equip such hatchery and site, or to plant such fish, is not made within ten days after the service of such order upon said owners or parties in charge of said dam or other artificial obstruction said order shall become final. At such time and place testimony, under oath, shall be taken, both on the part of the state board of fish commissioners and the owner or person in charge of such dam or other artificial obstruction, if such owner or persons in charge appears and offers evidence, and thereupon the state board of fish commissioners from the evidence offered shall determine whether or not the necessity for the placing and maintaining a ladder on said dam or other artificial obstruction or the equipping and conveying such hatchery and site or the planting of such fish is shown, and if shown to be required and necessary, said state board of fish commissioners may direct and order the placing and maintaining such ladder or the equipment and conveyance to the state of said hatchery, equipment and site or the planting of such fish. Such order to also fix the point where the ladder or hatchery and equipment is to be located or the number of and place where such fish are to be planted, and a certified copy of such order to be served upon the owners or parties in charge of such dam or other artificial obstruction.

The evidence in any investigation, inquiry or hearing, provided by this section, may be taken by any of the members of the board of fish and game commissioners, or such deputy fish and game commissioner, or employee, as the board may designate to take such evidence, and each member of the board and any of its deputies and employees designated to take evidence at the hearing provided hereby shall have the power to administer oaths, take affidavits and issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses at such hearings. Each witness, legally subpoenaed, attending at a hearing, shall receive for his attendance the same fees and mileage allowed by law to a witness in civil cases, which amount shall be paid by the party at whose request such witness is subpoenaed.

The superior court in and for the county, or city and county, in which any inquiry, investigation, hearing or proceeding may be held under authority of this section shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of testimony and the production of papers, as required by any subpoena issued under authority of this section. The commission or representative of the commission before whom the testimony is to be given or produced, in case of the refusal of any witness to attend or testify or produce any papers required by such subpoena, may report to the superior court in and for the county, or city and county, in which the proceeding is pending, by petition, setting forth that due notice has been given of the time and place of attendance of said witnesses, or the production of said papers, and that the witness has been summoned in the manner prescribed in this act, and that the witness has failed and refused to attend or produce the papers required by the subpoena, before the commission or its representative, in the cause or proceeding named in the notice and subpoena, or has refused to answer questions propounded in the course of such proceeding, and ask an order of said court, compelling the witness to attend and testify or produce said papers before the commission or its representative. The court, upon the petition of the commission or its representative, shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at a time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, the time to be not more than ten days from the date of the order, and then and there show cause why he has not attended and testified or produced said papers before the commission or its representative. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpoena was regularly issued by the commission or its representative, the court shall thereupon enter an order that said witness appear before the commission or its representative at the time and place to be fixed in said order, and testify or produce the required papers, and upon failure to obey said order, said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court.

The commission or its representative or any party may, in any investigation or hearing before the commission or its representative, cause the deposition of witnesses residing within or without the state to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil actions in the superior courts of this state and to that end may compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents and papers. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1524.]

§ 637a. Protection of wild birds. Game birds enumerated. Every person in the state of California who shall at any time kill or catch, or have in his possession, living or dead, any wild bird other than a game bird, or who shall purchase, offer or expose for sale, transport or ship within or out of the state, any such wild bird after it has been killed or caught, except as permitted by this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. No part of the plumage, skin or body of any bird protected by this section shall be sold or had in possession for sale, irrespective of whether said bird was captured or killed within or without the state. For the purpose of this act the following only shall be considered game birds: The Anatidae, commonly known as swans, geese, brant and river and sea ducks; the Rallidae, commonly known as rails, coots and gallinules; the Limicolae, commonly known as shore birds, plover surf birds, snipe, sandpipers, tatlers and curlews; the Gallinae, commonly known as wild turkeys, grouse, prairie chicken, pheasants, partridges, and quails; and the species of Columbidae, known as wild pigeons and doves. All other species of wild birds either resident or migratory shall be considered nongame birds; provided, that the English or European house sparrow, the great horned owl, sharp-shinned hawk, Cooper's hawk, duck hawk, butcher bird, bluejay, housefinch, commonly known as the California linnet, are not included among the birds protected by this act; and provided, further, that in fish and game district one, in fish and game district two and fish and game district three the blackbird is not included among the birds protected by this act; provided, further, that nothing in this section shall prohibit the killing of a robin, or other wild bird by the owner or tenant of any premises where such bird is found destroying berries, fruit or crops growing on such premises, but the birds so killed shall not be shipped or sold; and nothing in this act shall prevent a citizen of California from taking or keeping any wild nongame bird as a domestic pet if such bird shall not be sold or offered for sale, or transported out of the state, a permit to keep the same having first been obtained from the state board of fish and game commissioners. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 656.]

§ 637½. "Predatory animals" defined. Where the words "predatory animals" occur in this chapter, the following animals only shall be considered predatory animals: The order Insectivora (moles, shrews), the family Canidae (wolves, coyotes, foxes), the family Procyonidae (ringtail cats, coons), the family Mustelidae (martins, fishers, wolverines, weasels, minks, skunks, badgers), the family Felidae (cougars, wild cats, jack rabbits), the order Rodentia (rats, mice, gophers), except the families Sciuridae and Petauristidae (tree squirrels, flying squirrels), the black-tailed jackrabbit of the order Lagomorpha; and the following species of birds: blue jays, English or European house sparrow, great horned owl, sharp-shinned hawk, Cooper's hawk, duck hawk and house finch, commonly known as California linnet. [Amendment approved April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 44.]

§ 704. Testimony before magistrate may be taken in shorthand. When the person informed against is brought before the magistrate, if the charge be controverted, the magistrate must take testimony in relation thereto. The evidence must be reduced to writing and subscribed by the witnesses. The magistrate may, in his discretion, order the testimony and proceedings to be taken down in shorthand, and for that purpose he may appoint a shorthand reporter. The deposition or testimony of the witnesses must be authenticated in the form prescribed in section eight hundred sixty-nine of this code. [Amendment approved April 20, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 146.]

§ 928. Grand jury to examine books. It shall be the duty of the grand jury annually to make a careful and complete examination of the books, records, and accounts of all the officers of the county, and especially those pertaining to the revenue, and report as to the facts they have found, with such recommendations as they may deem proper and fit; and if, in their judgment, the services of an expert are necessary, they shall have power to employ one, at an agreed compensation, not to exceed ten dollars a day, to be first approved by the court; and if, in their judgment, the services of assistants to such expert are required, they shall have power to employ such, at a compensation to be agreed upon and approved by the court, not to exceed, however, five dollars a day for each assistant, such compensation of expert and assistants to be payable as other county charges. It shall be the duty of every grand jury first impaneled in even-numbered years to investigate and report upon the needs of all county officers in its county, including increase or decrease in salaries, number of officers, deputies or employees, the abolition or creation of offices and the equipment for, or the method or system of performing the duties of the several offices, and it shall cause a copy of such report to be transmitted to each member of the legislature representing the county in which it has been impaneled before the commencement of the regular session of the legislature in odd-numbered years. The judge, on impanelment of the grand jury, shall charge them especially as to their duties under this section; provided, that if any grand jury shall, in the report above mentioned, comment upon any person or official who has not been indicted by the said grand jury, the said comments shall not be deemed to be privileged. Any and all expenses incurred under this section and also the per diem of the grand jurors shall be paid by the treasurer of the county out of the general fund of said county upon warrants drawn by the county auditor upon the written order of the judge of the superior court in said county. [Amendment approved April 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 167.]

§ 1168. Term of imprisonment not fixed. (a) Every person convicted of a public offense, for which public offense punishment by imprisonment in any reformatory or the state prison is now prescribed by law, if such convicted person shall not be placed on probation, a new trial granted, or imposing of sentence suspended, shall be sentenced to be confined in the state prison, but the court in imposing such sentence shall not fix the term or duration of the period of imprisonment.

(b) Maximum and minimum term. It is hereby made the duty of the warden of the state prison to receive such person, who shall be confined until duly released as provided for in this act; provided, that the period of such confinement shall not exceed the maximum or be less than the minimum term of imprisonment provided by law for the public offense of which such person was convicted.

(c) Information furnished state board of prison directors. It shall be the duty of the judge before whom such convicted person was tried, and of the district attorney conducting the prosecution, to obtain and with the commitment furnish to the state board of prison directors in writing all information that can be given in regard to the career, habits, degree of education, age, nativity, nationality, parentage, and previous occupation, of such convicted person, together with a statement to the best of their knowledge as to whether such person was industrious or not, of good character or not, the nature of his associates and his disposition.

(d) Length of term after expiration of minimum term. The governing authority of the reformatory or prison in which such person may be confined, or any board or commission that may be hereafter given authority so to do, shall determine after the expiration of the minimum term of imprisonment has expired, what length of time, if any, such person shall be confined, unless the sentence be sooner terminated by commutation or pardon by the governor of the state; and if it be determined that such person so sentenced be released before the expiration of the maximum period for which he is sentenced, then such person shall be released at such time as the governing board, commission or other authority may determine.

(e) Rules and regulations. The state board of prison directors shall make all necessary rules and regulations to carry out the provisions of this act not inconsistent therewith, and may provide the forms of all documents necessary therefor.

(f) Discharge on serving maximum punishment. Any convicted person undergoing sentence in either of the state prisons of this state, not sooner released under the provisions of this act shall, in accordance with the provisions of existing law, be discharged from custody on serving the maximum punishment provided by law for the offense of which such person was convicted. [New section added May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 665.]

§ 1202a. Imprisonment in state prison. If the judgment is for imprisonment in the state prison it shall direct that the defendant be taken to the warden of the state prison at San Quentin. Thereafter, and until the termination of the sentence, the state board of prison directors may transfer the defendant from one state prison to the other as in the opinion of the board conditions may require. [New section added May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 688.]

§ 1203. Hearing on probation. After plea or verdict of guilty, where discretion is conferred upon the court as to the extent of the punishment, the court, upon oral suggestions of either party, or of its own motion, that there are circumstances which may properly be taken into view, either in aggravation or mitigation, of the punishment, may in its discretion refer the same to the probation officer, directing said probation officer to investigate, and to report, recommending either for or against release upon probation, at a specified time, and the court shall hear the same summarily at such specified time, and upon such notice to the adverse party as it may direct. At such specified time, if it shall appear from the report furnished by the probation officer, or otherwise, and from the circumstances, of any person over the age of eighteen years so having pleaded guilty, or having been convicted of crime, that there are circumstances in mitigation of the punishment, or that the ends of justice shall be subserved thereby, the court shall have power, in its discretion, to place the defendant upon probation in the manner following:

(a) Suspension of sentence. Bonds. The court, judge or justice thereof, may suspend the imposing, or the execution of sentence and may direct that such suspension may continue for such period of time not exceeding the maximum possible term of such sentence, except as hereinafter set forth, and upon such terms and conditions as it shall determine, which terms and conditions may include, in the discretion of the court, the requirements of bonds for the appearance of the person released upon probation before the court, at any time that the court may require such appearance in the investigation of any alleged violation of said terms and conditions of probation and such bonds may be at any time by the court exonerated without affecting any of the other terms or conditions of such probation; and in case of such suspension of imposition or execution of sentence, the court shall place such person on probation and under the charge and supervision of the probation officer of said court, during such suspension; provided, however, that where the maximum possible term of such sentence is less than two years, then such period of suspension of imposition or execution of sentence may, in the discretion of the court, continue for not over two years. Where the offense consists of a violation of section two hundred seventy or two hundred seventy a of the Penal Code of the state of California, such suspension of imposition or execution of sentence may, in the discretion of the court, continue for not over five years.

(b) Opportunity to pay fine. If the judgment is to pay a fine, and the defendant be imprisoned until it be paid, the court, judge or justice, upon imposing sentence, may direct that the execution of the sentence of imprisonment be suspended for such period of time, not exceeding the maximum possible term of such sentence, and on such terms as it shall determine, and shall place the defendant on probation, under the charge and supervision of the probation officer during such suspension, to the end that he may be given the opportunity to pay the fine; provided, however, that upon the payment of the fine being made, judgment shall be satisfied and the probation cease.

(c) Rearrest. Judgment pronounced. At any time during the probationary term of the person released on probation, in accordance with the provisions of this section, any probation officer may, without warrant, or other process, at any time until the final disposition of the case, rearrest any person so placed in his care and bring him before the court, or the court may, in its discretion, issue a warrant for the rearrest of any such person and may thereupon revoke and terminate such probation, if the interest of justice so requires, and if the court, in its judgment, shall have reason to believe from the report of the probation officer, or otherwise, that the person so placed upon probation is violating the conditions of his probation, or engaging in criminal practices, or has become abandoned to improper associates, or a vicious life. Upon such revocation and termination, the court may, if the sentence has been suspended, pronounce judgment after the said suspension of the sentence for any time within the longest period for which the defendant might have been sentenced, but if the judgment has been pronounced and the execution thereof has been suspended, the court may revoke such suspension, whereupon the judgment shall be in full force and effect, and the person shall be delivered over to the proper officer to serve his sentence.

(d) Court may revoke order. The court shall have power at any time during the term of probation to revoke or modify its order of suspension, of imposition or execution of sentence. It may, at any time, when the ends of justice will be subserved thereby, and when the good conduct and reform of the person so held on probation shall warrant it, terminate the period of probation and discharge the person so held, but no such order shall be made without written notice first given by the court or the clerk thereof to the proper probation officer of the intention to revoke or modify its order, and in all cases, if the court has not seen fit to revoke the order of probation and impose sentence or pronounce judgment, the defendant shall, at the end of the term of probation be by the court discharged.

(e) Change of plea. Every defendant who has fulfilled the conditions of his probation for the entire period thereof, or who shall have been discharged from probation prior to the termation of the period thereof, shall at any time prior to the expiration of the maximum period of punishment for the offense of which he has been convicted, dating from said discharge from probation or said termination of said period of probation, be permitted by the court to withdraw his plea of guilty and enter a plea of not guilty; or if he has been convicted after a plea of not guilty, the court shall set aside the verdict of guilty; and in either case the court shall thereupon dismiss the accusation or information against such defendant who shall thereafter be released from all penalties and disabilities resulting from the offense or crime of which he has been convicted.

(f) Probation officers to serve. The same probation officers and assistant probation officers and deputy probation officers shall serve under this act as are appointed under the act known as the juvenile court law, and entitled "An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody, and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof, and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved June 5, 1915, or under any laws amending or superseding the same, except in the case of offenses committed in counties and cities and counties of the second class and counties of the third class; provided, however, that in all cases of offenses defined by section twenty-one of said act known as the juvenile court law and by section two hundred seventy of the Penal Code of California, the same probation officers, assistants and deputies shall serve under this act as are appointed under the said juvenile court law.

(g) Adult probation board appointed. Term. Vacancy. Removal. Duty of board. No compensation. Adult probation officers. Payment of salaries. Expenses. Nomination of adult probation officers. Additional deputies. Offices. In counties and cities and counties of the second class, the judges designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings by a majority vote and in counties of the third class the judge of the department or the judges of the departments, by majority vote, to which criminal actions and proceedings are assigned shall by order entered in the minutes of the court appoint seven citizens of good moral character to be known as the adult probation board and shall fill all vacancies occurring in such board. The clerk of said court shall immediately notify each person appointed on said board and thereupon said person shall appear before a judge of the superior court and qualify by taking an oath, which shall be entered in said court record, to perform faithfully the duties of such adult probation board. The members of such adult probation board shall hold office for four years and until their successors are appointed and qualify; provided, that of those first appointed one shall hold office for one year, two for two years, two for three years and two for four years, the terms for which the respective members shall hold office to be determined by lot as soon after their appointment as may be. When any vacancy occurs in any probation board by expiration of the term of office of any member thereof, the successor shall be appointed to hold office for the term of four years. When any vacancy occurs for any other reason the appointee shall hold office for the unexpired term of his predecessor. Any member of the probation board may be removed for cause at any time by an affirmative vote of four members of said board at a meeting called for the special purpose of considering the question of said removal and the subsequent written approval of a majority of the judges designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings in counties and cities and counties of the second class, and the judge of the department or a majority of the judges of the departments to which criminal actions and proceedings are assigned in counties of the third class, said written approval to be filed with the clerk of the court within thirty days after the written report of the said board has been received by said judge. Written notice as to said special meeting shall be served on each of the members of said board at least ten days prior to the date set therefor and shall specify the purpose thereof.

It shall be the duty of such adult probation board to exercise a friendly supervision of probationers when so directed by the court, to furnish the court information and assistance whenever required upon the request of the court and from time to time to advise and recommend to the court any changes or modification of the order made in the case of a probationer as may be for the best interests of such person.

Members of the adult probation board shall serve without compensation.

In counties or cities and counties of the second class there shall be and there are hereby created the offices of one adult probation officer, one assistant adult probation officer and four deputy adult probation officers. The salaries of said officers shall be as follows: Adult probation officer, two hundred twenty-five dollars per month; one assistant adult probation officer, one hundred seventy-five dollars per month; one assistant adult probation officer, one hundred twenty-five dollars per month; three deputy adult probation officers, each, one hundred dollars per month. In counties of the third class there shall be and there are hereby created the offices of one adult probation officer, one assistant adult probation officer and one deputy adult probation officer. The salaries of said officers shall be as follows: Adult probation officer, one hundred seventy-five dollars per month; assistant adult probation officer, one hundred sixty dollars per month; deputy adult probation officer one hundred dollars per month. The deputy adult probation officer in counties of the third class, shall be a woman and shall be a competent stenographer and typist of sufficient ability to perform the clerical and stenographic work of the office in addition to her other duties; provided, however, that in the event an adult probation department is created in counties of the third class, from and after the creation of such department and the appointment of an adult probation officer or any deputy or assistant or like officer who shall relieve the probation officer of the adult probation work, the offices of assistant probation officer at a salary of one hundred seventy-five dollars a month and of assistant probation officer at a salary of one hundred sixty dollars a month shall cease and terminate and be abolished in counties of this class.

The salaries of the adult probation officers, assistant adult probation officers and deputy adult probation officers in counties or cities and counties of the second class and in counties of the third class shall be paid out of the county treasury of the county for which they are appointed respectively in the same manner as the salaries of the other county officers. The adult probation officers, assistant adult probation officers and deputy adult probation officers in said counties or cities and counties of the second class and in counties of the third class shall be allowed such necessary incidental expenses incurred in the performance of their duties as required by any laws of the state of California as may be authorized by a judge designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings or by the judge of a department to which criminal actions and proceedings are assigned, and the same shall be charged upon the county in which the court appointing them has jurisdiction and said expenses shall be paid out of the county treasury upon a written order of said judge of said county directing the county auditor to draw his warrant upon the county treasurer for the specific amount of such expenses. The adult probation officer shall keep a list of expenses and file a copy monthly with the county board of supervisors.

In counties or cities and counties of the second class the adult probation officer, and the assistant adult probation officer and deputy adult probation officers hereinbefore provided for shall be nominated by the adult probation board in manner as the judges designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings shall direct and the appointment of such adult probation officer, assistant adult probation officer and deputy adult probation officers shall be made by a majority vote of said judges. The term of office of the adult probation officer, assistant adult probation officer and deputy adult probation officers shall be two years from the date of their said appointments.

In counties of the third class the adult probation officer, the assistant adult probation officer and the deputy adult probation officer hereinbefore provided for shall be nominated by the adult probation board and in manner as the judge of the department or a majority of the judges of the departments to which criminal actions and proceedings are assigned shall direct and the appointment of such adult probation officer, assistant adult probation officer, deputy adult probation officer shall be made by said judge or a majority of said judges. The term of office of the adult probation officer, the assistant adult probation officer and the deputy probation officer shall be two years from the date of their appointments. The adult probation officer, the assistant adult probation officer and any deputy adult probation officer may at any time be removed in counties or cities and counties of the second class by vote of a majority of the judges designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings and in counties of the third class by the judge of the department or by a majority of the judges of the departments to which criminal actions and proceedings are assigned for good cause shown and on the filing of written charges by the said judge or judges with the adult probation board. In counties or cities and counties of the second class the judges designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings, and in counties of the third class the judge of the department or the judges of the departments to which criminal actions and proceedings are assigned shall have authority by an order entered in the minutes of said court to determine and fix the amount of bonds of the adult probation officer of county or city and county and of the assistant adult probation officer of the county or city and county and of the deputy adult probation officers of the county or city and county. If said bonds or any of them are furnished by any surety company licensed to transact business in the state of California, the premium thereon shall be paid out of the county treasury.

The adult probation officer may appoint as many additional deputies as he may desire; provided, however, that such deputies shall not have authority to act until their appointments shall have been approved by a majority vote of the members of the adult probation board and by a majority vote of the judges designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings in counties and cities and counties of the second class, and by a majority vote of the members of the adult probation board and by a judge of the department or a majority vote of the judges of the departments to which criminal proceedings are assigned in counties of the third class. The term of office of such deputies shall expire with the term of the adult probation officer making such appointment but the adult probation officer without written approval of the majority of members of the adult probation board may at any time in his discretion, revoke and terminate such appointment. Such deputies except as herein provided shall serve without compensation. It shall be the duty of the legislative body of every county or city and county of the second class and of every county of the third class, immediately upon this act becoming effective, to provide and thereafter maintain, at the expense of such county or city and county, in a location in the vicinity of the jail of such county or city and county, approved by the judges designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings, in counties or cities and counties of the second class and by the judge of the department or the judges of the departments to which criminal actions and proceedings are assigned in counties of the third class, suitable offices and quarters for the conducting of the business of the adult probation officer, the assistant adult probation officer and the deputy adult probation officers of such county or city and county.

Nothing contained in this subdivision shall apply to the offenses defined by section twenty-one of said juvenile court law and by section two hundred seventy of the Penal Code.

(h) Transfer of case. Whenever any person is released upon probation under the provisions of this act, the case may be transferred to any court of the same rank in any other county, or city and county, of this state in which such person resides, or to which such person may remove, and such court shall thereupon commit such person to the care and custody of the probation officer of the county, or city and county, to which such person has been transferred; such court shall thereafter have entire jurisdiction over such case, with like power to make transfer whenever to such court such transfer may seem proper.

(i) Report on person's antecedents. At the time of the plea or verdict of guilty of any crime of any person over eighteen years of age, the probation officer of the county of the jurisdiction of said crime shall, when so directed by the court, inquire into the antecedents, character, history, family environment, and offense of such person, and must report the same to the court, and file his report in writing in the records of said court. His report shall contain his recommendation for or against the release of such person on probation. If any such person shall be released on probation and committed to the care of the probation officer, such officer shall keep a complete and accurate record in suitable books or other form in writing, of the history of the case in court, and of the name of the probation officer, and his acts in connection with said case; also the age, sex, nativity, residence, education, habits of temperance, whether married or single, and the conduct, employment, and occupation, and parents' occupation, and condition of such person so committed to his care during the term of such probation and the result of such probation. Such record of such probation officer shall be and constitute a part of the records of the court, and shall at all times be open to the inspection of the court, or of any person appointed by the court for that purpose, as well as of all magistrates, and the chief of police, or other head of the police, unless otherwise ordered by the court. Said books of record shall be furnished for the use of said probation officer of said county, and shall be paid for out of the county treasury.

(j) Report. Every probation officer, within fifteen days after the thirtieth day of June, and within fifteen days after the thirty-first day of December, of each year, shall make in writing and file as a public document with the county clerk a report to the superior court of the county or city and county in which such probation officer is appointed to serve, and shall furnish a copy of such report to each judge in said county or city and county who has released any person on probation who at the time of such report remains on probation; and a further copy to the secretary of the state board of charities and corrections. Such report shall state, without giving names, the exact number of persons, segregating male and female, and segregating misdemeanors and felonies, who have been released on probation to such probation officer as such number exists, deducting all cases of expiration, discharge, dismissal, and restoration of rights, on said thirtieth day of June and said thirty-first day of December; and such report shall further segregate such person as having been released on probation, as the case may be, in one thousand nine hundred three, one thousand nine hundred four, one thousand nine hundred five and so on, up to and including the calendar year in which such report is made and filed.

(k) Statement of terms of probation. The probation officer shall furnish to each person who has been released on probation, and committed to his care a written statement of the terms and conditions of his probation unless such statement has been furnished by the court, and shall report to the court, judge, or justice, releasing such person upon probation, any violation or breach of the terms and conditions imposed by such court on the person placed in his care.

(l) Powers of probation officer. Such probation officer shall have, as to the person so committed to the care of said probation officer, the powers of a peace officer. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1409.]

§ 1239. Appeals in criminal actions. An appeal from a judgment may be taken by the defendant by announcing personally or through his attorney in open court at the time the judgment is rendered that he appeals from the same or by filing a written notice of appeal within two days after the rendition of judgment with the clerk of the court wherein judgment was rendered; and from any order made after judgment, by announcing in open court at the time the same is made that he appeals from the same. [Amendment approved April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 37.]

§ 1324. Witness not to prosecute on testimony of himself. Person not exempted if testimony is voluntary. [Repealed May 8, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 291.]

§ 1616. Care of female prisoners in county jails. Whenever any female prisoner or prisoners are confined in any county jail in the state, and no regular jail matron has been appointed, there shall be designated by the sheriff some suitable woman who shall have immediate care of such female prisoner or prisoners, and who shall be paid out of the general fund of the county upon claims to be presented and allowed by the board of supervisors as other claims against the county. Such female prisoners shall be so kept that they cannot see or be seen by, or converse with, any male prisoners confined in said jail, and it shall be unlawful for any male officer or jailer to search the person of any female prisoner, or to enter into the room or cell occupied by any female prisoner, except in the company of such matron or woman having the care of such female prisoner. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 240.]

THE

OF THE

AMENDMENTS OF 1917.

§ 445. Inheritance tax department established. Inheritance tax attorney and assistants. Duties. Salaries. Salaries, employees of inheritance tax department. Expenses. The controller shall maintain under his authority and direction a department, to be known as the inheritance tax department, which is hereby established, for the purpose of supervising and assisting in the administration of the inheritance or transfer tax laws of this state. Said department shall gather, record, compile, publish and distribute such information and data as the controller may direct relative to the inheritance or transfer tax laws of this or other states or relative to the administration, enforcement or evasion of such laws. Said department shall co-operate with, advise and assist inheritance tax appraisers, county treasurers, district attorneys and other officers and persons in the administration and enforcement of the inheritance or transfer tax laws of this state, and shall prepare, publish and distribute such blank forms for use of inheritance tax appraisers or other use as the controller may direct. In conection with said inheritance tax department, the controller may appoint, in addition to other employees provided for by statute, an inheritance tax attorney, whose office shall be in the city of Sacramento, five assistant inheritance tax attorneys, two of whom shall have their offices in the city of Los Angeles, two of whom shall have their offices in the city and county of San Francisco, and one of whom shall have his office in the city of Sacramento. Said attorneys shall be civil executive officers and shall be admitted and licensed to practice before the supreme court of this state. The inheritance tax attorney shall, under the authority and direction of the controller, have general supervision of said department. He shall have particular charge of the legal work connected with said department and shall perform such other duties as the controller may direct. Said assistant inheritance tax attorneys shall perform such legal and other services relative to the administration and enforcement of said inheritance or transfer tax laws in the respective counties in which their offices may be situated or in any neighboring county, as the controller may direct. The salary of said inheritance tax attorney shall be three thousand six hundred dollars per annum. The salary of one assistant inheritance tax attorney whose office shall be in the city of Los Angeles shall be three thousand six hundred dollars per annum. The salary of the second assistant inheritance tax attorney whose office shall be in the city of Los Angeles shall be two thousand four hundred dollars per annum. The salary of one assistant inheritance tax attorney whose office shall be in the city and county of San Francisco shall be three thousand six hundred dollars per annum. The salary of the second assistant inheritance tax attorney, whose office shall be in the city and county of San Francisco shall be two thousand four hundred dollars per annum. The salary of said assistant inheritance tax attorney whose office shall be in the city of Sacramento shall be two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum. The salaries of said inheritance tax attorney and of said assistant inheritance tax attorneys shall be paid at the same times and in the same manner as the salaries of other state officers. Said attorneys shall also receive their necessary traveling and incidental expenses. Said expenses and any other and further and additional expenses for attorneys, clerks, experts, agencies or persons or for any other purpose which said controller may find necessary or proper in the conduct of said inheritance tax department shall be paid out of such moneys as may be appropriated from time to time to the controller for use of said inheritance tax department. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1389.]

§ 456. Employees in office of state treasurer. The state treasurer may appoint one deputy state treasurer, one cashier, one bond officer, one deposit officer, one bookeeper and one secretary-stenographer, all of whom shall be civil executive officers. The annual salary of the deputy state treasurer is three thousand two hundred dollars; of the cashier, two thousand seven hundred dollars; of the bond officer, two thousand five hundred dollars; of the deposit officer, two thousand five hundred dollars; of the bookeeper, two thousand two hundred dollars; and of the secretary-stenographer, one thousand five hundred dollars. All such salaries shall be paid in the same manner and at the same time as the salaries of other state officers. [Amendment approved May 15, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 540.]

§ 472. Appointees of attorney general. To have charge of state's legal matters. The attorney general may appoint one assistant, one chief deputy and seven additional deputies, who shall be civil executive officers. The annual salary of the assistant shall be four thousand dollars; the annual salary of the chief deputy shall be four thousand dollars; the annual salary of two of such additional deputies shall be three thousand three hundred dollars each, and the annual salary of five of such additional deputies shall be three thousand dollars each. Said salaries shall be paid at the time and in the same manner as the salaries of other state officers. The attorney general shall not employ special counsel in any case except those provided in section four hundred seventy-four of the Political Code. The attorney general shall have charge, as attorney, of all legal matters in which the state is in any wise interested, except the business of the regents of the University of California and of the state harbor commissioners, and such other boards or officers as are now by law authorized to employ attorneys, and no board, officer or officers, or employee of the state, except said regents and said harbor commissioners and such other boards and officers as are now by law authorized to employ attorneys, shall employ any attorney other than the attorney general, or one of his assistants or deputies, in any matter in which the state is interested; nor shall any money be drawn out of the treasury, or out of any moneys appropriated out of the treasury, or out of any special or contingent fund under the control of any board, officer or officers, or employee for the pay of any legal services rendered after the passage of this act, the provisions of any existing statute to the contrary notwithstanding, excepting as above provided; provided, that whenever a district attorney in any county of this state shall, for any reason, become disqualified from conducting any criminal prosecution within such county, the attorney general may employ special counsel to conduct such prosecution, and the attorney's fee in such case shall be a legal charge against the state; provided, further, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent or deny the right of any board, officer, or officers or employee of the state to employ or engage counsel in any matter of the state, after first having obtained the written consent so to do of the attorney general. [Amendment approved May 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 529.]

§ 475. Clerks, etc., of attorney general. The attorney general may appoint two clerks, one phonographic reporter, one service agent, and six stenographers for his office. The annual salary of each of said clerks and of the phonographic reporter and of the service agent shall be one thousand eight hundred dollars; the annual salary of five of said stenographers shall be one thousand five hundred dollars; the annual salary of one of said stenographers shall be one thousand two hundred dollars. Said salaries shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as the salaries of state officers are paid. The clerks, the phonographic reporter, the service agent, and the stenographers shall be civil executive officers. The service agent and two of said stenographers, to be designated by the attorney general, shall be exempted from the provisions of the civil service act and shall hold their positions during the pleasure of the attorney general. [Amendment approved May 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 515.]

§ 589. Salary of insurance commissioner. The annual salary of the insurance commissioner is six thousand dollars and the annual salary of the deputy of the insurance commissioner is two thousand seven hundred dollars. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1667.]

§ 591. Office of insurance commissioner. The commissioner may procure suitable offices in the city of San Francisco for conducting the business of the insurance department. The commissioner shall, from time to time, furnish the necessary furniture, stationery, fuel, lights, printing and other conveniences and incur traveling and such other expenses and employ such assistance as may be necessary for the transaction of the business of his office. To defray the expenses of conducting the business of the insurance department there shall be set aside and reserved each and every year out of the funds paid into the state treasury by the insurance commissioner sixty thousand dollars as a special fund to be called the insurance commissioner's special fund. All expenditures authorized in this section must be audited by the board of control or other proper authorities who must allow the same and direct payment thereof to be made and the controller shall draw warrants therefor on the state treasury for the payment of the same to the insurance commissioner out of the said insurance commissioner's special fund; except that there shall be a revolving fund, or petty cash fund, of five hundred dollars which may be used by the commissioner without first obtaining the approval of any other department or official; provided, however, that such expenditures must ultimately be audited by the board of control and paid for as prescribed by law. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1667.]

§ 596. Transaction of insurance business in state. Certificate not to be renewed if company is in arrears for taxes. Surplus line broker. No company shall transact any insurance business in this state without first complying with all the provisions of the laws of this state and thereafter procuring from the insurance commissioner a certificate of authority and continuing to comply with the laws of this state. Every such certificate of authority shall expire on the first day of July after its issuance unless sooner revoked. No certificate of authority shall be granted or renewed to any company in arrears to the state, or to any county, city and county, city or town in the state, for fees, licenses, taxes, assessments, fines, or penalties, accrued on business previously transacted in the state, nor while said company is otherwise in default for failure to comply with any of the laws of this state regarding the governmental control of such company by the state.

No person, firm or corporation shall in this state act as agent, in any transaction of insurance on property located in this state, for any insurance company not authorized to transact such insurance in this state.

No person, firm or corporation within this state shall solicit, negotiate or effect any insurance of the kinds described in section five hundred ninety-four, marine insurance and insurance on the property of steam railroads or of other common carriers engaged in interstate trade excepted, on any property located in this state with companies not authorized to transact such business in this state, except by and through a surplus line broker upon the terms and conditions hereinafter stated.

When and only when the total amount of insurance, of kinds hereinbefore prohibited from being placed with unauthorized companies, desired on any property located within the state can not be procured from a majority of companies authorized to transact such kinds of insurance within the state, such remaining part of the insurance as can not be procured from a majority of such authorized companies may be procured from unauthorized companies by a surplus line broker, and by no other person.

License for surplus line broker. The insurance commissioner may issue a license authorizing any person, firm or corporation applying therefor, who is trustworthy and is competent to transact an insurance brokerage business in such manner as to safeguard the interest of the assured, to act as a surplus line broker from the date of such license until the first day of July succeeding, on the following conditions:

(a) Payment in advance to the insurance commissioner of a fee of twenty-five dollars.

(b) Delivery to the insurance commissioner of a bond to the state of California in the sum of five thousand dollars with sureties having the qualifications mentioned in section one thousand fifty-six and one thousand fifty-seven of the Code of Civil Procedure, conditioned that said licensee will fully and faithfully comply with the requirements of section five hundred ninety-six of the Political Code.

Duties of surplus line broker. The following are the duties of a surplus line broker with which he is required to comply:

1. To maintain in good faith an office in this state.

2. To keep in said office a complete book of record of the business transacted by him, under his license as a surplus line broker, with unauthorized companies showing: The dates of such insurance going into effect; the names of the insurers and of the insured; the gross premium payable therefor; the terms and character of insurance and location of the insured property. Such book of record shall also contain statements in the same detail of all such insurance canceled, or on which premiums have been increased or reduced and the amounts of additional or of return premiums thereon. Such books are to be open at all times for the inspection of, and examination by, the insurance commissioner or any one appointed by him for said purpose.

Before any insurance as hereinbefore provided may be so procured or placed by a surplus line broker under authority of his license with unauthorized companies, such broker shall satisfy himself that the insurance to be placed by him with unauthorized companies is only such part of the insurance required as cannot be procured from a majority of such authorized companies.

Whenever required so to do by the insurance commissioner, such surplus line broker shall furnish to said commissioner a list comprising a majority of the authorized companies from which the entire amount of insurance desired was not obtainable.

The surplus line broker shall within one week or as soon thereafter as practicable, after receipt by him of the complete information as to with what companies or other insurers and at what rate the insurance has been placed, file with the insurance commissioner a true report showing the names of the insured and of the insurers, the character of the insurance, location of the property, gross premium payable therefor and the date such insurance takes effect and the terms thereof. As soon as practicable after any such insurance has been canceled, or any premium thereon has been increased or reduced, such surplus line broker shall file with the insurance commissioner a report thereof in the same detail as required in the case of the report above referred to.

On or before the first day of March of each year the surplus line broker shall file with the insurance commissioner a sworn statement of all business transacted under his license during the last preceding calendar year ending December thirty-first. Such statement shall contain true accounts of the gross amount of insurance procured from and placed with unauthorized companies during the calendar year, the gross premium charged therefor, including additional insurance premiums, the gross amount of all insurance canceled during said year, and the gross return premiums thereon. Such statement shall also include any additional premiums charged, and the gross premium returned during said calendar year on insurance previously effected. All such reports and statements shall be made on blanks to be furnished to the surplus line broker by the insurance commissioner on application therefor.

Every surplus line broker shall on or before the first day of April of each year pay to the insurance commissioner for the use of the state of California a tax of three per cent upon the amount of gross premiums upon all insurance placed under authority of such license, less three per cent of all return premiums on policies canceled, or upon which premiums have been reduced during the year ending December thirty-first last preceding.

Any surplus line broker who willfully fails or refuses to report to the insurance commissioner any insurance on property located within this state placed under his name with unauthorized companies, or who shall by willful omission from the records required to be maintained by him for such purpose, attempt to evade the payment of taxes on any such insurance, shall upon conviction thereof in addition to being required to pay the tax thereon, be further penalized by a fine of not exceeding one hundred dollars for each offense and the insurance commissioner shall further forthwith revoke the license of any such surplus line broker.

The insurance commissioner shall also revoke the license of any surplus line broker who willfully fails or refuses to perform any of the other duties hereinbefore specified as required of said broker.

Revoking license. Examination of policies, etc., by insurance commissioner. If in the opinion of the insurance commissioner the solvency of any surety on a bond hereby required has become impaired or doubtful, he shall notify the surplus line broker in writing, and unless within ten days after receipt of such notice the solvency of such surety is proved to the satisfaction of the insurance commissioner, or a new bond is substituted therefor, said insurance commissioner shall revoke the license of the surplus line broker. The removal of the office of the surplus line broker from this state, or the removal therefrom of his accounts of his business as such, or the closing of his said office for a period of more than twenty consecutive days, shall constitute a termination of the authority of said surplus line broker, and shall be tantamount to an express revocation of his license, whether or not the insurance commissioner thereafter revokes the same. No new license shall be issued to any surplus line broker whose license has been revoked for any reason other than the insufficiency of his sureties, within the period of one year after such revocation, and until all indebtedness of said surplus line broker on former business has been paid to said insurance commissioner. Every insured for whom insurance has been effected with unauthorized companies shall produce for examination by the insurance commissioner, whenever requested by him, in writing so to do, all policies, contracts, and other documents evidencing such insurance and disclose to him the true amount of the gross premiums paid or agreed to be paid therefor, or upon refusal so to do, he shall forfeit to the state of California the sum of two hundred dollars for each refusal. Nothing in this section shall be construed to deprive any citizen of this state of the right to negotiate and effect insurance on his own property with any unauthorized company. Nothing in this section shall be construed to permit any broker to solicit or place marine insurance or insurance on property of railroads or other common carriers engaged in interstate trade with nonadmitted insurers until three-quarters of the companies duly authorized to transact such class of insurance in this state shall have first been given a refusal of such insurance at equal rates and same conditions as may be bona fide obtainable from insurance companies admitted to do the same character of insurance under the laws of the state of New York. [Amendment approved April 20, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 147.]

Repealed. Section four hundred thirty-nine of the Penal Code, in so far as it is inconsistent with the provisions hereof, is hereby repealed. [Repealed by act approved April 20, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 147.]

§ 597. Examination of insurance companies. Company organized in other state. Access to books. Inspection of books. State compensation insurance fund. The commissioner, whenever he deems necessary, or whenever he is requested by verified petition, signed by twenty-five persons interested, either as stockholders, policy-holders, or creditors of any company engaged in insurance business in this state, showing that such company is insolvent under the laws of this state, must make an examination of the business and affairs relating to the insurance business of such company, and must make such an examination whenever any company is organized to do insurance business in this state, and before issuing a certificate of authority other than renewals to such company; provided, the insurance commissioner shall have no authority to issue, and no certificate of authority shall be issued, to any insurance company or corporation hereafter organized or incorporated in this state, whether the same be organized and promoted directly or by means of a holding company or corporation, one of the purposes of which is the organization and promotion of such insurance company or corporation, where such examination shows the expense of organization and promotion to be in excess of fifteen per cent of the total amount actually paid on its capital stock exclusive of surplus.

Whenever any company, not organized under the laws of this state, applies for a certificate of authority to do business in this state, the insurance commissioner may make, or cause to be made, by the insurance department of the state where such company is organized, an examination of the business and affairs relating to the insurance business of such company. The company organized or existing under the laws of any country outside of the United States, shall be deemed to be organized within the meaning of this act in any state wherein such company maintains the deposits required by the laws of this state.

For the purpose of making such examination the insurance commissioner shall have free access to all the books and papers of such company, and must thoroughly inspect and examine all its affairs, and ascertain its condition and ability to fulfill its engagements, and that it has complied with all the provisions of law applicable to its insurance transactions.

Every company examined under the provisions of this section must open its books and papers for the inspection of the commissioner, and otherwise facilitate such examination; and the commissioner may administer oaths and examine under oath any person relative to the business of such company; and if he finds the books to be carelessly or improperly kept or posted, he must employ sworn experts to rewrite, post, and balance the same at the expense of such company. Such examination must be conducted in the county where such company has its principal office, and must be private, unless the commissioner deems it necessary to publish the result of such investigation, in which case he may publish the same in two of the public newspapers of this state, one of which must be published in the city of San Francisco and the other in the city of Los Angeles. All examinations must be at the expense of the company, such expense to be paid in advance, and, if any such company refuses to pay such expenses in advance, the insurance commissioner may refuse to issue any such certificate of authority and must revoke any existing certificate of authority authorizing such company to do business.

The insurance commissioner shall have the same powers and authority to make examination of the state compensation insurance fund as are conferred upon him by law relative to the examination of other insurance carriers. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1320.]

§ 602a. Liabilities of insurance companies. Computation of reserve. In estimating the condition of any insurance corporation, mutual company, association, the state compensation insurance fund, interinsurance exchange or other insurance carriers engaged in the business of liability insurance and licensed to transact business in this state, the insurance commissioner shall charge as liabilities, all outstanding indebtedness of such carrier, and the premium reserve on policies in force, equal to the unearned portions of the gross premiums charged for covering the risks, computed on each respective risk from the date of the issuance of the policy.

The reserve for outstanding losses under insurance against loss or damage from accident to or injuries suffered by an employee or other person and for which the insured is liable shall be computed as follows:

(1) Liability suits. For all liability suits being defended under policies written more than—

(a) Ten years prior to the date as of which the statement is made, one thousand five hundred dollars for each suit.

(b) Five and less than ten years prior to the date as of which the statement is made, one thousand dollars for each suit.

(c) Three and less than five years prior to the date as of which the statement is made, eight hundred fifty dollars for each suit.

(2) Liability policies. For all liability policies written during the three years immediately preceding the date as of which the statement is made, such reserve shall be sixty per centum of the earned liability premiums of each of such three years less all loss and loss expense payments made under the liability policies written in the corresponding years; but in any event, such reserve shall, for the first of such three years, be not less than seven hundred fifty dollars for each outstanding liability suit on said year's policies.

(3) Claims under policies written three years prior. For all compensation claims under policies written more than three years prior to the date as of which the statement is made, the present values at four per centum interest of the determined and the estimated future payments.

(4) Claims under policies written three years preceding. For all compensation claims under policies written in the three years immediately preceding the date as of which the statement is made, such reserve shall be seventy per centum of the earned compensation premiums of each of such three years, less all loss and loss expense payments made in connection with such claims under policies written in the corresponding years; but in any event in the case of the first year of any such three-year period such reserve shall be not less than the present value at four per centum interest of the determined and the estimated unpaid compensation claims under policies written during such year.

"Earned premiums." The term "earned premiums," as used herein, shall include gross premiums charged on all policies written, including all determined excess and additional premiums, less return premiums, other than premiums returned to policy-holders as dividends, and less reinsurance premiums and premiums on policies canceled, and less unearned premiums on policies in force.

"Compensation." The term "compensation" as used in this act, shall relate to all insurance effected by virtue of statutes providing compensation to employees for personal injuries irrespective of fault of the employer. The term "liability" shall relate to all insurance except compensation insurance against loss or damage from accident to or injuries suffered by an employee or other person and for which the insured is liable.

"Loss payments." The terms "loss payments," and "loss expense payments," as used herein, shall include all payments to claimants, including payments for medical and surgical attendance, legal expenses, salaries and expenses of investigators, adjusters and field men, rents, stationery, telegraph and telephone charges, postage, salaries and expenses of office employees, home office expenses, and all other payments made on account of claims, whether such payments shall be allocated to specific claims or unallocated.

Distribution of unallocated liability loss expense payments. All unallocated liability loss expense payments made in a given calendar year subsequent to the first four years in which an insurer has been issuing liability policies, shall be distributed as follows: Thirty-five per centum shall be charged to the policies written in that year, forty per centum to the policies written in the preceding year, ten per centum to the policies written in the second year preceding. ten per centum to the policies written in the third year preceding, and five per centum to the policies written in the fourth year preceding, and such payments made in each of the first four calendar years in which an insurer issues liability policies shall be distributed as follows: In the first calendar year one hundred per centum shall be charged to the policies written in that year, in the second calendar year fifty per centum shall be charged to the policies written in that year and fifty per centum to the policies written in the preceding year; in the third calendar year forty per centum shall be charged to the policies written in that year, forty per centum to the policies written in the preceding year, and twenty per centum to the policies written in the second year preceding, and in the fourth calendar year thirty-five per centum shall be charged to the policies written in that year, forty per centum to the policies written in the preceding year, fifteen per centum to the policies written in the second year preceding, and ten per centum to the policies written in the third year preceding, and a schedule showing such distribution shall be included in the annual statement.

Distribution of unallocated compensation loss expense payments. All unallocated compensation loss expense payments made in a given calendar year subsequent to the first three years in which an insurer has been issuing compensation policies shall be distributed as follows: Forty per centum shall be charged to the policies written in that year, forty-five per centum to the policies written in the preceding year, ten per centum to the policies written in the second year preceding and five per centum to the policies written in the third year preceding, and such payments made in each of the first three calendar years in which an insurer issues compensation policies shall be distributed as follows: In the first calendar year one hundred per centum shall be charged to the policies written in that year, in the second calendar year fifty per centum shall be charged to the policies written in that year and fifty per centum to the policies written in the preceding year, in the third calendar year forty-five per centum shall be charged to the policies written in that year, forty-five per centum to the policies written in the preceding year and ten per centum to the policies written in the second year preceding, and a schedule showing such distribution shall be included in the annual statement.

Additional reserves. Whenever, in the judgment of the insurance commissioner, the liability or compensation loss reserves of any insurer under his supervision, calculated in accordance with the foregoing provisions, are inadequate, he may, in his discretion, require such insurer to maintain additional reserves based upon estimated individual claims or otherwise.

Schedule of experience. Each insurer that writes liability or compensation policies shall include in the annual statement required by law a schedule of its experience thereunder in such form as the insurance commissioner may prescribe. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1178.]

§ 633. License to act as insurance agent. No person, shall within this state act as the agent of any insurance or surety company or society until such person shall have first obtained a license from the insurance commissioner authorizing him or it so to act.

Any person duly appointed and authorized by an insurance or surety company or society to solicit applications for insurance or surety bonds, or effect insurance or surety bonds in the name of such company, shall be an agent within the meaning of this section. The insurance commissioner shall upon written notice from any insurance or surety company or society, authorized to transact business in this state, of its appointment of any person to act as its agent and upon payment of the fee provided for in section six hundred five of the Political Code, issue to such person a license in such form as may be prescribed by the insurance department; provided, however, that such proposed licensee shall first file with the insurance commissioner of the state of California upon a form to be prescribed and furnished by said insurance commissioner, an application in writing, duly verified under oath, reciting:

Application. First—The applicant's full name and address;

Second—The name of the company for which the applicant is to act as agent;

Third—The applicant's experience in the insurance or surety business;

Fourth—If the applicant is engaged in any business other than insurance or surety, the nature of such business and the name under which such business is conducted;

Fifth—That the applicant intends to carry on in good faith the occupation of an insurance or surety agent, and that said applicant does not seek such appointment for the purpose of avoiding or preventing the operation or enforcement of the insurance laws of this state.

Revocation or suspension of license. If it shall be brought to the attention of the insurance commissioner that any agent licensed hereunder has willfully misstated any material fact in his application, or that the purpose or principal use of such license as an insurance or surety agent is to avoid or prevent the operation or enforcement of any anti-rebate law or other insurance law of this state, then the insurance commissioner shall give notice to such agent and cite him to appear before such insurance commissioner and show cause why his license as an insurance or surety agent should not be suspended or revoked. If at the hearing of said order to show cause it shall appear that said agent has willfully misstated any material fact in his application to the insurance commissioner, or that the purpose or principal use of such license is to avoid or prevent the operation or enforcement of any anti-rebate law or other insurance law of this state, then the insurance commissioner shall either revoke or suspend the license of such agent, and shall notify both the agent and the company of such revocation or suspension.

Action to review facts. If at any time the insurance commissioner revokes or suspends the license theretofore granted to any agent, such applicant or agent may commence an action against the insurance commissioner for the purpose of reviewing the facts and the law pertinent to the controversy, and for the purpose of obtaining relief, or canceling the act of the insurance commissioner. In any such action the court shall have full power to investigate all the facts de novo without regard to the determinations previously made by the insurance commissioner. All of the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to pleadings, proofs, trials and appeals shall be applicable to such actions.

Such action shall be commenced and tried in the superior court of the county in which such agent resides, unless the parties thereto stipulate otherwise.

Time in force. Unless revoked by the commissioner, or unless the company by written notice to the commissioner cancels the agent's authority to act for it, such license, or any renewal thereof, shall expire on the first day of July next after its issue or renewal. Any license issued after this section takes effect may in the discretion of the insurance commissioner be renewed for a succeeding year by a renewal certificate without the commissioner requiring the detailed information required by this section.

Penalty. Any person who shall act or offer to act or assume to act as an insurance or surety agent unless licensed by the insurance commissioner as provided in this section, or after such license granted to him or it has been suspended or revoked, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, but any policy issued on an application, thus procured, shall bind the insurance company if otherwise valid.

Title insurance, etc., not affected. Nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to, refer to, or affect county mutual fire insurance companies, or their agents, or title insurance business, or fraternal benefit societies, or agents or employees of reciprocal or interinsurance exchanges.

§ 633a. License to act as insurance broker. No person, firm or corporation shall within this state act as an insurance broker until such person, firm or corporation shall have first obtained a license from the insurance commissioner authorizing him or it so to act.

Who are insurance brokers. Any person, firm or corporation, other than an insurance or surety company, or society, or agent of such company or society, or employee compensated by salary only and acting on behalf of such company or society or agent, or a medical examiner for a life insurance company or society, who, for compensation acts or aids in any manner in negotiating contracts of insurance or surety bonds or reinsurance or placing risks, or effecting insurance or reinsurance for a party other than himself or itself, shall be an insurance broker within the meaning of this section.

License issued. The insurance commissioner shall upon the payment of a fee provided for in section six hundred five of the Political Code, issue to a person, firm or corporation a license to act as an insurance broker to negotiate contracts of insurance or surety bonds, or reinsurance, or place risks, or effect insurance or surety bonds or reinsurance, with any insurance or surety company or society authorized to transact such business within this state, or with its agent, or with another broker; provided, however, that such proposed licensee shall first file with the insurance commissioner of the state of California, upon a form to be prescribed and furnished by said insurance commissioner, an application in writing, duly verified under oath, reciting:

Application. First—The applicant's full name and address;

Second—The applicant's experience in the insurance business;

Third—If the applicant is engaged in any other business than insurance, the nature of such business and the name under which such business is conducted;

Fourth—If the applicant be a copartnership, the names of the partners comprising such copartnership, or if the applicant be a corporation, the names of the officers thereof;

Fifth—That the applicant intends to carry on in good faith the occupation of an insurance broker, and that said applicant does not seek a license as an insurance broker for the purpose of avoiding or preventing the operation or enforcement of the insurance laws of this state.

Time in force. An insurance broker's license so issued shall remain in force until July first of any year after the date of the issuance thereof, unless sooner revoked by the insurance commissioner. Such broker's license issued on an application as hereinbefore provided may in the discretion of the insurance commissioner be renewed upon expiration for a succeeding year upon the payment of a fee, provided for in section six hundred five of the Political Code, without requiring anew the details required in the original application.

Revocation or suspension of license. If it shall be brought to the attention of the insurance commissioner that any insurance broker licensed hereunder has willfully misstated any material fact in his application, or that the purpose or principal use of such license as an insurance broker is to avoid or prevent the operation or enforcement of any anti-rebate law or other insurance law of this state, then the insurance commissioner shall give notice to such insurance broker and cite him to appear before such insurance commissioner and show cause why his license as an insurance broker should not be suspended or revoked. If at the hearing of said order to show cause it shall appear that said insurance broker has willfully misstated any material fact in his application to the insurance commissioner, or that the purpose or principal use of such license is to avoid or prevent the operation or enforcement of any anti-rebate law or other insurance law of this state, then the insurance commissioner shall either revoke or suspend the license of such insurance broker and shall notify such broker of such revocation or suspension, and shall publish a notice of the revocation or suspension of said insurance broker's license in such a manner as he deems proper for the protection of the public.

Action to review facts. If at any time the insurance commissioner revokes or suspends the license theretofore granted to a broker, such broker may commence an action against the insurance commissioner for the purpose of reviewing the facts and the law pertinent to the controversy, and for the purpose of obtaining relief, or canceling the act of the insurance commissioner. In any such action the court shall have full power to investigate all the facts de novo without regard to the determination previously made by the insurance commissioner. All of the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to pleadings, proofs, trials and appeals shall be applicable to such action.

Such action shall be commenced and tried in the superior court of the county in which such broker resides, unless the parties thereto stipulate otherwise.

Nonresident brokers. The insurance commissioner may upon application issue to nonresident insurance brokers a license to transact insurance in this state subject to the same qualifications, requirements, restrictions and fees as provided for resident brokers.

Penalty. Any person, firm or corporation, who shall act or offer to act or assume to act as an insurance broker, unless licensed by the insurance commissioner as provided in this section, or after such license granted to him or it has been revoked, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, but the policy issued on an application thus procured, shall bind the insurance company, if otherwise valid.

Title insurance, etc., not affected. Nothing in this section shall apply to or in any way affect title insurance business, fraternal benefit societies or county mutual fire insurance companies.

Fees. Nothing herein contained shall in any manner limit the fees provided for in section six hundred five of the Political Code. [New section added June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1615.]

§ 633b. Policy must contain true statement of premium and risk. No insurance or surety company or society, nor any agent, shall insure any risk in this state, nor shall any agent or broker assist in arranging any such insurance, the policy or contract for which does not contain a true and correct statement of the premium consideration paid or to be paid therefor, and of the risk covered for such premium consideration; provided, however, that if the insurance be of a character where the exact premium is only determinable upon the expiration of the policy or contract, such policy or contract must contain a true and correct statement of the basis and rates upon which the said final premium or consideration is to be determined and paid, and of the risk covered for such premium consideration.

Covering notes. This section shall not be construed to prohibit the use of covering notes to temporarily bind insurance or surety bonds pending the issuance of the policy or contract; provided, that for every such covering note so used, within ninety days thereafter a policy or contract shall be issued in lieu thereof, including within its terms the identical insurance protected under said covering note and the premium consideration paid or to be paid therefor.

Rebates prohibited. No insurance or surety company or society, by itself or by any other party, and no agent, or insurance broker, personally or by any other party, shall offer, promise, allow, give, set off or pay, directly or indirectly, as an inducement to insurance on any risk in this state, now or hereafter to be written, any rebate of or part of the premium payable on the policy or contract of insurance or surety bond, or of the agent's or broker's commission thereon; nor shall any such company, or society, agent, or broker, personally or otherwise, offer, promise, allow, give, set off, or pay, directly or indirectly as an inducement to such insurance any earnings, profits, dividends, or other benefit, founded, arising, accruing, or to accrue on such insurance or surety bond, or therefrom, or any other valuable consideration which is not clearly specified, promised or provided for in the policy or contract of insurance, or in the application for such surety bond; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent a mutual fire insurance company from returning any portion of the premium as a dividend, at the expiration of the term covered by such premium.

Commission. Discount on marine insurance. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit any insurance or surety company or society, or agent for such company or society, or broker, from paying commission to another company, society, agent, or insurance broker, nor shall this section be construed to prohibit any marine insurance company, agent, or broker from allowing any insured, such usual discount as is sanctioned by custom amongst marine insurers as being additional to the agent's or broker's commission, but this exemption shall in no wise operate to relieve marine insurance in any other respect from the full operation of this section.

Agent's commission on own insurance. This section, except as hereinbefore specifically provided, shall not be construed to prevent any insurance or surety company from paying to another insurance or surety company, or to an agent or broker, or to prevent any insurance or surety company or such an agent or broker from receiving a commission in respect to any policy under which it, itself, or he, himself, is insured.

Bonuses. Nothing in this section shall be so construed as to prohibit any company issuing nonparticipating life insurance from paying bonuses to policy-holders or otherwise abating their premiums, in whole or in part out of surplus accumulated from nonparticipating insurance; nor to prohibit any company transacting industrial insurance on the weekly payment plan from returning to policy-holders who have made premium payment for a period of at least one year directly to the company at its home or district offices, a percentage of the premium which the company would have paid for the weekly collection of such premiums. This section shall not be construed to prevent any life insurance company paying, or contract holders receiving special compensations, or allowing and receiving credits already agreed upon in contracts now in force.

Producing books, etc. No person shall be excused from testifying or from producing any books, papers, contracts, agreements or documents at the trial or hearing of any person or company, association or society charged with violating any provisions of this section, on the ground that such testimony or evidence may tend to incriminate himself, but no person shall be prosecuted for any act concerning which he shall be compelled so to testify or produce evidence, documentary or otherwise, except for perjury committed in so testifying.

Responsibility of company. Every insurance company or society shall be charged with full responsibility to exercise reasonable diligence for the observance of this section by its agents and it shall be unlawful for any insurance or surety company to appoint as its agent any person, firm or corporation, or the employee or nominee of said person, firm or corporation, for the purpose of enabling such person, firm or corporation to obtain a policy or contract of insurance at a cost less than that specified in any policy or contract of insurance issued to such person, firm or corporation, or at a cost less than that specified in any application for any surety bond issued in behalf of such person, firm or corporation.

Penalty. Certificate of authority suspended. An officer or employee of any insurance or surety company or society, or any agent or broker, or any officer or employee of such agent or broker who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Upon it being proven to the insurance commissioner after a hearing upon reasonable notice to the accused of the time and place of such hearing that any insurance or surety company or society shall knowingly have violated any of the provisions of this act, or shall knowingly have permitted any officer, managerial agent, or managerial employee, to violate any of the provisions of this act, he shall have authority to suspend the certificate of authority of such insurance or surety company or society to do the kind of business in which the violation of the provisions of this act occurred.

Agent's license revoked. And the insurance commissioner shall have authority to suspend or revoke the license issued to any agent or broker on its being proven to him, after hearing, that such agent or broker has knowingly and willfully violated any of the provisions of this act.

Action to review facts. If at any time the insurance commissioner suspends the certificate of authority theretofore granted to any insurance or surety company, or revokes or suspends the license theretofore granted to any broker or agent, or refuses to grant a certificate of authority to any insurance or surety company, or license to any broker or agent, any interested person or company may commence an action against the insurance commissioner for the purpose of reviewing the facts and the law pertinent to the controversy and for the purpose of obtaining the relief refused or for canceling the action of the commissioner. In any such action the court shall have full power to investigate all of the facts de novo, without regard to the determinations previously made by the commissioner. In the trial of such actions all of the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, shall be applicable. Such action shall be commenced and tried in the superior court of the county in which such insurance or surety company or society has its principal place of business in this state, or in which such broker or agent resides, unless the parties thereto stipulate otherwise.

Title insurance, etc., not affected. Nothing in this act shall apply to, or in any way affect reciprocal or interinsurance contracts, title insurance business, fraternal benefit societies, or county mutual fire insurance companies. [New section added June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1612.]

§ 678. Notice to state board of control and treasurer of bond sale. Whenever, under the provisions of law, the board of supervisors, trustees, common council or other governing boards or bodies of any city or county, city or town or school district of this state shall advertise the sale of bonds voted for any purpose, the clerk of such board of supervisors, trustees, common council or other governing board or body shall forthwith by mail, postage prepaid, notify the state board of control and state treasurer at the capitol of such issuance and sale of bonds and shall specify the purposes for which such bonds were voted, the amount of the total issue for each purpose, the denomination of each bond showing date of issuance and date of maturity, the rate of interest showing when and where payable, the assessed value of the property upon which such bonds are a lien, the total amount of other bonded indebtedness which is a lien upon said property, and shall upon request of the state board of control furnish a full description of the proceedings leading up to such issue; provided, that no certified check, bond or other assurance in law shall be required from the state upon its bid to purchase bonds. [Amendment approved May 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 466.]

§ 686. Department of public accounting. Superintendent. Bond. Additional accountants. Department of public accounting. Superintendent, etc. There is hereby established in connection with and under the supervision of the state board of control a department of public accounting. The board shall appoint a superintendent of accounts at an annual salary of three thousand six hundred dollars, and two assistants at an annual salary of two thousand seven hundred dollars each. Such appointees shall be skillful accountants and well versed in public accounting. They shall (each) execute a bond to the state in the sum of ten thousand dollars. They shall be civil executive officers and their salaries shall be paid in the same manner and at the same time as the salaries of state officers are paid. The board may also appoint such additional accountants as may be necessary to carry on the work of the department at salaries not to exceed for any one of such appointees the sum of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum. Such salaries, upon authority of the board, shall be paid out of money appropriated for the use of the department at the same time and in the same manner as the salaries of state officers are paid. Such accountants shall be chosen from persons who have successfully taken an open competitive examination given along practical lines showing their fitness for the work required. They shall each execute to the state a bond in the sum of five thousand dollars. All of the appointees in this section are empowered to administer oaths in the furtherance of their official duties. [Amendment approved May 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 467.]

§ 718. Employees of superintendent of capitol building and grounds. The superintendent of capitol building and grounds may appoint one head gardener at an annual salary of two thousand one hundred dollars, and one assistant head gardener at an annual salary of one thousand three hundred twenty dollars. He may appoint seven special policemen for the building and grounds at annual salaries of one thousand three hundred twenty dollars each, who shall have the power of peace officers, and the same power of arrest as is herein given to the superintendent. None of said policemen shall be required to work more than six days in any one week. He may appoint one clerk for his office at an annual salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars, who shall be a civil executive officer; one head porter for the building at an annual salary of one thousand two hundred sixty dollars; one typewriter expert at an annual salary of one thousand three hundred twenty dollars. He may appoint one engineer at an annual salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars; one fireman at an annual salary of one thousand two hundred sixty dollars; one electrician at an annual salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars; provided, however, that the superintendent is hereby empowered to employ an additional electrician for emergency purposes. The superintendent may also appoint two elevator attendants at an annual salary of one thousand one hundred forty dollars each; three telephone exchange operators at an annual salary of nine hundred dollars each. He may appoint to serve from January first until May first in each legislative year one engineer at a monthly salary of one hundred fifty dollars; one fireman at a monthly salary of one hundred five dollars; one electrician at a monthly salary of one hundred fifty dollars; two elevator attendants at a monthly salary of ninety-five dollars each; one telephone exchange operator at a monthly salary of seventy-five dollars; ten porters at a monthly salary of ninety dollars each. He may also appoint one telephone exchange operator at a monthly salary of seventy-five dollars, to serve six weeks each year while the legislature is not in session. The salaries of all such appointees shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as other state officers. [Amendment approved May 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 925.]

§ 759. Phonographic reporters in district courts of appeal. Each of the three district courts of appeal may employ and appoint a phonographic reporter, who shall be competent to write in shorthand at the rate of at least one hundred and fifty words per minute and to transcribe the same correctly. His duties shall be to take down in shorthand the proceedings of the court, and to act as secretary to the judges in the discharge of their official duties. His compensation shall be at the rate of three thousand dollars per annum. [Amendment approved May 21, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 784.]

§ 791. Notaries public in counties of second class. The governor may appoint and commission such number of notaries public for the several counties, and cities and counties of this state, as he shall deem necessary for the public conveniences, except that in counties of the second class the number shall not exceed one hundred thirty. [Amendment approved April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 92.]

§ 995. Resignations of officers. Resignations must be in writing, and made as follows:

1. By the governor and lieutenant-governor to the legislature, if it is in session; and if not, then to the secretary of state;

2. By all officers commissioned by the governor, to the governor;

3. By senators and members of the assembly, to the presiding officers of their respective houses, who must immediately transmit the same to the governor;

4. By all county and township officers not commissioned by the governor, to the clerk of the board of supervisors of their respective counties;

5. By all other appointed officers, to the body or officer that appointed them;

6. By members of the board of trustees, and other officers of a municipal corporation, to the clerk of the board of trustees of their respective corporation.

7. In all cases not otherwise provided for, by filing the resignation in the office of the secretary of state. [Amendment approved April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 38.]

§ 1094. Registration every two years. Transfers. Elections held between January 1 and April 1 of even-numbered years. Affidavits of registration deemed canceled. Registration outside of main office. List of lodgers. Challenge of voters not on certified list of lodgers. There shall be, commencing January 1, 1918, and every two years thereafter, except as hereinafter provided, in each county and city and county of the state, a new and complete registration of the voters of such county or city and county, who are entitled thereto. Such registration shall be in progress at all times except during the thirty days immediately preceding any election, when it shall cease for such election as to electors residing in the territory within which such election is to be held; and transfers of registration for such election may be made from one precinct to another precinct in the same county or city and county at any time when such registration shall be in progress in the precinct to which the elector seeks to transfer; provided, that where any general or special municipal election, or any other special election, including any primary election and all special elections to vote for officers, or upon or for or against any proposition or question authorized to be submitted to a vote, is held on or after the first day of January and before the first day of April of any even-numbered year, the original affidavits of registration and indexes used in the last general state election in any county or city and county in this state, together with the original affidavits of registration since the last election, and supplemental indexes, showing all additional registrations, changes and corrections made since the registration for the last general election, completed to and including the thirty-first day prior to said election then being held, may be used at such election to determine the persons entitled to vote thereat. All affidavits of registration made prior to the first day of January of any even-numbered year shall be deemed canceled upon said day except for the sole purpose of being used as hereinbefore stated at elections held thereafter and before the first day of April of that year, and shall on said last-mentioned day be deemed canceled for all purposes. The board having charge and control of elections in each county or city and county, may provide by resolution, for the registration of voters in their respective precincts, by the officer charged with the registration of voters, and may also provide by resolution for the registration of voters at specified times and places, other than the office of the county clerk or registrar of voters, deemed most convenient to large numbers of voters, without reference to respective or particular precincts, in such a manner that the affidavits of registration as provided by law may be taken at such time and place, of any voter within the county who is entitled to register therein; provided, however, that in any city and county no registration outside of the main office of the officer charged with the registration of voters shall be had except that which is without reference to particular precincts as last specified herein; and provided, also, that any registration which may be made at the main office for registration in any such city and county may be made and taken in any place in said city and county in such manner as may be provided by rules and regulations made by the board having control of registration in any such city and county. Upon the written request of the officer charged with the registration of voters, which request said officer shall make upon petition from any ten electors of the county, such petition to specify the premises from which lists are desired, every landlord or keeper of premises where lodgers abide, shall furnish said officer a list of all lodgers occupying rooms, or sleeping apartments, or beds in the premises under his or her or its control. Such lists shall be furnished upon blanks provided by said officer. Any landlord or keeper of premises where lodgers abide, who neglects or refuses to comply promptly with the provisions of this section or who furnishes a false list of such lodgers, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. All lists so returned shall be kept on file in the office of the officer receiving same, open to public inspection. It shall be the duty of said officer to compile a list of such persons, if there are any, who are registered as residing in any of these premises and whose names are not returned in the lists furnished by the landlord or keeper thereof. At least three days before the date of the next succeeding election, in any precinct where such premises are located, said officer shall send by registered mail to the inspector of election in said precinct a certified copy of the list he has thus prepared, with instructions to challenge the vote of each and all such persons if offered at the election, under subdivision five of section one thousand two hundred thirty of the Political Code. Whenever in the laws of this state the word "register" or "great register" is used with relation to elections, it shall be deemed to mean and include the relative and proper affidavits of registration, or both thereof, prepared and bound by the county clerk or registrar of voters. [Amendment approved May 21, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 798.]

§ 1096. Qualifications for registration. Additional facts to be shown. The affiant making the affidavit of registration must be at least twenty-one years of age at the time of the next succeeding election; a citizen of the United States ninety days prior to such election; a resident of the state one year, of the county ninety days, and of the precinct thirty days next preceding such election and the affidavit must show such facts. It shall also show:

1. The name at length, including Christian or given name, and middle name, or initial, if any, said Christian or given name, if the name of a woman, to be preceded in all cases by the designation of Miss or Mrs., as the case may be.

2. The place of residence and postoffice address with sufficient particularity to identify the same and determine therefrom the voting precinct of such affiant. If the elector be not the proprietor or head of the house, or the wife or husband of such proprietor, then it must show upon what floor thereof, and what room such elector occupies in such house.

3. The occupation of affiant.

4. The height of affiant in feet and inches.

5. The country or state of nativity of affiant.

6. If foreign born, how citizenship was acquired; whether by citizenship of father, by provisions of a treaty or act of congress, by order of a court of naturalization, by marriage to a citizen, by naturalization of a parent or husband, or otherwise. The date or year when, and the place or state where affiant became a citizen, shall be shown, except in the case of citizenship acquired by citizenship or naturalization of parents, by treaty, or by act of congress. When citizenship depends upon the citizenship or naturalization of parent or husband the name of such parent or husband shall appear.

7. The fact whether or not the elector desiring to be registered is able to read the constitution in the English language and to write his or her name, and whether or not the elector has any physical disability, by reason of which he or she can not mark the ballot; and if he or she can not mark the ballot by reason of physical disability, then the nature of such disability must be entered. The affiant, if able to write, shall sign such affidavit with his or her customary signature and the county clerk or registrar before whom such affidavit is made shall insert therein the date of such affidavit, which shall be the date of the jurat. The affiant may state in such affidavit the name of any political party or organization with which he intends to affiliate at the ensuing primary election, whether or not such party or organization is a party or organization qualified, at the time of such registration, to participate in such primary election according to the provisions of the direct primary law. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1334.]

§ 1096a. Declaration of political party. Change of political affiliation. Affidavit. At the time of registering and of transferring registration, in all places where the primary election law is in force, each elector shall declare the name of the political party with which he intends to affiliate at the ensuing primary election or elections, and the name of such political party shall be stated in the affidavit of registration and the index thereto. If the elector declines to state the fact, the fact of such declination shall likewise be stated and no person shall be entitled to vote the ticket of any political party at any primary election, by virtue of such registration, unless he has stated the name of the political party with which he intends to affiliate at the time of such registration. Nor shall he be permitted to vote on behalf of any party or for delegates to the convention of any party other than the party so designated in the registration.

In case any elector shall have declined to designate or shall have changed his political affiliation prior to the close of registration for primary elections he is entitled to have such change recorded prior to the close of said registration upon application to the county clerk or registrar of voters as hereinafter provided. In case any elector shall have declined to designate or shall have changed his political affiliations prior to the close of registration, he may appear in person before the county clerk or registrar of voters, or any registration deputy of said county clerk or registrar of voters, and make affidavit substantially in the following form:

State of California, } ss.
County of —— }

—— being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is registered on the great register of the said county of —— as a —— (insert former party affiliation, or that he had declined to designate his party affiliation);

that since the date of such registration he has changed his political views and in good faith declares his affiliation with —— party.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this —— day of ——, 19—.

The county clerk or registrar of voters shall take such affidavit without charge and shall file the same. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1335.]

§ 1097. Affidavit of registration. If elector is absent from residence. Subdivision 1. No person shall be registered as an elector except by affidavit of registration. Such affidavit must be made before the county clerk or officer charged with the registration of voters, or their deputy or registration clerk and shall set forth all the facts required to be shown in sections one thousand ninety-six and one thousand ninety-seven of the Political Code. If an elector is absent from the county in which he or she claims residence, he or she may appear before any judge or clerk of any court of record, or notary public, or if in a foreign country, before any minister, consul, or vice-consul of the United States, and may make and subscribe an affidavit as to his or her residence, specifying in what ward or precinct he or she claims residence; that he or she will be necessarily and unavoidably absent from said county, or city and county, on all the days allowed by law for general registration of electors, and setting forth in such affidavit each and all the matters required by sections one thousand ninety-six and one thousand ninety-seven of the Political Code of the state of California, and forward such affidavit, in duplicate, duly authenticated as above, by mail, inclosed in an envelope addressed to the county clerk of any county, or the registrar of voters in any county or city and county in which he or she claims to be an elector. Upon receipt of such affidavit by such clerk or registrar of voters within the time allowed by law for registration, the said affidavit shall be entered and bound by the clerk in the proper register in such precinct.

Subd. 2. Conditions of registering foreign born. No foreign-born person shall be registered unless:

(a) If a naturalized citizen upon the production of his or her certificate of naturalization or upon the production of a certificate of registration in the county of his or her last residence in the state, showing the date and place of naturalization, or upon his or her affidavit stating date and place of naturalization; provided, that any person registering for the first time in the state must produce his or her certificate of naturalization.

(b) If a citizen by virtue of his or her father being a citizen at the time of his or her birth, upon his or her sworn statement that his or her father was a citizen of the United States at the time of his or her birth and has been a resident thereof. Such statement need not be noted in full upon the affidavit of registration, but the words "I acquired citizenship by the citizenship of my father (naming him)" shall be sufficient.

(c) If a citizen by virtue of the naturalization of his or her parent, upon his or her affidavit that he or she became a citizen by such naturalization of his or her parent, naming such parent, that such naturalization took place during his or her minority and that he or she began to reside permanently in the United States while such minor child. Such statement need not be noted in full upon the affidavit, but the words "I acquired citizenship by my father's, or mother's, naturalization," as the case may be, naming him or her, shall be sufficient.

(d) If a citizen by virtue of marriage to a citizen, the date and place of such marriage shall be entered upon the affidavit of registration together with the name of the husband.

(e) If a citizen by virtue of the naturalization of her husband the date or year and place of such naturalization together with the name of the husband shall be entered.

Subd. 3. Affidavit must show all facts required. Substitutions permitted. Manner of printing. Width. Type. Form. In every case the affidavit of the party must show all the facts required to be stated. The clerk or registrar of voters may cause to be written or printed upon the margin of the affidavit, in addition to any matter hereinafter provided for, all such words as are deemed necessary or convenient for the purpose of designating the precinct, district or political subdivision for which such affidavit is taken, or deemed necessary or convenient to indicate any removal or transfer of registration, and also any date or memorandum deemed necessary or convenient to indicate the number of the ballot voted by an elector as provided by section one thousand two hundred four of the Political Code, or any other reasonable memoranda deemed necessary or convenient for the purpose of enabling such clerk or registrar of voters to perform his duties in the assorting or classification or handling of such affidavits with correctness and dispatch. Wherever in the following form of affidavit the word "county" is inserted, if the affidavit is for use in a city and county, such last mentioned words may be printed or written in lieu of said word "county." In connection with the place of residence the affidavit may have printed either the word "precinct" or the word "street" or the word "avenue," or any or all of such words as the clerk or registrar of voters shall deem most convenient in practical use for the territory in which such affidavits are to be used. In designating the residence of the voter or the postoffice address it shall not be necessary in either case to repeat the county or city and county or state where the name of said county or city and county or state previously appear. In connection with the statement regarding the citizenship of affiant, the affidavit may have printed in brackets statements of the various methods of acquiring citizenship, and it shall be sufficient to underline, or otherwise mark, with pen and ink, or indelible pencil, that statement applicable to the particular affiant. The words printed in the body of the affidavit, which by reason of statement of the voter are not applicable to such registration, shall not be deemed a portion of such affidavit of registration. The lines to indicate the separation between the margin of the affidavit of registration and the said margin shall be at the top and on the right side of such affidavit, and may be double or single lines in the discretion of the clerk or registrar of voters of the county or city and county or territory for which the affidavit is to be used. The affidavit shall be printed in horizontal lines. Wherever any blank space is left in any line for the entry of any matter the lines shall not be less than one-third of an inch apart vertically. Commencing with the first statement of the affidavit proper each statement shall be numbered immediately at the left of such statement in a numerical sequence, the first statement commencing with number one, and so on to the end, but the jurat and space for the signature of the voter need not be numbered. The horizontal width of the affidavit, separate from any and all margin, shall not be less than seven inches, and the margin upon all sides and at top and bottom shall be of such width as may be determined by the clerk or the registrar of voters. The words "affidavit of registration" shall be not less than twenty-four point black-face type. Pen and ink or indelible pencil must be used in making the portions of the affidavit which are not printed. The matter in the body of the affidavit, where the size of type is not otherwise specified, shall be not less than ten-point plain-face type, save that words inserted in parentheses, which are for the information or instruction of the deputies or registration clerks, may be in smaller type at the discretion of the county clerk or registrar of voters. Subject to the foregoing provisions the body of said affidavit shall be substantially in the following form:

Subd. 4. Change of name by marriage. Whenever any elector, between the time of her last registration and the time for the closing of registration for any given election in the same county or city and county, shall have lawfully changed her surname by a change or assumption of marital relation she shall be entitled to reregister under her new or changed name, upon an additional statement made at the time of such reregistration, giving the name under which she was so last registered in said county or city and county, and the residence given and contained in said last affidavit of registration, which additional statement shall be printed or written upon the margin of such affidavit of reregistration before the said affidavit is signed, and shall be deemed a part thereof. Upon such registration the last previous registration of such elector shall be canceled. And in case any elector shall reregister or transfer his or her registration from one precinct to another the former address or precinct shall be noted in the margin of such affidavit, and the former registration shall thereupon be canceled.

Subd. 5. Registration otherwise than above. No person shall be registered except as above provided unless upon the production and filing of a certified copy of the judgment of the superior court directing such entry to be made. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1338.]

§ 1115. Index to registration books. Number of copies. Index furnished to candidates. Indexes for primaries. State librarian. Within five days after the binding of said books by precincts the clerk shall prepare an index of each book, said index to contain the numbers, names, occupations and addresses, as they appear in said books. Such names shall include Christian or given names, the middle name or initial, if any; and, if the name be that of a woman, the Christian name shall be preceded by the designation of "Miss" or "Mrs." as the case may be. The clerk shall have at least one hundred copies of said index printed for the use of said county, and he shall have printed and shall furnish to the municipalities within said county, such additional number of copies thereof, not exceeding fifty, as the governing body of such municipalities shall by resolution require. The county clerk shall furnish upon written or oral demand of every candidate, who is to be voted for in said county, city, or city and county or any political subdivision of said county, city, or city and county, a printed index of the registration, for such primary and general elections in which said candidate will participate, at a cost of fifty cents per thousand names. All such moneys collected shall be deposited in the county treasury, to the credit of the general fund. The number of copies of said index necessary to be printed shall apply only to the index prepared for use at general elections. In counties where indexes are prepared for primary elections, a smaller number of such indexes may be printed. The clerk shall have bound together in one or more volumes, a general index of said books arranged alphabetically by precincts, and shall keep at least one copy of said general index in his office for public reference. He shall also transmit one copy of said general index to the state librarian at Sacramento. [Amendment approved May 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 436.]

§ 1188. Nomination of candidates otherwise than by primary election. A candidate for any public office for which no nonpartisan candidate has been nominated at any primary election may be nominated subsequent to said primary election, or in lieu of any primary election, in the manner following: A nomination paper containing the name of the candidate to be nominated, with other information required to be given in the nomination papers provided for in the direct primary law then governing primary elections, shall be signed by electors residing within the district or political subdivision for which the candidate is to be presented, equal in number to at least one per cent of the entire vote cast at the last preceding general election in the state, district or political subdivision for which the nomination is to be made subject to the restrictions contained in said direct primary law. The provisions of said direct primary law as therein applied to nonpartisan offices, when the nomination to be made under this section is for an office for which nominations are made at the August primary election, and the provisions of that law as therein applied to primaries other than the August primary election and the May presidential primary election, when the nomination to be made under this section is for a municipal office or for any office to which that law does not apply, shall substantially govern as to the manner of the appointment of verification deputies, the form of nomination papers and the securing of signatures thereto, and fastening together of sections of the nomination paper containing such signatures, and the filing thereof with the county clerk, or the certification thereto by the county clerk and transmission thereof to the secretary of state or to the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of any municipality, as the case may be, the filing of the candidate's affidavit, the payment of a filing fee, and all other things necessary to get the name of a candidate under this section upon the ballot, except that such provisions shall be directed toward getting the candidate's name on the ballot for a general or municipal election or a special election and not on the ballot for nomination at a primary election. In addition to the other matter required to be set forth on the candidate's nomination paper, it must also be set forth that each signer thereof did not vote at the primary election immediately preceding at which a candidate was nominated for the public office mentioned in said nomination paper; provided, that this statement shall be omitted in case no candidate was nominated at said primary election for the public office mentioned in said nomination paper.

Upon the filing of a sufficient nomination paper and affidavit by any candidate nominated under the provisions of this section and the payment of the filing fees as hereinbefore provided, the name of such candidate shall go upon the ballot at the ensuing general or municipal election according to the provisions of section one thousand one hundred ninety-seven of this code. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1336.]

§ 1192. Time for filing nomination papers. Nomination papers required to be filed with the secretary of state, or with the county clerk, shall be filed not more than sixty days, nor less than thirty-five days before the day of election, when the nomination is made by electors as provided in section one thousand one hundred eighty-eight of this code. Nomination papers required to be filed with the clerk or secretary of the legislative body of any city or town, shall be filed not more than forty days nor less than twenty days before the day of election, when the nomination is made by electors as provided in section one thousand one hundred eighty-eight of this code. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1336.]

§ 1239. Rules for determining place of residence. The board of election, in determining the place of residence of any person, must be governed by the following rules, as far they are applicable:

1. That place must be considered and held to be the residence of a person in which his habitation is fixed, and to which, whenever he is absent, he has the intention of returning;

2. A person must not be held to have gained or lost residence by reason of his presence or absence from a place while employed in the service of the United States, or of this state, nor while engaged in navigation, nor while a student of any institution of learning, nor while kept in an almshouse, asylum, or prison;

3. A person must not be considered to have lost his residence who leaves his home to go into another state, or precinct in this state, for temporary purposes merely, with the intention of returning;

4. A person must not be considered to have gained a residence in any precinct into which he comes for temporary purposes merely, without the intention of making such precinct his home;

5. If a person remove to another state with the intention of making it his residence, he loses his residence in this state;

6. If a person remove to another state with the intention of remaining there for an indefinite time, and as a place of present residence, he loses his residence in this state, notwithstanding he entertains an intention of returning at some future period;

7. The place where a man's family resides must be held to be his residence; but if it be a place for temporary establishment for his family, or for transient objects, it is otherwise;

8. If a man have a family fixed in one place, and he does business in another, the former must be considered his place of residence; provided, that any man having a family, and who has taken up his abode with the intention of remaining, and whose family does not so reside with him, must be regarded as a resident where he has so taken up his abode;

9. The residence of the husband is the residence of the wife except in the case mentioned in the provision in subdivision eight hereof;

10. The mere intention to acquire a new residence, without the fact of removal, avails nothing, neither does the fact of removal, without the intention. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 416.]

§ 1483. Rights of students under diplomas from Hastings College of the Law. [Repealed May 23, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 880.]

§ 1489. Powers and duties of normal school trustees. The powers and duties of each board of trustees of the state normal schools of California are as follows:

1. To prescribe rules for their government and the government of the school;

2. To prescribe rules for the reports of officers and teachers of the school and for visiting other schools and institutions;

3. To provide for the purchase of school apparatus, furniture, equipment, stationery, and text-books for the use of students;

4. To establish at their discretion, and maintain model and training schools of the primary, grammar and intermediate grade, including the ninth year grade, and, in their discretion, of the kindergarten grade, and to require the students of the normal schools to teach and instruct classes therein;

5. To establish at their discretion courses for the training of teachers of drawing, music, physical culture, and commercial, technical, or industrial subjects in the elementary and secondary schools of the state and upon the satisfactory completion of these courses to grant diplomas of graduation therefrom;

6. To elect the president of the school, who shall be ex officio secretary of the board, and an assistant secretary who shall receive such salary as may be allowed by the board; and to elect the teachers, upon their nomination by the president of the school, fix their salaries, and prescribe their duties; provided, that after the president or a teacher has served successfully and acceptably in the school for the period of two years prior to or after the passage of this act, his or her appointment thereafter may, at the discretion of the board of trustees, be made for a term not to exceed four years, unless removed for cause; and provided, further, that in case a teacher employed in a California state normal school is engaged to instruct in normal extension work, evening work, special Saturday work, or summer school work, he may receive such additional compensation for the same as may be agreed upon by the employing board of trustees;

7. To control and expend all moneys appropriated for the support and maintenance of the school, and all moneys received for tuition or donations;

8. To cause a record of all their proceedings to be kept, which shall be open to public inspection at the school;

9. To keep open to public inspection an account of receipts and expenditures;

10. To annually report to the state superintendent of public instruction a statement of their transactions, and of all matters pertaining to the school;

11. To transmit with such report a copy of the president's annual report;

12. To revoke any diploma by them granted, on receiving satisfactory evidence that the holder thereof is addicted to drunkenness, is guilty of gross immorality, or is reputedly dishonest in his dealings, or is guilty of persistent defiance of, and refusal to obey the laws regulating the duties of teachers; provided, that such person shall have at least thirty days' previous notice of such contemplated action and shall, if he asks it, be heard in his own defense;

13. On recommendation of the faculty and president of the school, to exclude students, who, because of poor scholarship or other evidences of unfitness, are judged incapable of becoming successful teachers in the public schools of the state;

14. To establish and maintain courses of study only in accordance with the rules and regulations prescribed by the state board of education as provided in section one thousand five hundred nineteen of the Political Code;

15. To detail one or more regular teachers of the normal school for normal school extension service in the rural schools of the state and to pay the salary and transportation expenses of any such teacher; provided, that the normal school extension service in any county shall be given only with the approval of the county superintendent of schools. Such normal school extension service may include a special study of rural school conditions and problems, and supervision and instruction of classes in the rural schools. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1651.]

§ 1519. Powers. The state board of education shall have power and it shall be its duty:

Adopt rules. Rules for normal schools. First—to adopt rules and regulations not inconsistent with the laws of this state for its own government, for the government of its appointees and employees, for the government of the day and evening elementary schools, the day and evening secondary schools, the technical and vocational schools of the state, for the government of the several normal schools of the state as hereinafter provided, and for the government of such other schools, excepting the University of California, as may receive in whole or in part financial support from the state. Such rules and regulations shall be published for distribution as soon as practicable after adoption.

At the joint meeting of this board and the representatives of the normal schools of the state provided for in section one thousand five hundred eighteen a of the Political Code, matters affecting the normal schools may be presented by members of the board, by the superintendent of public instruction and the commissioners of education, and by the representatives of the normal schools, and, after due presentation and consideration, the board may adopt rules and regulations for the government of the normal schools in the following matters:

(a) Standardizing course of instruction. The standardizing, as far as the board shall deem it wise and necessary, of the courses of instruction offered in the several normal schools for the preparation of teachers for the public schools of the state.

(b) Courses for special teachers. The establishing and conducting in any or all of the normal schools of the state of such courses of instruction as shall prepare for the public schools of the state special teachers in any or all of the subjects of drawing, music, physical education, and commercial, technical or industrial branches.

(c) List of text-books. The compiling and publishing of a list of text-books for use by the students of the several normal schools of the state; provided, that the state series of text-books shall be used in the grades and classes for which they are adapted, and that all other regular text-books shall be selected by the various normal school authorities from said list.

(d) Standards of admission. The prescribing of the standards of admission for students entering the normal schools, and the rules for transfer of pupils from one normal school to another; provided, that a student for good cause, may, upon recommendation of the president of the school from which he seeks to be transferred, enter any other normal school and without examinations be admitted to classes corresponding to those in the school which he has left.

(e) Graduation. The determination of the time and standards for graduation from the state normal schools.

Assistant superintendents of public instruction. Second—To appoint three assistant superintendents of public instruction, who shall not be subject to the provisions of any civil service law of the state, and who shall be known and designated as follows:

(a) One commissioner of elementary schools, who shall be experienced in teaching in and supervising elementary schools.

(b) One commissioner of secondary schools, who shall be experienced in teaching and who has been principal or supervisor of secondary schools.

(c) One commissioner of industrial and vocational education who has had experience as a supervisor of industrial or vocational education.

Subpoenas for witnesses before board. Third—to issue subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses before the board or any member thereof, in the same manner that any court in this state may; and whenever the testimony of any witness upon any matter pending before it is material, the president must cause the attendance of the witness before such board, or a member thereof, to testify concerning such matter, and the board may make a reasonable allowance therefor, not exceeding the fees of witnesses in civil cases, which must be paid for out of the appropriation for the contingent expenses of the board, but in no instance can an allowance be made in favor of a witness who appears in behalf of a claimant.

Seal. Fourth—To adopt and use, in authentication of their acts, an official seal.

Printing. Fifth—To have done by the state printer, or other officer having the management of the state printing, any printing required by it; provided, that all orders for printing shall first be approved by the state board of control.

General duties. Sixth—The state board of education shall study the educational conditions and needs of the state; shall make plans for the improvement of the administration and efficiency of the public schools of the state; shall have power to conduct educational investigations and shall employ educational and business experts, within the limits of its appropriation therefor; shall annually require reports as to the activities of the superintendent of public instruction and the assistant superintendents, and such other employees as it may direct to report, for submission to the governor, and the same shall submit biennially to the governor, on or before the fifteenth day of September next preceding the regular session of the legislature, a report of its transactions for the preceding two years, together with recommendations of its needs for the coming biennium, and such recommendations as to changes in laws or new educational legislation as may seem to it to be necessary.

Acting secretary. Seventh—To appoint an acting secretary, who shall also act as executive officer of the board in the absence of the superintendent of public instruction from his office or in case of his incapacity for duty. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 699.]

§ 1519a. Powers of state board. The state board of education shall have power and it shall be its duty:

Credentials for high school certificates. First—To prescribe by general rule the credentials upon which persons may be granted certificates to teach in the high schools of this state. No credentials shall be prescribed or allowed, unless the same, in the judgment of said board, are the equivalent of a diploma of graduation from the University of California, and are satisfactory evidence that the holder thereof has taken an amount of pedagogy equivalent to the minimum amount of pedagogy prescribed by the state board of education of this state, and include a recommendation for a high school certificate from the faculty of the institution in which the pedagogical work shall have been taken.

Special cases. Second—To consider the cases of individual applicants who have taught successfully for a period of not less than seventeen school months, and who are not possessed of the credentials prescribed by the board under the provisions of this section, and where the evidence submitted by the applicant does not satisfy the board it may, in its discretion, provide for his examination. The said board, in its discretion, may issue to such applicants high school credentials upon which they may be granted certificates to teach in the high schools of the state. In such special cases, the board may take cognizance of any adequate evidence of preparation which the applicants may present. The standard of qualification in such special cases shall not be lower than that represented by the other credentials named by the board under the provisions of subdivision first of this section.

Special certificates for special subjects. Third—To establish and prescribe by general regulations the qualifications upon which county boards of education may grant to any person a special certificate to teach any special subject or subjects in such grades as are mentioned therein; provided, that no qualification shall be prescribed for certification to teach in any grade whatever a vocational subject unless the candidate shall have had, as a minimum, three years' experience as a journeyman, or, where this terminology does not apply, its equivalent, in the vocation in which he desires certification.

Applicants without necessary qualifications. Fourth—To consider the cases of individual applicants who are not possessed of the qualifications prescribed in subdivision third of this section, or in the general regulations of the state board of education, and where the evidence submitted by any applicant who meets the academic requirements of the board does not satisfy the board of his knowledge of the special subject and methods of teaching the same, it may, in its discretion, provide such examination as it may deem expedient and wise. When the state board of education is satisfied that any applicant possesses qualifications equivalent to those so specified, it may issue to such applicant a state board credential upon which county boards of education may grant to him a special certificate to teach such special subject or subjects as are listed in said credential in such grades and for such length of time as therein specified.

Life diplomas. Fifth—To grant life diplomas for four grades, valid throughout the state, as follows:

(1) High school: Authorizing the holder to teach in any primary or grammar or high school.

(2) Elementary school: Authorizing the holder to teach in any elementary school.

(3) Kindergarten-primary: Authorizing the holder to teach in the kindergarten class of any primary school.

(4) Special: Authorizing the holder to teach in any school such special branches and in such grades as are named in such diploma.

Qualifications for life diplomas. Fee. Sixth—To issue, except as provided in sections one thousand five hundred three and one thousand seven hundred seventy-five of this code, life diplomas only to such persons as have held for one year, and still hold, a valid county, or city and county, certificate, corresponding in grade to the grade of diploma applied for, and who shall furnish satisfactory evidence of having had a successful experience in teaching of at least forty-eight months. Not less than twenty-one months of said experience shall have been in the public schools of California. Every application must be accompanied to the state board of education by a certified copy of a resolution adopted by at least a three-fourths vote of all the members composing a county, or city and county, board of education, recommending that the diploma be granted, and also by an affidavit of the applicant, specifically setting forth the places in which, and the dates between which, said applicant has taught. The application for any credentials or diploma or document mentioned in this chapter must be accompanied by a fee of two dollars, and in addition thereto each applicant permitted to take an examination shall, before he is so permitted, pay a fee of ten dollars. All of the above fees must be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the contingent fund of the state board of education and applied by said board in defraying or in partially defraying the expense of investigating the qualifications of candidates, issuing credentials, documents or diplomas, and providing for the employment of professional experts to conduct examinations for special credentials and high school credentials, as specified in subdivisions second and fourth of this section.

Revocation of life diplomas. Seventh—To revoke or suspend for immoral or unprofessional conduct, or for evident unfitness for teaching, life diplomas, documents issued under the provisions of sections one thousand five hundred three and one thousand seven hundred seventy-five of this code, or credentials issued in accordance with the provisions of this section; and to adopt such rules for said revocation as they may deem expedient or necessary.

Commission of credentials. Eighth—The state board of education, in order to meet emergencies, is hereby authorized to create a commission of credentials, to consist of the commissioner of elementary schools, the commissioner of secondary schools and the commissioner of industrial and vocational education. This commission, when directed by the board, shall have authority to review the cases of applicants for the special credentials and the high school credentials, specified in subdivisions second and fourth of this section, and when said commission is satisfied that any candidate fully meets the standards maintained by the state board it may issue the proper credential; provided, that said credential to be valid must be issued upon the regular form used by the state board of education and must be signed by the secretary and president of said state board. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 701.]

§ 1519b. Powers of state board of education. The state board of education shall have power and it shall be its duty:

Compile text-books. First—To compile in whole, or in part, and to manufacture such text-books as are now in use; to compile, or cause to be compiled, and manufacture such other additional text-books or books, as it may deem necessary or proper for use in the elementary schools of the state, as provided by section one thousand six hundred sixty-five of the Political Code; to purchase books when necessary, or lease plates, maps, engravings or copyright matter for use in manufacturing such text-books; contract for, or lease copyrights for use in compiling, printing or publishing such books; to provide for the payment of royalties or for the leasing of plates or making the whole or any part of a book, and to do any or all things that may be necessary for the purpose of procuring a uniform series of text-books for use in the elementary day and evening schools of the state.

Contract for use of plates, etc. Second—Whenever any plates, maps, or engravings of any publisher or author are adopted for use, or whenever any books have been purchased, as hereinbefore provided, the state board of education shall enter into a contract for not less than four years nor more than eight years for the use of the same in the elementary day and evening schools of the state, and shall require a good and sufficient bond of the owner or owners of such books, plates, maps or engravings under a written guaranty that the same shall be kept revised and free from all errors and up to date as may be required by the state board of education.

Copyrights. Uniform use of text-books. Third—The state board of education may secure copyrights in the name of the people of the state of California, to any book that may be compiled. Whenever any one or more of the state text-books shall have been compiled or purchased, published and adopted, the superintendent of public instruction, on the order of the state board of education shall issue an order to all county, city, city and county school superintendents by sending notices by registered mail to said superintendents who in turn shall notify the secretaries of all boards of education in the cities and the clerk of the board of school trustees and the teacher or principal in each school district, requiring the uniform use of such book, in the grades of the elementary day and evening schools for which they have been adopted, and when such order has thus been given and published, the same shall remain in force and effect for a term of not less than four nor more than eight years; provided, that such order for the uniform use of such book, shall not take effect until the beginning of the next fiscal year; namely, the first of July next following the issue of the order, or at such time thereafter as may be fixed by the state board of education; provided, that the book shall go into use at the beginning of a fiscal year.

When a book has been adopted, the state board of education shall enforce the uniform use of such book, in the elementary day and evening schools for which said book has been adopted.

Refusal to use state text-books. Fourth—Any teacher, or city, county, or city and county superintendent of schools or any board of education, refusing or neglecting to use said series of state text-books at the time required in the last preceding subdivision of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon proof thereof of such refusal or neglect, shall be subject to a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars for each offense; provided, that nothing herein contained shall in any way restrict the additional use of such books as are now provided in section one thousand seven hundred twelve of the Political Code.

Duties of superintendent of state printing. Fifth—The superintendent of state printing shall have supervision of all of the mechanical work connected with the printing of such books as may be compiled and adopted subject to the approval of the state board of education or such representative of the state board of education as may be appointed to supervise such work. The superintendent of state printing shall print and bind such books in lots of not less than five thousand and turn them over to the state board of education at the warehouse, and receive payment therefor on the approval of the items of said cost by the state board of education or the duly authorized agent of said board, and upon the approval of the bill by the board of control. He shall furnish one copy of a cost-finding report showing items of work and the materials and the exact cost of each item for each of said lot of books, to the state board of education and one copy to the board of control. The superintendent of state printing shall on the first day of each month furnish to the state board of education a detailed statement showing the name and number of books published by him during the preceding month, and the number then in course of publication.

Board of education to fix cost price of books. Sixth—On receiving a copy of the cost-finding report and estimated cost of the publishing of any book, the state board of education thereupon shall determine and fix the cost price of such books by adding to the cost of manufacture, the contract price to be paid as royalty or for the use of plates, maps, or engravings or copyrighted matter, and said price, to which has been added ten per cent of such price to cover overhead expense, shall be deemed to be the whole cost of publication of such book at Sacramento. The state board of education may provide for the sale at not less than cost price of state text-books to private schools, individuals, or dealers under such rules and regulations as may be adopted by said board of education; provided, that such books be not sold by dealers for more than the cost price at Sacramento, plus the postage, packing and cartage on such books, which prices shall be established by said board of education.

The state board of education may provide for the disposition of such text-books as are no longer in a fit condition to be used for purposes of instruction; provided, that whenever in its judgment it would be practicable to sell such old text-books for use in the manufacture of paper pulp or similar substances, the highest price obtainable shall be secured therefor, and the money so obtained deposited in the state school-book fund. [New section added May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 704.]

§ 1519c. State school book fund. The appropriation heretofore made, known as the "text-book appropriation," shall be subject to the draft of the state board of education for necessary expenses incurred by it for office supplies, the hiring of expert assistants, and for other necessary expenses; provided, that all claims shall be presented to the board of control for its approval. All moneys that have been received or may hereafter be received from the sale of said series of state text-books to private schools or to dealers or persons or that may be appropriated by the legislature for publishing said series of state text-books, shall be kept by the state treasurer in a fund known as the "state school book fund." This fund shall be subject to the order of the state board of education for all expenses incurred by the superintendent of printing for all material, labor, and other expenses necessary for publishing state school text-books, and for all books purchased, for the cost of shipping free text-books, and for necessary employees in connection with such shipment as may be determined by the state board of education. All claims to be drawn, after being certified by the claimant and the items approved by the secretary of the state board of education shall be presented to the board of control for its approval, and upon the approval of said board of control, the state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant on the state treasurer, who is hereby directed to pay the same. [New section added May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 706.]

§ 1519d. Order from head of state institution. The president or principal of any state institution in which instruction is given in the elementary branches, may order such state text-book, as may be used to advantage, for use in said institution, on blanks supplied by the superintendent of public instruction; provided, such orders shall be subject to revision by said superintendent of public instruction. Such books shall be delivered free of cost to such institution on the order of the superintendent of public instruction, in the usual method of shipment. [New section added May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 707.]

§ 1521. Compensation, members of state board of education. First—The members of the state board of education shall receive as compensation fifteen dollars per day when the board is in session. They shall also receive ten dollars per day while engaged in committee work at the Sacramento or Los Angeles offices of the board or elsewhere under the direction of the state board of education; provided, that the total amount of such per diem for committee work, for all members of the board, shall not exceed two thousand five hundred dollars for any fiscal year. They shall also receive their actual and necessary traveling expenses.

Salaries, assistant superintendents of public instruction. Second—Each assistant superintendent of public instruction provided for in section one thousand five hundred nineteen of the Political Code shall receive a salary of four thousand dollars per annum, payable at the same time and in the same manner as the salary of state officers is paid. They shall also receive their actual and necessary traveling expenses while on official business.

Clerical help. Third—Within their appropriation, the state board of education may appoint such clerical and other help as may from time to time be necessary. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 750.]

§ 1532. Duties of superintendent of public instruction. It is the duty of the superintendent of public instruction:

Superintendence of schools. First—To superintend the schools of this state.

Report of governor. Second—To report to the governor, on or before the fifteenth day of September preceding each regular session of the legislature, a statement of the condition of the public elementary and secondary schools, the state normal schools and other educational institutions supported in whole or in part by the state.

Statements to accompany report. Third—To accompany his report with tabular statements, showing the number attending public schools, and the average attendance; the amount of state school fund apportioned, and the sources from which derived; the amount raised by county, city and county and district taxes, or from other sources of revenue, for school purposes; and the amount expended for salaries of teachers, for building schoolhouses, for district school libraries, and for incidental expenses.

Apportion state school fund. Fourth—To apportion the state school fund; and to furnish an abstract of such apportionment to the state controller, the state board of control, and to the county and city and county auditors, county and city and county treasurers and to the county and city and county school superintendents of the several counties of the state. In apportioning said fund he shall apportion to every county and to every city and county two hundred fifty dollars for every teacher determined and assigned to it on average daily attendance by the county or city and county school superintendent for the next preceding school year, as required of the county or city and county school superintendent by the provisions of section one thousand eight hundred fifty-eight of this code, and after thus apportioning two hundred and fifty dollars on teacher basis, he shall apportion the balance of the state school fund to the several counties or cities and counties according to their average daily attendance as shown by the reports of the county or city and county school superintendents for the next preceding school year.

Drawing orders for funds. Fifth—To draw his order on the controller in favor of each county or city and county treasurer for school moneys apportioned to the county or city and county.

Furnish blank forms. Sixth—To prepare, have printed, and furnish all officers charged with the administration of the laws relating to the public schools, and to teachers, such blank forms and books as may be necessary to the discharge of their duties, including blank teachers' certificates to be used by county and city and county boards of education.

Supply school laws. Seventh—To have the laws relating to the public schools printed in pamphlet form, and to supply school officers and school libraries with one copy each.

Visit orphan asylums. Eighth—To visit the several orphan asylums to which state appropriations are made, and examine into the course of instruction therein.

Visit schools. Ninth—To visit the schools in the different counties, and inquire into their condition; and the actual traveling expenses thus incurred, provided that they do not exceed one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, shall be allowed, audited and paid out of the general fund in the same manner as other claims are audited and paid.

Authenticate orders. Tenth—To authenticate with his official seal all drafts or orders drawn by him, and all papers and writings issued from his office.

Bind documents. Eleventh—To have bound, at the state bindery, all valuable school reports, journals, and documents in his office, or hereafter received by him.

Report daily attendance. Twelfth—To report to the controller, on or before the tenth day of September of each year, the total average daily attendance in the elementary day and evening schools including the special day and evening elementary school classes, the average daily attendance in the day and evening high schools including the special day and evening high school classes, as shown by the annual reports of the county superintendents of the several counties on file in his office for the school year immediately preceding, and the average daily attendance of pupils upon each of such part-time vocational courses as are established and maintained by each high school district under the provisions of section one thousand seven hundred fifty c of this code, and as are shown by these reports and approved by the commissioner of vocational education.

Deliver records to successor. Thirteenth—To deliver over, at the expiration of his term of office, on demand, to his successor, all property, books, documents, maps, records, reports, and other papers belonging to his office, or which may have been received by him for the use of his office.

Visit state normal schools. Fourteenth—To visit and inspect each state normal school from time to time, inquire into its condition and management, require such reports as he may deem proper from the teachers of the school and exercise general supervision over the same. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1417.]

§ 1534. Orders for text-books. All orders for text-books shall be forwarded to the superintendent of public instruction on blanks furnished by him. He shall investigate such orders and make necessary changes and forward the same to the person in charge of the warehouse and shipment of books with definite orders for shipment. He shall keep an accurate account of the amount of money received from the sale of text-books for each month and report to the controller on or before the fifth of the succeeding month, the number of books sold, or distributed, and the amount of money collected therefor, and shall pay such money into the treasury to the credit of the "school text-book fund." The amount fixed for royalty and costs of plates or copyright matter in favor of any company, or individual, shall be presented by the superintendent of public instruction to the state board of education for its approval. Said claim shall be paid quarterly, in the same manner as other claims upon the state treasury, on the approval of the board of control.

On receiving orders from the superintendent of public instruction for text-books the person in charge of the warehouse and shipment of books shall forward by freight, express or mail, as directed by the superintendent of public instruction, to the nearest freight depot, express or postoffice, in the name of the clerk of the school district or the city superintendent of schools in cities, the number of books called for in said order. [New section added May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 706.]

§ 1543. Duties of county superintendent of schools. It is the duty of the superintendent of schools of each county:

Superintending schools. First—To superintend the schools of his county.

Apportion school moneys. Second—To apportion the school moneys to each school district as provided in section one thousand eight hundred fifty-eight of this code, at least four times a year. For this purpose he may require of the county auditor a report of the amount of all school moneys on hand to the credit of the several school funds of the county not already apportioned; and it is hereby made the duty of the auditor to furnish such report when so required; and whenever an excess of money has accumulated to the credit of a school district beyond a reasonable amount necessary to maintain a school for eight months in such district for the year, the superintendent of schools shall place said excess of money to the credit of the unapportioned school funds of the county, and shall apportion the same as other school funds are apportioned.

Requisitions. Third—(a) On the order of the board of school trustees, or board of education of any city or town having a board of education, to draw his requisition upon the county auditor for all necessary expenses against the school fund of any district. The requisitions must be drawn in the order in which the orders therefor are filed in his office. Each requisition must specify the purpose for which it is drawn, but no requisition shall be drawn upon the order of the board of school trustees or board of education against the funds of any district except the teachers' or janitors' salaries, unless such order is accompanied by an itemized bill showing the separate items, and the price of each, in payment for which the order is drawn; nor shall any requisition for teachers' or janitors' salaries be drawn unless the order shall state the monthly salary of teacher or janitor, and name the months for which such salary is due. Upon the receipt of such requisition the auditor shall draw his warrant upon the county treasurer in favor of the parties for the amount stated in such requisition. The order of the board of school trustees, or board of education, shall be made only on the form of blank approved by the superintendent of public instruction; provided, that said blanks shall be printed and furnished to the school districts by the board of supervisors of the respective counties of the state, and when signed by at least two members of the board of trustees, or the officials authorized to sign orders for the board of education, shall be transmitted to the superintendent, who shall, in case he approve such demand, indorse upon it, "examined and approved," together with the number and date when approved, and shall, in attestation thereof, affix his signature thereto, and deliver the same to the claimant, or his order, who shall transmit the same to the auditor, who shall, in case he allows said demand, indorse upon it "allowed," together with the number and date when allowed, and shall, in attestation thereof, affix his signature thereto, and deliver the same to the claimant and make a proper record thereof and charge against the particular fund of the particular district against which such demand was allowed; and said demand when so approved and signed by the superintendent, and when so allowed and signed by the auditor, shall constitute the requisition on the auditor, and the warrant on the treasury within the meaning of this act; and provided, further, that the county superintendent of schools, after examining and approving any demand, may transmit the same directly to the county auditor, who after allowing such demand shall return the same to the county superintendent of schools, who shall thereupon return said demand to the governing board of the school district, which shall issue said demand to the claimant or to his order.

(b) Transfer of funds for pupils of intermediate school course. On the order of the board of trustees or board of education of any elementary school district located within, or having the same boundaries as, a high school district which has established an intermediate school course as provided for in section one thousand seven hundred fifty a of the Political Code, to transfer from the school funds of such elementary school district to the fund of the board having control of such intermediate school course, such sum as may be agreed upon, as provided in section one thousand six hundred seventeen d of the Political Code, by said board of trustees or board of education and said board having control of such intermediate school course, for the tuition of pupils residing in such elementary school district and attending such intermediate school course; provided, that all of the funds so transferred shall be applied exclusively to the support of the grades of such intermediate school course corresponding to the seventh and eighth grades of the regular elementary schools.

Register of requisitions. Fourth—To keep, open to the inspection of the public, a register of requisitions, showing the fund upon which the requisitions have been drawn, the number thereof, in whose favor, and for what purpose they were drawn, and also a receipt from the person to whom the requisition was delivered.

Examine schools. Fifth—To visit and examine each school in his county at least once in each year. For every school not so visited the board of supervisors must, on proof thereof, deduct ten dollars from his salary.

Teachers' institutes. Sixth—To preside over teachers' institutes held in his county, and to secure the attendance thereat of lecturers competent to instruct in the art of teaching, and to report to the county board of education the names of all teachers in the county who fail to attend regularly the sessions of the institute; to enforce the course of study, the use of state text-books, and of high school text-books regularly adopted by proper authority, and the rules and regulations for the examination of teachers prescribed by the proper authority.

Temporary certificates. Seventh—When he finds that the service makes it necessary and desirable, to issue temporary certificates as follows:

(a) A temporary kindergarten certificate to the holder of a valid kindergarten certificate issued by a county board of education of California, or to the holder of a credential issued by a school authorized by the state board of education to recommend teachers for kindergarten certificates in the state of California.

(b) A temporary elementary school certificate to the holder of a valid county certificate issued by a county board of education of California, or to the holder of a diploma issued by a California state normal school or other state normal school accredited by the state board of education.

(c) A temporary secondary school certificate to the holder of a valid county certificate of secondary grade granted by a county board of education of California, or to the holder of a valid credential of secondary grade issued by a university authorized by the state board of education to recommend candidates for the high school certificate in California or to the holder of a state board high school credential.

(d) A temporary special certificate of elementary grade or of secondary grade to the holder of a special certificate of like grade issued by a county board of education in California, or to the holder of a recommendation of like grade in special subjects issued by an institution authorized by the state board of education to recommend persons for special certificates in the state of California, or to the holder of a credential of like grade in special subjects issued by the state board of education of California; provided, that a temporary special certificate may be issued only in such subjects as are listed in the certificate, recommendation, or credential upon which it is granted.

A temporary certificate issued between July first and December first shall expire on the January first following, and a temporary certificate when issued between December first and June twenty-ninth shall expire on the July first following; provided, that no person shall be entitled to receive a temporary certificate more than once in the same county.

Preliminary certificates. Eighth—To issue to persons in training for the teaching service "preliminary certificates" of a temporary character as follows:

(a) Upon a recommendation signed by the president, principal or director of a California school authorized by the state board of education to train teachers for kindergarten teaching, a preliminary certificate of kindergarten grade which shall authorize the holder thereof to do cadet-teaching without salary in any kindergarten school of the county.

(b) To a person holding a recommendation from a California state normal school a preliminary certificate of elementary grade which shall authorize the holder thereof to do cadet-teaching without salary in any subject in any elementary school of the county.

(c) To the holder of a recommendation from a university in this state authorized by the state board of education to issue recommendations for high school certificates, a preliminary certificate of secondary grade which shall authorize the holder thereof to do cadet-teaching without salary in any elementary or secondary school of the county.

(d) To the holder of a recommendation from a California institution authorized by the state board of education to issue credentials for teachers of special subjects, or to the holder of a recommendation from the secretary of the state board of education, under regulations prescribed by said board, a preliminary special certificate of elementary or secondary grade as specified in said recommendation. Said preliminary special certificate shall authorize the holder thereof to do cadet-teaching without salary in the special subjects listed in the recommendation upon which the preliminary certificate has been granted, in any school of like grade in the county.

No such preliminary certificate shall be granted for a period exceeding two years, nor shall the superintendent of schools collect a fee therefor.

Distribute laws, etc. Ninth—To distribute all laws, reports, circulars, instructions, and blanks which he may receive for the use of school officers.

Reports of superintendents. Tenth—To keep in his office the reports of the superintendent of public instruction.

Record of acts. Eleventh—To keep a record of his official acts and of all the proceedings of the county board of education, including a record of the standing, in each study, of all applicants examined, which shall be open to the inspection of any applicant or his authorized agent.

Approval of plans for schoolhouses. Twelfth—Except in incorporated cities having boards of education, to pass upon and approve or reject all plans for schoolhouses. To enable him to do so, all boards of trustees, before adopting any plans for school buildings, must submit the same to the county superintendent for his approval.

Appoint trustees. Thirteenth—To appoint trustees to fill all vacancies in elementary school districts as provided in section one thousand five hundred ninety-three of the Political Code or as may be otherwise provided by law; to appoint trustees to fill all vacancies in high school districts as provided in section one thousand seven hundred thirty-one of the Political Code or as may be otherwise provided by law; to appoint trustees in new elementary school districts to hold office until the first day of May next succeeding their appointment. In case of the failure of the board of school trustees to appoint a clerk of the district on the proper date or in case of a vacancy in the position of clerk of the district, the superintendent shall appoint a member of the board of school trustees clerk of the district. In case of the failure of the trustees to employ a janitor, as provided in section one thousand six hundred seventeen, subdivision seventh, of this code, he shall appoint a janitor, who shall be paid out of the school fund of the district. Should the board of school trustees of any district fail or refuse to issue an order for the compensation of such service, the superintendent is hereby authorized to issue, without such order, his requisition upon the county school fund apportioned to such district.

Reports. Fourteenth—To make reports, when directed by the superintendent of public instruction, showing such matters relating to the public schools in his county as may be required of him.

Preserve reports. Fifteenth—To preserve carefully all reports of school officers and teachers, and, at the close of his official term, deliver to his successor all records, books, documents, and papers belonging to the office, taking a receipt for the same, which will be filed in the office of the county clerk.

Grade schools. Sixteenth—The county superintendent shall, unless otherwise provided by law, in the month of July of each year grade each school, and a record thereof shall be made in a book to be kept by the county superintendent in his office for this purpose. And no teacher holding a certificate below the grade of said school shall be employed to teach the same.

Contract for Indian children. Seventeenth—On the recommendation of the county superintendent of schools, boards of school trustees and city boards of education are hereby empowered to enter into contract with the national government to receive money from said national government for the Indian children in attendance in the schools under the jurisdiction of said boards, in addition to any money that may be appropriated for such schools by the state and the county. Any money received on such contract shall be transmitted to the county superintendent of schools to be by him paid into the county treasury to the credit of the special school fund of such school district. On the receipt of such money the superintendent shall notify the clerk of the board of school trustees of the receipt of the money. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1289.]

of this section or by reason of any change in the number of school children residing in the district unless a majority of the electors of the district vote in favor of such change at an election called for such purpose by the board of trustees of the district. When a new district is formed the board of supervisors of each county in which any part of the district is situated shall designate, in the order creating the district, the county superintendent which shall have jurisdiction thereover, and such determination shall be final until changed by vote of the electors of the district as hereinbefore provided. [New section added May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 712.]

§ 1551. County superintendent's annual report. Every school superintendent in this state must, on or before the first day of August in each year, report to the superintendent of public instruction, and to the board of supervisors of his county, the average daily attendance in the day and evening elementary schools and the special day and evening elementary school classes, the average daily attendance in the day and evening high schools and the special day and evening high school classes and the average daily attendance of pupils upon part-time vocational courses maintained by high school districts for persons engaged three or more hours each in academic and in educative occupational work, as provided for in section one thousand seven hundred fifty c of this code, as appears by the teachers' reports on file in his office for the school year immediately preceding. It shall be the duty of every county superintendent to inquire and ascertain whether the boundaries of the school districts in his county are definitely and plainly described in the records of the board of supervisors, and to keep in his office a full and correct transcript of such boundaries. In case the boundaries of districts are conflicting or incorrectly described, he shall report such fact to the board of supervisors, and the board of supervisors shall immediately take such steps as are necessary to change, harmonize and clearly define them. The county superintendent, if he deem it necessary, may order the description of the district boundaries printed in pamphlet form, and pay for the same out of the unapportioned county school fund of the county. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1384.]

§ 1576. Each city separate school district. Annexation of territory. Deemed part of city for election purposes. Every city or incorporated town, except cities and towns of the sixth class, unless subdivided by the legislative authority thereof, shall constitute a separate school district which shall be governed by the board of education or board of school trustees of such city or incorporated town; provided, however, that in no instance shall the territory within an incorporated city of the sixth class be in more than one school district; and provided, further, that whenever a city or town shall be incorporated, except a city or town of the sixth class, the board of supervisors of the county may annex thereto, for school purposes only, the remainder, or any part of the remainder, of the district or districts from which such city or incorporated town was organized, whenever a majority of the heads of families residing therein, shall petition for such annexation; and provided, further, that the board of supervisors may include more territory than the remainder of the district or districts from which the city or incorporated town was organized, whenever a petition for such purpose is presented to them, signed by a majority of the heads of families residing in such additional territory. When said remainder or part thereof, or said additional outside territory, has been annexed to said city or incorporated town, it shall be deemed a part of said city or incorporated town for the purpose of holding the general municipal election, and shall form one or more election precincts, as may be determined by the legislative authority of said city or incorporated town, the qualified electors of which shall vote only for the board of education, or the board of school trustees; and such outside territory shall be deemed to be a part of said city or incorporated town for all matters connected with the school department thereof, for the annual levying and collecting of the property tax for the school fund of said city or incorporated town; and for all purposes specified in sections one thousand eight hundred eighty to one thousand eight hundred eighty-eight of this code, inclusive; provided, however, that the last assessment-roll made by the county assessor shall be the only basis of taxation for such school district on the property outside the corporate limits so annexed for school purposes. [Amendment approved April 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 208.]

§ 1578. Duty of superintendent on receipt of petition. When a petition is presented under the foregoing section to the county superintendent of schools he shall examine the same and if he finds the same sufficient and signed as required by the section he shall set the same for hearing by the board of supervisors of his county at a regular meeting thereof and forthwith file the same with said board accompanied by his recommendations and a notice containing a general statement of the purpose of the petition and of the boundaries of the proposed new district, or the change of boundaries, as the case may be, and the time and place when and where the petition will be heard. At least ten days prior to said date of hearing he shall send by registered mail a copy of such notice to each of the trustees of each school district which may be affected by the proposed change, if any, and shall post for the same period copies thereof in at least three public places in the territory proposed to be included in the new district and in at least three public places in each of the districts affected thereby, if any, one of which shall be posted at the door of a schoolhouse, if any, of each of such districts. He shall attach to said original notice and submit therewith to said board of supervisors his affidavit of mailing and posting of said copies. Upon the filing with it of such petition, recommendations, notice and affidavit as herein required, the board of supervisors shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine said petition. [Amendment approved May 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 568.]

§ 1579. Duty of board of supervisors. The board of supervisors must, at the time and place fixed in the notice mentioned in the preceding section, hear all persons interested in the petition and may continue the hearing thereof from time to time but for not more than two weeks in all. If it approves the petition it must, by an order entered upon its minutes, establish the district and define its boundaries, or order the change of boundaries, as the case may be, but no territory not included in the petition shall be included in any district until a notice and hearing has been given as required by the preceding section. A copy of such order, certified by the clerk of such board, shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of each county in which any such new district is situated, or in each county where the district whose boundaries are changed is situated, and such order shall, after the expiration of one year from the date of the recording thereof, be conclusive evidence that such district has been legally organized, or the boundaries legally changed, as the case may be. After the expiration of such time no suit shall be maintained which calls in question the validity of such organization or change of boundaries. [Amendment approved May 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 568.]

§ 1582. Suspension of school district. District declared lapsed. (a) If in any school district there has been an average daily attendance of only five or a number of pupils less than five during the whole school year, the superintendent shall, after giving due notice to all parties interested by sending notices by registered mail to each of the trustees, or, by causing notices to be posted in three public places in the district, one of which shall be at the door of the schoolhouse, for not less than ten days, report the fact to the board of supervisors at their first meeting in August. The board of supervisors shall investigate the matter, and, if in its judgment it would be better to temporarily suspend the school district they shall immediately so suspend it. If the board of supervisors find that there are other school facilities or that there is no reasonable chance to re-establish the district they shall declare the district lapsed, and shall attach the territory thereof to one or more of the adjoining districts in such manner as may be by them considered most convenient for the residents of said lapsed district.

(b) Suspended school district re-established. At the meeting of the board of supervisors in the months of July, August or September, the board of supervisors may re-establish a suspended school district upon proper showing of the people or board of school trustees of the district that there are eight or more pupils of the district ready to attend school.

(c) Apportionment for suspended district. After a district has been suspended, the county superintendent shall at the time of making the apportionment of school moneys as provided in section one thousand eight hundred fifty-eight of the Political Code, set aside for such suspended district, the sum of five hundred fifty dollars. This amount, with any unexpended balance to the credit of the district, shall be held for the use of the suspended district, in case it should be re-established, and so much of it as may be needed to keep the property of the suspended district insured may be expended by the trustees in the same manner as if the district were not suspended. But no subsequent apportionment shall be made to a suspended district, until it is re-established as provided in subdivision three of this section.

(d) Trustees. Trustees shall be elected or appointed in suspended districts just as if they were not suspended.

(e) Notice that district lapsed. The superintendent may at any time in the month of July of any year give notice as provided in subdivision two of this section, to any suspended district which has not maintained school during the year past, and at the first meeting of the board of supervisors in August ask that such district be declared lapsed.

(f) Suspended district merged with adjoining district. A suspended district may be merged with one or more adjoining districts whenever a petition signed by the majority of heads of families residing in each of said districts shall be presented to the board of supervisors. Such petition must be filed with the county superintendent and by him presented to the board of supervisors with such suggestions as he thinks best.

(g) Disposition of property of lapsed district. When any district has been declared lapsed, the board of supervisors shall sell or otherwise dispose of the property thereto belonging, and shall place the proceeds of such sale to the credit of the district. Thereupon the superintendent shall determine all outstanding indebtedness of said lapsed district, and shall draw his requisition upon the county auditor in payment thereof. Any balance of moneys remaining to the credit of said lapsed district after all indebtedness has been paid shall be transferred by the superintendent to the credit of the district into which the said lapsed district has been merged. If the lapsed district has been attached to more than one of the adjoining districts, the superintendent must apportion the moneys remaining to the credit of the lapsed district to the several districts pro rata according to the average daily attendance in the respective districts as shown by the teachers' reports for the preceding school year. Should there not be sufficient funds to the credit of the lapsed district to liquidate all of the outstanding indebtedness thereof, the superintendent shall draw his requisition upon the county auditor pro rata for the several claims. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1287.]

§ 1593. Election of school trustees. First—An election for school trustees must be held in each school district on the last Friday of March of each year, at the district schoolhouse, if there is one, and if there is none, at the place to be designated by the board of trustees.

Number. Second—The number of school trustees for any school district, except where city boards are otherwise authorized by law, shall be three. No persons shall be deemed ineligible to the office of trustee on account of sex.

Trustees in new districts. Third—In new school districts the school trustees shall be elected on the last Friday of March subsequent to the formation of the district, to hold office for one, two and three years, respectively, from the first day of May next succeeding their election.

Vacancies. Fourth—When a vacancy occurs from any of the causes specified in section nine hundred ninety-six of this code, the county superintendent of schools shall appoint a suitable person to fill such vacancy to hold office for the remainder of the unexpired term.

One trustee elected annually. Fifth—Except as provided in subdivisions two and three of this section, one trustee shall be elected annually, to hold office for three years from the first day of May next succeeding his election, or until his successor shall be elected, or appointed, and qualified. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 734.]

§ 1599. Form of ballots for election of school trustees. Manner of voting. Secret ballot. Each county superintendent of schools shall furnish uniform ballots for the election of school trustees in his county, and no other form of ballot shall be used. The expense of printing and distributing such ballots to the various districts shall be paid as other current expenses of his office. The form of said ballots shall be as follows:

Official ballot provided by the office of the superintendent of schools to be used in the election of school trustees in —— district, in the county of ——.

Immediately following the above there shall be at least twelve spaces for the insertion of the names of candidates, each space with a blank square for the expression of the will of the voter.

The name of the county shall be printed in as a part of the official ballot.

The school trustees must provide for printing, stamping or writing into this ballot the designation of the district and the name of each candidate for office who has officially announced himself five days prior to the date of the election by filing or having filed with the clerk of the board of trustees a written statement signed by him that he is a candidate for the office of trustee.

In casting his vote the elector must stamp or write a cross in the square space immediately following the name of the candidate for whom he desires to vote, or, should the elector desire to vote for a candidate whose name does not appear on the ballot, he shall himself write the name of said candidate in the space provided for that purpose on the ballot. Where the elector writes the name of a candidate on the ballot he may, but it shall not be necessary for him to, designate his vote by writing or stamping the cross after such name. After properly marking his ballot he shall hand it to the inspector who shall then, in his presence, deposit the same in the ballot-box and the judges shall enter the elector's name on the poll list.

The board of school trustees may arrange for secret ballot by providing a booth or private room in which the voter may prepare his ballot, and in districts employing two or more teachers they must arrange for such secret ballot in the manner prescribed above.

No electioneering shall be carried on within one hundred feet of the polls. [Amendment approved March 21, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 15.]

§ 1603. Board of school trustees. Except when otherwise authorized by law, every school district shall be under the control of a board of school trustees, consisting of three members. [New section added May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 735.]

§ 1603a. Term. The term of office of school trustees is three years from the first day of May next succeeding their election. [New section added May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 735.]

§ 1604. When new district organized. First—When a new district is organized, such of the trustees of the old district as reside within the boundaries of the new shall be trustees of the new district until the expiration of the time for which they were elected.

When joint districts formed. Term. Second—When joint districts are formed, three trustees shall be elected at the regular school election next succeeding the formation thereof, to hold office for one, two, and three years respectively from the first day of May next succeeding their election.

The terms of the trustees in the districts uniting to form the joint district shall expire on the formation of such district, and the superintendent of the county, in which lies the district having the greatest average daily attendance, shall appoint two trustees, and the superintendent of the county in which the other district lies shall appoint one trustee, to hold office until the first day of May next succeeding the formation of the joint district. [New section added May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 735.]

§ 1605. Vacancies. First—Vacancies in the office of school trustee are caused by the happening of any of the events specified in section nine hundred ninety-six of the Political Code, or by failure to elect, as provided in section one thousand five hundred ninety-three of this code.

Resignations. Second—When a school trustee resigns, his resignation must be sent in writing to the county superintendent of schools. [New section added May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 736.]

§ 1606. City boards of education. Boards of education are elected in cities under the provisions of the laws governing such cities, and their powers and duties are as prescribed in such laws, except as otherwise in this chapter provided. [New section added May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 736.]

§ 1607. Powers. Boards of school trustees and city boards of education shall have power, and it shall be their duty:

Prescribe rules. First—To prescribe and enforce rules not inconsistent with law, or with those prescribed by the state board of education, for their own government and for the government of the schools under their jurisdiction, and to transact their business at regular or special meetings called for such purpose. The board shall fix the time for its regular meetings, and such action shall be proper notice to all members of the board of such meetings, but for any special meetings, written notice must be given to each member of the board at least twenty-four hours prior to the time for the meeting, unless at the time of the meeting each and every member of the board waives such written notice.

Enforce course of study. Second—To enforce in schools the course of study and the use of text-books prescribed and adopted by the proper authority.

Exclude sectarian books. Third—To exclude from school and school libraries all books, publications, or papers of a sectarian, partisan or denominational character.

Annual report. Fourth—To make an annual report, on or before the first day of July, to the superintendent of schools in the manner and form and on the blanks prescribed by the superintendent of public instruction.

Report of text-books. Fifth—To make a report, whenever required, directly to the superintendent of public instruction of the text-books used in their schools.

Visit schools. Sixth—To visit each school in their district at least once in each term and to examine carefully into the management, conditions and needs of those schools, except in school districts which employ district or city superintendents of schools, and in those districts to visit such schools or provide that they shall be visited by the district or city superintendent of schools or his assistants. [New section added May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 736.]

§ 1608. Powers of school trustees and city boards of education. Boards of school trustees and city boards of education shall have power, and it shall be their duty:

Manage school property. First—To manage and to control school property within their districts, and to pay all moneys received by them or collected by them from any source whatever, and all moneys apportioned to them from taxes levied and collected under the authority of city councils for school purposes, into the county treasury to be placed to the credit of the proper fund of their districts.

Purchase school furniture. Second—Except as otherwise provided in this code, to purchase school furniture, including musical instruments, and apparatus, and such other articles as may be necessary for the use of schools; provided, that except in city school districts governed by boards of education, they shall purchase such books and apparatus only as have been adopted by the county board of education.

Insure, etc., school property. Third—To furnish, repair, and insure and in their discretion, rent, the school property of their respective districts, such insurance to be written in any solvent insurance company, doing business in this state, or in any mutual insurance company organized under the laws of this state.

Build schoolhouses. Fourth—When directed by a vote of their districts to build schoolhouses or to purchase or sell school lots.

Receive and make conveyances. Fifth—To receive in the name of the district conveyances for all property received and purchased by them, and to make in the name of the district conveyances on all property belonging to the district and sold by them. [New section added May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 737.]

§ 1609. Powers of. Boards of school trustees and city boards of education shall have power, and it shall be their duty:

Employ principal. City superintendent of schools. First—To employ a principal for each school under their control, and they may employ a district superintendent for one or more schools employing eight teachers or more under their control. In each city school district governed by a city board of education, such board may employ a city superintendent of schools and such deputy or assistant city superintendents as it may deem necessary and fix and order paid their compensation unless the same be otherwise prescribed by law. Any deputy city superintendent of schools, or assistant city superintendent of schools, or district superintendent may be elected for a term of four years.

Employ teachers. Pay. For less than school year. Second—To employ the teachers, and immediately notify the county superintendent of schools in writing, of such employment, naming the grade of certificate held by the teacher employed; also to employ janitors and other employees of the school; to fix and order paid their compensation, unless the same be otherwise prescribed by law; provided, that no board shall enter into any contract with such employees to extend beyond the close of the next ensuing school year; except that teachers may be elected on or after June first for the next ensuing school year, and each teacher so elected shall be deemed re-elected from year to year thereafter unless the governing body of the school district shall on or before the tenth day of June give notice in writing to such teacher that his services will not be required for the ensuing school year. Such notice shall be deemed sufficient and complete when delivered in person to the teacher by the clerk or secretary of the governing body of the school district, or deposited in the United States mail with postage prepaid addressed to such teacher at his last known place of address; provided, that any teacher who shall fail to signify his acceptance within twenty days after notice of his election or employment has been given or mailed shall be deemed to have declined the same. Any board of trustees or city board of education may arrange to pay the teachers or principals so employed by them in ten or eleven or twelve equal payments instead of by the school month; provided, however, that where the board of trustees or city board of education arranges to pay the teachers or principals employed by them in twelve equal payments for the year, they shall begin such payments on the first day of the calendar month following the opening of schools for the current year in all cases where school is opened during the month of July, and in all cases where school is not opened during the month of July the board of trustees or city board of education may withhold such warrant or warrants which may have fallen due prior to the opening of school until the teachers or principals so employed by them shall have returned to the employment for which they were engaged by the board of school trustees or the city board of education and shall have resumed their respective duties, and then such payments shall be continued from month to month on the first day of each calendar month thereafter until said teachers have been paid the full amount due to them for that fiscal year; provided, that a teacher who serves less than a full school year is entitled to receive as salary only an amount that bears the same ratio to the established annual salary for such position as the time he teaches bears to the annual school term; provided, that whenever the first day of the month falls upon a holiday, payment of teachers' salaries shall be made on the following day.

Appoint district librarians. Third—To appoint and, in their discretion, pay district librarians, and enforce the rules prescribed for the government of district libraries.

Employ supervisors. Fourth—To employ in their discretion supervisors of subjects and to fix and order paid their compensation unless the same be otherwise prescribed by law. [New section added May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 737.]

§ 1610. Powers and duties of school and city boards of education. Board of school trustees and city boards of education shall have power, and it shall be their duty:

Suspend pupils. First—To suspend or expel pupils for misconduct, when other means of correction have failed to bring proper conduct.

Exclude children. Children under six admitted when. Second—To exclude from the schools children under six years of age, except as hereinafter provided; provided, that where the kindergarten is part of the day elementary schools, children may be admitted to the kindergarten classes at four and one-half years of age; and provided, further, that where any district has established a school for the instruction of the deaf, such children may be admitted to the deaf school at three years of age. In the enforcement of the provisions of this section children shall be admitted to the beginning classes of any school during the first month of the school year, or when the school year is divided into school terms, during the first month of each term, and children who will be six years of age before the end of the six months of the school year, or before the end of the third month of the school term, shall be admitted at the beginning of the school year, or the school term, and children who will not be six years of age by the end of the period specified shall not be admitted until the beginning of another school year or school term. Beginners shall in like manner be admitted to the beginning classes of the kindergarten during the first month of the school year, or of the school term, if the school year be divided into terms, if such children will be four and one-half years of age before the end of the sixth month of the school year and before the end of the third month of the school term, and children who will not be four and one-half years of age within the period specified shall not be admitted to the kindergarten classes until the beginning of another school year or term.

Register. Third—To cause the principal to keep a register open to the inspection of the public, of all children applying for admission and entitled to be admitted into the public schools, and to notify the parents or guardians of such children when vacancies occur, and receive such children into the schools in the order in which they are registered.

Permit children from other districts to attend. Fourth—To permit children from other districts to attend the schools of their district only upon the consent of the trustees of the district in which such children reside; provided, that should the trustees of the district in which children whose parents or guardians desire them to attend in other districts reside, refuse to grant their consent, the parents or guardians of such children may appeal to the county superintendent and his decision shall be final.

Care to health. Fifth—To give diligent care to the health and physical development of pupils, and where sufficient funds are provided by district taxation, to employ properly certificated persons for such work.

Provide transportation. Sixth—To provide, with the written approval of the superintendent of schools, for the transportation of pupils to and from school whenever in their judgment such transportation is advisable, and good reasons exist therefor, to purchase or rent and provide for the upkeep, care, and operation of vehicles, or to contract and pay for the transportation of pupils to and from school by common carrier, or to contract with and pay responsible private parties for such transportation; provided, that in order to secure such service at the lowest possible figure consistent with proper and satisfactory service, boards of education and boards of school trustees shall secure bids for the items of service contemplated in this subdivision; and provided, further, that no board shall make any purchase or enter into any contract for such service without securing the written approval of the county superintendent of schools. [New section added May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 739.]

§ 1611. Meetings of electors. Notices. Organization. Powers of meeting. Litigation. Boards of trustees in school districts, not including districts having city boards of education, may, and upon a petition signed by a majority of the heads of families resident in the district, must call meetings of the qualified electors of the district for determining or changing the location of the schoolhouse, or for consultation in regard to any litigation in which the district may be engaged, or be likely to become engaged or in regard to any affairs in the district. Such meetings shall be called by posting three notices in public places, one of which shall be in a conspicuous place on the schoolhouse, for not less than ten days previous to the time for which the meeting shall be called, which notices shall specify the purposes for which said meetings shall be called; and no other business shall be transacted at such meetings. District meetings shall be organized by choosing a chairman from the electors present, and the district clerk shall be clerk of the meeting, and shall enter the minutes thereof on the records of the district. A meeting so called shall be competent to instruct the board of trustees:

1. In regard to the location or change of location of the schoolhouse or the use of the same for other than school purposes; provided, that in no case shall the schoolhouse be used for purposes which necessitate the removal of any school desks or other school furniture.

2. In regard to the sale and purchase of school sites.

3. In regard to prosecuting, settling or compromising any litigation in which the district may be engaged, or be likely to become engaged, and may vote money not exceeding one hundred dollars in any one year, for any of these purposes in addition to any amount which may be raised by the sale of district school property, and the insurance of property destroyed by fire; provided, that the proceeds of the insurance of the library and apparatus shall be paid into the library fund. All funds raised by the sale of school property may be disposed of by direction of a district meeting. District meetings may be adjourned from time to time, as found necessary, and all votes instructing the board of trustees shall be taken by ballot, or by ayes and noes vote, as the meeting may determine. The board of trustees shall, in all cases, be bound by the instructions of the district meeting in regard to the subjects mentioned in this section; provided that the vote in favor of changing the location of the schoolhouse be two-thirds of all the electors voting at said meeting upon the proposition to change the location. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 740.]

§ 1612. Contracts. Bids. Estimates. Boards of school trustees and city boards of education shall have power and it shall be their duty to let all contracts involving an expenditure of more than two hundred dollars for work to be done or for material or supplies to be furnished, to the lowest responsible bidder who will give such security as the board may require, or else to reject all bids; provided, that continuing contracts for materials and supplies may be made with an accepted bidder for a period of one year; and provided, further, that the board may repair old buildings by day's labor. For the purpose of securing bids the board must publish a notice calling for bids, stating the work to be done or materials or supplies to be furnished, and the time when and the place where bids will be opened, at least once a week for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county, or if there is no such paper, then in some newspaper of general circulation, circulated in such county; provided, that in school districts having an average daily attendance of one thousand or more pupils, as shown by the annual report of the county superintendent of schools for the preceding school year, the board may secure from responsible bidders at least three estimates of the cost of such work to be done, or materials or supplies to be furnished, such estimates to be secured from bona fide dealers or craftsmen engaged in the business or in handling the goods specified. Said estimates must be submitted in writing and must be filed with the clerk or secretary of the board, and if any of such estimates of cost is less than five hundred dollars, the board may let a contract for such work, material or supplies, to the lowest responsible bidder without publishing such notice calling for bids. [New section added May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 741.]

§ 1613. Grant use of school buildings. Boards of school trustees and city boards of education are hereby authorized to grant the use of school buildings or grounds for public, literary, scientific, recreational or educational meetings, or for the discussion of matters of general or public interest upon such terms and conditions as said board may deem proper; provided, however, that said use shall not be inconsistent with the use of said buildings or grounds for school purposes, nor interfere with the regular conduct of school work, nor be granted in such a manner as to constitute a monopoly for the benefit of any person or organization; and provided, further, that no privilege of using said buildings or grounds shall be granted for a period exceeding one year, such privilege being renewable and revocable in the discretion of the board at any time. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 741.]

§ 1615. "Home teachers." Duties. Qualifications. Boards of school trustees or city boards of education of any school district, may employ teachers to be known as "home teachers," not exceeding one such home teacher for every five hundred units of average daily attendance in the common schools of said district as shown by the report of the county superintendent of schools for the next preceding school year. It shall be the duty of the home teacher to work in the homes of the pupils, instructing children and adults in matters relating to school attendance and preparation therefor; also in sanitation, in the English language, in household duties such as purchase, preparation and use of food and of clothing and in the fundamental principles of the American system of government and the rights and duties of citizenship. The qualifications of such teachers shall be a regular kindergarten primary, elementary or secondary certificate to teach in the schools of California and special fitness to perform the duties of a home teacher; provided, that the salaries of such teachers shall be paid from the city or district special school funds. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 742.]

§ 1616. Kindergarten. Estimate for maintenance of kindergarten. Levy of tax. Discontinuance. Funds revert. Limit on tax rate. The board of education of every city, city and county, or the board of school trustees of every school district in this state, must, upon petition of the parents or guardians of twenty-five or more children between the ages of four and one-half and six years, residing within one mile of any elementary school building situate in such city, city and county, or school district, establish and maintain a kindergarten or kindergartens; provided, that the order of the board establishing such kindergarten or kindergartens shall be made only between the first day of June and the first day of August in any year; and provided, further, that after the first year in which any kindergarten or kindergartens shall have been established and maintained, that the number of kindergartens which shall be maintained in any city, or city and county, or school district, during any particular school year, shall be determined by the governing body of the schools of such city, city and county or school district.

The board of education of every city, city and county, or the board of school trustees of every school district in which a kindergarten is established under the provisions of this act, must at least fifteen days before the first day of the month in which the board of supervisors is required by law to levy the taxes required for county purposes, submit to the county superintendent of schools an estimate of the amount of money which will be required for the maintenance of any kindergarten or kindergartens in their several school districts for the ensuing school year.

The county superintendent of schools shall thereupon examine said estimate and submit copies of the same, with his approval or disapproval indorsed thereon, to the board of supervisors and to the county auditor at the time he submits to them his estimate for the county school tax for the current year. If the county superintendent of schools approves such estimate, the board of supervisors shall, at the time and in the manner of levying other taxes, levy and cause to be collected in the several school districts for which estimates have been submitted and approved as herein provided, the amount so estimated and approved. The fund so levied shall be known as the kindergarten fund of —— school district, as the case may be, and shall be available for the maintenance of the kindergarten or kindergartens established under the provisions of this section, and the moneys drawn from such fund shall be paid out in the same manner as the moneys from state and county school funds for the maintenance of the elementary schools are drawn and paid out. If the average daily attendance in any kindergarten in any city, city and county, or school district, shall be ten or less for the school year, the governing body of such city, city and county, or school district, shall, at the close of such school year, discontinue such kindergarten. In case a city, city and county, or school district, maintains but one kindergarten, should such kindergarten be discontinued as provided by this section, the funds of such kindergarten shall immediately revert to the elementary schools of the city, city and county, or school district, in which said kindergarten has been located; and in case any city, city and county, or school district maintains two or more kindergartens the property and funds of a kindergarten which has been discontinued shall revert to the kindergarten or kindergartens which are still in operation in said city, city and county, or school district. The rate of taxation which may be levied for the support of kindergartens in any one year shall not exceed ten cents on the one hundred dollars of the taxable property of such city, city and county, or school district; and such tax for the support of the kindergarten or kindergartens, shall be in addition to any other tax which may be levied for the support of the public schools. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 742.]

§ 1617. Intermediate school course. The board of education of any city, or of any city and county, or the board of school trustees of any school district situated within a high school district maintaining an intermediate school course, shall permit pupils who have completed the sixth year of the elementary school to attend an intermediate school course established as provided by section one thousand seven hundred fifty a, of the Political Code, and shall pay to such high school district for the education of such pupils, a tuition charge which shall be agreed upon by said board of education, or board of school trustees, and the high school board maintaining such intermediate school course; provided, that such board of education or board of school trustees shall not pay to any such high school board for educating a pupil, residing in such elementary school district and attending such intermediate school course, a tuition charge greater than the average net cost per pupil for educating pupils in the first six years of the elementary school in said elementary school district; and provided, further, that such tuition charge shall cease to be paid after the pupil has completed two years of work in such intermediate school course. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 742.]

§ 1617b. Contract with state normal school for education of children. Revocation. The trustees of an elementary school district with an average daily attendance of thirty-five or less, as shown by the last teacher's report on file in the office of the county superintendent of schools, when authorized by a majority vote of their district at a district meeting called for that purpose, may contract with a state normal school for the education of the children of their district; provided:

1. That the elementary school so contracting shall be housed by the normal school on the normal school campus or in the schoolhouse in the district and shall be used as a rural model practice school.

2. That the trustees of the elementary school district shall contribute to the support of the school all of the money apportioned to their district from the state and county funds. Said funds to be handled and expended by the trustees of the elementary school district in the same manner as provided by law.

Such contract may be revoked by a majority vote of the board of trustees of the normal school or by the trustees of the elementary school district, when authorized to do so by a majority vote of their district at a special district meeting called for that purpose. Such contract shall be in effect from July first following date of contract and shall remain in effect until the end of the school year in which the contract is revoked. [New section added May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1516.]

NOTE.—The old section 1617b, relating to home teachers and their qualifications, was repealed May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 744.

§ 1617c. Establishment of kindergartens. Discontinuance for small attendance. [Repealed May 18, 1917; Stats 1917, p. 744.]

§ 1617d. Pupils who may attend. Tuition. [Repealed May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 744.]

§ 1617½. Sale or leasing of school property. Conditions. Effect of act. Boards of education, or other governing boards, in cities and having jurisdiction over both the elementary and high school districts embracing such cities, in which the total number of units of average daily attendance in both such school districts, as shown by the annual report of the county superintendent of schools to the state superintendent of public instruction for the preceding school year, exceeds fifty-five thousand, are hereby authorized to sell, or lease for a term not exceeding ninety-nine years, any real property belonging to their respective school districts, or high school districts upon which no public school is being maintained upon the following conditions:

Before ordering the sale or lease of any such property such board of education, or other governing boards, shall, in open meeting, by a two-thirds vote of all of its members, adopt a resolution declaring its intention to sell the same, or a resolution declaring its intention to lease the same, as the case may be, which said resolution shall describe the property proposed to be sold, or leased, in such manner as to identify it and shall specify the minimum price, or rental, and terms for which it will be sold, or leased, and fixing a time, not less than three weeks thereafter, and place for a public meeting of said board of education, or other governing board, at which sealed proposals to purchase or lease, as the case may be, will be received and considered. Said resolution shall, before the date of such meeting, be published once a week for three successive weeks in one or more newspapers of general circulation published in the district. At the time and place fixed in said resolution for the meeting of said board of education or other governing board, all sealed proposals which have been received shall, in public session, be opened, examined, and declared by said board, or other governing board, and the property be sold, or leased, as the case may be, to the highest responsible bidder among those who have submitted sealed proposals and who offer to comply with all terms and conditions specified in the resolution of intention to sell or lease; provided, however, that if any responsible person shall at said meeting offer to purchase such property, or to lease such property, as the case may be, for a price or rental exceeding the highest other proposal or offer before the board by not less than five per cent, the property shall be sold, or shall be leased as the case may be, to such person; and provided, further, that said board or other governing board may, should it deem such action for the best public interest, at any time, reject any or all bids, and withdraw such property from sale. Any order of sale or lease made hereunder by said board, or other governing board, shall authorize and direct the execution and delivery by the chairman, or other presiding officer, of said board, or other governing board, of the deed or lease of said district to the purchaser or lessee. This section shall not be taken to authorize action upon proposals for sale and proposals for lease at the same meeting.

The provisions of this section shall be deemed to supersede any other provision of law relating to powers and duties of boards of trustees, and boards of education, only in so far as its terms are in conflict therewith, and shall not be deemed as repealing any such other provision of law not conflicting with the terms of this section. [New section added June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1645.]

§ 1619. Equal rights and privileges. Vacation schools. Qualifications of teachers. First—Except where a school has been closed by order of a city or a county board of health or of the state board of health, on account of contagious disease, or where such school has been closed on account of fire, flood or other public disaster, boards of school trustees and city boards of education must maintain all of the elementary day schools established by them for an equal length of time during the year, and all of the day high schools established by them for an equal length of time during the year, and, as far as possible, with equal rights and privileges; provided, that boards of school trustees and city boards of education may establish and maintain vacation schools of kindergarten, elementary, or high school grade. No vacation school shall be established until a school of equal grade has been maintained for at least eight months. The duties of teachers, courses of study, length of school day, and all other matter relating to vacation schools, shall be determined by the boards of school trustees, or by the city board of education. Only teachers who are legally qualified to teach in the public schools of the state shall be eligible to teach in vacation schools of corresponding grade; provided, that the attendance of pupils upon such schools shall not be counted as a part of the average daily attendance of the regular elementary or secondary schools of the district, nor shall the state or county school funds be used to maintain such schools.

When school maintained in different portions of district. Second—When in any district it is necessary for the convenience of the residents of said district that the school therein should be maintained a part of the year in one portion of the district, and a part of the year in another portion of the district, the aggregate of the time the school has been maintained in the different portions of the district shall be considered in estimating the time for which a school has been maintained in the district during the school year. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 688.]

§ 1662. Courses of study. First—The courses of study for the day elementary schools of California shall embrace eight years of instruction; and such courses must allot eight years for instruction in subjects required to be taught in such schools and may allot not more than two years for kindergarten instruction.

Ages for admission. Second—The day elementary schools of each school district of California shall be open for the admission of all children between six and twenty-one years of age residing in the district, and may be open for the admission of adults if the governing body of the district deem such admission advisable; provided, that where kindergarten instruction is given in the schools of a district, such school shall admit children to the kindergarten classes at four years of age; and the reports for the kindergarten classes shall be kept and shall be made separate from other school reports; and provided, further, that wherever a school is established for the instruction of the deaf, such children may be admitted to such school at three years of age; provided, that the average daily attendance of deaf children who are six years of age or older shall be counted as part of the average daily attendance in the day and elementary schools.

Children excluded. Separate schools for Indians, etc. Third—The governing body of the school district shall have power to exclude children of filthy or vicious habits, or children suffering from contagious or infectious diseases, and also to establish separate schools for Indian children and for children of Chinese or Mongolian descent. When such separate schools are established, Indian, Mongolian or Chinese children must not be admitted into any other school.

Special day and evening classes. Fourth—The governing body of any elementary school district shall have power to establish and maintain, in connection with any school under its jurisdiction, special day and evening classes for the purpose of giving instruction in any of the branches of study mentioned in section one thousand six hundred sixty-five of this code. These classes may be convened at such hours and for such length of time during the school day or evening, and at such period and for such length of time during the school year as may be determined by such governing authority; and the enrollment of and attendance upon such classes shall be kept separately and the units of average daily attendance shall be determined as provided in section one thousand eight hundred fifty-eight of this code and shall be added to the attendance of the elementary school district.

Ages for admission. Fifth—The evening elementary schools and the special day and evening classes of the elementary schools of any school district shall be open for the admission of all children over the age of fifteen years, residing in the district and for the admission of adults; provided, that children under fifteen years of age who have been given permits to work in accordance with the provisions of an act to enforce the educational rights of the children may be admitted to the evening elementary schools. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 667.]

§ 1663. Classification of public schools. 1. The public schools of California, other than those supported exclusively by the state, shall be classed as day and evening elementary, and day and evening secondary schools. The day and evening elementary schools of California shall be designated as primary and grammar schools. The day and evening secondary schools of California shall be designated as high schools and technical schools, and either class may include a portion of the other class [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1315.]

§ 1665. Branches to be taught in grades. Time given. First—Instructions must be given in the following branches in the several grades in which they may be required, viz.: reading, writing, spelling, arithmetic, geography, language and grammar, with special reference to composition, history of the United States with special reference to the history of the constitution of the United States and the history of the reasons for the adoption of each of its provisions, the duties of citizenship, together with instruction in local civil government; elements of physiology and hygiene, with special reference to the injurious effects of tobacco, alcohol and narcotics on the human system; morals and manners. In the first six grades of the elementary schools, at least two-thirds of the pupil's time during each week shall be devoted to study and recitation of the subjects hereinbefore enumerated, and in the seventh and eighth grades at least twelve and one-half hours of the pupil's time each week shall be devoted to the study and recitation of such subjects.

Subjects for remaining time. Manual training, etc. Second—From the time remaining after the study and recitations of the studies hereinbefore enumerated, at least twenty minutes of each school day must be devoted by all pupils over the age of eight years to such physical training as shall be most conducive to their proper physical development, and instruction must be given in nature study with special reference to agriculture and animal and bird life, music, drawing, elementary bookkeeping, humane education. Manual training, household economics, and other vocational subjects may be taught in any elementary school of the state; provided, that in school districts employing six or more elementary school teachers in any one school, whether housed in one or more buildings, manual training and household economics must be taught. The state board of education may, in its discretion, adopt text-books in any of the subjects listed in this subdivision. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 728.]

§ 1670. School year. The school year begins on the first day of July and ends on the last day of June. A school month is construed and taken to be twenty days or four weeks of five days each, including legal holidays. [New section added May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 708.]

§ 1673. Duration of daily sessions. No pupil other than one pursuing a vocational course must be kept in school more than six hours per day; and no pupil under eight years of age must be kept in school more than four hours per day. Any violation of the provisions of this section must be treated in the same manner as a violation of the provisions of the preceding section. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 689.]

§ 1696. Duties of teachers. Every teacher in the public school must:

File certificate. First—Before assuming charge of a school, file his or her certificate with the superintendent of schools; provided, that when any teacher so employed is the holder of a California state normal school diploma, accompanied by the certificate of the state board of education, as provided in subdivision third of section one thousand five hundred three of the Political Code, an educational or a life diploma of California, upon presentation thereof to the superintendent he shall record the name of said holder in a book provided for that purpose in his office, and the holder of said diploma shall thereupon be absolved from the provisions of this subdivision.

Notify superintendent of opening and closing day of school. Second—Before taking charge of a school, and one week before closing a term of school, notify the county superintendent of such fact, naming the day of opening or closing. Boards of education and boards of school trustees must in every case give to the teacher a notice of at least two weeks of their intention to close the term of school under their charge. No superintendent shall draw any requisition for the last month's salary of any teacher until said teacher has filed with him the notice required by this subdivision.

Enforce course of study. Third—Enforce the course of study, the use of the legally authorized text-books, and the rules and regulations prescribed for schools.

Hold pupils to account for conduct. Fourth—Hold pupils to a strict account for their conduct on the way to and from school, on the playgrounds, or during recess; suspend, for good cause, any pupil from the school, and report such suspension to the board of school trustees or city board of education for review. If such action is not sustained by them, the teacher may appeal to the county superintendent whose decision shall be final.

Keep register. Fifth—Keep a state school register, in which shall be left, at the close of the term, a report showing program of recitations, classification and grading of all pupils who have attended school at any time during the school year. The superintendent shall in no case draw a requisition in favor of the teacher until the teacher has filed with him a certificate from the clerk of the board of school trustees to the effect that the provisions of this subdivision have been complied with.

Make annual report. Sixth—Make an annual report to the county superintendent at the time and in the manner and on the blanks prescribed by the superintendent of public instruction. Any teacher who shall end any school term before the close of the school year, shall make a report to the county superintendent immediately after the close of such term; and any teacher who may be teaching any school at the end of the school year shall, in his or her annual report, include all statistics for the entire school year, notwithstanding any previous report for a part of the year. Said teacher shall attach to the annual report a certificate showing the number of children attending said school who reside in other districts within the county, together with the names, residence by district and the average daily attendance of said children. The principal of a school of more than one teacher shall combine the separate certificates from the teachers in the school of which he is principal and shall make a certificate to the county superintendent showing the facts set forth in the separate certificates of the teachers. On receiving the certificates mentioned above from any school district under his jurisdiction, the county superintendent shall deduct the average daily attendance of such children, from the total average daily attendance of the district in which they have attended school, and add it to the total average daily attendance of the district or districts in which said children reside; provided, that whenever the consent of the trustees of the district in which such children reside is obtained, as provided elsewhere in this code, the attendance shall be counted in the district in which the pupils attend school unless there shall be filed with the county superintendent of schools on or before the first day of June of the year in which the attendance is to be counted, a written demand of the trustees of the district in which such children reside for the counting of such attendance in the home district, and then only when such demand is approved by the superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools shall in no case draw a requisition for the salary of any teacher for the last month of the school term, until the report required by this subdivision has been filed, and by him approved.

Make other reports. Seventh—Make such other reports as may be required by the superintendent of public instruction, county superintendent, board of school trustees, or city board of education. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1376.]

§ 1696b. Order for text-books by teacher. Upon closing a term of school, each teacher or principal shall prepare, upon requisition blanks furnished by the superintendent of public instruction, an order for the number of state text-books estimated to be required for use in the school under his charge at the opening of the ensuing term. Such order shall be a part of the annual report required by subdivision six of section one thousand six hundred ninety-six of the Political Code. The superintendent of schools shall in no case draw a requisition for the salary of any teacher for the last month of the school term until the order required by this section has been filed and by him approved. Orders for additional books may be forwarded at any time on the approval of the county superintendent of schools.

In ordering free text-books, any teacher may order one copy of any series of books for use on the teacher's desk, if not supplied with such book, which copy shall be sent by the superintendent of public instruction free of cost with other school books. [New section added May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 707.]

§ 1697. School month defined. [Repealed May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 708.]

§ 1720. Designation of secondary schools. The secondary schools of the state shall be designated as high schools, technical schools, and junior colleges. High schools may be established and high school districts formed and organized in accordance with the provisions of this article. Whenever any high school district is so formed and organized the governing body thereof shall establish and maintain one or more high schools, technical schools, or junior colleges therein. [Amendment approved May 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 463.]

§ 1723. Jurisdiction over high school districts. [Repealed May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 713.]

§ 1728. Formation of joint union high school districts. Whenever a majority of the registered electors, residing in each of two or more contiguous school districts, having in the aggregate at least one hundred pupils in average daily attendance in the elementary schools of such districts, shall unite in a petition to the superintendent of schools of the county who would have jurisdiction over the joint high school district proposed to be formed, which petition shall pray for the formation of a joint union high school district, under a name specified therein, such superintendent shall, within twenty days after receipt of such petition, verify the signatures thereto, and, if he finds it sufficient, the same proceedings shall be had on such petition, as are directed in section one thousand seven hundred twenty-seven, except that the county superintendent of schools shall file his certificate of the result of the election with the county clerk of each county in which any part of the joint union high school district is situated. If it appears from such certificate that a majority of the votes cast at such election were cast in favor of the formation of such district, such joint union high school district shall be deemed to be formed from the time of the filing thereof. The county clerk shall record the certificate in full in his record of high school districts. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 712.]

§ 1743. High school principal may act in elementary school. Annual report of number of pupils, etc. Annual report on text-books, etc. Salary withheld until report filed. Nothing in this article shall be construed so as to prevent the principal of any high school from acting as principal of the elementary school of the school district in which the high school is located, or as supervising principal of one or more elementary school districts included in the high school district, if so desired by the trustees of said school district or districts and the high school board; provided, that no high school principal shall supervise the elementary schools of any district except the district in which the high school building is located without the approval of the county superintendent of schools.

The principal of every high school shall annually, at the close of the term and prior to receiving his last month's salary and as a prerequsite for such salary, make out under oath and deliver to the superintendent of schools of each county in which any part of his high school district is situated, a full and complete report of said high school for the entire term or school year. Such report shall show the total number of pupils enrolled during the year, the average daily attendance, the number of teachers regularly employed, the total number of new pupils enrolled during the year, the names of all pupils residing in elementary school districts not embraced in any high school district, and attending such high school, such names being segregated according to the districts in which such pupils reside, and such other information as may be required by the superintendent of public instruction or the county superintendent of schools.

The said report shall be made upon blanks furnished by said superintendent of public instruction, as other school report blanks are furnished, and in the case of a joint union high school district the statistics of attendance and other data for each county separately shall be given in said report.

The principal of every high school, shall, annually, during the month of October, make out under oath and deliver to the state board of education, and to the county superintendent of schools, a full and complete report of text-books then in use in such high school, the courses of study offered, the requirements for graduation, the names of teachers employed, the subject taught by each teacher, the grade of certificate held by each, and the salary paid to each, and such other information as may be required by the state board of education.

If such report is not filed with the state board of education, on or before October thirty-first, the state board of education shall notify the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction of the high school failing to report, and it shall thereupon be the duty of such county superintendent of schools to withhold the salary of the principal of such high school until he has been notified by the state board of education that such report has been filed as required by this section. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1327.]

§ 1743a. Report of high school principal. Salary withheld if report not filed. [Repealed May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1327.]

§ 1750a. Intermediate school courses. Election. Ballots. Daily attendance. Lapsing of course. Estimated expenses. The high school board of any high school district or the trustees of any county high school, may prescribe intermediate school courses, and admit thereto pupils who have completed the sixth year of the elementary school; provided, that no intermediate school course shall be prescribed in any county, union or joint union high school district, unless a majority of the trustees of the elementary school districts comprising such high school district shall approve the organization of such course in writing, and shall file a statement of such approval with the high school board, or unless, at an election called for that purpose in the same manner as the election for the formation of the high school district, a majority of the qualified electors voting thereat shall vote in favor of such intermediate school course. The ballots used at such election shall contain the words "Intermediate school course—Yes" and "Intermediate school course—No." The result of said election shall be determined and certified to the superintendent of schools as provided in case of the election for the formation of the district. The first two years of such intermediate school course shall include instruction in the school studies generally taught in the seventh and eighth grades of the elementary school, and may include such other studies, including secondary, vocational and industrial subjects, as said high school board may prescribe. The average daily attendance of all pupils from each district, enrolled in the first two years of such intermediate school course, shall be kept separate and shall be credited to the common school district in which the various pupils reside; provided, that when any intermediate school course is first established under the provisions of this section, the course of study therefor shall be adopted between the first day of July and the date of the opening of school for the current school year.

Whenever the average daily attendance of pupils enrolled in the first two years of the intermediate school course of a district is less than twenty-five for any school year, such intermediate school course shall be deemed to have lapsed.

The high school board of any high school district maintaining an intermediate school course, may include in the annual estimate of expenses of such high school district filed with the county superintendent of schools in accordance with the provisions of this code, the estimated expenses for maintaining such intermediate school course. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1328.]

§ 1750b. Junior college courses. Regulations. Requirements for graduation. Courses of study. Attendance included in average daily attendance of district. Included in estimate for apportioning fund. Approval of courses by state board of education. The high school board of any high school district having an assessed valuation of three million dollars or more, may prescribe junior college courses of study, including not more than two years of work, and admit thereto the graduates of such high school, the graduates of other high schools and such other candidates for admission who are at least twenty-one years of age, and are recommended for admission by the principal of the high school maintaining such junior college courses. Junior college courses of study may include such studies as are required for the junior certificate at the University of California, and such other courses of training in the mechanical and industrial arts, household economy, agriculture, civic education and commerce as the high school board may deem it advisable to establish.

The high school board shall adopt regulations governing the organization of such courses of study and shall prescribe requirements for graduation from such courses; provided, that the minimum requirement for graduation from junior college courses of study shall be at least sixty credit-hours of work. A credit-hour is hereby defined as approximately three hours of recitation, study and laboratory work per week carried through one-half year.

Courses of study organized under the provisions of this section may be offered in any or all day and evening high schools of the district, or in a separate junior college, as the high school board may determine.

The attendance of students enrolled in junior college courses of study shall be kept according to regulations prescribed by the state board of education, and the average daily attendance of such students shall be included in the annual report of the average daily attendance of the high school district required in section one thousand seven hundred forty-three of the Political Code. The superintendent of schools of each county, in making the annual estimate of county high school fund required, shall include in the basis of such estimate the average daily attendance of all students enrolled in junior college courses during the preceding school year. In apportioning the county high school fund, the superintendent of schools of the county shall count the average daily attendance of all students enrolled in junior college courses as a part of the average daily attendance of each high school district in which such students are enrolled.

The state controller, in making the annual estimate of the amount necessary for the support of high schools, as required in section one thousand seven hundred sixty of the Political Code, shall include in the basis of his estimate, the average daily attendance of all students enrolled in junior college courses, and the superintendent of public instruction, in apportioning the state high school fund, shall count the average daily attendance of students enrolled in junior college courses as a part of the average daily attendance of each high school district in which such students are enrolled.

All courses of study prescribed in accordance with this section shall be subject to approval by the state board of education, and no state high school funds shall be apportioned to any high school district on account of the attendance of students enrolled in junior college courses, unless such courses have been approved by the state board of education. [New section added May 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 464.]

§ 1750c. Special day and evening classes. Vocational courses. Transportation for teachers of agriculture. The high school board of any high school district subject to the provisions of section one thousand seven hundred fifty of this code, shall have power to establish and maintain, in connection with any day high school under its jurisdiction, special day and evening classes for the purpose of giving instruction in any of the branches of study that may be taught in a high school. These classes may be convened at such hours and for such length of time during the school day or evening, and at such period and for such length of time during the school year as may be determined by said governing authority; and the enrollment of and attendance upon such classes shall be kept separately and the units of average daily attendance shall be determined as provided in section one thousand eight hundred fifty-eight of this code, and shall be added to the high school attendance of the district.

The high school board of any high school district subject to the provisions of section one thousand seven hundred fifty of this code shall have power to establish and maintain, in connection with any high school under its jurisdiction, part-time vocational courses in agricultural, commercial, industrial, trade or other vocational subjects. The enrollment of and attendance upon such courses shall be kept separately and the units of average daily attendance, determined as provided in section one thousand eight hundred fifty-eight of this code, shall be added to the high school attendance of the district; provided, that each pupil of a class pursuing such a part-time course in agriculture shall devote, under the direct supervision of a teacher holding a special certificate in agriculture or a vocational certificate in agriculture, at least three hours daily or an equivalent amount of time to farm mechanics and to farm project work conducted by him on a commercially productive basis, and at least three hours daily or an equivalent amount of time to academic work in school or in class, a part of which shall supplement the practical work; and provided, further, that each pupil of a class pursuing a part-time course in commerce, industry, trade, or other vocational subject shall devote, under the direct supervision of a competent teacher holding a vocational certificate in the special subject, at least three hours daily or an equivalent amount of time to educative practical work under employment and at least three hours daily or an equivalent amount of time in school or class to academic work, a part of which shall supplement the practical work. The high school board of any high school district maintaining a part-time agricultural course as provided above may, at its option and in such manner as it may deem advisable, furnish the necessary transportation for teachers of agriculture engaged in supervising the project work of the pupils and may pay any expense so incurred from the county or district high school funds of the district. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1382.]

§ 1771. Powers of county boards of education. County boards of education have power:

1. Rules and regulations. To adopt rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the laws of this state, for their own government.

2. Examination of applicants for certificate. To prescribe and enforce rules for the examination of teachers, to examine applicants for elementary school certificates and to establish a standard of proficiency which will entitle the person examined to a certificate.

3. Grant certificates. To grant, in accordance with sections one thousand seven hundred seventy-two and one thousand seven hundred seventy-five of this code, the following certificates, renewable at the option of the board:

(a) Secondary school. Secondary school certificates, authorizing the holders to teach in any secondary or elementary school in the county.

(b) Elementary school. Elementary school certificates authorizing the holders to teach in any elementary school of the county, and in the first two years of any intermediate school course established as provided in section one thousand seven hundred fifty a of the Political Code; provided, that holders of elementary school certificates who have completed two years of work in a college, or one year of work in a college in addition to a normal school course, under regulations prescribed by the state board of education, may teach in the third year of any intermediate school course.

(c) Kindergarten-primary. Kindergarten-primary certificates, authorizing the holders to teach in any kindergarten class in the county.

(d) Special certificate. Special certificates, authorizing the holders to teach in the schools of the county such branch or branches of learning and in such grades as are named in such certificates. No special certificate shall be granted except for the oral teaching of the deaf or for the teaching of atypical children or for the teaching of special classes in citizenship, or for teaching a subject included under the manual and fine arts, oral and dramatic expression, library craft, technique and use, music, physical education, agriculture, commercial branches, commercial Spanish, vocational guidance and technical, household and industrial arts, and other vocational arts, not herein specified.

4. Grant permanent certificates. To grant, in accordance with the provisions of this code, permanent certificates of the grade and kind designated therein. Every certificate except a permanent certificate shall be valid for six years; provided, that when any certificate shall be granted on a recommendation or credential given for a limited period only, such certificate shall not be valid for a longer period than that specified in such recommendation or credential; and provided, further, that any certificate granted to a candidate who has not had at least one year of experience in teaching shall not be valid for a longer period than two years. All certificates must be issued upon blank forms prepared by the superintendent of public instruction, and must have the impress of the seal of the county board of education and be signed by a majority of the members of the county board of education issuing such certificate; and it is further provided, that the holder of any certificate issued for a limited period as hereinabove provided, may, upon application to the county board of education issuing the same, have said certificate renewed for a period of six years from the date of its expiration, provided that the holder of such limited certificate has completed one year of successful public school teaching and shall file application for such renewal with the county board of education prior to the date of expiration of such limited certificate.

5. Adopt list of books. To adopt a list of books and apparatus for district school libraries and books for supplementary use in elementary schools in their respective counties and cities and counties, as required by section one thousand seven hundred twelve of the Political Code; provided, that no pupil shall be required to purchase said supplementary books, and pupils must be expressly notified by teachers that it is not required or desirable that such books for supplementary use be purchased by pupils or parents. When supplementary books are purchased, they must be paid for by the school district. Except in cities having a city board of education, to prescribe and enforce in the public schools a course of study and the use of a uniform series of text-books.

6. Revoke or suspend certificates. To revoke or suspend, for immoral or unprofessional conduct, evident unfitness for teaching, or persistent defiance of, and refusal to obey the laws regulating the duties of teachers, the certificates granted by them. But no certificate shall be revoked or suspended until after a hearing before the county board of education, and then only upon the affirmative vote of at least four members of the board. All charges of immoral or unprofessional conduct, of evident unfitness for teaching, or persistent defiance of, and refusal to obey the laws regulating the duties of teachers, shall be presented to the board in writing and shall be verified under oath. Notice of the time of hearing and a full and complete copy of the charges shall be furnished to the accused at least ten days before the hearing. The accused shall be given a fair and impartial hearing and shall have the right to be represented by counsel. The hearing shall be governed by, and conducted under, the rules of the board.

7. Record of proceedings. To keep a record of their proceedings.

8. Issue diplomas. To provide for the conferring of diplomas of graduation, by examination by the county board of education, and to issue such diplomas of graduation from the elementary schools of the county except city schools governed by city boards of education; provided, that nothing herein shall be construed as prohibiting the county board of education from issuing diplomas of graduation without examination to the pupils in any school which has been accredited by the said county board of education. Such diplomas shall be conferred only upon such pupils as have completed the course of study prescribed by the board. All diplomas granted by the county board of education shall be on blanks furnished by the superintendent of public instruction and shall be signed by the president and secretary of the board.

9. Seal. To adopt and use in authentication of their acts, an official seal, and to have such printing done as may be necessary.

10. Prescribe course of study. To prescribe and it shall be their duty to prescribe, on or before the first day of July of each year, the course of study in and for each grade of the elementary schools of the county for the ensuing school year; provided, that such course of study shall not apply to elementary schools in cities governed by city boards of education. Whenever necessary the board may amend and change the course of study, subject to sections one thousand six hundred sixty-five of this code. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1315.]

§ 1775. Certificates without examination. 1. County boards of education may, without examination grant certificates as follows:

(a) High school. High school certificates: (1) To the holders of high school credentials approved by the state board of education in accordance with the provisions of this code; (2) to the holders of special credentials issued by said state board in accordance with the provisions of this code; (3) to holders of high school certificates issued by any county or city and county board of education in this state.

(b) Elementary school. Elementary school certificates: To holders of the following credentials: (1) Life diplomas or certificates of any state; provided, the state board of education in this state shall have decided that said diplomas or certificates represent experience and scholarship equivalent to the requirements for the elementary life diploma in California; (2) California state normal school diplomas, San Francisco city normal school diplomas heretofore granted, and other normal school diplomas; provided, that the state board of education of this state shall have recommended the normal school issuing said diploma as being of equal rank with the state normal schools of California; (3) elementary school teachers' certificates of any county, or city and county of California; provided, that the holder thereof has had eight months of successful teaching experience; (4) diplomas of graduation with the bachelor's degree based upon a four-year course, granted by the University of California or any other university accredited by the state board of education for high school certification; provided, that the holder thereof has successfully completed ten months of experience in teaching, or twelve units of pedagogy according to regulations prescribed by the state board of education; (5) temporary two-year certificates heretofore granted by county, or city and county superintendents of schools in accordance with law.

(c) Kindergarten-primary. Kindergarten-primary certificates: (1) to the holders of kindergarten-primary certificates of any county, or city and county of California; (2) to the holders of diplomas of graduation from the kindergarten department of any state normal school in the state; (3) to the holders of credentials showing that the applicant has had professional kindergarten training in an institution approved by the state board of education, and also a general education equivalent to the requirements for graduation from the kindergarten department of a California state normal school.

(d) Special. Special certificates: (1) To the holders of credentials approved by the state board of education, in accordance with the provisions of this code; (2) to the holders of special credentials issued by the state board of education, in accordance with the provisions of this code.

2. Elementary certificates to primary grade certificate holders. Elementary school certificates may be granted to the holders of primary grade certificates who shall pass satisfactory examinations in such branches as do not appear on their certificates, or in the record of the examination upon which the original certificate was granted.

3. Certificates now valid continue in force. All certificates and diplomas now valid in California shall continue in force and effect for the full term for which they were granted. County boards of education may renew any certificate issued by them prior to the adoption of this law, and now in force, and may renew certificates granted by authority of law. Except as otherwise provided, renewed certificates shall be valid for a period of six years.

4. Permanent certificate after five years' teaching. When the holder of any certificate or state diploma shall have taught successfully in the same county, or city and county, for five years, the board of education of such county, or city and county, may grant a permanent certificate of the kind and grade which said applicant holds, valid in the county, or city and county, in which issued, during the life of the holder, or until revoked for any of the causes designated in subdivision six of section one thousand seven hundred seventy-one of this code; provided, that such permanent certificate shall in no case be of a higher grade than the grade of the certificate or state diploma on which the teaching has been done; and for a permanent high school certificate twenty months of said teaching shall have consisted of regular high school work; and provided, further, that a certificate when renewed the second time, or any time thereafter, shall become, by such renewal, a permanent certificate, if the holder of said certificate shall have complied with all the conditions of this subdivision.

5. Holders of existing certificates. No teacher shall be employed to teach in any way in any school if the certificate held by the teacher is of a grade below that of the school or class to be taught, nor shall a teacher holding a special certificate be employed to teach any subject not authorized in such certificate; provided, that the holders of existing primary certificates, or of the same when hereafter renewed or made permanent shall be eligible to teach in any of the grades of the day or evening elementary schools below the sixth year, and not including the kindergarten grades; and in any day or evening elementary school of the county, or city and county, which the county or city and county superintendent shall designate as a primary school; and provided, further, that the holder of any valid special certificate for kindergarten work, or of any kindergarten-primary certificate, who has had at least one year of training in a state normal school in California, or other normal school accredited by the state board of education, or one year of teaching in an elementary school shall be entitled to teach in the first grade of the elementary school.

6. High school librarian. No librarian shall be employed for more than two hours a day in any high school, unless such librarian holds a high school certificate or a special teachers' certificate in library craft technique and use, of secondary grade, granted in accordance with the provisions of this code. Such librarians shall rank as teachers, and shall be subject to the burdens and entitled to the benfits of the public school teachers retirement salary fund law on the same basis as other teachers. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1317.]

§ 1838. Estimate of amount needed for building purposes. Levy of tax. Building fund. Maximum rate. The board of school trustees or the board of education of any school district or of any city, or city and county, may, at least fifteen days before the first day of the month in which the board of supervisors is required by law to levy the taxes required for county purposes, submit to the county superintendent of schools an estimate of any amount of money in excess of the amounts on hand and available for building purposes, which will be required for purchasing school lots, for building or purchasing one or more school buildings or making alterations or additions to any school building or buildings, for repairing, restoring or rebuilding any school building damaged, injured, or destroyed by fire, or other public calamity, for insuring school buildings, for supplying school buildings with furniture or necessary apparatus or for improving school grounds, in their several districts for the ensuing school year, or for liquidating any indebtedness incurred for said purposes or any of them during the preceding school year.

The county superintendent of schools shall thereupon examine said estimates, and submit copies of the same with his approval or disapproval endorsed thereon, to the board of supervisors and to the county auditor at the time he submits to them his estimate for the county school tax for the ensuing school year. If the county superintendent of schools approve such estimate, the said board of supervisors may, at the time and in the manner of levying other taxes, levy and cause to be collected in the several school districts for which estimates have been submitted and approved as herein provided, the excess amounts so submitted and approved. The funds so levied and collected shall be known as the building fund of —— school district (as the case may be), and shall be available for any or all of the purposes hereinbefore enumerated, and the moneys drawn from such fund shall be paid out in the same manner as are moneys from the building funds of school districts; provided, that the maximum rate of taxation which may be levied under this section shall not exceed fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars; provided, this section shall not be so construed as to repeal sections one thousand eight hundred thirty and one thousand eight hundred thirty-seven, inclusive, and one thousand eight hundred forty of the Political Code, or any part or parts thereof and any tax levied under the provisions of this section shall be in addition to any tax for maintenance levied under the provisions of section one thousand eight hundred forty of the Political Code. [New section added June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1560.]

§ 1858. Apportionment of school moneys for elementary grades. The school superintendent of every county and city and county must apportion all state and county school moneys for the elementary grades of his county or city and county as follows:

Ascertaining number of teachers for school districts. First—He must ascertain the number of teachers each school district is entitled to by calculating one teacher for every district having thirty-five or a less number of units of average daily attendance and one additional teacher for each additional thirty-five units of average daily attendance, or fraction of thirty-five not less than ten units of average daily attendance as shown by the annual school report of the school district for the next preceding school year; and two additional teachers shall be allowed to each district for every seven hundred units of average daily attendance; and in districts wherein separate classes are established for the instruction of the deaf, as provided in section one thousand six hundred eight-teen of this code, an additional teacher for each nine deaf children, or fraction of such number, not less than five, actually attending such classes.

Ascertaining number of teachers for cities or cities and counties. Second—He must ascertain the total number of teachers for the county or city and county by adding together the number of teachers allowed to the several districts. He must make an annual report of the schools of his county or city and county under oath to the superintendent of public instruction not later than August first of each year, and must report the number of teachers ascertained and allowed to his county or city and county by the rule or provisions of subdivision one hereof.

Allowance for each teacher. Third—Five hundred fifty dollars shall be apportioned to every school district for every teacher so allowed to it; provided, that to districts having over thirty-five or a multiple of thirty-five units of average daily attendance and a fraction of less than ten units of average daily attendance, forty dollars shall be apportioned for each unit of average daily attendance in said fraction.

Remainder apportioned by daily attendance. Fourth—All school moneys remaining on hand, after apportioning to the school districts the moneys provided for in subdivision three of this section, must be apportioned to the several districts in proportion to the average daily attendance in each district during the next preceding school year. In any newly organized school district where school was not maintained during the school year in which it was organized the county superintendent shall apportion seven hundred dollars to the newly organized school district for the purpose of maintaining school therein during the school year next succeeding the school year in which it was organized.

Minimum full day's attendance. Fifth—A minimum full day's attendance on the regular full-time elementary day school as hereby established, is, for a pupil of the first, second, or third grade, two hundred minutes, and for a pupil of the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, or eighth grade, two hundred forty minutes, of actual attendance for any given day upon school sessions, exclusive of intermissions. When a pupil is absent from the first, second, or third grade of a regular full-time day school, for any day, session, or part of a session, five per cent of a day's absence must be recorded for each full ten-minute period of absence; and when a pupil is absent from any other grade of said elementary school for any day, session or part of a session, five per cent of a day's absence must be recorded for each full twelve-minute period of absence; provided, however, that such record may not for any one day exceed one hundred per cent. The actual attendance of a pupil upon a regular full-time day school for any given length of time shall be the number of days school was actually taught during such time less the sum of his absences. The actual time in minutes that pupils are in attendance upon evening schools and the special day and special evening classes of day schools of elementary and secondary grade shall be kept. A full day's attendance upon such schools or classes shall be four sixty-minute hours. Units of average daily attendance in elementary schools shall be construed to be the quotient arising from dividing the total number of days of pupils' attendance in the regular full-time day and evening elementary schools including the special day and evening classes of the elementary schools of the district for the school year by the number of days school was actually taught in the regular elementary day schools of the district during said year; and units of average daily attendance in secondary schools shall be construed to be the quotient arising from dividing the total number of days of pupils' attendance in the regular full-time secondary schools, the evening secondary schools, the special day and evening classes of secondary schools, and the part-time vocational courses of the district for the school year by the number of days school was actually taught in the regular secondary day schools of the district during said year.

Uniform regulations governing keeping attendance. Sixth—Subject to the provisions of this code, the state board of education shall adopt uniform regulations governing the keeping of attendance in all secondary schools. In adopting regulations governing the keeping of the attendance of pupils upon the part-time vocational courses provided for in section one thousand seven hundred fifty c of this code, the state board may, in its discretion, provide that the time spent by a pupil in practical vocational work shall be counted in making up each six-hour minimum daily unit of attendance.

When school closed because of contagious disease, etc. Seventh—Where a school in a district maintaining more than one school is closed for a part of a term by order of a city or county board of health or of the state board of health, on account of contagious disease, or where such school has been closed on account of fire, flood or other public disaster, the average daily attendance of said school shall be estimated separately and added to the average daily attendance of the other schools of the district. The units of average daily attendance of said school shall be determined by dividing the total number of days of pupils' attendance upon such school including the special day and evening classes and the part-time vocational courses by the number of full-day sessions actually maintained in such school during the year; provided, that where such number is less than one hundred twenty days the divisor shall be one hundred twenty.

When districts do not have sufficient funds. Eighth.—Whenever in any school year, prior to the receipt by the school districts of any county, or city and county of this state, of their state, county, or city and county, or special or high school fund, the school districts of that county, or city and county shall not have sufficient money to their credit to pay the lawful demands against them, the county or city and county superintendent shall give the treasurer of said county or city and county, an estimate of the amount of school money that will next be paid into the county or city and county treasury, stating the amount to be apportioned to each district. Upon the receipt of such estimate it shall be the duty of the treasurer of said county, or city and county, to transfer from any fund not immediately needed to pay the claims against it, to the proper school fund an amount not to exceed ninety per cent of the amount estimated by the superintendent, and he shall immediately notify the superintendent of the amount so transferred. The funds so transferred to the school fund shall be retransferred by the treasurer to the fund from which they were taken, from the first money paid into the school fund after the transfer. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1385.]

§ 1891. School districts in different counties. When any school district is situated partly in two or more counties, all returns, reports, certificates, estimates, petitions and other papers of any kind required to be filed with or presented to the board of supervisors by any provision of this code relating to schools and school districts shall be filed with or presented to the supervisors of every county in which any portion of said district may be situated, and all action required to be taken by the board of supervisors regarding any such matters shall be taken by the concurrent action of the respective boards of supervisors of every county in which any portion of said district may be situated. The assessor of each of such counties shall annually certify to the board of supervisors of each of the counties in which any portion of such school district is situated the assessed value of all taxable property in such county situated in such school district as appears from the last assessment roll of his county, such certificate to be made in the same manner and at the same time as is required for school districts located wholly within the boundaries of one county. The board of supervisors of each county shall thereupon determine the rate of taxation necessary to be levied upon the property in said district situated in the county, such rate to be sufficient to meet the proportion of taxes necessary to be raised in the county for the purpose of paying the principal and interest of the bonds of the district and all other expenses of the district as shown by the estimate of the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over such district. Such taxes shall be assessed, levied and collected in the same manner and at the same time as county taxes are assessed, levied and collected, and the moneys so received shall, on demand of the board of trustees of any such school district, be deposited in the county treasury of the county whose superintendent of schools has jurisdiction over such school district, and said county treasury is hereby declared to be the legal depositary of such school district. The moneys so deposited shall be placed in the school fund of such school district to be expended in the same manner as moneys of other school districts are expended. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 711.]

§ 1918. Articles of war of United States army adopted. The articles of war governing the United States army so far as such articles are not inconsistent with the rights reserved to the state of California and guaranteed under the constitution of the state of California, are hereby adopted for the government of the national guard of this state. No punishment under such articles of war which shall extend to the taking of life shall in any case be inflicted except in time of actual war, invasion, or insurrection, declared by proclamation of the governor to exist and then only after the approval by the governor of such punishment.

Imprisonment other than in the guardhouse shall be executed in jails or in prisons designated by the governor for that purpose. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 303.]

§ 1919. Application of United States laws, rules and regulations. All acts of congress and all rules and regulations for the government of the United States army so far as the same are not inconsistent with the rights reserved to the state of California and guaranteed under the constitution of the state of California, constitute the rules and regulations for the government of the national guard. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 303.]

§ 1924. Bond of adjutant-general. The adjutant-general must execute an official bond in the sum of ten thousand dollars, and the assistant adjutant-general must execute an official bond in the sum of two thousand dollars. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 303.]

§ 1925. Staff departments of national guard. Duty of commander-in-chief concerning organization. The national guard of California shall consist of the following staff departments, to wit: An adjutant-general's department, an inspector-general's department, a judge advocate-general's department, a quartermaster corps, a medical department, a corps of engineers, an ordnance department, a signal corps, an aviation corps, and such other staff departments as may be prescribed and authorized by the national defense act of June 3, 1916, and the various amendments thereto; it shall also consist of the commissioned officers who shall hereafter be placed in the national guard reserve; it shall also consist of all organizations now forming the national guard of this state under the terms of the said national defense act of June 3, 1916, and the amendments thereto; and shall include the naval militia of this state; it shall also consist of such other organizations as may be required by the national defense act of June 3, 1916, and the amendments thereto. The commander-in-chief shall have the power, and it shall be his duty to change the organization of the national guard of this state so as to conform to any organization, system of drill or instruction now or hereafter prescribed by the laws and regulations of the United States for the organization and government of the national guard, and for that purpose the number of officers and noncommissioned officers of any grade may be increased or diminished or the grades may be altered or created whenever necessary to procure such uniformity. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 303.]

Another section 1925 was adopted at the same session of the legislature, as follows:

§ 1925. National guard organization under national defense act of June 3, 1916. The national guard of California shall consist of the following staff departments, to wit: An adjutant-general's department, an inspector-general's department, a judge advocate-general's department, a quartermaster corps, a medical department, a corps of engineers, an ordnance department, a signal corps, an aviation corps, and such other staff departments as may be prescribed and authorized by the national defense act of June 3, 1916, and the various amendments thereto; it shall also consist of the commissioned officers who shall hereafter be placed in the national guard reserve; it shall also consist of all organizations now forming the national guard of this state under the terms of the said national defense act of June 3, 1916, and the amendments thereto; and shall include the naval militia of this state; it shall also consist of such other organizations as are now formed under or as may be required by the national defense act of June 3, 1916, and the amendments thereto. The commander-in-chief shall have the power, and it shall be his duty to change the organization of the national guard of this state so as to conform to any organization, system of drill or instruction now or hereafter prescribed by the laws and regulations of the United States for the organization and government of the national guard, and for that purpose the number of officers and noncommissioned officers of any grade may be increased or diminished or the grades may be altered or created whenever necessary to procure such uniformity. [Amendment approved March 2, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 10.]

§ 2. Urgency measure. Inasmuch as the present unsettled and threatening condition of international relations makes it essential that the state shall have at its disposal at the earliest possible moment every military organization within its borders, the amendments to section one thousand nine hundred twenty-five of the Political Code hereby made are declared to be necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace and safety and this act is declared to be an urgency measure within the meaning of section one of article four of the constitution.

Another section 1925 was adopted at the same session of the legislature. See prior section.

§ 1926. Rules and regulations not inconsistent with those of United States. The commander-in-chief shall make such rules and regulations for the government, administration and control of the departments, corps and organizations of the national guard not inconsistent with the laws, regulations and customs of the service of the United States army or navy, and the laws of this state, as he may deem necessary to render the departments, corps and organizations efficient. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 304.]

§ 1927. Adjutant-general's department. Appointment. Qualifications. Clerical force. The adjutant-general's department shall consist of one brigadier-general, and one lieutenant-colonel, both of whom shall be either commissioned in the adjutant-general's department or detailed from officers of other arms of the service or in the national guard reserve and such other officers as may be prescribed by the national defense act of June 3, 1916, and the various amendments thereto. The brigadier-general shall be chief of the department and his designation shall be the adjutant-general, state of California; the lieutenant-colonel shall be designated the assistant adjutant-general, state of California. The adjutant-general will be appointed by and hold office at the pleasure of the governor or until his successor is appointed and qualifies. The assistant adjutant-general will be appointed by the governor, taking into consideration the recommendation of the adjutant-general, and shall hold office at the pleasure of the governor, or until his successor is appointed and qualifies; provided, that the qualifications for the appointment to the grades of brigadier-general and lieutenant-colonel in the adjutant-general's department shall be the same as prescribed in section one thousand nine hundred thirty-four of this code for a general officer. The officer appointed the assistant adjutant-general shall be on duty in the adjutant-general's office. All officers in the adjutant-general's department shall be appointed by the governor, taking into consideration the recommendation of the adjutant-general, and, with the exception of the adjutant-general and the assistant adjutant-general, shall hold their positions until they shall have reached the age of sixty-four years, unless retired prior to that time by reason of resignation, disability, or for cause to be determined by a court-martial legally convened for that purpose; provided, that the officers of the adjutant-general's department that are to be assigned to brigades shall be appointed as provided for other staff officers in section one thousand nine hundred fifty-seven of this code. All officers appointed to the grade of major in the adjutant-general's department shall have served not less than two years as commissioned officers in the national guard of California. There shall be employed in the adjutant-general's office the following clerical force: one chief clerk; three clerks; and one stenographer and clerk. There shall also be employed in the adjutant-general's office one military storekeeper, and one assistant military storekeeper and porter. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 304.]

§ 1928a. Inspector-general's department. The inspector-general's department shall consist of such officers of the grades and numbers as may be prescribed by the commander-in-chief and the same shall be of the grades and numbers as are authorized and prescribed by the laws and regulations of the war department for the corresponding department of the United States army and as are authorized and prescribed by said laws and regulations of the war department for the national guard. The duties of the officers of the inspector-general's department shall be such as prescribed by the commander-in-chief and shall conform to the duties prescribed by orders and regulations of the war department for like officers of the United States army. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 305.]

§ 1928b. Judge advocate-general's department. The judge advocate-general's department shall consist of such officers of the grades and numbers as may be prescribed by the commander-in-chief and the same shall be of the grades and number as are authorized and prescribed by the laws and regulations of the war department for the corresponding department of the United States army, and as are authorized and prescribed by said laws and regulations of the war department for the national guard. The duties of the officers of the judge advocate-general's department shall be as are prescribed by the commander-in-chief, and shall conform to the duties prescribed by the orders and regulations of the war department for like officers of the United States army. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 305.]

§ 1928d. Quartermaster corps. The quartermaster corps shall consist of a quartermaster-general (who shall be adjutant-general), and of such officers, enlisted men and civilian employees as are deemed necessary by the commander-in-chief in organizing said corps under the provisions of section one thousand nine hundred twenty-five of this title, and such officers and enlisted men shall have the same titles as those of corresponding grade in the United States army, and shall be of the same grades and numbers as are authorized or prescribed by the laws and regulations of the United States for the corresponding corps of the United States army, or as authorized or prescribed by the said laws and regulations of the war department for the national guard. The enlistments in the quartermaster corps and the appointments of noncommissioned officers and the employment of civilian employees therein shall be as prescribed by the commander-in-chief. The duties of the officers, the enlisted men and civilian employees of the quartermaster corps shall be such as prescribed by the commander-in-chief and shall conform to the duties prescribed by orders and regulations of the war department for a like corps of the United States army. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 305.]

§ 1929. Medical department. The medical department of the national guard of California shall consist of a medical corps, dental corps, a hospital corps, the medical department of the naval militia, and of such officers and enlisted men as are deemed necessary by the commander-in-chief in organizing said department under the provisions of section one thousand nine hundred twenty-five of this title, and such officers and enlisted men shall have the same title as those of corresponding grades of the United States army or United States navy, and shall be of the same grades and numbers, as are authorized or prescribed by the laws and regulations of the United States for the medical department of the United States army or navy, or as authorized and prescribed by the said laws or regulations of the war or navy departments for the national guard or naval militia. The duties of the officers and enlisted men of the medical department shall be such as prescribed by the commander-in-chief and shall conform to the duties prescribed by orders or regulations of the war or navy departments for a like department of the United States army or navy. When deemed necessary by the commander-in-chief a medical reserve corps, or female nurse corps, or both, may be provided. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 306.]

§ 1930. Corps of engineers. The corps of engineers shall consist of such officers and enlisted men of the grades and numbers as may be prescribed by the commander-in-chief, and the same shall be of the grades and numbers as are authorized and prescribed by the laws and regulations of the war department for the corresponding corps of the United States army, and as are authorized and prescribed by the said laws and regulations of the war department for the national guard. The duties of officers and enlisted men of the corps of engineers shall be such as prescribed by the commander-in-chief and shall conform to the duties prescribed by the orders and regulations of the war department for like officers and enlisted men of the United States army. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 306.]

§ 1931. Signal corps. The signal corps shall consist of such officers and enlisted men of the grades and numbers as may be prescribed by the commander-in-chief, and the same shall be of the grades and numbers as are authorized and prescribed by the laws and regulations of the war department for the corresponding corps of the United States army, and as are authorized and prescribed by said laws and regulations of the war department for the national guard. The duties of the officers and enlisted men of the signal corps shall be as prescribed by the commander-in-chief and shall conform to the duties prescribed by the orders and regulations of the war department for like officers and enlisted men of the United States army. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 306.]

§ 1932. Coast artillery. The coast artillery shall be organized as a corps and shall consist of such number of companies as may be authorized. The number and qualifications of the officers and enlisted men belonging to such coast artillery corps shall conform to the tables of organizations for such corps prescribed by the rules and regulations of the United States army. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 307.]

§ 1932½. Field artillery. The field artillery shall be organized into batteries, battalions, separate battalions, and regiments, conforming to similar organizations of the United States army as to numbers, ranks and grades of commander, officers, staffs, enlisted men and equipment; provided, that the commander of a separate battalion shall have on his staff one veterinarian, who when in active service shall draw the same pay as a veterinarian of the United States army. He shall be appointed as staff officers are appointed. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 307.]

§ 1933. Cavalry. The cavalry shall consist of such number of troops as the commander-in-chief shall designate. The troops of cavalry shall be organized into regiments, or squadrons, at the discretion of the commander-in-chief. Such number of officers and enlisted men of the ranks and grades that obtain in the United States army for similar organizations, shall constitute the organizations of the cavalry of the national guard; provided, however, that for a separate squadron of cavalry the commander-in-chief shall appoint one veterinarian who shall be on the staff of the squadron commander, and who, when in active service, shall receive the same pay as a veterinarian in the United States army. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 307.]

§ 1934. Infantry. The organization of infantry of the national guard shall conform in numbers and grades, of commander, staffs, officers and enlisted men, to similar organizations of the United States army. The infantry shall be organized into brigades, regiments, battalions, separate battalions, companies, separate companies, and detachments, conforming as to officers, staff, personnel and equipment to like organizations of the United States army. The minimum strength of an infantry company of the national guard in time of peace shall be such officers and enlisted men of such numbers and grades as are deemed necessary by the commander-in-chief, and in conformance with the laws and regulations of the United States for similar companies of the United States army, or to the said laws and regulations of the war department for the national guard. No person shall be commissioned as a general officer in the national guard of this state unless he shall have attained to the grade of field officer and shall have had four years previous experience either as a commissioned officer in command, or in service with, troops of the line of this state or of another state, or territory, or District of Columbia, or of the United States army or marine corps, or in any or all of said services combined. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 307.]

§ 1951. Commissions. All officers shall be commissioned by the commander-in-chief, but he may refuse to issue a commission to any person if the person be in any way unqualified or unworthy to be an officer in the national guard; but no one shall be commissioned unless the conditions set forth in sections one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and one thousand nine hundred fifty-four of this chapter, have been complied with, and no one shall be recognized as an officer unless he shall have been duly commissioned, and shall have taken the oath of office, and filed the bond in the manner and as required in this title. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 308.]

§ 1953. Qualifications for commissioned officers. Commissioned officers must be citizens of the United States, of the age of twenty-one years and upward. No person who has been in the military or naval service of the United States, of this state, or of any other state in the United States, and who has not been honorably discharged therefrom, shall be commissioned in the national guard of California. No person shall be commissioned unless he shall possess the additional requirements herein prescribed for the particular office to which he is to be commissioned and in addition thereto must successfully pass such examination as may be required by the war department. All medical officers shall be regularly graduated, licensed, and practicing physicians or surgeons, licensed to practice their profession in California, or shall have been surgeons in the United States army or navy. All judge advocates of the national guard of California shall be members of the bar of the supreme court of the state of California. All engineer officers, except engineer officers of the naval militia of California, must be qualified to design, as well as to direct, engineering works. All chaplains shall be regularly ordained priests or ministers of the gospel of some denomination. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 308.]

§ 1954. Physical examination. Before receiving a commission, or before being commissioned to a higher grade as a result of promotion, every officer of the national guard must have passed a satisfactory physical examination before a medical officer of the national guard, and a satisfactory examination before a board of commissioned officers as to his knowledge of military affairs and general knowledge and fitness for the service, and anyone failing to pass such examination shall not be eligible for an office in the national guard or for promotion for a period of one year after date of such failure; provided, that officers on the staff of the commander-in-chief are exempt from examination. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 308.]

§ 1955. Boards of examination. Boards of examination under the preceding section shall consist of three officers. Such boards shall have the same power to take evidence, administer oath, and compel witnesses to attend and testify, produce books and papers, and punish their failure to do so, as is possessed by a general court-martial. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 309.]

§ 1956. Officers now serving. All officers now serving in the active national guard of this state, or who may hereafter be commissioned therein, shall hold their positions until they shall have reached the age of sixty-four years, unless retired prior to that time by reason of resignation, disability, or for cause to be determined by a court-martial legally convened for that purpose; provided, that all officers commissioned in the national guard of this state shall have had military experience prior to such commission, excepting officers of the judge advocate-general's department, medical department and officers of engineers, who shall not be required to have had such prior service. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 309.]

§ 1957. Vacancies. When a vacancy occurs among the general officers of the line of the national guard, the governor shall propose to the war department, upon the recommendation of the adjutant-general, the name of an officer to fill the vacancy. The officer so recommended will be required to take such examination as may be prescribed by the war department. When notified by the war department that the officer has successfully passed such examination, the governor shall commission him. The officers on the staff of a brigade, regiment, unit of coast artillery corresponding to a regiment of infantry, battalion or squadron, shall be recommended to the adjutant-general by the brigade, regimental, battalion or squadron commander, or commanding officer of unit of coast artillery corresponding to a regiment of infantry, who may recommend not to exceed three candidates of the adjutant-general, who will cause such candidates to be examined. In making these recommendations seniority of candidates will be taken into consideration. In the case of officers of separate organizations, the adjutant-general will select not to exceed three candidates, whom the adjutant-general will cause to be examined. The candidate receiving the highest rating in such examination will be recommended by the adjutant-general to the governor for commission, subject to such examination as may be prescribed by the war department. All officers shall be commissioned in the arm of the service in which they are appointed and shall be assigned to duty by the adjutant-general upon recommendation of the commanding officer of the regiment, unit of coast artillery corresponding to a regiment of infantry, separate battalion or squadron. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 309.]

§ 1958. Officers of the line. Officers of the line shall be appointed as provided for the appointment of staff officers in section one thousand nine hundred fifty-seven hereof, and in accordance with the terms of the national defense act of June 3, 1916, and the various amendments thereto. All line officers shall hold their positions until they shall have reached the age of sixty-four years, unless retired prior to that time by reason of resignation, disability or for cause to be determined by a court-martial legally convened for that purpose. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 310.]

§ 1960. Oath of office. Every officer duly commissioned shall take his oath of office in the manner and within the time prescribed by the national defense act of June 3, 1916, the various amendments thereto and the regulations prescribed by the war department. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 310.]

§ 1980. Who may be enlisted. Enlistment contract. Any male who is a citizen of the United States or who has legally declared his intention of becoming a citizen, of more than eighteen and less than thirty-five years of age, able-bodied, free from disease, of good character and temperate habits, may be enlisted in the national guard of this state under the provisions of the national defense act of June 3, 1916, and the various amendments thereto, for six years. The first three years of which shall be in an active organization and the remaining three years shall be in the national guard reserve; and such enlisted man shall have the privilege of continuing in active service during the whole of the enlistment period or of re-enlisting. The qualifications for enlistment shall be the same as those prescribed for admission to the regular army, and all men enlisting in the national guard must sign an enlistment contract, and take and subscribe to the oath set forth in section seventy of the national defense act of June 3, 1916. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 310.]

§ 1982. Oath. All officers of the national guard on becoming members, and before performing duty, must take and subscribe to the oath contained in section seventy-three of the national defense act of June 3, 1916, and amendments thereto. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 310.]

§ 2006. Officers and members absent. Court-martial. All officers or members of the national guard who absent themselves from three consecutive assemblages, without an excuse acceptable to their immediate respective commanding officers, are debarred from the privileges and exemptions provided for members of the national guard; and all non-commissioned officers or privates upon being reported as having been so absent shall forthwith be court-martialed by order of the regimental, or unattached battalion or squadron commander in their respective commands, and in all other organizations not attached to regiments, battalions, or squadrons, but attached to brigades, by order of the brigade commander, and in all unattached organizations, by order of the governor, and, upon conviction by court-martial, the delinquent shall be punished in such manner as the court-martial convicting him may prescribe. The proceedings of such court-martial shall be subject to approval and review as in other cases. Neglect or refusal to pay any fine imposed by a court-martial within thirty days after such fine was imposed is hereby declared to be sufficient cause for the dishonorable discharge of such delinquent from the national guard. [Amendment of May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 311.]

§ 2018. Military courts. The military courts of the state shall be: (1) general courts-martial; (2) special courts-martial; (3) summary courts-martial; (4) courts of inquiry. The constitution and jurisdiction of general courts-martial, special courts-martial, summary courts-martial, and courts of inquiry, the form and manner in which the proceedings are conducted and recorded, the forms of oaths and affirmations taken in the administration of military law by such courts, the limits of punishment and the proceedings in the revision thereof, shall be governed by the terms of the articles of war, the national defense act of June 3, 1916, and the amendments thereto, the laws and regulations governing the army of the United States, and the law and procedure of similar courts of the United States army, except as otherwise provided in this title. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 311.]

§ 2019. Who may appoint courts-martial. The following officers may appoint courts-martial: (1) The President of the United States or the governor of the state of California may appoint general courts-martial. (2) The commanding officer of each garrison, fort, post, camp, or other place, brigade, regiment, detached battalion, or other detached command, may appoint special courts-martial for his command, but such special courts-martial may in any case be appointed by superior authority when by the latter deemed desirable. (3) The commanding officer of each garrison, fort, post, or other place, regiment or corps, detached battalion, company, or other detachment of the national guard, may appoint for such place or command a summary court to consist of one officer who shall have power to administer oaths and to try the enlisted men of such place or command, for breaches of discipline, and violations of law governing such organizations. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 311.]

§ 2020. General courts-martial. 1. General courts-martial shall have the power to impose fines not exceeding two hundred dollars; to sentence to forfeiture of pay and allowances; to a reprimand; to dismissal or dishonorable discharge from the service; to reduction of noncommissioned officers to the ranks; or any two or more of such punishments may be combined in the sentences imposed by such courts. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 312.]

2. Special courts-martial. Special courts-martial shall have the power to try any person subject to military law, except a commissioned officer, for any crime or offense made punishable by the military laws of the United States, and such special courts-martial and[shall] have the same powers of punishment as the general courts-martial, except that fines imposed by such special courts-martial shall not exceed one hundred dollars. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917; p. 312.]

3. Summary courts-martial. Other powers. Summary courts-martial shall have the power to impose on enlisted men fines not exceeding twenty-five dollars for any single offense, and may sentence to forfeiture of pay and allowances. The proceedings of such court shall be informal, and the minutes thereof shall be the same as prescribed for summary courts of the United States army.

All courts-martial including summary courts, shall also have such powers as are conferred on them by the articles of war, and shall have cognizance of and jurisdiction over all violations of said articles; they shall also have power to sentence to confinement in lieu of fines authorized to be imposed by such courts, but such sentences of confinement shall not exceed one day for each dollar of fine authorized. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 312.]

§ 2021. Review of proceedings. Appeal to governor. The officer appointing a courts-martial must review the proceedings and approve or disapprove the sentence of such court-martial, and must direct the execution of such sentence, or mitigate the punishment, or may remit the sentence of the person convicted; but no sentence of dismissal from the service or dishonorable discharge shall be executed until approved by the governor of this state; provided, that an officer or enlisted man so sentenced may within fifteen days after official publication of the action of the reviewing officer, appeal to the governor of this state to review the proceedings and to disapprove them or pardon the offense, in which case the officer approving the sentence will forward the proceedings in the case to the governor of this state, and the execution of the sentence must be suspended until the proceedings are returned with the decision thereon. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 312.]

§ 2022. Copy of charges delivered to person under arrest. When an officer or enlisted man is put in arrest for the purposes of trial, a copy of the charges and specifications upon which he is to be tried shall be delivered to him or left at his last known place of abode or business, within such time as is prescribed by the laws and regulations governing procedure in the United States army in similar circumstances, and a court shall be ordered for his trial within the time similarly prescribed by the rules and regulations of the United States army. If a copy of the charges and specifications be not served, or a court not ordered within the time herein limited, the arrest shall cease, but such charges and specifications may be served, a court ordered, and the officer or enlisted man be brought to trial after such release from arrest within the time prescribed by the rules and regulations of the United States army in similar circumstances. The appearance of the accused, without objection and pleading to the charges, shall be deemed a waiver of any defect or irregularity of such service of any of the papers mentioned in this section. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 313.]

poena, by subpoena duces tecum, and by attachment, the attendance of witnesses, both civilian and military, and the production of books, papers, and documents, and to punish for contempt a witness duly subpoenaed for nonattendance, or refusal to be sworn or testify, or to produce books, papers and documents, as is possessed by any superior court of this state. Military courts shall also have power to take by commission the testimony of witnesses who cannot reasonably be produced at the trial to the same extent as the superior court aforesaid. Commissions and subpoenas may be issued by the president or the judge advocate, if there be one, of the court, both before and after being sworn, for witnesses whose attendance or testimony before such court may be necessary in behalf of the prosecution, and upon application in behalf of any person to be tried by such court, either the president or the judge advocate may direct the commanding officer of any organization to cause such subpoena to be served on any member of his command. A witness not appearing in obedience to a subpoena when served personally with a copy of the same, and not having sufficient excuse, shall forfeit to the people of the state the sum of twenty-five dollars. The president of each court shall, from time to time, report to the judge advocate-general, the names of all such delinquent witnesses, together with the names and places of residence of the persons serving such subpoena, and a judge advocate may sue for and recover such penalties in the name of the people. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 313.]

§ 2024. Power of military courts to issue process and mandates. Military courts are empowered to issue all process and mandates, including writs and warrants, necessary and proper to carry into full effect the powers vested in such courts; such process and mandates will be directed to the provost marshal, the sheriff of any county, and the constables and marshals of any town or city. It shall be the duty of all officers to whom such process or mandate may be so directed to execute the same, and make return of their acts thereunder according to the requirements of the same. The keepers and wardens of all city, county and city and county jails shall receive the bodies of persons committed by the process or mandate of a military court and confine them in the manner prescribed by law. Except as otherwise specially provided in this chapter, no fees or charges of any nature shall be demanded or required to be paid by the state, or any military court or member thereof, or by the person executing its mandate or process, or to any public officer for receiving, executing, or returning any such process or mandate, or for any service in connection therewith, or for receiving or confining the person in jail or custody thereunder. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 314.]

§ 2026. Collection of fines and penalties. For the purpose of collecting fines and penalties, imposed by a court-martial, the president of any such general or special court-martial and the summary court officer of any such summary court must make a list of all such fines and penalties, and of the persons against whom they have been imposed, and must thereafter issue a warrant under his hand, directed to any sheriff or constable of the county commanding him to levy and collect such fines, together with the costs, upon and out of the property of the person against whom the fine or penalty was imposed; and such warrant shall be executed and renewed in the same manner as executions from the justices' courts are executed and renewed. All fines collected shall be paid by the officer collecting the same to the commanding officer of the organization of which the person fined is or was a member, and accounted for by said commanding officer in the same manner as are other state funds. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 314.]

§ 2079. Allowances to commanding officers, etc. There must be audited and allowed by the adjutant-general and paid out of the appropriation for military purposes, upon the warrant of the state controller, to the commanding officer of each infantry, coast artillery, engineer, field hospital, ambulace company, and the headquarters company of each regiment of infantry, and each division and marine company of the naval militia, except the engineer division of the naval militia, the sum of one hundred fifty dollars per month; to the commanding officer of each machine gun company, signal company, troop of cavalry, battery or field artillery, supply company, and the engineer divisions of the naval militia, the sum of two hundred dollars per month; to each supply company of separate battalions and squadrons the sum of seventy-five dollars per month; the sum so paid to be used for armory rent, care of arms, and proper incidental expenses of the company, troop, battery, field hospital, or division. There shall be audited, allowed, and paid out of the same appropriation to the commanding officer of each brigade the sum of two hundred dollars per month; to the commanding officer of the naval militia the sum of two hundred dollars per month; to the commanding officer of each regiment of infantry, and to the commanding officer of each unit of coast artillery corresponding to a regiment of infantry, two hundred dollars per month; to the commanding officer of each separate battalion of field artillery, naval militia, engineer troops and squadron of cavalry, the sum of fifty dollars per month, and to the commanding officer of each separate fort command, coast artillery, the sum of twenty-five dollars per month; the sums so paid to be used for rent of headquarters, clerical expenses, stationery, printing, postage and proper incidental expenses of the commanding officer of the organization for which said sums are audited, allowed and paid. There shall be audited, allowed and paid to the commanding officer of the naval militia, the adjutant of each regiment of infantry and coast artillery, which shall have attached to it a uniformed and organized band of not less than twenty-five men, the sum of seventy-five dollars per month for such band; to the chief surgeon the sum of fifty dollars per month for rent and proper incidental expenses; and to the adjutant-general sum of fifteen thousand dollars per annum, to be expended by him in promoting target practice. There must be audited and allowed by the adjutant-general, and paid out of the appropriation for military purposes, to the medical officer in charge of each detachment of the medical department on duty with each regiment of infantry, coast artillery, the naval militia, separate battalions and squadrons, the sum of fifty dollars per month for rent and proper incidental expenses of such detachments, and to the medical officer in charge of detachment of the medical corps attached to each separate fort command, coast artillery the sum of ten dollars per month for proper incidental expenses. No claim shall be allowed under the provisions of this section except upon demand made quarterly in duplicate, signed and sworn to by the officer claiming the same, before any officer of the national guard, or notary public, and forwarded through the headquarters of the regiment, coast artillery corps, separate battalion, or separate squadron, or naval militia, with the approval of each commanding officer, through whose headquarters they are required to pass, direct to the adjutant-general; provided, that the adjutant-general may make expenditures at any time for the promotion of target practice, out of the appropriation for that purpose herein provided for. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 314.]

§ 2086. Salaries; adjutant-general's department. There shall be allowed and paid out of the general fund in the state treasury to officers, clerks and other employees in the adjutant-general's department, the following salaries payable monthly: To the brigadier-general of the adjutant-general's department (the adjutant-general), a sum not to exceed five thousand dollars per annum to be fixed by the governor; to the lieutenant-colonel of the adjutant-general's department, three thousand dollars per annum; to the chief clerk, one thousand nine hundred dollars per annum; three clerks, one thousand seven hundred dollars per annum each; one stenographer and clerk, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; one military storekeeper, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum; one assistant military storekeeper and porter, nine hundred dollars per annum. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 316.]

§ 2107. Armories and arsenals. The adjutant-general shall have control of all armories and arsenals built by the state, or that may come into possession of the state, or any building or buildings that may be erected, purchased, leased or provided by any town, city, county, or city and county, for armory or arsenal purposes pursuant to any legislative act. It shall be the duty of the adjutant-general, under direction of the governor, to make and enforce regulations for the government and control of such armories, arsenals and buildings, and where appropriations have been made therefor, to advertise for and receive bids for the construction of armories, or arsenals, to enter into contract for the construction and completion thereof, to contract for and purchase the furnishings therefor, and to purchase and lease real estate for the purpose of erecting armories or arsenals thereon; provided, that it shall be the duty of the state engineer to furnish the plans, estimates and specifications for all armories and arsenals, and to superintend the erection and construction of such buildings. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 316.]

prescribe, in conformity with the requirements of the navy department. The naval militia shall be located throughout the coast of the state of California at the discretion of the commander-in-chief. The words "division" and "company" as used in this chapter in connection with the naval militia shall have the same meaning and effect as "company" when used in connection with infantry as used in this chapter, and the word "battalion" as used in this chapter in connection with the naval militia shall have the same meaning and effect as "battalion" when used in connection with infantry as used in this chapter. The several divisions and companies of marines of the naval militia shall be organized into battalions at the discretion of the commander-in-chief. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 316.]

§ 2112. Application of laws, rules and regulations of United States navy. Examination for commanding officer. Vacancies. Chief warrant officers. Warrant officers. Chief petty officers and petty officers. Powers of commander-in-chief. Command of vessels loaned by United States. When insufficient men available. The numerical strength, rank, titles and insignia of rank of the divisions and companies of marines of the naval militia shall conform to the laws, rules and regulations of the United States navy, and such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the secretary of the navy for the naval militia. The naval militia shall be organized into one or more naval brigades, which shall consist of such administrative battalions as may be prescribed by the navy department for like number of divisions in the United States navy.

The officers, chief warrant officers, warrant officers and enlisted men of the naval militia of California shall be of such number and grades as may be prescribed by the commander-in-chief and the same shall be of the same number and grades as are authorized or prescribed by the laws and regulations of the United States for similar organizations of the United States navy, or as authorized or prescribed by said laws and regulations of the navy department for the naval militia.

All officers now serving in the active naval militia of this state, or who may hereafter be commissioned therein, shall hold their positions until they shall have reached the age of sixty-four years, unless retired prior to that time by reason of resignation, disability, or for cause to be determined by a court-martial legally convened for that purpose.

In order to select a commanding officer for the naval militia the adjutant-general shall nominate not to exceed three officers, not below the grade of lieutenant-commander, and will cause such candidates to be examined. The candidate receiving the highest rating in such examination will be recommended by the adjutant-general to the governor for commission.

When vacancies occur in the commissioned personnel, the commanding officer of the naval militia will recommend not to exceed three candidates to the adjutant-general, who will cause such candidates to be examined. The candidate receiving the highest rating in such examination will be recommended by the adjutant-general to the governor for commission.

Chief warrant officers may be appointed by the commander-in-chief upon the recommendation of the commanding officer of the naval militia, and shall receive from the commander-in-chief a commission in the same form as commissioned officers of the naval militia. Warrant officers may be appointed by the adjutant-general upon the recommendation of the commanding officer of the naval militia and warrants for warrant officers may be issued by the adjutant-general upon the recommendation of the commanding officer of the naval militia. Chief petty officers and petty officers shall be appointed by the commanding officer of the naval militia, who shall issue to such chief petty officers and petty officers a warrant in proper form.

The organization of the naval militia shall conform generally to the provisions of the laws of the United States. The system of discipline and exercise shall conform to that of the navy of the United States as it is now and as it may hereafter be prescribed by congress and that prescribed by the provisions of the Political Code, relating to the national guard of California, and that prescribed by the secretary of the navy for the guidance of the naval militia; the commander-in-chief shall have power to alter, divide, annex, consolidate and disband the naval militia or any portion thereof whenever in his judgment the efficiency of the state forces will thereby be increased, and he shall have power to make such rules and regulations as may be deemed proper for the use, government and instruction of the naval militia; but such rules and regulations shall conform to those governing the United States navy and those prescribed for the secretary of the navy for the conduct of the naval militia. The commander-in-chief is authorized to apply to the President of the United States for the detail of commissioned officers and petty officers of the navy to act as inspectors and instructors in the art of naval warfare. Summary courts-martial for the naval militia when necessary shall be ordered by the commanding officer of the naval militia and general courts-martial for the naval militia when necessary shall be ordered by the commander-in-chief and shall be organized and conducted within the laws, regulations and usages of the United States navy, and the provisions of the section relating to the military courts in this chapter. The proceedings shall be reviewed and sentence executed as provided in this chapter. Vessels loaned by the United States government to the state of California for the use of the naval militia shall be commanded by the ranking officer for line duty resident at the port to which said vessel is assigned, and in the absence of such ranking officer for line duty, by the next ranking officer for line duty.

In a locality where there are insufficient men available to form an engineer division and there already exists an organized deck division, men of the artificer branch may be additionally enrolled in such deck division with such ratings as they may be qualified to fill, until such time as there is a sufficient number of them to form a separate engineer division, and any men in such artificer branch may be rated in the various petty officers' ratings in the artificer branch of the naval service which they are qualified to fill. In a locality where there are insufficient men available to form a marine company and there is already existing in that locality a deck division of the naval militia, a marine section may be organized with one officer and not less than twenty enlisted marines. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 317.]

NOTE.—Act of May 10, 1917 (Stats. 1917, p. 302), amending provisions relating to the national guard, also contained the following provisions:

Sec. 42. Repealed. All laws or parts of laws in so far as they are not consistent with these amendments are hereby repealed.

Sec. 43. Urgency measure. Inasmuch as the provisions of the existing law relating to the national guard are in conflict with the provisions of the national defense act, and the provisions herein contained are necessary to enable the national guard of this state to comply with the requirements of said national defense act, and in view of the unsettled condition of the relations of the United States with foreign powers, this act is declared to be necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace and safety and to be an urgency measure within the meaning of section one of article IV of the constitution.

§ 2141. Powers of lunacy commission. The commission has power:

1. To appoint a secretary whose term of office shall be four years from and after the date of his appointment and to fix his salary, which shall not be changed during his term of office, and which shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as are the salaries of other state officers, and to appoint such other employees as it may deem necessary and fix their compensations;

2. To appoint, by its order, a competent person to examine the books, papers, and accounts, and also into the general condition and management of any institution in this chapter mentioned, to the extent deemed necessary and specified in such order;

3. To fix the annual salaries of the resident officers and treasurers of the state hospitals, which must be uniform in all the state hospitals for the insane and as near uniform as possible in all state hospitals, and to classify the other officers and employees in grades, and determine the salaries and wages to be paid in each grade, which must be uniform in all hospitals for the insane, and as near uniform as possible in all state hospitals;

4. To determine the kind and character of all employees who shall be employed at any state hospital according to the needs and objects of the hospital;

5. To permit any religious or missionary corporation or society to erect a building on the grounds of any state hospital for the holding of religious services, said building when erected to become the property of the state and to be used exclusively for the benefit of the inmates and employees of such state hospital and subject to such regulations and conditions as may be determined or imposed by said commission;

6. To establish and supervise a training school for attendants and nurses in any state hospital, under rules and regulations of the commission. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 274.]

§ 2187. Transfer of patients from one hospital to another. (a) When the building of any state hospital becomes overcrowded with patients or inmates, or the number of buildings is reduced by fire, or other casualties, or for other sufficient cause, the commission may, in its discretion, cause the transfer of patients or inmates therefrom or direct that patients or inmates required to be sent thereto, be transferred to another state hospital, where they can be conveniently received, or make, in emergencies, temporary provision for their care, preference to be given in such transfer to a hospital in an adjoining rather than a remote district. The expense of such transfer is chargeable to the state, and the bills for the same, when approved by the commission, must be paid by the treasurer of state on the warrant of the controller, out of any moneys provided for the care or support of the insane.

(b) Transfer on request of relatives or friends. Patients may be transferred at the request of relatives or friends; provided, there is room in the hospital to which transfer is sought, but in case of transfers made as last provided the expense of such transfers shall be paid by such relatives or friends; provided, further, that transfers as last provided, shall not be made unless the consent of the commission and the medical superintendents of the hospitals from which and to which said transfer is to be made be obtained. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 275.]

(c) Transfer from home for feeble-minded to state hospital. The commission, when it deems it necessary, may transfer any inmate of the home for feeble-minded for care and treatment to a state hospital for the insane for care and treatment therein and the counties, guardian, relatives or friends of such inmate shall be liable for his care, support and maintenance in said hospital for the insane in the same manner and to the same extent as if the said patient were still an inmate of said home. The commission, when it deems it necessary, may transfer any patient in any state hospital for the insane to the said home for care and treatment therein. The estate, relatives or friends of such patient, or the county from which such patient was originally committed, shall be liable for the care, support, and maintenance of such patient at the said home in the same manner and to the same extent as if the said patient had been originally committed to the said home at the date of such transfer. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 275.]

§ 2283. Appropriation: orphan aid. Orphan, one hundred dollars; half orphan, seventy-five dollars. There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to each and every institution in this state conducted for the support and maintenance of needy minor orphans, half orphans, or abandoned children, and to each and every county, city and county, city, or town maintaining such orphans, half orphans, or abandoned children, or any or all of such classes of persons, aid as follows: For each whole orphan and abandoned child supported and maintained in any institution, not in excess of one hundred dollars per annum; and for each half orphan, not in excess of seventy-five dollars per annum; but each abandoned child must have been an inmate thereof for one year prior to receiving any support as provided in this chapter; provided, that in addition to the amount paid by the state for each half orphan maintained at home by its mother, the county, city and county, city or town may pay for the support of such half orphan an amount equal to the sum paid by the state; and provided, further, that in any case where any such half orphan is denied aid by the county, upon a petition setting forth the facts in full as to the necessity of aid, verified by five reputable citizens of the county, city and county, city, or town, the mother of such child shall have the right of appeal direct to the state board of control for aid of her child, and should her appeal be sustained by said board payment must be made for the child as above provided. [Amendment approved May 15, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 560.]

§ 2285. Books to be kept. Every institution, county, city and county, city, or town entitled to aid under this chapter must keep the following records, which at all times must be open to the state board of control or to any person appointed by them to examine the same, or to any committee of the legislature, or to any clerk or officer thereof duly authorized to make such examination:

1. Date of admission, etc. A record on which must be entered the date of admission, name, age, sex, and place of birth of each and every orphan, half orphan, and abandoned child, who is or may hereafter be received or admitted into such institution, or to county aid, and the date of discharge of any such child, when such discharge is made, the parentage, if known; the estate, if any, to which the child is heir, and the insurance, if any, on the father's or mother's life; so far as can be ascertained, the place where either parent or both died, the nativity of the parents, where married, the marriage certificate, where recorded, when they came to California, place of residence in California, and habits of sobriety.

2. Monthly accounts. A book entitled "monthly accounts." In it must be entered on the debtor side, all the moneys received from any and all sources segregated under the proper heads; on the credit side must be entered all disbursements made, specifying for what purposes made, and the amount entered in detail so disbursed, segregated under their proper heads.

3. Pay-roll. A pay-roll of the employees, and the amounts disbursed to each.

4. Amounts paid for support. A book in which must be entered in detail the amounts paid for the specific support of every orphan, half orphan, or abandoned child and the date of such payments.

5. Transcript of books and pay-roll. A transcript of the books and pay-roll, verified under oath by the manager or person in charge of such institution entitled to or claiming state aid under this chapter, must, when demanded by the state board of control, be made and forwarded to the said board at the time of presenting claim for state aid.

6. List of inmates. A list of all the inmates other than employees or orphans supported wholly or in part by any institution presenting a claim for state aid under this chapter, must also be forwarded with such claim for aid. [Amendment approved May 15, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 561.]

§ 2286. Board of control may inquire into institutions. Children's agents. Salaries. The state board of control is authorized in behalf of the state, at any time to inquire, either in person or by authorized agent, into the management of any such institution; and any institution refusing, upon due demand, to permit such inquiry or to comply with regulations established by said board for the proper maintenance and care of children receiving state aid must not thereafter receive any aid under this chapter until it has complied with all requirements. To carry out the provisions of this act, the state board of control may appoint a chief children's agent and three children's agents who shall, under the rules of said board, visit the homes and the institutions in which are children to whom state aid is being given or for whom aid is being asked, to obtain such information as the board may need in carrying out the provisions of this chapter. Such chief agent shall receive necessary traveling expenses and a salary of two hundred twenty-five dollars per month. Such three other agents shall receive their necessary traveling expenses and a salary of one hundred seventy-five dollars per month, which salary shall be paid in the same manner and at the same time as the salaries of other state officers. All expenses incurred in visiting said asylums and homes, when there are not other available funds, may be audited and allowed by the state board of control out of the appropriation for support of orphans, half orphans and abandoned children. In addition an advisory committee of three persons serving without pay or expense to the state may be appointed by the board of control, to act in any county in conjunction with the children's agents. [Amendment approved May 15, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 562.]

§ 2289. Prerequisites. In order that the provisions of this chapter shall not be abused, it is hereby declared:

1. Institution must have twenty inmates. That no institution which has less than twenty inmates of either or all of the classes mentioned in section two thousand two hundred eighty-three, must be deemed an institution for the support and maintenance of minor orphans, half orphans, or abandoned children, within the intent and meaning of this chapter.

2. Age of minor. That no child over the age of fifteen years shall be deemed a minor orphan, half orphan, or abandoned child, within the intent and meaning of this chapter.

3. Receiving ten dollars for child. That no child for whose specific support there is paid to any such institution the sum of ten dollars or more per month shall be deemed a minor orphan, half orphan, or abandoned child within the intent and meaning of this chapter.

4. Home for child. That no child maintained in an institution for whom a bona fide offer of a proper home has been made shall be considered eligible for further state aid; it is further provided, however, that no institution shall be required to surrender a child to any person of religious faith different from that of the child or the parents of the child.

Residence in state. That a child who has not resided in this state for a period of at least two years prior to the application for aid shall not be eligible to receive state aid unless such child is born in this state. [Amendment approved May 15, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 562.]

§ 2302. Salary state librarian. The annual salary of the state librarian is five thousand dollars. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1663.]

§ 2319. State commissioner of horticulture. Deputies, etc. Traveling expenses. Deputy commissioner. Salaries. Offices for commissioner. San Francisco office. Quarantine officers. State insectary. Superintendent. Assistant. Field deputy. The state commissioner of horticulture of California shall be a citizen and resident of this state, and his term shall be for four years, and until his successor is appointed and qualified. The governor may remove such commissioner from office at any time upon filing with the secretary of state a certificate of removal signed by the governor. In the case of vacancy in said office by death, resignation, removal from office, or other cause the governor shall fill the vacancy for the unexpired term. In appointing such commissioner and his successor or successors, it shall be the duty of the governor to disregard political affiliations, and to be guided in his selection entirely by the professional and moral qualifications of the person so selected for the performance of the duties of said office. Said commissioner shall be a civil executive officer. The salary of said commissioner shall be four thousand dollars per annum, and he shall be allowed his traveling and incidental expenses necessary in the discharge of his duties. For the direction and accomplishment of his work the said commissioner may and is hereby empowered to appoint certain deputies, secretary, quarantine officers, superintendents, assistants, and clerk as hereinafter provided, who shall hold office at the pleasure of said commissioner and perform any and all duties pertaining to their office or employment which the said commissioner may require of each of them, and may be removed from office or position at any time by said commissioner filing with the secretary of state a certificate signed by said commissioner so removing such deputy, secretary, quarantine officer, superintendent, assistant, or clerk. The traveling and other necessary expenses incurred by the officers and employees herein provided for in the performance of their duties shall be paid from the funds appropriated for the support of the office of the state commissioner of horticulture. Said commissioner may arrange his office into three divisions, to wit: executive office, quarantine division, insectary and pathological division.

Said commissioner shall appoint a deputy commissioner who shall be an expert entomologist and horticulturist, and who shall perform such duties as may be required of him by said commissioner, and shall be acting commissioner in the absence of the commissioner. Such deputy commissioner shall receive a salary of two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum. Said commissioner shall appoint two field deputies, each of whom shall be versed in horticulture and have a practical knowledge of the methods of control of insect pests and plant diseases. Said field deputies shall receive a salary of two thousand dollars per annum each. Said commissioner shall appoint a secretary who shall be a civil executive officer. Said secretary shall perform all such duties as may be required of him by said commissioner. Such secretary shall receive a salary of two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum.

Said commissioner shall appoint a clerk whose salary shall be one thousand six hundred dollars per annum. The main office of such commissioner shall be at the city of Sacramento.

The secretary of state shall furnish and set aside at the capitol rooms suitable for offices for said commissioner, and if the secretary of state shall make and file an affidavit with the said commissioner stating that it is not possible for him, as such secretary of state, to provide and set aside an office for said commissioner in the capitol or in any state building under his control, because there is no such office or rooms available, then, and after the making and delivery of such affidavit to such commissioner, the said commissioner may rent rooms convenient and suitable for his offices at a rental not to exceed one thousand dollars per year. The office of said commissioner shall be kept open every day except holidays. Said commissioner may also keep and maintain an office in the city and county of San Francisco adequate to the purposes and requirements of the quarantine division, at a yearly rental not to exceed the sum of seven hundred fifty dollars. Said commissioner shall appoint a chief deputy quarantine officer, who shall be a skilled entomologist and particularly conversant with the nature of foreign insect pests and plant diseases and effective means of preventing their introduction, and shall have charge of the work of the quarantine division provided for in this section of this act. Such chief deputy quarantine officer shall receive a salary of two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum. Said commissioner shall appoint two deputy quarantine officers who shall be competent entomologists for the purpose of quarantine work. Such deputy quarantine officers shall each receive a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum. Said commissioner shall also properly maintain and operate the state insectary located on the state capitol grounds in Sacramento from funds provided by law for such purpose, and shall appoint for the work of the insectary division a superintendent of the insectary, who shall be an expert entomologist able to perform all the necessary duties with reference to the importation, rearing and distribution of beneficial insects. The salary of the superintendent of the state insectary shall be two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum. Said commissioner shall appoint an assistant superintendent of the insectary, who shall be an economic entomologist, at a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum. Said commissioner shall appoint a field deputy for the insectary division, who shall be a practical entomologist and whose salary shall be one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum. The salaries of all the officers above mentioned shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as the salaries of other state officers. Said commissioner may also appoint such assistants from time to time as may be required and such assistants shall receive such reasonable compensation as may be fixed by said commissioner. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 638.]

§ 2319a. Duties of commissioner of horticulture. State horticultural quarantine officer. Quarantine guardians. It shall be the duty of the state commissioner of horticulture to promote and protect the plant industry of the state; to prevent the introduction and spread of injurious insect or animal pests, plant diseases and noxious weeds; to cause to be put into execution such horticultural laws of a regulatory nature as are written into the statutes, and to introduce and distribute such insects as are useful in reducing the cost of crop production. Such commissioner shall collect books, pamphlets and periodicals and other documents containing information relating to horticulture and shall preserve the same; collect statistics and other information showing the actual condition and progress of horticulture in this state and elsewhere; correspond with horticultural societies, colleges and schools, and with the county horticultural commissioners existing or that may exist in this state, and with all other persons necessary to secure the best results to horticulture in this state. He shall require reports from county horticultural commissioners in this state, and may print the same or any part thereof as he may select, either in the form of bulletins or in his annual reports or both, as he shall deem proper. He shall issue and cause to be printed and distributed to county horticultural commissioners in this state, and to such other persons as he may deem proper, bulletins or statements containing all the information best adapted to advance the interest, business and development of horticulture in this state. Such commissioner shall be deemed to be the state horticultural quarantine officer mentioned in that certain act entitled "An act for the protection of horticulture and to prevent the introduction into this state of insects, or diseases, or animals injurious to fruit or fruit trees, vines, bushes or vegetables, and to provide for a quarantine for the enforcement of this act," which became a law under constitutional provisions without the governor's approval on March 11, 1899, for the purposes of that act, and shall be empowered to perform the duties which under that act are to be performed by the state horticultural quarantine officer; provided, that in any case where it shall become necessary in the judgment of the state commissioner of horticulture to quarantine a county or district within the state against another or other county or counties or districts within the state, or to quarantine the state or a county or district of the state against another state or a foreign country or countries then it shall be necessary that said quarantine shall be made by and with the approval of the governor as provided in this chapter.

The state commissioner of horticulture may issue commissions as quarantine guardians to the county horticultural commissioners, deputies and inspectors appointed by them. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; p. 640.]

§ 2319b. Quarantine regulations. Said commissioner may, by and with the approval of the governor, establish, maintain and enforce such quarantine regulations as may be deemed necessary to protect the nurseries, trees, shrubs, plants, vines, cuttings, grafts, scions, buds, fruit-pits, fruit, seeds, vegetables or other articles of horticulture, against contagion or infestation by injurious plant disease, insects, or animal or weed pests, by establishing such quarantine at the boundaries of this state or elsewhere, within the state, and he may make and enforce, with the approval of the governor, any and all such rules and regulations as may be deemed necessary to prevent any infected or infested stock, tree, shrub, plant, vine, cutting, graft, scion, bud, fruit-pit, fruit, seeds, vegetable or other article of horticulture, from passing over any quarantine line established and proclaimed pursuant to this act, and all such articles shall, during the maintenance of such quarantine, be inspected by such commissioner or by deputies appointed in writing by said commissioner, and he and the deputies so conducting such inspection shall not permit any such article to pass over such quarantine line during such quarantine, except upon a certificate of inspection signed by such commissioner or in his name by such deputy who has made such inspection. All approvals by the governor given or made pursuant to this act shall be in writing and signed by the governor in duplicate, and one copy thereof shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state and the other in the office of said commissioner before such approval shall take effect. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 641.]

§ 2319c. Quarantine against plant diseases, etc. May enter premises. Upon information received by such commissioner of the existence of any infectious plant disease, insect, or animal or weed pest, dangerous to any article, or to the interests of horticulture within this state, or that there is a probability of the introduction of any such infectious plant diseases, insect or animal or weed or other pests, into this state or across the boundaries thereof, he shall proceed to thoroughly investigate the same and may establish, maintain and enforce quarantine as hereinbefore provided, with such regulations as may be necessary to circumscribe and exterminate, eradicate or control such infectious plant diseases, insects or weed or other pests, and prevent the extension thereof, and is hereby authorized to enter upon any ground or premises to inspect the same or to inspect any tree, shrub, plant, vine, cutting, graft, scion, bud, fruit-pit, fruit, seed, vegetable or other article of horticulture or implement thereof or box or package pertaining thereto, or connected therewith or that has been used in packing, shipping or handling the same, and to open any such package, and generally to do, with the least injury possible under the conditions to property or business, all acts and things necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter; and provided, further, that no quarantine shall be established, maintained or enforced for the protection of nurseries, trees, shrubs, plants, vines, cuttings, grafts, scions, buds, fruit-pits, fruit, seeds, vegetables or other articles of horticulture, against contagion or infection by injurious disease, insects or pests, except by such commissioner and in the manner in this section provided. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 642.]

§ 2319d. Pests to be reported to county horticultural commissioners. Duty of commissioner. Upon the discovery of any infectious plant disease, injurious insects or weed or other pests, such commissioner shall immediately report the same to such quarantine guardians or county horticultural commissioners of the counties wherein such discovery is made, together with a statement as to the best known means or method for circumscribing, exterminating, eradicating or controlling the same, and shall state therein specifically what treatment or method should be applied in each case, as the matter may require, with a detailed statement or prescription as to the method of making or procuring and of applying any preparation or treatment so recommended therefor, and the time and duration for such treatment, and if chemicals or articles be required other than those usually obtainable in any town, the place or places where they are most readily to be obtained; and upon the receipt of such statement by any quarantine guardian or county horticultural commissioner it shall be the duty of such quarantine guardian or county horticultural commissioner to distribute such statement in written or printed form to every person owning or having charge or possession of any orchard, nursery stock, tree, shrub, plant, fruits or other article of horticulture within their county, where there may be or is likely to be any danger to the interests of horticulture, and such a statement must be served with or be a part of the notice to be given to the owner or owners or person or persons, in possession of any orchard, nursery, tree, shrub, plant, fruits or other articles of horticulture, referred to, provided for, and required to be served in and by section two thousand three hundred twenty-two a of the Political Code of the State of California. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 642.]

§ 2319i. Nurserymen, etc., to register. License number. Any nurseryman, agent, jobber, person, firm or organization operating in the state of California, who ships, sells or handles nursery stock, trees, plants, shrubs or vines which are for planting or propagation purposes within the borders of this state, shall register with the state commissioner of horticulture and shall pay the same one dollar for such registration for a period of one year. The state commissioner of horticulture shall issue to each applicant a special license number, and all shipments by such licensee shall have his license number affixed to the package of nursery stock, trees, plants, shrubs or vines for planting or propagation purposes; provided, however, that an agent or agents acting as salesman for a nurseryman, jobber, person, firm or organization shall not be granted a license number but shall be required to use the license number assigned the nurseryman, jobber, person, firm or organization by whom such agent or agents are employed. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 643.]

§ 2319j. Permit to ship nursery stock, etc., into state. Any nurseryman, jobber, person, firm or organization doing business without the state of California who desires to ship nursery stock, trees, plants, vines, or shrubs into this state for planting or propagation purposes from any other state, territory or district of the United States, shall first make application to the state commissioner of horticulture for a permit to so do, filing with the application a statement of the location of the nursery, or place of business owned or operated by him or them, and an official certificate of inspection of such premises signed by the state inspector of the state in which said premises are located. Permits herein provided shall be issued by the state commissioner of horticulture upon request and without making any charge therefor whenever in his judgment such permits may be issued without endangering the horticultural interests of this state. Such permits shall bear a special number, and all shipments thereafter made by any nurseryman, jobber, person, firm or organization into the state of California must contain this number affixed to the package of nursery stock, trees, plants, vines or shrubs shipped by him. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 643.]

§ 2319k. Penalty. Any person willfully refusing to comply with orders lawfully made under and pursuant to this chapter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not to exceed five hundred dollars. [New section added May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 644.]

§ 2319 l. Payment of moneys. All moneys paid hereunder shall be paid by the state treasurer from moneys appropriated for the support of the officer of state commissioner of horticulture, and expenses other than the salary of the commissioner, the compensation of his deputies, secretary, quarantine officers, superintendents, assistants, and clerk, as allowed and provided by this chapter, must be certified by the said commissioner and be approved by the state board of control before being audited and paid. [New section added May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 644.]

§ 2322. Petition to board of supervisors stating existence of infectious diseases, etc. List of eligibles. Term. Bond. Qualifications of commissioner. State board of horticultural examiners. Examinations. Appointments. County board of horticultural commissioners superseded. Whenever a petition is presented to the board of supervisors of any county or city and county, and signed by twenty-five or more persons each of whom is a resident freeholder and possessor of an orchard, or greenhouse or nursery, or rice fields, stating that certain or all orchards or nurseries or trees or plants of any variety or rice fields, are infested with any infectious diseases, or insects of any kind injurious to fruit, fruit trees, vines or other plants or vegetables, or that there is growing therein the Russian thistle or saltwort (Salsola kali var. tragus), Johnson grass (Sorghum halepense) or other noxious weeds, or red rice, or water-grasses or other weeds or grasses detrimental to rice culture, codlin moth or other insects, ground squirrels, gophers or other animals that are destructive to trees and plants; or that serious pests, plant diseases injurious to fruit, fruit trees, vines, or other plants or vegetables, or noxious weed seed are being shipped into the county which would cause damage or be liable to cause damage to the orchards, vineyards, gardens or farms of the county or state; and praying that a commissioner be appointed by them whose duties shall be to supervise the eradication, the control, or the destruction of said insects, ground squirrels, gopher or other animals, diseases or Russian thistle or saltwort, Johnson grass or other noxious weeds, or red rice, water-grasses, or other weeds or grasses detrimental to rice culture, when growing in fields of rice or fields adjacent thereto, or in canals or ditches used for the purpose of conveying water to rice fields for the irrigation thereof, as herein provided, the board of supervisors shall immediately notify the state board of horticultural examiners to furnish them a list of eligibles or competent persons as hereinafter provided, and from such list the said supervisors shall appoint a commissioner in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, whose term of officer shall be for four years and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified and who shall give a bond in the sum of one thousand dollars for the faithful performance of his duties. The said term of office of any and all county commissioners heretofore or hereinafter appointed shall commence on the date of appointment, and be for a period of four years and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified, at the end of which period the said term shall terminate, and said term shall run with and be attached to said office. In any case where such petition has already been presented or submitted, or is on file at the time of the passage of this act, as the basis for the appointment of a board of horticultural commissioners under this chapter as heretofore existing, such petition shall continue in full force and effect and the board of supervisors of any county, or city and county with which any such petition has been filed, or in which any board of horticultural commissioners has heretofore existed, must appoint a county horticultural commissioner. The person appointed to such position must be especially qualified for his duties and must be chosen and appointed by the board of supervisors from a list of eligible persons recommended and nominated to said board as hereinafter provided. Said appointment to be made within thirty days after receipt of said list by said board of supervisors; provided, this act shall in no wise affect any other act or acts providing for the destruction of ground squirrels or applying to the proceedings thereunder but it is intended to and does provide the alternative system of proceedings for the extermination of ground squirrels and gophers referred to in this act; and it shall be within the discretion of the governing body of each county, city and county, city or town herein mentioned to provide for the destruction of ground squirrels whether under the provisions of this act or under the provisions of such other act or acts; but when any proceedings are commenced under this act, the provisions of this act, and of such amendments as may hereafter be adopted, and no other, shall apply to all such proceedings and any provision contained in any other act or acts in conflict with the provisions hereof shall be void and of no effect as to the proceedings commenced under the provisions of this act.

The said board of supervisors shall provide a suitable office for the said county horticultural commissioner, and shall furnish and equip the said office with all necessary furniture and effects for the proper discharge of the commissioner's duties. The said board of supervisors may also provide the county horticultural commissioner with all necessary field equipment for the proper discharge of the duties of his office. All expense ordered by the board of supervisors for such office, furniture and equipment, and for stenographic and other office help and expense shall be a county charge and the board of supervisors shall allow and pay the same out of the general fund of the county. A state board of horticultural examiners is hereby created consisting of the dean of the agricultural college of the University of California, the state commissioner of horticulture and the superintendent of the state insectary, who are ex-officio members of said board. They shall serve without pay and said board shall provide convenient means for the examination of candidates for appointment as horticultural commissioner. While in the performance of their duties as members of said board they shall be allowed all their necessary expenses for traveling, printing, postage and other incidental matters to be paid out of any appropriations made for the support of the office of the state commissioner of horticulture. At least thirty days before the date of the examination of candidates for the said appointment the state board of horticultural examiners shall post or cause to be posted in three public places in said county a notice of the time and place at which such examination will be held, setting forth the conditions and subjects of said examination. At the time and place stated in said notice such examination shall be held. Said examination shall be in writing and the board of horticultural examiners may appoint one of their own number, or some other reliable, competent person to conduct the holding of such examination in each county and forward the papers of each applicant to the board for consideration. Within twenty days after the examination is held said examiners shall certify to the board of supervisors of the county, or city and county for which the examination was had, the names of such persons examined as they deem competent and qualified for the office and from the list of names so certified the supervisors shall, within thirty days after the receipt of said list of names, appoint a horticultural commissioner.

If for any reason the board of supervisors refuse or neglect to appoint a county horticultural commissioner at the expiration of the thirty days, or if they refuse or neglect to appoint a county horticultural commissioner to fill an unexpired term as elsewhere provided in this act, then the state board of horticultural examiners shall select and appoint a county horticultural commissioner from the list of qualified persons certified to the board of supervisors of that county, whose term of officer shall be for four years, and until his successor has qualified. Whenever the state board of horticultural examiners shall appoint a county horticultural commissioner as herein provided, then the county board of supervisors must provide for the payment of such appointee's compensation and expenses in the same manner as if such appointment had been made by the board of supervisors. As far as possible the board of horticultural examiners shall consult the resident horticulturists of the county in determining the responsibility and moral qualifications of candidates for appointment as commissioners and whose names they certify to the boards of supervisors of the several counties. If no person or persons present themselves for examination before said board of horticultural examiners or if after such examination no person is found qualified, the state board of horticultural examiners shall name five competent persons and certify them to the board of supervisors and from these names the board of supervisors shall, within thirty days after the receipt thereof, appoint a county horticultural commissioner, and in such event the commissioner so appointed shall hold office for the term of one year. In case of vacancy in the office of the horticultural commissioner the vacancy shall be filled first from the list of eligibles certified to the board of supervisors under the provisions of this chapter, and if there be no person named on the said list of eligible persons as in this section first above provided, then said vacancy shall be filled from the list of competent persons named as in this section last above provided, and if said vacancy shall be filled from the said list of eligibles, the said person so appointed shall hold for the balance of the unexpired term, and if the said vacancy be filled from the said list of competent persons, the said person shall hold for the balance of the unexpired term, if the said unexpired term be not longer than one year, but if said unexpired term be longer than one year then such person shall not by virtue of such appointment hold longer than one year from the date of his appointment.

At the expiration of the term of office of the county horticultural commissioner, the state board of horticultural examiners shall submit to the board of supervisors of that county where such term shall have expired a new list of qualified persons who shall have qualified before said board of horticultural examiners by examination as provided in this section, such list to include without further examination any person who has previously qualified before the state board of horticultural examiners, and who has held office as county horticultural commissioner or deputy horticultural commissioner for a term of at least two years immediately preceding the expiration of the term of county horticultural commissioner and in the county where such term shall have expired.

Whenever elsewhere in the laws of this state reference is made to a county board of horticultural commissioners such reference must be understood to mean or relate to the county horticultural commissioner herein provided for and said county board of horticultural commissioners and the members thereof shall cease to exist; provided, that all county boards of horticultural commissioners existing at the time of the passage of this act shall continue in office, with full power as heretofore existing until the election or appointment to succeed them of a county horticultural commissioner under the provisions of this act.

Upon the petition of twenty-five resident freeholders each of whom is possessed of an orchard, greenhouse or nursery, the state board of horticultural examiners may disqualify a county horticultural commissioner for neglect of duty or malfeasance in office after a hearing of the petition. Such hearing must be held at the county seat of the county where such petition is filed, and notice in writing of the time and place of such hearing and a copy of the petition must be served on the accused horticultural commissioner at least ten days prior to the date of said hearing. At such hearing the state board of examiners shall hear such evidence as is offered and thereafter make an order, either sustaining or disqualifying the accused. In case of such disqualification the board of supervisors of the county where the county horticultural commissioner has been disqualified shall upon the request of the state board of horticultural examiners remove said commissioner of horticulture and shall immediately proceed to fill the said office for the unexpired term as in cases of vacancy as hereinbefore provided. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 627.]

§ 2322a. Duty of commissioner. Notice to destroy pests. When pests are on public property. Nonresident owners. Declared a public nuisance. Expense of abating. Lien. Power to abate. Fumigators and sprayers. Certificate. It shall be the duty of the county horticultural commissioner in each county, whenever he shall deem it necessary to cause an inspection to be made of any premises, orchards or nurseries, or trees, plants, vegetables, vines or fruits, or any fruit-packing house, storeroom, salesroom, or any other place or article in his jurisdiction, and if found infected or infested with infectious diseases, scale insects, or codlin moth, or other insect or animal pests injurious to fruits, plants, vegetables, trees or vines, or with their eggs or larvae, or if there is found growing thereon the Russian thistle or saltwort, Johnson grass or other noxious weeds, or red rice, water-grasses or other weeds or grasses detrimental to rice culture, he shall in writing notify the owner or owners, or person or persons in charge, or in possession of the said places or orchards or nurseries, or trees or plants, vegetables, vines, or rice fields, or fields adjacent to rice fields, or canals or ditches used for the purpose of conveying water to rice fields for the irrigation thereof, or fruit, or article as aforesaid, that the same are infected or infested with said diseases, insects, animals or other pests, or any of them or their eggs, or larvae, or that the Russian thistle or saltwort, Johnson grass or other noxious weeds, or red rice, water-grasses or other weeds or grasses detrimental to rice culture, is growing thereon, and require such person or persons, to eradicate, or destroy or to control, to the satisfaction of the county horticultural commissioner the said insects, animals or other pests, or their eggs or larvae, or Russian thistle or saltwort, Johnson grass or other noxious weeds or red rice, or water-grasses, or other weeds or grasses detrimental to rice culture, within a certain time to be therein specified. Said notices may be served upon the person or persons, or either of them, owning or having charge, or having possession of such infested place or orchard or nursery, or trees, plants, vegetables, vines, or fruit, or articles, as aforesaid, or premises where the Russian thistle or saltwort, Johnson grass or other noxious weeds or red rice, water-grasses, or other weeds or grasses detrimental to rice culture, shall be growing, or upon the agents of either, by any commissioner, or by any person deputed by the said commissioner for that purpose in the same manner as a summons in a civil action. In case infectious diseases, scale insects, codlin moth, or other insect or animal pests injurious to fruit, plants, vegetables, trees, or vines, or their eggs, or larvae, are found to exist on trees or shrubs in public parks or along streets, highways, or other property subject to the control of a city or county government, or if there is found growing in any public park, street, highway or on other property subject to the control of a city or county government any Russian thistle, or saltwort, Johnson grass, or other noxious weeds, or red rice, water-grasses, or other weeds or grasses detrimental to rice culture, when said public park, street, highway, or other property subject to the control of the city or county government is adjacent to rice fields, or canals or ditches used for the purpose of conveying water to rice fields for the irrigation thereof, then said notice in writing shall be served on the chairman of the governing body of said city or county, and in case the work of eradication, or of control, or of destruction of the said pests, diseases, or noxious weeds in the said public parks, streets, highways, or other public property shall be performed by the county horticultural commissioner, then the cost thereof shall become a city or county charge, as the case may be, and shall be paid from the general fund of said city or county; provided, however, that if any such infected or infested articles, property or premises as hereinabove specified belong to any person who is not a resident of the county, and there is no person in control or possession thereof, and such nonresident person has no tenant, bailee, depositary or agent upon whom service can be had; or if the owner or owners of any such articles, property or premises cannot after due diligence be found, then such notice may be served by posting the same in some conspicuous place upon such articles, property or premises, and by mailing a copy thereof to the owner thereof at his last known place of residence, if the same is known or can be ascertained; or if not known then to the county seat of the county wherein said property is situated. Any and all such places, or orchards, or nurseries, or rice fields or fields adjacent to rice fields, or canals or ditches used for the purpose of conveying water to rice fields for the irrigation thereof, or trees, plants, shrubs, vegetables, vines, fruits, or articles thus infested or infected, or premises where the Russian thistle or saltwort or Johnson grass or other noxious weeds, or red rice, water-grasses, or other weeds or grasses detrimental to rice culture, or where any squirrels, gophers or other predatory animals shall be found are hereby adjudged and declared to be a public nuisance; and whenever any such nuisance shall exist at any place within his county, and the proper notice thereof shall have been served as herein provided, and such nuisance shall not have been abated within the time specified in such notice, it shall be the duty of the county horticultural commissioner to cause said nuisance to be at once abated, by eradicating, or by controlling, or by destroying said diseases, insects, animals or other pests, or their eggs, or larvae, or Russian thistle or saltwort, or Johnson grass or other noxious weeds, or red rice, water-grasses, or other weeds or grasses detrimental to rice culture. The expense thereof shall be a county charge, and the board of supervisors shall allow and pay the same out of the general fund of the county; any and all sum or sums so paid shall be and become a lien on the property and premises from which said nuisance has been removed or abated in pursuance of this chapter. A notice of such lien shall be filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the said property and premises are situated within thirty days after the right to the said lien has accrued. An action to foreclose said lien shall be commenced within ninety days after the filing and recording of said notice of lien, which action shall be brought in the proper court by the district attorney of the county in the name and for the benefit of the county making such payment or payments, and when the property is sold, enough of the proceeds shall be paid into the county treasury of such county to satisfy the lien and costs; and the overplus, if any there be, shall be paid to the owner of the property, if he be known, and if not, into the court for his use when ascertained.

Whenever a notice of eradication, or of control, or of destruction is served on any person or persons, the county horticultural commissioner may, at his option, cause a copy thereof to be filed for record in the office of the county recorder within which the said property is situated, and if the said property is encumbered with a mortgage, lien, contract, option, bond, or other encumbrance, the said county horticultural commissioner may, at his option, cause a copy thereof to be served on the person or persons holding such encumbrance.

Whenever a lien is filed on a piece of property for the purpose of collection of such sums as have been expended in the eradication, or in the control, or in the destruction of insects, diseases, weeds, or animals found upon such property and a copy of a notice of the eradication, or of the control, or of the destruction shall have been filed in the office of the county recorder of the county wherein such property is situated, and served on the person or persons holding any such encumbrance, as hereinabove provided, then such lien shall take precedence over and be paramount to all other liens upon the said land excepting only the lien of taxes.

The county horticultural commissioner is hereby vested with the power to cause any and all such nuisances to be at once abated in a summary manner.

The county horticultural commissioner shall have power and authority to prescribe and enforce rules for the examination and qualification of fumigators or sprayers who desire to engage in such business for hire, and to issue certificates to all persons whom he shall find by examination or otherwise to be duly qualified for engaging in such work. Such certificate shall be revocable whenever the county horticultural commissioner shall deem such revocation necessary. No person shall be permitted to engage in the business of fumigating or spraying for hire within the state of California for the purpose of controlling or eradicating plant pests or diseases, who has not first secured a certificate in the manner herein provided. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 631.]

§ 2322c. Record and report of commissioner. It is the duty of the said county horticultural commissioner to keep a record of his official doings, and to make a report to the state commissioner of horticulture on or before the first day of October of each year of the condition of the horticultural interests in their several districts, what is being done to eradicate, or to control, or to destroy insect pests, also as to disinfecting, and as to quarantine against insect and other pests and diseases, and as to the carrying out of all laws relative to the greatest good of the horticultural interests, and to furnish from time to time to the state commissioner of horticulture such other information as he may require. Said state commissioner of horticulture may publish such reports in bulletin form or may incorporate so much of the same in his annual report as may be of general interest. It is also made the duty of the county horticultural commissioner to advise himself with reference to all infectious diseases, scale insects or codlin moth or other pests injurious to fruit, plants, vegetables, trees or vines, and with their eggs or larvae and all noxious weeds or grasses or animal pests that may exist in his county or be likely to exist therein and for the purpose of so advising himself and of eradicating and preventing injury from such causes, and for the purpose of advising himself on the best and most efficacious methods of performing his duties and conducting his office he shall attend the annual meeting of the state association of county horticultural commissioners, and such other meetings as the state commissioner of horticulture shall require, and he shall be paid his per diem compensation and traveling expenses while so engaged, or while on any service that requires him to go outside the county when the performance of such service has been authorized by the board of supervisors, or the state commissioner of horticulture. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 634.]

§ 2322d. Salaries of inspectors, deputy and commissioner. The salary of inspectors working under the county horticultural commissioner is three dollars and fifty cents per day, and the necessary traveling expenses. The salary of the deputy shall be five dollars per day when in the actual performance of his duties, and the necessary traveling expenses. In the case of the commissioner himself his compensation shall be fixed by the board of supervisors, either at not less than one thousand eight hundred dollars per year, or at not less than six dollars per day when actually engaged in the performance of his duties. He shall also be allowed the necessary traveling expenses incurred in the discharge of his regular duties as prescribed in this chapter. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 634.]

§ 2322f. Notice of arrival of imported nursery stock, etc. Any person, persons, firm or corporation, who shall receive, bring, or cause to be brought into any county or locality of the state of California from another county or locality within said state any nursery stock, trees, shrubs, plants, vines, cuttings, grafts, scions, buds, or fruit pits, or fruit or vegetables, or seed, for the purpose of planting or propagating the same, or any or all such shipments of nursery stock, trees, shrubs, plants, vines, cuttings, grafts, scions, buds, or fruit pits, or fruit or vegetables, or seed or containers thereof or other orchard appliances, which the county horticultural commissioner or the state commissioner of horticulture may consider liable to be infested or infected with dangerous insect pests or plant diseases or noxious weed seeds and which if so infested or infected would constitute a dangerous menace to the orchards, farms and gardens of the county or state, shall immediately after the arrival thereof notify the county commissioner of horticulture, his deputy, or nearest inspector of the county in which such nursery stock, or fruit or vegetables, or seed, are received, of their arrival, and hold the same without unnecessarily moving or placing such articles where they may be harmful, for immediate inspection by such county commissioner of horticulture, his deputy, inspector, or deputy quarantine officer or guardian. [New section added May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 635.]

§ 2322g. Marking of shipments. Manifests. Each carload, case, package, crate, bale, or bundle of trees, shrubs, plants, vines, cuttings, grafts, scions, buds, fruit pits, or fruit or vegetables, or seed, imported or brought into any county of the state of California from another county within said state for planting or propagation purposes, shall have plainly and legibly marked thereon in a conspicuous manner and place, the name and address of the shipper, owner or owners, or person forwarding or shipping same, and also the name of the person, firm or corporation to whom the same is forwarded or shipped, or his or its responsible agents. A manifest showing the contents of each shipment, also the name of the locality where the contents were grown and a statement of the contents therein shall be made to the county horticultural commissioner having jurisdiction at the point of destination when shipment is made. [New section added May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 636.]

§ 2322h. Infected shipments public nuisance. Shipment disinfected. When returned or destroyed. When disinfected. When any shipment of nursery stock, trees, vines, plants, shrubs, cuttings, grafts, scions, buds, fruit pits, or fruit or vegetables, or seed, imported or brought into any county or locality of the state of California from another county or locality within such state, is found to be infested or infected with any species of injurious insects, or their eggs, larvae or pupae, or other animal or plant diseases or noxious weed seeds which would cause damage or be liable to cause damage to the orchards, vineyards, gardens or farms of any county of the state of California, all material in shipment found to be so infested or infected shall be deemed a public nuisance, shall be refused delivery, and shall be immediately returned to the point of shipment or destroyed, at the option and expense of the owner or owners, or his or their responsible agents. The remainder of such shipment shall be disinfected under the directions of the county horticultural commissioner making such inspection and in a manner as provided for in section two thousand three hundred twenty-two i of this act; provided, however, that when any shipment of nursery stock, trees, vines, plants, shrubs, cuttings, grafts, scions, buds, fruit pits, or fruit or vegetables, or seed or their containers or orchard appliances imported or brought into any county or locality of the state of California from another county or locality within said state, is found to be infested or infected with any species of injurious insects, or their eggs, larvae, or pupae, or other injurious animal or plant diseases or noxious weed seeds not known to exist in the county or locality in which said shipment is delivered, or if there is reasonable cause to presume it may be so infested or infected the entire shipment shall be refused admittance and shall be immediately returned to point of shipment or destroyed at the option and expense of the owner or owners, or his or their responsible agents; provided, further, that when any shipment of nursery stock, trees, vines, plants, shrubs, cuttings, grafts, scions, buds, fruit pits, or fruit or vegetables, or seed, imported or brought into any county or locality of the state of California from another county or locality within said state, is found to be infested or infected with any species of injurious insects or their eggs, larvae or pupae, or plant diseases or noxious weed seeds which are of common occurrence in the county or locality into which it is shipped or transported, and which may be exterminated by such treatment as may be prescribed in section two thousand three hundred twenty-two i of this act and under the direction of the county horticultural commissioner of the county in which it is received, the same may be disinfected or cleaned at the expense of the owner or owners or his or their responsible agents, in a manner satisfactory to the county horticultural commissioner making the inspection, and after such treatment the shipment may be delivered to the consignee. Any and every provision of this act relating to shipment or transportation of nursery stock, trees, shrubs, plants, vines, cuttings, grafts, scions, buds, or fruit pits, or fruit, or vegetables, or seed from one county of the state of California to another county of said state, shall apply equally and identically to such shipment or transportation of such articles from one locality to another locality within the same county of said state. [New section added May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 636.]

§ 2322i. Names of insects, etc., promulgated. Advice on treatment. The state commissioner of horticulture is hereby empowered and directed from time to time to ascertain and determine, and promulgate the names and descriptions of insects, animals and diseases that may cause injury to orchards, vineyards, gardens, fruit or nut bearing or ornamental trees, vines, plants, nursery stock, fruit, nuts, vegetables or seed, and to ascertain, and advise the proper methods of treatment, disposal and disinfection of nursery stock, trees, vines, plants, fruit, nuts, vegetables or seed, and the containers thereof which may be found to be infested or infected with, or which may have been exposed to infection or infestation by any such insect or its eggs, larvae or pupae, or any such animal or plant diseases. [New section added May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 637.]

§ 2322j. Penalty. Any person, persons, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for a period not exceeding six months or by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by both fine and imprisonment. [New section added May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 638.]

§ 2643. Powers of supervisors over roads. [See another section 2643 adopted at the same session of the legislature, post.] The boards of supervisors of the several counties of the state shall have general supervision over the roads within their respective counties. They must by proper order:

1. Survey, etc. Cause to be surveyed, viewed, laid out, recorded, opened, and worked, such highways as are necessary to public convenience as in this chapter provided.

2. Record highways. Cause to be recorded as highways all highways which have become such by usage, dedication or abandonment to the public, or by any other means provided by law, and to prepare and record proper deeds and titles thereto.

3. Abandonment of ways. Abolish or abandon such as are not necessary.

4. Right of way. Acquire the right of way over private property for the use of public highways, and for that purpose require the district attorney to institute proceedings, under title seven, part three, of the Code of Civil Procedure, and to pay therefor from the general road fund or the district road fund of the county.

5. Road tax. Levy a property tax for road purposes.

6. Guide-posts. Cause to be erected and maintained at the intersections and crossings of highways, guide-posts, properly inscribed.

7. Apportionment of road tax. Cause the road tax collected each year to be apportioned to the several road districts entitled thereto, and kept by the county treasurer in separate funds.

8. Audit claims. Audit all claims on the funds set apart for highway purposes, and specify the fund, or funds, from which the whole or any part of any claim, or claims, must be paid.

9. Gates. In their discretion, they may provide for the establishment of gates on the public highways, in certain cases, to avoid the necessity of building road fences, and prescribe rules and regulations for closing the same, and penalties for violating said rules; provided, that the expense for the erection and maintenance of such gates shall in all cases be borne by the party or parties for whose immediate benefit the same shall be ordered.

10. Sprinkling. Roads may be paid for out of general fund. For the purpose of sprinkling the roads in any part of the county with oil or water, the board of supervisors may erect and maintain waterworks and oil tanks and reservoirs, and for such purposes may purchase or lease real or personal property. The costs of such waterworks, oil tanks and reservoirs and the sprinkling of said roads with oil or water may be charged to the general county fund, the general road fund, or the district fund of the district or districts benefited.

Whenever it is determined by a four-fifths vote of the board of supervisors of any county that the public convenience and necessity demand the acquisition or construction of a new road in excess of three miles in length or the grading, regrading, paving or macadamizing of any existing road, in excess of three miles in length, and that the cost of such new road when acquired and constructed, or the cost of grading, regrading, paving or macadamizing such existing road, will be too great to pay out of any of the road funds of the county, the board of supervisors may, by resolution passed by a four-fifths vote of said board, determine to acquire or construct such new road, or grade, or regrade, pave, or macadamize such existing road, and if the cost of such new road when constructed, or the cost of grading, regrading, paving or macadamizing such existing road, when completed, shall exceed five thousand dollars, such cost may be charged to the general county fund, the general road fund or the district fund of the district or districts benefited.

11. Surveyor to submit estimates. Advertising for bids. Form of advertisement. Posting of advertisement. Contractor to pay surveyor. Work costing over five hundred dollars. Whenever it shall be determined that any grading, graveling, macadamizing, ditching, sprinkling, or other work upon highways is necessary, and is to be done, and where the estimated cost of such work amounts to one thousand dollars, the board of supervisors must, by proper order, direct the county surveyor to make definite surveys of the proposed work, and to prepare profiles and cross-sections thereof, and to submit the same with the estimate of the amount or amounts of work to be done, and cost thereof, and with specifications thereof. Said report shall be prepared in duplicate, one copy to be filed in the surveyor's office, and the other to be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors.

The board upon receipt of such report must advertise for bids for the performance of the work specified. Such advertisement for bids must be published for two weeks in two newspapers, one published at the county seat and the other at a point nearest the proposed work.

Such advertisement must be in the following form:

"Office of the clerk of the board of supervisors,

—— county, ——, 19—.

Sealed bids will be received by the clerk of the board of supervisors of —— county, at his office, until —— o'clock — M., ——, ——, 191—, for ——, on ——, in —— district, in —— county.

Specifications for this work are on file in the office of the said board, to which bidders are hereby referred.

—— ——,

Clerk of the board of supervisors of the county of ——."

And such advertisement must also be posted, for at least two weeks prior to the opening of the bids for the proposed work, in three conspicuous places in the district or districts in which the proposed work lies, and one at the site of the proposed work. Bids must be inclosed in sealed envelope, addressed to the clerk of the board of supervisors, and must be indorsed, "Bids for ——," and must be delivered to said clerk prior to the hour specified in the advertisement. The board shall publicly open and read such bids as may be submitted, and must award the contract for the work to the lowest bidder; unless it shall appear to the board that the bids are too high, and the work can be done more cheaply by day labor, in which case the bids must be rejected, and the work ordered done by the road commissioner, or commissioners, in whose district or districts the work may be situated. In case the work shall be let by contract, monthly or quarterly payments may be made thereon upon the receipt of a certified estimate by the county surveyor of the amount of work done during the preceding month or quarter, to the extent of seventy-five per cent of the value of said work, the remaining twenty-five per cent being due on the completion of the work.

The services of the surveyor in making such partial estimates must be paid for by the contractor. Upon the completion of the work, the county surveyor must examine the same, and if completed in accordance with the specifications thereof, he must submit to the board of supervisors a certificate over his signature and official seal to the effect that such work by the contractor therefor, has been completed in accordance with the specifications therefor, and recommending its acceptance.

The board shall thereupon audit the same and direct its payment out of the proper fund or funds.

Whenever the estimated cost of such grading, graveling, macadamizing, ditching, sprinkling, or other work exceeds five hundred dollars and is less than one thousand dollars, the board of supervisors must cause the same to be performed by contract awarded to the lowest bidder, in the same manner as where the estimated cost amounts to one thousand dollars, unless such board shall by resolution passed by a four-fifths vote, determine that it is to the public advantage and convenience not to do such work by contract; in which event, such work shall be done by day labor under the supervision of the county surveyor and the supervisors of the district wherein the work is done.

12. Side paths. In their discretion, they may set apart on any public road or highway a strip of land for a side path, and make an order designating the width of such path and cause the lines separating the path from the road to be located and marked by stakes or posts, placed at such distances apart as they shall deem proper. After said paths have been set apart, and the lines separating the same from the road have been located and marked, as aforesaid, the use of the same is hereby restricted to pedestrians and riders of bicycles and other vehicles propelled solely by the power of the rider.

Expense of erecting and maintaining such path may be charged to the general county fund, the general road fund, and the district fund of the district or districts benefited. [Amendment approved April 25, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 196.]

§ 2643. Power of boards of supervisors over roads. [See another section 2643 adopted at the same session of the legislature, ante.] The boards of supervisors of the several counties of the state shall have general supervision over the roads within their respective counties. They must by proper order:

1. Cause to be surveyed, viewed, laid out, recorded, opened, and worked, such highways as are necessary to public convenience, as in this chapter provided.

2. Cause to be recorded as highways all highways which have become such by usage, dedication or abandonment to the public, or by any other means provided by law, and to prepare and record proper deeds and titles thereto.

3. Abolish or abandon such as are not necessary.

4. Acquire the right of way over private property for the use of public highways, and for that purpose require the district attorney to institute proceedings, under title seven, part three, of the Code of Civil Procedure, and to pay therefor from the general road fund or the district road fund of the county.

5. Levy a property tax for road purposes.

6. Cause to be erected and maintained, at the intersections and crossings of highways, guide-posts, properly inscribed.

7. Cause the road tax collected each year to be apportioned to the several road districts entitled thereto, and kept by the county treasurer in separate funds.

8. Audit all claims on the funds set apart for highway purposes, and specify the fund, or funds, from which the whole or any part of any claim, or claims, must be paid.

9. In their discretion, they may provide for the establishment of gates on the public highways, in certain cases, to avoid the necessity of building road fences, and prescribe rules and regulations for closing the same, and penalties for violating said rules; provided, that the expense for the erection and maintenance of such gates shall in all cases be borne by the party or parties for whose immediate benefit the same shall be ordered.

10. For the purpose of sprinkling the roads in any part of the county with oil or water, the board of supervisors may erect and maintain waterworks and oil tanks and reservoirs, and for such purposes may purchase or lease real or personal property. The costs of such waterworks, oil tanks and reservoirs and the sprinkling of said roads with oil or water may be charged to the general county fund, the general road fund, or the district fund of the district or districts benefited.

Whenever it is determined by a four-fifths vote of the board of supervisors of any county that the public convenience and necessity demand the acquisition or construction of a new road in excess of three miles in length or the grading, regrading, paving or macadamizing of any existing road, in excess of three miles in length, and that the cost of such new road when acquired and constructed, or the cost of grading, regrading, paving or macadamizing such existing road, will be too great to pay out of any of the road funds of the county, the board of supervisors may, by resolution passed by a four-fifths vote of said board, determine to acquire or construct such new road, or grade, or regrade, pave, or macadamize such existing road, and if the cost of such new road when constructed, or the cost of grading, regrading, paving or macadamizing such existing road, when completed, shall exceed three thousand dollars, such cost may be charged to the general county fund, the general road fund or the district fund of the district or districts benefited.

11. Whenever it shall be determined that any grading, graveling, macadamizing, ditching, sprinkling, or other work upon highways is necessary, and is to be done, and where the estimated cost of such work amounts to one thousand dollars, the board of supervisors must, by proper order, direct the county surveyor to make definite surveys of the proposed work, and to prepare profiles and cross-sections thereof, and to submit the same with the estimate of the amount or amounts of work to be done, and cost thereof, and with specifications thereof. Said report shall be prepared in duplicate, one copy to be filed in the surveyor's office, and the other to be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors. The board upon receipt of such report must advertise for bids for the performance of the work specified. Such advertisement for bids must be published prior to the day fixed for the opening of bids, for at least once a week for a period of two weeks in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in said county.

Such advertisement shall be in substantially the following form:

Office of the clerk of the board of supervisors.

—— county, ——, 19—.

Sealed bids will be received by the clerk of the board of supervisors of —— county, at his office, until —— o'clock — M., —— —— 19—, for ——, on ——, in —— district, in —— county.

Specifications for this work are on file in the office of the said board, to which bidders are hereby referred.

—— ——,

Clerk of the board of supervisors of the county of ——.

Bids must be inclosed in sealed envelope, addressed to the clerk of the board of supervisors, and must be indorsed, "Bids for ——," and must be delivered to said clerk prior to the hour specified in the advertisement. The board shall publicly open and read such bids as may be submitted, and must award the contract for the work to the lowest bidder; unless it shall appear to the board that the bids are too high, and the work can be done more cheaply by day labor, in which case the bids must be rejected, and the work ordered done by the road commissioner, or commissioners, in whose district or districts the work may be situated. In case the work shall be let by contract, monthly or quarterly payments may be made thereon upon the receipt of a certified estimate by the county surveyor of the amount of work done during the preceding month or quarter, to the extent of seventy-five per cent of the value of said work, the remaining twenty-five per cent being due on the completion of the work. Upon the completion of the work, the county surveyor must examine the same, and if completed in accordance with the specifications thereof, he must submit to the board of supervisors a certificate over his signature and official seal to the effect that such work by the contractor therefor, has been completed in accordance with the specifications therefor, and recommending its acceptance. The board shall thereupon audit the same and direct its payment out of the proper fund or funds.

Whenever the estimated cost of such grading, graveling, macadamizing, ditching, sprinkling, or other work exceeds five hundred dollars and is less than one thousand dollars, the board of supervisors must cause the same to be performed by contract awarded to the lowest bidder, in the same manner as where the estimated cost amounts to one thousand dollars, unless such board shall by resolution passed by a four-fifths vote, determine that it is to the public advantage and convenience not to do such work by contract, in which event, such work shall be done by day labor under the supervision of the county surveyor and the supervisors of the district wherein the work is done.

12. In their discretion, they may set apart on any public road or highway a strip of land (for a side path), and make an order designating the width of such path and cause the lines separating the path from the road to be located and marked by stakes or posts, placed at such distances apart as they shall deem proper. After said paths have been set apart, and the lines separating the same from the road have been located and marked, as aforesaid, the use of the same is hereby restricted to pedestrians and riders of bicycles and other vehicles propelled solely by the power of the rider. Expense of erecting and maintaining such path may be charged to the general county fund, the general road fund, and the district fund of the district or districts benefited. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1208.]

§ 2646. Highways in charge of supervisors. Whenever any of the highways of a county have been constructed or improved under the provisions of an act entitled "An act providing for the laying out, constructing, straightening, improvement and repair of main public highways in any county, providing for the voting, issuing and selling of county bonds and the acceptance of donations to pay for such work and improvements, providing for a highway commission to have charge of such work and improvements, and authorizing cities and towns to improve the portions of such highways within their corporate limits and to issue and sell bonds therefor," approved March 19, 1907, and all acts amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto, the board of supervisors of said county shall have the charge of the maintenance and repair of said highways and may employ a superintendent or inspector to have charge of the repairing and maintenance of all of said roads under the orders and direction of said board, and may employ such workmen and purchase such materials, equipments, tools and appliances as may be necessary to maintain said roads and keep them in repair, the cost of such maintenance and repair to be paid out of the general fund of the county. Nothing herein contained shall prevent the board from having any such work of repair or maintenance done by contract under the provisions of section two thousand six hundred forty-three, if they deem it advisable. At the option of the board of supervisors, expressed by resolution, the provisions of this section shall apply to such highways of the county as may be specified in such resolution, constructed or improved under the provisions of subdivision ten of section two thousand six hundred forty-three of the Political Code, and paid for out of the general fund of said county. [Amendment approved April 16, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 137.]

§ 2697. Petition to abandon highways. Any ten freeholders, two of whom must be residents of the road district in which some part of the property affected is situated, and who are taxable therein for road purposes, may petition the board of supervisors in writing to vacate, discontinue, abandon and abolish any public highway, road, street, avenue, alley, lane or place, or any part of any such road, street, avenue, alley, lane or place. [Amendment approved March 23, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 24.]

§ 2745. Municipal corporation may be included in road division. Any portion of a county not contained in a permanent road division may be formed into a permanent road division under the provision of this act, and when so formed shall have the powers herein enumerated and such as may hereafter be conferred thereon by law; provided, that a municipal corporation for the purpose of this act shall not be considered a permanent road division and may be included therein. [Amendment approved April 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 144.]

§ 2979a. Duties of coroner regarding contagious diseases. Duties of physician. Duties of state board of health. It is the duty of each coroner, and of every county, city and county, city or town health officer, knowing or having reason to believe, that any case of cholera, plague, yellow fever, malaria, leprosy, diphtheria, scarlet fever, smallpox, typhus fever, typhoid fever, paratyphoid fever, anthrax, glanders, epidemic cerebrospinal meningitis, tuberculosis, pneumonia, dysentery, erysipelas, uncinariasis or hookworm, trachoma, dengue, tetanus, measles, German measles, chickenpox, whooping cough, mumps, pellagra, beriberi, Rocky Mountain spotted (or tick) fever, syphilis, gonococcus infection, rabies, poliomyelitis, or any other contagious or infectious disease exists, or has recently existed, within the city, county, city and county, town, or township of which he is such officer, to take such measures as may be necessary to prevent the spread of such disease, and to report at once in writing such cases to the secretary of the state board of health at Sacramento.

It is also the duty of every attending or consulting physician, nurse, or other person having charge of or caring for any person afflicted with any of said contagious diseases, to report at once in writing to the local health officer the nature of the disease, the name of the person afflicted and the place of his or her confinement; provided, however, that syphilis and gonococcus infection shall be reported by office number only; provided, further, that official records of tuberculosis cases shall be for official use only and not open to private inspection.

The state board of health, or its secretary, upon being informed of any such contagious or infectious disease, may thereupon take such measures as may be necessary to ascertain the nature of such disease and prevent the spread of such contagion, and to that end, said state board of health, or its secretary, may, if deemed proper, take possession or control of the body of any living person, or the corpse of any deceased person, and may direct and take such means as may be deemed expedient to arrest or prevent the further spread of such disease. [Amendment approved April 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 171.]

§ 2984. Rules of state board of health: duty of local officers. Reports to state board. Registration of deaths, enforcement of act for. It shall be the duty of the health officer of each municipality and incorporated town within this state to enforce within such municipality and incorporated town all orders, rules, and regulations concerning health and quarantine, and the registration, certification, and reporting of births, marriages and deaths as prescribed or directed by the state board of health, and it shall be the duty of such health officer to report in writing to the state board of health at such times as said board shall require, all infectious, contagious and communicable diseases in man or beast which shall come to his knowledge, upon blanks furnished by the state board of health. Said health officer, in cases of local epidemic of disease shall report to the state board of health all facts concerning the disease and the measures taken to prevent or abate its spread, infection, or contagion. Every such health officer shall strictly observe and enforce within such municipality or incorporated town the provisions of "An act for the registration of deaths, the issuance and registration of burial and disinterment permits and the establishment of registration districts in counties, cities and counties, cities and incorporated towns, under the superintendence of the state bureau of vital statistics and prescribing the powers and duties of registrars, coroners, physicians, undertakers, sextons and other persons in relation to such registration and fixing penalties for the violation of this act," approved March 18, 1905, and also the provisions of chapter three of title seven of part three (sections three thousand seventy-four to three thousand eighty-four) of the Political Code of the state of California relating to the registration, certification and reporting of marriages, births, and deaths, and shall promptly report to the state board of health all violations of the state health laws and of the law relating to the registration, certification and reporting of marriages, births and deaths which shall come to his knowledge. [Amendment approved April 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 172.]

§ 3061. Health officer appointed. Duties. The board of trustees, council or other legislative body, by whatever name known, of any incorporated city or town of this state, shall by ordinance adopt for the regulation of sanitary matters within the city or town, such rules and regulations relative thereto as are necessary and proper, and not contrary to law, and shall supervise all matters pertaining to the sanitary condition of the city or town; provided, that no part of this section shall be construed to prevent the appointment by the board or council or other legislative body of a board of health which shall be advisory to the health officer.

Every such board or council or other legislative body shall appoint a health officer who shall receive for his services such compensation as may be determined by said appointing body and shall hold office at its pleasure. Immediately after the appointment of the health officer the board or council shall notify the secretary of the state board of health of the appointment and the name and address of the appointee.

Each health officer of an incorporated city or town must:

First—Enforce and observe—

(a) All orders and ordinances of the board of trustees or council of his city or town pertaining to health and sanitary matters.

(b) All orders, quarantine regulations and rules prescribed by the state board of health.

(c) All statutes relating to the public health and to vital statistics.

Second—Report to the secretary of the state board of health at Sacramento at such times as the state board may require:

(a) The sanitary condition of his locality.

(b) The number of deaths, with the cause of each, as near as can be ascertained, within its jurisdiction during the preceding month.

(c) The presence of epidemic or other dangerous, contagious, or infectious diseases and such other matters within his knowledge or jurisdiction as the state board may require. [Amendment approved April 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 171.]

§ 3062. Supervisors may appoint health officer in lieu of board. [Repealed by act approved April 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 144.]

§ 3064. Failure to provide health officer. The board of supervisors must fix the salary or compensation of health officers, and provide for the expenses of enforcing the provisions of this article. If the board of supervisors or board of trustees, council, or other corresponding board of any incorporated town, neglects to provide a health officer by the first day of July, eighteen hundred and eighty-seven, the state board of health may direct the district attorney of the county to begin an action against such board of supervisors, or board of trustees, or corresponding board, to compel the performance of their duty, or may appoint a health officer for such town or city, and the expenses of such health officer shall be a charge against the incorporated city or town for which such appointment shall be made; and when the appointment is made for unincorporated towns, the expenses of the health officer are a charge against the county. [Amendment approved April 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 173.]

§ 3074. Bureau of vital statistics. Duty of state registrar. The state board of health shall maintain, at the city of Sacramento, a bureau of vital statistics for the complete and proper registration of births, marriages and deaths, for legal, sanitary and statistical purposes, which bureau shall be under the supervision of the state registrar of vital statistics. The duty of the state registrar of vital statistics shall be to promulgate and enforce all rules and regulations required to carry out the provisions of this chapter and that may be adopted from time to time by the state board of health. [Amendment approved April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 41.]

§ 3075. Employees of state board of health. There shall be a clerk of the state board of health who shall receive an annual salary of one thousand six hundred dollars, such salary to be paid in the same manner and at the same time as salaries of state officers. The state board of health may employ and fix the compensation of other additional clerical and professional assistants, but such compensation shall be paid from its fund for contingent expenses provided for in the general appropriation act. [Amendment approved May 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 436.]

§ 3366. Power to impose business license tax. Boards of supervisors of the counties of the state, and the legislative bodies of the incorporated cities and towns therein, shall, in the exercise of their police powers, and for the purpose of regulation, as herein provided, and not otherwise, have power to license all and every kind of business not prohibited by law, and transacted and carried on within the limits of their respective jurisdictions, and all shows, exhibitions and lawful games carried on therein, to fix the rates of license tax upon the same, and to provide for the collection of the same by suit or otherwise; provided, that every honorably discharged soldier, sailor, or marine of the United States or confederate states who has served in the Civil War, any Indian War, the Spanish-American War, any Philippine insurrection or in the Chinese relief expedition, who is physically unable to obtain a livelihood by manual labor, and who shall be a qualified elector of the state of California, shall have the right to distribute circulars, and to hawk, peddle, and vend any goods, wares or merchandise, except spirituous, malt, vinous or other intoxicating liquor, without payment of any license tax or fee whatsoever, whether municipal, county or state, and the board of supervisors or legislative body shall issue to such soldier, sailor or marine, without cost, a license therefor; provided, however, no license can be collected or any penalty for the nonpayment thereof enforced against any commercial traveler whose business is limited to the goods, wares, and merchandise sold or dealt in in this state at wholesale.

§ 2. Construction of. This act shall not be deemed to repeal any act vesting municipal corporations with power to license for revenue purposes. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 279.]

§ 3446. Petition for formation of reclamation district. Whenever the holders of title or evidence of title representing one-half or more of any body of swamp and overflowed, salt marsh, or tide-lands, or other lands subject to flood or overflow, susceptible of one mode of reclamation, desire to reclaim the same, they may present to the board of supervisors of the county in which the lands, or the greater part thereof are situated, at a regular meeting of the board, a petition setting forth that they propose to form a district for the reclamation of the same. Said petition must also set forth the following:

(1) A description of the exterior boundaris of the proposed district.

(2) The total number of acres situate within the said exterior boundaries.

(3) The names of each and every owner of record of real property situate within the said exterior boundaries.

(4) The county or counties within which said proposed district lies, and if in more than one county, the number of acres of said district in each county. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1191.]

§ 3447. Verification and publication. The petition must be verified by the affidavit of one of the petitioners, and must be published for two weeks preceding the hearing thereof in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which the greater part of the lands are situated, together with a notice of the time when said petition will be presented to the board of supervisors; an affidavit of publication must be filed with such petition. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1191.]

§ 3449. Hearing. Petition approved. If the board of supervisors find, on the hearing of the petition, that its statements are correct, they must make an order approving the same. If it is shown that any land has been improperly included in the proposed district, they must, in their order, exclude the same therefrom. If the board shall conclude that any lands susceptible of the same mode of reclamation have been improperly omitted from the proposed district, and the owners thereof shall not have appeared at such hearing, the board of supervisors shall by order continue the further hearing of the said petition, and direct that notice shall be given to all such nonappearing landowners, requiring them to appear before said board, and show cause, if any they have, why their lands should not be included in the proposed district. Said notice must be given either by publication in the same manner as the original petition and for the same period or by personal service thereon of each such nonappearing land owner. If such notice be given by personal service, such service must be made at least three days prior to the date fixed for said further hearing. Proof of publication of the said notice or of any such personal service shall be filed with the clerk of said board on or before the day to which such continuance is had.

The board may grant further continuances, by order entered upon its minutes to the end that a full hearing may be had. Upon the final hearing of said matter the board shall make an order approving the said petition, as originally presented, or in a modified form. Such order shall describe the exterior boundaries of the district, as determined by the board, and shall be indorsed upon or attached to the petition, and be signed by the chairman and attested by the clerk of the board. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1192.]

§ 3452. By-laws for government of district. The owners of land embraced in the district, or those owning a majority in acreage thereof, must adopt by-laws, not inconsistent with the laws of the state, for the government and control of the affairs of the district. The by-laws thus adopted must be signed by the holders of certificates of purchase, patents, or other evidences of title, representing a majority in acreage of the land embraced in the district, and must be by them filed for record with the county recorder of the county, and by him recorded in a book kept by him for the purpose of recording instruments and writings relating to reclamation. By-laws thus adopted may be amended at any time in the same manner that the original by-laws were adopted. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1192.]

§ 3453. Election of district trustees. Proceeding to determine legality of district. No proceeding against district existing five years. After the formation of the district and the adoption of by-laws the board of supervisors of the county where the greater part of the district is situated, on the application of any land owner of the district, must call an election in compliance with the provisions of section three thousand four hundred ninety-one of this code, at which election there must be elected under and in pursuance of the provisions of said section three thousand four hundred ninety-one, three eligible persons, each of whom must be the owner of record of land within the said district or a duly authorized representative of a corporation which is an owner of record; who shall constitute, when elected and qualified, the board of trustees of the district, for the management of the affairs thereof, and who shall hold office until their successors are elected and qualified under and in pursuance of the provisions of said section three thousand four hundred ninety-one. From and after the election of said trustees said district shall be deemed organized and shall have power to sue and be sued.

The trustees of any reclamation district may commence a proceeding in the superior court of the county where the greater portion of the district is situated to determine the legality of the existence of such district. The complaint in such proceedings shall describe the district by number and the exterior boundaries thereof, and shall contain a prayer that such district be adjudged a legal reclamation district. The summons in such proceeding shall be served by publishing a copy thereof for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county where any part of said district is situated. Within thirty days after the last publication of said summons any person who may be interested may appear and answer said complaint, in which answer the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of the district shall be set forth. If no answer shall be filed, the court must render judgment as prayed for in the complaint. If any answer shall be filed, the court shall thereafter proceed as in other civil cases, but no district shall be adjudged invalid when it appears that such district has for five years prior to the commencement of such proceeding been prosecuting or maintaining its works of reclamation in good faith. The proceeding under this section is hereby declared to be a proceeding in rem, and the judgment rendered therein shall be conclusive against all persons whomsoever and against the state of California.

No proceeding in quo warranto, nor any similar action, or proceeding, shall be maintained in the name of the people of the state of California against any reclamation district that shall have continuously for five years next preceding the commencement of such proceeding been acting as such and prosecuting or maintaining its works of reclamation in good faith; provided, that this provision shall not affect proceedings that are now pending. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1192.]

§ 3454. Powers of trustees. A. Said board of trustees shall have powers and duties as follows, to wit:

(1) To keep an office in or near the district for the transaction of the business thereof, and, the books, maps, papers, records, contracts, and all other documents pertaining to the affairs of the district must be open to inspection at all times by any person interested.

(2) President. To elect one of its members president of said board of trustees.

(3) Secretary. To elect one of its members or any other person secretary of said board of trustees. It shall be the duty of the secretary to have charge of the office of the board of trustees and to keep the minutes of all meetings and to attest all documents requiring the signature of the president and to keep true and accurate accounts of all expenditures made in behalf of said district, which accounts, and all contracts that may be made by the said board of trustees shall be open to the inspection of the board of supervisors and every person interested.

(4) Money from reclamation board. To receive from the reclamation board any money allowed on account of uncollected assessments previously levied on lands purchased by said board for rights of way, and to distribute said money among the land owners of said district in proportion to their payments on the last assessment-roll or place the same in the county treasury to the credit of said district.

(5) Revolving fund. To create by order duly entered in the minutes of the board of trustees a revolving fund. No warrant for creation or replenishment of this fund shall be paid by the county treasurer unless a bond in double the amount of said fund, signed by the members of the board of trustees with sureties and conditioned as security for the safety and proper disbursement of said fund, approved by the board of supervisors, shall be on file with the county treasurer. Said fund shall be disbursed by checks or drafts, signed by at least two members of the board of trustees, or some person by unanimous vote of the board of trustees authorized to do so. The board of trustees shall within thirty days after any payment from this fund file the vouchers therefor in the office of the county treasurer retaining a duplicate thereof in the office of the secretary of the board of trustees. The board of trustees shall have authority by order entered in the minutes of said board to issue warrants for the creation and replenishment of said fund. No warrant for the replenishment of said fund shall be approved by the board of supervisors or paid by the county treasurer, except to the extent that proper vouchers for previous legal disbursements from said fund have been filed with the county treasurer as hereinbefore provided. Said fund shall not exceed the sum of two thousand dollars. The order creating said revolving fund must receive the unanimous vote of the board of trustees.

Any land owner within the district may maintain an action for the benefit and in behalf of the reclamation district in the superior court of the county in which the district, or any part thereof is situated against any member or members of the board of trustees for any improper disbursement of the funds of the district made with his or their consent and also against the members of the board of trustees and their sureties upon the said bond for any improper disbursement from said revolving fund.

(6) Engineers, etc. To employ engineers and others to survey, plan, locate and report on the works necessary for the reclamation of the lands of the district, and estimate the cost thereof; thereafter, at any time, modify or change such original plan or plans, or adopt new, supplemental, or additional plan or plans, when, in its judgment, the same shall become necessary.

(7) Rights of way, etc. To acquire by purchase, condemnation, gift, or other legal means, whatever real property, rights of way, materials, or labor that it shall deem necessary for the construction of the works of reclamation or necessary or useful in connection with carrying out the original plan or plans of reclamation, or any supplemental or additional plan of reclamation.

(8) Canals, sluices, etc. To acquire by purchase, condemnation, gift, or other legal means, such drains, canals, sluices, bulkheads, water-gates, levees, embankments, pumping plants, and to purchase, construct, or otherwise acquire, maintain, and keep in repair all things reasonably necessary or convenient for the reclamation of the lands embraced in said district either within or without the boundaries of the district.

(9) Labor and machinery. To employ such labor and to purchase and operate or hire such tools, machinery, material and equipment and to make and enter into such contracts and agreements as they shall deem necessary in order to accomplish the proper construction, maintenance, repair or operation of the works of reclamation of the said district.

(10) Disposal of property. To sell, convey, transfer, lease to others or otherwise dispose of such real or personal property belonging to the said district which said board of trustees shall find no longer necessary for the construction, maintenance or operation of the works of reclamation of said district; also to lease to others or to operate for hire any tools or machinery belonging to the said district which is not at the time needed by the district.

(11) Proceedings to determine legality of district. To commence proceedings in the superior court of the county where the greater portion of the district is situate to determine the legality of the existence of such district in the manner provided by section three thousand four hundred fifty-three of this code.

(12) Distribution of funds not needed. To distribute, among the land owners of the district, after having first provided by order duly entered in their minutes, any funds in the treasury belonging to said districts and not needed for the purposes of reclamation, such distribution to be made among the several land owners in the said district in proportion as said owners were assessed on the last assessment made by said district.

(13) Report of plans. To report to the supervisors every original plan, and every new, supplemental or additional plan for the reclamation of the lands within said district in the manner provided by section three thousand four hundred fifty-five of this code.

(14) Cancel warrants. To cancel all warrants of the district not paid within four years after date of issuance unless the payment thereof is extended in the manner provided by section three thousand four hundred fifty-seven of this code.

(15) Collection of assessments. To perform such duties with respect to the collection of assessments as is provided by section three thousand four hundred sixty-six of this code.

(16) Bond elections. To perform such duties with respect to the calling of bond election and the issuance of bonds as is provided in section three thousand four hundred eighty.

(17) Reapportionment of assessments. To reapportion the assessment or assessments upon any tract of land that has been subdivided into smaller parcels in such manner as will charge each of said smaller parcels with a just proportion of the assessment or assessments previously made upon said tract so subdivided, in the manner provided by section three thousand four hundred sixty hereof.

(18) General supervision over works. To exercise a general supervision and complete control over the construction, maintenance and operation of the works of reclamation and generally over the affairs of the district.

(19) Seal. To provide a seal which shall contain the number of the district and the county in which the lands or the greater portion thereof are located and all documents requiring the approval by the board of trustees shall hereafter bear the seal of the district.

(20) General powers. And to do and perform all acts and things which the said trustees may deem advisable, necessary or convenient for constructing, maintaining, or operating the works of reclamation, or accomplishing the purposes for which said reclamation district was formed.

B. Compensation. The several members of the board of trustees shall each be entitled to receive such compensation for services actually and necessarily performed as the said board of trustees may determine to be just and reasonable, and shall be reimbursed for such expenses as they may necessarily incur in the performance of their said duties as trustees. All claims by or in behalf of trustees for services rendered or expenses incurred shall be presented to the board of trustees, and if allowed shall be paid in the same manner as other indebtedness of the district, but no warrants drawn in favor of a trustee shall be valid until approved by the board of supervisors of the proper county. No trustee shall be disqualified from participating in any and all proceedings of the board of trustees, excepting that he shall not cast the deciding vote upon a motion of resolution approving a claim or awarding a contract in favor of himself.

C. Regular meeting. All meetings of the board of trustees at which all trustees are present or of which all members of the said board of trustees shall have received notice in writing of such meeting at least one day prior to the time set for such meeting to convene shall be deemed a regular meeting at which any business may be transacted. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1193.]

§ 3455. Plans to be reported to supervisors. Plans transmitted to reclamation board. Hearing. Notice. Form of notice. Approval of plans. Action final. Amendatory plans. Levees included in plans. The board of trustees of any reclamation district must report to the board of supervisors of the county within which the district, or the greater part thereof, is situate, by filing with the county clerk of said county, two copies of the original plan or plans of the works of reclamation and two copies of every new, supplemental, or additional plan, if any, together with the estimates of the cost of the contemplated works of the district, including incidental expenses, maintenance and repair necessary for the reclamation of the lands of the district in pursuance of any such plan or plans. The term "works of reclamation" as used in this chapter shall include not only such public works and equipment, as are necessary for the unwatering of lands in reclamation districts, but shall also include such like works as may be necessary to water or irrigate the same lands in such districts.

If and when a district is located in whole or in part within the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district, three copies of such plan or plans and estimates shall be filed with the county clerk as aforesaid and the said county clerk shall, within five days after said three copies of such plans and estimates are filed with him, certify to two of said copies and transmit the same to the secretary of the reclamation board.

Upon receipt of said certified copies of said plan or plans, the secretary of the reclamation board shall immediately set a date when the reclamation board will hold a meeting for considering objections, if any, to said plans. All such hearings by the said reclamation board shall be held not less than twenty, nor more than sixty days after the day the secretary of the reclamation board received a certified copy of the said plans. Notice of said hearing before the said reclamation board shall be given by the secretary of said board by publishing a notice of such hearing once a week for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published within said district, then in the county seat of the county within which the said district or the greater part thereof, is situate. Said notice shall be in substantially the following form:

"Notice to the land owners of reclamation district ——.

"Notice is hereby given to the land owners of reclamation district number —— that there has been filed with the county clerk of the county of —— and with the secretary of the reclamation board, original (supplemental or new, as the case may be) plans for the reclamation of lands of said district; that the reclamation board will hold a meeting at its office in the city of Sacramento, county of Sacramento, state of California, on the —— day of ——, A. D. 191—, at —— o'clock, at which time any interested party may appear and object to the said plans."

At said hearing the reclamation board shall hear such evidence as may be offered with respect to said plans, and thereafter shall approve, modify, amend or reject the said plans; provided, however, that the said reclamation board shall not have the power to modify, amend or reject any plans so submitted on the ground that said plans provide for a levee which in their judgment is of excessive strength either in height, slopes or crown width; but no claim for compensation shall thereafter be made against the reclamation board of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district for any part of such levees which said board may consider to be in excess of what is required to comply with its plans for flood control. The reclamation board shall have power to continue or adjourn the said hearing from time to time and shall have authority to cause such investigation and report of said plans to be made by the engineers connected with the reclamation board or by such other competent authority as said board shall deem necessary.

When the said reclamation board shall have taken action approving, modifying, or rejecting any such original, supplemental or new plan of reclamation after a hearing as herein provided, such action shall be final, and thereafter the sufficiency of said plans shall not be subject to attack either before the reclamation board or in any court; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the board of trustees of any district from at any time filing with the county clerk of the county within which the district, or the greater part thereof, is situate, two copies of any amendatory, additional or supplemental plan of reclamation. In the event any such amendatory, additional or supplemental plan of reclamation is filed with the said clerk, a certified copy thereof shall be transmitted to the secretary of the reclamation board, who shall set the time for hearing, and thereafter the same proceedings shall be had and with like effect with respect to said amenda-

The said plan or plans and estimates may include any levees or other reclamation works already constructed or in course of construction and payments therefor may be made to the person or persons who constructed the same, or to the grantee of the lands for the benefit of which such levees or other works of reclamation were constructed by the owner of such lands, and no trustees shall be disqualified to make or approve such plans or estimates because of his ownership of any levee or other reclamation works included in such plan, or the cost of which is embraced in said estimates but he shall be disqualified to vote for the issuance of any warrant or order to himself in payment therefor. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1197.]

§ 3456. Commissioners to assess land. Sums paid to county treasury. A. If and when the said reclamation board shall have approved the plan or plans of the works of reclamation, after a hearing as provided in section three thousand four hundred fifty-five of this code, then the board of trustees of the reclamation district shall so report to the board of supervisors of the county within which the district or the greater part thereof is situate, and shall set forth in their said report the estimated cost of the said works of reclamation, and petition the said board of supervisors to appoint three commissioners who shall have no interest in any real estate within said district, each of whom, before entering upon his duties, shall make and subscribe an oath that he is not in any manner interested in any real estate within said district, directly or indirectly, and that he will perform the duties of a commissioner to the best of his ability. Upon receipt of said petition from the board of trustees the board of supervisors to whom the same was presented must within not more than sixty days appoint said assessment commissioners above referred to. Said commissioners must view and assess upon the land within said district the said sum so estimated and shall apportion the same according to the benefits that will accrue to each tract of land in said district, respectively, by reason of the expenditures of said sums of money, and shall estimate the same in gold coin of the United States. The sums must be collected and paid into the county treasury as hereinafter provided, and be placed by the treasurer to the credit of the district, and paid out for the works of reclamation upon the warrants of the trustees, approved by the board of supervisors, or, if bonds of such district have been issued upon said assessment, then said treasurer shall set the same apart as a separate fund for the purpose of paying the principal and interest of such bonds, and shall not pay any part of the moneys received from such assessment for any purpose other than the payment of the principal and interest of such bonds.

B. Funds for maintenance and repair. Commissioners to prepare assessment list. Hearing. Action in superior court. Amounts needed thereafter. New assessment list. When the work contemplated by the original or any supplemental plan of reclamation of any reclamation district shall have been completed, the trustees may so report to the board of supervisors of the county in which the district, or the greater part thereof is situate, together with a petition to the said board of supervisors to appoint assessment commissioners. Said report and petition shall set forth that the work contemplated by the original or supplemental plan of reclamation has been completed, and that hereafter the said reclamation district will only require funds for the maintenance and repair of the said works of reclamation. Upon filing said report and petition the said board of supervisors shall appoint three commissioners, each of whom shall be similarly qualified, and shall make and subscribe the same oath as is provided hereinabove for commissioners. When so appointed and so qualified such commissioners shall prepare an assessment list, which list shall contain the following information in separate columns:

1. A description of each tract assessed by legal subdivisions, swampland surveys, or other boundaries sufficient to identify the same.
2. The number of acres in each tract.
3. The names of the owners of each tract, if known; and if unknown, that fact; but no mistake or error in the name of the owner or supposed owner of the property assessed, and no mistake in any other particular, shall render the assessment thereof invalid.
4. The assessment valuation per acre of each tract assessed.
5. The total assessment valuations of each said tract.
6. A blank column for rate to be fixed as shown hereinafter.
7. A blank column for amount of assessment to be computed as shown hereinafter.

Thereafter said assessment valuations shall be used as a basis for assessments in raising funds for the maintenance and repair of the works of reclamation and incidental expenses of said district. Said assessment list, when completed, shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors in the same manner as a report made under an original or modified plan of reclamation. Thereupon the said board of supervisors shall appoint a time when it will meet for the purpose of hearing objections; said objections, if any, must be in writing, verified, and filed with the clerk of said board of supervisors. Notice of the said hearing shall be given in the same manner and for the same time as notice of hearing objections to an original assessment. At said hearing, the board of supervisors shall hear such evidence as may be offered in support of said written objections, and may modify or amend the said assessment valuations in any particular. No objections to said assessment valuations shall be considered by the board of supervisors, or allowed in any other action or proceeding, unless said objections shall have been made in writing to the board of supervisors within thirty days after the first publication of notice of hearing objections, if any, to said assessment valuations.

Any person aggrieved by the decision of the board of supervisors may commence an action in the superior court of the county in which the greater part of the said district is situate, to have said assessment valuations corrected, modified or annulled. Such action must be commenced within thirty days after said assessment valuations have been approved by the board of supervisors. If said action shall not be commenced within thirty days, no action of defense shall thereafter be maintained attacking the legality of said assessment valuations in any respect.

Thereafter, whenever in the opinion of the trustees of the district, it shall be necessary to raise any sum for the construction, maintenance or repair of the works of reclamation, or for the incidental expenses of the district, the said board of trustees shall make an order, which order shall be entered in the minutes of the board and shall recite the total amount necessary to be raised and shall fix a rate designating the number of cents to be levied on each one hundred dollars of assessment valuation shown on the list prepared and approved in the manner hereinabove provided.

Thereafter the board of trustees must complete said assessment list by inserting the rate and the total assessment in columns six and seven as provided therefor.

The assessment made in pursuance hereof shall be filed with the county treasurer and thereafter collected in the same manner provided for the collection of any original assessment; provided, however, that the board of trustees may, in their discretion, direct the payment of any such assessment in one installment.

The report of assessment commissioners as herein provided fixing the assessment valuation for reclamation purposes, after having first been approved by the board of supervisors as hereinabove provided, shall continue in force as the basis for raising necessary funds for construction, maintenance and repair of the works of reclamation, and for incidental expenses of the district until the trustees of said district, or the holders of title or evidence of title representing fifteen per cent or more of the lands within the district, shall petition said board of supervisors to make an order directing the commissioners who made the original assessment list or other commissioners, to be named in such order to prepare a new assessment list. Such commissioners must have the same qualifications and take the same oath as the original assessment commissioners.

The assessment list when so prepared by said commissioners shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors, and shall thereafter in all respects be subject to the same provisions as an original assessment list. All provisions of this code relating to collection of assessments and sale of land for delinquent assessments, shall be applicable to assessments levied in accordance with the provisions of this section. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1198.]

—— ——,
Treasurer of —— County.

Approved by the Board of Supervisors of —— County this —— day of ——, 191—.

—— ——,
Chairman of board of supervisors.

Attest:

—— ——
Clerk of board of supervisors.

When registered this warrant bears seven per cent interest annually, computed from its date to the date of payment.

This warrant will outlaw and cannot legally be paid four years after date.

The warrants drawn by the trustees must be presented to the treasurer of the county, and if they are not paid on presentation, such indorsement must be made thereon, and they must be registered and bear interest from their date at the rate of seven per cent per annum, and such warrants are and shall be considered as contracts in writing for the payment of money, and the period prescribed for the commencement of an action based upon said warrants, or connected therewith, is and shall be the term of four years from the date of said warrants; provided, however, that all warrants shall be approved by the board of supervisors before the same shall be paid or registered by the county treasurer.

All warrants shall be paid by the county treasurer strictly in the order in which they shall have been registered.

Whenever a warrant shall have been outstanding one year or more, the board of trustees shall on the demand of the holder of said warrant cancel the same and issue a new warrant for the face value of the old warrant and a separate warrant for the amount of interest then due thereon; or, the board of trustees may allow a claim for the amount of interest due on any warrant so outstanding one year or more and may draw a warrant therefor; upon drawing this warrant they shall indorse on the reverse of the old warrant the fact that interest has been paid to the date of drawing the warrant for interest and the warrant drawn for the interest must state that it is for interest on warrant No. —— to —— (date); the board of trustees shall notify the county treasurer upon drawing these warrants for interest and he shall note on his register of warrants the fact that interest has been paid on such warrants; provided, that any warrant not paid or presented for reissuance may within four years after its date upon the demand of the holder, be extended for a like period of four years, upon presentation to the board of trustees of the district, such extension being indorsed thereon by said board. The board of trustees and the county treasurer may cancel all warrants not paid, reissued or extended within four years after their date.

In case an action or proceeding based upon any warrant or connected therewith, be commenced within four years after the date of such warrant, and final judgment be obtained in favor of the holder or owner thereof, such warrant shall be paid the same as if it had been paid before the expiration of said four years from the date of said warrant.

In any proceeding for a writ of mandate to compel the trustees to issue a warrant, if a controversy arises as to the amount that may be due to the plaintiff, the court must determine the same in the manner provided for determining controversies in other civil actions, and shall cause a writ to issue for such sums as may be found to be due. The date of a warrant shall be the day on which the same is signed by the board of trustees. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1202.]

§ 3459. Additional assessments. If the original assessment is insufficient to provide for the complete reclamation of the lands of the district, or if further assessments are from time to time required to provide for the protection, maintenance and repair of the reclamation works, the trustees may file with the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county in which the district, or the greater part thereof, is situated two copies of the plan of reclamation and a statement of the work done or to be done and its estimated cost, and the same proceeding shall be had thereon as provided in section three thousand four hundred fifty-five for an original plan of reclamation. When said plan shall have been approved by the state board of reclamation, the trustees of the district shall so report to the board of supervisors, and such board must make an order directing the commissioners who made the original assessment, or other commissioners, to be named in such order, to assess the amount of such estimated cost as a charge upon the lands with the district, which assessment must be made and collected in the same manner as the original assessment. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1204.]

§ 3460. Commissioners to make assessment list. The commissioners appointed by the board of supervisors must make a list of the charges assessed against each tract of land; and if there be any error or mistake in the description of the land, or in the name of the owner, or if any land which should be assessed has been or shall be omitted from the list, or if there is any error or mistake in any other respect, the commissioners may amend or correct the same at any time before the lists shall have been approved by the board of supervisors as hereinafter provided. When any tract of land upon which an assessment or assessments shall have been made shall be subdivided into smaller parcels, the board of trustees of the district shall reapportion the assessment or assessments upon such tract in such manner as will charge each of said smaller parcels with a just proportion of assessment or assessments previously made upon said tract so subdivided. Said board of trustees shall file with the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county a list or lists of the charges assessed against each of said parcels. Said reapportionment shall be approved by the board of supervisors in the manner provided in section three thousand four hundred sixty-two of this code. Said lists after such approval shall be filed with the county treasurer of the county and shall have the same effect as on original assessment. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1204.]

§ 3462. List filed with clerk of supervisors. Objection to assessment. Action in superior court. Said lists, when completed, shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county. The board of supervisors shall appoint a time when it will meet for the purpose of hearing objections to said assessment, and notice of such hearing shall be given by publication for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in said county.

At any time before the date of such hearing, any person interested in any land upon which any charge has been assessed may file written objections to such assessment, stating the grounds of such objections, which said statement shall be verified by the affidavit of such person, or some other person who is familiar with the facts. At said hearing the board of supervisors shall hear such evidence as may be offered in support of said written objection and may modify or amend the said assessment in any particular, or make a reapportionment of the entire assessment. If the amount of any assessment in said list shall be changed, the board of supervisors shall set a day for hearing objections to said assessment as changed, and shall give notice thereof by publication for two weeks in some newspaper published in the county. At such hearing objections in writing may be made by any person interested, and the board of supervisors shall proceed to hear the same in the same manner as upon the original hearing. If the amount of any assessment shall again be changed the board of supervisors shall proceed as before to give notice and to hear objections thereto, and shall proceed in a similar manner until the amount of each assessment shall be finally fixed and approved. The board of supervisors shall then make an order approving said assessment, and shall indorse such order upon said assessment list, which said indorsement shall be signed by the chairman of said board of supervisors and attested by the clerk thereof, and such decision of said board of supervisors shall be final, and thereafter said assessment list shall be conclusive evidence that the said assessment has been made and levied according to law, except in an action commenced as hereinafter provided. The lists shall then be filed with the county treasurer, or, if the district is situated in more than one county, then the original list must be filed in the county where the greater portion of the lands of said district is situated, and copies thereof certified by the treasurer must be filed with the treasurer of each of the other counties.

No objection to such assessment shall be considered by the board of supervisors, or allowed in any other action or proceeding, unless such objection shall have been made in writing to the board of supervisors as above specified.

Any person aggrieved by the decision of the board of supervisors may commence an action in the superior court of the county in which the greater part of said district is situated to have said assessment corrected, modified or annulled. Such action must be commenced within thirty days after said assessment list has been filed in the office of the county treasurer. If said action shall not be commenced within thirty days, no action or defense shall thereafter be maintained attacking the legality of said assessment in any respect.

The provisions of this section shall apply in all respects to an assessment list made under the provisions of subdivision B of section three thousand four hundred fifty-six. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats 1917, p. 1204.]

§ 3463. Charges assessed become lien. When the board of supervisors shall have finally taken action modifying or approving any assessment liens as provided in section three thousand four hundred fifty-five of this code, the charges assessed thereby upon tracts of land within the county shall constitute a lien thereon and shall impart notice thereof to all persons.

When the board of trustees of any reclamation district shall cause assessment lists to be prepared and filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors whereon they shall assess any sum necessary to be raised to the several tracts of land within the said district in the manner provided in the second paragraph of said section three thousand four hundred fifty-five, the charges so assessed upon any said tract shall constitute a lien thereon and shall impart notice thereof to all persons.

No subsequent act or conduct of the trustees of the reclamation district shall invalidate any such assessment, after the same shall have become a lien in the manner herein provided, but such trustees may be compelled by mandate, or other proper proceeding, to perform their duties as required by law. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1206.]

§ 3465. Payments. The lists must remain in the office of the county treasurer for thirty days; and during the time they so remain any person may pay the amount of the charge assessed against any tract of land to the county treasury in gold coin of the United States or in warrants of the district drawn by order of the trustees thereof, and approved by the board of supervisors of the county. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1206.]

§ 3466. Collection of unpaid assessments. Sale of property. Purchase by district. Redemption. At the end of thirty days unless bonds shall have been authorized the treasurer must return the list to the board of trustees of the district, and all unpaid assessments shall thereafter bear interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum. Thereafter all unpaid assessments and accrued interest shall be collected by and paid to the county treasurer, or the board of trustees may designate an agent to effect such collection who shall deposit said moneys with the county treasurer to the credit of the district. Whenever the board of trustees shall appoint an agent to collect assessments, they shall require that such agent give a bond in such an amount as they may consider sufficient for the faithful performance of his duties. All such payments shall be made in separate installments, of such amounts, and at such times, respectively, as the said board, from time to time, in its discretion by order entered in its minutes may direct. Upon making such order the secretary shall also enter in the minutes of the board a notice in substantially the following form:

(Name of reclamation district, location or principal place of business.) Notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the board of trustees held on the (date), an installment of (amount) was ordered paid within sixty days from date thereof to —— at ——. Any installment which shall remain unpaid on the (day fixed) will be delinquent together with the accrued interest thereon.

The notice must be personally served upon each owner of land in said district, or in lieu of personal service, must be sent through the mail addressed to such owner at his place of residence, if known or entered upon the assessment-roll of the county, and if not known, at the place where the principal office of the district is situated, or be published once a week for two weeks successively in some newspaper of general circulation and devoted to the publication of general news, within the district, and if no such newspaper be published within the district then publication may be made in some newspaper published in the county seat of the county where the greater portion of said district is situated.

If any such installment shall remain unpaid at the expiration of said sixty days from the date of the order, then the whole remaining uncalled portion of said assessment shall become delinquent together with the accrued interest thereon and a penalty of ten per cent of the amount of said installment and interest shall be added thereto and collected for the use of the district.

Immediately after the said installment has become delinquent, the trustee of the district must publish in one notice a list of all of said delinquencies at least once a week for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county where said district or the greater part thereof is situated, which notice shall contain a description of the property assessed, the name of the person to whom it is assessed, or a statement that it is assessed to unknown owners, if such is the fact; the amount then due on said property, and a notice that the property assessed will be sold on the date therein stated, in front of the courthouse of said county to pay the amount then due on said property. The date of said sale shall be not less than ten days after the date of the last publication of said notice. And at said time stated in said notice, or such other time to which said sale may have been postponed, the trustees must sell said property to the highest bidder for gold coin of the United States. Out of the proceeds of said sale the trustees must pay the amount due on said property as shown in said notice to the county treasurer who shall place the same in the proper funds of said district. The trustees must pay to the owner of said property any surplus remaining after such payment to the county treasurer. The trustees may postpone said sale from time to time for not less than ten nor more than thirty days at any one time by a written notice posted at the place of sale.

If no bid is made for said property equal to the amount due thereon, the district shall become the purchaser, and the said property must be struck off to the district for said amount. A certificate of such sale shall be executed by the trustees to the purchaser, or to the district, if the property shall have been struck off to the district, and said certificate of sale shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of said county. Any person interested in said property may redeem the same at any time within one year after the date of said sale, by paying to the county treasurer the amount for which said property was sold, and interest on the said sums at the rate of two per cent per month from the date of said sale.

If no redemption shall be made within said one year, the purchaser, or the district, if said property shall have been sold to the district, shall be entitled to a deed executed by said trustees, and the effect of such deed shall be to convey said property free of all liens and encumbrances, excepting state, county and municipal taxes, and any subsequent district assessment. The trustees may sell said property at any time at public auction after notice given for the said period and in the same manner as is herein provided for sales for delinquent assessments, but not for a sum less than the amount for which said property was sold, together with any subsequent assessment and the deed executed in pursuance of such sale shall convey said property free of all encumbrances, except state, county and other municipal taxes. Assessments heretofore made in any reclamation district shall be validated and collected in the manner provided by law at the time such assessments were made. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1208.]

§ 3467. Work of reclamation to be done under direction of trustees. [Repealed May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1208.]

§ 3480. Reclamation district may issue bonds. Special election and conduct of. Evidence of ownership and value. Bonds and coupons. Sale of bonds. Notice. Action to determine bonds legal obligation. Warrants. Bonds legal investment. Additional assessment and bonds. Installments. Delinquency. Sale of property. Whenever in any reclamation district in this state, now formed or which may hereafter be formed, any assessment has been levied and assessed upon the lands of said district, and remains unpaid in whole or in part, where in the judgment and opinion of the board of trustees of said district it would be for the best interest of said district or the land owners therein to issue bonds for the purpose of obtaining money to pay the costs of reclamation, the indebtedness of the district, or any other legal charge, or when a petition signed by the owners of more than one-half of the land in the district is filed with the secretary of the board, the board of trustees of such district shall by order entered upon the records of said board, order a special election to be held at some place in said district to be designated by said board of trustees, at which said special election shall be submitted to the owners of land in said district the question of whether or not bonds of said district shall be issued in an amount equal to the amount of such assessment, or the part of such assessment remaining unpaid, which said amount shall be entered by said board of trustees in its records and stated by them in the order for such special election.

For all purposes of this article relating to signing petitions and by-laws and voting at any election of reclamation districts the equalized assessment-roll for the year last preceding, in each county wherein any land of the district is situated shall be sufficient evidence of ownership and of value of lands in the district as hereinafter provided. Guardians, executors, administrators and other persons holding land in a trust capacity under appointment of court may sign such petitions or by-laws or may vote without obtaining special authority therefor.

Notice of such special election must be given by the board of trustees by posting notices thereof in at least three public places in the district at least twenty-one days prior thereto, and also by publication for the same length of time in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which any portion of said district may be situated; and such notice must specify the time and place of holding such election, the aggregate face value of bonds proposed to be issued and the names of three landholders of the district to act as a board of election. Affidavits of the publication and posting of such notice must be filed with the county clerk of the county in which said district or the greater part thereof is situated (herein designated as the main county), together with a copy of said order calling the election, certified by the president of the board of trustees.

At such election each owner of lands in the district shall be entitled to vote in person or by proxy and shall have the right to cast one vote for each dollar's worth of real estate owned by him in the district, such value and ownership thereof to be determined from the next preceding assessment-roll of the county or counties in which the lands of said district are situate, and the board of trustees of the district shall, prior to the election, cause to be prepared and certified by the proper officer and furnished to the board of election, a true and correct copy of the said next preceding assessment-roll of the said county or counties, which said certified roll shall be used by the said board of election in determining the number of votes each voter is entitled to cast. Executors, administrators, special administrators and guardians may cast the votes of the estates represented by them.

No person shall vote by proxy at such election unless authority to cast such vote shall be evidenced by an instrument in writing, duly acknowledged and certified in the same manner as grants of real property and filed with the board of election. The ballots cast at such election shall contain the words: "Bonds—yes," or the words "Bonds—no," and also the name of the person casting the ballot with the number of votes cast by him. A list of the ballots cast shall be made by the board of election, containing the name of each voter, and, if the ballot be cast by proxy, the name of the person casting it, and the number of votes cast by each, and whether the same be cast for or against the issuing of the bonds.

If any person appointed as a member of the board of election shall fail to attend at the opening of the polls, the voters then present may appoint in his place any landholder of the district. Each member of such board of election, must, before entering upon his duties take and subscribe an official oath, which oath may be administered by an officer authorized to administer oaths or by any landholder in the district. The polls shall be kept open from ten o'clock A. M. of the day of election until four o'clock P. M. At the close of the polls the board of election shall at once proceed to canvass the votes and declare the result and shall forward a certificate showing such result and the number of votes cast for and against the issuing of bonds, to the county clerk of the main county, and shall deliver a duplicate thereof to the board of trustees of the district, and shall also deliver to the said county clerk of the main county all ballots cast at such election and all documents and papers used at such election. Any person interested may contest such election within twenty days after such filing of said certificate with the said county clerk by bringing suit in the superior court of the main county; otherwise the declaration of the result by the board of election shall be final and conclusive.

If a majority of the votes cast at such election are in favor of the issuance of bonds, the board of trustees of the district shall cause bonds in the amount stated in the order for the election to be executed and delivered, together with the assessment list, to the treasurer of said main county. Said bonds shall be of the denomination of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars each; they shall be signed by the president of the board of trustees of the district and attested by the county auditor of said main county, and shall be numbered consecutively in the order of their maturity, and shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum, payable semiannually on the first day of January and the first day of July in each year at the office of said county treasurer upon the presentation of the proper coupons therefor. Coupons for each installment of interest shall be attached to said bonds and shall bear the facsimile signature of the county auditor. The principal of said bonds shall be made payable on the first day of July, or the first day of January, and in such years as the trustees may prescribe, but said bonds shall be payable serially within twenty years from their date in the manner following, to wit:

(1) Not less than ten per centum of the aggregate face value of bonds issued shall be payable within ten years from their date.

(2) Not less than ten per centum of the aggregate face value of bonds remaining unpaid at the end of ten years shall be payable each year beginning with the eleventh year from their date, until the whole amount of said bonds has been paid. Said bonds shall be substantially in the following form:

United States of America.

State of California.

County of ——.

No. ——. $——.

Reclamation District No. ——.

Reclamation District No. ——, for value received hereby acknowledges itself indebted to and promises to pay to the holder hereof at the office of the treasurer of said —— county, in the state of California, on the first day of —— 19—, the sum of $——, in gold coin of the United States of America, with interest thereon in like gold coin from date hereof until paid, at the rate of —— per cent, per annum, payable at the office of said treasurer semi-annually on the first day of January and the first day of July in each year on presentation and surrender of the interest coupons hereto attached. This bond is one of a series of —— bonds of like tenor and effect, except as to denomination and maturity, numbered from —— to —— inclusive, amounting in the aggregate to —— dollars, issued in accordance with section three thousand four hundred eighty of the Political Code of the state of California pursuant to an election held in said reclamation district on the —— day of ——, 19—, authorizing its issuance, and is based upon and secured by an assessment levied on the lands in said district, and filed in the office of the county treasurer of said county of —— on the —— day of ——, 19—, and the said reclamation district does hereby certify and declare that said election was duly called and held upon due notice, and the result thereof was duly canvassed and ascertained, in pursuance of and in strict conformity with the laws of the state of California applicable thereto, and that all of the acts and conditions and things required by law to be done, precedent to and in the issue of said bonds have been done and have been performed in regular and in due form and in strict accordance with the provisions of the law authorizing the issuance of reclamation bonds.

In testimony whereof, the said district, by its board of trustees, has caused this bond to be signed by the president of said board and attested by the auditor of said county of —— with his seal of office affixed this —— day of ——, 19—.

—— ——,

President of said board.

Attest: —— ——.

Auditor of the county of ——, State of California.

And the interest coupons may be substantially in the following form:

No. ——. $——.

The county treasurer of —— county, California, will pay to the holder hereof on the —— day of ——, 19—, at his office in said county of —— the sum of $—— in gold coin of the United States out of the funds of Reclamation District No. —— for interest on bond of said district numbered ——.

—— ——,

County auditor.

The treasurer of said main county shall place the bonds prepared pursuant to this act to the credit of the district. Thereafter when directed by resolution of the trustees of the district, the treasurer of said county may sell the whole or any designated number of said bonds for the best price obtainable therefor, but in no event for less than ninety per cent of the face value of said bonds and the accrued interest thereon. Before making a sale of said bonds, notice shall be given by the said county treasurer by publication at least once a week for two weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in said main county, that he will sell a specified amount of said bonds, and stating the day, hour and place of such sale, and asking sealed proposals for the purchase of said bonds, or any part thereof. At the time appointed the county treasurer shall open the bids and award the bonds to the highest responsible bidder. He may, and upon written request of a majority of the trustees must, reject any and all bids. Any sale by the county treasurer and delivery of the bonds thereunder shall be conclusive evidence in favor of the purchaser and all subsequent holders of the bonds that such sale was made upon due authority and notice. The proceeds of sale of said bonds shall be placed in the county treasury to the credit of said district, and a proper record of such transaction shall be made upon the books of said county treasurer. At any time within thirty days after said bonds shall have been delivered to the treasurer of the county, an action may be commenced in the superior court of said main county by the trustees of said reclamation district in its name against the lands in said district and all persons owning the same or interested therein, to have it determined that said bonds are a legal obligation of such reclamation district, and in the event no such action is brought then the same may be commenced by any land owner in the district within thirty days thereafter. It shall be sufficient to describe said lands as all lands in the district (naming it) without a more specific description. The summons shall be published once a week for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the action is pending. Within thirty days after the first publication of summons any owner of land in such district, or any person interested, may appear and answer the complaint, which answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of said bonds. The default of all defendants not so appearing may be entered. Such action shall be given precedence in hearing and trial over all other civil actions in such court, and judgment rendered declaring such matter so contested either valid or invalid. Any party not in default may have the right to appeal to the supreme court within thirty days, after entry of judgment. Judgment for the plaintiff in such proceedings shall be considered as a judgment in rem and shall be conclusive against said district and against all lands therein and all owners thereof and other interested persons.

The board of trustees of said district may draw warrants upon the said county treasurer against the funds provided by sale of bonds, which said warrants shall be approved by the board of supervisors of said main county.

All moneys collected by any county treasurer upon any assessment upon which bonds shall have been issued, including all moneys derived from sale of land for delinquent installments, or from redemption thereof, or from sale of lands bought by the treasurer at any such sale, shall be by such treasurer forthwith paid into the main county treasury to the credit of the bond fund of such reclamation district, and shall be used exclusively for the payment of principal and interest of said bonds issued on such assessment.

The bonds of reclamation districts issued pursuant to this act which have been investigated and certified by any officer of this state now or hereafter authorized to make such investigation and certification and by the authority of which certification are declared to be legal for investments by savings banks of this state may be lawfully purchased, or received in pledge for loans by savings banks, trust companies, insurance companies, guardians, executors, administrators and special administrators, or by any public officer or officers of this state or of any county, city or city and county or other municipal or corporate body within this state having or holding funds which they are allowed by law to invest or loan.

If the trustees deem it advisable they may order a special election to be held prior to making an assessment, to determine whether or not bonds shall be issued for an amount to be stated in the order for such election, but no bonds shall, in such instance, be issued until an assessment for the amount of the bonds authorized at such election shall have been made and filed with the county treasurer.

The lien of any unpaid assessment upon which bonds shall have been issued shall continue until all said bonds shall have been paid in full, and if for any reason any part of such principal or interest of said bonds shall remain unpaid after enforcement of said assessment as in this article provided, the board of supervisors of the main county shall order an additional or supplemental assessment to be made as provided in section three thousand four hundred fifty-nine, sufficient to pay such unpaid principal and interest; which additional or supplemental assessment shall be enforced and collected in the same manner as the original assessment.

If any district having authorized the issuance of a series of bonds shall issue an additional series of bonds based on another assessment, the dates of maturity of such additional series of bonds shall be such that the latest maturities thereof shall not exceed thirty years and the earliest maturity of bonds of such additional series shall be later than the latest maturity of bonds of any earlier series. All provisions of this section relative to the original issue of bonds shall apply to such additional series of bonds so far as applicable and also so far as applicable shall affect existing reclamation districts as well as those hereafter formed.

Any district which has issued bonds of different denominations, may, by an order entered in its minutes, upon request of holders thereof, and upon the deposit of the bonds issued and outstanding with the board of trustees, issue to the holders of such deposited bonds, bonds of the district in the same form but in different denominations, but having the same aggregate face value and maturity. Such bonds shall be executed by all of the persons who are required by law to execute the original bonds for which such exchange is made, and the said bonds so deposited shall be thereupon canceled by the treasurer of the main county and the board of trustees of the district.

Whenever in any reclamation district in the state a bond issue of said district has been authorized prior to this amendment then the provisions of this section hereby amended in respect to the manner of procedure by which the assessments are called in to meet payments on account of principal or interest of such bonds, and also the provision herein contained by which the assessment shall continue in full force and effect as constituting a lien upon the several tracts of land within said district under the provisions of section three thousand four hundred sixty-three of this code until the principal and interest of all bonds issued on the basis of said assessment shall have been paid in full, shall apply to and inure to the benefit of the bonds which may have been issued by any reclamation district in this state prior to the date of the enactment of this amendment.

Upon a sale of any of the bonds provided herein the county treasurer of the main county is hereby authorized to accept in payment for said bonds, either in whole or in part, outstanding warrants of such district at their face value, together with the accrued interest thereon.

Where bonds of the district have been authorized to be issued on such assessments all unpaid assessments shall bear interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum from the date of the bonds issued thereon until such bonds shall have been fully paid and discharged, and the interest due at any time on said unpaid assessments may be called without calling any installment of the said assessment. The word installment as used in this section shall be construed as applying to interest as well as the principal as the case may be.

At least ninety days before any interest date of the bonds, the county treasurer of the main county shall estimate the amount of money necessary to pay interest and principal maturing on such interest date after crediting thereon the funds in the treasury applicable to the payment thereof, and shall add thereto fifteen per cent of such aggregate sum to cover possible delinquencies, and said county treasurer shall thereupon cause to be published once a week for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in said county a notice substantially in the following form:

(Name of reclamation district.) Notice is hereby given that an installment of assessment (describing it) of (amount or proportion thereof including interest thereon or only for interest) is payable within thirty days from (date) by all assessed land owners of said district in the county of (name of county) to the treasurer of said county. All or any part of said installment or interest which shall remain unpaid on the (day fixed) will be delinquent, together with accrued interest thereon, with twenty per cent of such installment and interest added as penalty.

Dated (date).

(Signed) —— ——

Treasurer of —— county.

If no newspaper is published in said county, such publication shall be made in a newspaper published in an adjoining county. If any part of such installment or any interest thereon shall remain unpaid at the expiration of thirty days from the date of said notice, it shall become delinquent and twenty per cent of the unpaid amount of said installment and interest shall be added thereto and collected by said treasurer. When any installment shall have become delinquent, said treasurer shall within ten days publish once a week for two weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in said county (or if no newspaper is published therein, then in a newspaper published in an adjoining county), a notice containing a description of each parcel of land assessed in the district in said county whereon such installment is delinquent, as such description appears on the assessment list, the name of the person to whom it is assessed, to unknown owners if such is the fact; the amount of the installment delinquent on such parcel, the amount of interest thereon reckoned to the day of sale, the amount of said twenty per cent penalty thereon, and a notice that each of said parcels will be sold at public auction by said county treasurer in front of the courthouse of said county, at a specified day and hour which shall not be less than thirty days nor more than sixty days from the date of delinquency, to pay said delinquent installment, with said accrued interest and penalty. At the time stated in said notice, the county treasurer shall sell each parcel of land described in said notice to the highest bidder, unless prior thereto he shall have received payment in full of said delinquent installment together with such interest and penalty. No bid for any parcel shall be accepted less than the aggregate sum then due on said installment thereon, with interest and penalty, and such sale shall be made for cash (except the treasurer may receive from any purchaser at their face value in lieu of cash, bonds of said district or their interest coupons, issued on said assessment and then matured or to mature within sixty days after such sale). Any bond or coupon so received in payment shall be by the treasurer forthwith canceled and filed in the office of the treasurer of the county wherein the greater part of the land of the district is situated, hereinafter called the main county. If the entire amount of any such bond or coupon tendered in payment shall not be required to complete payment of the purchase money, the treasurer shall indorse thereon as paid, the amount of such purchase money credited thereon. If no bid is made for any parcel at such sale equal to the amount of the installment delinquent thereon, with interest and penalty, the treasurer shall bid in and sell said parcel to himself and his successors in office, as trustee of the bond fund of said district, as purchaser, for the amount of said installment, interest and penalty. The treasurer shall execute to each purchaser, including himself as a trustee, a certificate of sale, and shall record a duplicate in the county recorder's office. Any person interested in the said property may redeem the same at any time within one year after the date of sale, by paying to the county treasurer for such purchaser a sum equal to the purchase price stated in the certificate, with interest thereon at the rate of twelve per cent per annum from the date of sale to such redemption. If no redemption shall be made within one year, the treasurer upon demand and surrender of such certificate of purchase, shall execute to the purchaser, his heirs or assigns, a deed of conveyance of the parcel of land described in such certificate, which deed shall convey to the grantee therein named the said land free and clear of all encumbrances, except state, county and municipal taxes, and except any portion of any reclamation assessment remaining unpaid at the date of said sale; each installment whereof may be called and collected as herein provided, except that no parcel sold and conveyed to the district shall thereafter be subject to sale by the treasurer for delinquent installments. Every deed by a county treasurer purporting to be executed under this section shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of the matters therein recited, and of ownership by the grantee to the lands therein described. The treasurer of the main county shall credit to the bond fund of the district all money collected by him by sale or otherwise, upon assessments against which bonds shall have been issued, including interest and penalties, and all moneys received by him from treasurers of other counties upon account of such assessments, and he shall likewise credit to said fund the amounts of purchase money paid in bonds or coupons on sales made for said assessment by himself or reported to him by any other treasurer. Each treasurer shall charge to the general fund of the district, or to its bond fund if he has no money to the credit of its general fund, the expense of publication of notices and of recording certificates of sale. The treasurer of any county other than the main county shall without delay account for and transmit to the treasurer of the main county all money collected by him upon any assessment by sale or otherwise, deducting his expenses of publication and recording and shall also transmit all canceled bonds and coupons received in payment on any delinquent sale, and a memorandum of all sums indorsed as paid upon account of purchase money on any bonds or coupons, specifying the same. All moneys collected by any treasurer upon account of an assessment on which bonds shall not have been issued shall be similarly accounted for and transmitted to the treasurer of the main county, and shall be credited by him to the general fund of the district. Any parcel of land bid in and purchased by a treasurer as aforesaid, as trustee of the bond fund of the district, may be sold and conveyed by him or his successor in office at any time after the expiration of said redemption period of one year, at public or private sale and with or without notice, to any person paying him the amount for which said parcel was bid in by said treasurer at delinquent sale, with interest thereon at the rate of seven per cent per annum, compounded yearly, from the date of said delinquent sale, and also the amount of all subsequent installments then delinquent, with accrued interest and penalties thereon. Such payment may be made either in cash or in matured bonds and coupons issued on said assessment, taken at their face value, and the treasurer shall execute a deed to such purchaser upon such sale, conveying said property free of encumbrance except state, county and municipal taxes, and the unpaid balance of said assessment. If any land so held by a county treasurer as trustee of the bond fund of a district shall remain unsold after the final installment of the assessment shall have been collected by payment or sale, then each such treasurer shall sell all said land so held by him at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, upon two weeks published notice, and shall deposit the proceeds of such sale in the treasury of the main county, to the credit of the bond fund of the district. Any balance remaining in such bond fund, after payment in full of the principal and interest of all outstanding bonds of the district, shall be by the treasurer transferred to the general fund of the district.

In the event that ownership of any property in the district is changed after the making of the last assessment-roll for the district, the owner thereof shall be entitled to vote thereon upon production of the original or of certified copy of the record thereof in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the property is situate. Any person not legally qualified to vote who shall make any false statement in respect to his right to vote shall incur all of the penalties provided in the Penal Code of the state of California for persons illegally voting at elections. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1181.]

§ 3513. Nonpayment of principal and interest on state lands. Certificate of purchase void, when. Land excepted. Notice of forfeiture. In case payment is not made within fifty days, the lands described in the survey or location revert to the state without suit, and the survey or location is void. All subsequent payments must be made to the county treasurer, in like manner, who must indorse the same upon the certificate of purchase. The treasurer must direct the purchaser to take the certificate of purchase so indorsed to the auditor, who must charge the treasurer with the amount received, and make his check upon the indorsed receipt. If any interest on the unpaid portion of the purchase price of said lands, be not paid on or before the thirtieth day of June following the first day of January upon which such interest becomes due, ten per centum of the amount thereof is hereby added as a penalty for such delinquency. If such delinquent interest, and penalty, be not paid on or before the thirty-first day of December of such year an additional penalty of ten per centum of the amount of such delinquent interest is hereby imposed upon the person or persons liable for the payment thereof. If such delinquent interest, and penalties, be not paid on or before the thirtieth day of June of the year following, the certificate of purchase shall ipso facto become null and void, and the lands described therein revert to the state without suit, and shall again become subject to entry and sale in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as apply to other state lands of like character. In the event of the happening of the contingency last mentioned, all moneys previously paid on account of the purchase price of such lands, whether for principal or interest, shall become, and are hereby determined and declared to be forfeited to the state, and neither such delinquent purchaser nor anyone claiming under him shall be entitled to recover the same or any part thereof. The penalties and forfeitures herein provided for shall not apply to any land for which certificates of purchase were issued prior to May first, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eleven, nor to lands within any reclamation district, after certificate of the board of supervisors that works of reclamation have been commenced in such district has been filed in the register's office. Whenever any penalty, or penalties, hereby imposed has, or have, accrued, the treasurer must in all cases collect the full amount thereof before indorsing his receipt upon such certificate, and the auditor must ascertain such fact before appending his check thereto. Immediately following the thirtieth day of June, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eighteen, and annually thereafter, the register of the state land office shall note upon his records all forfeitures herein and hereby declared, and shall forward to the recorder of each county wherein any of said lands may be situate a notice of such forfeiture, stating therein the name and postoffice address of the purchaser, and the name and postoffice address of the assignee, grantee, or successor in interest of such purchaser in all cases wherein notice of any assignment of such certificate of purchase, or of any conveyance or other transfer of title to any part of the lands therein described shall have been filed in his office prior to the date of such forfeiture, such notice shall also show the number and date of the survey or location and of the certificate of purchase, and shall contain a description of the lands affected thereby. It shall be the duty of the recorder to receive and file such notice and to record the same in a book of deeds. Such notice is, from the time it is filed in the recorder's office, constructive notice of the contents thereof to subsequent purchasers and mortgagees, and to all other persons who may thereafter attempt to acquire any interest in, or lien upon, any of the lands in such notice described. [Amendment approved April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 64.]

§ 3607. Property subject to taxation. All property in this state, except as otherwise provided in the constitution of this state, is subject to taxation. Nothing in this code shall be construed to require or permit double taxation. [Amendment approved May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 427.]

§ 3608. Shares of stock in corporations. Shares of stock in corporations possess no intrinsic value over and above the actual value of the property of the corporation which they stand for and represent. The assessment and taxation of such shares, and also of all corporate property would be double taxation. All property belonging to corporations shall be assessed and taxed, in the manner provided by law; but no assessment shall be made of shares of stock in any corporation except as prescribed in the constitution of this state and the laws enacted pursuant to such provisions of the constitution. [Amendment approved May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 427.]

§ 3627. Assessed at full cash value. All taxable property must be assessed at its full cash value. Land and improvements thereon shall be separately assessed. Cultivated and uncultivated land, of the same quality, and similarly situated, shall be assessed at the same value. [Amendment approved May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 428.]

§ 3628. Assessment of taxable property. Except as otherwise provided in the constitution of this state, all taxable property shall be assessed in the county, city, city and county, town, township, or district in which it is situated. Land shall be assessed in parcels, or subdivisions, not exceeding six hundred forty acres each; and tracts of land containing more than six hundred forty acres, which have been sectionized by the United States government, shall be assessed by sections or fractions of sections. Land sold by the state for which no patent has been issued, shall be assessed the same as other land, but the owner shall be entitled to a deduction from such assessed valuation in the amount due the state as principal upon the purchase price. The assessor must, between the first Mondays in March and July of each year, ascertain the names of all taxable inhabitants, and all the property in his county subject to taxation, except such as is required to be assessed by the state board of equalization and must assess such property to the persons by whom it was owned or claimed, or in whose possession or control it was, at twelve o'clock meridian of the first Monday in March next preceding; but no mistake in the name of the owner or supposed owner of real property shall render the assessment thereof invalid. In assessing solvent credits, not secured by mortgage or trust deed on real estate, a deduction therefrom shall be made of debts due to bona fide residents of this state. [Amendment approved May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 428.]

§ 3629. Statement of property owned. The assessor must exact from each person a statement, under oath, setting forth specifically all the real and personal property owned by such person, or in his possession, or under his control, at twelve o'clock M. on the first Monday in March. Such statement shall be in writing, showing separately:

1. All property belonging to, claimed by, or in the possession or under the control or management of such person.

2. All property belonging to, claimed by, or in the possession or under the control or management of any firm of which such person is a member.

3. All property belonging to, claimed by, or in the possession or under the control or management of any corporation of which such person is president, secretary, cashier, or managing agent.

4. The county in which such property is situated, or in which it is liable to taxation, and, if liable to taxation in the county in which the statement is made, also the city, town, township, school district, road district, or other revenue districts in which it is situated.

5. An exact description of all lands, in parcels or subdivisions, not exceeding six hundred forty acres each, and the sections and fractional sections of all tracts of land containing more than six hundred forty acres, which have been sectionized by the United States government, improvements and personal property, including all vessels, steamers, and other watercraft; and all taxable state, county, city, or other municipal or public bonds, and the taxable bonds of any person, firm, or corporation, and deposits of money, gold-dust, or other valuables, and the names of the persons with whom such deposits are made, and the places in which they may be found.

6. All solvent credits, unsecured by deed of trust, mortgage, or other lien on real or personal property, due or owing to such person, or any firm of which he is a member, or due or owing to any corporation of which he is president, secretary, cashier, or managing agent, deducting from the sum total of such credits such debts only, unsecured by trust deed, mortgage, or other lien on real or personal property, as may be owing by such person, firm, or corporation to bona fide residents of this state. No debts shall be so deducted unless the statement shows the amount of such debt as stated under oath in aggregate. Whenever one member of a firm, or one of the proper officers of a corporation, has made a statement showing the property of the firm or corporation, another member of the firm, or another officer, need not include such property in the statement made by him; but his statement must show the name of the person or officer who made the statement in which such property is included. [Amendment approved May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 429.]

§ 3641. Property of firm or corporation assessed where situated. [Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 429.]

§ 3643. Ferries. A ferry-boat is a vessel traversing across any of the waters of the state, between two constant points, regularly employed for the transfer of passengers and freight, authorized by law so to do. Where ferries connect more than one county, the wharves, storehouses, and all stationary property belonging to or connected with such ferries, must be assessed, and the taxes paid, in the county where located. The value of all watercraft, and of all toll bridges connecting more than one county, must be assessed in equal proportions in the counties connected by such ferries or toll bridges. [Amendment approved May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 429.]

§ 3650. Assessment-book. Listing of property. The assessor must prepare an assessment-book, with appropriate headings as directed by the state board of equalization, in which must be listed all property within the county, and which shall show under the appropriate head:

1. The name and postoffice address, if known, of the person to whom the property is assessed.

2. Land, by township, range, section, or fractional section; and when such land is not a congressional division or subdivision, by metes and bounds, or other description sufficient to identify it, giving an estimate of the number of acres, not exceeding in any tract six hundred forty acres, locality, and the improvements thereon. When any tract of land is situated in two or more school, road, or other revenue districts of the county, the part in each such district must be separately assessed. The improvements to be assessed against the particular section, tract, or lot of land upon which they are located; city and town lots, naming the city or town, and the number of the lot and block, according to the system of numbering in such city or town, and the improvements thereon.

3. All property within the limits of an incorporated city or town shall be assessed in an assessment-book separate and distinct from the assessment-book containing the assessment of property situate outside the limits of such incorporated city or town; or, if but one assessment-book is used, then in a separate and distinct part of such book; provided, that all property assessed shall be arranged on the assessment-book by elementary school districts, as such districts are legally formed and exist on the first Monday in March of each year; provided, further, that where any school district embraces property situate both within and without the limits of an incorporated city or town, such property shall be assessed and kept separate and distinct on the assessment-book.

4. All personal property, showing the number, kind, amount, and quality; but a failure to enumerate in detail such personal property does not invalidate the assessment.

5. The cash value of real estate.

6. The cash value of improvements on such real estate.

7. The cash value of improvements on real estate assessed to persons other than the owners of the real estate.

8. The cash value of all personal property, exclusive of money.

9. The amount of money.

10. Taxable improvements owned by any person, firm, association, or corporation, located upon land exempt from taxation, shall, as to the manner of assessment, be assessed as other real estate upon the assessment-book. No value shall, however, be assessed against the exempt land, nor under any circumstances shall the land be charged with or become responsible for the assessment made against any taxable improvements located thereon.

11. The school, road, and other revenue districts in which each piece of property assessed is situated.

12. The total value of all property.

13. In entering assessments containing solvent credits subject to deductions, as provided in section three thousand six hundred twenty-eight of this code, he must enter in the proper column the value of the debts entitled to exemption and deduct the same. In making the deductions from the total value of property assessed, as above directed, he must enter the remainder in the column provided for the total value of all property for taxation.

14. Such other things as the state board of equalization may require. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1643.]

§ 3663. Water ditches. Water ditches constructed for mining, manufacturing, or irrigation purposes, and wagon and turnpike toll roads, must be assessed the same as real estate by the assessor of the county, at a rate per mile for that portion of such property as lies within his county. [Amendment approved May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 430.]

§ 3664. Taxes for state purposes. Taxes levied, assessed and collected as hereinafter provided upon railroads, including street railways, whether operated in one or more counties; sleeping-car, dining-car, drawing-room car and palace-car companies, refrigerator, oil, stock, fruit, and other car-loaning and other car companies operating upon railroads in this state; companies doing express business on any railroad, steamboat, vessel, or stage line in this state; telegraph companies; telephone companies; companies engaged in the transmission or sale of gas or electricity; insurance companies; banks, banking associations, savings and loan societies, and trust companies; and taxes upon all franchises of every kind and nature, shall be entirely and exclusively for state purposes, and shall be assessed and levied by the state board of equalization, and collected in the manner hereinafter provided. The word "company" and the word "companies" as used in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state and in the sections of this code enacted to carry the same into effect shall include persons, partnerships, joint stock associations, companies, and corporations [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 337.]

Old section 3664, relating to statements by officers of corporations to the state board of equalization, was repealed in 1917 (Stats. 1917, p. 336).

§ 3664a. Public utilities to pay state tax. Percentage of gross receipts. 1. All railroad companies, including street railways, whether operated in one or more counties; all sleeping-car, dining-car, drawing-room car and palace-car companies, all refrigerator, oil, stock, fruit, and other car-loaning, and other car companies, operating upon the railroads in this state; all companies doing express business on any railroad, steamboat, vessel, or stage line in this state; all telegraph and telephone companies; and all companies engaged in the transmission or sale of gas or electricity shall annually pay to the state a tax upon their franchises, roadways, roadbeds, rails, rolling stock, poles, wires, pipes, canals, conduits, rights of way, and other property, or any part thereof, used exclusively in the operation of their business in this state, computed as follows: Said tax shall be equal to the percentages hereinafter fixed upon the gross receipts from operation of such companies and each thereof within this state.

2. Companies partly within and without state. When such companies are operating partly within and partly without this state, the gross receipts within this state shall be deemed to be all receipts on business beginning and ending within this state, and a proportion, based upon the proportion of the mileage within this state to the entire mileage over which such business is done, of receipts on all business passing through, into, or out of this state.

3. Percentages. The percentages above mentioned shall be as follows: On all railroad companies, including street railways, five and one-fourth per cent; on all sleeping-car, dining-car, drawing-room car, palace-car companies, refrigerator, oil, stock, fruit, and other car-loaning, and other car companies, three and ninety-five hundredths per cent; on all companies doing express business on any railroad, steamboat, vessel or stage line, nine-tenths of one per cent; on all telegraph and telephone companies, four and two-tenths per cent; on all companies engaged in the transmission or sale of gas or electricity, five and six-tenths per cent.

4. In lieu of other taxes. Such taxes shall be in lieu of all other taxes and licenses, state, county, and municipal, upon the property above enumerated of such companies except as otherwise provided in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state.

5. "Municipal" defined. The word "municipal" as used in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state and in the sections of this code enacted to carry the same into effect shall apply to incorporated towns and cities formed under article eleven of the constitution of this state and to none other. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 337.]

§ 3664b. Tax on gross premiums of insurance companies. Every insurance company or association doing business in this state shall annually pay to the state a tax of two per cent upon the amount of the gross premiums received upon its business done in this state, less return premiums and reinsurance in companies or associations authorized to do business in this state; provided, that there shall be deducted from said two per cent upon the gross premiums the amount of any county and municipal taxes paid by such companies on real estate owned by them in this state. This tax shall be in lieu of all other taxes and licenses, state, county, and municipal, upon the property of such companies, except county and municipal taxes on real estate, and except as otherwise provided in the constitution of this state; provided, that when by the laws of any other state or country, any taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees, deposits of money, or of securities, or other obligations or prohibitions, are imposed on insurance companies of this state, doing business in such other state or country, or upon their agents therein, in excess of such taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees, deposits of money, or of securities, or other obligations or prohibitions, imposed upon insurance companies, of such other state or country, so long as such laws continue in force, the same obligations and prohibitions of whatsoever kind must be imposed by the insurance commissioner upon insurance companies of such other state or country doing business in this state. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 337.]

§ 3664c. Tax on bank stock. 1. The shares of capital stock of all banks, organized under the laws of this state, or of the United States, or of any other state and located in this state, shall be assessed and taxed to the owners or holders thereof by the state board of equalization, in the manner hereinafter provided, in the city or town where the bank is located and not elsewhere. There shall be levied and assessed upon such shares of capital stock an annual tax, payable to the state, of one and sixteen hundredths per centum upon the value thereof. The value of each share of stock in each bank, except such as are in liquidation, shall be taken to be the amount paid in thereon, together with its pro rata of the accumulated surplus and undivided profits. The value of each share of stock in each bank which is in liquidation shall be taken to be its pro rata of the actual assets of such bank.

2. In lieu of other taxes. This tax shall be in lieu of all other taxes and licenses, state, county, and municipal, upon such shares of stock and upon the property of such bank, except county and municipal taxes on real estate and except as otherwise provided in the constitution of this state.

3. Value of real estate deducted. In determining the value of the capital stock of any bank there shall be deducted from the value, as defined above, the value, as assessed for county taxes, of any real estate, other than mortgage interests therein, owned by such bank and taxed for county purposes.

4. Banks liable for tax. The banks shall be liable to the state for this tax and the same shall be paid to the state by them on behalf of the stockholders in the manner and at the time hereinafter provided, and they shall have a lien upon the shares of stock and upon any dividends declared thereon to secure the amount so paid.

5. Tax on unincorporated banks. The moneyed capital, reserve, surplus, undivided profits, and all other property belonging to unincorporated banks or bankers of this state, or held by any bank located in this state which has no shares of capital stock, or employed in this state by any branches, agencies, or other representatives of any banks doing business outside of the state of California, shall be likewise assessed and taxed to such banks or bankers by the said board of equalization; in the same manner as above provided for incorporated banks, and taxed at the same rate that is levied upon the shares of capital stock of incorporated banks, as provided in the first paragraph of this section.

6. Branch of bank doing business outside of state. In the case of a branch, an agency, or other representative of any bank doing business outside of this state, the capital of said branch, agency, or representative used in this state shall be taken to be the average amount owed by the said branch, agency, or representative to the bank of which it is a branch, agency, or representative during the year ending the first Monday in March. The value of said property shall be determined by taking the entire property invested in such business, together with all reserve, surplus, and undivided profits, at their full cash value, and deducting therefrom the value as assessed for county taxes of any real estate, other than mortgage interests therein, owned by such bank or banker and taxed for county purposes. Such taxes shall be in lieu of all other taxes and licenses, state, county and municipal, upon the property of the banks and bankers mentioned in this section, except county and municipal taxes on real estate, and except as otherwise provided in the constitution of this state. All moneyed capital and property of the banks and bankers mentioned in this paragraph shall be assessed and taxed at the same rate as an incorporated bank, provided for in this section. In determining the value of the moneyed capital and property of the banks and bankers mentioned in this section, the said state board of equalization shall include and assess to such banks all property and everything of value owned or held by them which would go to make up the value of the capital stock of such banks and bankers, if the same were incorporated and had shares of capital stock.

7. "Banks" defined. The word "banks" as used in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state and in the sections of this code enacted to carry the same into effect shall include banking associations, unincorporated banks and bankers, branches, agencies or other representatives of any banks doing business outside of the state of California, savings and loan societies, and such trust companies, as conduct the business of receiving money on deposit, but shall include building and loan associations. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 338.]

§ 3664d. Assessment and tax of franchises. All franchises, other than those of the companies mentioned in sections three thousand six hundred sixty-four a, three thousand six hundred sixty-four b, and three thousand six hundred sixty-four c of this code, shall be assessed at their actual cash value, after making due deduction for goodwill, in the manner hereinafter provided, and shall be taxed at the rate of one and two-tenths per centum each year, and the taxes collected thereon shall be exclusively for the benefit of the state. These franchises shall include the actual exercise of the right to be a corporation and to do business as a corporation under the laws of this state and the actual exercise of the right to do business as a corporation in this state when such right is exercised by a corporation incorporated under the laws of any other state or country, also the right, authority, privilege, or permission to maintain wharves, ferries, toll roads, and toll bridges, and to construct, maintain or operate, in, under, above, upon, through or along any streets, highways, public places, or waters, any mains, pipes, canals, ditches, tanks, conduits or other means for conducting water, oil, or other substances. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 338.]

§ 3665. Municipal franchises and privileges. Nothing in any section of this code shall be construed to release any company from the payment of any amount agreed to be paid or required by law to be paid, now or hereafter, for any special privilege or franchise granted by any of the municipal authorities of this state. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 340.]

The old section 3665, relating to the assessment of railway franchises and property, was repealed in 1917 (Stats. 1917, p. 336).

§ 3665a. "Gross receipts from operation" defined. Hearing on claim of double taxation. 1. The term "gross receipts from operation" as used in section three thousand six hundred sixty-four a of this code is hereby defined to include all sums received from business done within this state, during the year ending the thirty-first day of December last preceding, including the company's proportion of gross receipts from any and all sources on account of business done by it within this state, in connection with other companies described in said section.

Any company claiming that the levy of the percentage fixed by section three thousand six hundred sixty-four a of this code on the total gross receipts of such company results in double taxation of the property of such company, may make application to the state board of equalization for a hearing on such matter. Said board shall have power to take evidence and determine the facts with respect to such claim and in event said board finds the claim of such company to be true, said board may authorize such company to deduct from its reported gross receipts that amount of such receipts which, if included in such total gross receipts, would cause such double taxation.

2. Companies partly within and without state. In case of companies operating partly within and partly without this state, the gross receipts within this state shall be deemed to be all receipts on business beginning and ending within this state, and the proportion based upon the proportion of the mileage within this state to the entire mileage over which such business is done, of receipts on all business passing through, into or out of this state.

3. No deductions allowed. No deduction shall be allowed from the gross receipts from operation for commissions, rebates, or other repayments, except only such refunds as arise from errors or overcharges; nor shall any deduction be allowed for payments from gross receipts to other companies for any purpose whatsoever, except such refunds as arise from errors or overcharges.

4. Income from nonoperative property not included. Income derived from property not defined in this section and in sections three thousand six hundred sixty-four a, three thousand six hundred sixty-five b and three thousand six hundred sixty-five c of this code as operative property shall not be included in the gross receipts for the purpose of determining the tax on the property and franchises provided for in section three thousand six hundred sixty-four a of this code. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 341.]

§ 3665b. "Operative property." The term "operative property" as used in any section of this code shall include:

(a) Railroad companies. In the case of railroad companies, including street railways: The franchises, roadway, roadbed, rails, rolling stock, rights of way, sidings, spur-tracks, switches, signal systems, cranes and structures used in loading and unloading cars, fences along the right of way, poles, wires, conduits, power lines, piers, used exclusively in the operation of the railroad business, depot grounds and buildings, ferry-boats, tugs and car-floats used exclusively in the operation of the railroad business; machine-shops, repair-shops, roundhouses, car barns, power-houses, substations, and other buildings, used in the operation of the railroad business and so much of the land on which said shops, houses, barns, and other buildings are situate as may be required for the convenient use and occupation of said buildings.

(b) Car companies. In the case of sleeping car, dining car, drawing-room car and palace-car companies, refrigerator, oil, stock, fruit, and other car-loaning, and other car companies operating upon railroads in this state: The franchises, cars, and other rolling stock.

(c) Express companies. In the case of companies doing express business on any railroad, steamboat, vessel, or stage line in this state: The franchises, cars, trucks, wagons, horses, harness, and safes.

(d) Telegraph and telephone companies. In the case of telegraph and telephone companies doing business in this state: The franchises, rights of way, poles, wires, pipes, conduits, cables, switchboards, telegraph and telephone instruments, batteries, generators, and other electrical appliances, and exchange and other buildings used in the telegraph and telephone business and so much of the land on which said buildings are situate as may be required for the convenient use and occupation of said buildings.

(e) Gas and electric companies. In the case of companies engaged in the transmission or sale of gas or electricity: The franchises, towers, poles, wires, pipes, canals, tunnels, ditches, flumes, aqueducts, conduits, rights of way, dams, reservoirs, water and water rights used exclusively in the business of the transmission or sale of gas or electricity; transformers, substations, gas-holders, gas and electric generators, switches, switchboards, meters, electrical and gas appliances, oil-tanks, power plants, power-houses, and other buildings and structures used in the operation of the business of the transmission or sale of gas or electricity and so much of the land on which said buildings and structures are situate as may be required for the convenient use and operation of said buildings; provided, that the operative property of the companies enumerated in this section, shall also include any other property not above enumerated that may be reasonably necessary for use by said companies exclusively in the operation and conduct of the particular kinds of business enumerated in section three thousand six hundred sixty-four a of this code. The operative property mentioned in subdivisions (a), (b), (c), (d), and (e), of this section shall not be subject to taxation for county, municipal, or district purposes except as otherwise provided for in the constitution and laws of this state; provided, however, that when any piece or parcel of property in this state owned by any of the companies mentioned in section three thousand six hundred sixty-four a of this code is used partially by such company for any use reasonably necessary to the operation of any of the lines of business enumerated in said section and such property is also partially rented to or used by others or is partially used by the company for some other lines of business not among those so enumerated, or for purposes not reasonably necessary to the operation of any of said enumerated lines of business, it shall be considered operative property in that proportion only which that part of the property mentioned in this proviso used by the company in the operation of any of said enumerated lines of business bears to the whole of the property mentioned in this proviso.

2. Construction property nonoperative. Any property of the classes mentioned in this section owned by a company constructing a new railroad, street railway, telegraph or telephone system, or plant or system for the transmission or sale of gas or electricity, no part of which new road, line, plant or system is in operation, and the same classes of property when held by an operating company solely for the construction of a new railroad or railway line, a new telegraph or telephone system, or a new plant or system for the transmission or sale of gas or electricity, and not to be used for betterments or additions to roads, lines, plants, or systems already under operation, shall not be considered operative property and shall be subject to assessment and taxation for county, municipal, and district purposes. Any part of such property of any company mentioned in this section shall be classed and assessed as operative property when the state board of equalization shall determine that such property is rendering a substantial public service.

3. Rules of state board of equalization. The state board of equalization shall have power to make rules and issue instructions not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of this state for the guidance of assessors in determining what is operative property and what is nonoperative property of companies named in this section. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 341.]

§ 3665c. Annual report by companies. Such person or officer, as the state board of equalization may designate, of each of the companies mentioned in section three thousand six hundred sixty-four a of this code, shall within ten days after the first Monday in March of each year, file with the said board a report signed and sworn to by one or more of said persons or officers, showing in detail for the year ending the thirty-first day of December last preceding, the various items as follows:

1. Name, etc. The name of the company, its nature, whether a person or persons, a partnership (with names of partners), an association, or corporation, and under the laws of what state, territory or country organized, the nature of its business, the location of its principal place of business, the names and postoffice addresses of its president, secretary, auditor, treasurer, superintendent, and general manager, the location of its principal place of business in this state, the name and postoffice address of its chief officer or managing agent in this state, and the names and addresses of all subsidiary companies whose property and business are operated by it and the names and addresses of any company of which it may be subsidiary.

2. Operative property. Each of the companies mentioned in said section shall report, in such detail as the state board of equalization shall prescribe, all of its property in this state which comes under the definition of operative property in section three thousand six hundred sixty-five b of this code. When any such company operates both within and without this state it shall report the mileage over which it operates both within and without this state. It shall also report the location of said property within this state by counties, cities and counties, municipalities, and districts, in such manner and in such detail as said board of equalization shall prescribe. It shall also, at the same time, furnish a duplicate of the report covering so much of said property as is located in any county, city and county, municipality, or district, to the assessor of the county, city and county, city or district in which such property is located.

The state board of equalization may require the filing in its office of maps descriptive of all the operative property of any such companies, and may prescribe the form and size of such maps and the details to be shown therein, and may require that similar maps descriptive of the operative property within each county, city and county, municipality, or district, shall be filed in the assessor's office in each county, city and county, city, or district in which any of said property is located.

3. Capital stock. The amount of capital stock issued, and the amount of money received therefor, showing separately the capital stock issued and the money received therefor of the operating company and of each subsidiary company in this state.

4. Dividends. The dividends paid during the year ending the thirty-first day of December last preceding, the surplus fund, if any, on said thirty-first day of December, or between such periods as the state board of equalization may determine, those of the operating company and of each subsidiary company in this state to be shown separately.

5. Debts. The funded and floating debts and the rate of interest thereon, showing separately the debts of the operating company and of each subsidiary company in this state, on the thirty-first day of December last preceding.

6. Value of stock. The market value of the stock and of the outstanding bonds, or, when said stock or bonds have no market value, the actual value thereof, for such periods and for such dates as the state board of equalization shall prescribe.

7. Improvements. The amounts expended for improvements during the year ending the thirty-first day of December last preceding, how expended and the character of the improvements.

8. Gross receipts. The gross receipts from operation within this state for the year ending the thirty-first day of December last preceding, the gross receipts from such classes of business as the state board of equalization may designate, to be reported separately; also, where the property and business are partly within and partly without this state, the gross receipts for said period on all business beginning and ending entirely within this state, and that proportion of the gross receipts from all business passing through, into, or out of this state, which the mileage within this state bears to the total mileage over which such interstate business is done as further defined in section three thousand six hundred sixty-five a of this code.

9. Expenses. The operating and other expenses.

10. Profit and loss. The balances of profit and loss, between such periods as the state board of equalization may determine.

11. Other matters. Subsidiary companies. Defined. Such other matters as the state board of equalization may deem necessary in order to enable it to assess and levy the taxes provided for in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state.

Each such company shall include in its report the property and business of all subsidiary companies as that term is hereinafter defined in this section, whose property and business are operated by it, whether by virtue of a lease, an operating contract or agreement, of by virtue of control through the ownership of stock or otherwise, even though such subsidiary companies maintain an independent legal existence and separate accounts.

The term "subsidiary company" is hereby defined as applying to a company which is merged in the operating system of an operating company in any of the ways above stated, whose property and franchises would be taxable under section three thousand six hundred sixty-four a of this code if the same were operated independently. No separate report need be rendered by a subsidiary company whose property, franchises, and operations are fully and completely covered by the report of an operating company, unless the state board of equalization shall deem such a separate report necessary.

Each such company operating the property or business of a subsidiary company in some line of business to which a different percentage of the gross receipts is applied by said section from that applied by said section to the gross receipts of the operating company, shall report such receipts of the subsidiary company separately. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 343.]

§ 3666. Notice by assessor of property regarded nonoperative. Hearing. 1. If any assessor finds in the report of the operative property in his county, city and county, municipality, or district, furnished to him by any of the companies as required in section three thousand six hundred sixty-five c of this code, any piece or parcel of property which he regards as nonoperative property, or partially operative and partially nonoperative, he shall, within thirty days after receiving such report, notify the state board of equalization thereof by mail, which notice shall contain a general description of the property and the assessor's reasons for regarding the same as nonoperative property. He shall also mail a copy of the notice to the company whose property is involved. The said board shall investigate the nature of the property and its use, and, if an agreement between the said board, the assessor, and the company as to the proper classification of such property cannot be reached, then the said board shall, under such rules of notice as it may deem reasonable, set a date for a hearing, at which the assessor and the company may be present or represented. At such hearing the board shall, from the evidence presented and from the best information it can obtain decide the matter in dispute, and determine whether such property is operative or nonoperative or in what proportion operative and in what proportion nonoperative. The said board shall enter its decision in its minutes, and shall send a copy thereof to the county assessor and the company, and also to the proper officer of any municipality affected thereby. Said decision shall be binding upon all parties, the state, the county, city and county, municipality, or district, and the company, unless set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction, and each such assessor must note the decision on his assessment-roll, and must assess such property accordingly.

2. Notice by state board of equalization of property regarded nonoperative. Hearing. If the state board of equalization shall find in the report of operative property furnished to said board by any company under the provisions of section three thousand six hundred sixty-five c of this code, any piece or parcel of property which said board regards as nonoperative property, or partially operative and partially nonoperative, the board shall, within thirty days after receiving such report, notify said company thereof in writing, which notice shall contain a general description of the property and the reasons for regarding the same as nonoperative. It shall also mail a copy of the notice to any assessor in whose county, city and county, municipality, or district the property is located. If an agreement between the said board, the assessor, and the company as to the proper classification of such property cannot be reached, then the said board shall, under such rules of notice as it may deem reasonable, set a date for a hearing, at which the assessor and the company may be present or represented. At such hearing the board shall, from the evidence presented and from the best information it can obtain, decide the matter in dispute, and determine whether such property is operative or nonoperative, or in what proportion operative and in what proportion nonoperative. The said board shall enter its decision in its minutes, and shall send a copy thereof to the county assessor and the company, and also to the proper officer of any municipality affected thereby. Said decision shall be binding upon all parties, the state, the county, city and county, municipality, or district, and the company, unless set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction, and each such assessor must note the decision on his assessment-roll and must assess the property accordingly. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 345.]

Old section 3666 relating to the record of assessment of railways was repealed May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 336.

§ 3666a. Report by insurance commissioner. List of companies subject to additional tax. Statements by companies to insurance commissioner. The insurance commissioner of this state must on or before the last day of March in each year make and file with the state board of equalization a report showing:

1. All companies, domestic and foreign, and all firms, associations, or persons, engaged in the business of insurance in this state.

2. The total amount of the gross premiums received from its business in this state by each of said companies, firms, associations, and persons during the year ending the thirty-first day of December last preceding.

3. The amount of return premiums paid on business done in this state and the amount of reinsurance on business done in this state paid to other insurance companies or associations authorized to do business in this state, by said companies, firms, associations, and persons, during said year.

4. The amount of any county and municipal taxes paid during said year by such companies on real estate owned by them in this state, and where said real estate is located.

In making this report he shall list separately all those companies, firms, associations, or persons, which, under the second proviso in subdivision (b) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution and of section three thousand six hundred sixty-four b of this code, are subject to a tax at a rate higher than two per cent on their gross premiums, or to any additional tax or burden, and shall indicate in each case the amount and character of said tax or burden. Every company, firm, association, or person engaged in the business of insurance in this state shall file with the insurance commissioner on or before the first Monday in March in each year such statements in addition to, or in modification of, the statements required to be rendered under the provisions of article sixteen of chapter three of title one of part three of the Political Code as said insurance commissioner shall deem necessary to enable him to prepare the report required of him in this section and said statements shall be verified in the same manner as is provided for the verification of other statements by insurance companies in section six hundred ten of the Political Code, except that, those filed by foreign companies shall be verified by the oath of the manager thereof residing within this state. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 347.]

§ 3666b. Statement by banks. The president, secretary, treasurer, cashier, or such other officer as the state board of equalization may determine, of every bank referred to in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, shall on the first Monday in March or within ten days thereafter make and file with the state board of equalization a sworn statement showing the condition of said bank at the close of business on the first Monday in March, and showing the amount of its authorized capital stock, the number of shares issued and the par value thereof, the amount received for stock issued, the amount of its surplus and undivided profits, if any, a complete list of the names and residences of its stockholders and the number of shares held by each as of record on the books of the bank at the close of business on the first Monday in March; or, in the case of unincorporated banks and bankers, of banks having no capital stock and of branches, agencies, or other representatives of banks doing business outside of this state, the moneyed capital, reserve, surplus, undivided profits, and other taxable property, as further defined in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, used by them in the banking business in this state, also a description of the real estate, other than mortgage interests therein, and the value of each piece thereof as assessed for the purpose of county taxation for the then current fiscal year.

Branches, agencies, or other representatives of banks doing business outside of this state shall report the average amount owed by said branches, agencies, or representatives, to the banks of which they are branches, agencies, or representatives, during the year ending the first Monday in March, also a description of the real estate other than mortgage interests therein, and the value of each piece thereof as assessed for the purpose of county taxation for the then current fiscal year.

The state board of equalization shall prescribe the form of reports, the manner of their verification, and may require the submission of tax receipts, or copies thereof certified to be correct by any notary public, in order to verify the statements as to the assessed value of the real estate, and may require such further information or statements as said board may deem necessary. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 347.]

§ 3666c. Report on corporations by secretary of state. The secretary of state shall daily report to the state board of equalization the name, corporate number, principal place of business, date of incorporation, term of existence, funded debt, if any, authorized capital stock, and postoffice address of all corporations, whether formed under the laws of this state or of any other state or country, a copy of the articles of incorporation of which is filed in his office and corporations which are authorized to do business in this state. He shall also report at said time all certificates of increase or decrease of capital stock or funded debt, dissolution, or other termination of corporate existence, change of name, consolidation and mergers, change of principal place of business, and such other information regarding corporations as said state board may require to assist it in making the assessments and levying the taxes as provided in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 348.]

§ 3667. Report by holders of franchises. The owner or holder of every franchise subject to taxation as provided in section three thousand six hundred sixty-four d of this code, shall within ten days after the first Monday in March in each year make a written report to the state board of equalization, signed and sworn to by the holder or owner himself, if an individual, or by one of the copartners if such owner or holder is a copartnership, or by the president or vice-president and the treasurer or secretary if the owner is a corporation, containing such a concise statement or description of every franchise possessed or enjoyed on said day by such owner or holder, as the state board of equalization may prescribe, a copy of the law, grant, ordinance, or contract under which the same is held, or if possessed or enjoyed under a general law, a reference to such law, a statement of any condition, obligation, or burden imposed upon such franchise, or under which the same is enjoyed, and containing also:

1. Name, etc. The name of the company, its nature, whether a person or persons, a partnership (with names of partners), an association, or corporation, and under the laws of what state, territory, or country organized, the nature of its business, the location of its principal place of business, the names and postoffice addresses of its president, secretary, auditor, treasurer, superintendent, and general manager, the location of its principal place of business in this state, the name and postoffice address of its chief officer or managing agent in this state, and the names and addresses of all subsidiary companies whose property and business are operated by it.

2. Capital stock. The amount of its authorized capital stock, the amount thereof issued and outstanding on the first Monday in March, and the amount paid in thereon or the value of the property received therefor.

3. Debts. The funded and floating debts and the interest paid thereon showing separately the debts of the operating company and of any subsidiary companies in this state on the thirty-first day of December last preceding.

4. Value of stock. The market value of the stock and of the outstanding bonds, or, when said stock or bonds have no market value, the actual value thereof, for such periods and for such dates as the state board of equalization shall prescribe.

5. Assessed value of property. The assessed value of its property as shown by the last completed assessment-roll in each county, city and county, and city in the state for the purposes of taxation, and if any property of such corporation be assessed and taxed outside of the state of California the place where assessed, the amount of such assessment and taxes there paid the current fiscal year.

6. Value of property. The market and actual value of all non-assessable real and personal property owned by such company.

7. Amount and value of property. The amount and actual value of all of said real and personal property referred to in the last two preceding subdivisions of this section that is owned and possessed by the company at the date of its report; also, the amount and actual value of any other and additional real or personal property owned by the company at the date of said report.

8. Dividends. The dividends paid during the year ending the thirty-first day of December last preceding, the surplus fund, if any, on said thirty-first day of December, or between such periods as the state board of equalization may determine. Those of the operating company and of each subsidiary company in this state to be shown separately.

9. Gross receipts. The gross receipts from all sources for the year ending the thirty-first day of December last preceding, from the entire property and business, the gross receipts from such classes of business as the state board may designate, to be reported separately; also, the total gross receipts from intrastate business and from interstate business so far as the same relate to this state, the same to be separately stated.

10. Expenses. The operating and other expenses.

11. Profit and loss. The balances of profit and loss, between such periods as the state board of equalization may determine.

12. Other matters. Such other matters as the state board of equalization may deem necessary in order to enable it to assess and levy the taxes provided for in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state. The state board of equalization shall ascertain and determine from the foregoing reports or from the best information it can obtain the actual cash value on the first Monday in March of each such franchise, and shall assess and levy the taxes thereon in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (d) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 349.]

The old section 3667, relating to the notice to the controller of the county rate of taxation, was repealed in 1917 (Stats. 1917, p. 336).

§ 3667a. Report by assessor or auditor. Every assessor or auditor shall, in the manner, at the times, and for the year required by the state board of equalization, report to said board upon such forms as may be prescribed by said board the valuation placed by him upon the property of any company subject to an assessment upon its franchise under the provisions of sections three thousand six hundred sixty-four d and three thousand six hundred sixty-seven of this code. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 350.]

§ 3667b. Estimates by state board of equalization when no report furnished. Penalty. If any company mentioned in section three thousand six hundred sixty-four of this code shall fail or refuse to furnish to the state board of equalization within the time prescribed by law the verified report provided for by law, the state board of equalization must note such failure or refusal in the record of assessments for state taxes provided for in section three thousand six hundred sixty-eight a of this code, and must make an estimate of the amount of the gross receipts, gross premiums, value of the shares of capital stock, or value of the franchises, of such company and must assess the same at the amount thus estimated, which assessment shall be the assessment upon which the taxes upon the property or franchise of the company for such year shall be levied and collected. And if in the succeeding year any such company shall again fail or refuse to furnish the verified report required by law, the state board shall make an estimate of the amount of the gross receipts, gross premiums, value of the shares of capital stock, or value of the franchise of such company, which estimate shall not be less than twice the amount of the estimate made by said board in the previous year, and shall note such failure or refusal as above provided, and the said estimate so made shall be the assessment upon which the taxes upon the property or franchise of the company for such year shall be levied and collected. In case of each succeeding consecutive failure or refusal the said board shall follow the same procedure until a true statement shall be furnished.

Any company failing or refusing to make and furnish any report prescribed by law to be made to the state board of equalization, or rendering a false or fraudulent report shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not less than three hundred dollars and not exceeding five thousand dollars for each such offense.

Any person required to make, render, sign, or verify any report, as aforesaid, who makes any false or fraudulent report, with intent to defeat or évade the assessment required by law to be made, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall for each such offense be fined not less than three hundred dollars and not more than five thousand dollars, or be imprisoned not exceeding one year in the county jail of the county where said report was verified, or be subject to both said fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 350.]

§ 3667c. Extension of time for report. The state board of equalization may, for good cause shown, by order entered upon its minutes, extend for not exceeding thirty days, the time fixed for filing any report required by said board. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 351.]

§ 3668. Assessment and levy of taxes. Request of bank to assess entire taxable value of shares of stock. Form. Notice of completion of assessments. The state board of equalization must meet at the state capital on the first Monday in March of each year, and continue in open session from day to day, Sundays and holidays excepted, until the first Monday in July. Between the first Monday in March and the third Monday before the first Monday in July the board must assess and levy the taxes as and in the manner provided for in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, and sections of this code enacted to carry the same into effect.

The assessments must be made to the company, person or association owning or operating the property subject to said tax, or, in the case of banks, banking associations, savings and loan societies and trust companies, to the stockholders therein; provided however, that in the case of banks of liquidation the assessment shall be made to the receiver, trustee or officer in charge of such liquidation, as the case may be, as the representative of the stockholders thereof.

If the name of the owner is unknown to the board, such assessment must be made to unknown owners.

Clerical errors occurring or appearing in the name of any company, person, association, or stockholder whose property is correctly assessed, or in the making, or extension of any assessment upon the records of the state board of equalization, which do not affect the substantial rights of the taxpayer, shall not invalidate the assessment.

Provided, however, that if any bank shall by resolution of its board of directors, request the state board of equalization to assess to and in the name of such bank so requesting, the entire taxable value of all the shares of the capital stock of such bank, as determined by said state board, instead of assessing such shares to and in the name of the individual stockholders or shareholders owning the same, and if such bank shall promise that it will, upon being notified by said state board, of such assessment thereof to said bank, and of the amount of taxes to be paid upon such assessment, pay such taxes at the times when taxes assessed and levied under the provisions of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state and sections of this code enacted to carry the same into effect are due and payable, which request to assess said bank and promise to pay said tax shall be in substantially the following form:

The state board of equalization is hereby instructed to assess in the name of this bank and not to the individual stockholders or shareholders therein, the taxable value of all the shares of capital stock in this bank and such bank hereby promises to pay to the state treasurer the amount of the tax levied upon such assessment when such taxes are due and payable under the laws of this state.

By (here insert title of official signing.)

Then the state board may assess the capital stock to and in the name of such bank and said promise to pay the taxes shall be binding upon such bank and collection of such taxes from such bank may be enforced in the manner and by the same method as is provided for the collection of other taxes assessed and levied under the provisions of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state and sections of this code enacted to carry the same into effect.

On the third Monday before the first Monday in July the said board shall publish a notice in one daily newspaper of general circulation published at the state capital, in one daily newspaper of general circulation published in the city and county of San Francisco, and in one daily newspaper of general circulation published in the city of Los Angeles, that the assessment of property for state taxes has been completed, and that the record of assessments for state taxes will be delivered to the controller on the first Monday in July, and that if any company, person, or association is dissatisfied with the assessment made by the board, it may, at any time before the taxes thereon shall become due and payable, apply to the board to have the same corrected in any particular. The board shall have power at any time on or before the first Monday in July to correct the record of assessments for state taxes and may increase or decrease any assessment therein if in its judgment the evidence presented or obtained warrants such action. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 351.]

The old section 3668, relating to the publication by the controller, was repealed in 1917 (Stats. 1917, p. 336).

§ 3668a. Record of assessments for state taxes. Certificate. The state board of equalization must prepare each year a book, in one or more volumes, to be called the "record of assessments for state taxes," in which must be entered, either in writing or printing, or by both writing and printing, each assessment and levy made by said board upon the property and franchises mentioned in section three thousand six hundred sixty-four of this code, describing the property assessed, and such assessments shall be classified and entered, in such separate parts of said record as the board shall prescribe. On the first Monday in July the secretary of the state board of equalization must deliver to the controller of state the record of assesments for state taxes, certified to by the chairman and secretary of the board, which certificate shall be substantially as follows: "We, ——, chairman, and ——, secretary, of the state board of equalization of the state of California do hereby certify, that between the first Monday in March and the first Monday in July, 19—, the state board of equalization made diligent inquiry and examination to ascertain all property and companies subject to assessment and taxation for state purposes, as required by the constitution of this state; that said board has faithfully complied with all the duties imposed upon it by the constitution and laws of the state of California; that said board has not imposed any unjust or double assessment through malice or ill will, or otherwise; nor allowed any company or property to escape a just assessment through favor or reward, or otherwise."

But the failure to subscribe such certificate to such record of assessments for state taxes, or any certificate, shall not in any manner affect the validity of any assessment. Such record of assessments shall constitute the warrant for the controller to collect the taxes assessed and levied upon the property and franchises mentioned in section three thousand six hundred sixty-four of this code. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 353.]

§ 3668b. Taxes payable, when. Taxes not fully secured by personal property. Sale of property at public auction. Notice. Bill of sale. Notice by state controller. The taxes assessed and levied as provided in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, and in and by the provisions of this code enacted to carry the same into effect, shall be due and payable on the first Monday in July in each year, and one-half thereof shall be delinquent on the sixth Monday after said first Monday in July at six o'clock P. M., and unless paid prior thereto, fifteen per cent shall be added to the amount thereof, and unless paid prior to the first Monday in February next thereafter at six o'clock P. M., an additional five per cent shall be added to the amount thereof; and the unpaid portion, or the remaining one-half of said taxes shall become delinquent on the first Monday in February next succeeding the day upon which they became due and payable, at six o'clock P. M.; and if not paid prior thereto five per cent shall be added to the amount thereof; provided, that all taxes provided for or levied under said section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state and the provisions of this code enacted to carry the same into effect which are not fully secured by real property are due and payable at the time the assessment is made. When in the opinion of the state board of equalization any of the taxes provided for in this section are not a lien upon real property sufficient to secure the payment of the taxes, said board may direct the controller, or his duly authorized representative, to collect the same at any time before the first Monday in August thereafter, and the controller may collect the taxes by seizure and sale of any property owned by the company against whom the tax is assessed.

The sale of any property so seized shall be made at public auction and of a sufficient amount of the property to pay the taxes, penalties and costs, and be made after one week's notice of the time and place of such sale given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the property seized is situate, or if there be no newspaper of general circulation published in such county, then by posting of such notice in three public places in such county.

Said notice shall contain a description of the property to be sold together with a statement of the amount of the taxes, penalties and costs due thereon and the name of the owner of said property and a further statement that unless the taxes, penalties and costs are paid on or before the day fixed in said notice for such sale of said property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay said taxes, penalties and costs, said property will be sold in accordance with law and said notice.

On payment of the price bid for any property sold, the delivery thereof with bill of sale executed by the controller vests the title in the purchaser. The unsold portion of any property so seized, may be left at the place of sale at the risk of the owner. All of the proceeds of any such sale in excess of the taxes, penalties, and costs, must be returned to the owner of the property sold, and until claimed must be deposited with the state treasurer, as trustee for such owner, and subject to the order of the owner thereof, his heirs, or assigns.

Within ten days after the receipt of the record of assessments for state taxes, the controller must begin the publication of a notice to appear daily for two weeks, in one daily newspaper of general circulation published at the state capital, in one daily newspaper of general circulation published in the city and county of San Francisco, and in one daily newspaper of general circulation published in the city of Los Angeles, specifying:

1. That he has received from the state board of equalization the record of assessments for state taxes.

2. That the taxes therein assessed are due and payable on the first Monday in July and that one-half thereof will be delinquent on the sixth Monday after the first Monday in July at six o'clock P. M., and that unless paid to the state treasurer at the capital prior thereto, fifteen per cent will be added to the amount thereof, and unless paid prior to the first Monday in February next thereafter at six o'clock P. M., an additional five per cent will be added to the amount thereof; and that the remaining one-half of said taxes will become delinquent on the first Monday in February next succeeding the day upon which they became due and payable, at six o'clock P. M.; and if not paid to the state treasurer at the capital prior thereto, five per cent will be added to the amount thereof. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 354.]

§ 3668c. Taxes lien on property and franchises. The taxes levied under the provisions of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state and sections of this code enacted to carry the same into effect shall constitute a lien upon all the property and franchises of every kind and nature belonging to the companies subject to taxation for state purposes, which lien shall attach on the first Monday in March of each year. Every tax herein provided for has the effect of a judgment against the company, and every lien created by the constitutional and statutory provisions aforesaid has the effect of an execution duly levied against all property of the delinquent; the judgment is not satisfied nor the lien removed until such taxes, penalties, and costs are paid, or the property sold for the payment thereof. No final discharge in bankruptcy or decree of dissolution shall be made and entered by any court, nor shall the county clerk of any county or the secretary of state file any such discharge or decree, or file any other document by which the term of existence of any corporation shall be reduced or terminated until all taxes, penalties, and costs due on assessments made under the constitutional and statutory provisions aforesaid shall have been paid and discharged. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 355.]

§ 3669. Taxes paid to state treasurer. 1. All taxes assessed and levied under the provisions of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state and sections of this code enacted to carry the same into effect shall be paid to the state treasurer, upon the order of the controller, without deduction for any taxes assessed and levied to pay the principal and interest of any bonded indebtedness mentioned in subdivision (e) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, and the amount due to the cities, cities and counties, counties, towns, townships, and districts on account of said taxes assessed and levied for such bonded indebtedness shall be paid to said cities, cities and counties, counties, towns, townships, or districts in the manner provided by law. The controller must mark the date of payment of any tax on the record of assessments for state taxes.

2. Controller's receipt. The controller must give a receipt to the person paying any tax, or any part of any tax, specifying the amount of the assessment and the tax, or part of tax, paid, and the amount remaining unpaid, if any, with a description of the property assessed; provided, that the receipt for the second half of the taxes may refer, by number or in any other intelligible manner, to the receipt given for the first half of said taxes, in lieu of a description of the property assessed.

3. Taxes in excess of what was legally due. Whenever any taxes, penalties, or costs collected and paid to the state treasurer as hereinbefore provided, shall have been paid more than once, or shall have been erroneously or illegally collected, or when any taxes shall have been collected and paid pursuant to said provisions of law upon a computation erroneously made by reason of clerical mistake of the officers or employees of the state board of equalization, or shall have been computed in a manner contrary to law, the state board of equalization shall certify to the state board of control the amount of such taxes, penalties, or costs, collected in excess of what was legally due, from whom they were collected or by whom paid, and if approved by said board of control, the same shall be credited to the company or person to whom it rightfully belongs, at the time of the next payment of taxes. No claim for such credit shall be so audited, approved, allowed, or paid unless presented within one year after the payment sought to be refunded.

4. Cancellation of assessment. In case the assessment of any property or any company is duplicated upon the record of assessments for state taxes, or there appears thereon the assessment of any company whose charter has been forfeited or right to do business in this state has been forfeited, or the assessment of any company which, for any reason, could not be legally assessed, the state board of equalization or the controller shall certify such fact to the state board of control and said board of control shall authorize the cancellation of such assessment. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 356.]

The old section 3669, providing that certain taxes were to be paid to the state treasurer, was repealed in 1917 (Stats. 1917, p. 336).

§ 3669a. Action for recovery of tax. 1. Any company, person or association claiming and protesting as herein provided that the assessment made against him or it by the state board of equalization is void in whole or in part may bring an action against the state treasurer for the recovery of the whole or any part of such tax, penalties or costs paid on such assessment upon the grounds stated in such protest, but no such action may be brought later than the third Monday in February next following the day on which the taxes were due, nor unless such company, person or association shall have filed with the state controller at the time of payment of such taxes a written protest stating whether the whole assessment is claimed to be void, or if a part only, what part, and the grounds upon which such claim is founded; and when so paid under protest the payment shall in no case be regarded as voluntary.

2. Procedure. Whenever under the provisions of this section an action is commenced against the state treasurer, a copy of the complaint and of the summons must be served upon the treasurer, or his deputy. At the time the treasurer demurs or answers, he may demand that the action be tried in the superior court of the county of Sacramento, which demand must be granted. The attorney general must defend the action. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to the pleadings, proofs, trials, and appeals are applicable to the proceedings herein provided for. A failure to begin such action within the time herein specified shall be a bar against the recovery of such taxes. In any such action the court shall have power to render judgment for plaintiff for any part or portion of the tax, penalties or costs found to be void and so paid by plaintiff upon such assessment.

3. No judgment for plaintiff, when. In no case shall any judgment be rendered in favor of plaintiff in any action brought against the state treasurer to recover any tax, when said action is brought by or in the name of an assignee of the person, company or corporation paying said tax, or by any person, company or corporation other than the person, company or corporation that has paid said tax. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 357.]

§ 3669b. Reassessment. Every assessment of property made after November 8, 1910, under the provisions of section fourteen, article thirteen of the constitution and under the provisions of any law enacted to carry into effect said section of the constitution which is, or may hereafter be adjudged to be invalid by reason of any illegality, invalidity, or irregularity, declared or existing, in the assessment of such property, or in the mode provided for the assessment thereof, shall be remade and the property reassessed and equalized for each year for which such assessment is invalid as aforesaid, and for the year for which the assessment of such property was invalid as aforesaid, and such reassessment and equalization shall be made by the same officers and boards, at the same time or times, as are prescribed by law for the assessment and equalization of property, of the same classes or kinds as the property which hereby is required to be reassessed. The assessment and equalized assessment of such property shall be entered on the several assessment-rolls or books in the same manner that assessments of such property are or were required by law to be entered for the year or years for which such reassessments shall be made. And there is hereby levied for state purposes the same rates of taxation for each of such respective years as were levied upon such property for each of said years for said state purposes.

2. Manner of reassessment. All property herein and hereby authorized to be reassessed shall be reassessed and equalized by the proper officers and boards at the value to which and to the person or corporation to whom or to which such property ought, for each of such years, to have been assessed, under such rules of notice and at the times and in the modes as are prescribed for the assessment and equalization of like classes of property; and the assessment and equalization thereof, and the levy and collection of taxes thereunder, shall be made by the proper officers at the time, upon like notice and in the manner now or hereafter provided by law for making assessments and equalizing the same, and for the levy and collection of taxes on like classes of property; and if the taxes so relevied shall become delinquent; there shall be added thereto and the amount thereof the same percentage as a penalty for such delinquency as is added to other delinquent taxes on like classes of property; and such delinquent taxes and penalties added thereto shall be collected by the proper officers in the manner now or hereafter provided by law for the collection of delinquent taxes and penalties upon like classes of property, the collectors of such taxes to allow as credits thereon all payments theretofore made on the tax as first levied.

3. No limitation on action for collection of taxes. There shall be no limitation or limitations as to the time in which actions for the collections of taxes levied under this section may be commenced, and all the provisions of law now or hereafter provided in respect to assessments, equalization, levy, and collection of taxes shall, where applicable, apply to reassessments, equalization, and relevies and collections of taxes made under the provisions of this section. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 357.]

§ 3669c. Suspension of corporate powers on failure to pay taxes List sent to county clerk and county recorder. 1. Within ten days after the first Monday in February, the controller shall send by mail to the last known address of any company whose taxes are delinquent a notice of the amount of said taxes, penalties, and costs, and that if the said taxes, penalties, and costs are not paid on or before the Saturday preceding the first Monday in March next thereafter at six o'clock P. M. of said day, the corporate powers, rights and privileges of such delinquent company, if it be a domestic corporation, will be at that time suspended and thereafter incapable of exercise, and that if the delinquent company be a foreign corporation it will thereupon forfeit its right to do intrastate business in this state. If the taxes, penalties, and costs are not paid within the time specified in said notice, the controller shall, on said Saturday preceding the first Monday in March at six o'clock P. M. of said day, mark on the record of assessments for state taxes opposite the assessment of the delinquent corporation, the words "corporate powers suspended," if the delinquent corporation be a domestic corporation, and thereupon said corporate powers shall be suspended and incapable of exercise until restored as hereinafter provided; and if the delinquent corporation be a foreign corporation the controller shall mark on the record of assessments for state taxes opposite the assessment of such delinquent corporation the words "right to do intrastate business forfeited" and thereupon said right to do such business shall be so forfeited. He shall at once report to the secretary of state the name and number of charter of each corporation whose corporate powers have been suspended or right to do business has been forfeited for nonpayment of taxes.

On or before the first Monday in April of each year the controller shall make a list of all corporations subject to the tax imposed under sections three thousand six hundred sixty-four a, three thousand six hundred sixty-four b, three thousand six hundred sixty-four c, and three thousand six hundred sixty-four d of this code and which have failed to pay the same and transmit a certified copy thereof to each county clerk and county recorder in this state. Said county clerks and county recorders shall file such certified copies in their respective offices in such manner that the same shall be preserved in the form of a permanent record of such office and easily identified by and available to the public. Said copies so certified by the controller and filed as herein provided shall in the case of each corporation state whether such corporation is a domestic or foreign corporation and specify the penalty which each corporation has incurred for failure to pay the tax imposed by this act. Such certified copies so filed with either of said county officers, or any copy thereof certified by the controller shall be received in evidence in any court in lieu of the original record on file with the controller and shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of all statements contained therein.

2. Corporate powers suspended, when. Penalty for exercising powers of delinquent corporation. After six o'clock P. M. of the Saturday preceding the first Monday in March in any year, the corporate rights, privileges and powers of every domestic corporation which has failed to pay said tax and money penalty shall, from and after said hour of said day, be suspended, and incapable of being exercised for any purpose or in any manner, except to defend any action brought in any court against such corporation, until said tax with all accrued penalties, and all taxes and charges due the state under the corporation license act are paid as hereinafter provided. The right and privilege of every foreign corporation to transact intrastate business in this state shall, for failure to pay said tax and money penalty, be forfeited at said hour of said day, and the controller shall make a record of such forfeiture. In the case of foreign corporations such forfeiture may be relieved and the corporation's privilege to transact intrastate business in this state restored in the manner hereinafter provided. After said hour of said day and until such taxes, penalties and charges are paid, every person who attempts or purports to exercise any of the rights, privileges or powers of any delinquent corporation, or, who transacts or attempts to transact any intrastate business in this state in behalf of any forfeited foreign corporation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than two hundred fifty dollars and not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than fifty days or more than five hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. The jurisdiction of such offense shall be held to be in any county in which any part of such attempted exercise of such powers, or any part of such transaction of business was had or occurred. Every contract made in violation of this section is hereby declared to be void.

3. Procedure for restoration of powers. Controller's certificate. All corporate powers, rights and privileges suspended, or forfeited may be revived and restored to full force and effect by the payment of all accrued taxes and penalties due to the state under sections three thousand six hundred sixty-four a, three thousand six hundred sixty-four b, three thousand six hundred sixty-four c, and three thousand six hundred sixty-four d of this code and the corporation license act. In case the application for such revivor and restoration is not made during the year in which such suspension or forfeiture occurred, such application shall not be granted nor a certificate of revivor issued to such corporation until there is paid to the controller in addition to said tax and money penalty due the state under said sections of this code for the year in which such suspension or forfeiture occurred, a sum of money equal to the tax, without penalty, imposed under the provisions of said sections of this code during the year in which such suspension or forfeiture occurred, for each year succeeding said year in which such suspension or forfeiture occurred. Upon payment of all such taxes and penalties, and upon payment of all other taxes due the state under the corporation license act of this state, the state controller shall issue a certificate under his seal evidencing such payment and restoration, which certificate, when recorded in the office of any county recorder shall constitute a release of all existing liens for such taxes upon the property of such corporation. Each county recorder shall keep an index of all such controller's certificates recorded by him. Upon presentation of such controller's certificate of revivor to any county clerk said officer shall make a record thereof in his office in a book kept for such purpose. The record so made by said county clerk shall be prima facie evidence of the restoration to such corporation of all previously suspended or forfeited rights, powers and privileges unless it appears from the records in the office of such county clerk or of the secretary of state that subsequent to the date of such certificate of revivor the powers of said corporation have been suspended or its rights to do intrastate business forfeited.

4. Action by controller to collect delinquent taxes. Service of summons. Evidence of unpaid taxes. The controller may, on or before the thirtieth day of April next following said delinquency and suspension or forfeiture, bring an action in a court of competent jurisdiction in the county of Sacramento in the name of the people of the state of California, to collect any delinquent taxes, together with any penalties, or costs, which have not been paid in accordance with the provisions of this code and appearing delinquent upon the record of assessments for state taxes hereinbefore mentioned.

The attorney general must prosecute such action, and the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to service of summons, pleadings, proofs, trials, and appeals are applicable to the proceedings herein provided for. In such action a writ of attachment may be issued, and no bond or affidavit previous to the issuing of said attachment is required.

In the case of companies whose right to do business has been forfeited or corporate powers suspended, service of summons may be made upon the persons provided for by law to be served as agents or officers of any of such companies and such persons shall be deemed to be the agents of such companies for all purposes necessary in order to prosecute such action. In the case of corporations whose powers have been suspended, the persons constituting the board of directors thereof shall have the power and right to defend such action. Payment of the taxes and penalties, or amount of the judgment recovered in such action must be made to the state treasurer. In such actions the record of assessments for state taxes, or a copy of so much thereof as is applicable in said action, duly certified by the controller, or by the secretary of the state board of equalization, showing unpaid taxes against any company, person or association assessed by the state board of equalization, is prima facie evidence of the assessment upon the property and franchises, the delinquency, the amount of the taxes, penalties, and costs due and unpaid to the state, and that the company, person, or association is indebted to the people of the state of California in the amount of taxes and penalties therein appearing unpaid, and that all the forms of law in relation to the assessment and levy of such taxes have been complied with. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 358.]

§ 3669d. Procedure for relieving forfeiture. 1. Any corporation which has heretofore failed to pay any tax and penalty imposed under the provisions of section fourteen, article thirteen, of the constitution, and chapter three hundred thirty-five, statutes 1911 and amendments thereof, and for such nonpayment suffered a forfeiture of the charter of such corporation or of its right to do business in this state, may be relieved of such forfeiture, or may be restored to its right to do business in this state, upon making application therefor in writing and paying the tax and penalties for nonpayment of which such forfeiture occurred. Application for restoration, under the provisions of this section, shall be made in writing, shall be signed by four-fifths of the surviving trustees or directors of said corporation, duly verified by said trustees or directors, and filed with the state controller. In case such application for revivor is made in any year other than the year in which such forfeiture occurred then upon payment of twice the amount of the tax and penalty due the state for the year in which such forfeiture occurred, together with the amount of the license fee due the state under the corporation license tax act for the year in which such forfeiture occurred and for the year in which such revivor is sought, the state controller shall issue a certificate of revivor to such corporation, and thereupon such corporation is revived and its powers restored to full force and effect.

The revivor of a corporation under the provisions of this section shall be without prejudice to any action or proceeding, defense or right, which has occurred by reason of the original forfeiture.

2. Reviving corporation under new name. In case the name of any corporation which has suffered a forfeiture under the provisions of chapter three hundred thirty-five, statutes of 1911 or amendments thereof, has been adopted by any other corporation since the date of said forfeiture, or in case any corporation has adopted subsequent to such forfeiture any name so closely resembling the name of such reviving corporation as will tend to deceive, then such reviving corporation shall be entitled to a certificate of revivor pursuant to the terms of this section only upon the adopting by such corporation seeking revivor of a new name, and in such case nothing in this section contained shall be construed as permitting such reviving corporation to carry on any business under its former name. Such reviving corporation shall have the right to use its former name or take such new name only upon filing an application therefor with the secretary of state, and upon the issuing of a certificate to such corporation by the secretary of state, setting forth the right of such corporation to take such new name or use its former name as the case may be. The secretary of state shall not issue any certificate permitting any corporation to take or use the name of any corporation heretofore organized in this state and which has not suffered a forfeiture under either of the acts in this section first above mentioned, or to take or use a name so closely resembling the name of any corporation heretofore organized in this state as will tend to deceive.

The provisions of title nine, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure, in so far as they conflict with this section of this code are not applicable to corporations seeking revivor under this section. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 361.]

§ 3669e. Powers of state board of equalization. In addition to the powers and duties prescribed elsewhere in this code, it is the duty of the state board of equalization, and the said board shall have power, for carrying into effect the provisions for assessments under section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state:

1. Prescribe forms. To prescribe the forms upon which the reports required by sections three thousand six hundred sixty-five c, three thousand six hundred sixty-six b and three thousand six hundred sixty-seven of this code shall be made.

2. Inspect property. Whenever deemed necessary, to visit as a board, or by the individual members thereof, or to send its secretary or duly appointed representative to any portion of this state for the purpose of inspecting property and learning the value thereof, and of collecting information to enable it to justly assess and levy the taxes provided for as aforesaid.

3. Call public officials. To call before it, or any member thereof, or before its secretary or duly appointed representative on such visit, any public official, and to require him to produce any public record, papers or documents in his custody.

4. Issue subpoenas. To issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses or the production of books before the board, or any member thereof; which subpoenas must be signed by a member of the board and may be served by any person.

5. Require attendance. To require any person having knowledge of the business of any of the companies mentioned in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, or having the custody of the books and accounts of such companies, to attend before the board or any member thereof, or before the secretary or the duly appointed representative of said board and bring with him for inspection any books, or papers, of such company in his possession or under his control, and to testify under oath touching any matter relating to the assessment to be made under the provisions of the constitution aforesaid. A member of the board, its secretary, or duly appointed representative is authorized to administer such oath.

6. Examine books and accounts. Said board of equalization is hereby authorized and empowered to examine the books and accounts of all companies required by law to report to it and to employ an expert accountant or accountants to assist in the examination of the books and accounts of any such companies when in the judgment of said board the exigencies of the case may so require.

7. Unlawful to divulge information. It shall be unlawful for any member or ex-member of the state board of equalization, or for any agent employed by it, or for the controller, or ex-controller, or for any person employed by him or for any person who may at any time have obtained such knowledge from any of the foregoing officers or persons, to divulge or make known in any manner whatever not provided by law, any of the following items of information concerning the business affairs of companies reporting to the said board:

(a) Any information concerning the business affairs of any company which is gained during an examination of its books and accounts or in any other manner, and which information is not required to be reported to the state board of equalization in the reports or statements provided for in paragraphs numbered one to twelve of section three thousand six hundred sixty-five c and paragraphs numbered one to ten of section three thousand six hundred sixty-seven of this code.

(b) Any information, other than the assessment and the amount of taxes levied, obtained by the state board of equalization in accordance with the provisions of sections three thousand six hundred sixty-five c and three thousand six hundred sixty-seven of this code, from any company other than any of those enumerated in sections three thousand six hundred sixty-four a, three thousand six hundred sixty-four b and three thousand six hundred sixty-four c of this code.

(c) Any particular item or items of information relating to the disposition of its earnings contained in the report of a quasi-public corporation which any such corporation may, by written communication specifying the items and presented at the time when it files its report, request shall be treated as confidential.

Provided, however, that the governor may authorize examination of such reports by other state officers, in which event the information obtained by such officers shall not be made public, and he may also direct that any of the information herein referred to be made public, in which event it shall no longer be unlawful to divulge or make known the same.

Any violation of the provisions of subdivision seven of this section shall be a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or both, at the discretion of the court. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 363.]

§ 3670. Equalization of assessments on real estate of banks. On the second Monday in August of each year the auditor of each county must report to the state board of equalization, in addition to the items required to be so reported by him under section three thousand seven hundred twenty-eight of this code, the value of each piece of real estate other than mortgage interests therein belonging to each bank in his county as assessed and equalized for purposes of county taxation.

Whenever the state board of equalization is satisfied after investigation that any county assessor, or board of equalization, has assessed any real estate belonging to any bank above its full cash value and has thereby unjustly reduced the amount of taxes due the state from said bank, said state board shall, under such rules of notice to the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county affected thereby as the said state board shall deem reasonable, equalize the assessed value of such real estate and shall upon completion of said equalization issue an order to said assessor or board of equalization and to the county auditor of the county in which said real estate is located, fixing the assessed value of said real estate.

The value so equalized and fixed, and no other, shall be deemed the value, as assessed for county taxes, of such real estate, and the sole basis of taxation upon such real estate for county taxes.

A copy of the order certified by the secretary of the state board of equalization shall be prima facie evidence of the regularity of all proceedings of the board resulting in the action which is the subject matter of the order. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 364.]

The old section 3670 relating to actions by the controller for taxes was repealed May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 336.

§ 3670a. Equalization of assessments on real estate of insurance companies. The state board of equalization shall immediately after the county and city assessments have been completed, ascertain the value of any real estate belonging to any insurance company as assessed and equalized for purposes of county and of city taxation.

Whenever the state board of equalization is satisfied after investigation that any county, city and county, city, or district assessor, or board of equalization, has assessed any real estate belonging to any insurance company above its full cash value and has thereby unjustly reduced the amount of taxes due the state from said insurance company, said state board shall, under such rules of notice to the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county or the proper officer of the city affected as the board shall deem reasonable, equalize the assessed value of such real estate and shall upon the completion of said equalization, issue an order to said assessor or board of equalization and to the county, city and county, city or district auditor or clerk of the county, city and county, city, or district in which said real estate is located, fixing the assessed value of said real estate.

The value so equalized and fixed, and no other, shall be deemed the value, as assessed for county, city and county, city, or district taxes, of such real estate, and the sole basis of taxation upon such real estate, for county, municipal and district taxes.

A copy of the order certified by the secretary of the state board of equalization shall be prima facie evidence of the regularity of all proceedings of the board resulting in the action which is the subject matter of the order. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 365.]

§ 3670b. Segregation by assessor. Each county, city and county, city and district assessor must segregate on his assessment-roll, as directed by the state board of equalization:

1. Assessments by state board of equalization. The assessments made by the state board of equalization, and apportioned to the county, city and county, city, town, township, or district, upon the franchises, roadway, roadbed, rails and rolling stock of all railroads operated in more than one county in this state under the provisions of the Political Code as the same existed and were in force on the seventh day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred ten; and

2. Assessments by assessors. Equalization of assessments. Separate tax rate for bonded indebtedness. Payment by controller to county treasurer. The assessments made by said assessors of any other property enumerated in subdivisions (a), (b), and (d) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, which is located in the county, or city and county, or any city, town, township, or district in which it is subject to taxation for paying the principal and interest of any bonded indebtedness created and outstanding by any city, city and county, county, town, township, or district prior to the eighth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred ten, as provided in subdivision (e) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state.

Immediately upon completion of the assessment and equalization of property for the purposes of taxation in each year the auditor or clerk of each county, city and county, city, town, or district must transmit to the state board of equalization a duplicate of that part of the assessment-roll containing the assessments and apportionments referred to in paragraphs one and two of this section.

Whenever the state board of equalization is satisfied after investigation that any county, city, or other assessor, or board of equalization, has assessed for taxation to pay the principal and interest of any bonded indebtedness created and outstanding by any county, city and county, city, town, township, or district prior to the eighth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred ten, as provided in subdivision (e) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, any of the property taxed exclusively for state purposes as provided in subdivisions (a), (b) and (d) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, or has assessed for purposes of county, city and county, city, or district taxation the property other than the franchise of any company taxable for a franchise under subdivision (d) of said section and article of the constitution, above its full cash value and has thereby unjustly reduced the amount of taxes due the state on such property, said state board shall, under such rules of notice to the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county, or city and county, or to the city clerk of the city, affected thereby as the board shall deem reasonable, equalize the assessed value of such property, and shall issue an order to said assessor or board of equalization and to the county or city auditor or clerk of the county, city and county, or city in which the property is located, fixing the assessed value of such property.

The value so equalized and assessed, and no other, shall be deemed the value of said property, and its assessment for taxes levied to pay the principal and interest of any such outstanding bonded indebtedness, and in the case of companies taxable for a franchise under said subdivision (d) of said section and article of the constitution shall be deemed the value of the said property, and its assessment for taxes for county, city and county, municipal and district purposes.

When making the tax levy and fixing the rates of taxation for county, city and county, city, town, township, or district purposes, the board of supervisors of any county, or city and county, and the corresponding authority in any city, having bonded indebtedness issued and outstanding on the eighth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred ten, shall fix the tax rate for such bonded indebtedness separate and apart from all other tax rates, whether for subsequent bonded indebtedness or for other purposes.

The county, city and county, or city auditor or clerk shall extend on the assessment-roll against the assessments segregated as herein provided, the taxes necessary to pay the principal and interest of said bonded indebtedness at the same rate as said taxes for payment of principal and interest of said outstanding bonded indebtedness shall be levied upon the other classes of property within the same county, city and county, city, town, township, or district, and the amount of each such taxes shall be certified by said auditor or clerk to the controller and the amount so certified shall then be credited by the controller to the county, city and county, city, town, township, or district to which it is due; and said amount shall be paid by said controller to the treasurer of such county, or city and county as provided in section three thousand six hundred seventy c of this code, and upon such payment said treasurer shall forthwith certify such fact to the tax collector who shall thereupon mark upon the assessment-roll the date of payment and the words "paid by the state treasurer." The city clerk or auditor shall in the certificate mentioned in this paragraph also state the date when taxes in such city shall become delinquent. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 366.]

§ 3670c. Money credited to what fund. 1. The controller shall out of the taxes collected by him under the provisions of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state and the provisions of the sections of this code applicable thereto, credit to the fund created by an act of the thirty-ninth session of the legislature entitled: "An act appropriating money for the purpose of payment of that part of the principal and interest of any bonded indebtedness created and outstanding by any city, city and county, county, town, township or district on the eighth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred ten, which is provided for in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, and as provided in an act of the thirty-ninth session of the legislature entitled 'An act to carry into effect the provisions of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the State of California as said constitution was amended November 8, 1910, providing for the separation of state from local taxation, and providing for the taxation of public service and other corporations for the benefit of the state, all relating to revenue and taxation,'" or any act or acts amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto, the money due to each county, city and county, city, town, township, or district on account of taxes to pay the principal and interest of any bonded indebtedness created and outstanding by any city, city and county, county, town, township or district, on the eighth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred ten.

2. Time for settlements with county treasurer. The controller shall in the months of October and March in each year settle with the treasurer of each county and city and county for the money collected by said controller under this section, for the moneys due said county or city and county and the townships and districts within such county or city and county, in the same manner as settlements are made between the county or city and county treasurers and the controller as provided for in section three thousand eight hundred sixty-six of this code.

3. Settlement with city and town treasurers. The controller shall at the same times, settle with each city and town for the moneys due such city or town for the purposes mentioned in this section, and when ready for such settlement shall notify the city or town treasurer of the amount of money due the city or town for said purposes, and that upon receipt of proper authority so to do, he will forward to said city or town treasurer a warrant for the amount thereof; provided, however, that upon receipt of notice from any such city or town treasurer that any bond issue matures for principal or interest before the date of such settlement, which notice shall state the amount thereof due from the state and the date of maturity, and that said amount due from the state is required in order to pay the same, the said controller must, before said date of maturity, forward his warrant to such city or town treasurer in the manner above provided for the amount ascertained by him to be due. The treasurer of the county or city and county shall forthwith, upon receipt by him of the moneys so hereinbefore directed to be paid by said controller, credit the amount so received by him to the county, city and county, township or district, respectively entitled thereto, and pay the same in the manner provided by law.

4. Repayment of excess. Any excess paid by the controller to a county, city and county, city, town, or to a county or city and county or any township or district, over and above the state's share of the amount actually expended by such county, city and county, city, town, township or district, to pay the interest and principal of said bonded indebtedness in any year, shall be repaid to the state in such manner as the controller shall direct. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 367.]

§ 3671. Reimbursement of counties until 1918. Until the year one thousand nine hundred eighteen the state shall reimburse any and all counties which sustain loss of revenue by the withdrawal of railroad property from county taxation for the net loss in county revenue occasioned by the withdrawal of railroad property from county taxation in the manner, at the times, and in the amounts specified in an act of the thirty-ninth session of the legislature entitled "An act to provide for the reimbursement of counties in this state which sustain net loss of revenue by the withdrawal of railroad property from county taxation, under the provisions of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state," or any act or acts amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 369.]

The old section 3671, relating to the basis for county taxation was repealed May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 336.

§ 3671a. Expenses of county treasurer. The provisions of section three thousand eight hundred seventy-six of the Political Code shall not apply to the settlements made with the state treasurer under sections three thousand six hundred seventy c and three thousand six hundred seventy-one of this code, but the county board of supervisors may if it deem necessary allow the county treasurer the actual expenses incurred in collecting the money due the county from the state. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 369.]

§ 3671b. Reimbursement of districts. The board of supervisors of each county shall in the month of September of each year determine the amount of loss to each district in the county where loss is occasioned in such district by the withdrawal from local taxation of property taxed for state purposes only, and in the month of December next thereafter shall reimburse such district from the general funds of the county for one-half of such loss, and in the month of May next thereafter shall reimburse such district from the general fund of the county for the remaining one-half of such loss. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 369.]

§ 3671c. Tax to meet deficiency in state revenue. Any tax required to be levied for state purposes as provided in subdivision (e) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution as amended the eighth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred ten, to meet any deficiency in the state revenue shall be assessed, levied and collected on all property in the state, not exempt from taxation including the classes of property enumerated in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, under the provisions of the Political Code relating to the assessment, levy and collection of state and county taxes as said provisions were in force on the seventh day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred ten. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 369.]

§ 3671d. Laws in effect. All laws in force prior to the eighth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred ten, relating to taxation, in so far as said laws may be necessary for the assessment, levy, and collection of state, county, city and county, municipal or district taxes, or in so far as said laws may be necessary for the assessment, levy and collection of the taxes for state purposes, on all the property in the state, not exempt from taxation, to meet a deficiency in the revenues for the support of the state government, or to pay the principal and interest of any bonded indebtedness created and outstanding by any city, city and county, county, town, township, or district, both as provided in subdivision (e) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution as amended on the eighth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred ten shall be and remain, for such purposes, in full force and effect. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 370.]

§ 3678. Statement by auditor. To assist the assessor in the performance of his duties, the auditor must annually transmit to the assessor, within ten days after the first Monday in March of each year, a complete and true statement of all property which has been redeemed under or by virtue of any sale made to the state for delinquent taxes, together with a complete and true statement of all property sold to the state and remaining unredeemed. [Amendment approved May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 430.]

§ 3679. Supervisors to use record in equalizing assessments. [Repealed May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 427.]

§ 3700a. Salary, secretary state board of equalization. The annual salary of the secretary of the state board of equaliztion is four thousand dollars, payable monthly in the same manner as the salaries of other state officers are paid. [New section added May 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 473.]

§ 3701. Duties of secretary. It shall be the duty of the secretary to keep an accurate record of the proceedings of the board in a book specially provided for such purposes. When required by the board or the chairman he shall visit the several counties and collect data and information relative to the assessment of property therein, or the railway property therein, and consult and advise with all officers charged with enforcement of the revenue laws, and report such data and information to the board. To prepare, biennially, the report of the board to the governor, and when printed, to distribute such report, as required by law and as directed by the board. To do and perform all other acts and things enjoined by law or required by the board. The secretary is a civil executive officer and is authorized to administer and certify oaths in any county in the state. [Amendment approved May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 430.]

§ 3714. Limit for bonded indebtedness. The board of supervisors of each county must on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of September of each year, fix the rate of county taxes, designating the number of cents levied for each fund on each one hundred dollars of property, and must levy the state and county taxes upon the taxable property in the county; provided, that it shall not be lawful for any board of supervisors of any county in the state to levy, nor shall any tax greater than fifty cents on each one hundred dollars of property be levied and collected in any one year, to pay the bonded indebtedness, or judgment arising therefrom, of this state, or of any county or municipality in this state. [Amendment approved March 20, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 13.]

§ 3714a. Statement of tax rate sent to controller. When the board of supervisors of each county, and city and county shall have fixed the rate of county, or city and county taxation, the clerk of the board of supervisors must, within three days after such rate has been fixed, transmit by mail, postage paid, to the controller, in such form as the controller shall direct, a statement of the rate of taxation levied by the board of supervisors for county, or city and county taxation. If the clerk fails to transmit such statement in the time herein provided for, he shall forfeit to the state one thousand dollars, to be recovered in an action brought by the attorney general, in the name of the controller. [New section added May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 430.]

§ 3719. Levy of state school tax. [Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 431.]

§ 3728. Statements from "assessment-book." The auditor must, on or before the second Monday in August in each year, prepare from the "assessment-book" of such year, as corrected by the board of supervisors, duplicate statements, showing in separate columns—

1. The number of acres of land.
2. The total value of all property.
3. The value of real estate.
4. The value of improvements thereon.
5. The value of personal property, exclusive of money.
6. The amount of money.
7. Such other information as the state board of equalization may require. [Amendment approved May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 431.]

§ 3734. Statement of amount charged sent to controller. On delivering the assessment-book to the tax collector, the auditor must charge the tax collector with the full amount of the taxes levied, and forthwith transmit by mail to the controller of state, in such form as the controller may prescribe, a statement of the amount so charged. Any auditor failing to forward such statement to the controller within ten days after the roll has been delivered to the tax collector, forfeits to the state one thousand dollars, to be recovered in an action brought by the attorney general, in the name of the controller. [Amendment approved May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 431.]

§ 3753. Statement by tax collector. On the first Monday in each month the tax collector must settle with the auditor for all moneys collected for the state or county, and pay the same to the county treasurer, and on the same day must deliver to and file in the office of the auditor a statement under oath, showing:

1. An itemized account of all his transactions and receipts since his last settlement, which account must show the amount collected for each fund or district extended on the assessment-book.

2. That all money collected by him as tax collector has been so paid to the county treasurer. [Amendment approved May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 431.]

§ 3757. When taxes become delinquent. [Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 431.]

§ 3769a. Land sold for taxes encumbered by trust deed or mortgage. [Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 431.]

§ 3787. Tax deed conclusive evidence. Such deed, duly acknowledged or proved, is (except as against actual fraud) conclusive evidence of the regularity of all other proceedings, from the assessment by the assessor, inclusive, up to the execution of the deed.

Such deed conveys to the state the absolute title to the property described therein, free of all encumbrances, except any lien of taxes levied for municipal or irrigation district purposes and except when the land is owned by the United States or this state; in which case it is the prima facie evidence of the right of possession, accrued as of the date of the deed to the state. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 241.]

§ 3804b. Property assessed by two or more counties. Cancellation of double assessment. Where real property shall hereafter be assessed by the assessors of two or more counties for the same year the owner thereof may file an action in the superior court of one of said counties against the conflicting claimants and discharge the obligation by paying the largest amount of taxes assessed and levied on said land by any of said counties into court and compel said counties to interplead and litigate their several claims among themselves in accordance with section three hundred eighty-six of the Code of Civil Procedure. Where real property has heretofore been assessed by the assessors of two or more counties for the same year and the owner thereof has paid all of the taxes on one of such assessments, upon proof of the payment of such taxes on one of such assessments for any year, by the production of a tax receipt or certificate of the auditor of the county in which such payment has been made, the board of supervisors of any other county claiming the right to assess and tax such real property, shall thereupon enter an order upon its minutes directing the auditor to cancel such double assessment of such property by an entry on the margin of the assessment-book, as also upon the delinquent list, should such double assessment be carried therein. If the property assessed under such double assessment has been sold to the state and a certificate of sale or deed therefor has been issued to the state, the order of the board shall further direct the recorder to cancel such erroneous certificate and deed so issued except where the state has disposed of the property thereby conveyed. [New section added April 13, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 118.]

§ 3818. Partial redemption of land sold for delinquent taxes. If land has separate valuation. If no separate valuation. Notice. Hearing of protest. In all cases where a lot, piece, or parcel of land contained in any assessment has been sold or may hereafter be sold for delinquent taxes to the state, and the state has not disposed of the same, a partial redemption may be made, separately from the whole assessment, of any such lot, piece or parcel of land as follows:

If such lot, piece or parcel of land has a separate valuation on the assessment-roll, such partial redemption shall be made in the manner following: In the estimate provided for in the preceding section, the auditor shall estimate the amount of state and county taxes due on such lot, piece or parcel of land, together with a proper proportion of the taxes due on personal property under such assessment, and of the taxes due each school, road, lesser or other taxation district; and such redemption shall be made in the manner provided for in the preceding section.

If such lot, piece or parcel of land does not have a separate valuation on the assessment-roll, the auditor shall investigate and ascertain the relative or proportionate value such lot, piece or parcel of real property bears to the whole tract assessed, and the auditor shall estimate the amount of such taxes due on such lot, piece or parcel of land according to such relative or proportionate value and the taxes due on any improvements on the portion sought to be so redeemed, together with a relative proportion of the taxes due on personal property under such assessment, and of the taxes due each school, road, lesser or other taxation district; whereupon such redemption shall be made in the manner provided for in the preceding section; provided, that no lot, piece or parcel of land owned or claimed under contract by the person so redeeming shall be divided for the purpose of such redemption. A notice by registered mail of the proposed division must be given by the auditor to the person or persons to whom the same was assessed, if known to the auditor, if not so known, by posting a notice of such proposed division for a period of twenty days in three public places in said county, and if no protest against said division be filed with the auditor within twenty days from the date of the posting or mailing of such notice, the auditor shall thereupon issue an estimate as above stated. In cases where written protest is filed within said twenty days to said division, the auditor shall withhold his estimate and refer the matter to the board of supervisors for decision. The board of supervisors shall set a time for hearing said protest, and cause a notice of the date of said hearing to be mailed by its clerk to the person or persons who have filed a written protest with the auditor, as above provided, at the postoffice address named in such protest, at least five days prior to the date of such hearing, and at the termination of said hearing may confirm the act of the auditor or modify or set aside the same and its decision in the premises shall be final. In the event of such reference to the board of supervisors and of their dividing the assessment, the estimate of the auditor shall conform to the action of the board. A partial redemption may be made, in like manner, separately from the whole assessment, of an undivided interest in any real property, if such property has a separate valuation on the assessment-roll; the auditor estimating the amount of taxes due on such undivided interest according to the proportion which such interest in said real property bears to the whole assessment. The recorder shall note, on the margin of the record of the certificate of sale a description of the property or undivided interest redeemed under this section, and shall specifically set forth the several amounts of taxes paid upon such redemption. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1633.]

§ 3861. Proceeds of poll tax paid to county treasurer for state school fund. [Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 432.]

§ 3862. Compensation for collecting poll tax. [Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 432.

§ 3881. Correction of clerical errors in assessment-book. Defects in description or defects in form or clerical omissions of the assessor, or clerical errors of the asssesor, in any assessment-book, when it can be ascertained from the assessment-book, or from the assessor's maps or block-books, or other papers in the assessor's office, what was intended, or what should have been assessed, may, with the written consent of the district attorney, be supplied or corrected by the assessor at any time after the assessment was made, prior to the sale for delinquent taxes; provided, that where said change will decrease the amount of taxes charged against the taxpayer by reason of said assessment, the consent of the board of supervisors shall also be necessary to said change; and provided, further, that where said change will increase the amount of taxes charged against the taxpayer by reason of said assessment, the person so charged shall be given at least five days' notice of the time when the matter will be heard by the board of supervisors, and he may at such time present any objections he may have to such change to the board of supervisors and their decision in the matter shall be conclusive. The date and nature of every such correction shall be entered on the assessment-book opposite said assessment, and the written authority therefor shall be filed by the assessor with the auditor and preserved by the auditor as a public record, and he shall make the proper charges or credits in his account with the tax collector. In the city and county of San Francisco the written consent of the city attorney shall have the same force and effect as the written consent of the district attorney. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 968.]

§ 3898. Distribution of moneys received from sale. 1. The moneys received from such sale shall be distributed as follows: The tax collector shall deduct the penalties, costs and other amounts received as expenses of such sale in such cases as the property so sold shall have been sold for a sum not less than the amount of all taxes levied thereon and all interest, costs, penalties and expenses up to the date of such sale, but where the property so sold shall have been sold for a sum less than said amount, the tax collector shall deduct only the amounts received as expenses attending such sale, and the balance shall be distributed between the state and the county, or city and county, in the proportion that the state rate bears to the county, or city and county, rate of taxation; said tax collector shall pay all amounts into the county treasury, and the treasurer shall account to the state for its portion in the settlement required by section three thousand eight hundred sixty-five and section three thousand eight hundred sixty-six.

2. Deed to purchaser. Form. No charge for deed. On receiving the amount bid, as prescribed in the preceding section, the tax collector must execute a deed to the purchaser, which deed shall be in substance and may be in form as follows:

"This indenture, made the —— day of ——, 19—, between ——, tax collector of the county of ——, state of California, first party, and —— of the county of ——, state of ——, second party, witnesseth:

That whereas the real property hereinafter described was duly sold and conveyed to the state of California for the nonpayment of taxes which had been legally levied and which were a lien upon said property under and in accordance with law; and

Whereas in conformity with law the state of California, acting by and through ——, tax collector as aforesaid, did offer said property, hereinafter described, for sale at public auction to the highest bidder, at which sale said second party became the purchaser of the whole thereof for the sum of $——.

Now, therefore, the said first party in consideration of the premises and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, does hereby grant to the said second party, his heirs and assigns, that certain real property hereinbefore referred to, and situate in the —— county of ——, state of California, more particularly described as follows, to wit:

* * * * * * * * * *

In witness whereof, said first party has hereunto set his hand the day and year first above written.

——,

Tax collector of the county of ——."

No other matters need be recited in the said deed than those provided for in the above form. No charge shall be made by the tax collector for the making of any such deed, and the acknowledgment of all such deeds shall be taken by the county clerk free of charge. Said deed shall be prima facie evidence of all the facts recited therein and shall operate to convey all of the interest of the state in and to said property.

3. Tax collector's report of sales. Within ten days after each sale as provided in the preceding section the tax collector shall report to the assessor and recorder, giving the name or names of all persons to whom deeds have been issued under the provisions of this section, together with the dates of such deeds, the amount for which the property was sold, a description of the property conveyed, together with the numbers and dates of the certificates of sale and of the tax deeds by which title to such property so granted was conveyed to the state.

4. Recorder's notations. The recorder shall note on the margin of each certificate of sale and of each tax deed involved in the sale and transfer of such property, the name of the purchaser, the date of the deed to the purchaser and the consideration named therein. The assessor shall use such report in his determination of the ownership of such property for assessment purposes.

5. Refund to purchaser not finally awarded property. (a) Whenever in any action at law, it has been or shall be determined by a court that the sale and conveyance provided for in this and the preceding section or in section three thousand seven hundred seventy-one of this code heretofore or hereafter made are void for any reason, and that the purchaser from the state may not be finally awarded the property so purchased, no decree of the court shall be given declaring a forfeiture of the property until the former owner, or other party in interest, shall have repaid to the purchaser the full amount of taxes, penalties and costs paid out and expended by him, to be determined by the court, in pursuit of the state's title to the property so sold. The said purchaser may within one year after such decree becomes final also present a claim against the county, in the manner provided by law, for a refund of the amount paid into the county treasury as the purchase price of such property in excess of the amount for which he may have been reimbursed for taxes, penalties and costs as herein provided, and such excess shall be refunded in accordance with section three thousand eight hundred four of this code.

(b) Refund for government land erroneously sold. Whenever it shall be determined to the satisfaction of the board of supervisors of the county in which the land is situated that any land belonging to the United States government or to this state, a municipality or other political subdivision of this state has been erroneously sold and conveyed under the provisions of this or the preceding section, or section three thousand seven hundred seventy-one of this code, and the said land should not have been so sold, the purchaser at said sale may present a claim against the county in the manner provided by law for a refund of the amount so paid into the county treasury by reason of such sale. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 715.]

§ 4052c. Erection of historic monuments. The boards of supervisors in the several counties shall have, and they are hereby given, the power to appropriate money from the general fund of the county to erect monuments or to place tablets to commemorate historic spots or places within the limits of the county. [New section added May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1366.]

§ 4115. Money found on dead body. The treasurer upon receiving from the coroner or justice of the peace acting as coroner money found on a dead body must place it to the credit of the county. All said moneys must be kept in a separate fund. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 259.]

§ 4146. Duties of coroner as to property of deceased persons. The coroner must within thirty days after an inquest upon a dead body deliver to the legal representatives of the deceased any money or other property found upon the body. If within the said thirty days no such legal representative makes a demand upon the coroner for the said money or property found upon the body of the decedent, then, upon the expiration of the said thirty days, the coroner must deliver to the treasurer any money found upon the body of the deceased, together with the proceeds of the sale of the property found upon the body of the decedent, which sale shall be held in accordance with the provisions of section four thousand one hundred forty-six a of this code, and at the same time an affidavit with the treasurer showing:

1. The amount of money belonging to the estate of the deceased person which has come into his possession since his last statement.

2. The disposition made of such property.

If the coroner or any justice of the peace acting as coroner fails to deliver to the treasurer within forty days after any inquest upon a dead body all money, or proceeds from the sale of property found upon such body, unless claimed in the meantime by the public administrator or other legal representative of the decedent as required by this section, the district attorney must proceed against the coroner or justice of the peace acting as coroner to recover the same by civil action in the name of the county. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 259.]

§ 4146a. Sale of property at public auction. If within thirty days after an inquest upon a dead body no legal representative of such decedent shall have demanded from the coroner or any justice of the peace acting as coroner the property found upon the person of the decedent, the coroner or justice of the peace acting as coroner shall sell such property at public auction upon reasonable public notice, and must immediately thereafter deliver the proceeds of such sale to the treasurer, who shall place the same to the credit of the county, in the same manner as prescribed in section four thousand one hundred fifteen of this code. [New section added May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 259.]

§ 4147a. Powers of deputy coroners. If the coroner is absent or unable to attend, the duties of his office may be discharged by any of his deputies with like authority, and subject to the same obligations and penalties as the coroner. [New section added May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 248.]

§ 4149b. Appointment of county fish and game wardens. Deputy fish and game wardens. The board of supervisors of each county may, in the discretion of the board, at the first meeting thereof held in January, 1909, and in January every two years thereafter, appoint a suitable person to serve for the period of two years from the date of his appointment as fish and game warden of the county. Such fish and game warden may be removed by the board of supervisors for intemperance, neglect of duty, or other good and sufficient reason. Said fish and game warden shall, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, execute a bond with sureties in such sum as may be required by the board of supervisors, for the faithful and proper discharge of his duties as such fish and game warden; and provided, further, that in counties of the third class the board of supervisors in their discretion may appoint a deputy fish and game warden. Deputy fish and game wardens shall have the same duties and powers as their principals. The salary of the deputy fish and game warden in counties of the third class shall be seventy-five dollars a month and shall be paid in the same manner and out of the same fund that the salary of the fish and game warden is paid, and the bond of the fish and game warden shall also be conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his deputy, as well as of himself. [Amendment approved April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 41.]

§ 4232. Counties of third class, salaries of officers. In counties of the third class the county and township officers shall receive as full compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their office the following salaries:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, five thousand dollars per annum; provided, that the compensation of the county clerk in counties of this class during the present term of office of the present incumbent ending on the first Monday after the first day of January, 1919, shall be four thousand dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and there hereby is allowed to the county clerk one chief deputy, whose salary is hereby fixed at the sum of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; one deputy, whose salary is hereby fixed at one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; twenty-four deputies, whose salaries are hereby fixed at the sum of one thousand six hundred twenty dollars per annum each; two deputies, whose salaries are hereby fixed at the sum of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum each. All the foregoing deputies herein provided for, shall be appointed by the county clerk of said county, and their salaries shall be paid by the county in equal monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as is the salary of the county clerk; provided, further, that in such years as the compilation of a great register of voters is required by law to be made, the county clerk in counties of this class shall be, and he is hereby allowed the following additional help: Fifteen clerks for a period of and not exceeding six months, whose salaries are hereby fixed at one hundred dollars per month each; fifteen clerks for a period of not exceeding one month, whose salaries are hereby fixed at one hundred dollars per month each; and also for any such year at least one additional deputy in each voting precinct in the county, who shall be a qualified elector of such precinct, for the purpose of registering electors; such additional deputies shall be paid five cents per name for each elector legally registered by them in the same manner as other county claims are paid; and provided, further, that if no help is allowed to county clerks under the direct primary law, the county clerk in counties of this class, in such years as a general state direct primary election is held, shall be and he is hereby allowed the following additional help: Fifteen clerks for a period of and not exceeding two months immediately next preceding the direct primary election day, whose salaries are hereby fixed at one hundred dollars per month each; and provided, further, that in the event of a special election being held throughout the county, the county clerk is allowed fifteen additional deputies for a period of one month immediately preceding the day of such election, at a compensation of one hundred dollars per month each; such clerks shall be appointed by the county clerk of said county, and during their respective periods of employment their salaries shall be paid by such county in equal monthly installments, at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as is the salary of the county clerk of such county; provided, further, any provision of law to the contrary notwithstanding, that in the event the departments of the superior court in counties of the third class are increased to more than six, that at the time of such increase there is allowed the county clerk to be appointed by such clerk an extra deputy to act as courtroom clerk for each department of said superior court so created in excess of the six departments now existing, the salaries of such deputies to be one thousand six hundred twenty dollars per annum each, to be paid by the county in equal monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as is the salary of the county clerk of such county.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, four thousand dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and there hereby is allowed to the sheriff, one under-sheriff, whose salary is hereby fixed at the sum of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; two deputies, whose salaries are hereby fixed at the sum of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum each; twenty-four deputies, whose salaries are hereby fixed at the sum of one thousand six hundred twenty dollars per annum each; two engineers for the jail, whose salaries are hereby fixed at the sum of one thousand six hundred twenty dollars per annum each; one matron for the jail, whose salary is hereby fixed at one thousand twenty dollars per annum; one assistant matron, for a period not to exceed two weeks in any one year and to serve only during the vacation of the matron, at a salary of forty-two and one-half dollars for such two weeks; provided, further, that the under-sheriff, all deputies, matron, assistant matron and engineers herein provided for shall be appointed by the sheriff and their salaries shall be paid by the said county in equal monthly installments, at the same time, and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the sheriff; the sheriff shall also receive the amount of money necessarily expended by him in serving all process and notices and all expenses necessarily incurred by him in the pursuit of criminals and the same shall be a charge against the county and allowed as such by the board of supervisors and paid as other county charges are paid; provided, further, any provision of law to the contrary notwithstanding, that in the event the departments of the superior court in counties of the third class are increased to more than six, that at the time of such increase there is allowed the sheriff to be appointed by him an extra deputy to act as bailiff for each department of said superior court so created in excess of the six departments now existing, the salaries of such deputies to be one thousand six hundred twenty dollars per annum each, to be paid by the county in equal monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as is the salary of the sheriff of such county.

(4) In townships having a population of two thousand five hundred and less than four thousand four hundred, justices of the peace shall each receive a salary of seventy-five dollars per month as full compensation for all services rendered by them except as hereinafter provided.

(5) In townships having a population of two thousand two hundred fifty and less than two thousand five hundred, justices of the peace shall each receive the sum of sixty dollars per month as salary for all services rendered in both civil and criminal cases. All fees collected by them shall be paid monthly by them into the county treasury.

(6) In townships having a population of one thousand and less than two thousand five hundred, justices of the peace shall each receive a salary of fifty dollars per month as full compensation for all services rendered by them, except as hereinafter provided.

(7) In townships having a population of less than one thousand, justices of the peace shall each receive a salary of thirty dollars per month as full compensation for all services rendered by them, except as hereinafter provided.

Justices of the peace in all townships in counties of the fourth class shall be permitted to receive and retain for their own use, fees for celebrating marriages and returning certificates thereof, but all other fees shall be collected by them and by them paid into the county treasury at least once a month.

16. Constables. Population of townships. In counties of this class constables shall be compensated as follows, and all salaries herein provided shall be paid in the same manner as the salaries of county officers are paid, viz:

(1) In townships having a population of twenty thousand or more, constables shall each receive a salary of one hundred dollars per month for all services rendered by them in criminal cases. As compensation for all services rendered in civil cases and all other matters wherein they may charge fees for their services, a constable may collect and retain for his own use as his compensation such fees as are now, or may hereafter be allowed by law.

(2) In townships having a population of five thousand and less than twenty thousand, constables shall each receive the sum of seventy-seven dollars and fifty cents per month as a salary for all services rendered by them in criminal cases. As compensation for all services rendered by them in civil cases and in all other matters wherein they may charge fees for their services, a constable may collect and retain for his own use as his compensation such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

(3) In townships having a population of four thousand four hundred and less than five thousand, constables shall each receive the sum of seventy-seven dollars and fifty cents per month as a salary for all services rendered by them in criminal cases, civil cases and in the performance of all other duties imposed upon them by law. All fees chargeable and collectible in both criminal cases, civil cases, and in all other cases wherein fees are chargeable by constables, they shall collect in advance and pay monthly into the county treasury.

(4) In townships having a population of two thousand five hundred and less than four thousand four hundred, constables shall each receive the sum of sixty dollars per month as a salary for all services rendered by them in both civil and criminal cases. All fees collected by them in civil and criminal cases shall be paid monthly by them into the county treasury. For all services performed by them, they may charge and retain for their own use such fees as are chargeable at law.

(5) In townships having a population of two thousand two hundred fifty and less than two thousand five hundred, constables shall each receive the sum of sixty dollars per month as salary for all services rendered in both civil and criminal cases. All fees collected by them shall be paid monthly by them into the county treasury.

(6) In townships having a population of one thousand and less than two hundred fifty, constables shall each receive the sum of forty dollars per month as salary for all services rendered in criminal cases. All fees collected by them in criminal cases shall be paid monthly by them into the county treasury. For all other services performed by them they may charge and collect for their own use such fees as are allowed by law.

(7) In townships having a population of less than one thousand, constables shall each receive the sum of thirty dollars per month as a salary for all services rendered by them in criminal cases. All fees collected by them in criminal cases shall be paid monthly into the county treasury. For all other services performed by them they may charge and collect for their own use such fees as are allowed by law.

Constables shall be allowed all necessary expenses incurred in conveying prisoners.

The population herein referred to in classifying townships for the purpose of regulating the compensation of justices of the peace and constables shall be the population found and determined by the federal census taken in the year 1910; provided, however, that a township census may be taken for the purpose of establishing the official census of such township in the manner hereinafter specified and when so taken, such census shall be known as and shall become the official census of such township in which it is taken and the population therein determined shall be and become the official population of such township. Whenever there shall be presented to the board of supervisors of the county a petition signed by the qualified electors of any township or townships in number equal to twenty-five per cent of the votes cast at the preceding general election, praying that said township or townships may be allowed to take the census of said township or townships for the purpose of ascertaining the population therein contained, the board of supervisors may order such census to be taken by one or more suitable persons appointed therefor by the board of supervisors and such census shall be taken by such persons so appointed, of all of the inhabitants of such township or townships. The full name of each person shall be plainly written, the names alphabetically arranged and regularly numbered in one complete series and when completed, shall be verified by the proper official authorized to administer oaths and be filed with the county clerk and thereupon, the same shall be known and shall be the official census of said township or townships.

17. Supervisors. Each supervisor, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum and mileage of ten cents per mile for each mile actually traveled in going to and from their residence to the county seat or in the performance of the duties required of them by law or by virtue of their office; provided, that in attending sessions of the board only four mileages shall be allowed for each month and that the total mileage allowed shall not exceed five hundred dollars in any one calendar year; provided, that nothing in this subdivision shall be deemed to affect the compensation or mileage of any incumbent supervisor, but said incumbent shall be paid such compensation and allowed such mileage as is now provided and allowed by law.

18. Jurors. The fees of grand jurors and trial jurors in the superior courts of said counties of the fourth class, in civil and criminal cases shall be three dollars, in lawful money of the United States, for each day's attendance, and mileage to be computed at the rate of fifteen cents per mile for each mile necessarily traveled in attending court, in going only. In criminal cases such fees and mileage of said trial jurors in the superior court shall be paid by the treasurer of the county out of the general fund of said county upon warrants drawn by the county auditor upon the written order of the judge of the court in which said juror was in attendance, and the treasurer of said county shall pay said warrants. The board of supervisors of said county is hereby directed to make suitable appropriation for the payment of the fees herein provided for. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1260.]

14. Fees of jurors and witnesses. In the superior court, jurors fees and witness fees shall be as follows:

For attending as a grand juror, for each day's actual attendance per day, three dollars, and twenty-five cents per mile for each mile actually traveled in going only, and but once during the term for which such juror is drawn, and the judge of said court shall make an order directing the auditor to draw his warrant in favor of such juror for said per diem and mileage and the treasurer shall pay the same.

For attending as a trial juror for each day's actual attendance, per day three dollars, and fifteen cents per mile for each mile actually traveled in going only, and the judge of said court shall make an order directing the auditor to draw his warrant in favor of such juror for said per diem and mileage and the treasurer shall pay the same.

For attending as a witness in criminal cases and before the grand jury, for each day's actual attendance the sum of two dollars, and fifteen cents per mile for each mile actually traveled in going only, and the judge of said court shall make an order directing the auditor to draw his warrant in favor of such witness for said per diem and mileage, and the treasurer shall pay the same; provided, however, that in criminal cases such per diem and mileage shall only be allowed on a showing to the court by the witness, that the same was necessary for the expenses of the witness in attending, and the court shall determine the necessity for the same, and may disallow any fees to a witness unnecessarily subpoenaed.

The fees for jurors in criminal cases in justice courts shall be two dollars per day for each day of actual service as a juror, and the justice of said court shall make an order directing the auditor to draw his warrant in favor of such juror for said per diem and the treasurer shall pay the same. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1027.]

§ 4241. Counties of twelfth class, salaries of officers. In counties of the twelfth class, the county officers shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law, or by virtue of their office, the following salaries:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, four thousand dollars per annum, one deputy at one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and also one deputy to act as courtroom clerk at one thousand two hundred dollars per annum. The county clerk shall also have for use in his office, and under his supervision and control, two stenographers, and each of said stenographers shall receive a salary of seventy-five dollars per month, to be paid in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of county officers are paid. The said positions of stenographers shall be filled by the county clerk in the same manner as deputies are appointed by him. The county clerk shall also receive ten cents per name of each elector entered upon the great register of the county, and also such fees as may be allowed by law for issuing hunting and fishing licenses, and all naturalization fees allowed to the clerk by the naturalization laws of the United States. In any county of this class where an additional deputy clerk has been allowed on account of an increase in the number of departments of the superior court in and for said county since the year 1910, the deputy herein provided for to act as courtroom clerk shall take the place of, and perform the duties of such additional deputy so allowed on account of an increase in the number of departments of the superior court.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, six thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and mileage for the service of any and all processes required by law to be served by him at the rate of ten cents per mile necessarily traveled in the performance of such duty within the county, and at the rate of ten cents per mile, one way only, for every mile necessarily traveled in the performance of such duty outside of the county. He shall have a deputy at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum. In any county of this class where an additional deputy sheriff has been allowed on account of an increase in the number of departments of the superior court in and for said county since the year 1910, the deputy herein provided for shall take the place of and perform the duties of such additional deputy so allowed on account of an increase in the number of departments of the superior court. Whenever any female prisoner or prisoners are in custody in the county jail of counties of this class, the sheriff of said county is hereby authorized and empowered, immediately upon such prisoner or prisoners being brought to the jail, to employ a matron, and to retain such matron in employment at the county jail so long as any female prisoner is in custody therein. Said matron shall perform the duties prescribed for matrons of the county jail in section four thousand two hundred twenty-six of the Political Code, and shall have the same rights and authority as are prescribed in said section for matrons of the county jail. For each and every day that said matron is actually employed, she shall receive a salary of three dollars, payable upon the presentation of a proper claim therefor, presented to and allowed by the board of supervisors.

3. Recorder. The county recorder, two thousand dollars per annum, and one deputy at one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; and six cents per folio for every instrument of any character transcribed by him or his deputies, which said amount shall be paid by the county treasurer out of the county treasury.

4. Auditor. The county auditor, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum, and two deputies each to receive one thousand five hundred dollars per annum. In addition to said deputies, the county auditor shall have the right to employ from time to time in his office, such additional assistants as may be required to promptly perform the work required to be done therein. Such assistants shall receive a salary of three dollars each, for each day that they are actually and necessarily employed, and such salary shall be paid out of the general fund of the county upon proper claims presented therefor to the board of supervisors; provided, however, that the total amount to be paid such assistants shall not exceed three hundred dollars in any one year.

5. Treasurer. The county treasurer, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum, and one deputy at one thousand five hundred dollars per annum. All fees and commissions collected by the treasurer in his official capacity shall belong to the county, and shall be paid into the county treasury.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum, and one deputy at one thousand five hundred dollars per annum. The tax collector shall also have ten clerks at seventy-five dollars per month each for not to exceed two months during each and every year. In addition to said deputy and said clerks, the tax collector shall have the right to employ from time to time in his office, such additional assistants as may be required to promptly perform the work required to be done therein. Such assistants shall receive a salary of three dollars each, for each day that they are actually and necessarily employed and such salary shall be paid out of the general fund of the county upon proper claims presented therefor to the board of supervisors; provided, however, that the total amount to be paid such assistants shall not exceed three hundred dollars in any one year.

7. Assessor. The county assessor, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum, a chief deputy at one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and fifteen field deputies for the months of March, April, May and June of each year, each of which field deputies shall receive a salary of five dollars per day for each day actually employed in the performance of his duties. He shall also have two clerks for the months of January, February, March, April, May and June of each year at a salary of seventy-five dollars per month each, and one index clerk for the months of April, May and June of each year at a salary of seventy-five dollars per month. He shall also have for use in his office, and under his supervision and control, a draftsman, which office of draftsman is hereby by the terms of this act expressly created. It shall be the duty of said draftsman to prepare, under the supervision of the assessor for use in said office, proper books, blanks and plat-books. Said position of draftsman shall be filled by the assessor in the same manner as deputies are appointed by him, and said draftsman shall receive a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, to be paid in the same manner as the salaries of county officers are paid.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, three thousand dollars per annum. He shall have one deputy at a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum, and one deputy at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; and he shall also have for use in his office, and under his supervision and control, a stenographer, which office of stenographer is hereby, by the terms of this act, expressly created. The said position of stenographer shall be filled by the district attorney in the same manner as deputies are appointed by him, and said stenographer shall receive a salary of seventy-five dollars per month, to be paid in the same manner as the salaries of county officers are paid.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now, or may be hereafter allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, for full services, including his duties with and on the county board of education, two thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and actual traveling expenses when visiting schools of his county. He shall have two deputies at a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars each per annum.

12. Surveyor. The county surveyor shall receive a salary of two thousand dollars per annum, and he shall be allowed one deputy at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum. The county surveyor shall be allowed all necessary traveling and field expenses of self and chainmen or other help in the field. In addition, the county surveyor shall be allowed to employ all necessary inspectors and field or office help; provided, however, that before employing such inspectors or field or office help, the surveyor shall first obtain the consent of the board of supervisors to such employment. The salaries and expenses of such inspectors or field or office help shall be paid out of the county general fund upon proper claims presented therefor to the board of supervisors. In any county of this class where bonds have been or shall hereafter be issued under the provisions of section four thousand eighty-eight of the Political Code for the construction of roads, bridges or highways, the board of supervisors may at any time during the planning, laying out or construction of such roads, bridges, or highways, employ all necessary inspectors and field or office help to assist the surveyor in planning, laying out or constructing such roads, bridges and highways. All inspectors and field or office help so employed by the board of supervisors, shall work under the supervision of the surveyor, and board of supervisors, and shall not be employed longer than is necessary to actually complete the roads, bridges or highways constructed with funds created by such bond issue. The salaries of all persons so employed by the board of supervisors as such inspectors or field or office help, shall be prescribed by the said board, and all such salaries, together with the field expenses of all such inspectors or field or office help, shall be paid out of the fund created by such issue of bonds upon proper claims presented therefor to the board of supervisors.

13. Justices of the peace. Justices of the peace shall receive the following monthly salaries to be paid each month as salaries of county officers are paid, which shall be in full compensation for all services rendered as hereinafter provided: In townships having a population of three thousand or more, one hundred dollars per month. In townships having a population of not less than two thousand and under three thousand, fifty dollars per month. In townships having a population of not less than one thousand and under two thousand, forty dollars per month. In townships having a population of less than one thousand, thirty dollars per month; provided, however, that in townships having a population of six thousand or more, no person other than a duly qualified attorney at law shall be eligible to the office of justice of the peace. Said salaries enumerated in this paragraph shall be in full compensation for all services rendered by said justices of the peace in both civil and criminal cases. All such fees as are allowed by law in civil cases shall be paid by all justices into the county treasury in the same manner as the fees of county officers are paid. It is hereby found as a fact that as to all townships having a population of less than three thousand the salaries provided for in this subdivision do not work an increase in compensation and the same shall apply immediately to incumbents.

14. Constables. Constables shall receive the following monthly salaries to be paid each month as salaries of county officers are paid, which shall be in full compensation for all services rendered by them in criminal cases: In townships having a population of more than three thousand, eighty dollars per month. In townships having a population of not less than two thousand and under three thousand, sixty dollars per month. In townships having a population of not less than one thousand and under two thousand, forty dollars per month. In townships having a population of less than one thousand, twenty-five dollars per month. All such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law in civil cases shall be paid by all constables into the county treasury in the same manner as the fees of county officers are paid. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes in salaries of constables do not work an increase in compensation and the same shall apply immediately to incumbents. In addition to the monthly salary allowed herein, each constable shall be allowed ten cents per mile, for each mile necessarily traveled in the execution of all criminal process within the county, and ten cents per mile, one way only, for each mile necessarily traveled in the execution of all criminal process outside the county. In addition, each constable shall be allowed all expenses necessarily and actually incurred by him in transporting prisoners to court, and to prison, and all expenses necessarily and actually incurred by him in executing all process in civil cases.

15. Statements by constables and justices of the peace. It shall be the duty of each and every constable and justice of the peace to file on or before the first Monday of each and every month, a full and complete statement, showing all business, both civil and criminal, done during the preceding month, with the board of supervisors, and he shall file the same on or before said date above mentioned, with the clerk of said board. The statement of the constables shall contain a full and correct account of all process served in both civil and criminal actions, also in criminal cases the places where defendants were arrested, together with the mileage. And justices of the peace shall file a full and correct statement of all civil and criminal actions and fees received therefrom. Said statements to be sworn to either before the county clerk or some officer allowed by law to administer oaths.

16. Population of townships. The board of supervisors shall determine the population of each township for the purpose of fixing the salary of the township officers aforesaid.

17. Supervisors. Each supervisor, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, for personal services performed by him as supervisor, member of the board of equalization, and road commissioner. Each supervisor shall also receive his actual and necessary traveling expenses incurred in performing any of the duties of his office, to be allowed by the board of supervisors and paid out of the county general fund; provided, that the amount so allowed him for such expenses shall not exceed eighty dollars for any one month.

18. No fees for collecting licenses. No fees shall be allowed the sheriff or tax collector for collecting licenses in counties of this class. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 995.]

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, two thousand dollars per annum, and his actual traveling expenses when visiting schools, not to exceed ten dollars per district; provided, that the said superintendent of schools may appoint one deputy superintendent of schools, which office of deputy superintendent of schools is hereby created, and such deputy shall receive compensation for his or her services the sum of seven hundred twenty dollars per annum, to be paid in equal monthly installments in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as the salary of other county officers is paid.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

13. Township officers. In counties of this class the township officers shall receive the following compensation, to wit:

(a) In townships having a population of four thousand five hundred, or more, each justice of the peace shall receive a salary of one hundred fifty dollars per month, and each constable a salary of ninety dollars per month.

(b) In townships having a population of two thousand, or more, and less than four thousand five hundred, each justice of the peace shall receive a salary of sixty dollars per month, and each constable a salary of sixty dollars per month.

(c) In townships having a population of one thousand nine hundred twenty-five or more, and less than two thousand, each justice of the peace shall receive a salary of forty-five dollars per month, and each constable a salary of fifty dollars per month.

(d) In townships having a population of one thousand eight hundred, or more, and less than one thousand nine hundred twenty-five, each justice of the peace shall receive a salary of thirty-two dollars and fifty cents per month, and each constable a salary of forty dollars per month.

(e) In townships having a population of seven hundred thirty, or more, and less than one thousand eight hundred, each justice of the peace shall receive a salary of twenty dollars per month, and each constable a salary of twenty-five dollars per month.

(f) In townships having a population of less than seven hundred thirty, each justice of the peace shall receive a salary of five dollars per month, and each constable a salary of five dollars per month.

The above-named salaries shall be in full compensation for all services of said justices of the peace and constables in criminal cases; provided, that each constable shall be allowed and paid the actual expense of transporting prisoners, after conviction, to the county jail, which said expense shall be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors and paid out of the county treasury.

Said justices of the peace and constables may receive and retain for their own use such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law for all services rendered by them in civil actions.

The salaries of township officers as herein provided for shall be paid in the same manner, at the same time, and out of the same funds that county officers are paid.

For the purpose of this subdivision the population of the several judicial townships is hereby determined to be the population of said townships as shown by the federal census taken in the year A. D. nineteen hundred and ten.

14. Supervisors. Each member of the board of supervisors, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and mileage when acting as road commissioner, twenty-five cents per mile one way; provided, the amount of mileage shall not exceed the sum of three hundred dollars in any one year.

15. Board of education. Members of the board of education, each the sum of five dollars per day for actual service, together with mileage at ten cents per mile.

16. Jurors. In counties of this class grand jurors and trial jurors in criminal cases in the superior court shall each receive for each day's attendance the sum of three dollars, and the mileage allowed by law.

17. In effect, when. Sections one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen and sixteen hereof shall become operative as soon as this act takes effect, and shall apply to incumbents in office. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1245.]

§ 4249. Counties of twentieth class, salaries of officers. In counties of the twentieth class, the county and township officers shall receive as full compensation for the services required of them by law, or by virtue of their office, the following salaries and fees, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, three thousand dollars per annum, and such fees as are now, or may be hereafter allowed by law, and in any year when a new great register of voters is required by law, he shall receive, in addition thereto, ten cents per name for each person registered. He may appoint one deputy who shall receive a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; one deputy who shall receive a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; one deputy who shall receive a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum; and one deputy who shall be a stenographer, at a salary of nine hundred dollars per annum; and during any year when an official primary election is held in the county, he may appoint one additional deputy, to serve for a period of four months only, at a monthly salary of seventy-five dollars. The deputies, clerks and stenographer herein provided for shall be paid by the county at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the county clerk is paid, In any year when a new registration of voters is required by law, he may appoint such number of deputies as may be necessary for the convenient registration of voters in their respective precincts, such deputyships and offices being hereby created. Each of said deputies shall be paid by the county the sum of ten cents per name for each elector registered by him. Said compensation to be paid out of the general fund of the county, on the presentation and filing with the board of supervisors of the county, of a duly verified claim therefor, approved by the county clerk. On and after January sixth, 1919, all fees, commissions and perquisites from whatever source received and collected by the county clerk, except the said sum of ten cents per name received by him for each person registered, shall be paid into the county treasury, and shall belong to the county.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, four thousand five hundred dollars per annum; provided, there shall be and there hereby is allowed to the sheriff the following deputies, which offices are hereby created, who shall be appointed by the sheriff, and shall be paid salaries as follows: One chief deputy at a salary of one hundred fifty dollars per month, one deputy at a salary of one hundred dollars per month, and one deputy to act as jailer at a salary of one hundred dollars per month. The salaries of the deputies and employees herein provided for shall be paid by the county in monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same funds as the salary of the sheriff is paid. In criminal cases, and actions in which the county is interested, the sheriff shall receive only actual expenses incurred and no more. All claims against the county shall be itemized and sworn to by the sheriff or chief deputy, and filed with the board of supervisors monthly before the tenth day of each month. Expense accounts to be sworn to and filed as separate claims. A monthly statement of all fees collected from whatever source derived, duly subscribed and sworn to by the sheriff or chief deputy shall be filed with the county treasurer on or before the tenth day of each month. The board of supervisors may allow the sheriff a sum not to exceed thirty-seven and one-half cents per day for feeding each prisoner committed to his custody. Prisoners shall be fed three meals each day. The changes in this subdivision made shall apply to the incumbent and shall be in lieu of all fees, commissions, and mileage.

3. Recorder. The recorder, three thousand five hundred dollars per annum; and said recorder may appoint two deputy recorders, one of whom shall receive a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and one who shall receive a salary of eight hundred dollars per annum. He may appoint such copyists as may be required for the recording of all papers, notices or documents in his office, except maps or plats, who shall receive for their services the sum of six cents per folio; and for copies of any paper or record six cents per folio. The salaries and compensation of all deputies and copyists herein provided for shall be paid by the county in monthly installments out of the same fund as the recorder is paid. All fees, commissions and perquisites collected by the recorder, from whatever source received, shall be paid into the county treasury. The recorder shall file monthly, on or before the tenth day of each month, with the county auditor, a verified statement showing in detail the fees received by him, and the amounts paid to copyists or other employees in his office, and the names of the persons to whom the same were paid.

4. Auditor. The auditor, three thousand dollars per annum. He may appoint one deputy, who shall receive a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; and one clerk at a salary of seventy-five dollars per month; and one copyist for the months of September and October in each year, at a salary of one hundred dollars per month. The deputy, clerk and copyist herein provided for shall be paid by the county in monthly installments in the same manner and out of the same fund as the auditor is paid.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, three thousand dollars per annum.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, three thousand five hundred dollars per annum. He may appoint one deputy, which office is hereby created, at a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum; and four clerks, for four months in each year, at a salary of fifty dollars per month; he may also appoint one copyist, at a salary of fifty dollars per month for four months, and two indexers, at a salary of sixty dollars each per month for four months in each year, whose duty it shall be to compile an index to the assessment-rolls of the county, and of each sanitary district, said index to be a public record, and to be kept in the office of the tax collector for public use. Said deputy, clerks and indexers to be paid by the county in monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the tax collector is paid. All fees, perquisites and commissions from whatever source derived, collected by the tax collector, shall be paid into the county treasury, and shall belong to the county.

7. Assessor. The assessor, four thousand dollars per annum. In counties of this class there shall be and there hereby is allowed to the assessor the following clerks, deputies and employees, who shall be appointed by the assessor, and shall be paid salaries as follows: One chief deputy assessor at a salary of one hundred dollars per month; one deputy assessor at a salary of seventy-five dollars per month; and such additional field deputy assessors and clerks as the assessor may appoint at a salary not to exceed five dollars per day each; provided, however, that the total amount of salary and compensation paid to such additional deputies and clerks who receive a per diem shall not exceed the sum of three thousand dollars per annum. Said additional deputies and clerks to be paid by the county on the presentation and filing with the board of supervisors of duly verified claims, showing the services rendered, approved by the assessor. The salaries of all deputies, clerks and employees shall be paid by the county, at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the assessor is paid. The assessor shall receive no compensation or commissions for the collection of personal property taxes, or compiling the military roll, and all commissions, perquisites and fees from whatever source received, collected by him, shall be paid into the county treasury, and shall belong to the county. The changes herein made are intended to place the office of the assessor on a fixed salary basis, in lieu of the assessor's present compensation, fees and commissions allowed him by law, and shall apply to the incumbent.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, three thousand dollars per annum; and said district attorney may appoint a stenographer, which office is hereby created, who shall receive a salary of seventy-five dollars per month; provided, however, that such stenographer shall receive a salary of ninety dollars per month in case such stenographer shall perform all the services required in the county as official reporter in all preliminary hearings in felony cases. Said stenographer shall be paid by the county at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the district attorney is paid. The district attorney shall be allowed, in addition to the monthly salary herein allowed, the sum of sixty dollars per month, which shall be in full for all his traveling and other personal expenses in criminal cases and civil actions in which the county is interested, as provided for in subdivision two of section four thousand three hundred seven of the Political Code.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor shall receive two thousand four hundred dollars per annum for all work performed for the county, and, in addition thereto, actual traveling and other necessary expenses incurred in connection with field work. Whenever the surveyor is directed by the board of supervisors or assessor to plat, trace or otherwise prepare maps, plats or block-books for the use of the county assessor or said board, he shall be allowed only the actual cost of preparing the same.

13. Justices of the peace. Justices of the peace shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month as salaries of the county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them, and of all fees. In townships having a population of three thousand five hundred or more, one hundred dollars per month. In townships having a population of not less than one thousand five hundred and not more than three thousand five hundred, seventy-five dollars per month. In all townships having a population less than one thousand five hundred, forty dollars per month. All fees collected by justices of the peace shall be paid into the county treasury, and shall belong to the county. The provisions of this subdivision shall apply to the incumbents.

14. Constables. Constables shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month as salaries of the county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them in criminal cases: In townships having a population of three thousand five hundred or more, ninety dollars per month; in townships having a population of not less than one thousand five hundred nor more than three thousand five hundred, eighty-five dollars per month; in all townships having a population of less than one thousand five hundred, forty-five dollars per month. In addition to the monthly salary allowed herein, each constable may collect and retain for his own use such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law for all services performed by him in civil actions; and he shall also be allowed his actual and necessary expenses incurred in executing any warrant outside of his county issued by a magistrate or justice of his county. Constables shall also be allowed all necessary expenses actually incurred in arresting and conveying prisoners to the county jail, which said expenses shall be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors, and paid out of the county treasury.

15. Board of education. Each member of the board of education shall receive five dollars per day as compensation for his services when in actual attendance upon said board, and mileage at the rate of twenty-five cents per mile one way only, from his residence to the place of meeting of said board. The secretary of said board of education shall receive five dollars per day for his services for the actual time that the board may be in session. Said compensation of the members of said board, and of said secretary, shall be paid out of the same fund as the salary of the superintendent of schools is paid. Claims for such services and mileage shall be presented to the board of supervisors, and shall be allowed at the rate above named, in the same manner as other claims against the county are allowed. The compensation of the members of the county board of education herein provided is not in addition to that provided in section one thousand seven hundred seventy of this code.

16. Supervisors. Each supervisor, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and twenty cents per mile for traveling from his residence to the county seat; provided, that when a supervisor is also road commissioner he shall receive in addition to the twenty cents per mile allowed to him by law as such road commissioner his actual traveling expenses, the total mileage and expenses not in any one year to exceed the sum of three hundred dollars. The changes as to salary made in this subdivision shall not apply to incumbents.

17. Jurors. In counties of this class, grand jurors and trial jurors in the superior court shall each receive for each day's attendance, per day, the sum of three dollars, and for each mile actually and necessarily traveled from their residence to the county seat, in going only, per mile, the sum of twenty cents; such mileage to be allowed but once during each session such jurors are required to attend.

18. Justices of the peace. Justices of the peace shall be allowed for their office rent and expenses the sum of fifteen dollars each per month in addition to the monthly salaries herein allowed. Each justice of the peace must pay into the county treasury monthly, all fees and fines collected by him; and he must keep a book open for the inspection of the public, during office hours, in which must be entered at once and in detail the amount of all fees and fines collected by him. The auditor must withold warrants for salary and office rent until a sworn statement has been filed with him, of all cases tried, and fees and fines collected; and the same are paid into the county treasury. No justice of the peace shall draw or receive any monthly salary unless he shall make and subscribe an affidavit before an officer entitled to administer oaths, that no cause in his court remains pending and undecided, that has been submitted to him for decision for a period of thirty days; said affidavit to be filed with the auditor of the county.

19. Jail matron. In counties of this class there shall be appointed by the sheriff a suitable woman as jail matron, who shall have care of female prisoners confined in the county jail. She shall be paid a salary of fifty dollars per month, to be paid by the county in monthly installments at the same time, in the same manner, and out of the same fund that the salary of the sheriff is paid.

20. Incumbents. The changes made in this act shall apply to the incumbents unless otherwise herein provided. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1131.]

[New section added April 6, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 70.]

tion for the services required of them by law, or by virtue of their offices, the following salaries, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum, and registration fees; all other fees of the clerk's office to be paid into the county treasury; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be a chief deputy clerk who shall be paid a salary of one thousand seven hundred fifty dollars per annum in equal monthly installments, said chief deputy, in addition to his other duties, to prepare all deeds for the county without extra cost to the county; also, in addition to the deputy clerk authorized by the special act of the legislature at a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, one deputy clerk who shall be paid a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, to be paid in equal monthly installments; also one deputy clerk who shall be paid nine hundred sixty dollars per annum, to be paid in equal monthly installments; and also a stenographer at a salary of fifty dollars per month for one month preceding an election where a register of voters is required; the salaries of said deputy clerks to be paid at the same time, and in the same manner, and out of the same fund as the salary of the county clerk, the clerk also to receive ten cents a name for each person registered, which shall be allowed by the board of supervisors of the county. He shall also be allowed not to exceed ten deputies for the purpose of registering electors, who shall be paid not to exceed five cents for each elector registered; that any of such deputies as are required to work in the office shall receive not to exceed two dollars and fifty cents per day for the time so employed. The change in compensation hereby made is not an increase in compensation of a county officer and shall become operative as soon as this act takes effect as to the deputy clerks and the stenographer and their salaries, but shall not become operative as to the county clerk and his salary and fees until the first Monday after the first day of January, 1919.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, three thousand dollars per annum and mileage for the service of papers or process coming from courts other than those of his own county; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be one chief deputy sheriff at one thousand three hundred twenty dollars per annum, to be paid in equal monthly installments; one deputy sheriff at one thousand three hundred twenty dollars per annum, who shall act as jailer of the county jail, and one deputy sheriff at one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, said deputy sheriff to be in addition to the deputy sheriff authorized by special act of the legislature at a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum. The change in compensation hereby made is not an increase in the compensation of a county officer and shall become operative as soon as this act takes effect.

3. Recorder. The recorder, two thousand two hundred dollars per annum; and said recorder shall collect and pay into the county treasury for the use and benefit of the county the fees required by law to be collected; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be one chief deputy recorder who shall receive a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, one indexing deputy recorder who shall receive a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and two copyists who shall each receive a salary of nine hundred dollars per annum, the salaries of said recorder, deputies and copyists to be paid in equal monthly installments by the county. This section shall not go into effect until the first Monday after the first day of January, 1919.

4. Auditor. The auditor, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be one deputy auditor who shall receive a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and one deputy auditor who shall receive a salary of nine hundred dollars per annum. This section shall not go into effect until the first Monday after the first day of January, 1919.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum and the fees and commissions now or hereafter allowed by law.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and the fees and commissions now or hereafter allowed by law; provided, that in counties of this class, there shall be one deputy tax collector who shall receive a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, to be paid in equal monthly installments at the same time and out of the same fund as the salary of the tax collector; also provided, that in counties of this class there shall be one deputy tax collector for not exceeding four months in each year at a salary of seventy-five dollars per month, also one deputy tax collector for not exceeding five months in each year, at seventy-five dollars per annum, said salaries to be paid by the county out of the same fund as the tax collector's.

7. Assessor. The assessor, two thousand six hundred dollars per annum, and the fees and commissions now or hereafter allowed by law; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be allowed two deputies who shall be appointed by the assessor, one to receive a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum and one to receive a salary of one thousand three hundred twenty dollars per annum in equal monthly installments, at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the assessor is paid. It shall be the duty of said deputies, among other things, to make and correct all necessary plats, maps, and block-books for the assessor's office; provided, also, that for each name upon the assessment-roll, representing one or more statements in excess of four thousand five hundred, the assessor shall receive fifty cents. The change in compensation hereby made is not an increase in compensation of a county officer and shall become operative as soon as this act takes effect.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, two thousand six hundred dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be one deputy district attorney at a salary of one thousand dollars per annum, to be paid in equal monthly installments by the county.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, two thousand dollars per annum. He shall also be allowed his actual traveling expenses when visiting the schools of the county, which expenses shall not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars in any one year. He shall receive nothing for his services as a member of the board of education. The superintendent of schools shall be allowed one deputy, to be appointed by the principal, which said deputy shall be allowed a salary of one thousand twenty dollars per annum, to be paid at the same time, in the same manner, and out of the same fund as the salary of the superintendent of schools is paid.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor shall receive three thousand dollars per annum, and in addition thereto, all actual traveling and other necessary expenses incurred in connection with field work. He shall have one deputy county surveyor at a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and one draftsman at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, said deputy and draftsman to be appointed by the principal and paid at the same time and in the same manner as the county surveyor. It shall be the duty of the surveyor among other things, to make all necessary county and road maps, and all necessary plans and specifications for bridge work and county buildings; provided, however, that when in the judgment of the board of supervisors of the county, it is necessary to employ additional assistance for the performance of said work, other than with regard to roads, the board of supervisors may allow the necessary actual expense thereof. Also to prepare all maps or plats necessary to accompany reports made by him on road work, and prepare and keep all the necessary and proper records in his office; provided, he shall receive nothing for preparing any map or plat necessary to accompany reports made by him on road work, nor for preparing and keeping the proper records in his office. He shall at all times be subject to the orders of the board of supervisors. The office of the county surveyor shall be kept open for the accommodation of the public, with the surveyor, a deputy, or a competent clerk in charge from nine o'clock A. M. until five o'clock P. M., the same as other county offices. The county surveyor shall be allowed the services of a competent clerk, to be appointed by the principal, and receive a salary of sixty dollars per month, to be paid out of the same fund, at the same time and in the same manner as other county officers are paid. Such compensation and salaries as above set forth shall be in full for all services as such county surveyor, and all fees and compensation received or collected by him for services other than for the county, shall be paid into the county treasury.

13. Classification of townships. For the purpose of regulating the compensation of justices of the peace and constables, townships of this class of counties are hereby classified according to their population, as shown by the total number of registered voters, in each township, at the next preceding general election, prior to the fixing of the classification, the said population to be determined by multiplying the said total number of registered voters by three; townships having a population of fifteen thousand and more shall belong to and be known as townships of the first class; townships having a population of eight thousand and less than fifteen thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the second class; townships having a population of three thousand and less than eight thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the third class; townships having a population of one thousand and less than three thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the fourth class; townships having a population of less than one thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the fifth class; provided, that the board of supervisors of the county may, prior to any general election, consolidate two or more of such townships into one.

13a. Justices of the peace. Justices of the peace shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month as county officers are paid, which shall be in full compensation for all services rendered by them, to wit: In townships of the first class, one hundred forty dollars per month; in townships of the second class, eighty dollars per month; in townships of the third class, fifty-five dollars per month; in townships of the fourth class, thirty dollars per month; in townships of the fifth class, twenty dollars per month. Each justice must pay into the county treasury once a month all fees and fines collected by him. Justices of the peace of the first class are required to keep their offices open from nine o'clock A. M. until five o'clock P. M. In townships of the first, second and third classes the board of supervisors shall furnish adequate office room, in all other townships all justices shall be allowed not to exceed five dollars per month for office rent. These salaries shall also apply to incumbents.

14. Constables. Constables shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month as the county officers are paid, which shall be in full compensation for all services rendered by them in criminal cases, to wit: In townships of the first class, one hundred twenty-five dollars; in townships of the second class, one hundred dollars; in townships of the third class, eighty dollars; in townships of the fourth class, sixty dollars; in townships of the fifth class, forty dollars. In addition to the monthly salaries herein allowed, each constable may receive and retain for his own use, such fees as are now allowed or may hereafter be allowed by law, for all services rendered by him in civil actions, and shall also be allowed all necessary expenses actually incurred in arresting and conveying prisoners to court or to prison, which expenses shall be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors, and paid out of the county treasury; provided, further, that when a constable is required to go out of his own county to serve a warrant of arrest or any other papers in a criminal case, he shall be allowed all necessary expenses actually incurred in arresting and conveying prisoners to court or to prison, which expenses shall be audited by the board of supervisors. These salaries shall also apply to incumbents.

15. Supervisors. Supervisors shall receive the sum of seven hundred twenty dollars per annum, each, and mileage at the rate of ten cents per mile for each mile traveled in coming to and from the meetings of the board; provided, that only one mileage at any one session of the board shall be allowed. They shall act as road commissioners in their respective districts, and shall therefor receive for their services as such road commissioners the sum of three hundred dollars per annum, and mileage at the rate of fifteen cents per mile each, one way, for all distances actually traveled by them in the discharging of their duties as such road commissioners; provided, that said expense as road commissioners shall not exceed the sum of seven hundred eighty dollars per annum for any of the commissioners. The change in compensation hereby made is not an increase in compensation of a county officer and shall become operative as soon as this act takes effect.

15a. County librarian. There is created for counties of the twenty-fifth class a county librarian, who shall be appointed by the board of supervisors for a term of four years and shall receive a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, to be paid at the time and in the manner as other county officers.

16. Witnesses. Witnesses in criminal cases and in cases of dependent and delinquent persons shall receive two dollars per day, and ten cents per mile for each mile actually traveled, one way only. The court shall make an order directing the auditor to draw his warrant on the county treasury for the amount due, and the treasurer shall pay the same. The court may disallow any fee to a witness unnecessarily subpoenaed.

17. Jurors. Jurors in a county of this class, both grand and petty jurors in the superior court, shall each receive for each day's attendance, per day, the sum of three dollars, and for each mile actually and necessarily traveled from their residence to the county seat in going only, the sum of twenty cents per mile, such mileage to be allowed but once during each session such jurors are required to attend. The court shall make an order directing the auditor to draw his warrant on the county treasury for the amount due, and the treasurer shall pay the same.

This act to go into effect immediately, and apply to all present incumbents, except as hereinbefore provided and excepted. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1574. In effect, see §§ 1, 3, 4, 17.]

§ 4255. Counties of twenty-sixth class, salaries of officers. In counties of the twenty-sixth class, the county and township officers shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law, or by virtue of their offices, the following salaries, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, three thousand dollars per annum, and five hundred dollars additional per annum for compiling the great register of the county. In counties of this class the county clerk may appoint a deputy county clerk, which office of deputy county clerk is hereby created, and said deputy county clerk shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such, the sum of nine hundred dollars per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury in equal monthly installments, at the time, in the same manner and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid. The county clerk may appoint such number of deputies as may be necessary for the convenient registration of electors in their respective precincts or townships, and each such registration deputy shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of ten cents per name for each elector registered by him, to be paid monthly, at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid; provided, that each such registration deputy, when so appointed, shall, prior to the drawing of any warrant for such compensation, first file with the auditor a statement, verified by the oath of such registration deputy, and approved in writing by the county clerk, showing the number of electors so registered by him during the period covered by such statement. The county clerk shall also receive and retain for his own use such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law for issuing hunting and fishing licenses, for the naturalization of persons desiring to become citizens and such other fees of similar character as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law for the performance of any service rendered by the county clerk other than in his official character as county clerk. All other fees or commissions shall be collected by the county clerk and shall be paid by him into the county treasury and no part thereof shall be retained by him as a part of his compensation.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, four thousand five hundred dollars per annum. In counties of this class the sheriff may appoint an undersheriff, which office of undersheriff is hereby created, and said undersheriff shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury, in equal monthly installments, at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid. In counties of this class the sheriff shall be allowed such sum as the board of supervisors shall fix for the board of prisoners confined in the county jail, and his actual necessary expenses for pursuing, searching for and arresting criminals and persons charged with being insane, and for conveying prisoners and persons charged with being insane to court and to prison or other place of confinement or detention and to and from state prisons, state hospitals and other institutions, and his actual necessary expenses for keeping, preserving and selling property seized, held or sold on attachment, execution or other process, and for the service and posting of all process papers and notices required by law to be served or posted by the sheriff. All such actual necessary expenses and said sum for the board of prisoners shall be a proper legal charge against the county and shall be allowed, audited and paid out of the county treasury in the same manner as other county charges are allowed, audited and paid. The sheriff shall collect from the state all per diem and expenses incurred in conveying prisoners and persons adjudged insane, to and from state prisons, state hospitals and other institutions and pay the same, when so collected, into the county treasury, and the same and all other fees, commissions and compensations other than as hereinabove provided, which, in other counties of other classes, are allowed by law to the sheriff, as a part of his compensation shall be paid into the county treasury, and no part thereof shall be retained by him as a part of his compensation.

3. Recorder. The recorder, two thousand dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class the recorder may appoint a deputy, which office is hereby created, and said deputy county recorder shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of seven hundred twenty dollars per annum, payable out of the county treasury in equal monthly installments, in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid. The recorder may employ as many copyists as may be required, who shall receive as compensation, the sum of five cents per folio for recording any instrument or notice, except maps or plats, and for making copies of any records or papers, five cents per folio. The salaries of such copyists shall be paid out of the county treasury, in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid; provided, that the recorder shall file monthly with the auditor a verified statement showing in detail the persons employed as copyists and the amount due to each for such copying. All fees, commissions or other compensation allowed by law to the recorder in other counties of other classes, as a part of his compensation, shall be paid into the county treasury and no part thereof shall be retained by him as a part of his compensation.

4. Auditor. The auditor, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class the auditor may appoint a deputy, which office of deputy auditor is hereby created; said deputy auditor shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such, the sum of six hundred dollars per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury, in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid. This subdivision of this section shall not go into effect or be in force until the expiration of the term of office of the present incumbent.

5. Treasurer. The county treasurer, two thousand dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class the treasurer may appoint a deputy, which office of deputy treasurer is hereby created, and the said deputy treasurer shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of six hundred dollars per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury, in equal monthly installments, in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid. All fees, commissions or other compensation allowed by law to the treasurer in other counties of other classes shall be collected by the treasurer and be by him paid into the county treasury and no part thereof shall be retained by him as a part of his compensation.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, two thousand dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class the tax collector may appoint a deputy tax collector, which office of deputy tax collector is hereby created, and said deputy tax collector shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such, the sum of seven hundred fifty dollars per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury, in equal monthly installments, in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid. In counties of this class the tax collector may appoint a cashier, which office of cashier to the tax collector is hereby created, and said cashier shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of four dollars per day for each day actually employed as such, to be paid out of the county treasury, in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid; provided, that such cashier shall be paid for not to exceed one hundred days in any one calendar year. All fees, commissions or compensation allowed by law to the tax collector in other counties of other classes shall be collected by the tax collector and be by him paid into the county treasury, and no part thereof shall be retained by him as a part of his compensation.

7. Assessor. The assessor, three thousand six hundred dollars per annum; provided, in counties of this class the assessor may appoint a chief deputy assessor, which office of chief deputy assessor is hereby created, and said chief deputy assessor shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury, in equal monthly installments, at the same time, in the same manner, and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid. The assessor may also appoint six field deputies, which offices of field deputies are hereby created, to serve for not exceeding ninety days in any one year, and said field deputy assessors shall each receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of four dollars per day for each day actually and necessarily employed as such, to be paid out of the county treasury, in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid; providing, that each field deputy, when so employed, shall file with the auditor a statement verified by the oath of such field deputy and approved by the assessor, showing the number of days actually and necessarily employed in the performance of the duties of such employment during the period covered by said statement before any warrant for the payment of such compensation shall be drawn by the auditor. All commissions, fees or compensation for the collection of taxes on personal property, for the collection of poll taxes and road poll taxes, and for services in making out the roll of persons subject to military duty, and all other fees or commissions shall be collected by the assessor and by him paid into the county treasury and no part thereof shall be retained by him as a part of his compensation.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, two thousand five hundred dollars per annum. In counties of this class the district attorney may appoint a deputy attorney, which office of deputy district attorney is hereby created, and said deputy district attorney shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury, in equal monthly installments, at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund that salaries of county officers are paid. The district attorney may also appoint a stenographer for service in his office, which office of stenographer to the district attorney is hereby created, and said stenographer shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of six hundred dollars per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury, in equal monthly installments, at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund that salaries of county officers are paid.

9. Coroner. The coroner, nine hundred dollars per annum. In counties of this class the coroner shall be allowed his actual traveling expenses in the performance of his official duties in the county when called away from the county seat, which are hereby declared to be a proper legal charge against the county, and shall be allowed, audited and paid out of the county treasury in the same manner as other county charges are allowed, audited and paid. All fees, commissions or other compensations allowed by law to the coroner in other counties of other classes as a part of his compensation shall be paid into the county treasury and no part thereof shall be retained by him as a part of his compensation; provided, that this subdivision of this section shall not go into effect or be in force until the expiration of the term of office of the present encumbent.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, one thousand six hundred dollars per annum and actual necessary traveling expenses when visiting schools of the county. The superintendent of schools may appoint a deputy superintendent of schools, which office of deputy superintendent of schools is hereby created, and said deputy superintendent of schools shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of nine hundred dollars per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury, in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor, one thousand dollars per annum, for all work performed for the county and in addition thereto his actual necessary traveling expenses incurred in connection with field work, and also actual necessary expenses incurred in such field work and actual expenses and costs of supplies in preparing maps, tracings, plats and diagrams for the county assessor or other county officers, when directed by him or them to prepare the same. All of such expenses and costs shall be proper legal charges against the county and shall be allowed, audited and paid out of the county treasury, in the same manner that other county charges are allowed, audited and paid. All fees, commissions, or other compensation allowed to the surveyor in other counties of other classes, except fees or charges for surveys made for private persons and not directed by the board of supervisors or county officers for county uses or purposes, shall be collected by the surveyor and by him paid into the county treasury and no part thereof, except such fess or charges for such private surveys, shall be retained by him as a part of his compensation.

13. Classification of townships. For the purpose of regulating the compensation of justices of the peace and constables, townships in counties of this class are hereby classified according to their population, as shown by the federal census of one thousand nine hundred ten as follows: Townships having a population of five thousand, or more, shall belong to and be known as townships of the first class; townships having a population of three thousand, and less than five thousand, shall belong to and be known as townships of the second class; townships having a population of one thousand, and less than three thousand, shall belong to and be known as townships of the third class; and townships having a population of less than one thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the fourth class.

14. Justices of the peace. Justices of the peace shall receive the following salaries, which shall be paid monthly, out of the county treasury, in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid, to wit:

1. In townships of the first class, one hundred dollars per month.
2. In townships of the second class, seventy dollars per month.
3. In townships of the third class, forty dollars per month.
4. In townships of the fourth class, twenty-five dollars per month.

In addition to the said monthly salaries herein provided for, each justice of the peace may receive and retain for his own use such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law for all services rendered by him in civil actions or proceedings.

Justices of the peace, in townships of the first class, shall be allowed their actual office rent and necessary incidental expenses, not to exceed the sum of twenty-five dollars for any one month.

15. Constables. Fees. Constables shall receive the following salaries, which shall be paid monthly, out of the county treasury, at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund that salaries of county officers are paid, and which shall be in full of all services rendered by them in criminal cases, to wit:

1. In townships of the first class, seventy-five dollars per month.
2. In townships of the second class, fifty-five dollars per month.
3. In townships of the third class, thirty dollars per month.
4. In townships of the fourth class, twenty dollars per month.

Fees. In addition to said monthly salaries each constable may receive and retain for his own use such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law for all services rendered by him in civil actions or proceedings, and shall also be allowed all necessary expenses actually incurred in arresting and pursuing criminals and in conveying prisoners to court or to prison, which said actual necessary expenses shall be allowed, audited and paid out of the county treasury, in the same manner other county charges are allowed, audited and paid.

16. Supervisors. Each member of the board of supervisors shall receive one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, payable in equal monthly installments and which shall be in full for all services rendered as supervisors.

17. Jurors. In counties of this class the fees of grand jurors and trial jurors, in the superior court, in civil and criminal actions and in all special proceedings, shall be three dollars a day for each day's attendance, and mileage, to be computed at the rate of fifteen cents per mile for each mile necessarily traveled in attending court, or in attending sessions of the grand jury, in going only.

In criminal actions such fees and mileage of such trial jurors shall be paid by the treasurer, out of the general funds of the county, upon warrants drawn by the auditor, who shall draw such warrants upon the written order of the judge of the superior court in which said juror was in attendance, and the treasurer shall pay all such warrants. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1119.]

§ 4256. Counties of twenty-seventh class, salaries of officers. In counties of the twenty-seventh class, the officers, their clerks, deputies, stenographers and assistants, shall receive, as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their offices or appointments the following salaries, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, three thousand six hundred dollars per annum and such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law; and provided, that in counties of this class, there shall be, and is hereby allowed to the county clerk one deputy who shall be appointed by said county clerk, who shall be paid a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and one deputy, who shall be appointed by said county clerk, and who shall be paid a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, which salary of said deputies herein provided for shall be paid out of the same fund, at the same time, and in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid; provided, further, that in any year when a registration of voters is required by law, the county clerk may appoint such number of deputies as may be necessary for the convenient registration of voters in their respective precincts, and that each of said deputies so appointed for such purpose shall receive as compensation therefor the sum of ten cents for each elector registered by each of said deputies, said compensation to be paid out of the general fund of the county on presentation and filing with the board of supervisors of said county a duly verified claim therefor approved by said county clerk.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, five thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

3. Recorder. The recorder, two thousand dollars per annum and six cents for each folio recorded.

4. Auditor. The auditor, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum, and he may also appoint a deputy, which office of deputy auditor is hereby created, whose salary shall be one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, payable at the same time, out of the same fund and in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, two thousand dollars per annum; and provided, that in counties of this class, there shall be, and is hereby allowed to the tax collector, a deputy, who shall be appointed by said tax collector, who shall be paid a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, which said salary shall be paid at the same time, in the same manner, and out of the same fund as the salaries of other county officers are paid; provided, further, that in counties of this class there shall be and is hereby allowed to the tax collector one deputy for the period of time embraced between the first day of October and the thirty-first day of December in each fiscal year, which said deputy shall be appointed by said tax collector, and shall be paid a salary of seventy-five dollars per month during the period of time said deputy shall be employed and which salary shall be paid at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of other county officers are paid.

7. Assessor. The assessor, four thousand dollars per annum, and such fees and commissions as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law; and provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and there is hereby allowed the assessor, a deputy, who shall be appointed by said assessor and who shall receive a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, payable out of the same fund and in the same manner as the salaries of county officers are paid; provided, further, that in counties of this class there shall be and there is hereby allowed the assessor, two copyists for a period not exceeding four months in any one year, at a salary of fifty dollars each per month.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, two thousand five hundred dollars per annum; he may also appoint an assistant district attorney, which office is hereby created, whose salary shall be nine hundred dollars per annum; and in counties of this class he may also appoint a clerk, who shall be a stenographer, which office of clerk to the district attorney is hereby created, whose salary shall be six hundred dollars per annum; the salaries of said assistant district attorney and clerk shall be payable as the salaries of other county officers.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, two thousand dollars per annum; and actual traveling expenses when visiting the schools of his county, and one deputy, at a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, for all work performed for the county; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and hereby is allowed to the surveyor one assistant to be appointed by the surveyor, whose salary shall be nine hundred dollars per annum, payable at the same time, out of the same fund and in the same manner as the salary of the surveyor is paid; and in addition thereto the surveyor shall be allowed actual traveling and other necessary expenses, incurred in connection with field work; provided, that whenever the surveyor is directed by the assessor to plat, trace or otherwise prepare maps, plats, or block-book for the use of the county assessor he shall be allowed only the actual cost of preparing the same.

13. Justices of the peace. Justices of the peace in counties of this class shall receive the following monthly salaries to be paid each month in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same funds as the county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them: In townships having a population of more than five thousand, one hundred fifty dollars per month; in townships having a population of more than two thousand five hundred and less than five thousand, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships having a population of more than one thousand and less than two thousand five hundred, thirty-five dollars per month; in townships having a population of more than five hundred and less than one thousand, twenty-five dollars per month; in townships having a population of less than five hundred, ten dollars per month. The board of supervisors of such counties shall furnish and maintain for the use of justices of the peace in townships having a population of two thousand five hundred or more, an office suitable for use as a courtroom, equipped with the necessary furniture for the proper and convenient conduct of business therein. The board of supervisors of such counties shall furnish and supply to the justices of the peace of the various townships in such counties the codes of this state and amendment thereto, and all necessary stationery, legal blanks and forms for the proper and convenient conduct of business.

14. Constables. The constables shall receive the following salaries to be paid each month as salaries of the county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them in criminal cases, and in all other criminal matters: In townships having a population of more than five thousand, one hundred dollars per month; in townships having a population of more than two thousand five hundred and less than five thousand, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships having a population of more than one thousand and less than two thousand five hundred, thirty-five dollars per month; in townships having a population of more than five hundred and less than one thousand twenty-five dollars per month; in townships having a population of less than five hundred, ten dollars per month; provided, that in addition to the salary herein allowed, each constable shall be paid out of the treasury of the county for traveling expenses in his own district, for the service of a warrant of arrest or any other process in a criminal case, or other criminal matters (when such service is in fact made) both going and returning, ten cents per mile; for each mile traveled out of his county, both going to and returning from the place of arrest in the service of process five cents per mile, and for transporting persons to the county jail ten cents per mile each way. In addition to the monthly salary allowed him herein each constable shall receive for his own use, the fees in civil cases, which are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

15. Supervisors. Each member of the board of supervisors, eight hundred dollars per annum, and his necessary expenses when attending to the business of the county, and ten cents per mile in going from his residence to the county seat in attending upon all meetings of the board of supervisors. For serving as road commissioner two hundred dollars per annum. Each supervisor shall be allowed not to exceed thirty dollars per month as traveling expenses while supervising the roads of his district.

16. Reporter. In counties of this class the official phonographic reporter of the superior court shall receive as compensation for his services the fees and compensation now or hereafter provided by law, and in addition thereto shall receive five dollars per day when not actually engaged in reporting in said court, but when in attendance on said court in compliance with and as provided by section two hundred seventy-one of the Code of Civil Procedure, the said per diem of five dollars to be paid in the same manner as provided in criminal cases. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1038.]

§ 4256a. Fees of jurors, counties of twenty-seventh class. In counties of the twenty-seventh class the fees and mileage of jurors shall be as follows: Grand jurors and trial jurors whenever summoned to attend before the superior court shall be paid three dollars per day for each day's attendance, and mileage, to be computed at the rate of fifteen cents per mile for each mile necessarily traveled in attending said court or in attending sessions of the grand jury, in going only. The court shall make an order directing the auditor to draw his warrant on the county treasurer for the amount due, and the treasurer shall pay the same; provided, however, that such jurors as shall be sworn to try issues in civil cases or special proceedings of a civil nature shall be paid as the court shall order except where otherwise provided by law. [New section added May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1042.]

§ 4257. Counties of twenty-eighth class, salaries of officers. In counties of the twenty-eighth class the county and township officers shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their offices the following salaries, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, three thousand dollars per annum, and when a new great register of voters is required by law to be made, he shall receive three hundred dollars additional, which shall be in full for all services required in registering voters and making the great register; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and is hereby allowed to the county clerk, a deputy who shall be appointed by said county clerk, who shall be paid a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, said salary to be paid in monthly installments at the same time, in the same manner, and out of the same fund as the county clerk is paid, said deputy to be in lieu of the deputy now allowed to the county clerk under subdivision nineteen of section four thousand two hundred fifty-seven of the Political Code of the state of California; provided, further, that it is expressly provided that in counties of this class where the number of judges of the superior court shall have been increased since the first day of January, eighteen hundred ninety-seven, or shall hereafter be increased, there must be and there hereby is allowed to the county clerk one additional deputy to act as courtroom clerk for each judge so appointed or elected, at a salary not exceeding one thousand two hundred dollars per annum for each of said deputies, to be paid at the same time and in the same manner as other county officers are paid.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, five thousand one hundred dollars per annum, and he is hereby allowed, in addition thereto, one under-sheriff to be appointed by him, who shall receive one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, whose salary shall be paid by the county, in monthly installments, at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the sheriff is paid; provided, however, that said under-sheriff shall be in lieu of the deputy now allowed under subdivision nineteen of section four thousand two hundred fifty-seven of the Political Code of the state of California; provided, further, that in counties of this class where the number of judges of the superior court shall have been increased since the first day of January, eighteen hundred ninety-seven, or shall hereafter be increased, there must be and there hereby is allowed to the sheriff of such county by reason of such increase one additional deputy to be appointed by the sheriff at a salary not exceeding one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, to be paid at the same time and in the same manner as other county officers are paid.

Said sheriff shall also have for his own use all fees, commissions and mileage for the service of all papers served by him and issued without his county.

3. Recorder. The recorder, three thousand two hundred dollars per annum, in full of all services, including filing and recording, mining and other location notices.

4. Auditor. The auditor, two thousand dollars per annum, and he is hereby allowed one deputy to be appointed by him, who shall receive one thousand dollars per annum, whose salary shall be paid by the county, in equal monthly installments, at the same time and in the same manner as the auditor is paid. The county auditor shall charge and collect for the clerical service of making estimates of tax sales provided for in section three thousand eight hundred seventeen of this code the sum of twenty-five cents for each tax sale if the property is delinquent for two years or less; the sum of fifty cents for each sale if the property is delinquent for more than two years. If said estimates are returned to the auditor and redemptions made within thirty days from date of issue and prior to the change of penalty, as provided for in section number three thousand eight hundred seventeen of this code, the amount charged for making said estimates shall be refunded to the redemptioner. If the redemption is not made as herein provided then the sum charged for making the estimate shall be paid into the county treasury.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; provided, that all commissions received by the treasurer on the collection of inheritance taxes shall be paid into the county treasury.

6. Tax and license collector. The tax and license collector, two thousand dollars per annum in full compensation for all services, save and except that he be allowed a deputy, to be appointed by him, for eight months of each year, at a compensation of seventy-five dollars per month; the salary of said deputy to be paid by the county; provided, that all commissions and fees heretofore retained by the tax and license collector shall be paid into the county treasury.

7. Assessor. The assessor, three thousand dollars per annum, and he is hereby allowed in addition thereto ten deputies, to be appointed by him, who shall each receive not to exceed four dollars per day while engaged in the performance of their duties; provided, that the amount paid for services of deputy assessors shall not exceed two thousand four hundred dollars in any one year; provided, that all commissions heretofore retained by the county assessor shall be paid into the county treasury.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, two thousand one hundred dollars per annum, and he is hereby allowed in addition thereto one deputy appointed by him, who shall receive nine hundred dollars per annum; provided, that the district attorney is entitled to receive and retain for his own use fifteen dollars to be taxed as costs for each suit brought under the provisions of article six, chapter one, title eight of part three of the Political Code.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. Public administrator, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and necessary expenses for traveling in visiting schools in the county, to be allowed by the supervisors of the county; and there shall be, and there is allowed to the superintendent in addition, a clerk or bookkeeper, who shall be appointed by the superintendent of schools, who shall be paid a salary of six hundred dollars per annum, said salary to be paid by such county in monthly installments at the time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of county officers are paid.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor, ten dollars per day for all work performed for the county, and, in addition thereto, all necessary expenses and transportation for work performed in the field, which per diem and expenses shall be in lieu of all fees and per diem heretofore allowed by law.

13. Population of townships. For the purpose of regulating the compensation of justices of the peace and constables, townships in this class of counties are hereby classified according to their population, as shown by the federal census of one thousand nine hundred ten as follows: Townships having a population of three thousand and more shall belong to and be known as townships of the first class; townships having a population of two thousand five hundred and less than three thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the second class; townships having a population of one thousand eight hundred and less than two thousand five hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the third class; townships having a population of one thousand four hundred twenty-five and less than one thousand four hundred fifty shall belong to and be known as townships of the fourth class; townships having a population of one thousand four hundred fifty and less than one thousand eight hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the fifth class, and townships having a population of less than one thousand four hundred twenty-five shall belong to and be known as townships of the sixth class.

14. Justices of the peace. Justices of the peace shall receive the following salaries, which shall be paid monthly, in the same manner as the salaries of county officers are paid, out of the general fund of the county and which shall be in full for all services rendered by them in criminal cases, to wit: In townships of the first class, one hundred ten dollars per month; in townships of the second class, ninety dollars per month; in townships of the third class, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships of the fourth class, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships of the fifth class, fifteen dollars per month; and in townships of the sixth class, fifteen dollars per month. In addition to the monthly salaries herein allowed for services in criminal actions, cases and examinations, each justice of the peace may, for his own use, collect the following fees, and no other, in civil actions; provided, that the existing fee bill for the justices of the peace in counties of this class be repealed and the general fee bill of the state of California as provided for justices of the peace in section four thousand three hundred e of the Political Code be substituted therefor.

15. Constables. Constables shall receive the following salaries, which shall be paid monthly, in the same manner as the salaries of county officers are paid out of the general fund of the county, and which shall be in full of all services rendered by them in criminal cases, to wit: In townships of the first class, one hundred dollars per month; in townships of the second class, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships of the third class, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships of the fourth class, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships of the fifth class, fifteen dollars per month; and in townships of the sixth class, fifteen dollars per month. In addition to the monthly salaries herein allowed for services in criminal actions, cases and proceedings, each constable shall also be allowed all necessary expenses actually and properly incurred, in arresting and conveying prisoners to court or to prison, and also all necessary expenses actually incurred in the transportation of prisoners from prison to court, and the return of said prisoner to prison; and shall be allowed, also, for each mile actually traveled, both in going and coming in the service of subpoenas, in criminal actions, per mile, ten cents; which said expense and mileage shall be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors as other claims against the county are audited and allowed, and shall be paid out of the county treasury.

In addition to the monthly salaries herein allowed for services in criminal actions and cases, each constable may, for his own use, collect the following fees, and no others, in civil actions:

For serving summons and complaint, for each defendant served, fifty cents.

For each copy of summons for service, when actually made by him, twenty-five cents.

For levying writ of attachment or execution, or executing order of arrest, or for delivery of personal property, one dollar.

For serving writ of attachment or execution on any ship, boat or vessel, three dollars.

For keeping personal property, such sum as the court may order; but no more than one dollar and fifty cents per day shall be allowed for a keeper when necessarily employed.

For taking bond or undertaking, fifty cents.

For copies of writs and other papers, except summons, complaint and subpoenas, per folio, ten cents; provided, that when correct copies are furnished to him for use, no charge shall be made for such copies.

For serving any writ, notice, or order, except summons, complaint and subpoenas, for each person served, fifty cents.

For writing and posting each notice of sale of property, fifty cents.

For furnishing notice for publication, twenty-five cents.

For serving subpoenas, each witness, including copy, twenty-five cents.

For collecting money on execution, one and one half per cent.

For executing and delivering certificate of sale, fifty cents.

For executing and delivering constable's deed, one dollar and fifty cents.

For each mile actually traveled within his township in the service of any writ, order, or paper, in civil actions, in going only, per mile, twenty-five cents.

For traveling outside of his township to serve such writ, order, or paper, in civil actions, in going only, twenty-five cents per mile; provided, that a constable shall not be required to travel outside of his township to serve any civil process, order, or paper. No constructive mileage shall be charged, allowed, or paid in criminal or civil cases.

For each day's attendance in court, in civil cases, three dollars per day.

For executing a search warrant, two dollars; and for each mile necessarily traveled within his own county in executing a search warrant, both in going and returning from the place of search, fifteen cents; said fee and mileage to be paid by the party demanding the search.

For summoning a jury, in civil cases, two dollars, including mileage.

For commissions for receiving and paying over money on execution without levy, or when the goods or land levied on shall not be sold, one per cent. The fees herein allowed for the levy of an execution, and for making or collecting the money on execution, shall be collected from the judgment debtor, by virtue of such execution, in the same manner as the sum herein directed to be paid.

16. When new township formed. Payment of fees. It is expressly provided that in counties of this class, where a township has been created, or may hereafter be created out of any township, the population of which is shown in the federal census of nineteen hundred ten, the population of the newly created township and the population of the township from which the newly created township was taken shall be separately ascertained and determined by the board of supervisors in the following manner: By appointing a suitable person in each of such townships to take said census, and said census shall be taken by said person so appointed of all the inhabitants of each of said townships; the full name of each person shall be fully written, the names alphabetically and regularly numbered in one complete series, and when completed shall be verified before any officer authorized to administer oaths, and be filed with the county clerk, and thereupon the same shall be the official census of said township or townships. The expense of taking said census shall be a county charge. From the taking of such census the salary of the justices of the peace and of the constables of the newly created township, and the township from which the newly created township was taken, shall be estimated and paid on the basis of the classification hereinbefore given under the federal census of nineteen hundred ten, pro rata according to the population of the newly created and former township as shown by the census taken as hereinbefore provided to be ascertained and determined by the board of supervisors. County officers must, and township officers may, demand the payment of all fees in advance. Justices of the peace shall, on or before the first Monday of each month, pay into the county treasury all moneys collected by them on fines imposed and collected and all moneys belonging to the county coming from any source.

17. Supervisors. Each member of the board of supervisors, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum and ten cents per mile, one way between residence and county seat, in attending upon all regular, special or adjourned meetings of the board of supervisors; provided, that the chairman of the board of supervisors may receive twenty-five cents per mile, one way, between residence and the county seat, when attending at the county seat for the single purpose of counting the money in the county treasury as required by law. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1016.]

§ 4258. Counties of twenty-ninth class, salaries of officers. In counties of the twenty-ninth class, the county officers shall receive, as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their office, the following salaries, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, three thousand five hundred dollars per annum and such fees as are now or may be hereafter by law; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and there is hereby allowed to the county clerk, one clerk, which office is hereby created, at a salary of one hundred dollars per month and who shall be appointed by the county clerk. The salary of said clerk herein provided for shall be paid by said county in monthly installments at the same time, and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the county clerk is paid.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, six thousand dollars per annum.

3. Recorder. The recorder, three thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

4. Auditor. The auditor, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and there is hereby allowed to the auditor one clerk, which office is hereby created, at a salary of seventy-five dollars per month, and who shall be appointed by the auditor. The salary of said clerk herein provided for shall be paid by said county in monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the auditor is paid.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, two thousand dollars per annum; provided, he shall have power to appoint one deputy at a salary of seventy-five dollars per month, payable at the same time and in the same manner as that of other county officers; and provided, further, that in counties of this class all the fees and commissions of every name and nature received by the tax collector shall be paid into the county treasury.

7. Assessor. The assessor, four thousand dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and there is hereby allowed to the assessor one clerk, which office is hereby created, at a salary of one hundred dollars per month, and who shall be appointed by the assessor. The salary of said clerk herein provided for shall be paid by said county in monthly installments at the same time, and in the same manner, and out of the same fund as the salary of the assessor is paid. The assessor may also appoint five field clerks, which offices of field clerks are hereby created, to serve not exceeding sixty days in any one year, and said field clerks shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such, the sum of five dollars per day for each day actually and necessarily employed as such, to be paid out of the county treasury in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as the salaries of the county officers are paid; provided, that each field deputy, when so employed, shall file with the auditor a statement verified by the oath of such field deputy and approved by the assessor, showing the number of days actually and necessarily employed in the duties of such employment during the period covered by said statement, before any warrant for the payment of such compensation shall be drawn by the auditor. All commissions, fees or compensation for the collection of taxes on personal property, for services in making out the roll of persons subject to military duty, and all other fees and commissions shall be collected by the assessor and by him paid into the county treasury and no part shall be retained by him as part of his compensation.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum, and he is hereby allowed in addition thereto one clerk to be appointed by him, who shall receive nine hundred dollars per annum, said salary to be paid in the same manner, at the same time, and out of the same fund as the salaries of other county officers are paid.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, two thousand one hundred dollars per annum and actual traveling expenses when visiting schools of his county, and such per diem as he may be now or hereafter allowed by law for his services on the board of education; provided, that in counties of this class there is allowed to the superintendent of schools one clerk, which office of clerk is hereby created, at a salary of seventy-five dollars per month, and who shall be appointed by the superintendent of schools. The salary of said clerk is to be paid at the same time, in the same manner, and out of the same fund as the salaries of the other county officers are paid.

12. Surveyor. The county surveyor, two thousand seven hundred fifty dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and there hereby is allowed to the surveyor one deputy, who shall be appointed by the surveyor of said county, and shall be paid a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; the salary of such surveyor shall be paid by such county in equal monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of other county officers are paid. The county surveyor shall make up all maps, plats and block-books required by the county assessor; he shall do all work for the county in which the county employs a surveyor or civil engineer; he shall have general advisory supervision over all road and bridge work for the county and shall file annually with the board of supervisors a statement, which shall be published as a part of the proceedings of said board, showing the cost of all new road and bridge construction in the county, also the cost per mile of maintaining the different roads of the county for the preceding fiscal year; and provided, further, that when in the judgment of the board of supervisors of the county it is necessary to employ additional assistants for the performance of any of said work, the board of supervisors shall allow the necessary actual expense thereof; and provided, further, that said county surveyor shall be allowed all necessary transportation and expenses incurred by himself or deputies for work performed in the field; the salary of the deputy herein provided for shall be paid by said county in monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as other county officers are paid. The salary herein fixed for said surveyor shall be in lieu of all fees, commissions or compensation of whatsoever kind or nature for services performed by said surveyor for said county. All acts or parts of acts relative to such fees, commissions or compensation for work performed for counties of this class by such county surveyor are hereby repealed.

13. Justices of the peace. Justices of the peace shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month as salaries of other county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered in both civil and criminal cases: In townships where the population is three thousand five hundred, or more, seventy-five dollars per month, and said justice of the peace shall be furnished with offices and necessary supplies by the board of supervisors of said county; in townships where the population is two thousand five hundred, or more, and less than three thousand five hundred, fifty dollars per month; in townships where the population is one thousand five hundred, or more, and less than two thousand five hundred, thirty-five dollars per month; in townships where the population is one thousand, or more, and less than one thousand five hundred, twenty-five dollars per month; in townships where the population is less than one thousand, fifteen dollars per month; provided, that all fees and fines chargeable and collectible by justices of the peace in civil and criminal cases for services rendered by them shall be collected by them and by them paid monthly into the county treasury; provided, further, that for the purpose of this subdivision, the population of the several townships shall be ascertained by the board of supervisors, by multiplying the number of registered voters at the last general election of each township by three.

14. Constables. Constables, in townships having a population of two thousand or more, shall receive a monthly salary of fifty dollars per month; in townships having a population of one thousand or less than two thousand, shall receive a salary of forty dollars per month and in townships having a population of less than one thousand shall receive a salary of twenty dollars per month. Constables shall also receive actual traveling expenses in transporting prisoners to the county jail. The salaries of township officers, herein provided for, shall be paid monthly, in the same manner as the salaries of the county officers are paid, and shall be in full compensation for all services rendered by them in criminal cases.

15. Supervisors. The meetings of the board of supervisors shall be monthly and shall be held on the first Monday of each and every month. Each member of the board of supervisors is to receive a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum and mileage at the rate of twenty cents per mile from his home to and from county seat.

16. Fees of jurors. Grand jurors and trial jurors in the superior court shall receive from each day's attendance per day the sum of three dollars. In justices' courts in civil and criminal cases, the jurors sworn to try the case shall receive for each day's attendance per day the sum of two dollars. All jurors shall receive for each mile actually and necessarily traveled from his residence to the place of service the sum of fifteen cents per mile; provided, that in justice courts mileage shall be allowed only to those sworn to try the case. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1013.]

12. Surveyor. The county surveyor, two thousand five hundred dollars per annum; provided, that if the county surveyor shall be appointed superintendent of the permanent highways in the county constructed under bond issue, under any statute of this state providing for the appointment of such superintendent, then and in that event said county surveyor shall receive a salary of four thousand dollars per annum; and said surveyor may appoint one chief deputy surveyor who shall receive a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; also, one deputy who shall receive a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum; such compensation and salary as above set forth shall be paid in full for all services rendered by such county surveyor; provided, that said county surveyor shall be allowed all necessary transportation and expenses incurred by himself or deputies for work performed in the field, and in the official discharge of his duties; such salary to be paid at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund as salaries of other county officials are paid.

13. Board of education. In counties of this class, each member of the county board of education shall receive five dollars for each day the board of education is in session, not to exceed a total of three hundred fifty dollars per annum. In addition each member shall receive the same mileage as is allowed the members of the board of supervisors of said county. Compensation of the members of the county board of education shall be payable out of the same funds and in the same manner as is the salary of the county superintendent of schools.

14. Justices of the peace. Justices of the peace shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month as salaries of other county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered in both civil and criminal cases: In townships where the population is four thousand or more, one hundred fifty dollars per month, and said justice of the peace shall be furnished with offices and necessary supplies by the board of supervisors of said county; in townships where the population is two thousand and less than four thousand, eighty dollars per month; in townships where the population is one thousand and less than two thousand, forty dollars per month; in townships where the population is less than one thousand, twenty dollars per month; provided, that the justice of the peace shall, before receiving his monthly salary, file with the auditor a statement of all fines received, together with the treasurer's receipt for same; provided, further, that no justice of the peace shall hold the office of city recorder.

15. Constables. Constables shall receive the following monthly salaries to be paid each month as salaries of county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them in criminal cases: In townships where the population is four thousand or more, eighty dollars per month; in townships where the population is two thousand and less than four thousand, seventy dollars per month; in townships where the population is one thousand and less than two thousand, fifty dollars per month; in townships where the population is less than one thousand, twenty-five dollars per month. In addition to the monthly salary herein allowed, each constable may retain for his own use such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law for all services rendered by him in civil actions, and shall also be allowed all necessary expenses actually incurred in arresting or conveying prisoners to court or to prison, which said expenses shall be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors and paid out of the county treasury.

16. Population of townships. For the purposes of subdivisions fourteen and fifteen of this section, the population of the several judicial townships shall be ascertained by the board of supervisors by multiplying by three the vote for governor of the state of California cast in each township at the next preceding election.

17. Supervisors. Each member of the board of supervisors, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and their necessary expenses when attending to the business of the county, other than the meetings of the board at the county seat, and twenty cents per mile in traveling from his residence to the county seat; provided, that not more than one mileage for any one regular session of the board shall be allowed, and not more than one mileage for any special session of the board shall be allowed.

18. Salaries payable monthly. The salaries of all county and township officers and their deputies shall be payable in monthly installments on the first day of each month.

19. Grand jurors. For acting as a grand juror in the superior court, for each day's attendance per day, three dollars. For every mile actually traveled in attending court as a grand juror, in going only, twenty-five cents per mile. [Amendment approved April 16, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 126.]

§ 4260. Counties of thirty-first class, salaries of officers. In counties of the thirty-first class the county and township officers shall receive, as compensation for the services required of them by law and by virtue of their offices, the following salaries and fees, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, three thousand two hundred fifty dollars per annum; and also such compensation as is now or may hereafter be allowed by law; and in each year in which a new and complete registration of voters is required by law he shall receive such an amount as shall be necessary to pay deputy registration clerks for taking affidavits of registration outside of the office at the rate of ten cents each, and such an amount as shall be necessary to pay deputies in the office for enrolling the registrations upon the great register at the rate of four cents each, the claims for which shall be presented and allowed by the board of supervisors as other claims are presented and allowed; he may also appoint a deputy clerk, which office of deputy clerk is hereby created, whose salary shall be nine hundred dollars per annum, payable as the salaries of county officers are paid.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, six thousand dollars per annum.

3. Recorder. The recorder, two thousand two hundred fifty dollars per annum; provided, that such recorder shall collect and pay into the county treasury for the use and benefit of the county the fees required by law to be so collected; and provided, that when the amount of said fees so collected shall amount to more than two hundred dollars in any one month, the said recorder may receive and retain for his own use, in addition to his salary, one-half of all fees in excess of two hundred dollars in one month so collected; and provided, that in counties of this class the recorder may appoint two copyists for service in his office, which office of copyists for the county recorder is hereby created, and said copyists shall receive as compensation for their services the sum of five hundred forty dollars each per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury in equal monthly installments, at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the recorder is paid.

4. Auditor. The auditor, two thousand dollars per annum; he may also appoint a deputy auditor, which office of deputy auditor is hereby created, whose salary shall be seventy-five dollars per month, payable as the salaries of all other county officers are paid. The provisions of this subsection do not increase the compensation of a county officer and shall take effect immediately.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, two thousand dollars per annum.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, one thousand dollars per annum; provided, that said tax collector shall perform the duties and receive and retain for his own use, the fees provided by law for the license tax collector.

7. Assessor. The assessor, four thousand two hundred fifty dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class the assessor may appoint a field deputy, which office of field deputy is hereby created, who shall hold office from the first day of March of each year up to and including the last day of July of each year. The salary of said field deputy herein provided for is fixed at the sum of one hundred fifty dollars per month, to include expenses for each month during which the said field deputy holds office, as herein provided. The salary of said field deputy shall be paid at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of other county officers are paid.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; he may also appoint a deputy, which office of deputy district attorney is hereby created, whose salary shall be one thousand dollars per annum, payable as the salaries of other county officers are paid.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, including services on the board of education. He shall be allowed his actual traveling expenses not to exceed three hundred dollars per annum; he shall also be allowed one deputy whose salary shall be fifty dollars per month, payable the same as the salary of county officers; provided, that he shall keep his office open from nine o'clock A. M. to five o'clock P. M. of each business day.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor shall receive a per diem of ten dollars for all work performed for the county, in addition thereto all necessary expenses and transportation on work performed in the field.

13. Population of townships. Justices of the peace. For the purpose of fixing the compensation of justices of the peace according to their duties, townships of this class of counties are hereby classified according to population. The population shall be determined by the board of supervisors upon the enactment of this act, and also at the time of the formation of any new township of townships. The board may determine such population by multiplying by three the number of registered voters at the last general election next preceding the date of such determination.

Townships having a population of five thousand eight hundred or more shall belong to and be known as townships of the first class; townships having a population of four thousand and less than five thousand eight hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the second class; townships having a population of three thousand and less than four thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the third class; townships having a population of two thousand two hundred and less than three thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the fourth class; townships having a population of one thousand seven hundred and less than two thousand two hundred shall belong to and be known as a township of the fifth class; townships having a population of one thousand two hundred and less than one thousand seven hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the sixth class; townships having a population of six hundred and less than one thousand two hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the seventh class; townships having a population of three hundred and less than six hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the eighth class; townships having a population of less than three hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the ninth class.

Justices of the peace shall receive the following salaries: In townships of the first class, the sum of nine hundred dollars for the period beginning with the date upon which this act becomes effective and ending December 31, 1915, and thereafter a salary of nine hundred dollars per annum; in townships of the second class, the sum of seven hundred eighty dollars for the period beginning with the date upon which this act becomes effective and ending December 31, 1915, and thereafter a salary of seven hundred eighty dollars per annum; in townships of the third class, the sum of six hundred sixty dollars for the period beginning with the date upon which this act becomes effective and ending December 31, 1915, and thereafter a salary of six hundred sixty dollars per annum; in townships of the fourth class, the sum of six hundred dollars for the period beginning with the date upon which this act becomes effective and ending December 31, 1915, and thereafter a salary of six hundred dollars per annum; in townships of the fifth class, the sum of three hundred twenty dollars for the period beginning with the date upon which this act becomes effective and ending December 31, 1915, and thereafter a salary of three hundred twenty dollars per annum; in townships of the sixth class, the sum of two hundred forty dollars for the period beginning with the date upon which this act becomes effective and ending December 31, 1915, and thereafter a salary of two hundred forty dollars per annum; in townships of the seventh class, the sum of one hundred eighty dollars for the period beginning with the date upon which this act becomes effective and ending with December 31, 1915, and thereafter a salary of one hundred eighty dollars per annum; in townships of the eighth class, the sum of one hundred twenty dollars for the period be-

Such salaries shall be paid in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of county officers are paid and shall be compensation in full for all services rendered.

All fees received by justices of the peace shall be paid into the county treasury every month.

14. Constables. The constable shall receive the following fees, to wit: For serving summons and complaint, for each defendant served one dollar; for each copy of summons for service when made by him, twenty-five cents; for levying writ of attachment or execution or executing order of arrest or for the delivery of personal property, one dollar; for keeping personal property, such sum as the court may order, but no more than two dollars per day shall be allowed for a keeper when necessarily employed; for taking bond or undertaking, fifty cents; for copies of writs and other papers, except summons, complaints and subpoenas, per folio ten cents; provided, that when correct copies are furnished him for use, no charge shall be made for copies, for serving any writ, notice or order, except summons, complaint or subpoenas, for each person served, fifty cents; for writing and posting each notice of sale of property, twenty-five cents; for serving subpoenas, each witness, including copy, twenty-five cents; for collecting money on execution, two and one-half per cent, to be charged against the defendant named in the execution; for executing and delivering a certificate of sale, one dollar; for executing and delivering constable's deeds, two dollars; for every mile necessarily traveled in his township, in going only, to serve any civil or criminal process or paper, or to take a prisoner before a magistrate or to a prison, twenty-five cents, outside of his township, but within his county, twenty cents; but when two or more persons are served or summoned in the same suit and at the same time, mileage shall be charged only for the more distant if they live in the same direction; for each mile traveled outside his county in making criminal arrests, both going and returning from the place of arrest, ten cents; in transporting prisoners to the county jail, or before a magistrate, either upon arrest or for trial or examination, or after conviction, he shall receive in addition to the above mileage his actual and necessary expenses for himself and prisoners; provided, that if two or more prisoners are transported at the same time, no more than one mileage shall be allowed; for making each arrest in criminal cases, one dollar and fifty cents; for sales of estrays, the same fees as for sales on execution; for summoning a jury, two dollars, including mileage; for all other services, the same fees as are allowed sheriffs for like services; provided, further, that no more than sixty dollars shall be allowed to any constable in counties of this class in any one month for fees and mileage in criminal matters.

15. Supervisors. Each supervisor, six hundred dollars per annum, and twenty cents per mile for traveling from his residence to and from the county seat; provided, such mileage shall not be allowed more than once a month; and for his services as road commissioner he shall receive twenty cents a mile one way, for all distances actually and necessarily traveled by him in the performance of his duties; provided, he shall not in any one year receive more than three hundred dollars as such road commissioner. The road commissioners shall be reimbursed for all traveling, personal and other necessary expenses while actually engaged in the performance of their duties upon the road; provided, that the full amount of expenses incurred shall not exceed six hundred dollars in any one year, to be allowed as any other claim by the board of supervisors.

16. Probation officer. The probation officer, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum; provided, further, that said probation officer shall devote his entire time to the performance of the duties of said office.

17. Jurors. In counties of this class grand jurors and jurors in the superior court shall receive for each day's attendance the sum of three dollars, and for each mile actually and necessarily traveled from residence to county seat the sum of twenty-five cents; such mileage to be allowed but once during each session such jurors are required to attend. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1160.]

§ 4261. Counties of thirty-second class, salaries of officers. In counties of the thirty-second class, the county officers shall receive as compensation for their services required of them by law, or by virtue of their office, the following salary, or fees, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, two thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and one deputy at a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and one deputy at a salary of one thousand dollars per annum. The salary of said deputies to be payable monthly in the same manner as the salaries of the other county officers are paid; provided, further, however, that in each year in which a new and complete registration of voters is required by law the county clerk may appoint an additional deputy or deputies whose compensation in the aggregate shall not exceed four hundred dollars in any one year; and provided, further, that the county clerk shall file with the county auditor a certified statement showing in detail the amount and persons to whom said compensation is paid. Such salaries of such deputies shall be paid out of the same fund as the salaries of other county officers are paid.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, three thousand dollars per annum and one jailer at a salary of one hundred dollars per month, and one bailiff at a salary of one hundred dollars per month, one deputy at a salary of one hundred dollars per month, which office is hereby created, the salary of said jailer, bailiff and deputy payable monthly in the same manner as the salaries of the other county officers are paid.

3. Recorder. The recorder, two thousand dollars per annum, and one copyist at a salary of nine hundred dollars per annum, which office of copyist is hereby created, and one copyist at a salary of nine hundred dollars per annum, which office of copyist is hereby created, the salary of said copyists payable monthly in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid.

4. Auditor. The auditor, two thousand dollars per annum and one deputy during the months of July, August, September, October, November, and December of each year, at a salary of one hundred dollars per month, which office of deputy auditor is hereby created, the salary of said deputy payable monthly in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, two thousand dollars per annum.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, two thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and one deputy at a salary of seventy-five dollars per month, which office of deputy tax collector is hereby created, the salary of said deputy payable monthly in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid.

7. Assessor. The assessor, four thousand five hundred dollars per annum; one chief deputy, which office of chief deputy assessor, is hereby created, at a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, payable monthly in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid; one copyist for a period of four months in each year, which office of copyist is hereby created, at a salary of seventy-five dollars per month, payable during the months of March, April, May and June of each year, in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid. The assessor may also appoint such number of additional deputies as he shall deem necessary, the salaries of such additional deputies to be paid by the assessor out of his salary above provided for. All sums collected by the assessor or his deputies as fees or commissions allowed by law for the collection of personal property taxes, for making the military roll and for commissions now or hereafter allowed by law for the collection of poll taxes, shall be paid into the county treasury, for the use of said county, monthly as collected, with a statement of account of such collection.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, two thousand dollars per annum.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now, or may be hereafter provided by law.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now, or may be hereafter provided by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and one clerk, which office of clerk to the superintendent of schools is hereby created, at a salary of nine hundred dollars per annum, payable monthly in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor, such fees as are now, or may be hereafter provided by law.

13. Supervisors. Supervisors, each the sum of eight hundred dollars per annum in full for all services performed by them as supervisors, and as members of the board of equalization, and road commissioners, and in any and every capacity.

14. Justices of the peace. Constables. Justices of the peace shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month in the same manner and out of the same fund as county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them. In townships having a population of more than six thousand, one hundred dollars per month; in townships having a population of less than six thousand and more than three thousand, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships having a population of less than three thousand and more than seven hundred fifty, forty-five dollars per month; in townships having a population of less than seven hundred fifty, ten dollars per month. It is hereby found as a fact that the salaries provided for this subdivision do not work an increase in compensation, and the same shall apply immediately to incumbents.

Constables shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month in the same manner and out of the same fund as county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them in criminal cases. In townships having a population of more than six thousand, one hundred dollars per month; in townships having a population of less than six thousand and over three thousand, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships having a population of less than three thousand and over seven hundred fifty, fifty dollars per month; in townships having a population of less than seven hundred fifty, ten dollars per month. The constables may retain for their own use all other fees, except those in criminal cases, as are now or may hereafter be provided by law. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1152.]

§ 4261a. Fees of jurors, counties of thirty-second class. In counties of the thirty-second class, grand jurors, and trial jurors in the superior court in criminal cases, shall be paid three dollars per day for each day's attendance, and for each mile actually traveled in going only, while acting as such juror, ten cents, and the judge of said court shall make an order directing the auditor to draw his warrant on the treasury in favor of such juror for said per diem and mileage, and the treasurer shall pay the same. [New section added May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1166.]

§ 4262. Counties of thirty-third class, salaries of officers. In counties of the thirty-third class, the county officers shall receive as compensation for the services required of them, by law, or by virtue of their office, the following salaries, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; and in any year when a new and complete or supplemental registration of voters is required by law to be made, he shall receive the sum of twelve cents for each elector registered, which shall be allowed by the board of supervisors at the close of registration preceding a general election, and paid from the general fund of the county. The county clerk shall be allowed one deputy at a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and one deputy at a salary of nine hundred dollars per annum. The county clerk shall also be allowed two copyists during the month of October in each even numbered year and prior to the holding of the November general election, said copyists to receive a salary of fifty dollars each for said month; said deputies and copyists to be appointed by the county clerk.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, five thousand dollars per annum, and necessary expenses for pursuing criminals or transacting any criminal business. The sheriff shall be allowed one deputy, who shall be the jailer, at a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum; said deputy to be appointed by the sheriff; and such additional deputies as may be required to enforce the provisions of the motor vehicle law, said deputies to be appointed by the sheriff and to receive such compensation, to be paid out of the general fund of the county, as the board of supervisors may fix.

3. Recorder. The recorder, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum. The recorder shall be allowed four copyists, each of whom shall receive a salary of nine hundred dollars per annum; said copyists to be appointed by the recorder.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, two thousand dollars per annum. The tax collector shall be allowed one deputy at a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum; said deputy to be appointed by the tax collector; and provided, further, that the said tax collector shall be allowed one deputy who shall hold office during the months of September, October, November and December at a salary of seventy-five dollars per month; said deputy to be appointed by the tax collector.

7. Assessor. The assessor, three thousand six hundred dollars per annum. The assessor shall be allowed one chief deputy at a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; one deputy at a salary of one thousand three hundred twenty dollars per annum; one deputy for a term of eight months each year at a salary of seventy-five dollars per month; two deputies for a period of three months each year at salaries of one hundred twenty-five dollars per month each; eight deputies for a period of two months each year at salaries of one hundred twenty-five dollars per month each; two deputies for a period of one month each year at salaries of one hundred twenty-five dollars per month each. The said deputies shall be appointed by the assessor at such time or times as said assessor shall see fit.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum. The district attorney shall be allowed one stenographer at a salary of nine hundred dollars per annum; said stenographer to be appointed by the district attorney.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, two thousand dollars per annum; and shall also be allowed the compensation allowed by law for services on the board of education, and actual traveling expenses when visiting schools in his (or her) county. The superintendent of schools shall be allowed one deputy at a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum; said deputy to be appointed by the superintendent of schools.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law; provided, the surveyor shall annually revise the plats in the office of the assessor, for which he shall receive a sum not to exceed four hundred dollars in any one year.

13. Population of townships. For the purpose of regulating the compensation of justices of the peace and constables, townships in counties of the thirty-third class are hereby classified according to population to be determined by the board of supervisors at the time of the formation of any new judicial township or townships in the manner prescribed by section four thousand fifty-five of the Political Code. Townships having a population of five thousand or more shall belong to and be known as townships of the first class. Townships having a population of less than five thousand and more than three thousand five hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the second class. Townships having a population of less than three thousand five hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the third class. Justices of the peace shall receive the following salaries for all services rendered by them: In townships of the first class, one hundred dollars per month; in townships of the second class, fifty dollars per month; in townships of the third class, thirty-five dollars per month.

The amendments provided for in the subdivision shall not take effect until the expiration of the terms of office of the present incumbents.

14. Constables. Constables in counties of this class shall receive the following salaries for all services rendered by them in criminal cases: In townships of the first class, one hundred dollars per month; in townships of the second class, fifty dollars per month; in townships of the third class, thirty-five dollars per month. Constables shall also receive for their own use and benefit, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law in civil cases. They shall also be allowed their actual expenses in conveying prisoners from place of arrest to court, and, in case of conviction, from the court to the county jail.

The amendments provided for in this subdivision shall not take effect until the expiration of the terms of office of the present incumbents.

15. Supervisors. Supervisors, each, the sum of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum for all services performed by them as supervisors and as members of the board of equalization. Each supervisor shall receive mileage at the rate of ten cents per mile for each mile traveled in going to and from the meeting of the board. They shall act as road commissioners in their respective districts and shall receive for their services as such road commissioner mileage at the rate of twenty-five cents per mile for all distances actually traveled by them in the discharge of their duties as such road commissioner; provided, that such mileage as road commissioner shall not in any one year exceed the sum of six hundred dollars for any one of the road commissioners.

It is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

16. Reporter. The official reporter of the superior court, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

17. Juror fees. Juror fees shall be as follows: For attending as a grand juror, or a trial juror in the superior court, for each day's attendance, three dollars per day; for each mile he travels in attending court as such juror, fifteen cents per mile in going only.

18. Public defender. If at any time there shall be created and established in this state a county office designated the office of county public defender, then, and in that case, the salary to be allowed such officer in counties of this class shall be one thousand two hundred dollars per annum.

19. Idem. The provisions of subdivision eighteen of this section shall have no force or effect unless the office therein anticipated is created by constitutional or legislative enactment.

20. Monthly salaries. The salaries of all county and township officers and their deputies shall be payable in equal monthly installments from the salary fund of the county on the first day of each month. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 989.]

4. Auditor. The auditor, eight hundred dollars per annum.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, two thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, six hundred fifty dollars per annum.

7. Assessor. The assessor, five thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, two thousand five hundred dollars per annum; and the district attorney may appoint one deputy, at a salary of six hundred dollars per annum. The deputy district attorney shall hold office at the pleasure of the district attorney. The salary of such deputy shall be paid monthly and in the same manner as salaries of county officers are now paid.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are or may be hereafter allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, four hundred dollars per annum.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, two thousand dollars per annum; and he shall receive and retain for his own use the sum of five dollars per diem for each and every day he attends the meetings of the county board of education, and shall also be allowed his actual and necessary traveling expenses in visiting the schools of the county.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

13. Supervisors. Each member of the board of supervisors shall receive for his services the sum of nine hundred dollars per annum, and the actual expenses incurred in attendance and for traveling to and from his residence to the county seat at any regular or special session of the board, and that one-twelfth of the annual salary shall be paid at the close of each monthly session of the board; and provided, further, they shall be reimbursed for necessary expenses actually incurred by attending any special session of the board. The road commissioner shall be reimbursed for all traveling, personal and other necessary expenses incurred while actually engaged in the performance of his duty upon the roads; such allowance not to exceed the sum of five dollars for each day so actually engaged, and the total amount of such allowance not to exceed the sum of three hundred dollars per annum.

14. Justices of the peace. From and after January 4, 1919, justices of the peace of townships containing three thousand inhabitants or more shall be allowed a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum. Justices of the peace in townships containing one thousand and not more than three thousand inhabitants shall be allowed a salary of six hundred dollars per annum, and justices of the peace in townships containing not to exceed one thousand inhabitants shall be allowed a salary of sixty dollars per annum, payable monthly and in the same manner as salaries of county officers are paid, and shall be in full for all services; provided, further, that justices of the peace shall, before receiving their monthly salary file with the auditor a statement of all fees and fines received, together with the treasurer's receipt for the same. All fees and fines collected by justices of the peace shall be turned over to the county treasurer of said county; provided, that all fines collected for city offenses shall be turned over to the city treasurer of the city where the offense shall have been committed.

15. Constables. Constables, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law; provided, that constables of townships containing two thousand inhabitants or more shall be allowed a salary of four hundred eighty dollars per annum, payable monthly and in the same manner as county officers are paid and shall be in full for all services rendered by them in criminal cases; provided, further, that they shall be allowed all necessary expenses actually incurred in arresting and conveying prisoners to the county jail, which said expense shall be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors and paid out of the county treasury, in addition to the monthly salaries herein allowed, each constable may receive and retain for his own use such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law, for all services rendered by him in civil actions. For the purpose of regulating salaries of justices and constables, townships in this class of counties are hereby classified according to their population as shown by the federal census of nineteen hundred ten.

16. Reporter. In the counties of this class the official reporter of the superior court shall receive such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law, and when necessary for such reporter to travel away from the county seat in the performance of his duty he shall receive his actual and necessary traveling and personal expenses, to be allowed and paid by the board of supervisors as are other county charges. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1242.]

§ 4264. Counties of thirty-fifth class, salaries of officers. In counties of the thirty-fifth class the county officers shall receive, as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their offices, the following salaries, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, three thousand six hundred dollars per annum, and when a new great register of voters is required by law to be made, he shall receive five hundred dollars additional, which shall be in full for all services required in registering voters and making the great register.

14. Supervisors. Each member of the board of supervisors, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, in full payment for services as member of the board of supervisors, as member of the board of equalization and as road commissioner, and twenty-five cents per mile while traveling from his residence to the county seat not more than once each month. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this subdivision do not work an increase in compensation of this office, and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

15. Reporter. In counties of this class, the official reporter of the superior court shall receive such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law. The compensation allowed each officer above enumerated shall be in full payment for all services performed by him. [Amendment approvedd May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 992.]

§ 4272. Counties of forty-third class, salaries of officers. In counties of the forty-third class the county officers shall receive, as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their office, the following salaries, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, one thousand nine hundred twenty dollars per annum, and such fees as he may be now or hereafter allowed by law to retain; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and there hereby is allowed to the county clerk one deputy clerk, who shall be appointed by the county clerk and shall be paid a salary as follows: the sum of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, which sum shall be paid by the said county in equal monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the county clerk is paid.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, three thousand five hundred dollars per annum. The sheriff shall also receive for his own use and benefit all fees, commissions and mileage, in all civil cases within his county, and all fees, commissions and mileage for service of any papers issued by any court outside of his county.

3. Recorder. The recorder, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and such fees as he may be now or hereafter allowed by law to retain. The board of supervisors is hereby authorized to employ such number of copyists at such salaries and for such length of time as the said board may deem necessary to properly and expeditiously record all instruments and documents filed for record in the office of the county recorder of such county, and the salary of such copyist or copyists shall be paid out of the general fund of said county.

4. Auditor. The auditor, six hundred dollars per annum.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, one thousand five hundred sixty dollars per annum.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, seven hundred dollars per annum.

7. Assessor. The assessor, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum. He shall also be permitted to appoint such deputies as he may desire, of whom one shall be paid by the county for the term of six months, beginning on the first Monday in January in each year at the rate of one hundred dollars per month, and one of whom shall be paid by the county for the term of four months, beginning on the first Monday in March in each year, at the rate of one hundred dollars per month, and one of whom shall be paid by the county at the rate of one hundred dollars per month for the term of two months, said term beginning on the first Monday of March of each year. The board of supervisors shall allow the assessor to appoint extra deputies, other than as above provided, in the ratio of one for every three hundred assessment statements, or major fraction thereof in excess of two thousand eight hundred statements, and said extra deputies shall each serve four months in each year, at the will of the assessor, and shall be paid each one hundred dollars per month. All salaries of deputies as above provided, shall be paid in the same manner and at the same time as the salary of the assessor is paid. All commissions allowed by law to the assessor for the collection of poll tax, road poll, personal property or special taxes, shall be paid into the county treasury by the assessor, monthly as collected, for the use of the county, and shall be apportioned by the auditor and the treasurer to the salary fund.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and actual traveling expenses when visiting the schools of his county.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

13. Justices of the peace. Justices of the peace shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month, and in the same manner and out of the same fund as county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them. In townships having a population of more than four thousand, ninety dollars per month; in townships having a population of less than four thousand and more than two thousand three hundred, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships having a population of less than two thousand three hundred and more than one thousand five hundred, thirty dollars per month; in townships having a population of less than one thousand five hundred and more than six hundred, twenty dollars per month; in townships having a population of less than six hundred, fifteen dollars per month. The compensation herein fixed for justices of the peace shall be in full for all services rendered, and all fees collected by them shall be paid into the county treasury as provided by law.

14. Constables. Constables shall receive the following monthly salaries to be paid each month, and in the same manner and out of the same fund as county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them in criminal cases: In townships having a population of more than four thousand, thirty-five dollars per month; in townships having a population of less than four thousand and more than two thousand, fifteen dollars per month; in townships having a population of less than two thousand, ten dollars per month; provided, that each constable shall receive his actual and necessary expenses incurred in conveying prisoners to the county jail. In addition to the compensation received in criminal cases, each constable shall receive and retain for his own use such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law for all services performed by him in civil actions.

15. Supervisors. Traveling expenses. Each supervisor, nine hundred dollars per annum, and twenty cents per mile for traveling expenses from his residence to the county seat, and also necessary expenses when on official business outside of the county.

16. Board of education. Each member of the county board of education, including the secretary, shall receive one hundred fifty dollars per annum as compensation for his services on the board of education, and mileage at the rate of twenty cents per mile, one way, from his residence to the place of meeting of said board. Said compensation of said members and of said secretary shall be paid monthly in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of other county officers are paid. Claims for such mileage shall be presented to and allowed by the board of supervisors before payment. The compensation of the members of the county board of education herein provided is not in addition to that provided in section one thousand seven hundred seventy.

17. Population of townships. For the purposes of subdivisions thirteen and fourteen of this section, the population of the several judicial townships shall be ascertained by the board of supervisors, by multiplying by five the vote for presidential electors cast in each township at the next preceding election. [Amendment approved April 16, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 130.]

§ 4275. Counties of forty-sixth class, salaries of officers. In counties of the forty-sixth class the county officers shall receive, as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their office, the following salaries, to wit:

(a) County clerk. The county clerk, two thousand five hundred dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and there is hereby allowed to the county clerk one deputy who shall receive a salary of one thousand dollars per annum, and one deputy who shall receive a salary of eight hundred dollars per annum; the deputies herein provided for shall be appointed by the county clerk, and their salaries shall be paid by said county in equal monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same funds as the salary of the county clerk is paid. All fees collected by the clerk as are now or may hereafter be required by law shall by him be paid into the county treasury.

(b) Sheriff. The sheriff, five thousand dollars per annum, and the fees or commissions for the service of all papers issued by any court of the state outside of his county; also, his actual and necessary traveling expenses in the execution of a warrant outside of his county issued by a court or magistrate of his county.

(c) Recorder. The recorder, one thousand four hundred forty dollars per annum, and, in addition thereto, all fees which said recorder is now or may hereafter be entitled to receive as such recorder, or which are now or may hereafter be required by law to be collected by said recorder.

(d) Auditor. The auditor, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

(e) Treasurer. The treasurer, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; provided, that all commissions and fees required or permitted by any law of this state or of the United States to be collected by the treasurer either as an officer or ex officio officer, his deputies or assistants, for the performance of any official duty, shall be collected for the benefit of the county and shall be paid into the general fund of the county monthly.

(f) Tax collector. The tax collector, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

(g) Assessor. The assessor, four thousand dollars per annum; provided, that said assessor shall be entitled to receive and retain for his own use four per cent only on personal property tax collected by him as authorized by section three thousand eight hundred twenty of the Political Code of the state of California.

(h) District attorney. The district attorney, three thousand dollars per annum; provided, that said officer shall refrain from the private practice of law; provided, further, that in counties of this class, there shall be and is hereby allowed to the district attorney a stenographer or office clerk, to be appointed by the district attorney, who shall receive a salary of six hundred dollars per annum, to be paid in equal monthly installments, at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same funds as the salary of the district attorney is paid.

(i) Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

(j) Public administrator. The public administrator such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

(k) Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum and traveling expenses while visiting schools of his county; and for services as secretary of the board of education he shall receive five dollars per day for each day said board is in session.

(l) Surveyor. The surveyor, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

(m) Justices of the peace. Justices of the peace shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month, and in the same manner and out of the same fund as county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them in criminal cases: In townships having a population of more than nine hundred, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships having a population less than nine hundred and more than five hundred, fifty dollars per month; in townships having a population less than five hundred, twenty dollars per month.

(n) Constables. Constables shall receive the following monthly salaries to be paid each month, and in the same manner and out of the same fund as county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them in criminal cases: In townships having a population of more than nine hundred, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships having a population of less than nine hundred and more than five hundred, fifty dollars per month; in townships having a population of less than five hundred, twenty dollars per month; provided, that each constable shall receive his actual and necessary expenses incurred in conveying prisoners to the county jail. In addition to the compensation received in criminal cases each constable shall receive and retain for his own use such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law for all services performed by him in civil actions.

(o) Supervisors. Supervisors the sum of one hundred twenty-five dollars per month each; mileage at the rate of ten cents per mile for each mile actually traveled by them in the discharge of their duties, either as road commissioner or supervisor, not exceeding in the aggregate two hundred fifty dollars per annum. Supervisors shall also receive their necessary expenses when the performance of duty as supervisor or road commissioner takes them out of the county.

(p) Reporters. The official reporters, same as now provided by law.

(q) Jurors. In counties of this class grand jurors and trial jurors in the superior court shall receive for each day's attendance the sum of three dollars, and for each mile actually and necessarily traveled from their residence to the county seat, the sum of fifteen cents; such mileage to be allowed but once during each session such jurors are required to attend.

(r) Construction of act. It is hereby declared that nothing herein contained constitutes an increase in compensation of any of the officials mentioned herein and this act shall take effect in accordance with the provisions of section one of article four of the constitution. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1605.]

§ 4276. Counties of forty-seventh class, salaries of officers. In counties of the forty-seventh class, the county officers shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law, or by virtue of their office, the following salaries, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class, there shall be a deputy county clerk, who shall be appointed by the county clerk, whose salary shall be, per annum, a sum not to exceed nine hundred dollars; which salary shall be fixed by said county clerk, and which said salary shall be paid by said county at the time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the county clerk.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, five thousand dollars per annum and mileage for service of any and all processes required by law to be served by him, at the rate of ten cents per mile for every mile necessarily traveled in the performance of such duty, and for service of all processes issued from all courts outside of his county; the sheriff to pay all salaries of his deputies.

3. Recorder. The recorder, one thousand six hundred dollars per annum; provided that such recorder shall collect and pay into the county treasury, for the use and benefit of the county, the fees required by law.

4. Auditor. The auditor, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

7. Assessor. The assessor, two thousand one hundred dollars per annum.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, two thousand one hundred dollars per annum.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

13. Justices of the peace. Justices of the peace shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month as salaries of county officers are paid, which shall be in full compensation for all services rendered, as hereinafter provided: In townships having a population of three thousand or more, fifty dollars per month, which said salary shall be in full compensation for all services rendered by said justices of the peace in both civil and criminal cases, and all such fees as are allowed by law in civil cases shall be paid by said justices of the peace into the county treasury, as the fees of county officers are paid in. In townships having a population under three thousand, twenty-five dollars per month, which shall be in full compensation for all services rendered in criminal cases. In addition to the above salary, each justice of the peace shall collect and retain for his own use and benefit in civil cases, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law. In townships having a population of not less than one thousand and under two thousand, twenty dollars per month, which shall be in full compensation for all services rendered in criminal cases. In addition to the above salary, each justice of the peace shall collect and retain for his own use and benefit in civil cases such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law. In townships having a population of less than one thousand, fifteen dollars per month, which shall be in full compensation for all services rendered in criminal cases. In addition to the above salary each justice of the peace shall collect and retain for his own use and benefit in civil cases, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

14. Constables. Constables, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

16. Reporter. In counties of this class, the official reporter of the superior court shall receive, as full compensation for taking notes in criminal cases in said court, before the grand jury, for preliminary examinations, and for coroners' inquests, a monthly salary of seventy-five dollars, payable out of the county treasury at the same time and in the same manner as the salaries of the county officers are paid, and shall receive as compensation for taking notes, when required, in civil cases a per diem of ten dollars, to be paid by the litigants as the court may direct; and for transcription of said notes, when required, the sum of fifteen cents per folio for the original, and five cents per folio for each copy thereof; said compensation for transcription in criminal cases and coroners' inquests to be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors as other claims against the county, and paid out of the county treasury; and in civil cases to be paid by the party ordering the same, or when ordered by the judge, by either party, or by both or all parties, as the court may direct. He shall also be allowed his actual traveling expenses when reporting outside the county seat.

17. Population of townships. The board of supervisors shall determine the population of each township for the purpose of fixing the salary of the township officers aforesaid. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1107.]

§ 4276a. Fees of jurors and witnesses, counties of forty-seventh class. In counties of the forty-seventh class, jurors and witnesses shall receive the following fees and mileage:

Jurors. For attending as a grand juror, for each day's actual attendance, per day, three dollars, and twenty cents per mile for each mile actually traveled, in going only; for attending as a trial juror in the superior court in civil and criminal cases, for each day's actual attendance, per day, three dollars, and twenty cents per mile for each mile actually traveled, in going only; for attending as a trial juror in the justice's court, in civil cases only, for each day's actual attendance, per day, two dollars, and twenty cents per mile for each mile actually traveled, in going only.

The fee of such jurors shall be paid to them, respectively, on each day during the period of their attendance, if demanded, and the mileage herein provided for shall be paid at the time the fee for the first day's attendance is paid.

Witnesses. For each day's actual attendance when legally required to attend upon the superior court, per day, three dollars, and twenty cents per mile for each mile actually traveled, in going only; and for each day's actual attendance when legally required to attend upon the justice's court, in civil cases only, per day, two dollars, and twenty cents per mile for each mile actually traveled, in going only. Witnesses in criminal cases shall be paid their fees and mileage, as in this section provided, immediately upon their being discharged by the court. Witnesses in civil cases may demand the payment of their fees and mileage for one day, in advance, and when so demanded shall not be compelled to attend until the same shall have been paid. [New section added May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1109.]

§ 4277. Counties of forty-eighth class, salaries of officers. In counties of the forty-eighth class the county officers shall receive, as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their officers, the following compensation and salaries, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, two thousand dollars per annum.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, three thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and actual traveling expenses incurred in the pursuit or arrest of criminals, either in or out of his county.

3. Recorder. The recorder, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; and the said recorder may appoint one deputy recorder, which said office of deputy recorder is hereby created. The salary of such deputy recorder is hereby fixed at one thousand dollars per annum, such salary to be paid at the same time and in the same manner as the salary of county officers is paid.

4. Auditor. The auditor, five hundred dollars per annum.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, eight hundred dollars per annum, which shall be in full for all services as tax collector and license collector; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be one deputy tax collector who shall be appointed by the tax collector of said county, and shall receive a salary of nine hundred dollars per annum, payable at the same time and in the same manner as the salary of the county officers is paid.

7. Assessor. The assessor, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be one chief deputy assessor and one deputy assessor, who shall be appointed by the assessor of said county. Said deputy assessor shall serve as such only during the months of March, April, May and June of each year and shall receive a salary of one hundred dollars per month, payable during the period of such service, and said chief deputy assessor shall receive a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per year, such salaries to be payable at the same time and in the same manner as the salary of the county officers is paid.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor, nine hundred dollars per annum, and in addition thereto, he shall receive his actual traveling and other necessary expenses incurred by him while engaged in work for the county.

13. Supervisors. Each supervisor, fifty dollars per month, payable at the same time and in the same manner as other county officers are paid, and his necessary and actual expenses when attending to the business of the county by order of the board, and mileage at the rate of twenty cents per mile for traveling from his residence to the county seat to attend the sessions of the board, and mileage at the rate of twenty cents per mile one way for all actual distances traveled by him in the performance of his duties as road commissioner.

14. Classification of townships. Justices of the peace. In counties of this class the township officers shall receive the following compensation: For the purpose of fixing the compensation of justices of the peace and constables according to their duties townships in counties of this class are hereby classified according to their population as follows: Townships having a population of two thousand four hundred or more shall belong to and be known as townships of the first class. Townships having a population of more than one thousand two hundred and less than two thousand four hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the second class. Townships having a population of less than one thousand two hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the third class. Justices of the peace shall receive the following salaries: In townships of the first class forty dollars per month; in townships of the second class twenty dollars per month, and in townships of the third class fifteen dollars per month. Such salaries shall be paid in the same manner and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid, and shall be compensation in full for all services rendered. All fees received by justices of the peace shall be paid into the county treasury every month.

15. Constables. Constables shall receive the following monthly salaries, payable at the same time and in the same manner as county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them in criminal actions: In townships of the first class thirty dollars per month; in townships of the second class fifteen dollars per month; in townships of the third class fifteen dollars per month; provided, that in addition to the salary herein allowed each constable shall be paid out of the treasury of the county for traveling expenses outside of his township for service of a warrant of arrest or any other paper in a criminal case such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law, and for transporting prisoners to the county jail the actual expenses for such transportation, and his actual and necessary expenses in keeping and caring for property seized by him under a writ of attachment or execution; and provided, further, that constables may retain for their own use, the fees which are now or may be hereafter allowed to them in civil cases.

16. Population, how ascertained. For the purposes of sections fourteen and fifteen, the population of the several townships shall be ascertained by multiplying by two and one-half the number of registered voters in each township, at the last general election preceding the fixing of this classification.

17. Jurors. Grand jurors and jurors in the superior court shall receive the following fees: for each day's attendance three dollars, and for each mile actually traveled in attending court as a juror, one way, fifteen cents.

18. Incumbents. When this law shall enter into effect it shall apply to and affect incumbents mentioned in sections seven, fourteen and fifteen hereof. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1258.]

§ 4278. Counties of forty-ninth class, salaries of officers. In counties of the forty-ninth class, the county officers shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their office, the following salaries, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class the county clerk shall be allowed a copyist, who shall be appointed by the county clerk and paid the salary of seventy-five dollars per month; said salary to be paid at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the county clerk; and provided, further, that in counties of this class, during the years when the compilation of a great register is required by law, the county clerks of the county shall be allowed the sum of ten cents per name for each affidavit legally taken for registration; said sum to be allowed and paid to said county clerks by the board of supervisors as other county charges are allowed and paid.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff shall receive two thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and in counties of this class, there is hereby allowed to the sheriff, one deputy, to be appointed by him, who shall receive the salary of seventy-five dollars per month, which shall be paid by the county in monthly installments, at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the sheriff is paid.

3. Recorder. The recorder, one thousand dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and is hereby allowed to the recorder a copyist who shall be appointed by the recorder, and paid the salary of seventy-five dollars per month; said salary to be paid by the said county in monthly installments, at the time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the recorder is paid.

4. Auditor. The auditor, eight hundred dollars per annum.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and ten per cent on all licenses collected by him as license collector; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and is hereby allowed to the tax collector an assistant for the months of April, October and November, who shall be appointed by the tax collector and paid the salary of seventy-five dollars per month for said above-named months, said salary to be paid by the said county in monthly installments, at the time and in the same manner, and out of the same fund as the salary of the tax collector is paid.

7. Assessor. The assessor, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and is hereby allowed to the assessor two deputies, to be appointed by him, who shall receive the salary of one hundred twenty-five dollars per month each, from the first day of March to July first of each year, said salaries to be paid by said county in monthly installments, at the same time and in the same manner, and out of the same fund as the salary of the assessor is paid.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum and actual traveling expenses when visiting the schools of his county, and the sum of five dollars per day of each day's services on the board of education; said sum, together with the traveling expenses, to be allowed and paid the same as other county charges are allowed and paid.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

13. Justices of the peace. Justices of the peace in counties of this class shall receive the following monthly salaries to be paid each month in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same funds as the county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them: In townships having a population of more than one thousand, fifty dollars per month; in townships having a population of more than five hundred and less than one thousand, twenty-five dollars per month; in townships having a population of less than five hundred, ten dollars per month. The board of supervisors of said counties shall furnish and supply to the justices of the peace of the various townships in such counties the codes of the state and amendments thereto and all necessary stationery, legal blanks and forms for the proper conduct of business.

14. Constables. Constables shall receive the following salaries to be paid each month as salaries of county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them in criminal cases: (1) In townships having a population of five hundred or more, twenty dollars per month; (2) in townships, having a population of less than five hundred, ten dollars per month; provided, further, that in addition to the salary herein allowed, each constable shall be paid out of the treasury of the county for traveling expenses outside of his own township, for service of a warrant of arrest or any other paper in a criminal case, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law. For serving a coroner's subpoena the same fees and mileage as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law for the service of a subpoena issued out of a justice's court. For summoning a coroner's jury the same fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed for summoning a jury in a civil action in the justice's court. For transporting prisoners to the county jail, the expenses of such transportation. In addition to the monthly salaries allowed him herein, each constable may receive for his own use in civil cases the fee allowed by law. For transporting prisoners to the county jail, the actual expenses of such transportation. In addition to the monthly salaries allowed him herein, each constable may receive for his own use in civil cases the fees allowed by law. It is hereby declared that the salaries provided for in this subdivision do not constitute an increase and shall apply to present incumbents.

15. Supervisors. Each member of the board of supervisors to receive a flat rate of eight hundred dollars per annum, in full for all services.

16. Reporter. In counties, of this class, the official reporter of the superior court shall receive, as full compensation for taking notes in civil and criminal cases tried in said courts, and for preliminary examinations in justices' courts, and at coroners' inquests, a per diem of ten dollars, and for transcription of said notes when required during the progress of a trial, he shall receive the sum of twenty-five cents per folio for the original and five cents per folio for one copy; but if such transcription is not required until after the conclusion of the trial, then he shall receive the sum of ten cents per folio for original, and five cents per folio for copies required; said compensation for transcription in criminal cases to be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors as other claims against the county, and paid out of the county treasury; and in civil cases, to be paid by the party ordering the same, or when ordered by the judge, by either party, or jointly by both parties, as the court may direct. He shall also be allowed his actual traveling expenses when reporting outside of the county seat.

17. Jurors. For attending as a grand juror or as a trial juror in the superior court, in criminal cases, four dollars per day for each day's attendance. For each mile actually traveled in attending upon the superior court, in going only, per mile, twenty-five cents; provided, that in counties of this class the grand jurors and trial jurors in criminal cases shall be paid warrants drawn by the county auditor, issued upon the order of the court, or judge thereof. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1149.]

§ 4279. Counties of fiftieth class, salaries of officers. In counties of the fiftieth class the county officers shall receive, as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their office, the following salaries, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum and such fees as he may be by law allowed to retain; and provided, that in any year when a new register of voters is required by law said county clerk may appoint such number of deputy clerks as may be necessary for the convenience of registration of voters, each of said deputies to receive the sum of ten cents per name for each elector registered by him whose name appears on the great register at the November election. Said sum to be paid out of the general county fund, on the presentation and filing with the board of supervisors of said county a duly verified claim therefor approved by the county clerk.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum, and the fees or commissions for the service of all papers issued by any court of the state outside of his county, and his actual and necessary traveling expenses while executing a warrant outside of his county issued by a magistrate or court within his county.

3. Recorder. The recorder, one thousand six hundred dollars per annum; provided, that when the amount of fees collected by said recorder in any month shall exceed the sum of one hundred dollars, the recorder may receive and retain for his own use, in addition to his salary, one-half of all fees in excess of one hundred dollars collected by him in such month.

4. Auditor. The auditor, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and a fee of one dollar for every redemption that is made under the provisions of section three thousand eight hundred seventeen of this code, and a commission of ten per cent on all money collected from the state of California on claims made out against the state under the provisions of section four thousand ninety-nine a of this code. Such fees and commissions as are herein mentioned shall be allowed the auditor by the board of supervisors out of the general county fund on claims properly presented; provided, that said fees and commissions shall not exceed the sum of three hundred dollars per annum.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer nine hundred dollars per annum.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector six hundred dollars per annum, which shall be in full for all services as tax collector and license collector.

7. Assessor. The assessor, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; provided, that the board of supervisors shall allow the traveling expenses of the assessor and his deputies, necessarily incurred in the performance of the duties of said office, not to exceed the sum of three hundred dollars per year, to be allowed and paid as other claims against the county are allowed and paid; provided, further, that the provisions herein contained for the expenses of the assessor shall apply to the incumbent.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, one thousand dollars per annum, and actual and necessary traveling expenses when visiting schools of his county. He shall also be allowed five dollars per day for acting as secretary of the board of education for each day said board is in session.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

13. Justices of the peace. In counties of this class the justices of the peace shall receive the following compensation, to wit:

(a) In townships having a population of one thousand or over, the sum of three hundred dollars per annum, payable monthly.

(b) In townships having a population of less than one thousand, the sum of two hundred forty dollars per annum, payable monthly.

The above named salaries shall be in full compensation for all services of said justices of the peace in criminal and civil cases, and when acting as coroner said justices of the peace shall be allowed and paid actual expenses, which expenses shall be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors and paid out of the county treasury. The above compensation shall be in lieu of all other fees received for services and said fees shall be accounted for to the auditor and paid into the county treasury.

The salaries of justices of the peace as herein provided for shall be paid in the same manner, at the same time, and out of the same funds as county officers are paid.

For the purpose of this subdivision the population of the several judicial townships is hereby determined to be the population of the townships as shown by the federal census taken in the year A. D. one thousand nine hundred ten.

14. Constables. Constables, the sum of three hundred dollars per annum, which shall be paid, in the same manner and at the same time and out of the same funds as county officers are now paid. The above compensation shall be in lieu of all other fees received for services, and said fees shall be accounted for to the auditor and paid into the county treasury; provided, the provisions hereof and herein contained shall apply to the present incumbent.

15. Supervisors. Each member of the board of supervisors, five dollars a day when the board is in session, and ten cents a mile, in going only, for traveling from his residence to the county seat, and when serving as road commissioner three dollars per day, and actual and necessary expenses; provided, he shall not in any one year receive more than three hundred fifty dollars as supervisor, exclusive of mileage, nor more than two hundred dollars as road commissioner, exclusive of traveling expenses.

16. Board of education. Each member of the board of education shall receive five dollars per day as compensation for his services when in actual attendance upon said board, and mileage at the rate of ten cents per mile, one way only, from his residence to the place of meeting of said board. The secretary of said board of education shall receive five dollars per day for his services for the actual time that the board may be in session. Said compensation of the members of said board and of said secretary shall be paid out of the same fund as the salary of the superintendent of schools. Claims for such service and mileage shall be presented to the board of supervisors and shall be allowed at the rate above named and in the same manner as the claims against the county are allowed. The compensation of the members of the board of education herein provided is not in addition to that provided in section one thousand seven hundred seventy of this code.

17. Jurors. In counties of this class, for attending as a grand juror or as a trial juror in a criminal case in the superior court, for each day's attendance, three dollars. Such jurors shall receive for each mile actually and necessarily traveled in attending as a juror, in going and coming, fifteen cents.

18. Witnesses. In counties of this class witnesses shall be allowed for each day's actual attendance, when legally required to attend upon the superior court in a criminal case, three dollars, and for each mile actually and necessarily traveled as such witness, in going and coming, ten cents; provided, that such per diem and such mileage shall be allowed only upon such a showing to the court as is now or may be hereafter required by law.

19. Compensation not changed. The legislature hereby declares that the provisions of this act are not intended to and do not increase or diminish the compensation of the officers herein mentioned, but are intended to change the same to a fixed salary basis wherever a salary is provided for compensation of such officers.

20. In effect when. The provisions of this act shall take effect ninety days after the final adjournment of the session of the legislature which passed this act and said provisions shall be in force and apply to the present incumbent. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1284.]

§ 4280. Counties of fifty-first class, salaries of officers. In counties of the fifty-first class, the county officers shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their office, the following salaries, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, two thousand dollars per annum, except in the years when a general election is held, and in such years he shall receive two thousand three hundred dollars per annum, and said clerk may appoint one deputy clerk, which office is hereby created, who shall receive a salary of nine hundred dollars per annum. The deputy herein provided for shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the clerk is paid.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, four thousand dollars per annum.

3. Recorder. The recorder, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum.

4. Auditor. The auditor, four hundred dollars per annum.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, one thousand six hundred dollars per annum.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, seven hundred fifty dollars per annum.

7. Assessor. The assessor, two thousand six hundred dollars per annum; provided, however, that such compensation shall be in full for all services of every kind and description rendered by the assesor; and it is further provided, that in counties of this class, from and after the date upon which this act takes effect, the assessor shall pay into the county treasury for the use of the county all commissions and fees which would otherwise be allowed to him by the provisions of section four thousand two hundred ninety of the Political Code, as compensation for the services therein mentioned. The provisions of this subdivision are not intended to increase the compensation of the incumbent of such office, but are intended to change the compensation of the assessor from a mixed fee and salary system to a fixed salary basis and shall take effect ninety days after the final adjournment of the forty-second session of the legislature.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and actual traveling expenses when visiting the schools of the county.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

13. Classification of townships. Justices of the peace. For the purpose of fixing the compensation of justices of the peace according to their duties, townships of this class of counties are hereby classified according to population. The population shall be determined by the board of supervisors upon the enactment of this act, and also at the time of formation of any new township or townships. The board may determine such population by multiplying by three the number of registered voters at the last general election next preceding the date of such determination.

Townships having a population of one thousand two hundred or more shall belong to and be known as townships of the first class; townships having a population of six hundred and less than one thousand two hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the second class; townships having a population of three hundred and less than six hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the third class; townships having a population of less than three hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the fourth class.

Justices of the peace shall receive the following salaries: In townships of the first class the sum of two hundred forty dollars for the period beginning with the date upon which this act takes effect and ending December 31, 1915, and thereafter a salary of two hundred forty dollars per annum; in townships of the second class the sum of one hundred eighty dollars for the period beginning with the date upon which this act takes effect and ending December 31, 1915, and thereafter a salary of one hundred eighty dollars per annum; in townships of the third class the sum of one hundred twenty dollars for the period beginning with the date upon which this act takes effect and ending December 31, 1915, and thereafter a salary of one hundred twenty dollars per annum; in townships of the fourth class the sum of sixty dollars for the period beginning with the date upon which this act takes effect and ending December 31, 1915, and thereafter a salary of sixty dollars per annum.

Such salaries shall be paid in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of county officers are paid and shall be compensation in full for all services rendered.

All fees received by justices of the peace shall be paid into the county treasury every month.

14. Constables. Constables, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

15. Supervisors. Each supervisor, eight dollars per day while the board is in session, and mileage from residence to the county seat at each sitting of the board, of twenty cents per mile; also twenty cents per mile for each mile actually and necessarily traveled in discharging the duties of road commissioner, but he shall not in any one year receive more than three hundred dollars per diem as supervisor, and he shall not in any one year receive more than three hundred dollars as road commissioner.

15a. County librarian. There is created for counties of the fifty-first class the office of county librarian; the librarian shall be appointed by the board of supervisors for a term of four years and shall receive a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, to be paid in equal monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner as other county officers are paid.

16. License collector. The license collector, ten per cent of all licenses collected by him.

17. Jurors. Grand and trial jurors, three dollars per day, and such mileage fees as may be allowed by law.

18. Witnesses. Witnesses in attendance upon either the superior or justices' courts, shall receive two dollars per day and such mileage fees as may be allowed by law. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1255.]

§ 4281. Counties of fifty-second class, salaries of officers. In counties of the fifty-second class the county officers shall receive, as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their office, the following salaries, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, to receive a flat salary of four thousand five hundred dollars per annum, said officer to pay all expenses in running said office and to receive no mileage or fees in criminal cases.

3. Recorder. The recorder, one thousand nine hundred dollars per annum.

4. Auditor. The auditor, eight dollars per annum.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, one thousand six hundred dollars per annum.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, eight hundred dollars per annum, and ten per cent of all licenses collected by him as license collector.

7. Assessor. The assessor, three thousand dollars per annum, in full compensation for all services, save and except that he be allowed a deputy for four months beginning with March first and ending June thirtieth, of each year, at a compensation of seventy-five dollars per month; the salary of said deputy to be paid by the county.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and actual traveling expenses when visiting the schools of his county.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

13. Justices of the peace. Justices of the peace in counties of this class shall receive the following monthly salaries to be paid each month in the same manner, at the same time, and out of the same funds as the county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them: In townships having a population of more than two thousand, fifty dollars per month; in townships having a population of two thousand or less, twenty dollars per month; provided, however, that the justice of the peace of the township wherein the county seat is located shall be in attendance at his office not less than three hours of each and every day except Sundays and holidays, between the hours of nine A. M. and three P. M., said justice to receive a salary of seventy-five dollars per month. The board of supervisors of such county shall furnish and supply to the justice of the peace of the various townships the codes of the state and amendments thereto and all necessary stationery, legal blanks and forms for the proper conduct of business. For the purpose of this subdivision, the population of the several townships shall be ascertained by multiplying the number of registered voters at the last general election by three.

14. Constables. Constables, twenty-five dollars per month, and in addition thereto, each constable shall be paid out of the treasury of the county, for traveling expenses, outside of his own township for service of a warrant of arrest or any other paper, in a criminal case, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law. For serving a coroner's subpoena, the same fees and mileage as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law for the service of a subpoena issued out of a justice's court. For summoning a coroner's jury the same fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed for summoning a jury in a civil action in the justice's court. For transporting prisoners to the county jail, the actual expenses of such transportation. In addition to the monthly salaries allowed him herein, each constable may receive for his own use in civil cases the fees allowed by law.

15. Supervsiors. Each member of the board of supervisors, one thousand dollars per annum, and mileage from residence to the county seat, at each sitting of the board, at twenty-five cents per mile; which said salary and mileage shall be in full for all services.

16. Reporter. In counties of this class, the official reporter of the superior court shall receive a salary of seventy-five dollars per month, to cover all work done in criminal cases, both in the superior and justice's courts of the county; and shall receive as compensation for taking notes in civil cases tried in the superior court a per diem of ten dollars, and for transcription of said notes, when required during the progress of the trial, he shall receive the sum of twenty-five cents per folio for the original, and five cents per folio for one copy, in both criminal and civil cases; but if such transcription is not required until after the conclusion of the trial, then he shall receive the sum of ten cents per folio for the original, and five cents per folio for copies required; said compensation for transcription in criminal cases to be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors as other claims against the county, and paid out of the county treasury; and in civil cases to be paid by the party ordering the same, or when ordered by the judge, by either party, or jointly by both parties, as the court may direct. He shall also be allowed his actual traveling expenses when reporting outside of the county seat. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1000.]

§ 4281a. Fees of jurors, counties of fifty-second class. In counties of the fifty-second class, grand jurors, and trial jurors, in criminal cases, shall receive the following fees and mileage: (1) Grand jurors, and jurors in the superior court in criminal cases, shall be paid three dollars per day for each day's attendance, and for each mile actually traveled in going only, while acting as jurors, fifteen cents; and the judge of said court shall make an order directing the auditor to draw his warrant on the treasurer in favor of each such juror for said per diem and mileage, and the treasurer shall pay the same.

(2) In criminal cases. For attending as a trial juror in criminal cases only, in any justice's court of the county, for each day's attendance, two dollars. The justice of the peace shall certify to the auditor the number of days' attendance of each juror, and the auditor shall then draw his warrant therefor, and the treasurer shall pay the same. [New section added May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 988.]

§ 4283. Counties of fifty-fourth class, salaries of officers. In counties of the fifty-fourth class the county officers shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law, or by virtue of their offices, the following salaries, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, three thousand eight hundred dollars per annum.

3. Recorder. The recorder, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; provided, that such recorder shall collect and pay into the county treasury for the use and benefit of the county, the fees required by law to be so collected; and provided, that when the amount of said fees so collected shall exceed one hundred dollars in any one month, the recorder may receive and retain for his own use, in addition to his salary, one-half of all fees in excess of one hundred dollars in any one month, so collected; and provided, that the recorder may retain for his own use all fees collected for filing and recording proofs of labor and notices of location of mining claims.

4. Auditor. The auditor, six hundred dollars per annum.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, one thousand four hundred dollars per annum.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

13. Justices of the peace. Justices of the peace, one hundred twenty dollars per annum, and such further compensation as may be provided by ordinance of the board of supervisors.

14. Constables. Constables, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

15. Supervisors. Supervisors, each the sum of six hundred dollars per annum, for all services performed by them as supervisors and members of the board of equalization. They shall act as road commissioners in their respective districts and shall receive for the service of such road commissioner three dollars per day for each day's service as such road commissioner. Such compensation as road commissioner shall not exceed three hundred dollars per annum.

16. Jurors. Grand jurors, and trial jurors in the superior court in the civil and criminal cases shall be paid three dollars per day for each day's attendance and for each mile actually traveled in going only, while acting as such juror, twenty cents per mile, and the judge of said court shall make an order directing the auditor to draw his warrant on the treasurer in favor of such juror for said per diem and mileage and the treasurer shall pay the same. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1164.]

§ 4285. Counties of fifty-sixth class, salaries of officers. In counties of the fifty-sixth class, the county officers shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law and by virtue of their office the following salaries, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, nine hundred dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and is hereby allowed to the clerk a deputy to act as clerk of the board of supervisors, who shall be appointed by the county clerk and be paid a salary of seventy-five dollars per month; said salary to be paid by said county in monthly installments at the time and in the manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the county clerk is paid. In counties of this class the county clerk is hereby allowed in addition to his salary, each year when a new registration is required, the sum of ten cents for each elector registered, which amount shall be allowed by the board of supervisors at the close of registration preceding a general election, and be paid from the general fund of the county.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and is hereby allowed a jailer who shall be appointed by the sheriff and be paid a salary of fifty dollars per month; and said salary to be paid by said county monthly and at the time and in the manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the sheriff is paid.

3. Recorder. The recorder, six hundred dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and is hereby allowed to the recorder a copyist, which office of copyist to the recorder is hereby created and which copyist shall be appointed by the recorder and be paid the salary of fifty dollars per month; said salary to be paid by said county in monthly installments at the time and in the manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the recorder is paid.

4. Auditor. The auditor, seven hundred twenty dollars per annum.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum.

7. Assessor. The assessor, nine hundred dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and is hereby allowed to the assessor one deputy who shall be appointed by the assessor and be paid a salary of thirty-five dollars per month; and said salary to be paid by said county monthly and at the time and in the manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the assessor is paid.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum and such fees as are now or may hereafter be paid to that officer.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, seven hundred twenty dollars per annum.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

13. Justices of the peace. For the purpose of fixing the compensation of justices of the peace according to their duties, townships in counties of this class are hereby classified according to their population as follows:

Townships having a population of one thousand or more shall belong to and be known as townships of the first class. Townships having a population of less than one thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the second class.

The population of the several townships shall be determined by the board of supervisors upon the enactment of this act, and also at the time of the formation of any new township or townships for the purpose of this and the succeeding subdivisions by the last federal census taken during the year 1910. Justices of the peace shall receive the following salaries:

In townships of the first class the sum of three hundred dollars for the period beginning with the date upon which this act becomes effective and ending December 31, 1915, and thereafter a salary of three hundred dollars per annum;

In townships of the second class the sum of one hundred eighty dollars for the period beginning with the date upon which this act becomes effective and ending December 31, 1915, and thereafter a salary of one hundred eighty dollars per annum.

Such salaries shall be paid in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of county officers are paid, and shall be compensation in full for all services rendered. All fees received by justices of the peace shall be paid into the county treasury every month. The board of supervisors of such counties shall furnish and supply to the justices of the peace of various townships in such counties, the codes of the state and amendments thereto, and all necessary stationary, legal blanks and forms for the proper conduct of business.

14. Constables. Constables, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

15. Board of supervisors. Each member of the board of supervisors, four hundred twenty dollars per annum and twenty cents per mile in traveling from his residence to the county seat, going only; provided, that only one mileage shall be allowed for any regular session of the board.

16. Reporter. In counties of this class the official reporter of the superior court shall receive as full compensation for taking notes in civil and criminal cases tried in said court and for preliminary examinations in justices' courts and the coroners' inquests, a monthly salary not to exceed fifty dollars, payable out of the county treasury at the same time and in the same manner as the salaries of the county officers; and for transcription of said notes when required he shall receive the sum of ten cents per folio for the original and five cents per folio for the copy; said compensation for transcription in criminal cases to be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors as other claims against the county and paid out of the county treasury, and in civil cases to be paid by the party ordering the same or when ordered by the judge, by either party or jointly by both parties as the court may direct.

17. Fees of jurors. The fees of grand jurors and trial jurors in the superior courts of said counties of this class in civil and criminal cases, shall be three dollars in lawful money of the United States for each day's attendance and mileage to be computed at the rate of fifteen cents per mile for each mile necessarily traveled in attending court, in going only. In criminal cases such fees and mileage of said trial jurors in the superior court shall be paid by the treasurer of the county out of the general fund of said county upon warrants drawn by the county auditor upon the written order of the judge of the court in which said juror was in attendance and the treasurer of said county shall pay said warrants. The board of supervisors of said county is hereby directed to make suitable appropriations for the payment of the fees herein provided for. [Amendment approved April 6, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 74.]

§ 4286. Counties of fifty-seventh class, salaries of officers. In counties of the fifty-seventh class the county and township officers shall respectively receive, as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their offices, the following salaries and compensation, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, two thousand six hundred dollars per annum.

3. Recorder. The recorder, six hundred dollars per annum. In counties of this class the recorder may appoint a copyist for service in his office, which office of copyist for the county recorder is hereby created, and said copyist shall receive as compensation for his services fifty per cent of the amount collected in said office during his period of service for filing and recording mining locations and affidavits of assessment work.

4. Auditor. The auditor, two hundred dollars per annum.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, one thousand dollars per annum.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, five hundred dollars per annum.

7. Assessor. The assessor, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are or may hereafter be allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, four hundred dollars per annum.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

13. Population of townships. For the purpose of regulating the compensation of justices of the peace and constables, townships of this class of counties are hereby classified according to their population, as shown by the total number of registered voters, in each township, at the next preceding general election, prior to the fixing of the classification, the said population to be determined by the supervisors by multiplying the said total number of registered voters by three; townships having a population of not more than one hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the first class; townships having a population of not more than three hundred and not less than one hundred one shall belong to and be known as townships of the second class; townships having a population of not more than seven hundred fifty and not less than three hundred one shall belong to and be known as townships of the third class; townships having a population of not more than one thousand five hundred and not less than seven hundred fifty-one shall belong to and be known as townships of the fourth class; townships having a population in excess of one thousand five hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the fifth class; provided, that the board of supervisors may, prior to any general election, consolidate two or more such townships into one.

14. Justices of the peace and constables. Justices of the peace and constables each of townships of the first class shall receive an annual salary of one hundred dollars to be paid in monthly installments as county officers are paid; justices of the peace and constables of townships of the second class shall each receive an annual salary of one hundred fifty dollars to be paid in monthly installments as county officers are paid; justices of the peace and constables in townships of the third class shall each receive an annual salary of two hundred dollars to be paid in monthly installments as county officers are paid; justices of the peace and constables in townships of the fourth class shall each receive an annual salary of three hundred dollars to be paid in monthly installments as county officers are paid; justices of the peace and constables in townships of the fifth class shall each receive an annual salary of four hundred dollars to be paid in monthly installments as county officers are paid. The salaries so received by justices of the peace and constables aforesaid shall be in full compensation for all services rendered by them. These salaries shall also apply to incumbents.

15. Board of supervisors. Each member of the board of supervisors, six dollars per day during session, and thirty cents per mile one way to board meetings; three dollars per day (no mileage) as road commissioners when actually engaged in road business.

16. Jurors. Jurors' fees in criminal cases shall be as follows: For attending as a grand juror or trial juror in the superior court, in criminal cases only, for each day's attendance, per day, three dollars; for each mile actually traveled in attending court as such juror under summons or under order of court, in criminal cases, in going only, per mile, thirty cents, and the county clerk shall certify to the auditor the number of days' attendance and number of miles traveled by each juror, and the auditor shall draw his warrant therefor and the treasurer shall pay the same. [Amendment approved April 25, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 203.]

§ 4288. Time of payment of salaries of county officials. The salaries of such officers named in this title as are entitled to salaries shall be paid monthly out of the county treasury; and it shall be the duty of the auditor, on the first day of each and every month, to draw his warrant upon the treasurer in favor of each of said officers for the amount of salary due him under the provisions of this title for the preceding month; except that, unless in this title otherwise provided, one-half of the annual salary of the assessor shall be paid to him in equal monthly installments for the months of March, April, May and June, and one-half in equal monthly installments for the remaining eight months of the year. The treasurer shall pay said warrants on presentation, out of the salary fund of the county treasury; provided, that in counties of the first class or in counties operating under a charter, the board of supervisors may, by ordinance, fix a date or schedule of dates for the payment of salaries of the officers, deputies, clerks and other employees of the several departments and institutions of the county government. [Amendment approved April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 57.]

§ 4289. Statement of fees before salary warrant issued. The auditor shall not draw his warrant for the salary of any such officer for any month until the latter shall first have filed with him the sworn statement required in section four thousand two hundred ninety-four and a copy of the treasurer's receipt for all fees and other moneys payable into the county treasury, collected by such officer in that month. [Amendment approved May 25, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 936.]

§ 4290. Fees and salaries of county officers. Conveying prisoners to state institutions. State settlements of treasurers. The salaries and fees provided in this title shall be in full compensation for all services of every kind and description rendered by the officers named in this title either as officers or ex-officio officers, their deputies and assistants, unless in this title otherwise provided, and all deputies employed shall be paid by their principals out of the salaries provided in this title, unless in this title otherwise provided; provided and except, that the assessor shall be entitled to receive and retain for his own use, unless in this title otherwise provided, six per cent of personal property tax collected by him, as authorized by section three thousand eight hundred twenty, and fifteen per cent of all amounts collected by him for poll taxes, and road poll taxes, and also five dollars per hundred names of persons returned by him as subject to military duty, as provided in section one thousand nine hundred one, and shall also be allowed by the county his actual expense when summoned before the state board of equalization in pursuance of an act entitled "An act to carry into effect the provisions of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the state of California as said constitution was amended November 8, 1910, providing for the separation of state from local taxation, and providing for the taxation of public service and other corporations for the benefit of the state, all relating to revenue and taxation," and the license collector shall be entitled to receive and retain for his own use ten per cent on all licenses collected by him, except where otherwise provided in this title; provided, however, that in counties and cities and counties of the first, second and third classes, the assessor shall receive no commission for the collection of taxes on personal property, nor shall such assessor receive any compensation or commission for the collection of poll taxes or road poll taxes, nor shall such assessor receive any compensation for making out military roll of persons returned by him as subject to military duty, as provided by section one thousand nine hundred one; nor shall the license collector in counties and cities and counties of the first and second classes receive any commission for licenses collected by him; provided, further, that the treasurer shall receive and retain for his own use the commissions on all inheritance and transfer taxes collected by him; and provided, further, that whenever the treasurer of any county shall employ a special attorney for the collection of such taxes, said attorney shall be paid out of the commissions and fees allowed by law for the collection of such taxes; provided, that in any county where the number of judges of the superior court shall have been increased since the first day of January, 1911, or shall hereafter be increased, there must be and there hereby is allowed to the sheriff of such county, by reason of such increase, one additional deputy, to be appointed by the sheriff, at a salary not exceeding one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, to be paid at the same time and in the same manner as other county officers are paid, and also there must be and is hereby allowed to the county clerk of such county, one additional deputy to act as courtroom clerk, for each judge so appointed or elected, at a salary not exceeding one thousand two hundred dollars per annum for each of said deputies, to be paid at the same time and in the same manner county officers are paid. The board of supervisors shall allow to the sheriff his necessary expenses for pursuing criminals, or transacting any criminal business, and for boarding prisoners in the county jail; provided, that the board of supervisors shall fix a reasonable price at which such prisoners shall be boarded, if not otherwise provided for in this title, which price shall not be less than twelve cents for each meal for each prisoner; provided, further, that the sheriff shall be entitled to receive and retain for his own use, five dollars per diem for conveying prisoners to and from the state prisons, and for conveying persons to and from the insane asylums, or other state institutions, not otherwise provided for by law; also, all expenses necessarily incurred in conveying insane persons to and from the insane asylums and in conveying persons to and from the state prisons, or other state institutions, which per diem and expenses shall be allowed by the board of examiners and collected from the state. The court shall also allow the sheriff his necessary expenses in keeping and preserving property seized on attachment or executions, to be paid out of the fees collected in the action. The sheriff may retain for his own use the mileage for service of papers or process issued by any court of the state; provided, further, that the county treasurers of the several counties of this state, where their necessary expense incurred in the making of the state settlements provided for by section three thousand eight hundred sixty-six shall exceed the maximum amount of mileage allowed them by section three thousand eight hundred seventy-six shall be allowed out of the county treasury of their respective counties, the amount of such excess, which shall be paid as other demands against the county are paid; provided, further, that in case county or city and county officers perform municipal duties imposed by a charter framed under the provisions of sections eight and eight and one-half of article eleven of the constitution the compensation of such officers and the expense of such officers may be apportioned by the board of supervisors in proportion to the duties rendered as county officers under general laws and rendered as municipal officers under charter provisions, and the compensation determined to be for the performance of municipal duties shall be paid from funds raised for municipal purposes and the compensation determined to be for county duties shall be paid from funds provided by sections three thousand seven hundred fourteen and four thousand three hundred five of this code. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1323.]

§ 4292. Payment of fees into county treasury. All salaried officers of the several counties and townships of this state shall charge and collect for the use of their respective counties, and pay into the county treasury, on or before the fifth day of each month, the fees now or hereafter allowed by law in all cases, except where such fees, or a percentage thereof, is allowed such officers, and excepting also such fees as are a charge against the county. [Approved May 25, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 937.]

§ 4293. Record of fees. Each of the officers authorized to receive fees under the provisions of this title must keep a record, open to the public inspection during office hours, in which must be entered, at once and in detail, all fees or compensation, and fines, of whatever nature, kind, or description, collected or chargeable. On the first day of each and every month, the officer must add up each column in his book to the first day of the month, and set down the totals. On the expiration of the term of such officer, he must deliver all such records kept by him to the county auditor. [Amendment approved May 25, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 937.]

§ 4294. Statement filed with auditor. Form of affidavit. Each of the officers authorized to receive fees under the provisions of this title must pay the fees and compensation and fines collected and chargeable for the county in each month, to the treasurer on or before the fifth day in the following month and must file with the auditor a statement, duly verified, showing the amounts and kinds of fees, compensation, and fines collected or chargeable, the amounts collected and the amount of trust moneys received, disbursed, and on hand. The affidavit shall be in substantially the following form:

"I, A. B., county clerk (or other officer, as the case may be), do swear that the fee record in my office contains a true statement in detail of all fees and compensation of every kind and nature for official services rendered by me, my deputies and assistants, and the amount of all fines, and trust money, received, disbursed and on hand, for the month of ——, A. D. ——, and that said fee record shows a full amount received or chargeable in said month, and that neither myself, nor to my knowledge or belief, any of my deputies or assistants have rendered any official service, except as provided in sections four thousand two hundred ninety-five and four thousand two hundred ninety-seven of the Political Code, which is not fully set out in said fee record and that the foregoing statement thereof and of other matters, is complete, true, and correct."

The auditor shall file and preserve in his office said statements and affidavits. [Amendment approved May 25, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 937.]

§ 4295. Prepayment of fees for official services. State, county, and township officers shall not in any case except in proceedings upon habeas corpus perform any official services unless upon the prepayment of such fees as are prescribed by law for the performance of such services; provided, that the state, or any county, city, or city and county, or any public officer, or board, or body acting in his or its official capacity on behalf of the state, or any county, city or city and county, shall not be required to pay or deposit any fee for the filing of any document or paper or for the performance of any official service; provided, further, that the state, or any county, city, or city and county, or any public officer or board, or body, acting in his or its official capacity on behalf of the state, or any county, city, or city and county, shall not collect, demand, or receive any fee or compensation for any service whatever rendered in the matter of a pension claim, application, affidavit, voucher, or furnishing a verified copy of the public record of a marriage, death, or divorce or making a search for same, wherein the same is to be used in a claim for a pension. Said services to be rendered on the request of a United States official, a claimant or his or her attorney, and for every failure or refusal so to do such officer shall be liable on his official bond.

Upon the payment by any person of the fees required by law, the officer must perform the services required, and for every failure or refusal so to do such officer shall be liable on his official bond. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1175.]

GENERAL LAWS

OF THE

STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

AMENDMENTS OF 1917.

TITLE 6.

ADULTERATION.

ACT 29.

An act to prevent the manufacture, sale or transportation of adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded foods and liquors and regulating the traffic therein, providing penalties, establishing a state laboratory for foods, liquors and drugs and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved March 11, 1907. Stats. 1907, p. 208.]

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 3. Standard of purity. The standard of purity of food and liquor shall be that proclaimed by the secretary of the United States department of agriculture. Nothing in this section contained shall authorize or permit any adulteration of any food or liquor because the standard of purity of such food or liquor shall not be proclaimed by the secretary of the United States department of agriculture. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1641.]

§ 9. Laboratory for analysis of foods and drugs. Duties of director, etc. Salaries. Assistants. For the purpose of this act there is hereby established a state laboratory for the analysis and examination of foods and drugs, which shall be under the supervision of the state board of health, which laboratory shall be located at such place as the state board of health may select. The state board of health shall appoint a director of said laboratory, consulting nutrition expert, and an assistant to such director, all of whom shall be skilled pharmaceutical chemists and analysts of foods and drugs. Said director shall perform all duties required by this act and which shall be required by the state board of health. Said consulting nutrition expert shall at all times be ready for consultation with, give advice to, and perform duties in connection with the director of said laboratory, and shall at all times be under the supervision of and perform such duties under this act as are required by the state board of health. As a part of his duties he shall consult and advise with the state board of control concerning standards of purity and other matters relating to foods and drugs purchased by the state of California for any or all of its institutions. The assistant shall be under the supervision of the director and shall perform all duties required of him by the director and by the state board of health.

The director shall receive an annual salary of three thousand six hundred dollars, the consulting nutrition expert shall receive an annual salary of one thousand two hundred dollars and the assistant to the director shall receive an annual salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars. All such salaries shall be paid in the same manner and at the same time as the salaries of state officers.

The state board of health, out of the appropriation hereinafter provided, and out of the funds derived from the operation of this act, may employ and fix the compensation of other and additional clerical and professional assistants. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1641.]

§ 10. Suspected food to be analyzed. Duty of sheriffs. Powers of inspectors. The state board of health or its secretary, shall cause to be made by the said director of the state laboratory, or under his supervision, examinations and analyses of food and liquor on sale in California, suspected of being adulterated, mislabled or misbranded at such times and places and to such extent as said board or its secretary may determine, and may appoint such agent or agents, as it may deem necessary, and the sheriffs of the respective counties of the state are hereby appointed and constituted agents for the enforcement of this act, and any agent or sheriff shall have free access, at all reasonable hours, for the purpose of examining any place where it is suspected that any article of adulterated, mislabled or misbranded foods exist, and such agent or sheriff upon tendering the market price of said articles, if a sale be refused, may take, from any person, firm or corporation samples of any articles suspected of being adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded, and shall deliver or forward such samples to the said director of the state laboratory for examination and analysis. The director of the state laboratory, the agents and inspectors of the state board of health shall have the same powers as are possessed by peace officers in this state. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1642.]

§ 20. Penalty. Adulterated food seized. Adulterated food destroyed. Any person, firm, company or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or shall be imprisoned in the county jail for a term not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Whenever the director of the state laboratory shall find after investigation and examination that any article of food found in the possession of any person, firm, company or corporation is adulterated, misbranded or mislabeled within the meaning of this act, he may seize such article of food and tag the same "quarantined," and said article of food shall not thereafter be sold, offered for sale, removed or otherwise disposed of pending hearing and final disposition as in this act provided.

Whenever the director of the state laboratory or any agent or inspector of the state board of health shall find any article of food adulterated within the meaning of the sixth subdivision of section four of this act, he may seize such article of food and tag the same "quarantined" and said article of food shall not thereafter be sold, offered for sale, removed or otherwise disposed of until further notice in writing from said director of the state laboratory. Food found to be adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded within the meaning of this act may, by order of any court or judge, be seized and destroyed. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1642.]

An act to prevent the sale of impure and unwholesome milk, to grade milk, to provide rules and regulations therefor, and to empower cities, groups of cities, counties and groups of counties, or cities and counties, to establish inspection service; to provide for the enforcement of this act; to prescribe penalties for violation of the provisions hereof; and to make an appropriation therefor. [Approved June 11, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1478.]

Repealed 1917, p. 803. See next Act.

ACT 47c.

An act to prevent the sale of impure and unwholesome milk, butter, ice-cream and other milk products; to declare ice-cream a milk product; to grade milk; to provide rules and regulations therefor, and to empower cities, groups of cities, counties and groups of counties, or cities and counties, to establish inspection service; to provide for the enforcement of this act; to prescribe penalties for violation of the provisions hereof; and to repeal an act entitled, "An act to prevent the sale of impure and unwholesome milk, to grade milk, to provide rules and regulations therefor, and to empower cities, groups of cities, counties and groups of counties, or cities and counties, to establish inspection service; to provide for the enforcement of this act; to prescribe penalties for violation of the provisions hereof; and to make an appropriation therefor," approved June 11, 1915.

[Approved May 22, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 803. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Milk must be pasteurized. Cream for butter. Butter used in manufacture of foodstuffs. Marking of butter. Ice-cream a milk product. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, except in bulk to the wholesale trade, to sell or exchange or offer or expose for sale or exchange for human consumption any milk from cows that have not passed the tuberculin test, until it has been pasteurized by the holding process at a temperature not less than one hundred forty degrees Fahrenheit for twenty-five minutes; provided, that milk for drinking purposes shall not be heated for more than one hour nor above one hundred forty-five degrees Fahrenheit; provided, further, that cream that is to be manufactured into butter may be pasteurized by heating it to a higher degree than milk and, when the same is uniformly heated to and held at a higher degree of temperature than one hundred fifty-one degrees Fahrenheit, the time for holding may be decreased from twenty-five minutes by one minute for each degree of temperature over one hundred fifty-one degrees Fahrenheit. It shall further be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell or exchange or offer or expose for sale or exchange for human consumption any butter, ice cream or other milk products except cheese and butter as hereinafter provided, into the composition of which any milk enters other than that permitted in this section of this act, to be sold at retail for human consumption; provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit the use or sale of butter that is not pasteurized or butter that is not the product of nonreacting tuberculin-tested cows; provided, that said butter be used by manufacturers of foodstuffs only and in the manufacture of such foodstuffs said butter shall be subjected to a minimum temperature of two hundred twenty-five degrees Fahrenheit; and provided, further, that it shall be unlawful to use any such butter except in the manufacture of food subjected to said temperature. Butter offered for sale for human consumption shall be marked: "From nonreacting tuberculin-tested cows," or "Pasteurized," as the case may be. Butter, which, by the provisions of this act, is permitted to be used for cooking and baking purposes only shall be marked "for cooking and baking only." Ice-cream is hereby declared to be a milk product. For the purpose of this act milk shall be construed to include cream.

§ 2. Sale of milk where milk inspection service established. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell or exchange, or offer or expose for sale or exchange, in any city, county, or city and county, in which a milk inspection service, approved by the state dairy bureau, has been established, any milk otherwise than as hereinafter provided in this act, and for the purpose of this act, the term "inspecting department" shall be construed to mean the health department of a county or group of counties, city or group of cities, or city and county maintaining a milk inspection service approved by the state dairy bureau, and such inspecting department shall include at least one regularly licensed physician. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell or exchange, or offer or expose for sale or exchange any milk as and for, or under the designation, label or other representation of "guaranteed," "grade A," or "grade B" milk, except within a county or group of counties, city or group of cities, or city and county maintaining a milk inspection service approved by the state dairy bureau; provided, that a person, firm or corporation, which is authorized to sell milk within the jurisdiction of an inspecting department may sell milk from the same supply, of the same quality, in similar containers, and under the same label in territory outside the jurisdiction of any inspecting department, if local ordinances are not thereby violated, and also in territory within the jurisdiction of any other inspecting department; provided, the consent of said other inspecting department has been previously obtained.

§ 3. Milk not to be sold for human consumption. All milk sold or exchanged or offered or exposed for sale or exchange except in bulk to the wholesale trade in any county or group of counties, city or group of cities, or city and county, in which a milk inspection service, approved by the state dairy bureau has been established, except certified milk, guaranteed milk, grade A milk and grade B milk, is hereby declared to be impure and unwholesome and must not be sold for human consumption.

§ 4. Grades of milk. Where an inspection service is maintained as provided in section two of this act, milk shall be graded as follows: Certified milk, guaranteed milk, grade A milk, grade B milk and milk not suitable for human consumption; provided, that milk sold or exchanged or offered or exposed for sale or exchange as and for, or under the designation, label or other representation of "guaranteed," "grade A" or "grade B," milk shall have the grade and whether raw or pasteurized marked on the container or cap of the container in capital letters not less than one-eighth inch long and one-sixteenth inch wide; and provided, further, that milk not suitable for human consumption shall be plainly so marked.

§ 5. Approval of inspecting department. No person, firm or corporation shall sell or exchange, or offer or expose for sale or exchange, as or for guaranteed milk, any milk, raw or pasteurized the quality of which is guaranteed by the dealer, without approval in writing of the inspecting department, which milk must be of a higher standard than that required for grade A raw milk.

§ 6. Requirements for grade A milk. Dairies having not more than two cows. Sterile containers. Bacteria content. No person, firm or corporation shall sell or exchange, or offer or expose for sale or exchange, as and for grade A milk, any milk that does not conform to the rules and regulations and the methods and standards for production and distribution of grade A milk adopted by the inspecting department.

Grade A milk shall conform to the following requirements as a minimum: If raw, it shall consist of the clean raw milk from healthy cows as determined by physical examination at least once in six months by a qualified veterinarian under the supervision of the inspecting department, and by the tuberculin test by a qualified veterinarian under the supervision of the state veterinarian, and from dairies that score not less than seventy per cent on the score card hereinafter set forth; provided, however, that dairies having not more than two milking cows, and, which are found by any such inspecting department to comply fully with the remaining provisions of this act are hereby exempted from such scoring requirements and from the use of the labels prescribed in section four hereof. The tuberculin test must be repeated annually if no reacting animals are found in the herd. If reacting animals are found they must be removed from the herd, and the tuberculin test repeated in six months. All cows are to be fed, watered, housed and milked under conditions approved by the inspecting department. All persons who come in contact with the milk must exercise scrupulous cleanliness and must not harbor the germs of typhoid fever, tuberculosis, diphtheria or other infectious diseases liable to be conveyed by milk. Absence of such infections shall be determined by cultures and physical examination, to the satisfaction of the inspecting department.

This milk is to be delivered in sterile containers and is to be kept at a temperature established by the inspecting department until it reaches the ultimate consumer, when it must contain less than one hundred thousand bacteria per cubic centimeter. If pasteurized it shall come from cows free from disease as determined by physical examination at least once in six months, by a qualified veterinarian under the supervision of the inspecting department. It shall contain less than two hundred thousand bacteria per cubic centimeter before pasteurization and less than fifteen thousand bacteria per cubic centimeter at the time of delivery to the ultimate consumer. Dairies from which this milk is derived must score at least sixty on the score card hereinafter set forth.

§ 7. Requirements for grade B milk. Pasteurization. Records. No person, firm or corporation shall sell or exchange, or offer or expose for sale or exchange, as and for grade B milk, any milk that does not conform to the following requirements as a minimum: It must be obtained from cows in no way unfit for the production of milk or use by man, as determined by physical examination at least once in six months by a qualified veterinarian under the supervision of the inspecting department. Before pasteurization such milk shall contain less than one million bacteria per cubic centimeter. After pasteurization it shall contain less than fifty thousand bacteria per cubic centimeter.

Milk for pasteurization must be kept at a temperature established by the inspecting department up to the time of delivery to the pasteurization plant and rapidly cooled after pasteurization to a temperature of fifty degrees Fahrenheit or below and so maintained to the time of delivery of the same. Pasteurization shall be by the holding method at a temperature not less than one hundred forty degrees Fahrenheit; provided, that milk for drinking purposes shall not be heated above one hundred forty-five degrees Fahrenheit.

Such pasteurizing plant shall be equipped with a self-registering device for record of the time and temperature of pasteurization. Such records shall be kept for two months and be available for inspection by any health department, the state veterinarian or any of his agents; or the state dairy bureau. Pasteurized milk shall be marked with the day of the week of pasteurization and must be delivered to the consumer within forty-eight hours thereafter. If milk is repasteurized, it must not be sold except as not suitable for human consumption; provided, however, if graded, cream of any grade shall conform to all the standards set for milk of the same grade, except that the maximum bacterial count for cream shall be not more than two times as great as that of the corresponding grade of milk.

§ 8. Milk not suitable for human consumption. Milk not suitable for human consumption may be sold for industrial purposes, provided it be heated to a higher temperature than necessary for pasteurization, and delivered in a distinctive container, plainly marked with the words "Not suitable for human consumption," in letters not less than one-quarter inch in length and one-twelfth inch stroke.

§ 9. Counties, etc., may maintain inspection service. Counties, or groups of counties, cities or groups of cities, or cities and counties, are hereby authorized to maintain a milk inspection service and laboratory conformable to requirements as set forth by the state dairy bureau, and to establish pasteurizing plants.

§ 10. Penalty for violation. Any person who shall violate any provision of this act or the rules made in accordance with section eleven of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten days nor more than sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. One-half of all such fines shall be paid into the state treasury and placed to the credit of the general fund.

§ 11. Duty of state dairy bureau. It shall be the duty of the state dairy bureau, with the assistance of the pure food and drugs laboratory, to enforce all the provisions of this act except the tuberculin testing of cows and the marking of reactors; and said bureau, with the approval and assistance of the pure food and drugs laboratory, is hereby empowered to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary and advisable for such enforcement.

§ 12. Duty of state veterinarian. It shall be the duty of the state veterinarian, as soon as practicable, either directly or through local inspecting departments, to enforce the provisions of this act as to the tuberculin testing of cows and the exclusion of reacting animals from the herds, and to mark indelibly by tattooing the ear with the capital letter "T" one inch long any cattle which have been tested with tuberculin under the provisions of this act and found to react to the test. For such purpose he may appoint such veterinarians as may be necessary.

§ 13. Dairyman not operating under inspecting department. If any dairyman not operating under an inspecting department desires to sell milk, he may file with the state veterinarian a written request that his cows be tuberculin tested. After the filing of such request, said dairyman shall not be liable under the provisions of this act until such time as the state veterinarian shall be able to make the required test. The provision of this section shall apply also to any dairyman, operating under an inspecting department, if such inspecting department approves.

§ 14. Score card. The following score card shall be used in scoring dairies under the provisions of this act:

§ 15. Stats. 1915, p. 1478, repealed. The purpose of this act is to amend and supersede an act entitled "An act to prevent the sale of impure and unwholesome milk, to grade milk, to provide rules and regulations therefor, and to empower cities, groups of cities, counties and groups of counties, or cities and counties, to establish inspection service; to provide for the enforcement of this act; to prescribe penalties for violation of the provisions hereof; and to make an appropriation therefor," which is hereby repealed.

TITLE 10.

AGENTS.

ACT 60.

An act to define real estate brokers, agents, salesmen, solicitors; to provide for the regulation, supervision, and licensing thereof; to create the office of real estate commissioner and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved June 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1579.]

§ 1. License for real estate business. It shall be unlawful for any person, copartnership, or corporation to engage in the business or act in the capacity of a real estate broker or a real estate salesman within this state without first obtaining a license therefor.

§ 2. Real estate broker. Real estate salesman. Application of act. Act constituting person, etc., a broker. A real estate broker within the meaning of this act is a person, copartnership or corporation who for a compensation sells or offers for sale, buys or offers to buy or negotiates the purchase or sale or exchange of real estate, or who, for compensation negotiates loans on real estate, leases or offers to lease, rents or places for rent or collects rent from real estate or improvements thereon for others as a whole or partial vocation.

A real estate salesman within the meaning of this act is one who is employed by a licensed broker to sell or offer for sale, or to buy or offer to buy, or to negotiate the purchase or sale or exchange of real estate, or to negotiate a loan on real estate, or to lease or offer to lease, rent or place for rent any real estate as a whole or partial vocation.

The provisions of this act shall not apply to any person, copartnership or corporation who shall perform any of the acts aforesaid with reference to the buying, selling or exchanging of property owned by such person, copartnership or corporation, or renting, collecting rents, or negotiating a loan on such property; nor shall the provisions of this act apply to salaried employees other than salesman or solicitors of a licensed real estate broker; and provided, further, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to persons holding a duly executed power of attorney from the owner for the sale of real estate, nor shall this act be construed to interfere in any way with services rendered by an attorney at law, nor shall it be held to include a receiver, trustee in bankruptcy, or any person selling real estate under order of any court, nor to a trustee selling under a deed of trust, nor apply to any corporations, associations, copartnerships, companies, firms and individuals now or hereafter subject to the jurisdiction or authority of the railroad commission, nor to corporations now or hereafter organized under the laws of this state for the purpose of conducting the business of banking within this state, nor to corporations, associations, copartnerships, companies, firms and individuals after they have secured from the insurance commissioner or the bureau of building and loan supervision a certificate of authority or license to do business within this state, nor to corporations, associations, copartnerships or companies, subject to federal regulation or not organized for profit, nor to mutual water companies and irrigation districts.

One act, for a compensation of buying or selling real estate of or for another or offering for another to buy or sell, or exchange real estate, or to negotiate a loan on or to lease or rent real estate, or to collect rent therefrom for a compensation shall constitute the person, copartnership or corporation making such offer, sale or purchase, exchange or lease, or negotiating said loan or so renting or collecting said rent, a real estate broker within the meaning of this act.

§ 3. State real estate commissioner's department. Salary. Oath. Bond. Clerks and duties. Office in Sacramento. "Real estate commissioner's fund" created. Seal. There is hereby created a state real estate commissioner's department. The chief officer of such department shall be the commissioner. He shall be appointed by the governor and hold office at the pleasure of the governor. He shall receive an annual salary of five thousand dollars, to be paid monthly out of the state treasury upon a warrant of the controller. He shall within fifteen days from the time of notice of his appointment take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office and file the same in the office of the secretary of state and execute to the people of the state a bond in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars with corporate security or two or more sureties, to be approved by the governor of the state, for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office.

The real estate commissioner shall employ such clerks and deputies as he may need to discharge in proper manner the duties imposed upon him by law. Neither the real estate commissioner nor any of his clerks or deputies shall be interested in any real estate company, or real estate broker, as director, stockholder, officer, member, agent or employee. Such clerks and deputies shall perform such duties as the real estate commissioner shall assign to them. He shall fix the compensation of such clerks and deputies which compensation shall be paid monthly on the certificate of the real estate commissioner, and on the warrant of the controller out of the state treasury; provided, however, that the total expenditures provided for in this act shall not exceed fifty thousand dollars per annum. Each deputy shall after his appointment take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office and file the same in the office of the secretary of state.

The real estate commissioner shall have his office in the city of Sacramento and he shall from time to time obtain the necessary furniture, stationery, fuel, light and other proper conveniences for the transaction of business, the expenses of which shall be paid out of the state treasury on the certificate of the real estate commissioner and the warrant of the controller, drawn upon the real estate commissioner's fund hereinafter provided.

A fund is hereby created to be known as the "real estate commissioner's fund," and out of said fund shall be paid all the expenses incurred in and about the conduct of the business of the real estate commissioner, including the salary of the commissioner and his clerks and deputies, traveling expenses, furnishing rooms and rent. All moneys collected or received by the real estate commissioner under and by virtue of the provisions of this act shall be delivered by him to the treasurer of the state, who shall deposit the same to the credit of said real estate commissioner's fund. And all such funds so deposited or such part thereof as may be necessary for the purposes of this act are hereby appropriated to the use of the real estate commissioner's fund for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act. It shall be the duty of the real estate commissioner semi-annually to certify under oath to the state treasurer and secretary of state the total amount of receipts and expenditures of the real estate commissioner's department for the six months preceding. All fees and payments of every description required by this act to be paid to the real estate commissioner shall be paid by him to the state treasurer on the first day of each week following their receipt.

The real estate commissioner shall adopt a seal with the words "Real Estate Commissioner, State of California," and such other device as the commissioner may desire engraved thereon, by which he shall authenticate the proceedings of his office. Copies of all records and papers in the office of the real estate commissioner's department shall be received in evidence in all cases equally and with like effect as the originals.

§ 4. Legal assistance. Said commissioner shall have the advice and assistance of one assistant attorney general whenever he shall require the same in the prosecution of matters pertaining to this act, and the commissioner shall have full power to regulate and control the issuance and revocation, both temporary and permanent, of licenses, and to perform all other acts and duties under the provisions of this act.

§ 5. Limitations on license. No real estate license shall give authority to do any act in connection with the real estate business to any person, copartnership or corporation other than those to whom said license is issued, and to the regular employees of said person, copartnership or corporation; provided, however, that when a license is issued to a corporation the officers thereof other than the president shall be required to obtain a license if engaged in the real estate business as a whole or partial vocation; and provided, further, that when a license is granted to a copartnership the members of said firm or association shall each be required to obtain a separate license, except as provided in section eight hereof.

§ 6. Application for licenses. Licenses as salesmen. Applications for such licenses shall be made in writing to the real estate commissioner, which application shall be accompanied by the recommendation of two real estate owners of the county in which such applicant resides certifying that the applicant is honest, truthful and of good moral character and recommending that a license be granted the applicant. If the applicant shall have resided less than one year in the county from which the application is made, then he shall be required to give satisfactory proof that his standing is above reproach and that his record for honesty and fair dealing is clear in his former place or places of business. The real estate commissioner may require such other sufficient and satisfactory proof as to him may seem desirable in reference to the character of any applicant for license, or of the officers of any corporation, or the members of any firm making such application before authorizing the issuance of a license. Every such application shall state the name of the person, firm or corporation, and the location of the place or places of business for which such license is desired.

Application for licenses as salesmen shall be made in writing to the real estate commissioner, signed by the applicant, setting forth the period of time during which he has been engaged in the business, stating the name of his last employer and the name of the firm then employing him or in whose employ he is to enter. The application shall be accompanied by the recommendation of his employer, if employed, certifying that the applicant is honest, truthful and of good moral character, and recommending that the license be granted to the applicant. The real estate commissioner may require such other sufficient and satisfactory proof as to him may seem desirable in reference to the character of any applicant for license.

§ 7. Broker's license. Revocation of license. All applicants for a broker's license shall, in addition to such recommendation, file with the said real estate commissioner a satisfactory bond to the people of the state of California, duly executed by a sufficient surety or sureties, to be approved by said commissioner, in the amount of one thousand dollars conditioned for the faithful performance by such broker of any undertaking as a licensed real estate broker under this act, and on application of any person injured by the failure of a real estate broker to perform his duties or comply with the provisions of this act, the real estate commissioner may grant to such applicant, in his discretion, the right to prosecute such bond in the name of said real estate commissioner. It shall be the duty of the real estate commissioner to see that such bond remains and is kept good.

When any salesman or solicitor shall be discharged by his employer for dishonest dealing, a written statement of the facts in reference thereto shall be filed forthwith with the real estate commissioner, by the employer. Any person injured by dishonest dealing on the part of any salesman or solicitor, or who has personal knowledge of dishonest practice on the part of any salesman or solicitor, may communicate the facts in reference thereto to the real estate commissioner. If, after notifying such salesman or solicitor thereof and affording him an opportunity to be heard concerning the same, it appears to the real estate commissioner that said salesman or solicitor is guilty as charged, said real estate commissioner shall at once revoke his license and he shall not be entitled to receive any license as salesman or broker for a period of two years thereafter.

§ 8. Fees for licenses. The fees for license shall be as follows:

(1) For a broker's license, an annual fee of ten dollars.

(2) For a corporation, the annual fee shall be ten dollars and said license shall entitle the president of said corporation to engage in the real estate business within the meaning of this act. For officers other than the president of a corporation, who shall engage in the real estate business within the meaning of this act, the annual fee shall be two dollars.

(3) For a copartnership, the annual fee shall be ten dollars, and the license issued to said copartnership shall entitle one member of said copartnership to engage in the real estate business within the meaning of this act. For each other member of such copartnership the annual fee shall be two dollars.

(4) For salesmen and solicitors, the annual fee shall be two dollars.

Said license fee shall accompany the application and bond herein provided for, and no license shall be issued for a less period than one year.

It shall be unlawful for an licensed broker to pay a commission for performing any of the acts herein specified to any person who is not a licensed broker, except a licensed salesman or solicitor directly in the employ of a licensed broker, who shall then receive the same only through or from his employer, and except to a regular salaried employee who has been employed for not less than six months by such broker.

§ 9. Acts for which license may be suspended or revoked. Notice to holder. Review of decision. The real estate commissioner shall have the power to temporarily suspend or permanently revoke licenses issued under the provisions of this act at any time where the holder thereof in performing or attempting to perform any of the acts mentioned in section two hereof is guilty of—

(a) Making any substantial misrepresentation, or

(b) Making any false promises of a character likely to influence, persuade or induce, or

(c) A continued and flagrant course of misrepresentation or making of false promises through agents, salesmen, or solicitors, or

(d) Acting for more than one party in the transaction without the knowledge or consent of all parties thereto, or

(e) Any other conduct, whether of the same or a different character than herein above specified, which in the opinion of said commissioner is contrary to good business morals.

Before suspending or revoking any license, the said commissioner shall notify, in writing, the holder of such license of the charges against such holder of such license and afford an opportunity to be heard in person or by counsel in reference thereto. The decision of the said commissioner in revoking any license under this act shall be subject to review, however, as follows:

An appeal may be taken from any decision of the real estate commissioner under this act by filing with the clerk of the superior court of the state of California, in and for the county in which the person affected by this decision resides or has his place of business under the terms of this act, a certified transcript of all papers in the office of the commissioner relating to such decision, and all evidence taken on the hearing. It shall be the duty of the said commissioner to make and certify to said transcript upon payment to him of a fee of ten cents for each folio and one dollar for the certification. The court shall, upon such appeal, be limited to a consideration of the question whether there has been abuse of discretion on the part of the real estate commissioner in making such decision.

§ 10. Notice of change of location. If, after the issuance and delivery of a license to any broker under the provisions of this act, any change shall be made in the place or places of business covered thereby, no such business shall be carried on in any other location until notice of change of location shall be given in writing to the commissioner, and each person, firm or corporation so licensed under the provisions of this act shall be required to have and maintain an office in the state for the transaction of business.

§ 11. Penalty for violation. Any person or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall, upon conviction thereof, if a person, be punished by a fine of not to exceed the sum of two thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail or state prison for a term not to exceed two years, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court, or if a corporation, be punished by a fine of not to exceed five thousand dollars.

§ 12. Investigation of complaints. Employer's license not affected by employee's violation. The said commissioner shall receive, consider and investigate all verified complaints made in writing as to the action of any person, copartnership, corporation, or salesman or solicitor engaged in the real estate business, whether licensed or unlicensed. If such person, copartnership, corporation, or salesman or solicitor engaged in the real estate business shall not be license, then such commissioner shall cause such person, copartnership, corporation, or salesman or solicitor to be prosecuted under the terms of this act; or, if any person shall prove to be a licensed broker or salesman or solicitor under the terms of this act, and be found guilty of improper dealing, the said commissioner shall have the power to discipline said broker or salesman or solicitor either by a temporary suspension of the license, or by the revocation thereof, as hereinabove provided. The said commissioner shall have the power to subpoena and bring before him any person within the state for the purpose of his investigation, or take the testimony of any such person by deposition in the same manner as prescribed by law in judicial procedure in the courts of this state in civil cases.

No unlawful act or violation of any of the provisions of this act on the part of any salesman, solicitor or employee of any licensed broker in this state shall cause the revocation of the license, partial or otherwise, of the employer of said salesman, solicitor or employee, unless it shall appear to the satisfaction of said commissioner that said employer had guilty knowledge thereof.

§ 13. License displayed. The licenses herein provided for when issued shall be prominently displayed in the office of the real estate broker, and no license issued hereunder shall authorize the licensee to do business except from the location stipulated in the license, and the change of business location without notification to the commissioner and the issuance by him of a new license (which shall be without additional charge) shall automatically cancel the license theretofore issued.

§ 14. Commissioner of corporations may act. The governor may appoint the state real estate commissioner as hereinbefore provided, or he may, from time to time, designate and appoint the commissioner of corporations to act as said real estate commissioner, and in that case, all the powers and duties by this act provided for such real estate commissioner shall devolve and be imposed upon said commissioner of corporations, and said commissioner of corporations shall receive for his said services as real estate commissioner, the sum of one thousand dollars per year in addition to the salary provided for by law for said commissioner of corporations, which said additional salary shall be paid out of the "real estate commissioner's fund" provided for herein.

ACT 86.

An act granting to the city of Alameda the salt-marsh, tide and submerged lands of the state of California, including the right to wharf out therefrom to the city of Alameda, and regulating the management, use and control thereof.

[Approved June 11, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 707.]

Amended 1917, p. 907.

The amendments of 1917 follow:

§ 1. Tide-lands granted to Alameda. Conditions of grant. There is hereby granted to the city of Alameda, a municipal corporation of the state of California, and to its successors, all the right, title and interest of the state of California, held by said state by virtue of its sovereignty, in and to the salt marsh, tide and submerged lands, whether filled or unfilled, within the present boundaries of said city, and situated below the line of mean high tide of the Pacific Ocean, or of any harbor, estuary, bay or inlet within said boundaries, to be forever held by said city, and by its successors, in trust for the uses and purposes, and upon the express conditions following, to wit:

That said lands shall be used by said city and its successors, solely for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, and other utilities, warehouses, factories, storehouses, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion, benefit and accommodation of commerce and navigation, and said city, or its successors, shall not, except as herein authorized, at any time, grant, convey, give or alien said lands, or any part thereof, to any individual, firm or corporation for any purpose whatever; provided, that said city, or its successors, may grant franchises thereon, for limited periods, for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands, or any part thereof, for limited periods, for purposes consistent with the trusts upon which said lands are held by the state of California and this grant, for a term not exceeding twenty-five years, and on such other terms and conditions as said city may determine, including a right to renew such lease or leases for a further term not exceeding twenty-five years or to terminate the same on such terms, reservations and conditions as may be stipulated in such lease or leases, and said lease or leases may be for any and all purposes which shall not interfere with navigation or commerce, with reversion to the said city on the termination of such lease or leases of any and all improvements thereon, and on such other terms and conditions as the said city may determine, but for no purpose which will interfere with navigation or commerce; subject also to a reservation in all such leases or such wharfing out privileges of a street, or of such other reservation as the said city may determine for sewer outlets, and for gas and oil mains, and for hydrants, and for electric cables and wires, and for such other conduits for municipal purposes, and for such public and municipal purposes and uses as may be deemed necessary by the said city, upon compensation being made for the injury and damage done to any improvement or structure thereon.

Provided, further, that in the granting of any and all such leases the city council shall, whenever in its judgment it can reasonably do so, give preference to the owners of upland abutting on the salt marsh, tide or submerged land proposed to be leased; provided, however, that the said city of Alameda may grant, give, convey and alien such lands or any portion thereof, forever to the United States for public purposes of the United States; provided, however, that no such grant shall be made unless authorized and approved by a vote of the majority of the electors of such municipal corporation voting up on the proposition of making such grant at an election therein, at which such proposition shall have been submitted.

This grant shall carry the right to such city of the rents, issues and profits in any manner hereafter arising from the lands or wharfing out privileges hereby granted.

The state of California shall have, at all times, the right, together with the city if there be no lessee or licensee, or together with the lessee or licensee, if there be a lessee or licensee, to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays constructed on said lands or any part thereof, except wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays or other improvements constructed on such lands by the United States for public purposes of the United States, for any vessel or other water craft, or railroad, owned or operated by the state of California.

No discrimination in rates, tolls or charges for use or in facilities for any use or service in connection with wharves, docks, piers, slips or quays or property operated by the city, or property leased, the use of which is dedicated by the lessee or licensee for a public use, shall ever be made, authorized or permitted.

There is hereby reserved in the people of the state of California the right to fish in the waters on which said lands may front with the right of convenient access to said waters over said lands for said purpose, such enjoyment of access and right to fish to be regulated by ordinance of the city of Alameda, so as not to interfere, obstruct, retard or limit the right of navigation or the rights of lessees or licensees under lease or license given.

All leases and licenses granted by ordinance of the city of Alameda prior to the first day of April, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, and the terms and conditions expressed therein are affirmed. [Amendment approved May 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 907.]

§ 2. Expenditures required. Section two of said act, approved June 11, 1913, is hereby repealed. [Approved May 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 909.]

TITLE 13.

ALAMEDA COUNTY.

ACT 96b.

An act to increase the number of judges of the superior court of the county of Alameda, and for the appointment of such additional judges.

[Approved May 5, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 242. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Judges increased in Alameda county. The number of judges of the superior court in the county of Alameda, state of California, is hereby increased from six to eight.

§ 2. Appointment. Election. Within thirty days after this act becomes a law the governor shall appoint two additional judges of the superior court in the county of Alameda, state of California, who shall hold office until the first Monday after the first day of January, A. D. 1919. At the next general election, to be held in November, A. D. 1918, two additional judges of said superior court shall be elected in the said county, who shall be the successors to the judges appointed hereunder, to hold office for the term prescribed by the constitution and by law.

§ 3. Salary. The salary of such additional judges shall be the same in amount and be paid in the same manner and at the same time as the salaries of the other judges of the superior court of said county now authorized by law.

TITLE 25.

ANIMALS.

ACT 184a.

An act to create a cattle protection board, to define its powers and duties, to protect the breeders and growers of cattle from theft, to provide for the registration of cattle brands and the licensing of cattle slaughterers and sellers of the meat thereof, to provide for the inspection of cattle and cattle hides for brands and marks, to provide for the collection of license and inspection fees, to provide for the creation of a fund to be known as the cattle protection fund, and to provide penalties for violation of the provisions hereof.

§ 1. Cattle protection board created. Term. Appointees. Cattle protection fund. Duty of board. That there be and is hereby created a cattle protection board, to be appointed by the governor of the state of California, which shall consist of three members, two of whom shall be identified with and experienced in the cattle industry of the state of California and the other shall be the state veterinarian. Said board shall elect one of their number chairman. The members of said board shall each receive ten dollars per day for the time by him necessarily employed in discharging the duties required in this chapter; provided, however, that in no one year shall the board be in session more than sixty days, except upon the call of the governor.

The members of said board shall hold office during the pleasure of the governor. Said board is hereby authorized to appoint a secretary, counsel, inspectors, and such clerks as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, and fix the salaries of said appointees. Such per diem and expenses of said members of the cattle protection board, as well as the salaries and expenses of all appointees of said board, including all other additional expenses incurred by enforcement of this act as hereinafter provided, shall be paid out of the cattle protection fund which fund is hereafter provided.

Said board is hereby authorized, and it is made its duty, to exercise a general supervision over, and protect the cattle of this state from theft and to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the purposes and intent of this act.

§ 2. Cattle brands. Record. Districts. Every person owning cattle in this state except as hereinafter provided may adopt a brand with which to brand his cattle; provided, such brand be not similar to the brand heretofore adopted by any other person, except by special permit issued by the cattle protection board. Said board shall cause said brands to be recorded in books kept for that purpose. The recording of a brand shall consist of depicting in the brand book a facsimile of the design of the brand adopted, together with an entry in said book bearing a statement of the name, residence, and postoffice address of the person adopting the same, the date the brand was presented for record, the place upon the animal where the brand is proposed to be used, the number of the district and a statement of the location of the range whereon such animals are to range. Before any such record shall be made, proof shall be made that the person applying to have such brand recorded is the owner thereof and entitled to use the same.

The said board may divide the state into a number of districts. Such districts may be changed from time to time, so that all of the persons engaged in raising cattle within the state of California may adopt and record a brand, without requiring that any one brand shall be adopted or recorded in any two contiguous districts; provided, however, that where cattle in two or more contiguous districts are owned by one person, said person shall have the right to the use of said brand in contiguous districts.

§ 3. Fees. Forfeiture. The sum of two dollars shall be paid to said board for the recordation of any brand; for the right to the continued use of said brand, under the provisions of this act, the owner thereof shall before the first day of January of each year after its recordation transmit to the board the sum of one and one-half dollars. A failure to make such payment shall forfeit the right to use said brand.

When the right to any brand recorded hereunder shall have become forfeited, said brand shall not be recorded by any other person until after the expiration of one year from the date of the forfeiture thereof.

§ 4. Unrecorded brand. No person shall brand any cattle in this state with a brand that has not been recorded under the provisions of this act, nor use any device to obliterate a brand.

§ 5. Sale of range cattle. Upon the sale or transfer of any range cattle in this state, the actual delivery of such animal shall be accompanied by a written bill of sale, giving the number, kind and marks and brands of each animal, which bill of sale shall be signed by the party giving the same and acknowledged by him before two subscribing witnesses who have been freeholders of the county for at least two years.

§ 6. Not applicable to registered, etc., cattle. It is hereby expressly provided that the provisions in this act shall not apply to registered purebred cattle or purebred cattle which can be identified as being entitled to registration, or to the dressed carcasses of veal with unmarked or unbranded hides thereon, or cows actually used for dairy purposes.

§ 7. License to slaughter cattle. Bond. Annual fee. Monthly report to board. Forfeiture of license on failure to make statement. It shall be unlawful for any person to slaughter any cattle or offer for sale, barter or exchange the meat thereof, unless he shall have a license therefor issued in accordance with the provisions of this act, except as herein otherwise provided.

Every person slaughtering cattle as a business shall do so in a designated slaughter-house, and before he shall begin the business of slaughtering cattle or selling the meat thereof, he shall first procure from the board a license to carry on such business, under the conditions and upon the payment of the fees herein provided for. After procuring such license and before engaging in such business he shall execute a bond to the state of California, in the penal sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) to be approved by the secretary of the board, conditioned that such person shall not slaughter, sell or expose for sale any cattle or the meat thereof, without first being the legal and equitable owner thereof, or being authorized to so slaughter, sell or expose for sale such animal, or the meat thereof, by such owner, and that in case he shall violate any of the provisions hereof, he shall pay therefor double the value of such animal. The amount so recovered shall be paid as follows: One-half to the owner of such animal and the remaining one-half to the cattle protection fund.

Said board shall grant to every applicant therefor, who complies with all the provisions of this act a license to slaughter cattle and sell the meat thereof for the unexpired portion of the calendar year in which said license is granted. Every applicant for such a license shall pay to said board the following annual fee which shall be paid in advance: For applicants who slaughter less than ten head per month, one dollar per annum. For applicants who slaughter more than ten head and less than fifty head per month, ten dollars per annum. For applicants who slaughter more than fifty head per month, twenty-five dollars per annum. For a shorter term than one year a proportionate part of said fee shall be paid. The applicant for such license shall state in his application where his slaughter-house is located, and during the term of such license he shall not slaughter any cattle at any other place than that specified in his license. If the holder of a license desires to change the location of his slaughter-house, he shall apply to said board to have such license transferred and the board may reissue such license without any additional fee.

Every holder of such a license shall, at the expiration of each calendar month, make a written report and send the same by registered mail to said board. Such report shall include the following:

(a) The number and sex of the cattle slaughtered in such establishment during the calendar month just past.

(b) The names and addresses of persons from whom said cattle were purchased or otherwise obtained.

(c) The brands and marks on said cattle.

(d) The dates on which said cattle were purchased or otherwise obtained and the dates on which said cattle were slaughtered.

Said statement shall be signed by such licensee or his duly authorized agent. Upon failure or neglect of said licensee or his duly authorized agent for a period of fifteen days to file such a statement in the manner as herein provided, the said board shall have the power and it shall be its duty to forfeit the license of such licensee; and thereafter it shall be unlawful for the owner of said slaughtering establishment, or for any other person to slaughter any cattle in said establishment until a new application is made by him to said board, accompanied by a fee of twenty-five dollars; provided, however, that said board shall have the power and it shall be its duty to refuse to renew the license of any slaughterer who has knowingly slaughtered cattle without the consent of the owner thereof.

§ 8. Record by butcher of meat purchased. Slaughter by ranchman for own consumption. Every peddler, butcher or retailer of meats, purchasing the meat of any bovine animal, must enter in a book to be kept for that purpose and exhibit the same on demand, the name of the person from whom said meat was purchased or otherwise obtained, the date of said purchase and the quantity so purchased.

It shall be unlawful for any peddler or retailer of meat, or person in control of any butcher-shop, to purchase the meat of any slaughtered bovine animal from any person not known to him to be licensed under the provisions of this act.

Any person who fails on demand to inform any officer of this state where and from whom he has obtained any meat of any bovine animal that he has in his possession, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to prohibit an owner of property, or a ranchman located on a definite property as a tenant, lessee or purchaser under contract, from slaughtering cattle in small numbers on said premises for his own consumption, and nothing herein shall be so construed as to prohibit such ranchman from selling or giving away a portion thereof; provided, that such person shall not be required to take out a license.

§ 9. Hides retained. Record of cattle slaughtered. The hides of all such cattle slaughtered by the owner thereof, or removed from any cattle which have died from any cause, shall be retained in the possession of the owner where the same may be inspected, with the brands attached thereto, and without any alteration or disfiguration thereof, for a period of at least fifteen days after the death of said cattle, or until said hides are inspected.

Every ranchman, who so slaughters cattle on such premises, shall keep a record in a book to be kept for that purpose of all the cattle so slaughtered by him, with a description thereof, including all the marks and brands of such slaughtered cattle, the date of slaughter, and shall at the end of each month, make a true and correct copy of such record and send the same by registered mail to the office of the cattle protection board, and shall likewise exhibit the said record on demand of any officer of this state.

§ 10. No cattle slaughtered until inspected. No cattle except cattle shipped for slaughter and which have been inspected as herein provided prior to shipment, shall be slaughtered until they shall have been first inspected and certified to as being the property of the person slaughtering same or causing same to be slaughtered or being duly authorized by the owner thereof to slaughter said cattle; provided, that any person licensed hereunder to slaughter cattle after twenty-four hours' notice in writing, addressed to the local inspector demanding his presence at a specified time and place for the purpose of inspecting such cattle for slaughtering, may, without the certificate of inspection of said inspector slaughter said cattle, providing he makes a written statement designating the general description of the animal or animals slaughtered, such as the age, color, weight, etc., and specifying in detail the earmarks and brands of such animal or animals; and provides, further, that he retain the hides of such animal or animals for at least fifteen days thereafter as hereinbefore provided.

§ 11. Certificate of brand, etc., before shipment. It shall be unlawful for any common carrier to receive any cattle, or the hides of any cattle, for transportation to points within or without this state until such carrier shall have been furnished with duplicate certificates signed by an inspector, showing, in the case of cattle, the brands and earmarks of such cattle, the number of cattle of each earmark and brand, the names of shipper and consignee and also the origin and destination of said cattle. In the case of cattle hides, the certificates shall state the number of hides, the names of shipper and consignee and also the origin and destination of said hides. One copy of said certificates shall be mailed forthwith by the agent or other person in control of the common carrier at the point at which said cattle are received for shipment, to the consignee.

§ 12. Inspection of cattle to be shipped. It shall be the duty of inspectors to inspect all cattle for marks and brands which are offered for transportation to any common carrier at the loading stations thereof.

If upon such inspection cattle shall be found not belonging to the shipper, all such cattle shall be taken by the inspector and dealt with in accordance with the rules of the board in such cases made.

Inspectors must inspect all cattle subject to inspection immediately, and when inspected, the one in charge thereof shall at once pay to the inspector therefor the sum of five cents per head, whereupon the inspector shall certify that said cattle have been inspected.

§ 13. Volumes for recordation of marks and brands. It shall be the duty of the said board to prepare volumes for the recordation of said marks and brands, and to keep a true record of all its official transactions. When cattle or the hides thereof have been shipped or slaughtered, each record thereof must be entered under the name of the owner of said mark or brand, and must be entered in such a manner as to disclose under the record of each particular mark or brand, the number of cattle bearing any other marks or brands. An index shall be kept of unrecorded brands, as well as of those that have been recorded under the provisions hereof.

§ 14. Driving cattle off range. Any person, not being the owner, or having the right of possession, of any cattle, who shall be found driving such cattle off its usual range, without the consent of the owner thereof, shall be guilty of grand larceny.

§ 15. Report of fees by secretary. The secretary of the cattle protection board, at least as often as once each month, shall report to the state controller the total amount of fees collected, and at the same time he shall pay into the state treasury the entire amount of such receipts. All such receipts shall be credited to the cattle protection fund, which fund is hereby created, and shall be held subject to the uses of the cattle protection board, as defined in this act.

§ 16. "Range." "Person." "Cattle." The term "range" for the purpose of the interpretation and application of this act shall be understood to mean the inclosed or uninclosed lands outside of cities, towns and villages in this state, whether of the public domain or in private ownership, upon which by custom, license or otherwise, cattle are kept or permitted to roam and feed.

The term "person" wherever used includes every person, persons, firm, association or corporation.

The term "cattle" wherever used includes every kind of animal of the bovine species.

§ 17. Penalty. Any person violating any provisions of this act shall, unless otherwise specifically designated herein, be guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 18. Repealed. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

TITLE 30.

APPROPRIATIONS.

ACT 217.

An act making appropriations for the support of the government of the state of California for the sixty-ninth and seventieth fiscal years.

[Approved May 14, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 488. In effect immediately.]

The general appropriation act of 1917 contained the following provisions:

§ 2. Expenditures for printing, etc. The various sums herein appropriated for printing, binding, ruling, materials and all other work provided for by law to be done in the state printing office shall be expended only upon requisitions to be approved by the state board of control, and said board is authorized and given power to reduce the amount of such requisitions either in whole or in any item thereof. When any state publication is printed and paid for out of any appropriation in this act, the disposition of the same shall be subject to the provisions of section two thousand two hundred ninety-five of the Political Code of the state of California. The sums that are herein appropriated for expenses of the senate and assembly shall be disbursed under the direction of the bodies to which they respectively belong, and shall not be subject to any of the provisions of section six hundred seventy-two of the Political Code; provided, that the state controller shall not be required to draw warrants until the original claims and vouchers, itemized and properly sworn to, are filed with him. The sums herein appropriated for the expenses of the national guard shall be audited by the adjutant-general, as required by sections two thousand eighty-three and two thousand eighty-five of the Political Code. Not more than five hundred dollars of the money hereby appropriated for the support of the institutions of the state shall be used in each fiscal year for permanent improvements, but shall be used solely for the payment of salaries and traveling expenses of the commissioners or directors having charge of the same (when such salaries or expenses are allowed by law), the salaries of employees, the purchase of material and supplies for the use of said institutions, and for such incidental and current expenses as may be necessarily incurred for the proper management and support of said institutions.

§ 3. Biennial statement of state officers. Original bills required. Revolving fund. All persons having demands against the state, the various state officers, and the officers of all institutions under the control of the state, except the governor, to whom and for which appropriations other than salaries are made under the provisions of this act, shall, with their biennial report, submit a detailed statement, under oath, of the manner in which all appropriations for their respective departments and institutions have been expended, and the state board of control is hereby expressly prohibited from allowing any demand payable out of any such appropriations until the same are presented in itemized form, accompanied by affidavit and voucher for money expended by them, stating specifically the service rendered, by whom performed, time employed, distance traveled, and necessary expenses thereof; if for articles purchased, the name of each article, together with the price paid for each and of whom purchased, with the date of the purchase; provided, that in instances where the duties of any state officer or board make necessary the use of moneys for purposes of a confidential nature, the board of control may audit claims for such expense without requiring itemization or vouchers; but such claims must be accompanied by a statement of the facts surrounding the expenditure, which statement must be filed in the office of the board of control; provided, further, that the total amount so allowed for such confidential purposes from the moneys herein appropriated shall not exceed in any one fiscal year the sum of two thousand dollars. All bills and vouchers, which shall be presented for supplies furnished or services rendered, shall be original bills and vouchers of the parties furnishing supplies and rendering services; provided, that no officer shall use or appropriate any money, appropriated by this act, for any purpose whatsoever, unless authorized thereto by law; and provided, that any officer, board, commission or department for whom any appropriation is made herein, may, with the permission of the board of control, and without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements, draw from such appropriation a sum not to exceed one thousand dollars for any such officer, board, commission or department. The sum so drawn shall be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary, and at the close of each fiscal year, or at any other time, upon the demand of the board of control, must be accounted for and substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements submitted to and audited by the board of control and the controller.

§ 4. Amounts expendable monthly. Not more than one twenty-fourth of the amount appropriated under this act for each department or institution for the two years ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred seventeen, shall be expended during any one month without the consent of the state board of control, and not more than one-half of such appropriation shall be expended during the sixty-seventh fiscal year, unless the same has been expressly authorized by this act.

§ 5. Excess expenditures forbidden. The officers of the various departments, boards, commissions and institutions for whose benefit and support appropriations are made in this act are expressly forbidden to make any expenditure in excess of such appropriations, except the unanimous consent of the state board of control be first obtained, and a certificate, in writing, duly signed by every member of said board, of the unavoidable necessity of such expenditure; and any indebtedness attempted to be created against the state in violation of the provisions of this section shall be absolutely null and void; and shall not be allowed by said state board of control nor paid out of any state appropriations; provided, that any member of any such department, board, commissions or institutions, who shall vote for any expenditure, or create any indebtedness against the state in excess of the respective appropriations made by this act, except by the unanimous consent of the state board of control, and the certificate in this section provided to be first obtained, shall be liable on his official bond for the amount of such indebtedness, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction by the person or persons, firm or corporation to whom such indebtedness is owing.

§ 6. Fire insurance. No money appropriated by this act shall be used to renew, or pay for the renewal of any fire insurance on any public building or property, nor to effect or pay for any new insurance on any public building or property, except the state printing office and its contents.

§ 7. Urgency measure. This act, inasmuch as it provides for an appropriation for the usual current expenses of the state shall, under the provisions of section one, of article four, of the constitution of the state of California, take effect immediately.

TITLE 32.

ARCATA.

ACT 223.

An act granting to the city of Arcata tide and submerged lands of the state of California, including the right to wharf out therefrom to the city of Arcata, and regulating the management, use and control thereof.

§ 1. Tide-lands granted to Arcata. Use of lands. Right to rents. Right of state to use wharves. No discrimination in rates. Right to fish reserved. There is hereby granted to the city of Arcata, a municipal corporation of the state of California, and to its successors, all the right, title and interest of the state of California, held by said state by virtue of its sovereignty, in and to all tide and submerged lands, whether filled or unfilled, situate in the county of Humboldt, state of California, and described as follows, to wit:

Commencing at a point south eighty-nine and one-half degrees west five and ninety-one one hundredths chains, and south thirty-one degrees fifty-two minutes west sixteen and twenty-seven one hundredths chains from the center of section thirty-two, township six north, range one east of Humboldt meridian, Humboldt county, California, running thence north two hundred fifty feet to south side of dike; thence north seventy-five degrees west one thousand seven hundred fifty feet following the south side of the dike and crossing Daniel's slough to a point on the section line between sections thirty-one and thirty-two; thence westward following the south side of the dike to a point on said dike south seventy-nine degrees west six thousand four hundred fifty feet; thence south six thousand four hundred forty feet to a point one thousand sixty feet due west of Beacon number nine; thence east four thousand feet to a point seven hundred eighty feet south of "pier," as marked on United States hydrographic chart Humboldt bay survey 1911, sheet three, thence north fifty-four and one-half degrees east two thousand three hundred seventy-five feet to the end of the fourth course as recited in the description of the tide-lands granted to the city of Arcata (approved June 11, 1913); thence north eighty degrees east five thousand seven hundred fifty feet to a point on the west side of the right of way of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Company; thence following the west line of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Company's right of way to a point in the center of Butcher's slough north twenty-seven degrees and fifty minutes west four thousand five hundred feet; thence north fifty-two and one-half degrees west six and twelve one-hundredths chains; thence north seventy-one and one-half degrees west four and five one-hundredths chains; thence north fifty-three and one-half degrees west eleven and twenty-six one-hundredths chains; thence north thirty-one and one-half degrees west two and six one-hundredths chains to the place of beginning.

Said lands shall be forever held by said city, and by its successors, in trust for the uses and purposes and upon the express conditions following, to wit:

That said lands shall be used by said city and its successors, solely for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, and other utilities, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion and accommodation of commerce and navigation, and said city, or its successors, shall not, at any time, grant, convey, give or alien said lands, or any part thereof, to any individual, firm or corporation for any purpose whatever; provided, that said city, or its successors, may grant franchises thereon, for limited periods, for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands, or any part thereof, for limited periods, for purposes consistent with the trusts upon which said lands are held by the state of California and with the requirements of commerce or navigation at said harbor, for a term not exceeding twenty-five years, and on such other terms and conditions as said city may determine, including a right to renew such lease or leases for a further term not exceeding twenty-five years or to terminate the same on such terms, reservations and conditions as may be stipulated in such lease or leases, and said lease or leases may be for any and all purposes which shall not interfere with navigation or commerce, with reversion to said city on the termination of such lease or leases of any and all improvements thereon, and on such other terms and conditions as the said city may determine, but for no purpose which will interfere with navigation or commerce; subject also to a reservation in all such leases or such wharfing out privileges of a street, or of such other reservation as the said city may determine for sewer outlets, and for gas and oil mains, and for hydrants, and for electric cables and wires, and for such other conduits for municipal purposes, and for such public and municipal purposes and uses as may be deemed necessary by the said city; provided, however, that each person, firm or corporation or their heirs, successors or assigns now in possession of land or lands abutting on said lands within the boundaries of the city of Arcata, shall have a right to obtain a lease for a term of twenty-five years from said city of said land and wharfing out privileges therefrom with a right of renewal for a further term of twenty-five years pursuant to the provisions of this act and on such terms and conditions as said city may determine and specify, subject to the right of said city to terminate said lease at the end of the first twenty-five years or refuse to renew the same, or to terminate the lease so renewed during the term of such renewed lease on such just and reasonable terms for compensation for improvements at the then value of said improvements as said city may determine and specify.

Upon obtaining such lease and wharfing out privileges such person, firm or corporation, their heirs or assigns, shall quitclaim to said city any right they or any of them may claim or have to the said lands hereby granted.

This grant shall carry the right to such city of the rents, issues and profits in any manner hereafter arising from the lands or wharfing out privileges hereby granted.

The state of California shall have, at all times, the right to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other improvements constructed on said lands or any part thereof, for any vessel or other water craft, or railroad owned or operated by the state of California.

No discrimination in rates, tolls or charges or in facilities for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said city or its successors in the management, conduct or operation of any of the utilities, structures or appliances mentioned in this section.

There is hereby reserved in the people of the state of California the right to fish in the waters on which said lands may front with the right of convenient access to said waters over said lands for said purpose.

TITLE 38.

ASEXUALIZATION.

ACT 248.

An act to provide for the asexualization of inmates of state hospitals for the insane, the Sonoma State Home, of convicts in the state prisons, and of idiots, and repealing an act entitled "An act to permit asexualization of inmates of the state hospitals and the California Home for the Care and Training of Feeble-minded Children and of convicts in the state prisons," approved April 26, 1909.

[Approved June 13, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 775.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 571.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Asexualization of inmates of hospitals for insane before release. Before any person who has been lawfully committed to any state hospital for the insane, or who has been an inmate of the Sonoma State Home, and who is afflicted with mental disease which may have been inherited and is likely to be transmitted to descendants, the various grades of feeble-mindedness, those suffering from perversion or marked departures from normal mentality or from disease of a syphilitic nature, shall be released or discharged therefrom, the state commission in lunacy may in its discretion, after a careful investigation of all the circumstances of the case, cause such person to be asexualized, and such asexualization whether with or without the consent of the patient shall be lawful and shall not render the said commission, its members or any person participating in the operation liable either civilly or criminally.

TITLE 47.

BANKS AND BANKING.

ACT 297.

An act to define and regulate the business of banking.

[Approved March 1, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 87.]

Amended 1911, pp. 7, 958, 1003, 1008; 1911 (Ex. Sess.), pp. 2, 115; 1913, pp. 136, 335; 1915, pp. 297, 1101, 1138, 1139; 1917, pp. 586, 598, 622.

§ 7. Foreign corporations. Capital and deposits kept separate. Loans. Income as profits. Attorney. Service of process. Trust company as executor. Branch office prohibited. May lend money. No foreign corporation shall transact a banking business in this state without first complying with all the requirements of the laws of this state relative to banks as defined in this act, and without having assigned to its business in this state the amount of paid-up capital and surplus required by this act for the transaction of such business within this state. No foreign banking corporation shall transact business in this state until such corporation has made the assignment of capital required by this section and has received a certificate from the superintendent of banks; provided, that a foreign banking corporation shall not be permitted to accept deposits of money in this state but may receive a certificate from the superintendent of banks to transact in this state only the business of buying or selling, paying or collecting bills of exchange, or of issuing letters of credit or of receiving money for transmission or transmitting the same by draft, check, cable or otherwise, or of making loans; and provided, further, that those foreign banking corporations that now have power to do a banking business in this state and which now receive deposits of money shall be permitted to continue to accept money on deposit. Any foreign banking corporation transacting business in this state shall become subject to the supervision of the state superintendent of banks. Every foreign banking corporation, including those which were on January second, nineteen hundred thirteen, transacting business in this state, which receives any deposits or transacts any other banking business or transacts its business in such a manner as might lead the public to believe that its business is that of a bank shall conduct all its business in accordance with the statutes governing incorporated banking institutions organized under the laws of this state. The capital of any such foreign banking corporation assigned to its business in this state and all funds and deposits of money received by any such corporation in this state or for or in connection with its business in this state and all accounts and transactions of said business transacted by any such foreign corporation in this state shall be kept separate and apart from the general business, assets and accounts of such foreign corporation in the same manner as if the business of such foreign corporation conducted within this state was that of a separate and independent corporation organized under the laws of this state for the purpose of doing a banking business and all of the provisions of this act affecting investments, loans of money, receiving deposits and conducting business in any respect shall be deemed to apply to such assigned capital, investments, loans, deposits, assets, funds and business in the same manner as if such assigned capital, investments, loans, deposits, assets, funds and business were that of such separate and independent corporation; provided, that loans may be made by any such foreign corporation based on its entire paid-up capital and surplus in case such foreign corporation shall have assigned to its business in this state a paid-up capital and surplus as above provided equal to twenty per centum of the deposit liability of such branch agency or office to residents of this state. Such funds and investments or loans thereof shall be appropriated solely to the security and payment of such deposits, and shall not be mingled with the investments of the capital stock or other money or property belonging to such corporation or be liable for the debts or obligations thereof. All income received from the investment of said funds over and above such funds as may be paid to depositors as interest or shall be carried to the surplus fund, as provided in section twenty-one of this act, shall accrue as profits to the corporation and may be transferred to its general funds. No such foreign corporation shall transact any banking business in this state until it has executed and filed with the superintendent of banks a written instrument appointing such superintendent his successor in office, its true and lawful attorney, upon whom all process issued by authority of or under any law of this state may be served, with the same effect as if such corporation was formed under the laws of this state and had been lawfully served with process therein. Such service upon such attorney shall be deemed personal service on such corporation. The superintendent of banks shall forthwith forward by mail, postage prepaid, a copy of every process served upon him under the provisions of this section, addressed to the manager or agent of such corporation, at its principal place of business in this state. For each copy of process, the superintendent of banks shall collect the sum of two dollars, which shall be paid by the plaintiff or moving party at the time of the service, to be recovered by him as a part of his taxable costs if he succeed in the suit or proceeding. No foreign corporation shall have or exercise in this state the power to receive deposits of trust moneys, securities or other personal property from any person or corporation or any of the powers specified in section six of this act, nor have or maintain an office in this state for the transaction of, or transact, directly or indirectly, any such or similar business, except that a trust company incorporated in another state may have or exercise in this state such powers as are permitted to foreign corporations by the provisions of section ninety of this act and may be appointed and may accept appointment and may act in this state as executor of or trustee under the last will and testament of any deceased person, upon giving the bond required in such cases of individuals unless waived by the last will and testament making such appointment and by taking and subscribing an oath for faithful performance of such trust by the president, vice-president, secretary, manager or trust officer of said corporation; provided, that such superintendent of banks, for the time being, shall be attorney of such foreign corporation qualifying or acting in this state as such executor or trustee, upon whom process against such foreign corporation may be served in any action or legal proceeding against such executor or trustee affecting or relating to the estate or property represented or held by such executor or trustee, or any act or default of such foreign corporation in reference to such estate or property, and it shall be the duty of any such foreign corporation so qualifying or acting to file in the office of said superintendent of banks a copy of its articles of incorporation, or of the statute chartering such corporation, certified by its secretary under its corporate seal, together with the postoffice address of its home office, and a duly executed appointment of said superintendent of banks as its attorney to accept service of process as above provided, and said superintendent of banks, when any such process is served upon him, shall at once mail the papers so served to the home office of such corporation; and provided, further, that no foreign corporation which may have or exercise in this state such powers as are permitted to foreign corporations by the provisions of section ninety of this act or having authority to act as executor of or trustee under the last will and testament of any deceased person shall establish or maintain, directly or indirectly, any branch office or agency in this state, or shall in any way solicit, directly or indirectly, any business as executor or trustee therein, and that for any violation of this proviso, the court having jurisdiction of such executor or trustee in said proceeding may in its discretion, revoke the right of such foreign corporation thereafter to act as executor or trustee therein; provided, that nothing in this act shall limit or affect the right of any foreign corporation doing a banking business in this state, to lend within this state, moneys of such corporation which do not form a part of the moneys, deposits or assets of such corporation assigned or belonging to its business in this state.

This section shall not be construed to prohibit foreign banking corporations, which do not maintain an office in this state for the transaction of business, from making loans in this state secured by mortgages on real property, nor from accepting assignments of mortgages covering real property situated in this state, nor from making loans through correspondents which are engaged in the business of banking in this state under the laws of this state. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 598.]

§ 8. Copy of articles of incorporation. Affidavit. Every corporation, at the time it applies for a certificate of authority to do a banking business, must file with the superintendent of banks a certified copy of its articles of incorporation, or of the statute chartering such corporation, a certified copy of its by-laws, and also a certified copy of all instruments amending or altering such articles of incorporation or charter or by-laws. Thereafter a certified copy of each amendment or certificate designed to increase or decrease the capital stock, to change the number of the directors, to amend the articles of incorporation, to change the principal place of business, or the name of such corporation, or to effect any other organic change shall likewise be so filed before such instrument takes effect. There must also be filed in the office of the superintendent of banks before he shall issue his certificate a certified copy of the affidavit required by section two hundred ninety a of the Civil Code. Each certification required by the provisions of this section other than that of by-laws must be by the secretary of state. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 601.]

§ 9. Approval for opening branch office. Capital. Discontinuance. Certificate of authority. Fee. Savings banks in schools. Penalty. No bank in this state, or any officer or director thereof, shall hereafter open or keep an office other than its principal place of business, without first having obtained the written approval of the superintendent of banks to the opening of such branch office, which written approval may be given or withheld in his discretion, and shall not be given by him until he has ascertained to his satisfaction that the public convenience and advantage will be promoted by the opening of such branch office; provided, that no bank or any officer or director thereof, shall open or maintain any such branch office unless the capital of such bank, actually paid in, in cash, shall exceed the amount required by this act by the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars for each branch office opened and maintained in the place where its principal business is transacted; and provided, that for each branch office opened or maintained by any bank, other than a bank transacting only the business described in section six of this act, in any place in this state other than the place where the principal business of such bank is transacted, the capital of such bank, actually paid in, in cash, shall exceed the amount required by this act in the sum required by this act for every bank hereafter organized in the place where each branch office is to be opened or maintained, exclusive of the capital required for a trust department; and provided, also, that for each branch office opened or maintained by any corporation which has power to transact only such business as is described in section six of this act or in section four hundred fifty-three x of the Civil Code, in any place in this state other than the place where the principal business of such corporation is transacted, the capital of such corporation, actually paid in, in cash, shall exceed the amount required by this act in the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars; and provided, further, that no branch office may be discontinued without the previous written approval of the superintendent of banks.

Every bank, before it opens a branch office, shall obtain the certificate of authority of the superintendent of banks for the opening of each of said branch offices. The applicant shall pay for such certificate a fee of fifty dollars; provided, however, that, in order to encourage saving among the children of the schools of this state, a bank may, with the written consent of and under regulations approved by the superintendent of banks and, in the case of public schools, by the board of education or board of school trustees of the city or district in which the school is situated, arrange for the collection of savings from the school children by the principal or teachers of such schools or by collectors. The principal, teacher or person authorized by the bank to make collections from the school children shall be deemed to be the agent of the bank and the bank shall be liable to the pupil for all deposits made with such principal, teacher or other person, the same as if the deposits were made by the pupil directly with the bank. Every bank and every such officer or director violating the provisions of this section shall forfeit to the people of the state the sum of one hundred dollars for every day during which any branch office hereafter opened shall be maintained without such written approval. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 601.]

§ 10. Qualifications for bank director. Bank without capital stock. No person shall be eligible for election as director of a bank having a capital stock unless he is a stockholder of the bank, owning, in his own right, shares thereof of the par value of at least five hundred dollars; and every person elected to be director who, after such election, shall cease to be the owner in his own right of the amount of such stock aforesaid, or shall hypothecate or in any way pledge such stock as security for any loan or debt shall immediately notify the superintendent of banks in writing of such sale or hypothecation and such director may be removed from the office of director by the superintendent of banks; provided, however, that any executor or executrix, administrator or administratrix holding shares of a bank of the par value of five hundred dollars, in his or her representative capacity shall be eligible for election as a director thereof. If a bank be organized without capital stock, no person shall be eligible as a director thereof unless he is both a member and a depositor of such bank. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 602.]

§ 12c. Foreign corporations may lend money in state. Representative. License. Fee. Any corporation organized under the laws of any country or state other than this state which has complied with all of the laws of this state pertaining to foreign corporations and is not engaged in the business of banking or receiving money on deposit in this state may lend money or buy and sell bonds in this state and, for that purpose, may maintain offices in this state, and sue and be sued in this state under its proper corporate name, notwithstanding any prohibitions contained in this act as to the use of any words in the name, signs or advertising matter of corporations not under the supervision of the superintendent of banks; provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit any representative of any foreign banking corporation from maintaining an office in this state as the office of a representative and not the place of business of a bank or trust company, nor to prohibit such representative from making use of any office sign at the place where such representative's office is maintained having thereon words indicating that such office is the place of business of a representative of a foreign bank or trust company; and provided, further, that any representative of a foreign bank maintaining an office within this state may make use of such foreign bank's letterheads, circulars and other printed matter in the transaction of business as such representative; and provided, further, every representative of any foreign bank or trust company before opening an office as a representative shall have received a license from the superintendent of banks to open such representative's office. Such license may be issued upon application to the superintendent of banks and the payment of an annual license fee of fifty dollars and may be refused or revoked by the superintendent of banks at his discretion. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 603.]

§ 13. Corporation forbidden to engage in banking. Express companies, etc., may transmit money. No corporation, domestic or foreign, other than a corporation formed under or subject to the banking laws of this state or of the United States, except as permitted by such laws, or other than an express company as hereinafter defined in this section, shall by any implication or construction be deemed to possess the power of carrying on the business of discounting bills, notes or other evidences of debt, of receiving deposits, of buying and selling bills of exchange, or of issuing bills, notes or other evidences of debt for circulation as money, or of engaging in any other form of banking; nor shall any such corporation, except an express company having contracts with railroad companies for the operation of an express service upon the lines of such railroad companies, or a transatlantic steamship company, or a transpacific steamship company, or a telegraph company, or a telephone company, possess the power of receiving money for transmission or of transmitting the same, by draft, traveler's check, money order or otherwise. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 603.]

§ 20. Total reserves of commercial banks. How maintained. If member of federal reserve bank. Penalty. Reserve depositaries. Required capital; New York banks. Restoration of reserves. Definitions of

"reserves." Every commercial bank shall maintain total reserves against its aggregate deposits, exclusive of state, county and municipal deposits for the repayment of which bonds have been deposited as security, as follows:

1. Eighteen per centum of such deposits if such bank has its principal place of business in a city having a population of one hundred thousand or over.

2. Fifteen per centum of such deposits, if such bank is located in a city having a population of fifty thousand or over and less than one hundred thousand.

3. Twelve per centum of such deposits if such bank is located elsewhere in the state.

At least one-third of the total reserves shall be maintained as reserves on hand and shall consist of gold coin, gold bullion, United States gold certificates or United States notes; in addition thereto, at least one-sixth of the total reserves shall be maintained as reserves on hand and shall consist of gold coin, gold bullion, United States gold certificates, United States notes or any form of currency authorized by the laws of the United States, and the remainder of the total reserves required by the provisions of this section shall be maintained as reserves on deposit or as reserves on hand; such reserves on hand to consist of gold coin, gold bullion, United States gold certificates, United States notes or any form of currency authorized by the laws of the United States.

If any bank shall have become a member of a federal reserve bank, it may maintain as reserves on deposit with such federal reserve bank such portion of its total reserves as shall be required of members of such federal reserve bank.

If any bank shall not maintain the total reserves required the superintendent of banks may impose a penalty upon it, based upon the length of time such encroachment upon its total reserves amounting to one per centum or more of its aggregate deposits shall continue, at the following rates:

1. At the rate of six per centum per annum upon any such encroachment not exceeding two per centum of such deposits.

2. At the rate of eight per centum per annum upon any additional encroachment in excess of two and not exceeding three per centum of such deposits.

3. At the rate of ten per centum per annum upon any additional encroachment in excess of three and not exceeding four per centum of such deposits.

4. At the rate of twelve per centum per annum upon any additional encroachment in excess of four per centum of such deposits.

The superintendent of banks shall, in his discretion, upon the nomination of any bank, designate a depositary or depositaries for the reserves on deposit of such bank provided for by this act. Except as otherwise provided in this section, such depositary shall be a bank or national banking association located in this state. Every reserve depositary, which has its principal place of business in a judicial township or in a city located in this state in which the populaton is less than fifty thousand, shall have at all times as its total reserves an amount equal to the total reserves required by the provisions of this section for every bank which has its principal place of business in a city having a population of fifty thousand or over and less than one hundred thousand. But no bank or national banking association shall hereafter be designated as a depositary of any such reserves unless it shall have a combined capital and surplus of not less than the following amounts:

1. Two hundred fifty thousand dollars, if located in a city which has a population of three hundred thousand or over;

2. Two hundred thousand dollars, if located in a city which has a population of one hundred thousand or over and less than three hundred thousand;

3. One hundred fifty thousand dollars, if located in a city which has a population of fifty thousand or over and less than one hundred thousand;

4. One hundred thousand dollars, if located elsewhere in the state.

Such depositary may also be a banking corporation with a capital and surplus of one million dollars or more, located in the cities of New York, Chicago, Boston, St. Louis, or Philadelphia.

If the total reserves of any bank shall be less than the amount required by this section, such bank shall not increase its liabilities by making any new loans or discounts, otherwise than by discounting bills of exchange on sight, or by paying any dividends from profits until the full amount of its total reserves has been restored. The superintendent of banks may notify any bank whose total reserves shall be below the amount herein required, to restore such total reserves; and, if it shall fail for thirty days thereafter to restore such total reserves, such bank shall be deemed insolvent and may be proceeded against under the provisions of this act; provided, that all deposits of money herein permitted or required shall comply with the provisions of section forty-three of this act.

The term, "reserves on hand," when used in this act, means the reserves against deposits kept, pursuant to the provisions of this act, in the vault of any bank or in any safety deposit box in any other bank in this state, said box to be under the exclusive control of the depositing bank.

The term, "reserves on deposit," when used in this act, means the reserves against deposits maintained by any bank pursuant to this act in reserve depositaries, or in a federal reserve bank of which such bank is a member, and not in excess of the amount authorized by this act.

The term, "total reserves," when used in this act, means the aggregate of reserves on hand and reserves on deposit maintained pursuant to the provisions of this act.

The term, "reserve depositary," when used in this act, means a bank, trust company or banking corporation designated by the superintendent of banks on the nomination of the depositing bank as a depositary for reserves on deposit. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 604.]

§ 28. Signs must show kind of bank. "Branch." Every bank in this state must, on all its window signs and in advertising, and on letter-heads and other stationery on which its business is transacted, use the word "savings" if it conducts a savings business, or the word "trust" if it conducts a trust business, and the word "commercial" if it conducts a commercial business. Every bank, which maintains a branch office, must on all window signs and in advertising, and on letter-heads and other stationery on which the business of said branch office is transacted, use in letters and type, equal in prominence to that used in its corporate name, the word "branch" and the name of the place where its principal business is located. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 606.]

§ 31a. Consolidation of banks. Ratification by stockholders. Notice. Publication. Articles of incorporation and consolidation. Certificate of authorization. Obligations not impaired. Right to increase stock. Any bank incorporated under the laws of this state may consolidate with one or more banks incorporated under the laws of this state, its capital stock, properties, trusts, claims, demands, contracts, agreements, obligations, debts, liabilities and assets of every kind and description, upon such terms and in such manner as may be agreed upon by their respective boards of directors, a copy of which agreement must be filed in the office of the superintendent of banks; provided, that such agreement shall be subject to the approval of the superintendent of banks and shall not be valid until such approval be obtained; provided, further, that no such consolidation shall take effect until such agreement shall have been ratified and confirmed in writing by the stockholders of the respective banks holding of record at least two-thirds of the issued capital stock of their respective banks, or such agreement may be submitted to the stockholders of each of such corporations at a meeting thereof to be called upon notice specifying the time, place and object thereof, addressed to each stockholder at his last known postoffice address and deposited in the postoffice, postage prepaid, at least two weeks prior to the date fixed for said meeting, and published for at least two successive weeks, prior to the date of said meeting, in a newspaper in each of the counties of the state in which any of such banks shall have its principal place of business, and if such agreement shall be approved at each of such meetings of the respective stockholders separately by the vote or ballot of the stockholders owning at least two-thirds of the stock of each such bank, the same shall be the agreement of such banks. In case of such consolidation "articles of incorporation and consolidation" must be prepared, setting forth:

First—The name of the new corporation;

Second—The purpose for which it is formed;

Third—The place where its principal business is to be transacted;

Fourth—The term for which it is to exist, which shall not exceed fifty years;

Fifth—The number of its directors (which shall not be less than three) and the names and residences of the persons appointed to act as such until their successors are elected and qualified;

Sixth—The amount of its capital stock and the number of shares into which it is divided;

Seventh—The amount of stock actually subscribed, and by whom;

Eighth—The names of the constituent corporations.

Said articles of incorporation and consolidation must be signed and countersigned by the president and secretary of each constituent corporation and sealed with their corporate seals. There must be annexed thereto the approval of the superintendent of banks and memoranda of the ratification and confirmation thereof by the stockholders of each constituent corporation, which must be respectively signed and acknowledged by stockholders representing at least two-thirds of the capital stock of their respective corporations. When completed as aforesaid said articles must be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which is located the principal place of business of the new corporation, and a copy of the articles of incorporation and consolidation certified by such county clerk must be filed in the office of the secretary of state, who must issue, over the great seal of the state, a certificate that a copy of the articles of incorporation and consolidation containing the required statement of facts has been filed in his office. The secretary of state must file in his office a duplicate of the certificate hereinbefore provided for and copies thereof, duly certified by the secretary of state, shall have the same force and effect in evidence as the original. A copy of the articles of incorporation and consolidation, certified by said secretary of state, must be filed in the office of the superintendent of banks, and also in the office of the county clerk of any county in which were filed the original articles of incorporation of either of the constituent corporations. When the superintendent of banks issues the certificate of authorization provided for by section one hundred twenty-eight of this act the new or consolidated corporation shall be a body politic and corporate by the name stated in the certificate, and for the term of fifty years, unless it is, in the articles of incorporation and consolidation, otherwise stated and thereupon each constituent corporation named in the articles of incorporation and consolidation must be deemed and held to have become extinct in all courts and places, and said new corporation must be deemed and held in all courts and places to have succeeded to all their several capital stocks, properties, trusts, claims, demands, contracts, agreements, assets, choses and rights in action of every kind and description, both at law and in equity, and to be entitled to possess, enjoy, and enforce the same and every thereof, as fully and completely as either and every of its constituents might have done had no consolidation taken place. Said consolidated or new corporation must also, in all courts and places, be deemed and held to have become subrogated to its several constituents and each thereof, in respect to all their contracts and agreements with other parties, and all their debts, obligations, and liabilities, of every kind and nature, to any persons, corporations, or bodies politic, whomsoever, or whatsoever, and said new corporation must sue and be sued in its own name in any and every case in which any or either of its constituents might have sued or might have been sued at law or in equity had no such consolidation been made. Nothing in this section contained shall be construed to impair the obligation of any contract to whom any of such constituents were parties at the date of such consolidation. All such contracts may be enforced by action or suit, as the case may be, against the consolidated corporation, and satisfaction obtained out of the property which, at the date of the consolidation, belonged to the constituent which was a party to the contract in action or suit, as well as out of any other property belonging to the consolidated corporation, and the stockholders of each constituent corporation so entering into such agreement shall continue subject to all the liabilities, claims and demands existing against them at or before such consolidation to the same extent as if the same had not been made. The right of said new corporation to increase or decrease its capital stock, to change the number of its directors, to amend its articles of incorporation, to change its principal place of business, or its name, or to effect any other organic change shall be governed by the general corporation laws of this state and by the bank act, and the procedure to effect any such change shall be that defined by the general corporation laws and the bank act.

The superintendent of banks shall transmit to the secretary of state a duplicate of the certificate of authorization hereinbefore referred to and the secretary of state shall file the same in his office. The superintendent of banks shall also file a duplicate of such certificate in his own office. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 606.]

§ 35. Consent to purchase certain contracts. No bank shall purchase any contract arising from the sale of real estate or any note or bond in which contract, or note, or bond any director, officer, employee, or controlling stockholder of such bank is personally or financially interested, directly or indirectly, for his own account, for himself, or as the partner or agent of others, without the previous consent in writing of the superintendent of banks. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 609.]

§ 41. Consent for officer to purchase assets at discount. No officer, director, agent, or other employee of any bank shall directly or indirectly, for his own personal benefit, purchase, or be interested in the purchase of any of such bank's obligations or assets for a less sum than shall appear upon the face of any such obligations or assets to be the value thereof except with the previous consent of all the directors of said bank, such consent to be evidenced by a resolution adopted by said directors. A certified copy of said resolution shall immediately be transmitted to the superintendent of banks. Every person violating any provision of this section, shall for each offense forfeit to the people of the state, twice the face value of any such obligations or assets so purchased. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 609.]

§ 43. Deposit of funds in another bank. No bank shall deposit any of its funds in any other bank unless such other bank has been nominated as a depositary for its funds by the vote of a majority of the directors, or trustees of the bank making the deposit, and such other bank has been designated by the superintendent of banks as such depositary. The superintendent of banks may in his discretion revoke such a designation. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 609.]

§ 45. Interest unpaid. Interest unpaid, although due or accrued, on debts owing to any bank, shall not be included in calculation of its profits previous to a dividend; nor shall any bank, except with the previous written consent of the superintendent of banks, enter or at any time carry on its books any of its assets at a valuation exceeding its actual cost to such bank. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 609.]

§ 54. Real estate to be sold within five years. Appraisal of value. Notice of sale. Minimum price. Fees. Costs. All real estate purchased by any bank at sales under pledges, mortgages or deeds of trust for its benefit for money loaned and such as may be conveyed to it by borrowers in satisfaction and discharge of loans made thereon and all other real estate owned or held by it, which is not necessary for carrying on its business, must be sold or exchanged for other real estate by such bank within five years after title thereto shall have vested in it by purchase or otherwise; provided, however, that no exchange of such real estate for other real estate shall be made unless and until written consent thereto shall first be given by the superintendent of banks; and provided, further, that any real estate so taken in exchange may be held for such period of time as the superintendent of banks may fix but not to exceed five years. Parcels of such real estate not sold or exchanged within said time may be purchased by any person wanting the same upon the conditions and proceedings following: The intending purchaser may file a petition in the superior court in and for the county wherein said real estate or any portion thereof is situated; upon the filing of such petition a citation shall be issued out of said court directed to the bank owning such real estate requiring such bank to show cause on a day certain which shall be not earlier than ten days after the service of such citation, why commissioners should not be appointed by said court for the purpose of appraising the value of the real estate described in the petition and of selling the same at public auction under the provisions of this section. If there shall be any liens or encumbrances of record against such real estate the person or persons holding such liens or encumbrances shall likewise be cited and the court shall in its final decree distribute the proceeds of such sale, if a sale thereof shall be made, according to the equities of the parties. If it shall appear at the hearing of such petition that the real estate therein sought to be purchased is held by such bank in violation of the provisions of this section or of the constitution of this state, the court shall appoint three commissioners to appraise the value thereof and sell the same at public auction at the county seat of the county wherein said real estate or any part thereof is located. Notice of which said sale shall be given to the bank owning said real estate and to any other persons interested therein as shown by the records of such county at least ten days before the date of such sale and shall be published once a week for three successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county where such real estate or any part thereof may be located, or if no newspaper shall be published in such county then in a newspaper published in some neighboring county. Such notice shall state the time and place of such sale and shall describe the real estate to be sold with common certainty and state the value thereof as fixed by the appraisement of such commissioners and state that no bid less than such appraised value will be received therefor. No sale shall be made for an amount less than the appraised value of such real estate fixed by said commissioners, and in the event that no bid is received at such sale at least equal to said appraised value of said real estate no intending purchaser can institute the proceedings provided for in this section within one year thereafter. In case of any sale made under the provisions of this section and of the refusal of any bank owning such real estate or of any lienholder or encumbrancer to execute the conveyances or releases necessary or proper to vest the title of such bank, lienholder or encumbrancer in the purchaser thereof the court shall have power in such proceedings to direct said commissioner to execute such deeds, conveyances or releases upon the payment to them of the purchase price therefor. The fees of such commissioners and cost of sale shall be fixed by the court, upon making such appointment, but the entire expense thereof shall not exceed one hundred dollars. The cost of any such proceedings shall be borne by the intending purchaser if no sale shall be made, but if a sale shall be made the cost of such proceedings shall be borne by the purchaser of the property and the person who filed the petition and advanced the costs of such proceedings shall be reimbursed in case he shall not become such purchaser. All sales hereunder shall be returned to the court having jurisdiction of the matter in the same manner as in the case of sales, by commissioners, of real estate on foreclosure of mortgages. Nothing in this section contained shall be deemed to affect the power of the superintendent of banks to require the writing down of the value of real estate held by any bank, at any time, when such writing down shall be proper. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 622.]

§ 61. Purchase of real or personal property by savings banks. Any savings bank may purchase, hold and convey real or personal property as follows:

1. Bank premises, etc. The lot and building in which the business of the bank is carried on; furniture and fixtures, vaults and safe deposit vaults and boxes necessary or proper to carry on its banking business; such lot and building, furniture and fixtures, vaults and safe deposit vaults and boxes shall not, in the aggregate, be carried on the books of such bank as an asset to an amount exceeding its paid-up capital and surplus; and hereafter, the authority of a two-thirds vote of all the directors shall be necessary to authorize the purchase of such lot and building, or the construction of such building.

2. Mortgaged property. Such as may have been mortgaged, pledged or conveyed to it in trust for its benefit in good faith, for money loaned in pursuance of the regular business of the corporation.

3. Property purchased at foreclosure sales. Limitations on purchase of personal property. Purchase of bonds. Such as may have been purchased at any sales under pledge, mortgage or deed of trust made for its benefit for money so loaned and such as may be conveyed to it by borrowers in satisfaction and discharge of loans made thereon.

No savings bank shall purchase, own, or sell personal property, except such as may be requisite for its immediate accommodation for the convenient transaction of its business, notes or bonds secured by trust deeds or mortgages on real estate, bonds, securities or evidences of indebtedness, public or private, gold or silver bullion and United States mint certificates of ascertained value, and evidences of debt issued by the United States. No savings bank shall purchase, own, hold or convey bonds, securities or evidences of indebtedness, public or private, except as follows:

(a) United States bonds. Bonds or interest-bearing notes or obligations of the United States, or those for which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged for the payment of principal and interest, or those issued under authority of the United States;

(b) State of California bonds. Bonds of this state, or those for which the faith and credit of the state of California are pledged for the payment of principal and interest, or those of any county, city and county, city or school district of this state;

(c) State bonds. Bonds of any state in the United States that has not, within five years previous to making such investment by such bank, defaulted in the payment of any part of either principal or interest, or those of any county, city and county, city or town, in any state of the United States other than the state of California, issued under authority of any law of such state, which county, city and county, city or town, had, as shown by the federal or state census next preceding such investment, a population of more than twenty thousand inhabitants; provided, however, that the entire bonded indebtedness of such county, city and county, city or town, including such issue of bonds does not exceed fifteen per centum of the value of the taxable property therein as shown by its last equalized assessment-roll; and provided, further, that such county, city and county, city or town, or the state in which it is located has not defaulted in payment of either principal or interest due upon any legally authorized bond issue within five years next preceding such investment;

(d) District bonds. Bonds of any district organized under the laws of the state of California which are required to be and are investigated and approved by a commission now or hereafter authorized by a law of this state to conduct such investigation and give such approval and by authority of which approval said bonds are declared to be legal investments for savings banks;

(e) District bonds. Bonds of mutual water company. Bonds of any district organized under the laws of the state of California not otherwise provided for in this section; or those of any mutual water company organized under the laws of this state and operating wholly within this state; provided, that all bonds specified in this paragraph shall first be certified by the superintendent of banks after an investigation in manner and form as is provided for by section sixty-one a of this act; and provided, further, that no bonds of any mutual water company shall be certified by the superintendent of banks unless the company issuing said bonds shall have been in continuous operation for a period of five years next preceding the application for said certificate and shall have served not less than seventy-five per centum of the lands entitled to service by said mutual water company for a period of not less than three years next preceding the application for said certificate;

(f) Bonds of railroad corporation. (1) Bonds of any railroad corporation incorporated under the laws of the state of California and operating exclusively therein; provided, said corporation has had net earnings for the period herein fixed amounting to at least one and one-fourth times the interest on all its outstanding mortgage indebtedness; or

(2) Bonds of railroad corporations. Bonds of any railroad corporation incorporated under the laws of any state in the United States, operating at least five hundred miles of standard gauge track exclusive of sidings; provided, said corporation has had net earnings for the period herein fixed amounting to at least one and one-half times the interest on all its outstanding mortgage indebtedness; or

(3) Bonds of railroad corporations. Security. First mortgage. Refunding mortgage. Trust deed on operative property. Bonds of any railroad corporation, the payment of which has been guaranteed, both as to principal and interest, by a railroad corporation meeting the requirements of either subdivision (1) or (2) of paragraph (f) of this section; provided, that such guaranteeing corporation has had for the period herein fixed net earnings amounting to at least one and one-half times the interest on all its outstanding mortgage indebtedness and, in addition thereto, sufficient, taken with the earnings of all corporations whose bonds it has guaranteed, to qualify as investments for savings banks, as in this section provided, all such guaranteed bonds; provided, that the excess of income of any corporation whose bonds have been so guaranteed, over the amount required by this section for which corporation, shall not apply to or be included in determining the income so required.

In determining the income of any corporation specified in paragraph (f) of subdivision (3) of this section, there shall be included the income of any corporation or corporations out of which it shall have been formed through consolidation or merger, and of any corporation or corporations, the entire business and income producing property of which the corporation issuing such bonds has wholly acquired.

All bonds authorized for investment by paragraph (f) of subdivision (3) of this section must be secured by a mortgage or deed of trust which is, at the time of making such investment, either

I. A closed first mortgage or deed of trust; or

II. A first mortgage or deed of trust containing provisions restricting the issuance of further bonds until such time as the income of said corporation shall have been at least sufficient, during the twelve months next preceding the issuance of any additional bonds, to meet the earning requirements specified in the respective subdivisions of this paragraph applicable to such corporation after including the additional bonds then proposed to be issued; or

III. A refunding mortgage or deed of trust providing for the retirement of all prior lien mortgage debts of said corporation, and restricting the issuance of further bonds until such time as the income of said corporation shall have been at least sufficient, during the twelve months next preceding the issuance of any additional bonds, to meet the earning requirements specified in the respective subdivisions of this paragraph applicable to such corporation after including the additional bonds then proposed to be issued; or

IV. An underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust of property which forms a part of the operating system of the corporation then owning said property. In the case of bonds secured by an underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust, the net income required by this section shall be based exclusively upon the income, maintenance charges, operating expenses, taxes, and mortgage indebtedness of or against the property covered by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust, or, if such income, maintenance charges or operating expenses cannot be definitely ascertained, on the proper proportionate share of such property in the general income, maintenance charges, operating expenses, and taxes of the corporation then owning such property and on the mortgage indebtedness of or against the property covered by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust; provided, however, that if the payment of the bonds secured by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust shall be guaranteed or assumed by the corporation then owning the property securing the same, such bonds shall be legal investments for savings banks, if the net income of such corporation from all sources shall equal the amount herein required, notwithstanding any insufficiency of the income derived from the property covered by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust to meet the requirements of this section.

No savings bank shall purchase the bonds of any railroad corporation deriving less than twenty per centum of its gross receipts from passenger revenues.

The term "railroad corporation" when used in paragraph (f) of subdivision (3) of this section shall have the meaning defined in the "public utilities act."

(g) Public utility bonds. Security. First mortgage. Refunding mortgage. Trust deed on operative property. Definitions. Bonds of any street railroad corporation; or of any gas; water; pipe-line; light; power; light and power; gas, light and power; electrical; telephone; telegraph; or telephone and telegraph corporation or of any other "public utility" incorporated under the laws of the state of California; and

(1) Operating exclusively in the state of California, provided said corporation has had, for the period herein fixed, net earnings amounting to one and one-half times the interest on all its outstanding mortgage indebtedness; or

(2) Operating its property in part within the state of California, provided said corporation has had, for each of its two fiscal years next preceding such investment, net earnings amounting to one and one-half times the interest on all its outstanding mortgage indebtedness; or

(3) The payment of which is guaranteed, both as to principal and interest, by a public utility corporation meeting the requirements of either subdivision (1) or (2) of paragraph (g) of this section, provided that such guaranteeing corporation has had for the period required in the respective subdivisions of this paragraph relating thereto, net earnings amounting to at least one and one-half times the interest on all of said guaranteeing corporation's outstanding mortgage indebtedness, and, in addition thereto, sufficient, taken with the earnings of all corporations whose bonds it has guaranteed, to qualify as investments for savings banks, as in this section provided, all such guaranteed bonds; provided, that the excess of income of any corporation whose bonds have been so guaranteed, over the amount required by this section for such corporation, shall not apply to or be included in determining the income so required.

In determining the income of any corporation specified in paragraph (g) of subdivision (3) of this section, there shall be included the income of any corporation or corporations out of which it shall have been formed through consolidation or merger, and of any corporation the entire business and income producing property of which the corporation issuing such bonds has wholly acquired.

All bonds authorized for investment by paragraph (g) of subdivision (3) of this section must be secured by a mortgage or deed of trust which is at the time of making such investment; either

I. A closed first mortgage or deed of trust; or

II. A first mortgage or deed of trust containing provisions restricting the issuance of further bonds until such time as the income of said corporation shall have been at least sufficient, during the twelve months next preceding the issuance of any additional bonds, to meet the earning requirements specified in the respective subdivisions of this paragraph applicable to such corporation after including the additional bonds then proposed to be issued; or

III. A refunding mortgage or deed of trust providing for the retirement of all prior lien mortgage debts of said corporation and restricting the issuance of further bonds until such time as the income of said corporation shall have been at least sufficient, during the twelve months next preceding the issuance of any additional bonds, to meet the earning requirements of such corporation after including the additional bonds then proposed to be issued; or

IV. An underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust of property which forms a part of the operating system of the corporation then owning said property. In the case of bonds secured by an underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust, the net income required by this section shall be based exclusively upon the income, maintenance charges, operating expenses, taxes and mortgage indebtedness of or against the property covered by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust or, if such income, maintenance charges or operating expenses cannot be definitely ascertained, on the proper proportionate share of such property in the general income, maintenance charges, operating expenses and taxes of the corporation then owning such property and on the mortgage indebtedness of or against the property covered by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust; provided, however, that if the payment of the bonds secured by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust shall be guaranteed or assumed by the corporation then owning the property securing the same, such bonds shall be legal investments for savings banks, if the net income of such corporation from all sources shall equal the amount herein required, notwithstanding any insufficiency of the income derived from the property covered by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust to meet the requirements of this section.

The terms, "street railroad corporation," "pipe-line corporation," "gas corporation," "electric corporation," "telephone corporation," "telegraph corporation," "water corporation," and "public utility," when used in paragraph (g) of subdivision (3) of this section, shall each have the meaning defined in the "public utilities act."

(h) Notes secured by first mortgage. Market value of oil and timber land. Notes or bonds secured by first mortgage or deed of trust or other first lien upon real estate, improved or unimproved; provided, that the entire note or bond issue shall not exceed sixty per centum of the market value of such real estate, or such real estate with improvements, taken as security; and provided, further, in case the said note or bond issue is created for a building loan on real estate, that at no time shall the entire outstanding note or bond issue exceed sixty per centum of the market value of the real estate and the actual cost of the improvements thereon taken as security.

In determining the market value of any real estate under the provisions of paragraph (h) subdivision (3) of this section where such real estate, improved or unimproved, consists of oil or other mineral or timber land, the value represented by such oil or other mineral or timber shall not be included in fixing such market value. Nothing herein contained shall prevent savings banks from making loans secured by mortgage or deed of trust upon lands wherein redwood timber is included in fixing the market value thereof.

(i) Collateral trust bonds. Collateral trust bonds or notes when secured by either:

(1) Deposit of bonds authorized for investment by this section of a market value at least fifteen per centum in excess of the par value of the collateral trust bonds or notes issued; or

(2) Deposit of bonds authorized for investment by this section and other securities of a combined market value at least twenty per centum in excess of the par value of the collateral trust bonds or notes issued; provided, that the par value of said collateral trust bonds or notes shall in no case exceed the market value of that portion of the security represented by bonds authorized for investment by this section.

(3) Deposit of any notes or bonds authorized for investment by this section and other securities of a combined market value of at least thirty per centum in excess of the par value of the collateral trust bonds or notes issued; provided, that the par value of such collateral trust bonds or notes issued shall in no case exceed the market value of that portion of the security represented by notes or bonds authorized for investment by this section; provided, further, that the collateral pledged consist of bonds authorized for investment by this section of the market value of at least seventy-five per centum of the par value of such collateral trust bonds or notes issued.

(j) Legal investment in New York and Massachusetts. Bonds legal for investment by savings banks in the states of New York or Massachusetts; provided, however, that as to bonds of the character specified in paragraph (c) of subdivision (3) of this section, such bonds shall also conform to the requirements of such paragraph.

(k) Guaranteed payment. "Net earnings." Bonds, etc., certified by superintendent of banks. Legality of previous investments not affected. Investment value of bonds. Bonds of public utilities. State does not guarantee validity of bonds. Advertisement of bonds as legal investments. Notes or bonds secured by mortgage or deed of trust, payment of which is guaranteed by a policy of mortgage insurance, and mortgage participation certificates, issued by a mortgage insurance company in accordance with the provisions of chapter VIII of title II of part IV of division first of the Civil Code.

"Net earnings" as used in this section shall be deemed to mean the amount remaining after deducting from the gross earnings all taxes, maintenance charges and operating expenses except depreciation charges, sinking fund charges and interest on indebtedness.

Unless herein otherwise expressly provided the period for which any corporation must have "net earnings" sufficient to qualify its bonds as an investment for savings banks under this section shall be either the fiscal year of such corporation next preceding the investment therein by any savings bank or twelve consecutive months in the fourteen months next preceding such investment.

No notes, bonds, or other securities shall be deemed to come within or conform to the requirements of either of paragraphs (f), (g), (h), or (i) of subdivision (3) of this section, unless such notes, bonds or other securities shall, in the manner provided in this act, have been certified by the superintendent of banks to come within and fully conform to the requirements of one or the other of said paragraphs; provided, however, that any bank may, without such certification by the superintendent of banks, purchase any note or bond or issue of notes or bonds provided for in said paragraph (h), whenever such purchase constitutes the entire amount of notes or bonds executed by the makers thereof and secured by the same real estate; and provided, further, that notes, bonds or other securities, the payment of which is secured by any mortgage or deed of trust executed on or before September 1, 1913, and now owned by any savings bank in this state, if otherwise in full conformity with the requirements of this section, need not be so certified by the superintendent of banks, in order to be legal as investments for savings banks.

The legality of investments heretofore lawfully made pursuant to the provisions of this section, or of any law of this state as it existed on and subsequent to July 1, 1909, shall not be affected by any amendments to this section or this act; nor shall any such amendments require the changing of investments once lawfully made under this act.

Any bonds authorized by this section as a legal investment for savings banks may be carried on the books of said bank at their investment value, based on their market value at the time they were originally bought, unless the superintendent of banks shall require any or all of the bonds which may thereafter have a market value less than the original investment value to be written down to such new market value which shall be done gradually if practicable and in such manner as he may determine; or he may, by a plan of amortization to be determined by him, require such gradual extinction of premium as will bring such bonds to par at maturity.

No savings bank shall hereafter purchase or loan money upon any bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, issued by any "public utility," subject to the jurisdiction, regulation or control of the railroad commission of this state under the provisions of the "public utilities act," approved December 23, 1911, and acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto, unless each such bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness was either:

(a) Issued prior to the taking effect of the "public utilities act"; or

(b) Issued under authority of the railroad commission, in accordance with the provisions of said act; or

(c) A note issued for a period not exceeding twelve months, in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (b) of section fifty-two of said act.

No provision of this act, and no act or deed, done or performed under or in connection therewith, and no finding made or certificate issued under any provision thereof, shall be held or construed to obligate the state of California to pay, or be liable for the payment of, or to guarantee in any manner whatsoever, the regularity or the validity of the issuance of any stock or bond certificate, or bond, note, or other evidence of indebtedness certified under any provision of this act, by the superintendent of banks.

It shall not be lawful for any individual, firm, association, bank, trust company, stock company, copartnership or corporation to advertise by newspaper or circular or in any other manner that any securities are legal investments for savings banks in this state or to use any advertisement which might lead the public to believe that any securities conform to the requirements of law relating to investments by savings banks unless such securities are such as are specified in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (j), or (k) of subdivision (3) of this section or shall, in the manner provided in this act, have been certified by the superintendent of banks to come within and fully conform to the requirements of one or the other of paragraphs (f), (g), (h), or (i) of subdivision (3) of this section or unless such advertisement shall have been approved in writing by the superintendent of banks prior to publishing, circulating or otherwise issuing the same. Any individual, firm, association, bank, trust company, stock company, copartnership or corporation who shall advertise any securities in violation of the provisions of this paragraph shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year or by both such fine and imprisonment. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 586.]

§ 61a. Superintendent of banks may investigate bonds. Opinions of attorneys. Certificates revoked. Expenses. The superintendent of banks shall have power, when any issue of bonds or securities is presented to him for that purpose, to investigate and ascertain whether such bonds or securities come within and fully conform to all the requirements of paragraph (f), (g), (h), or (i) of subdivision (3) of section sixty-one of this act, or of either of said paragraphs. He may also investigate and ascertain for what period of time, and upon what conditions, any franchise granted to or held by any corporation issuing any such bonds or securities will remain in force, and any other facts or conditions bearing upon the value or sufficiency of such bonds. The superintendent of banks may accept and act upon the opinions and appraisements of any attorneys, engineers, or appraisers which may be presented by such person or corporation so applying, and the reports of any of the executive officers of the corporation issuing such bonds or securities, on any question of fact concerning or affecting such bonds or securities, the security thereof, the franchise conditions herein mentioned, or the financial condition of the corporation issuing the same. In lieu of or in addition to such opinions, appraisements and reports, the superintendent of banks may, if he deems proper, have any or all such matters passed upon and certified to him by attorneys, engineers, appraisers or accountants of his own selection at the expense of the applicant. If the superintendent of banks shall find from such investigation that the bonds or securities so presented come within and fully conform to all the requirements of any of said paragraphs of subdivision (3) of section sixty-one of this act, and is satisfied from such investigation as to such franchise conditions, he shall so certify unless for any reason he shall be of the opinion that such bonds are not a safe or proper investment for savings banks, and in such event or if such bonds shall fail to meet the requirements of this act such certificate must be refused. The superintendent of banks also shall have power to investigate and ascertain the status and sufficiency as investments for savings banks of any bonds specified in paragraph (e) of subdivision (3) of section sixty-one of this act. If upon such investigation it shall be determined in the opinion of the superintendent of banks that any bonds specified in said paragraph (e) of subdivision (3) of section sixty-one of this act constitute a proper investment for savings banks he shall so certify.

Any certificate issued by the superintendent of banks under authority of the provisions of this section may be revoked at any time in his discretion. Any certificate issued in relation to notes or bonds specified in paragraphs (f), (g), or (i) of subdivision (3) of section sixty-one of this act shall expire not later than three months after the end of the then current fiscal year of the corporation issuing such notes or bonds.

The actual expense of investigating any issue of bonds or securities so presented shall be paid by the person, district or corporation presenting the same for investigation, and the superintendent of banks, before making such investigation, may require a cash deposit of such amount as he may deem necessary to cover such expense. The superintendent of banks shall keep an official list of all bonds and securities certified by him. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 594.]

§ 65. No loan to director of officer. Record of loan. Reporter to superintendent of banks. Loan to agent or employee. Record of loan. Report to superintendent of banks. Not applicable to what corporations. No loan shall be made, for himself or as agent or partner of another, directly or indirectly, to any director or officer of any savings bank by such bank, or on the indorsement, surety or guaranty of any such officer or director, except that loans may be made to any corporation in which any director or officer of such savings bank may own or hold a minority number of shares of stock, upon authorization of a majority of all the directors of such savings bank and the affirmative vote of all directors of such savings bank present at the meeting authorizing such loan; provided, however, that such loan shall in all other respects conform to and comply with all other provisions of this act. Such interested director or officer shall not vote or participate in any manner in the action of the board on such loan. Such authorization shall be entered upon the records or minutes of such savings bank. The fact of making such loan, the names of the directors authorizing such loan, the corporate name of the borrower, the name of each director or officer of such bank who is a member, stockholder, officer, or director of the corporation to which such loan is made, the amount of stock held by him in such borrowing corporation, the amount of such loan, the rate of interest thereon, the time when the loan will become due, the amount, character and value of security given therefor and the fact of final payment, when made, shall be forthwith reported in writing by the cashier or secretary of such savings bank to the superintendent of banks. No loan may be made to any corporation, a majority of the stock of which is owned or controlled by any one or more of the directors of officers of such savings bank, except with the previous consent of the superintendent of banks.

A loan may be made to any agent or employee, other than an officer or director, of any savings bank by such bank upon authorization of a majority of all the directors of such savings bank and an affirmative vote of all directors of such savings bank present at the meeting authorizing such loan; provided, however, that such loan shall in all respects conform to and comply with all other provisions of this act. Such authorization shall be entered upon the records or minutes of such savings bank. The fact of making such loan, the names of the directors authorizing such loan, the name of the borrower, the nature of his employment, the amount of such loan, the rate of interest thereon, the time when the loan will become due, the amount, character and value of the security given therefor, and the fact of final payment, when made, shall be forthwith reported in writing by the cashier or secretary of such savings bank to the superintendent of banks. Any officer or director of any savings bank, who knowingly procures a loan from such savings bank, contrary to the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a felony. In case of the neglect or failure of the secretary or cashier of any such bank, to report to the superintendent of banks, as herein provided, any of the facts so required to be reported, or in case of the neglect or failure of the secretary or cashier of any such bank, to report to the superintendent of banks any loan made contrary to the provisions of this section, the bank shall be liable therefor and shall forfeit to the people of the state of California twenty-five dollars per day for each day, or part thereof, during which such neglect or failure continues.

This section shall not apply to any loan made to a religious corporation, club, or other membership corporation of which one or more directors, officers, agents or employees of such savings bank may be members or officers, but in which they have no financial interest. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 609.]

§ 67. 1. Limitation on loans. No savings bank shall loan money except on adequate security of real or personal property, and no such loan shall be made for a period longer than ten years. No such loan shall be made on unsecured notes; provided, that a savings bank may discount or purchase bankers' acceptances of which the acceptor is a bank or trust company having a paid in capital of one million dollars. Said bankers' acceptances shall be bills of exchange of the kind and character defined and made eligible under the federal reserve act and the then current regulation of the federal reserve board for rediscount or for purchase in the open market by a federal reserve bank; provided, however, that no savings bank shall at any time acquire by discount or purchase an amount of such bankers' acceptances greater than five per centum of its deposits nor shall any savings bank acquire, directly or indirectly, by discount or purchase, any such bankers' acceptances from any one acceptor in an amount which shall exceed five per centum of the capital and surplus of such bank; and provided, that a savings bank may discount or purchase a bill which must comply with the following requirements:

(a) Requirements for bill of exchange. It must be a bill issued by a solvent individual or firm or corporation engaged in mercantile or manufacturing business in the United States that makes statements of its condition duly ascertained and certified to by a certified public accountant. Copy of such certified statement shall be on file in the office of the savings bank discounting or purchasing such bill in a file maintained for such purpose. Said statement shall have been issued within the preceding twelve months and shall consist of a balance sheet showing quick assets, slow assets, permanent or fixed assets, current liabilities and accounts, short term loans, long term loans, capital and surplus. Accompanying said balance sheet shall be a copy of a statement from the borrower concerning the following:

(1) The nature of the business.

(2) All contingent liabilities such as indorsements or guaranties.

(3) Particulars respecting any mortgage debts and whether there is any lien on current assets.

(4) The maximum and minimum liabilities of the individual, firm or corporation during the twelve months previous to the date of audit.

(b) Requirements for bill of exchange. Bills not eligible for discount or purchase. Credit reports. Limitation on amount. It must be issued by an individual, firm or corporation whose net worth is not less than two and one-half times the amount of its outstanding liabilities, nor less than two hundred thousand dollars. The quick assets of said individual, firm or corporation, consisting of merchandise, finished, raw, and in the process of manufacture, accounts receivable, bills receivable and cash, shall not be less than two times its outstanding quick liabilities as shown by said statement.

(c) It must have a maturity of not more than six months.

(d) It must have arisen out of actual commercial transactions; that is, be a bill which has been issued or drawn for industrial or commercial purposes or the proceeds of which have been or are to be used for such purpose.

No bill shall be eligible for discount or purchase by a savings bank, the proceeds of which have been used or are to be used for any of the following purposes:

(1) For permanent or fixed investments of any kind such as lands, buildings, machinery, including therein additions, alterations or other permanent improvements except such as are properly to be regarded as costs of operation.

(2) For investments of a merely speculative character whether made in goods or otherwise.

(3) Must not have been issued for carrying or trading in stocks, bonds or other investment securities.

(4) Must not be a bill of any individual, firm or corporation which has under pledge or hypothecation any of its personal assets, or which has any contingent liability arising from the rediscount of bills receivable, or from accommodation indorsements of such individual, firm or corporation.

The word "bill" when used in this section shall be construed to include notes, drafts or bills of exchange and the word "goods" shall be construed to include goods, wares or merchandise.

Any savings bank purchasing or discounting such paper shall have in a file maintained for the purpose, letters from banks and merchants or mercantile reports bearing upon the credit and standing of the person, firm, copartnership or corporation whose paper is under discount.

No savings bank shall at any time acquire by discount or purchase an amount of such commercial paper greater than five per centum of its deposits nor shall any savings bank acquire, directly or indirectly, by discount or purchase, any such commercial paper of any one person, firm, copartnership or corporation in an amount which shall exceed five per centum of the capital and surplus of such bank.

2. Loans on bonds. No savings bank shall invest or loan an amount greater than fifty per centum of its actual paid-up capital and surplus on any one bond issue of the class specified in paragraph (h) of subdivision (3) of section sixty-one of this act, nor more than five per centum of its assets on any one bond issue of any other class, except bonds of the United States, of the state of California, bonds for which the faith and credit of the United States or of the state of California are pledged, or bonds of any county, city and county, city or school district in this state, or bonds of any irrigation district such as are legal for investment by savings banks.

3. No savings bank shall loan money:

(a) On bonds of the character specified in paragraph (a), (b), (c), and (d) of subdivision (3) of section sixty-one of this act, or on bonds of the character specified in paragraph (e) of subdivision (3) of section sixty-one of this act the principal and interest of which are to be paid in whole or in part by taxes levied upon the property in the district issuing such bonds, unless such bonds shall have a market value at least ten per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(b) On bonds of the character specified in paragraphs (f) and (g) or on bonds or notes of the character specified in paragraph (i) of subdivision (3) of section sixty-one of this act, or on bonds of the character specified in paragraph (e) of subdivision (3) of section sixty-one of this act other than those specified in the preceding paragraph of this section, unless such bonds or notes shall have a market value at least fifteen per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or

(c) On bonds legal for investment by savings banks in the states of New York or Massachusetts, unless such bonds shall have a market value at least fifteen per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(d) On personal property unless such personal property shall have a market value at least fifty per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(e) On other bonds, or on the capital stock of any corporation, unless such bonds or stock shall have a market value at least fifty per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; provided, however, that no loan shall be made upon the capital stock of any bank unless such bank has been in existence at least two years and has earned and paid a dividend on its capital stock.

4. Loans on real estate. No savings bank shall make any loan on the security of real estate, except it be a first lien, and in no event to exceed sixty per centum of the market value of any real estate taken as security except for the purpose of facilitating the sale of property owned by such savings bank; provided, that a second lien may be accepted to secure the repayment of a debt previously contracted in good faith; and provided, also, that any savings bank holding a first mortgage or deed of trust on real estate may take or purchase and hold or loan upon another and immediately subsequent mortgage or deed of trust thereon, but all such loans shall not exceed in the aggregate sixty per centum of the market value of the real estate securing the same; provided, further, that a savings bank may loan not to exceed ninety per centum of the face value of a note or bond secured by a first mortgage or deed of trust on real estate, but in no event shall any such loan exceed ninety per centum of sixty per centum of the market value of the real estate covered by said mortgage or deed of trust.

5. Loans on capital stock of corporations. No loans on mining stock. No savings bank shall loan to any one borrower on the security of the capital stock of any corporation an amount exceeding ten per centum of the capital stock and surplus of such savings bank; provided, that all loans on the capital stock of any one corporation shall not exceed in the aggregate twenty-five per centum of the capital stock and surplus of such savings bank. No savings bank shall purchase, invest or loan its capital, surplus or the money of its depositors, or any part of either, in mining shares or stock.

Any president or managing officer who knowingly consents to a violation of any provision of this section shall be guilty of a felony. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 594.]

§ 68. Total reserves of savings bank. Deposits with commercial banks. Every savings bank or savings department of a bank, shall at all times maintain total reserves equivalent to five per centum of the aggregate amount of its deposits exclusive of state, county and municipal deposits for the repayment of which bonds have been deposited as security; at least two and one-half per centum of such deposits shall be maintained as reserves on hand, one-half of which shall consist of gold coin, gold bullion, United States gold certificates or United States notes and one-half of which shall consist of gold coin, gold bullion, United States gold certificates, United States notes or any other form of currency authorized by the laws of the United States and two and one-half per centum of such deposits may be maintained as reserves on hand and may consist of bonds of the United States or of gold coin, gold bullion, United States gold certificates, United States notes or any other form of currency authorized by the laws of the United States or may be maintained as reserves on deposit subject to call with any reserve depositary provided for in section twenty of this act; provided, however, that no savings bank or savings department shall be required to maintain reserves on hand in excess of four hundred thousand dollars, and when such reserves on hand reach that amount, the balance of total reserves necessary to make up the five per centum may be kept as reserves on deposit subject to call with any reserve depositary provided for in section twenty of this act. No new loan shall be made during any deficiency in the total reserves. Deposits with any commercial bank, or commercial department of a bank, on open account, as provided in this section, shall be permitted, and shall not be construed as loans. Not more than five per centum of the deposits of any savings bank shall be deposited with any one bank, except with the consent of the superintendent of banks. Not more than fifteen per centum of the deposits of any savings bank shall be deposited with all commercial banks, except with the consent of the superintendent of banks. No savings bank or savings department shall receive deposits of other banks other than savings deposits and such deposits shall not be treated or considered as a part of the reserves on deposit of such depositing bank; provided, the sum so deposited shall not exceed thirty per centum of the paid-in capital and surplus of the depositing bank nor more than fifteen per centum of the paid-in capital and surplus of the depositary bank. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 611.]

§ 80. Loans of commercial banks without security. With security. Restrictions not applicable to bills of exchange, etc. Computing liabilities to commercial bank. No commercial bank shall make any loans, directly or indirectly, to any person, firm, copartnership or corporation, in an amount which, including therein any extension of credit to such person, firm, copartnership or corporation, by means of letters of credit, or by acceptance of drafts for, or the discount or purchase of the notes, bills of exchange or other obligations of, such person, firm, copartnership or corporation, shall exceed the following percentage of its capital and surplus.

1. Ten per centum without security, except where such capital stock and surplus is not more than twenty-five thousand dollars, in which event an amount not to exceed twenty per centum of such capital stock and surplus may be loaned without security, and where such capital stock and surplus is greater than twenty-five thousand dollars and does not exceed fifty thousand dollars, a sum not exceeding five thousand dollars may be loaned without security. Nothing herein shall prohibit any commercial bank from taking or receiving any kind, character or amount of security whatsoever, either real or personal, for the protection of any loan made under the provisions of this subdivision, but no such loan or any part thereof shall be considered or construed as a secured loan unless the whole thereof is loaned upon security worth at least fifteen per centum more than the amount of such loan; or,

2. Fifteen per centum, in addition to the amount that may be loaned under the provisions of subdivision one of this section, upon security worth at least fifteen per centum more than the amount of such loan so secured; provided, the total amount which can be loaned under subdivisions one and two hereof cannot exceed twenty-five per centum in all; provided, however, that a separate note or notes shall be taken for the unsecured loans and a separate note or notes shall be taken for the secured loans, and the secured and unsecured loans shall not be combined in any way within one note, or notes; or,

3. Twenty-five per centum upon security worth at least fifteen per centum more than the amount of its loans so secured; provided, however, that when secured loans to this amount or any amount in excess of fifteen per centum are made, then no unsecured loans shall be permitted in addition to such secured loans; or

4. Forty per centum, provided such loans are upon commercial or business paper actually owned by the person negotiating the same to such bank, and are indorsed by such person without limitation; provided, however, that in addition to the amounts permitted to be loaned by subdivisions one, two or three of this section, an amount may be loaned on the securities fixed by subdivision four of this section, which taken with the amounts so permitted by said subdivisions one, two or three will not exceed forty per centum; provided, also, that the restrictions under this section shall not apply to bills of exchange or drafts, with bills of lading attached, drawn in good faith against actual existing values; provided, further, that any commercial bank, having first obtained in writing the consent of the superintendent of banks so to do and under such conditions and regulations as may be prescribed by him, may accept drafts or bills of exchange drawn upon it running for a period not longer than six months, but no commercial bank shall accept such drafts or bills of exchange in an amount greater at any time in the outstanding aggregate than one-half of its capital and surplus; but such acceptance or acceptances must be drawn by a person, firm, copartnership or corporation engaged in agricultural, industrial or commercial business directly connected with the production, manufacture, purchase, sale or consignment of the goods involved in the transaction in which the acceptance originated; provided, however, that no such acceptance or acceptances to any one person, firm, copartnership or corporation shall exceed ten per centum of the capital and surplus of such bank.

Loans which are made upon security available for loans in a savings bank may be made in a commercial bank upon the same margin of security as is permitted to savings banks anything in this section to the contrary notwithstanding, and all such loans shall be deemed to be secured loans within the meaning of this section.

In computing the total liabilities of any person to a commercial bank there shall be included all liabilities to the bank of any copartnership or unincorporated association of which he is a member, and any loans made for his benefit or for the benefit of such copartnership or unincorporated association; of any firm, copartnership or unincorporated association to a commercial bank there shall be included all liabilities of its individual members and all loans made for the benefit of such copartnership or unincorporated association or any member thereof; and of any corporation to a commercial bank there shall be included all loans made for the benefit of the corporation. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 611.]

§ 83. Loans to officer, etc., of commercial bank. Credit to directors, etc. Report to superintendent of banks. Penalty. Not applicable to what corporations. No loan shall be made for himself or as agent or partner of another, directly or indirectly, to any officer of any commercial bank by such bank or on the indorsement, surety, or guaranty of any such officer; provided, that a loan may be made to a corporation of which any officer of a commercial bank, proposing to make such loan, is a minority stockholder, director, officer, agent or employee. Loans to any director, agent or employee, other than an officer, or to any firm, copartnership or corporation of which any director, agent or employee other than an officer is a member, stockholder, director, officer, agent or other employee, or to any person, firm, copartnership or corporation on the indorsement, surety, or guaranty of any such director other than an officer, agent or other employee, can be made by any commercial bank; and provided, further, that a loan may be made or a line of credit may be given to any member of an advisory board or body of a commercial bank, not otherwise an officer of such bank, or a loan may be made to any firm, copartnership or corporation of which any member of such advisory board or body is a member, stockholder, director, officer, agent or other employee, or to any person, firm, copartnership, or corporation on the indorsement, surety, or guaranty of any such member of such advisory board or body upon such conditions as are herein fixed for a loan, directly or indirectly, or a line of credit and the report thereof, to any director of such bank. Loans herein authorized can be made only on authorization of or confirmation within thirty days after making such loan, by a majority of all the directors of such bank and the affirmative vote of all directors of such bank present at the meeting authorizing or confirming such loan. Such interested director shall not vote or participate in any manner in the action of the board on such loan. The board of directors of any such bank may fix the total amount of credit that may at any one time during the twelve months next succeeding be given to any director, agent, or other employee, other than an officer, or to any firm, copartnership, or corporation in which any director, agent, or other employee other than an officer is a member, stockholder, director, officer, agent or other employee or to any corporation of which any officer of a commercial bank, proposing to fix such total amount of credit, is a minority stockholder, director, officer, agent or employee, and any or all loans made within or up to the total amount of such authorized credit may at any time during said twelve months, be renewed from time to time, in whole or in part, by the officers of the bank without any further vote or action on the part of the board of directors. Each such authorization shall be entered upon the records or minutes of said bank. No director shall vote or participate in any manner in such action of the board fixing the total amount of credit that may at any one time be given to himself or to any firm, copartnership or corporation in which he is a member, stockholder, director, officer, agent or other employee. The fact of making such loan, the names of the directors authorizing such loan, the name of the director, agent or employee, obtaining such loan, or the name of the firm, copartnership or corporation in which such director, agent or employee is interested or the name of the corporation, of which any officer of a commercial bank is a minority stockholder, director, officer, agent or employee, obtaining such loan, the amount of such loan, the rate of interest thereon, the time when the loan will become due, the amount, character and value of security given therefor, if any, and the fact of final payment when made shall forthwith be reported in writing by the cashier or secretary of such bank to the superintendent of banks. In case a loan is made to a corporation there shall be reported in the same manner the name of each director and officer of such bank who is a member, stockholder, director, officer or employee of such borrowing corporation and the amount of stock held by him in such borrowing corporation. All the provisions of this section relating to reports shall apply to the granting of credit and all loans made under any credit given and payments made thereon shall also be reported immediately after the same are made. In case of a loan made without the previous authorization of the directors, the fact of making such loan shall forthwith be reported and the action of the board of directors, in confirming or refusing to confirm such loan within thirty days thereafter, and the fact of final payment when made shall be reported in the same manner as herein required for loans made under previous authorization. Any officer, director, agent, or employee of a commercial bank, who knowingly procures a loan from such commercial bank contrary to the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a felony. In case of the neglect or failure of the secretary or cashier of any such bank to report to the superintendent of banks, as herein provided, any of the facts so required to be reported, or in case of the neglect or failure of the secretary or cashier of any such bank, to report to the superintendent of banks any loan made contrary to the provisions of this section, the bank shall be liable therefor and shall forfeit to the people of the state of California twenty-five dollars per day for each day, or part thereof, during which such neglect or failure continues.

This section shall not apply to any loan made to a religious corporation, club, or other membership corporation of which one or more directors, officers, agents or employees of such commercial bank may be members or officers but in which they have no financial interest. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 613.]

§ 90. Trust companies. May receive deposits. Segretion of capital and surplus in cities of less than 100,000. In cities of more than 100,000. Separate kinds of capitol. Oath may be taken by officer. Authority of foreign corporation as trustee. Any corporation which has been or shall be incorporated under the laws of this state, which is authorized by its articles of incorporation to act as executor, administrator, guardian of estates, assignee, receiver, depositary or trustee, under appointment of any court or by authority of any law of this state, or as trustee for any purpose permitted by law, which has its principal place of business in a city in which the population does not exceed one hundred thousand persons and which has a capital of not less than one hundred thousand dollars actually paid in, in cash, assigned to or available for the purpose of conducting business in any such capacity, or trust business of any character permitted by law, and which has made the state treasurer the deposit of money or securities of the character and in the amount required by the terms of section ninety-six of this act, and which has received from the superintendent of banks the certificate of authority required by the terms of section one hundred twenty-seven of this act, to transact such business, and any corporation which has been or shall be incorporated under the laws of this state, which is authorized by its articles of incorporation to act as executor, administrator, guardian of estates, assignee, receiver, depositary or trustee, under appointment of any court or by authority of any law of this state, or as trustee for any purpose permitted by law, which has its principal place of business in a city in which the population exceeds one hundred thousand persons and which has a capital of at least two hundred thousand dollars actually paid in, in cash, assigned to or available for the purpose of conducting business in any such capacity, or trust business of any character permitted by law, and which has made with the state treasurer the deposit of money or securities of the character and in the amount required by the terms of section ninety-six of this act, and which has received from the superintendent of banks the certificate of authority required by the terms of section one hundred twenty-seven of this act, to transact such business, may act, or may be appointed by any court to act in such capacity in like manner as an individual and when so qualified shall be known as a trust company. Any such trust company may, as provided in this act, accept or receive any deposit of money or personal property authorized, directed or permitted to be made with any such corporation by an court or law of this state, and may accept and execute any trust provided for in this act, or permitted by any law of this state, to be taken, accepted or executed by an individual. Any such trust company, if located in a city the population of which does not exceed one hundred thousand persons must segregate that portion of its capital and surplus assigned to or available for its trust business and must apportion and set aside at least fifty thousand dollars of such paid-up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all private trusts accepted by it and must also apportion and set aside at least fifty thousand dollars of such paid-up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all court trusts accepted by it and whenever such trust company shall, under the provision of sections ninety-six and ninety-eight of this act, be required to make the first additional deposit of securities with the state treasurer, such trust company must also apportion and set aside an additional fifty thousand dollars of paid-up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all private trusts accepted by it and must also apportion and set aside an additional fifty thousand dollars of paid-up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all court trusts accepted by it, and any such trust company, if located in a city, the population of which exceeds one hundred thousand persons must segregate that portion of its capital and surplus assigned to or available for its trust business and must apportion and set aside at least one hundred thousand dollars of such paid up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all private trusts accepted by it and must also apportion and set aside at least one hundred thousand dollars of such paid-up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all courts trusts accepted by it; provided, that no such trust company shall at any time be required to apportion and set aside any portion of its surplus as security for the faithful performance and execution of such private trusts, nor shall it be prohibited from so doing; and provided, further, that the respective amounts of capital or capital and surplus so apportioned and set aside shall be treated in all respects as the separate capital or capital and surplus of each respective kind or class of business, as though the same were conducted by separate and distinct corporations, and each shall be kept, held, used and disposed of wholly for the exclusive benefit, protection and security of the respective classes of trust business to which the same were respectively so apportioned and set aside. In all cases in which it is required that an executor, administrator, guardian of estates, assignee, receiver, depositary or trustee, shall qualify by taking and subscribing an oath, or in which an affidavit is required, it shall be a sufficient qualification by such corporation if such oath be taken and subscribed or such affidavit made by the president, vice-president, secretary, manager, trust officer, assistant trust officer or regularly employed attorney thereof, and such officer or employee shall be liable for the failure of such trust company to perform any of the duties required by law to be performed by an individual acting in like capacity and subject to like penalties; provided, any such appointment as guardian shall apply to the estate only, and not to the person. A foreign corporation may be authorized to act in this state as trustee for the following purposes:

(1) To deliver bonds, and receive payment therefor.

(2) To deliver permanent bonds in exchange for temporary bonds of the same issue.

(3) To deliver refunding bonds in exchange for those of a prior issue or issues.

(4) To register bonds, or to exchange registered bonds for coupon bonds, or coupon bonds for registered bonds.

(5) To pay interest on such bonds, and to take up and cancel coupons representing such interest payments.

(6) To redeem and cancel bonds when called for redemption, or to pay and cancel bonds when due.

(7) The certification of registered bonds for the purpose of exchanging registered bonds for coupon bonds.

(8) To act as trustee under any mortgage, deed or trust, or other instrument securing notes or bonds issued by any corporation. [Amendment, approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 615.]

§ 98. When trust funds amount to $500,000. When funds amount to $1,000,000. Treasurer's receipt, "Trust funds." Penalty. Withdrawal of securities. Validity of act. Whenever any trust company, the principal place of business of which is located in a city the population of which does not exceed one hundred thousand persons, receives from court trusts accepted by it, trust funds, as herein defined, to the amount of five hundred thousand dollars, it shall forthwith notify in writing the superintendent of banks of such fact, and within thirty days thereafter shall deposit with the state treasurer additional money or securities of the character mentioned and defined in section ninety-six of this act, approved as therein provided, in the amount of fifty thousand dollars; and whenever any trust company receives from court trusts such funds to the amount of one million dollars it shall further notify in writing the superintendent of banks of such fact and within thirty days thereafter shall deposit with the state treasurer additional money or securities of the character mentioned and defined in section ninety-six of this act, approved as therein provided, in the amount of fifty thousand dollars; and for each additional five hundred thousand dollars of such trust funds thereafter received by any trust company from court trusts a similar notification in writing shall forthwith be given to the superintendent of banks, and a further deposit in the amount of twenty-five thousand dollars of such money or securities, or of securities, provided for in section ninety-seven of this act likewise approved, shall be made, within thirty days thereafter, by such trust company with said state treasurer, until five hundred thousand dollars of such securities have been so deposited. The treasurer shall give his receipt for any money or securities so deposited and each and all of such deposits of money or securities, shall be held by said state treasurer for the sole benefit of the beneficiaries of the class of business for the security and protection of which same were deposited. The state shall be responsible for the custody and safe return of any money or securities so deposited with said state treasurer. The term "trust funds" when used in this section shall be deemed to mean and shall mean personal property and cash, whether received with the original trust property or as rent, income or proceeds thereof, in connection with the trust, and shall not be deemed to include and shall not include real property. Any trust company failing to comply with the provisions of this section shall forfeit to the state of California one hundred dollars a day for each day during which such failure or default shall continue. Upon making a request in writing to the superintendent of banks, any such trust company shall be entitled to withdraw from the state treasurer, from time to time, a sufficient amount of such securities so that at all times the amount of such securities so deposited shall conform to the requirements of this act, and so that at no time shall such trust company be required to have on deposit with the state treasurer an amount of securities in excess of the requirements of this act. Upon receiving such request in writing, and satisfactory proof of the facts warranting such withdrawal, it shall be the duty of the superintendent of banks to forthwith deliver to the state treasurer a written order directing the withdrawal of said securities so as to conform with the provisions of this section and it shall be the duty of the state treasurer to comply with such written order. The validity or legality of any act or proceeding done or taken by any such trust company, relating to or in connection with the administration of any such trusts shall not be affected or impaired by the neglect or failure of such trust company, or of any officer or employee thereof, to comply with any of the provisions of this act, but all such acts and proceedings done or taken prior to the revocation of its certificate of authority to do such business by the superintendent of banks, under the provisions of this act, or the revocation by any court or judge thereof of the appointment, order or decree theretofore entered in such trust matter shall be as valid and effective for all purposes as if any such neglect or failure had not occurred. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 617.]

§ 128. Certificate of authorization issued. When the certified copy of articles of incorporation of any bank shall have been filed with the secretary of state, and application made for the issuance of a certificate to do business as a bank, the superintendent of banks, provided he has not withheld granting his certificate for any of the reasons set forth in section one hundred twenty-seven hereof, shall ascertain, from the best sources of information at his command, whether the character and general fitness of the persons named as stockholders are such as to command the confidence of the community in which such bank is proposed to be located, and, if so satisfied, he shall, within sixty days after such application has been made to him, issue, under his hand and official seal, the certificate of authorization required by this act. The superintendent of banks shall file a duplicate of such certificate in his own office. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 619.]

§ 139. Duty of board of directors. Report. Contents of report. When no examination made. Special examination by superintendent of banks. Report. It shall be the duty of the board of directors of every bank to examine fully, or to cause a committee of at least three of its members, none of whom shall be an officer of the bank, to examine fully into the books, papers and affairs of the bank of which they are directors, and particularly into the loans and discounts thereof, with a special view to ascertaining the value and security thereof, and of the collateral security, if any given, in connection therewith, and into such other matters as the superintendent of banks may require; such examination to be made at least once a year, but no such subsequent yearly examinations shall be made within three months of the next preceding examination. Such directors shall have power to employ such assistance in making such examinations as they may deem necessary. Within thirty days after the completion of such examination, a report in writing thereof, sworn to by the directors making the same, shall be made by the board of directors of such bank, and placed on file with the records of said bank, and shall be subject to examination by the superintendent of banks.

Such report shall particularly contain a statement of the assets and liabilities of the bank examined, as shown by its books, together with any deductions from the assets, or additions to liabilities, which such directors or committee, after such examination, may determine to make. It shall also contain a statement, in detail, of loans, if any, which in their opinion are worthless or doubtful, together with their reasons for so regarding them; also a statement of loans made on collateral security, which in their opinion are insufficiently secured, giving in each case the amount of the loan, the name and market value of the collateral, if it has any market value, and, if not, a statement of that fact, and its actual value as nearly as possible. Such report shall also contain a statement of overdrafts, of the names and amounts of such as they consider worthless or doubtful, and a full statement of such other matters as affect the solvency and soundness of the bank.

If the directors of such bank shall fail to make such examination or fail to cause it to be made, or shall fail to file such report of such examination in the manner and within the time specified, the superintendent of banks shall have authority to make or cause to be made an extra examination of such bank, at the expense of such bank.

Whenever the board of directors of any bank may determine by resolution, duly entered in its minutes, that a special examination shall be made or caused to be made by the superintendent of banks in lieu of the examination herein required to be made by the board of directors of such bank, a certified copy of such resolution shall be transmitted to the superintendent of banks, whereupon it shall be the duty of the superintendent of banks to make or cause to be made a special examination of the affairs of such bank in lieu of the examination of such bank by the board of directors thereof. Such special examination shall be made at such time as the superintendent of banks may determine but in any event such examination shall be made within sixty days after the receipt by the superintendent of banks of the resolution hereinbefore referred to. The cost of making such examination shall be a charge against the bank for which such examination is made.

Upon the completion of such examination the superintendent of banks shall cause a report thereof in writing to be prepared and delivered to the board of directors of such bank at such time as may be fixed by the superintendent of banks, but not later than thirty days after the completion of such examination. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 619.]

§ 142. Official reports prima facie. Every official report made by the superintendent of banks and every report duly verified of an examination made, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated, for all purposes in any action or proceedings wherein the superintendent of banks is a party. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 620.]

§ 145. Powers abridged, enlarged or modified. Investments made prior to July 1, 1909. The powers, privileges, duties and restrictions conferred and imposed upon any corporation or individual existing and doing business under the laws of this state are hereby abridged, enlarged or modified as each particular case may require to conform to the provisions of this act, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in their respective articles of incorporation or charters. All the provisions of this act shall apply with equal force and effect to all corporations which are now doing or which may hereafter do a banking business in this state, except where express exception or exemption may be made herein, and to such other persons, associations, copartnerships or corporations who shall, by violating any of its provisions, become subject to the penalties provided herein. The legality of investments heretofore made, or title to property heretofore acquired or conveyed through transactions heretofore had by any bank pursuant to any provision of law in force when such investments were made or transactions had, shall not be affected by the provisions of this act, except that any such investments made prior to July 1, 1909, when not complying with the provisions hereof, shall be changed to conform hereto; but such change shall be made gradually and in such maner as to prevent loss or embarrassment in the business of such bank, or unnecessary loss or injury to the borrowers on such security; provided that the legality of any investments heretofore lawfully made, pursuant to the provisions of this act as it existed on and subsequent to July 1, 1909, shall not be affected by the provisions of this section. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 620.]

An act relating to the liquidation of banks by the superintendent of banks; empowering him to levy assessments against the members and stockholders of any bank in process of liquidation by him to an amount which he may determine to be necessary to promptly pay the creditors of such bank in full; to enforce such assessments by suit and empowering the superior court to determine the equities of the members and stockholders of any such bank to any surplus which may remain after the payment of the creditors of such bank in full and to award and distribute the same accordingly.

[Approved May 17, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 581. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Assessment of stockholders to pay creditors. Whenever the superintendent of banks shall hereafter take possession of the business and property of any bank doing business in this state for the purpose of liquidating its affairs, as provided by law, he may at any time during the process of such liquidation determine whether it shall be necessary to assess the members or stockholders of such bank in order to promptly pay the claims of the creditors of such bank in full and he shall make such assessments as he may determine to be necessary for that purpose.

§ 2. Complaint. Such determination shall be evidenced by a complaint or petition against all of the members and stockholders of such bank filed by the superintendent of banks in the superior court of the county where the principal place of business of such bank is or was located at the time of the taking of such possession.

§ 3. Further assessments. If such assessment, first made, shall prove inadequate to pay all of the creditors of such bank in full the superintendent of banks may make further assessments or assessments by filing supplemental complaints or petition in the same proceeding.

§ 4. Proceeds applied. In any such proceeding such assessment shall be enforced and collected and the proceeds thereof shall be added to the funds of such bank and applied by the superintendent of banks for the payment of just claims against the same.

§ 5. Payment of surplus. If after the payment of all just claims against such bank and the cost of liquidation any surplus shall remain said court shall determine the equities of the respective members and stockholders of such bank thereto and direct the payment thereof by the superintendent of banks accordingly.

§ 6. Action to collect assessments. The superintendent of banks shall have power to maintain an action in any other state or country to enforce and collect such assessments against any of such members or stockholders and the proceeds thereof shall become a part of the fund and be subject to the same disposition as if collected in the proceedings provided for in this act.

§ 7. Effect on prior actions. This act shall not affect any action or proceeding instituted by the superintendent of banks prior to its enactment.

§ 8. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portion of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional or its operation or application is or may be limited or controlled by any constitutional provision.

TITLE 50.

BENEFIT SOCIETIES.

ACT 313.

An act for the regulation and control of fraternal benefit societies.

[Approved May 1, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 1320.]

Amended 1915, p. 1273; 1917, pp. 164, 785, 1651.

The amendments of 1917 follow:

§ 6. Beneficiaries. Beneficiaries of fraternal benefit societies. The payment of death benefits shall be confined to wife, husband, relative by blood to the fourth degree, father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, stepfather, stepmother, stepchildren, children by legal adoption, or to a person or persons dependent upon the member; provided, that if there is not living any person above designated, the member may designate any friend as his beneficiary, or may direct that said benefit be paid to his estate; provided, further, that if after the issuance of the original certificate the member shall become dependent upon an incorporated charitable institution, he shall have the privilege, with the consent of the society, to make such institution his beneficiary. Within the above restrictions each member shall have the right to designate his beneficiary, and, from time to time, have the same changed in accordance with the laws, rules or regulations of the society, and no beneficiary shall have or obtain any vested interest in the said benefit until the same has become due and payable upon the death of said member; provided, that any society may, by its laws, limit the scope of beneficiaries within the above classes. [Amendment approved May 21, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 785.]

§ 23a. Provisions to insure future security. If the valuation of the certificates, as hereinbefore provided, on December 31, 1917, shall show that the present value of future net contributions, together with the admitted assets, is less than the present value of the promised benefits and accrued liabilities, such society shall thereafter at least maintain said financial condition at each succeeding triennial valuation in respect of the degree of deficiency as shown in the valuation as of December 31, 1917. If at any succeeding triennial valuation such society does not show at least the same condition, the insurance commissioner shall direct that it thereafter comply with the requirements herein specified. If the next succeeding triennial valuation after the receipt of such notice shall show that the society has failed to maintain the condition required herein, the insurance commissioner may, in the absence of good cause shown for such failure, institute proceedings for the dissolution of such society, in accordance with the provision of section twenty-four of this act, or in the case of a foreign society, its license may be cancelled in the manner provided in this act.

Any such society, shown by any triennial valuation, subsequent to December 31, 1917, not to have maintained the condition herein required, shall, within two years thereafter, make such improvement as to show a percentage of deficiency not greater than as of December 31, 1917, or thereafter, as to all new members admitted, be subject, so far as stated rates of contributions are concerned, to the provisions of section twelve of this act, applicable in the organization of new societies; provided, that the net mortuary or beneficiary contributions and funds of such new members shall be kept separate and apart from the other funds of the society. If such required improvement is not shown by the succeeding triennial valuation, then the said new members may be placed in a separate class and their certificates valued as an independent society in respect of contributions and funds. [Amendment approved April 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 164.]

§ 23b. Value of certificates on "accumulation basis." Value of certificate on "tabular basis." Table of rates and credits. In lieu of the requirements of sections twenty-three and twenty-three a, any society accepting in its laws the provisions of this section may value its certificates on a basis, herein designated "accumulation basis," by crediting each member with the net amount contributed for each year and with interest at approximately the net rate earned and by charging him with his share of the losses for each year, herein designated "cost of insurance" and carrying the balance, if any, to his credit. The charge for the cost of insurance may be according to the actual experience of the society applied to a table of mortality recognized by the law of this state, and shall take into consideration the amount at risk during each year, which shall be the amount payable at death less the credit to the member. Except as specifically provided in its articles or laws or contracts no charge shall be carried forward from the first valuation hereunder against any member for any past share of losses exceeding the contributions and credit. If, after the first valuation, any member's share of losses for any year exceeds his credit including the contribution for the year, the contribution shall be increased to cover his share of the losses, and if the credit at the time any benefit becomes payable during the lifetime of the member, including any available funds does not equal such benefit, the contributions to be made by him or on his behalf shall be increased by the difference. Any such excess share of losses chargeable to any member may be paid out of a fund or contributions especially created or required for such purpose.

Any member may transfer to any plan adopted by the society with net rates on which tabular reserves are maintained and on such transfer shall be entitled to make such application of his credit as provided in the laws of the society.

Certificates issued, rerated or readjusted on a basis providing for adequate rates with adequate reserves to mature such certificates upon assumptions for mortality and interest recognized by the law of this state shall be valued on such basis, herein designated the "tabular basis"; provided, that if on the first valuation under this section a deficiency in reserve shall be shown for any such certificate, the same shall be valued on the accumulation basis.

Whenever in any society having members upon the tabular basis and upon the accumulation basis, the total of all costs of insurance provided for any year shall be insufficient to meet the actual death and disability losses for the year, the deficiency shall be met for the year from the available funds after setting aside all credits in the reserve; or from increased contributions or by an increase in the number of assessments applied to the society as a whole or to classes of members as may be specified in its laws. Savings from a lower amount of death losses may be returned in like manner as may be specified in its laws.

If the laws of the society so provide, the assets representing the reserves of any separate class of members may be carried separately for such class as if an independent society, and the required reserve accumulation of such class so set apart shall not thereafter be mingled with the assets of other classes of the society.

A table showing the rates being paid by and the credits to individual members at each age and year of entry, and showing opposite each credit the tabular rates and the tabular reserve required, or at the option of the society the required reserve on a level rate equivalent to that being paid, according to assumptions for mortality and interest recognized by the laws of this state and adopted by the society, and, in either case, including any benefit payable at a specified age or on account of old age disability shall be filed by the society with each annual report and also be furnished to each member before July first of each year.

In lieu of the aforesaid statement there may be furnished to each member within the same time a statement giving the data aforesaid for such member. No table or statement need be made or furnished when the reserves are maintained on the tabular basis.

For this purpose, individual bookkeeping accounts for each member shall not be required and all calculations may be made by actuarial methods.

Nothing herein contained shall prevent the maintenance of such surplus over and above the credits on the accumulation basis and the reserves on the tabular basis as the society may provide by or pursuant to its laws; nor be construed as giving to the individual member any right or claim to any such reserve or credit other than in manner as expressed in the contract and its laws; nor as making any such reserve or credits a liability in determining the legal solvency of the society. [New section added April 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 164.]

§ 31a. Penalty for officer, etc., borrowing funds. Any officer, director, agent or employee of any fraternal benefit society who shall directly or indirectly for himself or as partner or agent of others borrow any of the funds of such society or become indorser or surety for loans to others or in any manner be obligor for moneys borrowed or loaned by such society shall be guilty of a felony. [New section added June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1651.]

§ 31b. Penalty for officer, etc., receiving reward for aiding loan. Any officer, trustee, agent or employee of a fraternal benefit society who asks or receives or consents or agrees to receive any commission, emolument, gratuity or reward or any money, property or thing of value for his own personal benefit, or of personal advantage, for procuring or endeavoring to procure for any person, firm or corporation any loans from the trust funds of, or funds belonging to, a fraternal benefit society shall be guilty of a felony. [New section added June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1651.]

ACT 316.

An act to provide whole family protection for members of fraternal benefit societies.

[Approved April 20, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 144. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Fraternal benefit society may insure children. Total benefits payable. Any fraternal benefit society authorized to do business in this state and operating on the lodge plan, may provide in its constitution and by-laws, in addition to other benefits provided for therein, for the payment of death or annuity benefits upon the lives of children between the ages of two and eighteen years at next birthday, for whose support and maintenance a member of such society is responsible. Any such society may at its option, organize and operate branches for such children and membership in local lodges and initiation therein shall not be required of such children, nor shall they have any voice in the management of the society. The total benefits payable as above provided shall in no case exceed the following amounts at ages at next birthday at time of death, respectively, as follows: Two, thirty-four dollars; three, forty dollars; four, forty-eight dollars; five, fifty-eight dollars; six, one hundred forty dollars; seven, one hundred sixty-eight dollars; eight, two hundred dollars; nine, two hundred forty dollars; ten, three hundred dollars; eleven, three hundred eighty dollars; twelve, four hundred sixty dollars; thirteen to fifteen, five hundred twenty dollars; and sixteen to eighteen years, where not otherwise authorized by law, six hundred dollars.

§ 2. Conditions of benefit certificate. No benefit certificate as to any child shall take effect until after medical examination or inspection by a licensed medical practitioner, in accordance with the laws of the society, nor shall any such benefit certificate be issued unless the society shall simultaneously put in force at least five hundred such certificates, on each of which at least one assessment has been paid, nor where the number of lives represented by such certificate falls below five hundred. The death benefit contributions to be made upon such certificate shall be based upon the "standard industrial mortalty table" or the "English life table number six" and a rate of interest not greater than four per cent per annum, or upon a higher standard; provided, that contributions may be waived or returns may be made from any surplus held in excess of reserve and other liabilities, as provided in the by-laws; and provided, further, that extra contributions shall be made if the reserves hereafter provided for become impaired.

§ 3. Reserve required. Any society entering into such insurance agreements shall maintain on all such contracts the reserve required by the standard of mortality and interest adopted by the society for computing contributions as provided in section two, and the funds representing the benefit contributions and all accretions thereon shall be kept as separate and distinct funds, independent of the other funds of the society, and shall not be liable for nor used for the payment of the debts and obligations of the society other than the benefits herein authorized; provided, that a society may provide that when a child reaches the minimum age for initiation into membership in such society, any benefit certificate issued hereunder may be surrendered for cancellation and exchanged for any other form of certificate issued by the society, provided that such surrender will not reduce the number of lives insured in the branch below five hundred, and upon the issuance of such new certificate any reserve upon the original certificate herein provided for shall be transferred to the credit of the new certificate. Neither the person who originally made application for benefits on account of such child, nor the beneficiary named in such original certificate, nor the person who paid the contributions, shall have any vested right in such new certificate, the free nomination of a beneficiary under the new certificate being left to the child so admitted to benefit membership.

§ 4. Separate financial statement. An entirely separate financial statement of the business transactions and of assets and liabilities rising therefrom shall be made in its annual report to the insurance commissioner by any society availing itself of the provisions hereof. The separation of assets, funds and liabilities required hereby shall not be terminated, rescinded or modified, nor shall the funds be diverted for any use other than as specified in section three, as long as any certificates issued hereunder remain in force, and this requirement shall be recognized and enforced in any liquidation, reinsurance, merger or other change in the condition of the status of the society.

§ 5. Specified payments. Any society shall have the right to provide in its laws and the certificate issued hereunder for specified payments on account of the expense or general fund, which payments shall or shall not be mingled with the general fund of the society as its constitution and by-laws may provide.

§ 6. Continuation of certificate. In the event of the termination of membership in the society by the person responsible for the support of any child, on whose account a certificate may have been issued, as provided herein, the certificate may be continued for the benefit of the estate of the child, provided the contributions are continued, or for the benefit of any other person responsible for the support and maintenance of such child, who shall assume the payment of the required contributions.

TITLE 58a.

BOARD OF CONTROL.

ACT 356.

An act to authorize the state board of control to sell certain lands.

[Approved June 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1634.]

§ 1. Authority to sell certain lands. The state board of control is hereby authorized and empowered to sell in such manner and method and at such time as said board may deem best all or part of that certain property situated in the county of San Joaquin, state of California, and described as follows, to wit:

A portion of the east one-half of section eighteen of C. M. Weber's Grant El Rancho Del C. de Los Franceses, and being the south fifteen acres of the following described piece of land: Commencing for the same at a stake situated at the southwest corner of the Maxwell tract, and running thence along Betts west line south sixteen degrees, fifty-five minutes east, thirty-four and fifty one-hundredths chains to a stake; thence south seventy-three degrees five hundredths minutes west, eight and sixty-two and one-half one-hundredths chains to a point in the center line of a proposed road, said center line of said road being the easterly line of land now owned by Edw. Floyd Jones; thence along said easterly line of said land of said Edw. Floyd Jones north sixteen degrees and fifty-five minutes west, thirty-four and fifty hundredths chains to a point in Gray south line; thence along said Gray south line north seventy degrees and fifty-one minutes east eight and sixty-two and one-half one-hundredths chains to the point of beginning, containing thirty acres, more or less. Also an undivided one-half interest in the right of way granted by A. McCloud to Samuel Hewlett by deed dated the eleventh day of October, eighteen hundred sixty-nine.

§ 2. Expenses. The state board of control is hereby authorized to pay, out of the proceeds of said sale, the expenses necessarily incurred by said board in making such sale; which said proceeds, less the expenses so paid, shall be duly transferred by said board to the state treasurer.

§ 3. Deed. The governor is hereby authorized and directed to execute to the purchaser or purchasers of said property for and on behalf of and in the name of the state of California, a deed of conveyance of said property in the usual form of grant, bargain and sale and to deliver the same upon the payment of the full amount of the purchase price of said property; and said deed shall be effectual to pass and convey to said purchaser or purchasers all of the right, title, interest and estate of the state of California in and to said property.

BONDS.

ACT 387a.

An act making bonds of municipal water districts legal investments for certain purposes.

[Approved April 20, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 158. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Municipal water district bond; legal investments. All bonds heretofore or hereafter issued by any municipal water district under and in pursuance of the provisions of an act entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and organization and management of municipal water districts, and to provide for the acquisition or construction by said districts of waterworks, and for the acquisition of all property necessary therefor, and also to provide for the distribution and sale of water by said districts," approved May 1, 1911, as subsequently amended, shall be legal investments for all trust funds, and for the funds of all insurance companies, banks, both commercial and savings and trust companies, and for the state school funds, and whenever any moneys or funds may, by law now or hereafter enacted, be invested in bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts, or municipalities in the state of California, such moneys or funds may be invested in the said bonds of municipal water districts; provided, however, no bank shall invest or loan more than five per centum of its assets on any one such bond issue.

§ 2. Construction of act. This act is intended to be, and shall be considered, the latest enactment upon the matters herein contained, and is supplemental to any and all other acts regulating, relating to and declaring what shall be, legal investments.

ACT 389a.

An act to legalize bonds heretofore issued and sold, or to be issued and sold, by municipalities where authority for such issuance has already been given by a vote of not less than two-thirds of the electors of such municipality voting upon the question of incurring such indebtedness.

[Approved April 19, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 143. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Municipal bonds authorized by vote of electors legalized. In all cases where the legislative branch of any municipality in the state of California has deemed it necessary to incur any indebtedness in excess of the money in the treasury applicable to the purpose for which said indebtedness is to be incurred, and has called a special election for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of such municipality the question whether the indebtedness specified in the resolution or ordinance calling such election shall be incurred, and where at such election not less than two-thirds of all the qualified electors voting at such election shall have voted in favor of incurring such indebtedness, and such legislative branch of such municipality shall have passed an ordinance or resolution providing for the mode of creating such indebtedness and of paying the same, and the mode of creating such indebtedness has been by the proposed issuance of the bonds of such municipality, the power of such municipality to issue such bonds and all the acts and proceedings of such municipality leading up to and including the issuance and sale or the proposed issuance and sale of such bonds, are hereby legalized, ratified, confirmed and declared valid to all intents and purposes; and all such bonds, sold either before or after the passage of this act for not less than their par value are hereby legalized and declared to be legal and valid obligations of and against such municipality so issuing and selling the same, and the faith and credit of such municipality is hereby pledged for the prompt payment and redemption of the principal and interest of said bonds.

§ 2. Exception. This act shall not operate to legalize any bonds of any municipality that have not, at the time of the passage of this act, been authorized by the vote of not less than two-thirds of the qualified electors of such municipality voting at any such election, or any bonds which have been sold for less than their par value.

TITLE 69.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS.

ACT 428.

Building and loan commission act.

[Approved April 5, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 607.]

Amended 1911 (Ex. Sess.), p. 6, 1915, pp. 238, 992; 1917, pp. 426, 918. The amendments of 1917 follow:

§ 2. Building and loan commissioner. Secretary. The administration of said bureau shall be vested in a commissioner, to be known and designated as the "building and loan commissioner," who shall be appointed by the governor and commissioned to hold office at the pleasure of the governor. He must be a citizen of this state; and he must not be in any way connected with any association, corporation or society coming under his supervision. He shall appoint a secretary, who shall, ex officio, also be a deputy commissioner with full powers as such, and who must be a practical, skilled accountant, fully conversant with building and loan systems and accounts; he shall also appoint one deputy who shall be an accountant. [Amendment approved May 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 918.]

§ 3. Salaries. Office in San Francisco. The commissioner shall receive a salary of three thousand six hundred dollars per annum, the secretary shall receive a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum, and the deputy one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and such salaries shall be in full for all services rendered. There shall also be allowed and paid the necessary traveling expenses of the commissioner and the secretary, incurred while traveling in the line of their duties, not to exceed the sum of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum. The commissioner shall procure and have an office in the city of San Francisco, which office shall be kept open for business every business day, during such hours as are commonly observed by the banks of that city as banking hours. For such office there shall be allowed and paid a total rental of not exceeding seventy-five dollars per month. Said commissioner may also provide such fuel, stationery, printing, postage, office help and other necessary conveniences as may be requisite in such office, at a cost not to exceed in the aggregate the sum of one thousand six hundred dollars per annum. All said salaries and expenses shall be audited and paid in the same manner as the salaries and expenses of other state officers. [Amendment approved May 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 919.]

§ 15a. License to act as agent for sale of stock, etc. List of persons holding licenses. No person receiving compensation therefor, other than an officer, director or salaried employee, no part of whose compensation consists of commissions, or other than a local resident agent who has resided in the county in which he holds such local agency for a period of not less than one year prior to the time that he took such agency, of a building and loan association or other similar corporation or society which is duly licensed by the commissioner, shall act as solicitor or agent for the sale of the shares of stock, shares of membership, certificates or other securities or forms of investment issued by, or for the securing of loans from, any such association, corporation or society until he has first procured from the commissioner a license therefor. To obtain such license there must be filed with the commissioner a duplicate of the authorization or appointment issued to him by, together with a request from, a licensed association, corporation or society that a license be issued to him to act as an agent or solicitor for it, and accompanied by a fee of one dollar. All such licenses shall expire by limitation on the thirtieth day of June succeeding their issue, but may be renewed from time to time, for an additional period of one year upon a request therefor from the association, corporation or society originally applying, and payment of a renewal fee of one dollar. Any such license may be revoked at any time on the application of the association, corporation or society for whom it was issued, or may be revoked by the commissioner for cause.

The commissioner shall keep an alphabetical list of the names of persons to whom such licenses are issued with the date of issue and renewal, and the name of the association, corporation or society for whom such licensee is authorized to act. All such licenses shall be issued under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the commissioner. [New section added May 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 919.]

§ 17. Suit to collect assessments. Building and loan inspection fund. The collection of all moneys assessed, as herein provided, for the payment of salaries and annual expenses, or forfeitable as fines for failure to make payments of assessments, procure licenses, or make and file reports as herein specified, and due from any such association, corporation or society coming within the provisions of this act, or imposed as a penalty for violation of any order or summons, may be enforced by the commissioner by action instituted in any court of competent jurisdiction; and all moneys collected or received by the commissioner under this act, shall be deposited with the state treasurer, to be credited to a fund to be known and designated as the "building and loan inspection fund"; which said fund shall only be used in defraying the salaries and expenses provided for by this act; provided, however, that the commissioner may retain in his possession and under his control a sum not exceeding three hundred dollars to be used for the benefit of his office, as a revolving fund, for making advance payment of office rent and office expenses prior to the presentation and allowance of the periodical claims therefor. [Amendment approved May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 426.]

TITLE 69a.

BUILDINGS.

An act to provide for the establishment within municipalities of districts or zones within which the use of property, height of improvements and requisite open spaces for light and ventilation of such buildings, may be regulated by ordinance.

[Approved May 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1419. In effect July 30, 1917.]

§ 1. Cities may create districts with which buildings and trades regulated. For the public interest, health, comfort, convenience, preservation of the public peace, safety, morals, order and the public welfare, the city council, board of trustees or other legislative body of any incorporated city and town of California, hereinafter referred to as the council, may by ordinance create or divide the city in to districts within some of which it shall be lawful and within others of which it shall be unlawful to erect, construct, alter or maintain certain buildings, or to carry on certain trades or callings or within which the height and bulk of future buildings shall be limited.

§ 2. Restriction on location of industries, etc. The council may by ordinance regulate, restrict and segregate the location of industries, the several classes of business, trades or callings, the location of apartment or tenement houses, club houses, group residences, two-family dwellings, single family dwellings and the several classes of public and semi-public buildings, and the location of buildings or property designed for specified uses, and may divide the city into districts of such number, shape and area as the council may deem best suited to carry out the purposes of this act, subject to the provisions of section four hereof. For each such district regulations may be imposed designating the class of use that shall be excluded or subjected to special regulations and designating the uses for which buildings may not be erected or altered, or designating the class of use which only shall be permitted. Such regulations shall be designed to promote the public health, safety and general welfare. The council shall give reasonable consideration, among other things, to the character of the district, its peculiar suitability for particular uses, the conservation of property values and the direction of building development in accord with a well-considered plan.

§ 3. Regulations of height of buildings. Area of courts, etc. Uniform throughout district. The council may place reasonable regulations and limitations upon the height and bulk of buildings hereafter erected and regulate and determine the area of yards, courts and other open spaces, having due regard to the nature of the use and occupancy in such case. The council may divide the city into districts of such number, shape and area as the council may deem best suited to carry out the purpose of this act, subject to the provisions of section four hereof. The regulations as to the height and bulk of buildings and the area of yards, courts and other open spaces shall be uniform for each class of building throughout each district. The regulations in one or more districts may differ from those in other districts. Such regulations shall be designed to secure safety from fire and other dangers and to promote the public health and welfare, and to secure provision for adequate light, air and reasonable access. The council shall pay reasonable regard to the character of buildings now erected in each district, the value of the land, and the use to which it may be put to the end that such regulations may promote public health, safety and welfare.

§ 4. Cities with planning commmission. Hearing. In municipalities having a city planning commission the council shall require such commission to recommend the boundaries of such districts and appropriate regulations and restrictions to be enforced therein. Such commission shall make a tentative report and hold public hearings thereon at such times and places as said council shall require before submitting its final report. Said council shall not hereafter determine the boundaries of any district or impose any regulations until after the final report of the city planning commission is filed with the city clerk. Upon receiving such final report said council shall afford persons particularly interested, and the general public, an opportunity to be heard, at a time and place to be specified in a notice of hearing to be published in a newspaper to be designated for that purpose. Said newspaper to be a local newspaper, if there be one, otherwise a newspaper of general circulation within the municipality, and to be published not less than three times in any daily, or not less than once in any other newspaper of general circulation within the municipality, and, within the week within which said meeting is to be held.

§ 5. Cities without planning commission. In municipalities where there is no city planning commission the council may proceed in the manner prescribed in section four hereof and shall make the tentative report, arrange for and hold such public hearings, make such final report and afford all persons particularly interested and the general public, an opportunity to be heard at the time and place and in the manner prescribed in section four hereof.

§ 6. Penalties. The council may establish penalties for violations of such an ordinance once established and in effect.

ACT 431a.

An act authorizing and empowering municipalities to provide a procedure for the fixing and establishing of set-back lines on private property bordering on the whole or part of any street, avenue or highway, to prohibit the erection of buildings, fences or other structures between such set-back lines and the lines of any such street, avenue or highway, and to condemn any and all property necessary or convenient for that purpose.

[Approved May 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1421. In effect July 30, 1917.]

§ 1. City council may establish set-back lines. Whenever public interest or convenience may require, the city council of any municipality shall have full power and authority to provide a procedure for the fixing and establishing of set-back lines on private property bordering on the whole or part of any street, avenue or other highway, to prohibit the erection of buildings, fences or other structures between such set-back lines and the lines of any such street, avenue or other highway, and to condemn any and all property necessary or convenient for that purpose.

§ 2. Procedure. The ordinance prescribing such procedure shall provide, among other things, for the passage of a resolution of intention describing the land deemed necessary to be taken or damaged therefor, also the exterior boundaries of the district of lands to be benefited by said work or improvement and to be assessed to pay the damages, costs and expenses thereof, and shall require that a written protest signed by the owners of a majority of the frontage upon the streets and parts of streets within the district to be assessed, and filed with such city council, shall be a bar to such proceeding for a period of six months from the date of the filing of such protest. The procedure shall provide for due notice and hearing to property owners liable to be assessed, also a method for the assessment and collection of benefits and the payment of damages, together with such other matters as may be necessary or convenient to promote the objects hereof.

ACT 431b.

An act to regulate the construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration, maintenance, use and occupancy of dwellings, and the maintenance, use and occupancy of the premises and land on which dwellings are erected or located, in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof.

[Approved May 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1461. In effect September 1, 1917.]

§ 1. Title. This act shall be known as the "state dwelling-house act," and its provisions shall apply to incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties of this state.

§ 2. Duty of building department. Duty of housing department. In case no such departments. Powers of commission of immigration and housing. It shall be the duty of the "building department" of every incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, to enforce all the provisions of this act pertaining to the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, conversion, alteration, and arrangement of dwellings.

It shall be the duty of the "housing department" of every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county to enforce all the provisions of this act pertaining to the maintenance, sanitation, ventilation, use and occupancy of dwellings after said dwellngs have been erected, constructed or altered, as the case may be.

In the event that there is no building department or no housing department in an incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county, it shall be the duty of the officer or officers who are charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the erection, construction or alteration of buildings, or the maintenance, sanitation, ventilation or occupancy of buildings, or of the police, fire or health regulations in said incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county to enforce all the provisions of this act.

Every incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county in the state of California shall have, and it is hereby empowered and given authority to designate and charge by ordinance any other department or officer than the department or officers mentioned herein, with the enforcement of this act, or any portion thereof.

The commission of immigration and housing of California shall have, and it is hereby empowered and given authority to enforce the provisions of this act, which do not pertain to the actual creation, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration or arrangement of dwellings in all incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties, in the state of California, whenever said commission finds or discovers a violation or violations of the provisions of this act and notifies the local department or officer, or departments or officers who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, in writing, of such violation or violations, and the said local department or officer, or departments or officers, fail, neglect or refuse to enforce the provisions of the said act within thirty days thereafter; provided, however, that the said commission of immigration and housing of California shall enforce the provisions of this act only in the instances specified in said written notice.

§ 3. Unlawful to construct dwelling contrary to act. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, whether as owner, agent, contractor, builder, architect, engineer, superintendent, foreman, plumber, tenant, lessee, lessor, occupant, or in any other capacity whatsoever, to erect, construct, reconstruct, alter, build upon, move, convert, use, occupy or maintain, or to cause, permit or suffer to be erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, built upon, moved, converted, used, occupied or maintained any dwelling or any portion thereof contrary to the provisions of this act, or to commit or maintain or cause or permit to be committed or maintained any nuisance in or upon any dwelling or any portion thereof, or any of the premises, which are a part thereof, or which are required by the provisions of this act; or to do or to cause to be done, or to use or cause to be used, any privy, sewer, cesspool, plumbing or house drainage affecting the sanitary condition of any dwelling or any portion thereof, or of the premises thereof, contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

§ 4. Alterations. It shall be unlawful for any person to make any alterations or changes of any kind whatsoever, to any dwelling erected prior to the passage of this act, or to any dwelling hereafter erected, in any manner which would be inconsistent with any of the provisions of this act, or in violation of the said provisions of this act; or in any manner to diminish the size of the windows, or to remove any window or windows from the rooms contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

§ 5. Building conveyed to use as dwelling. Building moved. A building not erected for, or which is not used as a dwelling at the time of the passage of this act, if hereafter converted to or altered for such use, shall thereupon become subject to all the provisions of this act affecting a dwelling hereafter erected.

A building used as a dwelling at the time of the passage of this act, if moved, shall be made to conform to all of the provisions of this act affecting dwellings hereafter erected, in so far as they pertain to unoccupied area.

§ 6. Penalty for violation. Procedure. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Except as herein otherwise specified, the procedure for the prevention of violations of this act, for the vacation of dwellings or premises unlawfully occupied, or for the abatement of a nuisance in connection with a dwelling or the premises thereof, shall be as set forth in the charter and ordinances of the municipality in which the procedure is instituted.

§ 7. Power to enter building. The department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act in any incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county, and the authorized officers, agents or employees of such department or departments may, whenever necessary, enter dwellings or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, within the corporate limits of such towns, cities, or cities and counties, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings, in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

The members of the commission of immigration and housing of California and the agents, officers or employees of said commission may, whenever necessary, enter dwellings or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

The owner or his authorized agent may, whenever necessary, enter dwellings, or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, owned by him, to carry out any instructions or to perform any work required to be done by the provisions of this act; provided, however, that the authority to enter buildings, as in this section given to the persons hereinbefore enumerated, shall not be construed or deemed to apply to the entering of any such building between the hours of six o'clock P. M. of any day and six o'clock A. M. of the succeeding day, without the consent of the owner or of the occupants of such buildings; but in no event shall persons hereinbefore enumerated to enter any such buildings in the the authority in this section given be construed as permitting any of the absence of the occupants thereof without a proper written order, duly executed by a competent court authorized to issue such orders.

§ 8. Definitions. For the purpose of this act, certain words and phrases are defined as follows, unless it shall be apparent from their context that they have a different meaning:

Words used in the singular include the plural, and the plural, the singular.

Words used in the present tense include the future.

Words used in the masculine gender include the feminine, and the feminine, the masculine.

Words "building department," "housing department," "department charged with the enforcement of this act," shall be construed as if followed by the words, "of the incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county," as the case may be, in which the dwelling is situated.

"Apartment" is a room or suite of rooms which is occupied, or is intended or designed to be occupied by one family for living and sleeping purposes.

"Basement" is any story or portion thereof partly below the level of the curb or the actual enjoining ground level, the ceiling of which in no part is less than seven feet above the curb level or actual adjoining ground levels. If the adjoining ground is excavated to or below the curb level, such excavated space shall have not less than the minimum width and length required in this act for outer courts.

"Building" is a dwelling. .

"Building department" means the commissioner of buildings, superintendent of buildings, chief inspector of buildings, or any officer or department charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the construction and alteration of buildings or structures.

"Cellar" is any story or portion thereof, the ceiling of which is less than seven feet above the curb level and actual adjoining ground levels. "Curb level" is the curb level opposite the center of the front of lot, and in the event that a curb has not been established shall be deemed to be the average ground level at the front of lot.

"Department." Whenever the word "department" is used it means the building department, the housing department or such other department or officer, or department or officers, who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act.

"Dwelling" is as follows:

(a) Any house or building, or any portion thereof, which contains not more than two apartments, or not more than five guest rooms, or,

(b) Any house or building, or any portion thereof, not more than one story in height, which contains more than two apartments, or,

(c) Any house or building, or any portion thereof, of more than one story and not more than two stories in height, which is designed, built, rented, leased, let or hired out to be occupied, or is occupied, as the home or residence of not more than four families (four apartments) and which is so arranged that each of the said families live independently of each other, and which building is constructed and arranged so that a separate section is or may be kept as a home or a residence of a separate family. Each such section having an entirely independent and separate entrance, and if a stairway is required, one separate stairway leading to each section from the street or from an outside vestibule on the level of the first floor of said building, and with no room, hallway, bathroom, water-closet or kitchen used in common by two or more families occupying the said building.

"Family" is one person living alone or a group of two or more persons living together in an apartment, whether related to each other by birth or not.

"Guest" is any person hiring and occupying a room for sleeping purposes, and shall include both boarders and lodgers.

"Guest room" is a room which is occupied, or is intended, arranged or designed to be occupied, for sleeping purposes by one or more guests.

"Housing department" is any department or commission charged with the enforcement of ordinances or laws regulating the occupancy and maintenance of dwelling-house buildings; and where no such department is maintained, shall be deemed to be the health commissioner, the department of health, health officer, or similar department charged with the enforcement of laws and ordinances regulating the maintenance and occupancy of buildings or structures and of the health and sanitary requirements.

"Lot" is a parcel or area of land on which is situated a dwelling, together with the land, and unoccupied spaces for such a dwelling, as required by this act; all of which land shall be owned by or be under the absolute lawful control and in the lawful possession of the dwelling.

"Nuisance" embraces public nuisance as known at common law or in equity jurisprudence, and whatever is dangerous to human life or detrimental to health, and shall also embrace the overcrowding with occupants of any room, insufficient ventilation, or inadequate or insanitary sewerage or plumbing facilities, or uncleanliness, and whatever renders air, food or drink unwholesome or detrimental to the health of human beings.

"Person" is a natural person, his heirs, executors, administrators or assigns; also includes a firm, partnership or a corporation, its or their successors or assigns.

"Shall." Wherever this word is used it shall be mandatory.

"Street" is any public street, alley, thoroughfare or park having a minimum width of sixteen feet, measured from the front of lot to the opposite front of lot, and shall have been dedicated or deeded to the public for public use.

§ 9. Constructed in substantial manner. Every dwelling hereafter erected shall be constructed in a substantial manner; and the buildings shall be so constructed as to provide shelter to the occupants against the elements, and so as to exclude dampness in inclement weather.

§ 10. Sleeping in cellar. In no dwelling shall any room in the cellar be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for living or sleeping purposes.

§ 11. Rooms in basement. In no dwelling shall any room in the basement be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for living purposes unless it conforms to all of the requirements of this act for rooms in other parts of the building, and that the ceiling of each such room be in all parts not less than seven feet above the adjoining ground levels.

All the walls below the ground level and the floors of such a basement shall be dampproofed and waterproofed. Such dampproofing and waterproofing shall run through the walls and up as high as the ground level and continue throughout the floor.

Every basement in such buildings shall be illuminated and ventilated.

§ 12. Ventilation beneath floor. Floor area. In every dwelling hereafter erected there shall be provided a clear air space under the lowest floor thereof of at least six inches, except where there is a ventilated basement or cellar underneath such floor, which clear air space shall be enclosed and provided with a sufficient number of openings, with removable screens, or similar provisions, of a size to insure ample ventilation. The surface underneath the floor shall be kept dry, drained, clean and free from any accumulation of rubbish, debris or filth.

The provisions of this section shall not be deemed to apply to masonry floors laid directly on the soil, nor to any self-supporting masonry floor.

§ 13. Width and height. In every dwelling hereafter erected, every room used for living or sleeping purposes shall contain at least ninety square feet of superficial floor area.

Every such room shall at every point be not less than seven feet in width, nor less than eight feet in height measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling; except that attic rooms and rooms where sloping ceilings occur need be eight feet in height in but one-half the area of the room.

Every water-closet compartment shall be not less than thirty-six inches in width and every such compartment and bath or shower compartment shall have a height of not less than seven feet six inches measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling.

§ 14. Windows. Cornice. Opening into vent shaft. Opening through porch. In every dwelling hereafter erected, every room used for living or sleeping purposes and every kitchen, water-closet compartment, shower or bathroom, shall have at least one window, of the area fixed by this act, opening directly upon a street, or upon unoccupied area not less than four in its least dimension and containing an area of not less than thirty-six square feet, and located on the same lot.

A cornice may extend into the unoccupied area two inches for each one foot in width of such unoccupied area.

Windows herein required shall be located so as properly to light all portions of the room, and shall be made so as to open in all parts and so arranged that at least one-half of the window may be opened unobstructed; provided, however, that the windows required by this section in a water-closet compartment or bath or shower room may be opened directly into a vent shaft, such vent shaft to be in no dimension less than eighteen inches; provided, further, that windows required to open onto a street or onto unoccuiped area may open through porches, provided that the said porches do not exceed seven feet in depth, measured at right angles to the windows and that at least seventy-five per cent of the entire side of the porch, bounded by the street or unoccupied area is left open, except that the open space may be inclosed with mosquito screens.

§ 15. Window area. In every dwelling hereafter erected the total window area in each room used for living or sleeping purposes shall be at least one-eighth of the superficial floor area of the room.

All measurements for window area shall be taken to outside of sash.

§ 16. Window area in water-closet. In every dwelling hereafter erected, the window area in a water-closet compartment or bathroom shall be not less than three square feet.

§ 17. Water-closets. Every dwelling hereafter erected shall be provided with one water-closet for each family living therein.

§ 18. Plumbing fixtures. In every dwelling hereafter erected every plumbing fixture shall be provided with running water.

Every plumbing fixture affecting the sanitary drainage system in dwellings hereafter erected shall be properly connected with the street sewer, if a street sewer exists in the street abutting the lot on which the building is located and is ready to receive connections. When it is impracticable to connect such plumbing fixtures with a street sewer, then the plumbing fixtures shall be connected and drained into a cesspool constructed satisfactorily to the department charged with the enforcement of this act; or some other means of sewage disposal satisfactory to the department charged with the enforcement of this act may be made until such time as it may become practicable and possible to connect with the street sewer.

§ 19. Where no running water. Privy. Water-closets, baths, showers, sinks, slop-sinks, faucets and other plumbing fixtures required by this act need not be installed in the event that the dwelling hereafter erected, or an existing dwelling as the case may be, is situated where there is no running water and where there is no practical means of sewage disposal, until such time as it becomes practical and possible to obtain running water and means of sewage disposal; provided, in every such case the department charged with the enforcement of this act shall decide whether or not it is practicable and possible to provide running water, or proper means of sewage disposal; provided, further, that proper toilet facilities shall be provided for the use of the occupants of such building. Such facilities shall be made sanitary. A privy, or toilet other than a water-closet, erected under the authority of this section shall consist of a pit at least three feet deep, with suitable shelter over the same to afford privacy and protection from the elements. The openings of the shelter and pit shall be inclosed by fly screening, and the door to the shelter shall be made to close automatically, by means of a spring or other device. No privy pit shall be allowed to become filled with excreta to nearer than one foot from the surface of the ground, and the excreta in the pit shall be covered with earth, ashes, lime or similar substances at regular intervals.

§ 20. Earthenware bowls and seats. In every dwelling hereafter erected, and in every dwelling now existing, all plumbing fixtures shall be properly trapped and vented and all such plumbing made sanitary in every particular. Water-closets hereafter installed shall have earthenware bowls and shall have earthenware seats, or seats made of some nonabsorbent material integral with the bowls, or wooden seats, enameled or varnished or otherwise made nonabsorbent, attached directly to the bowls. All connections shall be of standard lead, iron, steel or brass.

No plumbing fixtures shall be inclosed with woodwork, but the space under and around the same must be left entirely open.

§ 21. Cooking in bath compartment. Sleeping in cellar, etc. Floor space for each occupant. It shall be unlawful for any person to cook or to prepare food, or to permit or suffer any person to cook or to prepare food in any bath, shower, slop-sink or water-closet compartment, or in any other place in the building which, in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, is detrimental to the proper sanitation of such building.

It shall be unlawful for any person to live or sleep, or to permit or suffer any person to live or sleep, in any cellar, bath, shower or slop-sink room, water-closet compartment, hallway, closet or kitchen, or in any other place which, in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, would be dangerous or prejudicial to life or health by reason of want of light, windows, ventilation, drainage, or on account of dampness, offensive, obnoxious or poisonous odors or in any room that shall be so overcrowded as to afford less than the following floor space for each occupant in accordance with the age of the said occupant:

Number of persons over 12 years of age	Number of persons under 12 years of age	Superficial floor area required
1	2	60 square feet
2	4	120 square feet
3	6	180 square feet
4	8	240 square feet
5	10	300 square feet
6	12	360 square feet

Additional floor area in the same ratio shall be provided for additional persons.

§ 22. Repapering. No wall, partition or ceiling of any room in any dwelling shall be repapered, calcimined, or have any other covering placed thereupon unless the old wall paper or other covering shall have first been removed therefrom, and the said wall, partition or ceiling cleaned, disinfected and freed from bugs, insects or vermin.

§ 23. Repairs. Every dwelling shall be maintained in good repair. The roofs shall be kept waterproof and all storm or casual water properly drained and conveyed therefrom to the street sewer, storm drain or street gutter.

Every water-closet, bathtub, sink, slop-hopper or other similar plumbing fixture shall at all times be kept clean, sanitary and in good working order.

§ 24. Metal mosquito screening. There shall be provided, whenever it is deemed necessary for the health of the occupants of any dwelling or for the proper sanitation or cleanliness of any such building, metal mosquito screening of at least sixteen mesh, set in tight-fitting removable sash, for each exterior door, window or other opening in the exterior walls of the building.

§ 25. Garbage cans. There shall be provided by the occupant or tenant for each dwelling a tight metal receptacle, with close-fitting metal cover, for garbage, refuse, ashes and rubbish as may be deemed necessary by the department charged with the enforcement of this act. The receptacles shall be kept in a clean condition by the occupants or tenants.

§ 26. Room, etc., kept clean. Swill, etc., not to be deposited in plumbing fixtures. Every room, hallway, passageway, stairway, wall, partition, ceiling, floor, skylight, glass window, door, carpet, rug, matting, window curtain, water-closet compartment or room, toilet room, bathroom, slop-sink or wash-room, plumbing fixture, drain, roof, closet, cellar, or basement in any dwelling, and the lot, and the premises thereof, shall be kept in every part clean and sanitary and free from all accumulation of debris, filth, rubbish, garbage or other offensive matter.

No person shall deposit, or cause or permit any person to deposit, any swill, garbage, bottles, ashes, cans or other improper substance in any water-closet, sink, slop-hopper, bathtub, shower, catch-basin, or in any plumbing fixture connection or drain therefrom, or otherwise to obstruct the same; or to place or cause or permit to be placed any filth, urine or other foul matter in any place other than the place provided for same; or to keep or cause or permit to be kept any urine or filth or foul matter in any room or apartment in any dwelling or in or about the said building or premises thereof for such length of time as to create a nuisance.

§ 27. No animals in dwelling. No horse, cow, calf, swine, sheep, goat, rabbit, mule or other animal, chicken, pigeon, goose, duck or other poultry shall be kept in any dwelling-house or any part thereof; nor shall any such animal or poultry, nor shall any stable, be kept or maintained within twenty feet of any window or door of such building.

§ 28. Action to abate nuisance. Authority to execute order. In case any dwelling, or any part thereof, is constructed, altered, converted or maintained in violation of any provisions of this act or of any order or notice of the department charged with its enforcement, or in case a nuisance exist in any such dwelling or building or structure or upon the lot on which it is situated, said department may institute any appropriate action or proceeding to prevent such unlawful construction, alteration, conversion or maintenance, to restrain, correct or abate such violation or nuisance, to prevent the occupation of said dwelling, building or structure, to prevent any illegal act, conduct of business in or about such dwelling or lot. In any such action or proceeding said department may, by affidavit setting forth the facts, apply to the superior court, or to any judge thereof, for an order granting the relief for which said action or proceeding is brought, or for an order enjoining all persons from doing or permitting to be done any work in or about such dwelling, building, structure or lot, or from occupying or using the same for any purpose, until the entry of final judgment or order. In case any notice or order issued by said department is not complied with, said department may apply to the superior court, or to any judge thereof, for an order authorizing said department to execute and carry out the provisions of said notice or order, to remove any violation specified in said order or notice, or to abate any nuisance in or about such dwelling, building or structure, or the lot upon which it is situated. The court, or any judge thereof, is hereby authorized to make any order specified in this section. In no case shall the said department or any officer thereof or the municipal corporation be liable for costs in any action or proceeding that may be commenced in pursuance of this act.

§ 29. Fine a lien. Every fine imposed by judgment under section six of this act upon a dwelling owner shall be a lien upon the house in relation to which fine is imposed, from the time of the filing of a certified copy of said judgment in the office of the recorder of the county in which said dwelling is situated, subject only to taxes and assessments and water rates, and to such mortgage and mechanics' liens as may exist thereon prior to such filing; and it shall be the duty of the department charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, upon the entry of such judgment, to file forthwith the copy as aforesaid, and such copy upon filing shall be forthwith indexed by the recorder in the index of mechanics' liens.

§ 30. Notice of pendency of action. In any action or proceeding instituted by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the plaintiff or petitioner may file, in the county recorder's office of the county where the property affected by such action or proceeding is situated, a notice of the pendency of such action or proceeding. Said notice may be filed at the time of the commencement of the action or proceeding, or at any time afterwards before final judgment or order, or at any time after the service of any notice or order issued by said department. Such notice shall have the same force and effect as the notice of pendency of action provided for in the Code of Civil Procedure. Each county recorder with whom such notice is filed shall record it and shall index it in the name of each person specified in a direction subscribed by an officer of the department instituting such action or proceeding. Any such notice may be vacated upon the order of a judge of the court in which such action or proceeding was instituted or is pending. The recorder of the county where such notice is filed is hereby directed to mark such notice and any record or docket thereof as canceled of record, upon the presentation and filing of a certified copy of such order.

§ 31. Time of service. Every notice or order in relation to a dwelling shall be served five days before the time for doing the thing in relation to which it shall have been issued.

§ 32. Manner of service. In any action brought by any department charged with the enforcement of this act in relation to a dwelling for injunction, vacation of the premises or other abatement of nuisance, or to establish a lien thereon, it shall be sufficient service of summons to serve the same as notices and orders are served under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure.

§ 33. Minimum requirements. Supplementary laws. Repealed. Power of cities not abrogated. The provisions of this act shall be held to be the minimum requirements adopted for the protection, the health and the safety of the community, and for the protection, the health and the safety of the occupants of dwellings. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as prohibiting the local legislative body of any incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county, from enacting from time to time, supplementary ordinances or laws imposing further restrictions or providing for fees to be charged for permits, certificates or other papers required by this act; but no ordinance, law, regulation or ruling of any municipal department, authority, officer or officers, shall repeal, amend, modify or dispense with any of the provisions of this act.

All statutes of the state and all ordinances of incorporated towns, incorporated cities and incorporated cities and counties, as far as inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall be construed as repealing or abrogating any present ordinance or law of any incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county, in the state which further restricts the percentage of the lot to be covered by a dwelling, the occupation thereof, the materials to be used in its construction, or increasing the floor space to each person occupying a room, the requirements as to sanitation, ventilation, light and protection against fire.

Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as abrogating, diminishing, minimizing or denying the power of any incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county, by ordinance or law, to further restrict the percentage of the lot to be covered by a dwelling within said municipality, the occupation thereof, the materials to be used in its construction, or increasing the floor space to each person occupying a room, the requirements as to sanitation, ventilation, light and protection against fire.

§ 34. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

§ 35. In effect when. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after September 1, 1917.

TITLE 73.

BURNED OR DESTROYED RECORDS OR DOCUMENTS.

ACT 436.

An act to provide for the establishment and quieting title to real property in case of the loss or destruction of public records.

[Approved June 16, 1906. Stats. 1906 (Ex. Sess.), p. 78.]

Amended 1909, p. 163; 1911, p. 6; 1913, p. 135; 1917, p. 80. Supp. 1907, p. 950.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Title to real property when public records are destroyed. Whenever the public records in the office of the county recorder of any county have been, or shall hereafter be, lost or destroyed, in whole or in any material part, by flood, fire or earthquake, any person who claims an estate of inheritance, or for life in, and who is by himself or his tenant, or other person, holding under him, in the actual and peaceable possession of any real property in such county, or of any real property now in another county but which was formerly in the county of which all or a material part of the records were lost or destroyed as aforesaid, in the event that the records so lost or destroyed included all or a material part of the public records in the office of said county recorder covering all or a material part of the time when said last mentioned real property was in the county whose records were so lost or destroyed, may bring and maintain an action in rem against all the world, in the superior court for the county in which such real property is situate, to establish his title to such property and to determine all adverse claims thereto. Any number of separate parcels of land claimed by the plaintiff may be included in the same action. [Amendment approved April 6, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 80.]

§ 9. Record of pendency of action. The plaintiff must, at the time of filing the complaint, and every defendant claiming any affirmative relief must, at the time of filing his answer, record in the office of the recorder of the county in which the property is situated, a notice of the pendency of the action containing the object of the action or defense, and a particular description of the property affected thereby; and the recorder shall record the same in a book devoted exclusively to the recordation of such notices and, if the property is still situated in the same county in which the records were destroyed, shall enter, upon a map or plat of the parcels of land, to be kept by him for that purpose, on that part of the map or plat representing the parcel or parcels so described a reference to the date of the filing of such notice and, when recorded, to the book and page of the record thereof. [Amendment approved April 6, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 80.]

TITLE 74.

BUTTE COUNTY.

ACT 444.

Charter of Butte county. [Stats. 1917, p. 1791.]

TITLE 75.

BUTTER.

ACT 473.

An act to prevent the manufacture or sale of dairy products from unhealthy animals, or that are produced under unsanitary conditions; to prevent deception or fraud in the production and sale of dairy products, and in the manufacture and sale of renovated butter and oleomargarine; to license the manufacture and sale of renovated butter, and oleomargarine; to regulate the business of producing, buying and selling dairy products, oleomargarine, renovated or imitation butter and cheese; to provide for the enforcement of its provisions and for the punishment of violations thereof, and appropriating money therefor and to repeal section 17 of an act approved March 4, 1897, entitled "An act to prevent deception in the manufacture and sale of butter and cheese, to secure its enforcement, and to appropriate money therefor," and to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act.

[Approved April 21, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 959.]

Amended 1915, pp. 332, 352, 1456. 1917, p. 1654.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1a. Milk containers to be cleansed. Every person, firm or corporation, not a common carrier, who receives from a common carrier in cans, bottles, vessels, or other containers, to be thoroughly cleansed and intended for human consumption, which has been transported over any railroad, or boat or freight line, or by other common carrier, or auto truck, which said cans, bottles, vessels, or other containers, are to be returned to the consignor or shipper, shall cause the said empty cans, bottles, vessels, or other containers, any milk, cream and ice cream sterilized by boiling water or superheated steam before return shipment of the same; provided, further, that all empty cans, bottles, vessels, or other containers, delivered to the consumer by the retailer shall be thoroughly and immediately cleansed before returning the same to the dealer or distributor. [New section added June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1657.]

§ 2. Unsanitary dairies. A dairy shall be deemed unsanitary within the meaning of this act, among other causes that render milk, or products made therefrom, unclean, impure, and unhealthy, in the following cases:

(a.) If the drinking water is stagnant, polluted with manure, urine, drainage, decaying vegetable or animal matter.

(b) If the yards or inclosures are filthy or unsanitary or if any part of such yards or inclosures, other than pastures, are made the depositories of manure in heaps or otherwise where it is allowed to ferment and decay.

(c) If a suitable milk house or room is not provided and maintained, properly screened to exclude flies and insects, for the purpose of cooling, mixing, canning, and keeping the milk. Said milk house or room, shall not be located in or be a part of any residence, or dwelling-house, or any barn or poultry-house, and shall not be used for any other purpose whatsoever.

(d) If any milk or cream shall be cooled, stored, mixed, canned, or kept in any room or place which is occupied by any person or persons as a sleeping or living apartment, or occupied by horses, cows, hogs or other animals, or fowls of any kind, and if the milk or cream shall not be cooled to as low a temperature as practicable within one hour after it is drawn from the cows.

(e) If any urinal, privy vault, open cesspool, horse stable, pig-pen, stagnant water, accumulation of manure or other filth shall be permitted within one hundred feet of any such milk house or room, or within fifty feet of any cow stalls or stanchions or other place where milking is done.

(f) If the walls become soiled with manure, urine or other filth.

(g) If to the interior of cattle stables, barns, milking-sheds, milk house or room, an application of lime whitewash is not made at least once in two years, or oftener if in the judgment of the agent of the state dairy bureau it is needed, or if in the mangers, or other receptacles from which cows are fed, decaying food or other material is allowed to accumulate.

(h) If the pails, cans, bottles or other containers of milk, or its products, or the strainers, coolers or other utensils coming in contact with the milk or its products, are not sterilized by boiling water or superheated steam each and every time the same are used.

(i) If the person or wearing apparel of the dairyman, his employees, or other persons, who come in contact with milk and its products, are soiled or not washed from time to time with reasonable frequency.

§ 25. Weighing and sampling milk. Testing milk. Tester licensed by state dairy bureau. License valid one year. License to receive milk on basis of butter fat contained. License fees. It shall be unlawful for any hauler of milk, or cream, or any person, firm or corporation receiving or purchasing milk or cream by weight or test or both, or by measure or test or both, to fraudulently manipulate the weight, measure or test of milk or cream of any person or to take unfair samples thereof, or to fraudulently manipulate such samples. The hauler or other agent shall weigh or measure the milk or cream of each patron accurately and correctly and shall report such weights or measurements accurately and correctly to the creamery or factory. He shall thoroughly mix the milk or cream of each patron by pouring or stirring until such milk or cream is uniform and homogeneous in richness, before the sample is taken from milk or cream. When the weighing or sampling is done at the creamery, shipping station or factory, the same rule shall apply.

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, by himself or as the agent, servant, employee or officer of any person, firm or corporation receiving or purchasing milk or cream on the basis of the amount of butter fat contained therein, to under-read, over-read or otherwise fraudulently manipulate the Babcock test used for determining the per cent of butter fat in milk or cream, or to falsify the records thereof or to read the test at any other temperature than the correct one, which is one hundred thirty degrees to one hundred forty degrees Fahrenheit, or to pay on the basis of any measurements or weight except the true measurement or weight, which is seventeen and six-tenths cubic centimeters for milk and nine grams or eighteen grams for cream; provided, that in all tests for cream the cream shall be weighed into the test bottle. All testing of milk or cream purchased on the basis of the amount of butter fat contained therein, shall be done by a licensed tester who shall supervise and be responsible for the operation of the Babcock test of milk or cream. The license shall be issued to such person by the state dairy bureau whose duty it shall be to examine into the qualifications of all applicants for such license, and every such applicant shall satisfy said bureau of his qualifications and comply with the provisions herein before any license shall be issued to him.

The license shall be valid for the term of one year unless sooner revoked and shall be revoked by the state dairy bureau if, after due notice, the license has failed to comply with the laws, rules, and regulations under which the license was granted; provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to individuals, hotels, restaurants or boarding-houses buying milk or cream for private use.

Every creamery, shipping station, milk factory, cheese factory, ice cream factory, condensory, or any person, firm or corporation receiving or purchasing milk or cream on the basis of butter fat contained therein, shall be required to hold a license so to do. The license shall be issued to such creamery, shipping station, milk factory, condensory, ice-cream factory, cheese factory, or person, firm or corporation by the state dairy bureau upon complying with all sanitary laws, rules and regulations of the state of California and upon complying with the provisions of this act and upon payment of a license fee as provided for in this section. This license shall be valid for the term of one year unless sooner revoked, and shall be revoked by the state dairy bureau if, after due notice, the licensee fails to comply with the laws, rules and regulations under which it was granted; provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to individuals, hotels, restaurants, and boarding houses buying milk or cream for private use.

The testers' license shall be issued upon compliance with the provisions of this act and upon payment by the applicant to the state dairy bureau of the sum of one dollar. The creamery license shall be issued upon compliance with the provisions of this act, and upon payment by the applicant to the state dairy bureau of one dollar. The money for license fees as provided for in this section shall be paid by the state dairy bureau into the state treasury and shall become a part of the funds for the use of the state dairy bureau. [New section added June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1657. Old section 25 repealed June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1657.]

§ 26. Inspection of Babcock test bottles. Fee for testing. Every person, firm or corporation receiving or purchasing milk or cream on the basis of the amount of butter fat contained therein as determined by the Babcock test, shall use the standard Babcock test bottles, pipettes and accurate weights and scales as defined in this act, and all Babcock test bottles and pipettes shall have been inspected for accuracy by the state dairy bureau or its agent and shall be legibly and indelibly marked by the state dairy bureau or its agents with the letters "D. B."

It shall be unlawful for any firm or corporation or any of their agents to use any other than standard test bottles and pipettes which have been examined and marked as provided by this section, to determine the amount of fat in milk or cream received or purchased on the butter fat basis.

For all testing of glassware by the said state dairy bureau or its agent, a fee of five cents shall be paid by the owner of said glassware to the state dairy bureau for every piece of glassware so examined, and said fee shall be used by the state dairy bureau to defray the cost of testing such glassware. [New section added June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1659. Old section 26, repealed June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1659.]

§ 27. Specifications for standard Babcock testing glassware. The term "standard Babcock testing glassware" shall apply to glassware and weights complying to the following specifications: (a) Graduation for milk test bottles. The total per cent graduation shall be eight. The graduated portion of the neck shall have a length of not less than sixty-three and five-tenths millimeters (two and one-half inches), the graduation shall represent whole per cent, five-tenths per cent, and tenths per cent. The tenths per cent graduation shall not be less than three millimeters in length; the five-tenths per cent graduations shall be one millimeter longer than the tenths per cent graduations, projecting one millimeter to the left; the whole per cent graduations shall extend at least one-half way around the neck to the right and projecting two millimeters to the left of the tenths per cent graduations. Each per cent graduation shall be numbered, the number being placed on the left of the scale. The error at any point of the scale shall not exceed one-tenth per cent.

The neck shall be cylindrical and the cylindrical shape shall extend for at least nine millimeters below the lower and above the highest mark. The top of the neck shall be flared to a diameter of not less than ten millimeters.

The capacity of the bulb up to the junction of the neck shall not be less than forty-five c. c. (cubic centimeters). The shape of the bulb may be either cylindrical or conical with the smallest diameter at the bottom. If cylindrical, the outside diameter shall be between thirty-four and thirty-six millimeters; if conical, the outside diameter of the base shall be between thirty-one and thirty-three millimeters, and the maximum diameter between thirty-five and thirty-seven millimeters. The charge of the bottle shall be eighteen grams. The total height of the bottle shall be between one hundred fifty and one hundred sixty-five millimeters (five and seven-eighths and six and one-half inches.)

(b) Two types of bottles shall be accepted as standard cream test bottles, a fifty per cent nine gram long-neck bottle, and a fifty per cent eighteen gram long-neck bottle.

Fifty per cent, nine gram, long-neck bottle. The same specifications in every detail as specified for the fifty per cent nine gram, short-neck bottle shall apply for the long-neck bottle, with the exception, however, that the total height of this bottle shall be between two hundred ten and two hundred thirty-four millimeters (eight and one-fourth and eight and seven-eighths inches) and that the total length of the graduation shall be not less than one hundred twenty millimeters.

The fifty per cent, eighteen gram, long-neck bottle. The same specifications in every detail as specified for the fifty per cent, nine gram, long-neck bottle, shall apply, with the exception that the charge of the bottle shall be eighteen grams, and the mark defining the weight of the charge placed at the top of the neck shall be eighteen.

The total length of the standard Babcock pipette shall be not more than three hundred thirty millimeters (thirteen and one-fourth inches.) Outside diameter of suction tube, six to eight millimeters. Length of suction tube, one hundred thirty millilmeters. Outside diameter of delivery tube four and five-tenths to five and five-tenths millimeters. The length of delivery tube one hundred to one hundred twenty millimeters. Distance of graduation mark above bulb, thirty to sixty millimeters. Nozzle straight. Delivery seventeen and six-tenths cubic centimeters of water at twenty degrees centigrade in five to eight seconds.

The sensibility of all scales used for weighing cream samples into the test bottles shall be not more than thirty milligrams and the standard weights shall be nine grams and eighteen grams.

In all testing of milk or cream where the same is received or purchased upon the basis of the amount of butter fat contained therein, the Babcock tester shall be operated at the proper speed, which is as follows:

For tester with diameter of fourteen inches the speed shall be between eight hundred twenty-five and eight hundred seventy-five revolutions per minute.

For tester with diameter of sixteen inches, the speed shall be between eight hundred twenty-five and eight hundred seventy-five revolutions per minute.

For tester with diameter of eighteen inches, the speed shall be between seven hundred seventy-five and eight hundred twenty-five revolutions per minute.

For tester with diameter of twenty inches, the speed shall be between seven hundred twenty-five and seven hundred seventy-five revolutions per minute.

For tester with a diameter of twenty-four inches, the speed shall be between five hundred seventy-five and six hundred twenty-five revolutions per minute. [New section added June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1659. Old section 27 repealed June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1657.]

§ 35. Branding cheese. Dairy bureau to issue brands. Grades of cheese defined. Unlawful to sell without brand. Every person, firm or corporation who shall manufacture cheese in the state of California, shall at the place of manufacture, brand distinctly and durably on each and every cheese manufactured, and upon the package or box, when shipped, the grade of cheese manufactured, as follows: "full-cream cheese," or "half-skim cheese," or "skim cheese."

All brands for branding the different grades of cheese shall be procured from the state dairy bureau, and said bureau is hereby directed and authorized to issue to all persons, firms or corporations, upon application therefor, uniform brands, consecutively numbered, of the different grades specified in this section. The state dairy bureau shall keep a record of each and every brand issued, and the name and location of the manufacturer receiving the same. No manufacturer of cheese in the state of California other than the one to whom such brand is issued, shall use the same, and in case of a change of location, the party shall notify the bureau of such change.

The different grades of cheese are hereby defined as follows: First: Such cheese only as shall have been manufactured from pure milk, and from which no portion of the butter fat has been removed by skimming or otherwise, and having not less than fifty per cent of butter fat in its water-free substance, which shall be conspicuously branded as "full-cream cheese." Second: Such cheese only as shall have been made from pure milk, and having not less than twenty-five per cent of butter fat in its water-free substance, which shall be conspicuously branded as "half-skim cheese." Third: Such cheese only as shall have been made from pure skim milk, which shall be conspicuously branded as "skim cheese."

No person or persons, firm, association or corporation shall sell or offer for sale in this state any cheese which is not branded either "full-cream cheese," "half-skim cheese," or "skim cheese," in accordance with its butter fat content. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1656.]

§ 42. Disposition of fines. One-half of all the fines imposed for the violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be paid to the county in which the fine is imposed. The other one-half shall be paid to the state treasurer and shall become part of the general fund. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1657.]

TITLE 81.

CALIFORNIA REDWOOD PARK.

ACT 508.

An act providing for the enlargement of the California redwood park, making an appropriation for the purchase of additional land therefor, and granting power to the California redwood park commission to purchase the same.

[Approved May 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1281. In effect July 27, 1917.

§ 1. Appropriation: enlargement of California redwood park. The sum of one hundred fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, and which shall be used for the purchase by the California redwood park commission of land contiguous to the California redwood park suitable for the enlargement of said park. Said appropriation shall be available at the rate of fifteen thousand dollars a year.

§ 2. Power of park commission to purchase land. The California redwood park commission shall have the power to purchase said land, or any portion thereof, as in its judgment shall seem most suitable for an addition to and enlargement of said California redwood park, considering the protection of said California redwood park from forest fires, and the conserving of the headwaters of the streams draining said California redwood park, and of the stand of timber or trees of the species known as Sequoia sempervirens on said lands to be purchased; or it may proceed by action at law to condemn the same, or any portion thereof.

§ 3. Examination of abstracts of title. No payment of any part of said sum shall be made until an abstract or abstracts of title shall have been furnished to the attorney general of the state of California, showing that the lands purchased, and the whole thereof, are free from any valid liens or encumbrances thereon, and it is hereby made the duty of said attorney general to examine said abstract or abstracts of title and render and deliver to said commission his opinion in writing, certifying that no valid liens or encumbrances exist thereon and that the title to said lands, and the whole thereof, is good and valid. Said opinion of the attorney general, together with said abstract or abstracts of title shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state.

TITLE 82.

CALIFORNIA SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.

ACT 511b.

An act to establish a state training school for girls; to provide for the maintenance and management of the same, and to make an appropriation therefor.

[Approved June 14, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 857.]

Amended 1915, p. 53; 1917, p. 473.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 2. Penalty for aiding escapes. Any person who knowingly permits or aids any inmate of the California School for Girls to escape therefrom or conceals her with the intent of enabling her to elude pursuit, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Any fugitive from said school, or from the parties with whom she has been placed on parole, may be arrested and returned to said school by any person, upon the written order of the superintendent thereof. [Amendment approved May 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 474.]

§ 3. Officers of board of trustees. The board of trustees shall elect annually a president, a vice-president and a secretary, whose terms of office shall be one year or until their successors are elected and qualified. No one but a member of the board shall be elected president or vice-president thereof. The board shall appoint a superintendent, not of their own number, who shall be a woman qualified by training and experience for the character of work to be done at this school, and fix her salary at not to exceed three thousand six hundred dollars per annum. Such superintendent shall hold office at the pleasure of the board. [Amendment approved May 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 473.]

TITLE 83.

CALIFORNIA STATE REFORMATORY.

ACT 512a.

An act providing for the control and management of a tract of land owned by the state of California and situated in the county of Napa, in said state.

[Approved May 5, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 250. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Board of control to manage land in Napa county. The board of control of the state of California is hereby authorized and directed to take charge of, manage and farm for the use and benefit of the state and its institutions, all of that certain tract of land with all improvements and appurtenances thereto attached, and formerly known as the "Fry Ranch," which said tract of land is situated near the town of Rutherford in the county of Napa, state of California, and being that certain property purchased by the state under the provisions of an act of the legislature of the state of California entitled: "An act to establish the California state reformatory; to provide for the purchase of land therefor, and the construction of buildings and other improvements in connection therewith; to provide for the commitment and transfer of prisoners thereto and therefrom; to provide for the equipment, conduct and management thereof; and to make an appropriation therefor," approved April 24, 1911.

§ 2. Use of water. Said board of control shall have power to take and conduct therefrom for the use and benefit of the state of California such quantity of water as may be determined by the state engineer to be necessary for the use of the Veterans' Home at Yountville and the Napa State Hospital, both in the county of Napa, and to acquire rights of way by purchase, lease or condemnation for such purpose.

§ 3. Use for agricultural purposes. In carrying out the provisions of this act the board of control shall have power if it shall be deemed advisable, to co-operate with the governing board of any state institution for the purpose of utilizing said property for agricultural or horticultural purposes or as a stock or dairy farm and to transfer to and maintain upon said property any stock, cattle, cows, or other animals now owned or hereafter acquired by any of such institutions and to distribute to such institutions by arrangement therewith the product of said property or of the animals maintained thereon.

§ 4. Prisoners, etc., not to be kept on property. From and after the passage of this act, no person shall be committed by any court to imprisonment or confinement upon said property in the county of Napa, and no prisoner from any state prison or reformatory, and no patient from any state hospital for the insane, shall be transferred to, kept, housed or retained upon said property by the state board of control, or by the superintendent or governing officer or board of any such institution.

TITLE 89a.

CARQUINEZ STRAITS.

ACT 542b.

An act providing for the disposition of certain property.

[Approved April 21, 1851. Stats. 1851, p. 305.]

Amended 1917; 1917, p. 193.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 2. Leases limited to fifty years. The said property above described, and the proceeds thereof, shall be disposed of by the trustees of said town and their successors in office for the improvement of the said town, and for the benefit of commerce, by the construction of wharves, piers, and docks, and otherwise; provided, that these lands may be leased for a period not exceeding fifty years, subject to all of said uses and trusts. [Amendment approved April 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 193.]

TITLE 90.

CEMETERIES.

ACT 545.

An act to protect public health from infection caused by exhumation and removal of the remains of deceased persons.

[Approved April 1, 1878. Stats. 1877–78, p. 1050.]

Amended 1889, p. 130; 1917, p. 36.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 2. Provisions for disinterring remains. Permits to disinter or exhume the bodies or remains of deceased persons, as in the last section, may be granted; provided, the person applying therefor shall produce a certificate from the coroner, registrar, the physician who attended such deceased person, or other physician in good standing cognizant of the facts, which certificate shall state the cause of death or disease of which the person died, and also the age and sex of such deceased; and provided, further, that the body or remains of deceased shall be enclosed in a metallic case or coffin, sealed in such manner as to prevent, as far as practicable, any noxious or offensive odor or effluvia escaping therefrom, and that such case or coffin contains the body or remains of but one person, except where the infant children of the same parent or parents, or parent and children are contained in such case or coffin. And the permit shall contain the above conditions and the words "Permit to remove and transport the body of ——, age ——, sex ——," and the name, age, and sex shall be written therein. [Amendment approved April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 36.]

TITLE 106.

COLD STORAGE.

ACT 624.

An act relating to cold storage, the regulation of refrigerating warehouses, the disposition or sale of food kept or preserved therein, and defining the duties of the state board of health in relation thereto.

[Approved June 13, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 769.]

Amended 1915, p. 601; 1917, p. 152.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 2. Application to operate cold storage plant. License fee. Restaurants, hotels, etc., excepted. Any person, firm or corporation desiring to operate a cold storage or refrigerating warehouse wherein shall be stored "articles of food" for a period exceeding thirty days, shall make application in writing to the state board of health for that purpose, stating the location of its plant or plants. On receipt of the application the state board of health shall cause an examination to be made into the sanitary condition of said plant or plants and if found to be in a sanitary condition and otherwise properly equipped for the business of cold storage, the state board of health shall cause a license to be issued authorizing the applicant to operate a cold storage or refrigerating warehouse for and during a period of one year. The license shall be issued upon payment by the applicant of a license fee to the state board of health for each and every warehouse or plant operated by applicant under the provisions of this act for all cold storage or refrigerating warehouses or plants having a capacity of ten thousand cubic feet, or less, a fee of fifteen dollars. For all cold storage or refrigerating warehouses or plants having a capacity of more than ten thousand cubic feet and less than fifty thousand cubic feet, a fee of thirty dollars. For all cold storage or refrigerating warehouses or plants having a capacity of more than fifty thousand cubic feet and less than one hundred thousand cubic feet, a fee of forty dollars. For all cold storage or refrigerating warehouses or plants having a capacity of one hundred thousand cubic feet or more, a fee of fifty dollars.

The secretary of the state board of health shall keep a full and correct account of all fees received under the provisions of this act, and shall, at least once each month, deposit all such fees collected with the state treasurer and make a detailed report covering same to the state controller, and such moneys shall be credited to the appropriation for the support of the pure food and drug laboratory; provided, however, that nothing in this act contained shall apply to cold storage or cold storage or refrigerating plants or warehouses as herein defined which are maintained or operated by restaurants, hotels, or exclusively retail establishments not storing articles of food for other persons. [Amendment approved April 20, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 152.]

§ 7. Dates of receipt and withdrawal marked on articles. All articles of food when deposited in cold storage shall be marked plainly on the containers in which they are packed or on the individual article with the date of receipt, in accordance with such rules and forms as may be prescribed by the state board of health, under the authority hereinafter conferred; and when removed from cold storage shall be marked in like manner with the date of withdrawal. [Amendment approved April 20, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 153.]

TITLE 126.

CORPORATIONS.

Act 755.

An act relating to corporations and to the issue of shares by them without a nominal or par value.

[Approved May 29, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1321. In effect July 28, 1917.]

§ 1. Issuance of shares without nominal or par value. Equal to other shares. Any corporation having a capital stock may provide in its articles of incorporation for the issuance of the shares of stock of such corporation, other than preferred stock having a preference as to principal, without any nominal or par value by stating in such articles:

(1) The number of shares that may be issued by the corporation and, if any of said shares be preferred stock, the amount of each class having a preference and the particular character of such preferences, and if such preferred stock or any part thereof shall have a preference as to principal, the par value of each share thereof, which shall be one dollar or some multiple thereof not exceeding one hundred dollars.

(2) The amount of capital with which the corporation will carry on business, which amount, if any portion of the shares shall be preferred stock having a preference as to principal, shall be a sum equal to the product obtained by multiplying the par value of such preferred shares by the whole number of shares that may be issued by the corporation, but which otherwise shall be equal to the product obtained by multiplying one dollar, or some multiple thereof not exceeding one hundred dollars, by the whole number of shares that may be issued by the corporation.

Such statements in the articles shall be in lieu of any statements prescribed by section two hundred ninety of the Civil Code of the state of California as to the amount of its capital stock, the number of shares into which it is divided and the par value thereof. No distinction shall exist between any shares or classes of shares either as to voting power or as to the statutory or constitutional liability of the holders thereof to the creditors of the corporation, and each share of stock without nominal or par value shall be equal in every other respect to every other share authorized to be issued, subject only to the preferences granted to the preferred stock, if any, as stated in such articles. Certificates for shares without nominal or par value shall not have printed or otherwise expressed thereon any nominal or par value of such shares. Such corporation may issue and may sell its authorized shares from time to time for such consideration as may be prescribed in the articles of incorporation, and any shares sold or issued for such consideration shall be deemed, when such consideration shall have been paid or delivered to the corporation, to be fully paid.

§ 2. Capital fully paid. Liability of directors. Capital reduced by dividends. No corporation authorized to issue shares in accordance with section one hereof shall begin to carry on business or shall incur any debts until the amount of capital stated in its articles of incorporation shall have been fully paid in money or in property taken at its actual value. If the amount of capital stated in its articles of incorporation shall at any time be increased, such corporation shall not increase the amount of its indebtedness then existing until it shall have received in money or property taken at its actual value the amount of such increase of its stated capital. The directors of any corporation assenting to the creation of any debt in violation of this section shall be liable jointly and severally for such debt. Any director who, because of any such liability under this section, shall pay any debt of the corporation shall be subrogated to all rights of the creditor in respect thereof against the corporation and its property, and also shall be entitled to contribution from all other directors of the corporation similarly liable for the same debt and the personal representative of any such director who shall have died before making such contribution.

No such corporation shall declare any dividend which shall reduce the amount or actual value of its capital below the amount stated in the articles as the amount of capital with which the corporation will carry on business. If any such dividend shall be declared, the directors under whose administration the same may have happened (except those who may have cause their dissent therefrom to be entered at large on the minutes of the directors at the time, or were not present when the same did happen) are, in their individual or private capacity, jointly and severally liable to the corporation and to the creditors thereof to the full amount of any loss sustained by such corporation or by its creditors respectively by reason of such dividend.

§ 3. Aggregate amount of capital stock. Par value. For the purpose of any rule of law or of any statutory provision relating to the amount of the capital stock of the corporation or to the amount or par value of its shares, the aggregate amount of the capital stock of any such corporation formed pursuant to this act shall be deemed to be the aggregate amount of capital specified in the articles of incorporation, or in any certificate of increase or decrease made pursuant to the provisions of section three hundred fifty-nine of the Civil Code, as the amount of capital with which the corporation will carry on business; the amount or the par value of each share of preferred stock having a preference as to principal shall be deemed to be the amount or par value thereof as stated in the articles of incorporation, and the amount or par value of each other share shall be deemed to be an aliquot part of the aggregate capital so stated in such articles or in such certificate of increase or decrease, in excess of the specified amount (if any) of the preferred stock therein authorized to be issued with a preference as to principal.

An act to provide for and regulate the issuance of stock without nominal or par value by public utility corporations now existing or hereafter organized.

[Approved May 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1367. In effect July 30, 1917.]

§ 1. Issuance of shares without nominal or par value by public utility corporation. Any public utility corporation as defined in the "public utilities act" hereafter organized may, if so provided in its articles of incorporation, issue shares of stock without nominal or par value. Such articles of incorporation shall set forth, in lieu of setting forth the amount of its capital stock and the par value thereof, the number of shares into which its capital stock is divided, and shall state that all such shares are without nominal or par value; or such articles of incorporation shall set forth, in addition to setting forth the amount of its capital stock and the par value thereof, a provision for the conversion or exchange of shares having a nominal or par value at any time outstanding for shares without nominal or par value. In all other respects such articles shall set forth the matters and things specified in section two hundred ninety of the Civil Code. Any such corporation may, in common with other corporations formed for profit, by its articles of incorporation provide for the classification of its shares of capital stock into preferred and common shares.

§ 2. Resolution to issue shares. Ratification by stockholders. Amended articles of incorporation. Any public utility corporation now or hereafter organized which shall not be authorized by its articles of incorporation to issue shares of stock without nominal or par value, but which desires to issue shares without nominal or par value, may do so by a resolution of its board of directors, passed and adopted at any regular or special meeting, and ratified by the vote of stockholders representing at least two-thirds of its subscribed or issued capital stock at a meeting called for that purpose, or by the written assent of stockholders representing at least two-thirds of its subscribed or issued capital stock filed with the secretary. Such resolution shall specify that such corporation proposes to divide its capital stock into shares without nominal or par value and to issue such shares of stock then outstanding; such resolution shall also set forth the number of shares into which its capital stock shall be divided, how many of said shares, if any, shall be preferred shares, the terms of preference of any preferred shares, and the basis of exchange of such shares for the shares of stock then outstanding; provided, however, that no such resolution shall be valid which sets forth a basis of exchange which, if carried out, would give to the holders of any class of outstanding stock shares evidencing a less proportionate interest in the capital stock or earnings of the corporation than the outstanding shares of stock held by them, unless such resolution is ratified by the unanimous vote or written assent of the holders of all the outstanding stock of the class prejudicially affected, but with such ratification such resolution shall be valid. Upon the ratification of such resolution by the stockholders by vote or written assent as aforesaid, the board of directors of said corporation shall, without further assent or vote of the stockholders, cause to be prepared amended articles of incorporation setting forth the number of shares into which its capital stock is divided and the fact that such shares are without nominal or par value, the number of shares, if any, to which preference is granted, and the nature and extent of such preference. Such amended articles, certified to as correct by the president and secretary and a majority of the directors under the seal of said corporation shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the original articles of incorporation were filed, and a copy of such amended articles of incorporation certified by such county clerk, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state. A copy of such amended articles, certified by the secretary of state, shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of every county in which such corporation has or holds real property, except only the county in which the original articles were filed. From and after the filing of such certified copy of such amended articles of incorporation in the office of the secretary of state, all outstanding shares of capital stock shall be deemed shares without nominal or par value. Upon the surrender of all or any certificates representing such outstanding shares, the corporation shall issue to the holder or holders thereof a certificate or certificates representing the number and kind of shares without nominal or par value to which such holder or holders may be entitled, but whether or not such surrender is made, all outstanding shares shall, for all purposes, be regarded as representing the number and kind of shares without nominal or par value to which the holder or holders thereof may be entitled.

§ 3. Outstanding shares with par value. No such corporation shall at any time have outstanding shares of stock having a nominal or par value and at the same time have outstanding shares of stock without nominal or par value.

§ 4. When shares deemed to be of par value. For the purpose of determining the amount of money payable to the secretary of state for filing articles of incorporation, and for the purpose of determining the vote of the stockholders upon the question of the increase of the stock or bonded indebtedness of such corporation, but for no other purpose, such shares shall be deemed to be of the par value of one hundred dollars each. The words "capital stock" and "amount of capital stock" as used in existing laws shall, for the purpose of making such laws applicable to corporations having stock without nominal or par value, be construed in the case of such corporations to mean the aggregate number of shares of stock without nominal or par value. Except as in this act otherwise provided, all provisions of law relating to stock having a par value, so far as the same may be legally, necessarily or practically applicable, shall apply to and govern stock without nominal or par value.

§ 5. Consent of railroad commission. No public utility as defined in the public utilities act may issue any share of stock without nominal or par value, nor shall any share of stock or any stock certificate outstanding be converted into or deemed to be converted into stock without nominal or par value, without the consent of the railroad commission first having been secured in accordance with the provisions of the public utilities act, and the jurisdiction of the railroad commission with reference to such issue and such conversion of stock shall be in all respects the same as that defined in the public utilities act with reference to the issue by public utilities of stock or stock certificates, and nothing in this act shall be construed to in any way limit the jurisdiction of the railroad commission under the public utilities act over the issue of stock and stock certificates.

ACT 756.

An act prescribing terms and conditions upon which corporations may transact business in this state and providing penalties and forfeitures for noncompliance.

[Approved May 10, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 422.]

The entire act was amended in 1917 (Stats. 1917, p. 371), to read as follows:

§ 1. Corporations must file articles of incorporation. Certified copy filed with county clerk. Affidavit. Fee. Foreign corporations must file amendments, etc. Affidavit showing capital stock. Representatives of foreign corporations. Benefit of law. Every corporation organized under the laws of another state, territory, or of a foreign country, which is now doing interstate or intrastate business in this state or maintaining an office herein, and which has not filed with the secretary of state prior to the day on which this act takes effect the document or documents required by this section, or which shall hereafter do such business in this state or maintain an office herein, or which shall enter this state for the purpose of doing such business herein, must file in the office of the secretary of state of the state of California a certified copy of its articles of incorporation, or of its charter, or of the statute or statutes, or legislative, or executive, or governmental act or acts creating it, in cases where it has been created by charter, or statute, or legislative, or executive, or governmental act, duly certified by the secretary of state or other officer authorized by the law of the jurisdiction under which such corporation is formed to certify such copy, and must also file a certified copy thereof, duly certified by the secretary of state of this state in the office of the county clerk of the county where its principal place of business in this state is located, and also where such corporation owns any real property. With such certified copy of its articles of incorporation, charter, or legislative, executive or governmental act creating it, such corporation shall also file with the secretary of state an affidavit sworn to by the president or secretary of such corporation which shall state the amount of such corporation's authorized capital stock at or within fifteen days prior to such filing. Every such corporation shall pay to the secretary of state for filing in his office such certified copy of its articles of incorporation, or of its charter, or of the statute or statutes, or legislative, or executive, or governmental act or acts creating it, a fee of seventy-five dollars; provided, that foreign corporations organized for educational, religious, scientific or charitable purposes and having no capital stock, and foreign nonprofit corporations shall pay a fee of five dollars for filing the document or documents hereinabove required.

Foreign corporations shall also file any amendment of or change in any of the provisions of its original articles of incorporation, or charter, or of the statute or legislative, executive or governmental act or acts creating it. Every foreign corporation subject to the tax hereinafter provided shall file with the secretary of state, at the time it tenders payment of said tax and any penalty which has accrued, an affidavit sworn to by its president or secretary, showing the amount of its authorized capital stock on the first day of January of the year in which said payment is made, and in the event that such authorized capital stock, as shown by such affidavit, differs from the amount of such capital stock as appears from the records of the secretary of state, then the tax hereinafter provided shall be measured by the amount of the capital stock shown in such affidavit. The license hereinafter required shall not be issued nor shall the amount so tendered be accepted until copies of any documents relating to such change in authorized capital stock, certified as required by this section, shall have been filed with the secretary of state.

Every foreign corporation shall file with the secretary of state a designation of some person residing within this state upon whom process issued by authority of law may be served as the representative, for such purpose, of such corporation. A copy of such designation certified by the secretary of state is sufficient evidence of the appointment of such representative. Such process may be served on the person so designated, or, in the event that no such representative is designated, then on the secretary of state, and such service shall be a valid and binding service on such corporation.

Every corporation which complies with the provisions of this section is thereafter entitled to the benefit of the laws of this state limiting the time for the commencement of civil actions, but any corporation created by or under the laws of any foreign state or country and that has not complied with this section is not entitled to the benefit thereof, nor can any such foreign corporation maintain or defend any action or proceeding concerning its property in this state or any intrastate business or transaction, in any court of this state or acquire or convey any legal title to any real property within this state. In any action or proceeding instituted against any body styled as a corporation, but not created by nor under the laws of this state, evidence that such body has acted as a corporation, or employed methods usually employed by corporations, must be received by the court for the purpose of proving the existence of such corporation, the sufficiency of such evidence to be determined by the court with like effect as in other cases. Every corporation which has complied with the law requiring it to make and file a designation of the person upon whom process against it may be served, need not make or file any further designation. Any designation made may be revoked by the filing by the corporation with the secretary of state of a writing stating such revocation. Within forty days after the death or removal from the state of any person designated by the corporation, or after the revocation of the designation, the corporation must make a new designation, or be subject to the provisions and penalties of this section; provided, however, that any foreign corporation which, prior to the eighth day of March, one thousand nine hundred one, shall have complied with the provisions of the act entitled, "An act to amend 'An act in relation to foreign corporations,' approved April first, one thousand eight hundred seventy-two," approved March seventeenth, one thousand eight hundred ninety-nine, shall, in lieu of the provisions of this section above set forth, file the affidavit and designation of representative herein required and the license tax due from such corporation shall be measured by the authorized capital stock, as shown thereby.

§ 2. Fees. Upon filing in the office of the secretary of state the certified copy of articles of incorporation of corporations organized under the laws of this state, there shall be paid to the secretary of state the fees prescribed therefor by section four hundred nine of the Political Code.

§ 3. Annual license. Tax. Determination of tax. Tax on corporations having no capital stock. Except those corporations hereinafter specified, every corporation incorporated under the laws of this state, and every corporation incorporated under the laws of any other state, territory, or foreign country now doing intrastate business within this state, or which shall hereafter engage in intrastate business in this state, shall procure annually from the secretary of state a license authorizing the transaction of such business in this state, and pay therefor the license tax prescribed herein.

For the purpose of measuring said tax the secretary of state shall examine all articles of incorporation and all documents on file in his office relating to an increase or decrease in the authorized capital stock of corporations which are subject to said tax, and determine the amount due from each corporation by the following rule:

When the authorized capital stock of the corporation does not exceed ten thousand dollars, the tax shall be ten dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds ten thousand dollars, but does not exceed twenty thousand dollars, the tax shall be fifteen dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds twenty thousand dollars but does not exceed fifty thousand dollars, the tax shall be twenty dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds fifty thousand dollars but does not exceed one hundred thousand dollars, the tax shall be twenty-five dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds one hundred thousand dollars but does not exceed two hundred fifty thousand dollars, the tax shall be fifty dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds two hundred fifty thousand dollars but does not exceed five hundred thousand dollars, the tax shall be seventy-five dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds five hundred thousand dollars but does not exceed one million dollars, the tax shall be one hundred dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds one million dollars but does not exceed three million dollars, the tax shall be two hundred dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds three million dollars but does not exceed five million dollars, the tax shall be three hundred fifty dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds five million dollars but does not exceed seven million five hundred thousand dollars, the tax shall be five hundred fifty dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds seven million five hundred thousand dollars but does not exceed ten million dollars, the tax shall be eight hundred dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds ten million dollars, the tax shall be one thousand dollars; when the capital stock of any corporation has no par value the tax shall be one hundred dollars; when part of the capital stock of any corporation has a par value and a part of such stock has no par value, the tax shall be computed upon such par value stock in accordance with the admeasurement schedule herein established, to which sum shall be added the sum of fifty dollars. Building and loan companies and associations shall pay an annual license tax of ten dollars.

All corporations having no capital stock, but organized for profit, shall pay an annual tax of ten dollars. Said license tax shall be due and payable to the secretary of state on the first day of January of each and every year. Such license tax shall be paid on or before the hour of six o'clock P. M. of the first Monday of February of each year and if not so paid shall at said hour become delinquent and there shall thereupon be added thereto as a penalty for such delinquency the sum of ten dollars.

§ 4. Tax authorizes transaction of business. The license hereby provided authorizes the domestic corporations holding the same to transact business in this state, and authorizes foreign corporations to transact intrastate business in this state, during the year or any fractional part of such year for which such license is issued. "Year" within the meaning of this act, means from and including the first day of January to and including the thirty-first day of December next thereafter.

§ 5. License tax for part of year. At the time any corporation subject to the license tax provided herein shall file certified copy of articles of incorporation, or charter, or statute or statutes, or legislative, or executive or governmental act or acts creating a corporation, when filed between the first day of January and the thirty-first day of December, inclusive, in any year, there shall be paid to the secretary of state, in addition to all other fees required by law, that proportion of the license tax specified in section three of this act which the unexpired number of months of such year bears to the entire year including the month in which such filing occurs, and thereupon the secretary of state shall issue a license for such fractional part of the then current year.

§ 6. Corporations exempt. Corporations organized and conducted solely and exclusively for educational, religious, scientific or charitable purposes, corporations which are not organized or conducted for profit, corporations organized under the laws of any other state, territory or foreign country doing solely and exclusively an interstate or foreign business, and those corporations taxed under subdivisions (a), (b) and (c) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution, are exempt from payment of the tax provided by section three of this act.

§ 7. "Corporation license tax exemption board." Protest. Contents. Corporations excepted. The secretary of state, state controller and members of the state board of control shall be and are hereby constituted the "corporation license tax exemption board." Except in cases where articles of incorporation are filed in the month of December, every corporation claiming exemption from the payment of the annual license tax prescribed by this statute must file with said board, at least thirty days before such license tax becomes due and payable, a written protest in which shall be set forth all facts and reasons upon which such exemption claim is made. Such protest shall contain a concise statement of the nature, character and manner of doing business by such corporation, together with any other data illustrating the method of doing such business and the places in which such business is transacted within this state. Such corporation shall furnish to said board such other or additional information as may be required by said board. Such application shall be sworn to by the president, secretary or general manager, or authorized agent of such corporation. Failure to protest in the manner and within the time herein prescribed shall constitute a waiver of all rights of exemption from said tax; provided, however, that the corporation license tax exemption board shall have the power, irrespective of such protests to grant such exemption in the case of corporations mentioned in section six of this act.

The provisions of this section with respect to filing written claim of exemption, shall not apply to educational, religious, scientific or charitable corporations, specified in section six of this act nor to corporations taxed under subdivisions (a), (b) and (c) of section fourteen, article thirteen of the constitution of this state.

§ 8. Tax exemption determined before filing articles of incorporation. Before filing a certified copy of the articles of incorporation of any domestic corporation in the office of the secretary of state, and before any foreign corporation files with the secretary of state the document or documents required by section one of this act, said articles of incorporation or said documents shall be submitted to said corporation license tax exemption board, which board shall determine the question of whether such corporation is exempt, under any of the provisions of this act, from the license tax imposed hereby.

All claims or applications for exemption, under this and the preceding section together with all evidence and proofs submitted therewith, shall be considered by such license tax exemption board, which shall determine the question of such exemption. The determining of such corporation license tax exemption board upon all questions of fact, with respect to such claims of exemption, shall be final and conclusive.

§ 9. Notice of time when tax payable. Notice of delinquency. Notice of suspension or forfeiture. On or before the first day of December of each year the secretary of state shall mail a notice to every corporation subject to the tax imposed by this act, notifying such corporations of the time when such tax shall be due and payable, when delinquent, and of the penalties for delinquency and nonpayment. Immediately after the first Monday in February of each year the secretary of state shall mail a notice to every corporation subject to the tax imposed by this act and which has failed to pay the same, notifying such corporation of its delinquency and the penalties therefor. Within ten days after the Saturday preceding the first Monday in March of each year the secretary of state shall, by registered mail, notify every corporation subject to the tax imposed by this act and which has failed to pay the same, that such corporation has been recorded by him as a "suspended" or "forfeited" corporation in accordance with the provisions of this act, and that such suspension or forfeiture may be removed by complying with the provisions of this act. Mailing by the secretary of state to any corporation of any of the notices required by this section shall not be a jurisdictional prerequisite to the accrual of any forfeiture provided by this act, or to the suspension of the corporate powers of any delinquent corporation and the officers thereof hereinafter provided, nor be held to be an essential prerequisite to the imposition of such or any other penalties for delinquency and nonpayment.

§ 10. License tax lien. The license tax due from any corporation subject to the provisions of this act is a lien upon the real property of such corporation from and after the first day of January of each year and until paid or until the property is sold for the payment thereof. On or before the first Monday in April of each year the secretary of state shall make a list of all corporations subject to the tax imposed by or that should have been paid under this act and which have failed to pay the same, and transmit a certified copy thereof to each county clerk and county recorder in this state. Said county clerks and county recorders shall file such certified copies in their respective offices in such manner that the same shall be preserved in the form of a permanent record of such office and easily identified by and available to the public. Said copies so certified by the secretary of state and filed as herein provided shall, in the case of each corporation, state whether such corporation is a domestic or foreign corporation and specify the tax and penalties which each corporation has incurred for failure to pay the tax imposed by this act. Such certified copies so filed with either of said county officers, or any copy thereof certified by the secretary of state, shall be received in evidence in any court in lieu of the original record on file with the secretary of state and shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of all statements contained therein.

§ 11. Rights of domestic corporations suspended. Right of foreign corporations forfeited. Forfeiture relieved. After six o'clock P. M. of the Saturday preceding the first Monday in March in any year, the corporate rights, privileges and powers of every domestic corporation which has failed to pay the tax and money penalty for nonpayment thereof imposed by this act shall, from and after said hour of said day, be suspended, and incapable of being exercised for any purpose or in any manner, except to execute and deliver deeds to real property in pursuance of contracts therefor made prior to such time, and to defend in court any action brought against such corporation, until said tax with all accrued penalties, taxes and charges due to the state under this act and subdivision (d) of section fourteen, article thirteen of the constitution are paid as hereinafter provided. The right and privilege of every foreign corporation, subject to the provisions of this act, to transact intrastate business in this state shall, for failure to pay the tax and money penalty for nonpayment thereof imposed by this act, be forfeited at said hour of said day, and the secretary of state shall make a record of such forfeiture. In the case of foreign corporations such forfeiture may be relieved and the corporation's privilege to transact intrastate business in this state restored in the manner hereinafter provided. After said hour of said day and until such taxes, penalties and charges are paid, every person who attempts or purports to exercise any of the rights, privileges or powers of any delinquent domestic corporation except as permitted by this act, or, who transacts or attempts to transact any intrastate business in this state in behalf of any forfeited foreign corporation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than two hundred fifty dollars and not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than fifty days or more than five hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. The jurisdiction of such offense shall be held to be in any county in which any part of such attempted exercise of such powers, or any part of such transaction of business was had or occurred. Every contract made in violation of this section is hereby declared to be void.

§ 12. Application by stockholder or creditor to restore rights. Payment of additional amount. Contractor's certificate. All corporate powers, rights and privileges, suspended or forfeited under the provisions of this act may be revived and restored to full force and effect upon application therefor by any stockholder or creditor thereof and upon payment of all accrued taxes and penalties due to the state under this act and subdivision (d) of section fourteen, article thirteen of the constitution. In case the application for such revivor and restoration is not made during the year in which such suspension or forfeiture occurred, such application shall not be granted nor a certificate of revivor issued to such corporation until there is paid to the secretary of state in addition to the tax and money penalty due or that should have been paid the state under this act and subdivision (d) of section fourteen, article thirteen of the constitution for the year in which such suspension or forfeiture occurred, a sum of money, equal to the tax, without penalty, imposed or that should have been paid under this act during the year in which such suspension or forfeiture occurred, for each year succeeding said year in which such suspension or forfeiture occurred. Upon payment of all such taxes and penalties, and upon payment of all other taxes due the state under subdivision (d) of section fourteen, article thirteen of the constitution, the state controller shall issue a certificate under his seal evidencing such payment and restoration, which certificate, when recorded in the office of any county recorder shall constitute a release of all existing liens for such taxes upon the property of such corporation. Each county recorder shall keep an index of all such controller's certificates recorded by him. Upon presentation of such controller's certificate of revivor to any county clerk said officer shall make a record thereof in his office in a book kept for such purpose. The record so made by said county clerk shall be prima facie evidence of the restoration to such corporation of all previously suspended or forfeited rights, powers and privileges unless it appears from the records in the office of such county clerk or of the controller or secretary of state that subsequent to the date of such certificate of revivor the powers of said corporation have been again suspended or its right to do intrastate business again forfeited.

§ 13. No dissolution until tax paid. No court shall have jurisdiction to make or enter any decree of dissolution of any domestic corporation until all taxes and penalties due under this act shall have been paid.

§ 14. Restoration of right under acts of 1905 and 1915. Use of new name. Any corporation which has heretofore failed to pay any license tax and penalty imposed under the provisions of chapter three hundred eighty-six, Statutes 1905, and amendments thereof, or under chapter one hundred ninety, Statutes 1915, and for such nonpayment suffered a forfeiture of the charter of such corporation or of the right to do business in this state, may be relieved of such forfeiture, or may be restored to its right to do business in this state, upon making application therefor in writing and paying the license tax and penalties prescribed by said act, for nonpayment of which such forfeiture occurred. Application for restoration under the provisions of this section shall be made in writing, shall be signed by four-fifths of the surviving trustees or directors of said corporation, duly verified by said trustees or directors and filed with the state controller. Upon payment of the moneys due this state under the provisions of said act for the one year in which such forfeiture occurred, together with any tax levied in such year under subdivision (d) of section fourteen, article thirteen of the constitution by the state board of equalization, and the license tax due under the provisions of this act, the state controller shall issue a certificate of revivor to such corporation, and thereupon such corporation is revived and its powers restored to full force and effect.

The revivor of a corporation, under the provisions of this section, shall be without prejudice to any action or proceeding, defense or right, which has occurred by reason of the original forfeiture.

In case the name of any corporation which has suffered the forfeiture prescribed by either of said acts first in this section above mentioned, has been adopted by any other corporation since the date of said forfeiture, or in case any corporation has adopted subsequent to such forfeiture any name so closely resembling the name of such reviving corporation as will tend to deceive, then such reviving corporation shall be entitled to a certificate of revivor pursuant to the terms of this section only upon the adoption by such corporation seeking revivor of a new name, and in such case nothing in this section contained shall be construed as permitting such reviving corporation to carry on any business under its former name. Such reviving corporation shall have the right to use its former name or take such new name only upon filing an application therefor with the secretary of state, and upon the issuing of a certificate to such corporation by the secretary of state, setting forth the right of such corporation to take such new name or use its former name as the case may be. The secretary of state shall not issue any certificate permitting any corporation to take or use the name of any corporation heretofore organized in this state and which has not suffered a forfeiture under either of the acts in this section first above mentioned, or to take or use a name so closely resembling the name of any corporation heretofore organized in this state as will tend to deceive.

The provisions of title nine, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure, in so far as they conflict with this section of this act are not applicable to corporations seeking revivor under this act.

§ 15. Surrender of right to engage in intrastate business. Any foreign corporation may surrender its right to engage in intrastate business in this state by filing with the corporation license tax exemption board an affidavit, sworn to by the president of such corporation, which shall contain a concise statement of the nature, character and manner of doing any business of any kind that such corporation may therefter intend to transact in this state. Said corporation shall furnish such other or additional information as may be required by said board. Said board shall consider such application and the order of such board approving the same shall terminate the right of such corporation to transact intrastate business in this state. Any person transacting any intrastate business in this state in behalf of such corporation after approval of such application to surrender such privilege shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable as provided in section eleven of this act.

§ 16. False statement. Any false statement contained in any of the affidavits herein required shall constitute perjury, and shall be punishable as such.

§ 17. Moneys paid. All moneys herein required to be paid shall, upon collection, be immediately paid into the state treasury.

§ 18. Statutes unaffected. Nothing in this act shall be construed as affecting or repealing any statute of this state respecting the assessment of franchises and levying of taxes thereon, as required by section fourteen, article thirteen of the constitution and chapter three hundred thirty-five of statutes of one thousand nine hundred eleven of this state and amendments thereof.

§ 19. Title. This act shall be known as the "corporation license act."

The amendatory act of 1917 also contained the following provision:

§ 2. In effect. This act, inasmuch as it provides for a tax levy, shall, under the provisions of section one of article four of the constitution, take effect immediately.

ACT 777.

An act defining industrial loan companies, providing for their incorporation, powers and supervision.

[Approved May 18, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 658. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. "Industrial loan company." The term "industrial loan company" as used in this act means any corporation which in the regular course of its business loans money and issues its own choses in action under the provisions of this act.

§ 2. Incorporation. Corporations may be incorporated under and by virtue of this act in the same manner as corporations under and by virtue of chapter one of title one of part four, division first of the Civil Code, except as otherwise herein provided.

§ 3. Capital stock. Shares. Capital stock paid. The capital stock of any corporation incorporated under the provisions of this act shall not be less than twenty-five thousand dollars in any city having a population of twenty-five thousand inhabitants or more and less than fifty thousand; and shall not be less than fifty thousand dollars in any city having fifty thousand or more inhabitants, and less than one hundred thousand; and shall not be less than one hundred thousand dollars in any city having one hundred thousand or more inhabitants, according to the last official census. The capital stock of any such corporation shall be divided into shares of the par value of one hundred dollars each. Before the articles of incorporation of any corporation, incorporated under the provisions of this act, are filed, there must be paid in cash for the benefit of the corporation to a treasurer, elected by the subscribers, not less than twenty-five per cent of the amount of the capital stock; the balance of the capital stock shall be paid in cash to the corporation at the rate of not less than ten per cent per month, following the initial payment. No corporation organized hereunder shall create more than one class of stock.

§ 4. Powers of corporation. Every corporation under the provisions of this act shall have power:

First—To loan money on personal security, or otherwise, and to deduct interest therefor in advance at the rate of six per cent per annum, or less, and in addition, to receive and to require uniform weekly or monthly installments on its certificates of investment, purchased by the borrower simultaneously with the said loan transaction, or otherwise, and pledged with the corporation as security for the said loan, with or without an allowance of interest on such installments.

Second—To sell or negotiate choses in action for the payment of money at any time, either fixed or uncertain, and to receive payments therefor in installments or otherwise, with or without an allowance of interest upon such installments. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to authorize corporations hereunder to receive deposits or to issue certificates of deposit. The issuance of choses in action herein authorized shall be approved as to form by the commissioner of corporations and shall bear the indorsement on the face of the instrument "This is not a certificate of deposit."

Third—To charge for a loan, made pursuant to this section, one dollar for every fifty dollars, or fraction thereof loaned, for expenses, including any examination or investigation of the character and circumstances of the borrower, and the drawing and taking acknowledgment of any papers, or other expenses incurred in making the loan. No charge shall be collected unless a loan shall have been made, and in no case shall such charge exceed five dollars.

Fourth—To establish branch offices, or places of business, within the county in which its principal place of business is located, but not elsewhere.

In addition to the powers herein enumerated, every corporation, under the provisions of this act, shall have the general powers conferred upon corporations by chapter three, title one, part four, division first, of the Civil Code, except as herein otherwise provided.

§ 5. Limitations on corporations. No corporation under the provisions of this act shall:

(a) Hold at any one time the obligation or obligations of any person, firm or corporation, for more than two per cent of the amount of the capital and surplus of such industrial loan company.

(b) Make any loan, under the provisions of this act, for a longer period than one year from the date thereof.

(c) Deposit any of its funds with any other moneyed corporation, unless such corporation has been designated as such depository by a vote of the majority of the directors or of the executive committee, exclusive of any director who is an officer, director or trustee of the depository so designated.

(d) Invest any of its funds, otherwise than as herein authorized, except in such investments as are by law legal investments for savings banks, or in the choses in action issued by any other corporation organized under this act.

(e) Have outstanding at any time its investment certificates in an aggregate sum in excess of ten times the aggregate amount of its paid up capital, exclusive of those hypothecated with the company issuing them.

§ 6. Holding real estate. Every corporation, under the provisions of this act, may purchase, hold and convey real estate for the following purposes, but for no other:

First—Such as shall be conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in the course of its business.

Second—Such as it shall purchase at sale under judgments, decrees or mortgage foreclosures under securities held by it, but no such corporation shall bid at any such sale a larger amount than shall be necessary to satisfy its debt and costs.

Real estate shall be conveyed under the corporate seal of such corporation and the hand of its president or vice-president and manager or treasurer. No real estate acquired in the cases contemplated above shall be held for a longer period than five years. Parcels of such real estate not sold within said time may be purchased by any person wanting the same, upon the conditions and proceedings provided in section fifty-four of "An act to define and regulate the business of banking," approved March 1, 1909.

§ 7. Dividends. The directors of every corporation, under the provisions of this act, may at certain times and in such manner as its by-laws prescribe, declare and pay dividends to the stockholders of such corporation, of so much of the net profits of the corporation as may be appropriated for that purpose under its by-laws, but before any such dividend is declared, not less than ten per cent of the net profits of such corporation for the preceding half year or for such period as is covered by the dividend, shall be carried to its surplus until such surplus shall amount to twenty-five per cent of the paid up capital stock.

§ 8. Certificates of investment issued not creation of debt. Issuing certificates of investment and the like in the transaction of the business of corporations under the provisions of this act shall not be construed to be the creation of debt within the meaning of the phrase "create debt" in section three hundred nine of the Civil Code nor of "indebtedness" within the meaning of the phrase "the capital stock cannot be diminished to an amount less than the indebtedness of the corporation" in section three hundred fifty-nine of the Civil Code, except that no company organized hereunder shall reduce its capital stock to an amount less than is required by this act to be maintained by such company or less than any indebtedness of such company other than such investment certificates.

§ 9. Taxed. Corporations, under the provisions of this act, shall be taxed the same as other general corporations.

§ 10. Subject to investment companies act. Corporations under the provisions of this act shall be subject to the provisions and regulations of "An act to define investment companies, investment brokers and agents; to provide for the regulation, supervision and licensing thereof; to provide penalties for the violation thereof; to create the office of commissioner of corporations and making an appropriation therefor," approved May twenty-eighth, nineteen hundred thirteen, and any additions or amendments thereto.

§ 11. Order to discontinue violation of law. Order to discontinue unsafe practices. Suit to restrain enforcement. Commissioner of corporations may take possession of property. If it shall appear to the commissioner of corporations that any company hereunder has violated or failed to comply with the provisions of its articles of incorporation, or any law of this state, or whenever it shall appear from the report of any company hereunder, or the commissioner shall have reason to conclude, that the capital of any company hereunder is impaired or reduced below the amount required by law, he may, by an order under his hand and official seal, addressed to such company, direct such company to discontinue such violation and to comply with the law, or to make good the deficiency or impairment of capital alleged by him to exist within sixty days after the date of such requisition; or

If it shall appear to the commissioner that such company is conducting business in an unsafe or injurious manner, he may, in like manner, direct the discontinuance of any such unsafe or injurious practices. Such orders shall require such company to show cause, before the commissioner, at a time and place to be fixed by him, why said order should not be observed. If upon such hearing it shall appear to the commissioner that such order should be made final he shall proceed to do so, and such company shall immediately comply with such order made by the commissioner of corporations.

Such company shall have ten days after any such order is made final in which suit may be commenced to restrain enforcement of such order and unless such action be so commenced and enforcement of such order be enjoined within ten days by the court in which such is suit is brought, then such company shall comply with such order.

Upon failure of any company to comply with such order or if such company shall refuse to submit its books, papers and concerns to the inspection or examination of the commissioner of corporations, or to any one authorized by him to make such examination, or if any officer of such company shall refuse to be examined upon oath touching the concerns of such company, or if any such company shall neglect or refuse to observe any order made by the commissioner of corporations pursuant to his supervision as authorized by this act, the commissioner of corporations may forthwith take possession of the property and business of such company and retain such possession until such company shall resume business or its affairs be finally liquidated. On taking possession of the property and business of any such company, the commissioner of corporations may proceed to liquidate the same in the manner provided by the bank act.

§ 12. Powers of commissioner of corporations not affected. Nothing in this act contained shall be deemed or construed as a limitation or restriction of or as in any way affecting the power or discretion of the commissioner of corporations, under the investment companies act or any other statute now or hereafter in effect, to issue a permit authorizing any corporation under the provisions of this act to issue and dispose of choses in action in such amounts and upon such terms and conditions as he may in such permit provide and to impose such conditions as he may deem necessary to the issue of such securities and to establish such rules and regulations as may be reasonable or necessary to insure the disposition of the proceeds of such securities in the manner and for the purposes provided in such permit and from time to time for cause to amend, alter or revoke any permit issued by him or to refuse to issue such permit or otherwise authorize the issue of such securities.

TITLE 130.

COUNTIES.

ACT 806.

An act authorizing any county now or hereafter organized to incur indebtedness, issue negotiable bonds, levy taxes to pay the principal and interest thereof, acquire by condemnation or otherwise land within the county, and, in, consideration of the benefits to be derived therefrom by such county, to convey the same to the United States, for a permanent mobilization, training and supply station for any or all such military purposes, including supply stations, the mobilization, disciplining and training of the United States army, state militia and other military organizations, as are now or may at any time be authorized or provided for under any law or laws of the United States; conferring on such counties the power of eminent domain for the purposes of this act and providing the procedure therefor; granting the consent of the state to such conveyance and ceding exclusive jurisdiction to the United States over the lands so conveyed.

[Approved May 25, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 933. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Boards of supervisors may incur indebtedness to purchase land for United States mobilization stations. Whenever the secretary of war of the United States shall agree, on behalf of the government of the United States, to establish in any county now or hereafter organized in this state, a permanent mobilization, training and supply station for any or all such military purposes as are now or may be then or thereafter authorized or provided by or under any law of the United States, on condition that land in such county aggregating approximately a designated number of acres at such location or locations within any such county as may have been or may thereafter be from time to time selected or approved by such secretary of war be conveyed to the United States with the consent of the state of California, for the consideration of the benefits to be derived by such county from the use of such lands by the United States for such purpose and the board of supervisors shall determine that it is desirable and for the general welfare and benefit of the people of such county and for the interest of the county to incur an indebtedness in an amount sufficient to acquire land in such county aggregating approximately the number of acres so designated, at such location or locations as may have been theretofore or may be thereafter selected or approved by such secretary of war, and, in consideration of the benefits to be derived therefrom by such county, to convey all such lands to the United States to be used by the United States for any or all such military purposes, as are now, or may be then or thereafter authorized or provided by or under any law of the United States, including permanent mobilization, training and supply stations, such county is hereby authorized and empowered by and through its board of supervisors to incur an indebtedness evidenced by negotiable bonds of such county for such purposes in any amount not exceeding, together with all existing bonded indebtedness of such county, five per cent of the taxable property of the county, as shown by the last equalized assessment book thereof, whenever two-thirds of the qualified electors of the county voting thereon shall assent thereto, at any election, either general or special, at which the proposal to incur such bonded indebtedness may be submitted to such electors in the manner provided by law.

§ 2. Manner of incurring indebtedness. Not to exceed five per cent of taxable property. Question submitted to voters. Such indebtedness shall be incurred in the following manner, to wit: The board of supervisors of any such county shall by order specify (a) the purpose for which the indebtedness is to be incurred, which shall in general be, for acquiring land in such county aggregating approximately the number of acres designated in such agreement by such secretary of war to be conveyed for the consideration of the benefits to be derived by such county from the use of such lands by the United States for such purposes, to the United States for the purposes of a permanent mobilization, training and supply station, (b) the amount of bonds proposed to be issued, provided that such amount, together with all then existing bonded indebtedness of such county shall not exceed five per cent of the taxable property of the county as shown by the last equalized assessment-book thereof, exclusive of the taxable value of the land so proposed to be acquired and conveyed to the United States, (c) the rate of interest it is proposed such bonds shall bear, (d) the number of years, not exceeding forty, the whole or any part of said bonds are to run, and (e) such order shall further provide for submitting the question of the issuance of such bonds to the qualified electors of such county at the next general election, or at a special election to be called by the board for that purpose. The words to appear on the ballot shall be "Bonds—Yes" and "Bonds—No" or words of similar import, together with a general statement of the amount and purpose of the bonds to be issued, and which general statement shall include a statement that the purpose is to acquire and convey to the United States, for the consideration of the benefits to be derived by such county from the use of such lands by the United States, the amount of land set out in said order of the board of supervisors for the purpose of a permanent mobilization, training and supply station. If the question is submitted at a special election, notice thereof shall be given and the question submitted as provided in section four thousand eighty-eight of the Political Code of the State of California.

§ 3. If two-thirds favor. Procedure. If two-thirds of the qualified electors of the county voting thereon shall vote in favor of the issuing such bonds, the board must proceed to issue the amount of bonds specified. The board of supervisors in issuing and selling said bonds shall follow the procedure provided in said section four thousand eighty-eight of said Political Code as to other bonds of the county, and said bonds shall be in the form, of the denominations and specify the rate of interest as provided in said section and shall in all respects conform to the provisions of said section, and the payment thereof, both principal and interest, shall be provided for by a tax levy in the same manner as is provided in said section for the payment of the principal and interest of other bonds issued by any county, and said section, except as herein modified, is hereby specifically made applicable to all bonds at any time issued under the provisions of this act.

§ 4. Right of eminent domain granted. The acquisition of land for the establishment of a permanent mobilization, training and supply station for any and all such military purposes as are now or may be then or thereafter authorized or provided by or under any law of the United States is hereby declared to be a public use, and the right of eminent domain is hereby granted and extended to every county availing itself of the provisions of this act for every purpose of condemnation, appropriation or disposition intended by this act and such county is hereby authorized and empowered to condemn and appropriate all lands and rights whatsoever necessary or convenient for carrying out the provisions of this act. Such right of eminent domain may be exercised on behalf of such public use in accordance with the provisions of title seven, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure of the state of California.

§ 5. Consent to acquisition by United States. Consent to exercise of exclusive legislation. Pursuant to the constitution and laws of the United States and especially to paragraph seventeen of section eight of article one of such constitution, the consent of the legislature of the state of California is hereby given to the United States to acquire, upon the conditions and for the purposes herein set forth, from any county acting under the provisions of this act, title to all lands herein intended to be referred to; such title to be evidenced by a deed or deeds of such county, signed by the chairman of its board of supervisors and attested by the clerk of such county, under seal and the consent of the state of California is hereby given to the exercise by the congress of the United States of exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever over such tracts or parcels of land so conveyed to it; subject, however, to the right of the state to have concurrent jurisdiction so far that all process, civil or criminal, issued under authority of the state may be executed by the proper officers thereof within such tract, upon any person or persons amenable to the same in like manner and with like effect as if such conveyance had not been made. The board of supervisors shall have the power to insert in every conveyance made under the authority of this act, such conditions subsequent as such board shall deem necessary to insure the use of such lands by the United States government for the purposes herein mentioned and to carry out the provisions of this act.

CRIMINAL LAW.

ACT 863.

An act to create a state bureau of criminal identification, providing for the appointment of a director of said bureau, defining his duties, qualifications and powers, providing for the appointment of a clerk of said bureau, and fixing his qualifications fixing the compensation of said director and clerk, and providing for the manner of paying the same, and providing for the expense of conducting the office. [Approved March 20, 1905. Stats. 1905, p. 520.]

Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1391. See next Act.

ACT 863a.

An act creating a state bureau of criminal identification and investigation, providing for its organization and defining its powers and duties and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions hereof, and repealing an act entitled "An act to create a state bureau of criminal identification, and providing for the appointment of a director of said bureau, defining his duties and qualifications and powers; providing for the appointment of a clerk of said bureau and fixing his qualifications; fixing compensation of said director and clerk, providing for the manner of paying the same and providing for the expense of conducting the office," approved March 20, 1905.

[Approved May 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1391. In effect July 30, 1917.]

§ 1. State bureau of criminal identification and investigation created. There is hereby created a state bureau of criminal identification and investigation.

§ 2. Appointment and term of members. Within ten days after this act goes into effect, it will be the duty of the governor to appoint a board of managers of said bureau, consisting of three members: One of whom shall be a chief of police of an incorporated city within the state of California, and one to be a duly elected, qualified and acting sheriff of a county within said state, and one to be a duly elected, qualified and acting district attorney of a county within said state; one member of said board shall be appointed to hold office for the term of two years, one member shall be appointed to hold office for the term of three years, and one member to be appointed to hold office for the term of four years, and thereafter, all appointments shall be for the full term of four years; provided, however, that should the term of any such member of the said board expire as such chief of police, or such sheriff, or such district attorney, he shall cease to be a member of the said board; and provided, further, that the governor shall fill all vacancies created in said board by the appointment of the same kind of an officer as was his predecessor.

§ 3. Duties of board of managers. Superintendent. It shall be the duty of said board of managers within ten days after its appointment to take absolute control and management of said bureau, to meet and organize by choosing one of their number to be president, to make and adopt such rules as are necessary for proper conduct of their business as such board of managers, to provide for the appointment of a superintendent and such other employees as may be required; said appointments to be made by the said board of managers from an eligible list provided for such purpose by the civil service commission; also to provide equipment for said bureau, with necessary furniture, fixtures, apparatus, appurtenances, appliances and materials as are necessary for the collection, filing and preservation of all criminal records both as to identification and investigation of criminals, and stolen, lost, found, pledged or pawned property.

§ 4. Photos, etc., of criminals. It shall be the duty of said board of managers to procure and file for record and report in their office, as far as such can be procured, all plates, photos, outline pictures, descriptions, information and measurements of all persons who have been or shall hereafter be convicted of felony, or imprisoned for violating any of the military, naval, or criminal laws of the United States of America, and of all well known and habitual criminals from wherever procurable.

§ 5. Information furnished. It shall be the duty of said board of managers to file or cause to be filed all plates, photographs, outline pictures, measurements, information and description which shall be received by it by virtue of its office and it shall make a complete and systematic record and index of the same, providing thereby a method of convenience, consultation and comparison. It shall be the duty of said board of managers to furnish, upon application, all information pertaining to the identification of any person, or persons, a plate, photograph, outline picture, description, measurement, or any data of which person there is a record in its office. Such information shall be furnished to the United States officers or officers of other states or territories, or possession of the United States or peace officers of other countries duly authorized to receive the same, and all peace officers of the state of California, which application shall be in writing and accompanied by a certificate signed by the officer making such application, stating that the information applied for is necessary in the interest of the due administration of the laws, and not for the purpose of assisting a private citizen in carrying on his personal interests or in maliciously, or uselessly, harassing, degrading or humiliating any person or persons.

§ 6. Systems of identification. In this bureau may be used the following systems of identification: the Bertillon, the finger-print system and any system of measurement that may be adopted by law in the various penal institutions of the state. It shall be the duty of said board of managers to keep on file in its office a record consisting of duplicates of all measurements, processes, operations, signalletic cards, plates, photographs, outline pictures, measurements and descriptions of all persons confined in penal institutions of this state as far as possible, in accordance with whatever system or systems may be in vogue in this state.

§ 7. Offices. Suitable offices for the proper conduct of the bureau shall be provided for by the superintendent of capitol buildings and grounds.

§ 8. Daily copies of finger prints furnished. Daily reports of property stolen. It is hereby made the duty of the sheriffs of the several counties of the state of California, the chiefs of police of incorporated cities therein and marshals of incorporated cities and towns therein to furnish to the said bureau daily copies of finger-prints on standardized eight by eight inch cards, and descriptions of all such persons arrested who in the best judgment of such sheriffs, chiefs of police, or city marshals are persons wanted for serious crimes, or are fugitives from justice, or of all such persons in whose possession at the time of arrest are found goods or property reasonably believed by such sheriffs, chiefs of police or city marshals to have been stolen by them; or of all such persons in whose possession are found burglar outfits or burglar tools or burglar keys or who have in their possession high-power explosives reasonably believed to be used for unlawful purposes or who are in possession of infernal machines, bombs or other contrivances in whole or in part and reasonably believed by said sheriffs, chiefs of police and city marshals to be used for unlawful purposes, or of all persons who carry concealed firearms or other deadly weapons and reasonably believed to be carried for unlawful purposes, or who have in their possession inks, dye, paper or other articles necessary in the making of counterfeit bank notes, or in the alteration of bank notes; or dies, molds or other articles necessary in the making of counterfeit money, and reasonably believed to be used by them for such unlawful purposes. This section is by no means intended to include violators of city or county ordinances or of persons arrested for other trifling offenses. It is further made the duty of the aforesaid sheriffs, chiefs of police or city marshals to furnish said bureau daily reports of lost, stolen, found, pledged or pawned property received into their respective offices.

§ 9. Record of reports. In order to assist in the recovery of said property and in the arrest and prosecution of criminals, it is hereby made the duty of the said board of managers of said bureau to keep a complete record of all reports filed with the said bureau, of all personal property stolen, lost, found, pledged, or pawned in any city or county of this state.

§ 10. File cards. To provide for the installation of a proper system, and file, and cause to be filed therein cards containing an outline of the method of operation employed by criminals in the commission of crime.

§ 11. Salaries. The board of managers of this bureau shall serve without compensation; provided, however, that they shall receive their necessary traveling expenses while attending meetings of said board. The superintendent shall receive a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; the salaries of the other employees shall be fixed by the board of managers subject to the approval of the board of control. The superintendent and the other employees shall be paid in the same manner and out of the same fund as the state officers are paid.

§ 12. Appropriation. There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of thirty-six thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be used by said board of managers in furnishing, equipping and maintaining the said bureau in accordance with the provisions of this act, and for the payment of the salaries herein provided for, for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred eighteen, and the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred nineteen.

§ 13. State controller directed to draw warrants. The state controller is hereby directed to draw warrants in favor of the said board of managers at such times and such amounts as shall be approved by the state board of control, and the state treasurer is hereby directed to pay the same.

§ 14. Furniture, equipment and records of bureau of criminal identification. All furniture, equipment and records now on file and in use in the office of the "bureau of criminal identification of the state of California," shall become a part of the furniture, equipment and records of the "state bureau of criminal identification and investigation," immediately upon the organization of the board of managers as provided for in this act.

§ 15. Stats 1905, p. 520, repealed. An act entitled, "An act to create a state bureau of criminal identification, and providing for the appointment of a director of said bureau, defining his duties and qualifications and powers; providing for the appointment of a clerk of said bureau and fixing his qualifications; fixing compensation of said director and clerk, providing for the manner of paying the same and providing for the expense of conducting the office"; approved March 20, 1905, is hereby repealed and all other acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

ACT 867.

An act creating an advisory pardon board; defining and prescribing the powers and duties thereof; and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved May 17, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 465.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 291.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Advisory pardon board created. President pro tempore of senate serves when. An advisory pardon board of and for the state of California is hereby created, which shall consist of the lieutenant-governor, who shall be chairman of said board, the attorney general, and the wardens of the two state prisons. Should the lieutenant-governor be absent or unable to perform the duties herein prescribed, the president pro tempore of the senate shall act in his place. The board shall have and exercise the powers and duties hereinafter set forth and specified. [Amendment approved May 8, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 291.]

TITLE 141.

DEADLY WEAPONS.

ACT 889.

An act relating to and regulating the carrying, possession, sale or other disposition of firearms capable of being concealed upon the person; prohibiting the possession, carrying, manufacturing and sale of certain other dangerous weapons and the giving, transferring and disposition thereof to other persons within this state; providing for the registering of the sales of firearms; prohibiting the carrying or possession of concealed weapons in municipal corporations; providing for the destruction of certain dangerous weapons as nuisances and making a felony to use or attempt to use certain dangerous weapons against another.

[Approved May 4, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 221. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Manufacture, etc., of certain dangerous weapons misdemeanor. Every person who manufacturers or causes to be manufactured, or leases, or keeps for sale, or offers, or gives, or otherwise disposes of any instrument or weapon of the kind commonly known as a blackjack, slungshot, billy, sandclub, sandbag, bludgeon, or metal knuckles, a dirk or dagger, to any person within this state is guilty of a misdemeanor, and if he has been previously convicted of a crime made punishable by this section, he is guilty of a felony.

§ 2. Possession of certain dangerous weapons misdemeanor. Every person who possesses any instrument or weapon of the kind commonly known as a blackjack, slungshot, billy, sandclub, sandbag, bludgeon, metal knuckles, bomb or bombshells, or who carries a dirk or a dagger, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and if he has been convicted previously of any felony or of a crime made punishable by this act, he is guilty of a felony.

§ 3. Carrying firearms without license misdemeanor. Every person who carries in any city, city and county, town or municipal corporation of this state any pistol, revolver, or other firearm concealed upon his person, without having a license to carry such firearm as hereinafter provided in section six of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and if he has been convicted previously of any felony, or of any crime made punishable by this act, he is guilty of a felony.

§ 4. Unlawful possession of weapon etc., nuisance. Surrender of weapons, etc. Destruction of weapons, etc. The unlawful possessing or carrying of any of the instruments, weapons or firearms enumerated in section one to section three inclusive of this act, by any person other than those authorized and empowered to carry or possess the same as hereinafter provided, is a nuisance, and such instruments, weapons or firearms are hereby declared to be nuisances, and when any of said articles shall be taken from the possession of any person the same shall be surrendered to the magistrate before whom said person shall be taken, except that in any city, city and county, town or other municipal corporation the same shall be surrendered to the head of the police force, or police department thereof. The officers to whom the same may be so surrendered, except upon certificate of a judge of a court of record, or of the district attorney of any county that the preservation thereof is necessary or proper to the ends of justice, shall proceed at such time or times as he deems proper, and at least once in each year to destroy or cause to be destroyed such instruments, weapons or other firearms in such manner and to such extent that the same shall be and become wholly and entirely ineffective and useless for the purpose for which it was manufactured.

§ 5. Attempted use of weapons felony. Any person who attempts to use, or who with intent to use the same unlawfully against another, carries or possesses a dagger, dirk, dangerous knife, razor, stiletto, or any loaded pistol, revolver or other firearm, or any instrument or weapon commonly known as a blackjack, slungshot, billy, sandclub, sandbag, metal knuckles, bomb, or bombshell or any other dangerous or deadly instrument or weapon, is guilty of a felony. The carrying or possession of any of the weapons specified in this section, by any person while committing, or attempting or threatening to commit a felony, or breach of the peace, or any act of violence against the person or property of another, shall be presumptive evidence of carrying or possessing such weapon with intent to use the same in violation of this section.

§ 6. License to carry concealed firearm. It shall be lawful for the board of police commissioners, chief of police, city marshal, town marshal, or other head of the police department of any city, city and county, town, or other municipal corporation of this state, upon proof before said board, chief, marshal or head, that the person applying therefor is of good moral character, and that good cause exists for the issuance thereof, to issue to such person a license to carry concealed a pistol, revolver or other firearm; provided, however, that the application to carry concealed such firearm shall be filed in writing and shall state the name and residence of the applicant, the nature of applicant's occupation, the business address of applicant, the nature of the weapon sought to be carried and the reason for the filing of the application to carry the same.

§ 7. Register of sales of firearms. Duplicate sheet mailed to police. Violation misdemeanor. Form of register. Every person in the business of selling, leasing or otherwise transferring a pistol, revolver or other firearm, of a size capable of being concealed upon the person, whether such seller, leasor or transferrer is a retail dealer, pawnbroker or otherwise, except as hereinafter provided, shall keep a register in which shall be entered the time of sale, the date of sale, the name of the salesman making the sale, the place where sold, the make, model, manufacturer's number, caliber or other marks of identification on such pistol, revolver or other firearm. Such register shall be prepared by and obtained from the state printer and shall be furnished by the state printer to said dealers on application at a cost of three dollars per one hundred leaves in duplicate and shall be in the form hereinafter provided. The purchaser of any firearm, capable of being concealed upon the person shall sign, and the dealer shall require him to sign his name and affix his address to said register in duplicate and the salesman shall affix his signature in duplicate as a witness to the signature of the purchaser. Any person signing a fictitious name or address is guilty of a misdemeanor. The duplicate sheet of such register shall on the evening of the day of sale, be placed in the mail, postage prepaid and properly addressed to the board of police commissioners, chief of police, city marshal, town marshal or other head of the police department of the city, city and county, town or other municipal corporation wherein the sale was made; provided, that where the sale is made in a district where there is no municipal police department, said duplicate sheet shall be mailed to the county clerk of the county wherein the sale is made. A violation of any of the provisions of this section by any person engaged in the business of selling, leasing or otherwise transferring such firearms is a misdemeanor. This section shall not apply to wholesale dealers in their business intercourse with retail dealers, nor to wholesale or retail dealers in the regular or ordinary transportation of unloaded firearms as merchandise by mail, express or other mode of shipment, to points outside of the city, city and county, town or municipal corporation wherein they are situated. The register provided for in this act shall be substantially in the following form:

§ 8. Exceptions. Nothing in this act shall be construed to apply to sheriffs, constables, marshals, policemen or other duly appointed peace officers nor to any person summoned by any such officers to assist in making arrest or preserving the peace while said person so summoned is actually engaged in assisting such officer; nor to duly authorized military or civil organizations while parading nor to the members thereof when going to and from the places of meeting of their respective organizations; nor to the possession or transportation by any merchant of unloaded firearms as merchandise; nor to bona fide members of any club or organization now existing or hereinafter organized, for the purpose of practicing shooting at targets upon established target ranges, whether public or private, while such members are using any of the firearms referred to in this act upon or in such target ranges, or while going to and from such ranges.

§ 9. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

TITLE 142.

DEAF, DUMB AND BLIND.

ACT 895b.

An act to authorize certain improvements upon the grounds of the California School for the Deaf and Blind at Berkeley, California.

[Approved May 17, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 578. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Fences on grounds of California School for Deaf and Blind. The directors of the California School for the Deaf and Blind are hereby authorized to remove the present fence on the grounds of said school, which extends thirty feet across the eastern terminus of Derby street, and also the fence which extends a distance of one hundred twenty-four and sixty-five one hundredths feet from said terminus along Tanglewood road, as said street and road are delineated upon a map entitled, "plat of Tanglewood road opening, Berkeley, California," filed in the office of the county recorder of Alameda county on the third day of April, one thousand nine hundred sixteen, and recorded in liber fourteen of maps, page twenty-five, and to replace said fence along a line described as follows:

Commencing at the point of intersection of the northerly line of Derby street and the easterly line of Belrose avenue extended northerly, as said street and avenue are delineated on said plat of Tanglewood road opening, Berkeley, California; thence easterly parallel to the southerly line of plot seventy-eight, as said plot is shown and designated upon Kellersberger's map of rancho of Vicente and Domingo Peralta, and filed in the office of the county recorder of Alameda county, a distance of eighteen and five-tenths feet; thence along a circular arc of two hundred two and ninety-four one hundredths feet radius easterly and southerly to its intersection with the said southerly line of plot seventy-eight at a point distant therein easterly one hundred twenty-four and sixty-five one-hundredths feet from the intersection of the easterly line of Belrose avenue and the said southerly line of plot seventy-eight, in order that the following described triangular piece of land may be used as a public highway:

Beginning at the intersection of the eastern line of Belrose avenue with the dividing line between plot seventy-seven and plot seventy-eight as shown upon said Kellersberger's map of rancho of Vicente and Domingo Peralta, and running thence northerly along the said eastern line of Belrose avenue thirty-feet; thence easterly parallel to the southern line of said plot seventy-eight, a distance of eighteen and five-tenths feet; thence along a circular arc of two hundred two and ninety-four one-hundredths feet radius easterly and southerly to its intersection with the said southern line of plot seventy-eight at a point distant therein easterly one hundred twenty-four and sixty-five one hundredths feet from the point of beginning; thence westerly in a straight line to the point of beginning; being a portion of said plot seventy-eight and containing six-hundredths acre, more or less.

TITLE 159.
DRAINAGE.

ACT 976.

An act validating the formation and organization, and determining the boundaries of drainage improvement district number one of the county of Merced, state of California.

§ 3. Urgency measure. Inasmuch as there are in said district bodies of stagnant water in close proximity to a large number of residences; and inasmuch as said bodies of stagnant water are injurious to the health of the inhabitants of said community, and for the preservation of the safety and health of the public, must be drained; and inasmuch as this act is necessary to provide ample power for the drainage of said bodies of stagnant water, it is hereby determined and declared that this act, and each and all of the provisions thereto, constitute and is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public safety and health within the meaning of section one, article four of the constitution and shall take effect and be in full force immediately from and after its passage.

ACT 977.

An act to create a drainage district to be called Knight's Landing ridge drainage district; to promote drainage therein by the making of a cut through Knight's Landing ridge, and the construction of a canal leading therefrom; to provide for the election and appointment of officers of said drainage district; defining the powers, duties and compensation of such officers; and providing for levying and collecting assessments upon the lands within said drainage district; the issuance of bonds by said drainage district and testing the validity of the levy of such assessments and the issuance of such bonds.

[Approved April 30, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 109.]

Amended 1915, p. 546; 1917, p. 277.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 7½. Assessments adjudged invalid become credit. In the event that any land owner of the said districts shall have paid the amount, or any portion of the amount, assessed against any tract of land before said assessment shall have been adjudged invalid, in whole, or in part, the amount so paid by said land owner, together with legal interest thereon from the date of such payment, shall be a credit and shall be credited by the treasurer of the county where the assessment list is filed, or by said district, or upon any subsequent assessment on the tract of land on which the said invalid assessment was paid, or be applied in satisfaction pro tanto of any such subsequent assessment thereafter levied on said tract. [New section added May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 278.]

The amendment adding § 7½ to the act also contained the following provision:

§ 2. Repealed. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed. [New section added May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 277.]

ACT 985.

An act to promote drainage.

[Approved March 18, 1885. Stats. 1885, p. 204.]

Amended 1891, p. 262; 1909, p. 25; 1917, p. 782.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 20½. Disincorporation of drainage district. Taxes for payment of indebtedness. Any drainage district organized under the provisions of this act may be disincorporated at any time by proceedings had in the following manner:

Whenever a petition praying for such disincorporation shall be presented to the trustees of said district, signed by a majority of the electors therein, they shall call an election in the same manner as elections for members of the board of trustees are called, and submit to the electors of said district the question of disincorporation. Said election shall be held in all respects in the same manner as regular elections of trustees of the district. If it appears that two-thirds of the electors voting at said election have voted in favor of disincorporation, the trustees shall cause such fact to be entered upon their minutes, and shall forward a copy of such entry to the board of supervisors of the county in which the district was formed, who shall file the same with their clerk, and from the date of such filing, said district shall be deemed disincorporated; provided, that if at the time of the dissolution, or disincorporation of said district, there be any outstanding bonded or other indebtedness of such district, then taxes for the payment of such bonded or other indebtedness shall be levied and collected the same as if such district has not been dissolved and disincorporated, but for all other purposes such district shall be deemed dissolved and disincorporated from the time of the forwarding of said copy of such entry to said board of supervisors. [New section added May 21, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 782.]

ACT 988a.

An act declaring certain drainage work already done within drainage district number one, Butte county, to have been legally done, validating the same, and making such work a proper subject for the levy of an assessment to pay therefor; authorizing the levy and collection of such assessment in said district to provide for such payment, and interest; the original assessment levied and collected being insufficient to provide for such payment.

[Approved May 21, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 789. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Work in drainage district No. 1, Butte county validated. All the work, labor, and services rendered drainage district number one in the county of Butte, state of California, in the construction, maintenance and repair of main and lateral drainage ditches, and drainage works, already done upon lands lying within said district, for the payment for which the original assessment levied and collected under the provisions of the act entitled, "An act to promote drainage," approved March 18, 1885, as amended, was insufficient, is hereby declared to have been legally done, is hereby validated and is hereby made a proper subject for the levy of an assessment for the payment therefor.

§ 2. Statement to board of supervisors. Order to make assessment. The board of trustees of said drainage district is hereby authorized and empowered to present to the board of supervisors of said county, a statement of all the work, labor and services rendered said district in the construction, maintenance and repair of main and lateral drainage ditches, and drainage works, already done upon lands lying within said district, for the payment for which the original assessment levied and collected under the provisions of said act approved March 18, 1885, as amended, was insufficient. Such statement shall contain a memorandum of the unpaid claims existing by reason of the performance of said work, and the names of the respective claimants; and shall specify those claims included in said memorandum for which warrants have been issued, if there are any such claims, and the date of their registration, and shall also specify those claims included in said memorandum for which no warrants have been issued, if there are any such claims. Said board of supervisors is hereby authorized and empowered to make an order directing that the commissioners who made such original assessment, or other commissioners to be named in such order, assess upon the lands situated within said district a charge proportionate to the whole expense incurred for such work, the total of which shall not exceed the sum of six thousand dollars, and to the benefit which has resulted from such work; which charges must be collected and paid into the county treasury of said county either in cash or in regularly issued warrants of said district as hereinafter provided, and must be placed by the treasurer of said county to the credit of said district, and applied to the payment of said claims, and to the payment of interest on any of said claims for which warrants were issued and registered, at the rate of six per cent per annum, from the respective dates of registration, upon the warrants of said trustees, approved by said board of supervisors.

§ 3. Warrants. All such warrants drawn by said trustees must, after they have been approved by said board of supervisors, be presented to said treasurer; and if they are not paid on presentation like indorsement must be made thereon, and they must be registered in like manner as county warrants, and paid in the order of their registration. All of such warrants shall, from the date of their registration, bear interest at the rate of six per cent, per annum; provided, however, that any of such warrants may be used in the payment of the assessment herein provided for without regard to the order of their registration.

ACT 988b.

An act validating the formation and organization of Los Angeles County Drainage District Improvement No. 1 under the provisions of an act of the legislature of the state of California approved March 21, 1903, as amended May 7, 1915, and entitled as amended, "An act to promote the drainage of wet, swamp and overflowed lands and to promote the public health in the communities in which they lie, providing for the issuance of lands and levying of assessments on lands benefited, to pay the costs and expenses thereof." [Approved March 4, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 227.]

The nature and purpose of the act sufficiently appear from the title.

TITLE 160.

EGGS.

ACT 991a.

An act to regulate the sale of eggs which have been in transit more than thirty-one days, and prescribing penalties for violations thereof.

[Approved May 5, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 258. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Words defined. For the purpose of this act the words "person, firm, company or corporation" shall include wholesalers, retailers, jobbers, and every person, firm, company or corporation owning, operating or conducting any place of business where eggs are sold or offered for sale.

§ 2. Eggs in transit more than thirty-one days to be marked "storage." Every person, firm, company or corporation who sells, offers for sale, or has in his or their possession for sale, or consigns, ships or presents to any dealer, commission merchant, consumer, or other person, any egg or eggs which said egg or eggs is or were produced at any place requiring thirty-one days or more to transport the eggs to the selling point, shall, before so doing, cause to be stamped, marked or branded upon the container thereof in black-faced letters not less than one-half of an inch in height the word "storage."

§ 3. Display of sign in salesroom. Every person, firm, company or corporation selling or offering for sale any eggs which were produced at any place requiring thirty-one days or more to transport the eggs to the selling point, prior to the date of sale or offering for sale, shall display in a conspicuous place in his or their public salesroom a sign which shall not be less than one foot in height and six feet in length, bearing the words "storage eggs sold here" in black-faced letters not less than six inches in height and one inch in width upon a white ground.

§ 4. Report to state board of health. Every person, firm, company or corporation who receives eggs that have been produced at any place requiring thirty-one days or more to transport the eggs to the selling point, prior to their sale or offering for sale, shall, immediately thereafter report to the state board of health the number of eggs received, the date when received and the place where such eggs were produced, and the name of the person, firm, company or corporation to whom sold.

§ 5. Enforcement. It shall be the duty of the state board of health to enforce the provisions of this act, and to that end the said board may make necessary rules and regulations.

§ 6. Penalty. Every person, firm, company or corporation who shall fail to comply with any of the provisions of this act is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months; or by a fine of not more than two hundred dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

TITLE 162.

ELECTIONS.

ACT 1010.

An act to provide for and regulate primary elections, and providing a method for choosing the delegates for political parties to state conventions and for nominating electors of President and Vice-president of the United States, and providing for the election of party county central committees, and to repeal the act approved April 7, 1911, known as the direct primary law, and also to repeal the act approved December 24, 1911, amending sections 1, 3, 5, 7, 10, 12, 13, 22, 23, and 24 of the said direct primary law, and also to repeal all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with or in conflict with the provisions of this act.

[Approved June 16, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 1379.]

Repealed 1915, p. 239. Amended 1916 (Extra Session), p. 41; 1917, p. 1341.

The repealing act of 1915 was defeated by a referendum at a general election held October 26, 1915.

The amendatory act of 1916 (Extra Session) was repealed by a referendum at a general election held November 7, 1916. The act in force therefore consists of the original act of 1913 as amended in 1917. The act is herewith given in full;

§ 1. Definitions. Words and phrases where used in this act shall, unless such construction be inconsistent with the context, be construed as follows:

1. The words "primary election," any and every primary nominating election provided for by this act.

2. The words "August primary election," the primary election held in August to nominate candidates to be voted for at the ensuing November election or to elect members of a party central committee or delegates to a party convention.

3. The words "May presidential primary election," any such primary election, held in May of each year of the general November election at which electors of President and Vice-president of the United States are to be chosen, as shall provide for the indication of preference in the several political parties for party candidates for President of the United States through the election of delegates to national party conventions.

4. The word "election," a general state, county, city or city and county election as distinguished from a primary election, recall election, or special election.

5. The words "November election," either the presidential election, or the general state, county, or city and county election held in November of each even numbered year.

6. The words "judicial officer," any justice of the supreme court, justice of a district court of appeal, judge of the superior court, justice of the peace, or justice of such inferior court as the legislature may establish in any county, township, incorporated city or town, or city and county; and the words "judicial office," the office filled by any of the above judicial officers.

7. The words "school officer," the superintendent of public instruction and the superintendent of schools of a county or city and county; and the words "school office," the office filled by any of the above school officers.

8. The words "county officer," any officer elected within the boundaries of any county or city and county except a member of the state board of equalization, judge of the superior court, justice of the peace, member of the state senate or assembly or a member of the house of representatives of the congress of the United States or a member of any party county central committee or delegate to a state convention from a holdover senatorial district; and the words "county office," the office filled by any county officer. The words "township officer," any such county officer as is elected within the boundaries of any judicial township that is now or may be hereafter provided by law; and the words "township office," the office filled by any township officer.

9. The word or words "political party," "party," "political organization," or "organization," a political party or organization of electors which has qualified, as hereafter provided, for participation in any primary election; and such party or organization shall be deemed to have so qualified when one or both of the following conditions have been complied with:

(a) Qualification as political party. If at the last preceding November election there was polled for any one of its candidates who was the candidate of such party only for any office voted on throughout the state, at least three per cent of the entire vote of the state, or for any one of its candidates who was the joint candidate of such party and any other party for any office voted on throughout the state, at least six per cent of the entire vote of the state; or

(b) If on or before a date which shall be the seventy-fifth day before any primary election, there shall be filed with the secretary of state a petition signed by registered qualified electors of the state, equal in number to at least three per cent of the entire vote of the state at the last preceding November election, declaring that they represent a political party or organization the name of which shall be stated therein, which party said electors desire to have participate in such primary election; such petition to be circulated, signed, and the signatures thereon of the registered electors certified to and transmitted to the secretary of state by the county clerks substantially as provided in section five of this act, for the circulation, signing, certification, and transmission of nomination papers for state officers; providing, however, that no electors or organization of electors shall assume a party name or designation which shall be so similar to the name of an existing party or organization as to mislead voters.

Construction. This statute shall be liberally construed, so that the real will of the electors shall not be defeated by any informality or failure to comply with all the provisions of this law.

In counties having registrar. In each county and city and county in this state, having a registrar of voters or registrar of voters and a board of election commissioners, the powers conferred and the duties imposed in this statute upon a county clerk and his deputies, and other officers, in relation to matters of election and polling places, shall be exercised and performed by such registrar of voters or his deputies, or registrar of voters or his deputies and board of election commissioners; and all nominating papers, list of candidates, expenses, and oaths of office, required by this statute to be made to or filed with county clerks, shall be made to or filed with the registrar of voters. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1341.]

§ 2. Nomination of candidates. All candidates nominated at a primary election for elective public offices shall be nominated by direct vote at such election held in accordance with the provisions of this act; provided, that electors of President and Vice-president of the United States shall be nominated as provided in subdivision 2 of section 24 of this act. This act shall not apply to recall elections or to special elections to fill vacancies; nor to the nomination of officers of municipalities, counties, or cities and counties whose charters provide a system for nominating candidates for such officers; nor the nomination of officers for any district not formed for municipal purposes; nor to the nomination of freeholders to be elected for the purpose of framing a charter; nor to the nomination of officers for cities of the fifth and sixth classes, nor to the nomination of school district officers. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1343.]

§ 3. August primary. Legal holidays. The August primary election shall be held at the legally designated polling places in each precinct on the last Tuesday in August, for the nomination of all candidates to be voted for at the ensuing November election. The day of the August primary election and the day of the May presidential primary election are hereby declared to be holidays within the meaning of section 10 of the Political Code. Any person entitled to vote at such August or May primary elections shall, on the day of such election, be entitled to absent himself from any service or employment in which he is then engaged or employed, for the period of two consecutive hours, between the time of opening and the time of closing the polls; and such voter shall not, because of so absenting himself, be liable to any penalty, nor shall any deduction be made, on account of such absence, from his usual salary or wages. Any primary election other than the August primary election, or May presidential primary election shall be held on Tuesday, three weeks next preceding the election for which such primary election is held.

§ 4. Statement of electors registered. Notice of offices for which candidates are to be nominated. On the twenty-fifth day before the first Tuesday in May, on the twenty-fifth day before the last Tuesday in August, and on the twenty-fifth day before the date of the November election, in each even numbered year, the county clerk or registrar of voters of each county or city and county shall transmit a statement to the secretary of state of the total number of electors registered in his county between the first day of January next preceding and a date in each instance five days preceding the date of transmission of such statement as herein provided for, together with the number so registered under each of the several political affiliations, and also the number declining or failing to declare such affiliation. At least seventy days before the time of holding the August primary election in 1918 and biennially thereafter, the secretary of state shall prepare and transmit to each county clerk and to the registrar of voters in any city and county a notice in writing designating all the offices, except township offices, for which candidates are to be nominated at such primary election, together with the names of the political parties qualified to participate in such election.

2. Publication of notice. Within ten days after receipt of such notice such county clerk or registrar of voters in any city and county shall publish once in each week for two successive weeks in not more than two newspapers published in such county or city and county so much thereof as may be applicable to his county, including a statement of the township offices in the county for which candidates are to be nominated, and a statement of the number of members of the county central committee to be elected by each political party in each supervisorial or assembly district, as the case may be, according to the provisions of subdivision 4 of section 24 of this act.

3. Publication of notice of other primaries. In the case of primary elections other than the August primary elections the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of the political subdivision for which such primary election shall be held shall cause one publication of such notice to be given, such publication to be not more than forty and not less than fourteen days before such primary election. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1344.]

§ 5. Method of getting name on ballot. 1. The name of no candidate shall be printed on an official ballot to be used at any primary election unless at least forty days prior to the primary election, if the candidate is to be voted for at the August primary election or the May presidential primary election, and at least twenty-five days prior to the primary election, if the candidate is to be voted for at a primary election other than the August or May primary election, a nomination paper nominating such candidate shall have been prepared, circulated, signed, verified and left with the county clerk for examination, or for examination and filing, in the manner provided by this act.

2. Verification deputies. Form of documents. Additional deputies. (a) The candidate may appoint verification of deputies to serve within the county or city and county in which such deputies reside in securing signatures to his nomination paper for nomination to the office for which he is a candidate, and the verification deputies thus appointed shall be recognized as the duly authorized verification deputies to secure signatures to the nomination paper of such candidate in such county or city and county. The document in which such verification deputies are appointed as herein provided shall be filed with the county clerk of the county or city and county in which such verification deputies reside, at or before the time the nomination paper of the candidate is left with the county clerk for filing or for examination as provided in subdivision 4 of this section. Said document shall be in substantially the following form:

I, the undersigned, a candidate for the —— party nomination for the office of ——, which nomination is to be made by direct note at a primary election to be held on the —— day of August, 19—, do hereby appoint the following registered qualified electors of the county of ——, as verification deputies to obtain signatures in said county to a nomination paper placing me in nomination as a candidate of said —— party for said office of ——.

—— ——, County Clerk.
By —— ——, Deputy.

In case it is desired to appoint additional verification deputies to secure signatures to the nomination paper of such candidate, one or more similar documents may be filed to supplement the first document. When the office for which the candidate is proposed is a judicial, school, county, township or municipal office, the words "—— party," and the words "of said —— party," shall be omitted from said document. Or, as an alternative to the foregoing portion of this section and subdivision, verification deputies may be appointed in behalf of a candidate as follows:

2. Five electors may propose candidate. Consent of candidate. Form of document. Additional deputies. (b) Any five qualified electors of any county or city and county who are registered as intending to affiliate with the same political party may join in proposing a candidate for nomination to any office to be voted on in such county or city and county at the next ensuing primary election, and in appointing verification deputies to serve within such county or city and county in securing signatures to the nomination paper of such candidate for such office. If the office is an office the candidate for which is to be voted on in more than one county, he may be proposed for nomination as herein provided by five of the registered qualified electors in each of the counties in which such electors may desire to circulate a nomination paper in his behalf. The signatures of the said five qualified electors shall be verified free of charge before any officer authorized to administer an oath, and the document containing such signature shall be filed with the county clerk of the county or city and county in which said five qualified electors reside, at or before the time the nomination paper of the candidate is left with the county clerk or registrar of voters for filing or for examination as provided in subdivision four of this section. In said document the five signers shall make affidavit that the candidate therein named for the office therein specified has given his consent to be thus proposed for nomination to such office; and shall also state that the verification deputies therein appointed are duly registered qualified electors of said county or city and county; and the verification deputies therein appointed shall be recognized as the duly authorized verification deputies to secure signatures to the nomination paper of such candidate in such county or city and county. Said document shall be substantially in the following form:

State of California,
County of ——, ss.

We, the undersigned, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that we are each qualified electors of the county of ——, state of California, and that we are each registered as intending to affiliate with the —— party and we do hereby propose ——, who resides at No. ——, —— street in the city of (or in the town of) ——, county of ——, as a candidate for the nomination of such party for the office of ——, to be voted for at the primary election to be held on the —— day of August, 19—; and we do solemnly swear (or affirm) that said —— has consented to this proposal of his name as candidate for the nomination for said office. We hereby appoint the following registered qualified electors of this county as verification deputies to obtain signatures in this county to the nomination paper of said —— to said office of ——.

Verification Deputies.

In case it is desired to appoint additional verification deputies to secure signatures to the nomination paper of said candidate, one or more similar documents may be filed, to supplement the first document. When the office for which the candidate is proposed is a judicial, school, county, township, or municipal office, the provisions of this subdivision shall apply, except that the five qualified electors shall make no statement of their party affiliation and may be affiliated with different parties or with no party; and the candidate proposed for nomination shall not be so proposed as the candidate of any party.

3. Obtaining signatures to nomination papers. Presentation in sections. Affidavit of deputies. Sections returned to five electors. Form of each section. Deputy's affidavit. Judicial office. Verification deputies appointed as provided in subdivision two of this section to obtain signatures to the nomination paper of any candidate for any office to be voted for at any primary election, may, at any time not more than sixty-five days nor less than forty days prior to such election, obtain signatures to such nomination paper of such candidate for such office; each signer of a nomination paper shall sign but one such paper for the same office, except that in case two or more persons are to be elected to the same office at the same election, an elector may sign the nomination papers of as many persons as there are persons to be elected to such office, and such act on the part of such elector shall not be deemed in conflict with the signer's statement hereinafter provided. In the case of primary elections other than August primary elections or May presidential primary elections, signatures may be obtained not more than forty days nor less than twenty-five days prior to such election.

He shall also declare his intention to support such candidate for nomination, and shall add his place of residence, giving his street and number if any. His election precinct shall also appear on the paper just preceding his name, and he shall write the date of his signature at the end of the line just after his residence. Any nomination paper may be presented in sections, but each section shall contain the name of the candidate and the name of the office for which he is proposed for nomination. Each section shall bear the name of the city or town, if any, and also the name of the county or city and county, in which it is circulated, and only qualified electors of such county or city and county, registered as intending to affiliate with the political party by which the nomination is to be made shall be competent to sign such section. Any section circulated within any incorporated city or town shall be signed only by registered qualified electors of such city or town. Each section shall be prepared with the lines for signatures numbered, and shall have attached thereto the affidavit of the verification deputy who has obtained signatures to the same, stating that all the signatures to the attached section were made in his presence, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief, each signature to the section is the genuine signature of the person whose name it purports to be; and no other affidavit thereto shall be required. The affidavit of any verification deputy obtaining signatures hereunder shall be verified free of charge by any officer authorized to administer an oath. Such nomination paper so verified shall be prima facie evidence that the signatures thereto appended are genuine and that the persons signing the same are registered qualified electors, unless and until it is otherwise proven by comparison of such signatures with the affidavits of resignation in the office of the county clerk or registrar of voters. Each section of the nomination paper, after being verified, shall be returned by the verification deputy who circulated it to one of the five electors by whom the said verification deputy was appointed; and in this manner all the sections circulated in any county shall be collected by said five electors of that county and shall be by them arranged for filing or for examination, as provided in subdivision four of this section, and shall then be by some one of them filed for examination and filing. In case said verification deputy was appointed directly by the candidate according to the provisions of subdivision two (a) of this section, the collecting, arranging, and filing, or leaving for examination and filing, of the sections of the nomination paper shall be done by the candidate, or on his behalf, instead of by the "five electors" as hereinbefore provided. Each section of the nomination paper shall be in substance as follows:

County of ——, city (or town) of —— (if any).

Nomination paper of ——, candidate for —— party nomination for the office of ——.

State of California,
County of ——, ss.

Signer's Statement.

I, undersigned, am a qualified elector of the city (or town) of ——, county of ——, state of California, and am registered as intending to affiliate with the —— party; and I hereby nominate —— who resides at No. — —— street, city of ——, county of ——, state of California, as a candidate for the nomination of the —— party for the office of —— to be voted for at the primary election to be held on the —— day of August, 19—. I have not signed the nomination paper of any other candidate for the same office, and I further declare that I intend to support for such nomination the candidate named herein.

I furthermore declare that I have not signed the nomination paper of this candidate or any other candidate for office, as candidate of any other party at such primary election.

In the case of a nomination paper for any candidate for a judicial, school, county, township or municipal office, the provisions of this subdivision shall apply, except that no such nomination paper nor any section thereof shall contain the name of any political party and any nomination paper for any candidate for a judicial office, school office, county office, township office, or municipal office may be signed by any registered qualified elector of the county or city and county, whether registered as being affiliated with any, or with no, political party.

4. Arrangement prior to filing. Form of index. Candidates voted for in more than one county. Examination by clerk. Time for filing. Persons who may not verify signatures. Statement of candidate. Prior to the filing of a nomination paper for any candidate, the sections thereof must be numbered in order and fastened together by cities or towns or portions of the county not included in such cities or towns, substantially in the manner required for the binding of affidavits of registration by the provisions of section 1113 of the Political Code; provided, that the sections of the nomination paper may be preceded by an index of precincts, arranged by cities, towns or outside territory in the numerical or alphabetical order of such precincts for each such city, town or outside territory and showing after the name or number of such precinct the numbers of the sections on which the names of the electors registered in such precinct are to be found, and after the number of each section, the number (in parentheses) of times such names are to be so found on such section. Such index shall be in substantially the following form:
